STRAW VOTE RESULTS.

The unanimity of the straw vote results all over the country indicate perhaps why the Taft people are so strenuously opposed to preferential primaries as a means of selecting delegates. Realizing the weakness of their candidate before nomination, they still rely upon party fealty to pull him through after he secures the nomination, forgetting that the great independent wave over the country has swept a majority of both parties away from the old party loyalty doctrine. The following are some of the recent straw votes taken in various parts of the country.

By the Denver Post, Roosevelt 10,519, Taft 3209; by the Kansas City Star, Roosevelt 86,606, Taft 3697; by the St. Paul Dispatch, Roosevelt 3329, Taft 851; by Scripps-McCrea papers all over the country, Roosevelt 30,454, Taft 15,899; by Newark, N. J. Star, Roosevelt 3,640, Taft 178; by the Lancaster County, Pa. Examiner, Roosevelt 829, Taft 197; by the Pottsville, Pa. Journal, Roosevelt 1376, Taft 284; by the Bucks county, Pa. Gazette, Roosevelt 381, Taft 179; by the chairman of the Kentucky Independent party in Philadelphia, Roosevelt 7053, Taft 2532; by the Indianapolis Star, Roosevelt 18,813, Taft 6702; by the Topeka Capital, Roosevelt 6119, Taft 2670.

By the New York Globe of the New York stock exchange, Roosevelt 41, Taft 219.—Capital News.

ROOSEVELT THEN AND NOW.

These Republicans who have been pulling former statements of Colonel Roosevelt upon him in an effort to prove his insincerity—those who have raked the mails for the last four or five years from Maine to Oregon and from Canada to the Gulf for the same purpose, might pause long enough in their hunt for material to read a little from their own former declarations, which, likewise, might tend to prove some insincerity on their own part as well as upon the colonel's.

For instance, should they read from their platform adopted at the last national convention—the same convention which nominated Taft for the presidency, they might find something worth consideration at this time by way of explanation similar to that which Teddy has had to explain. A portion of that platform was as follows:

In the great race era of the American advancement the Republican party has reached its highest service under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt.

His admiration is an epoch in American history. In no other has there been such mighty progress in these ideas of government which make for justice, equality and fair dealing among men.

The highest aspirations of the American people have found a voice. Their most exalted servant represents the best aims and worthiest purpose of all his countrymen. American manhood has been lifted to a nobler sense of duty and obligation. Confidence and courage in public station and higher standards of right and wrong in private life have become cardinal principles of political faith; capital and labor have been brought into closer relations of confidence and interdependence, and the abuse of wealth, the tyranny of power and all the evils of privilege and favoritism have been put to scorn by the simple virtues of justice and fair play.—Capital News.

The Republican presidential merry-go-round with Roosevelt chasing Taft, La Follette at Roosevelt's heels, with the big foot and Cummins after La Follette presents a great many interesting features for the Democrats of the country who are figuring how easy it will be to whip the winner. Meanwhile the voters are waiting for the convention to decide the Republican nominee. After that what? Roosevelt men will not stand by Taft as the nominee. Taft stand-patters would as soon vote for a yellow dog as Roosevelt. La Follette men have no faith in either and will still cling to La Follette progressiveism. The party leader have not influence enough to whip the voters into line, although the machine can control the office seekers. No wonder the Democrats look with eager eyes toward the coming election. They have everything to gain and nothing to lose. The Republican Party with any one of the above candidates faces the hardest campaign since the time of Lincoln and has not the strength which it had twenty years ago. It will take more than partisan newspaper boosting to make many Republicans believe the Payne-Adler tariff was a benefit to the people or that it was anything more or less than a cloak to cover up trust legislation. Canadian reciprocity also produced a large number of enemies who have notched their stick for President Taft. The result of the court of commerce as clerk on the beneficial work of the interstate commerce commission has been chalked down to President Taft's credit for it was he who introduced and pushed it through Congress. There are many staunch Republicans who will not support Taft and who will not have a chance to support any other Republican candidate. Much of this element will not vote one way or another for that reason, but will aid the Democracy that, much at least. There are others who are opposed to Taft so violently that any safe or sane Democrat or Progressive candidate will get their vote regardless of party affiliations. It will do the stand-patter papers no good to attempt to crowd out the so-called progressive Roosevelt element. It might do well to remind them that their big chief Taft attempted to read the progressives out of the party. He made a vital failure and displayed the weaker side of his nature in his equal dismal attempt to talk the insurgents back to his side. The machine crowd which is always the standard element of any party has control in the Republican affairs today. It is not apt to consider any compromise. It was this element that caused the insurgent movement and it will be this element that will make any compromise and united action of the party impossible. Read the Want Ads. in the Times.

PITCH

The life of your piano, as well as the quality of tone, depends in a great measure upon whether or not it is kept at the proper pitch, and with ordinary tunings at long intervals the pitch necessarily becomes low.

All pianos placed in my care are raised to proper pitch without extra charge.

Now is the ideal time of the year to have your piano attended to.

MAKERS OF HENDRICKS PATENT GRUBBERS
TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

History Of The First Scientific Grubber Ever Built.

Being a Pioneer by Nature and a machinist by trade, I devoted some eight years ago to go to the Twin Falls country, which was then new country, to establish a business. Like the greater portion of the Inter-Mountain West it was covered with dense growth of sage-brush. To make the land productive the brush had to be first removed and to do it by hand was the custom in those days, meant the undertaking of a discouraging and almost endless task. A more rapid and scientific manner for removing it had to be devised. To the accomplishment of this end the writer immediately began devising his engine machine, innumerable, almost, were the various types of machines designed to cut, grub, or remove growing sage brush, but all of little or no avail. The construction of a machine embracing strength, speed, durability and economy, that would eliminate all hand-work and perform its work perfectly, was the paramount thought ever present in the mind of the inventor of the first scientific grubber. The machine embodying all of the above principles was conceived, and the first successful horse power sage brush grubber built. It was a machine that did not prove beyond all doubt its practicability and efficiency. Almost instantly the demand for it became so great that the inventor was unable to fill his orders with any degree of promptness. From time to time we have been compelled to enlarge our factory in order to meet the ever increasing demand. And today, although only a few years have passed since the first machine was put into operation, we are pleased to say to our prospective customers that we have hundreds of users and "boosters" of the "Hendricks" machine, many of whom, without solicitation, have furnished testimonials attesting its merits.

A thorough test proved beyond all doubt its practicability and efficiency. Almost instantly the demand for it became so great that the inventor was unable to fill his orders with any degree of promptness. From time to time we have been compelled to enlarge our factory in order to meet the ever increasing demand. And today, although only a few years have passed since the first machine was put into operation, we are pleased to say to our prospective customers that we have hundreds of users and "boosters" of the "Hendricks" machine, many of whom, without solicitation, have furnished testimonials attesting its merits.

Now "Hendricks" All Steel Grubber.

The new All Steel Grubber which we are now manufacturing is the product of an experience extending over a period of more than eight years. We were the first in the field and have since that time made every effort to make it the name of perfection. The principle of the first machine—made—has been maintained throughout. Although many improvements have been added. Where wood was once used steel has taken its place, making a much stronger, neater and more durable machine.

CONSTRUCTION—The frame is constructed of steel one-half inch in size, the main frame with a width of one-half to one inch, and is amply braced to meet any extraordinary strain to which it may be subjected.

The blades to which the cutting knives are attached are made of bar steel one inch in thickness and three inches in width, while the central beam is made of the same material with an extra inch added to the width. Supporting the frame is a one and three-quarter inch round steel axle formed hook. Likewise the "economy" is in the shape of a frame which acts as a great in the one instance as in the other on which the machine is raised, lowered. We place our machine on extra high Barren Patent wheels made of the best, thoroughly seasoned white-oak timber and of sufficient weight and strength to harmonize with the frame and beams. You will observe from the foregoing description that not an item of expense is spared in making our grubber the very best that can be produced.

ADJUSTMENTS—There is a certain satisfaction in being the owner of a machine which is constructed so that adjustments can be easily made. On the new "Hendricks" every operation relative to its adjustment is performed by the levers easily accessible to the operator's seat. Raising, lowering and balancing the machine are easily operated by these three levers.

TESTS—Our Grubber has been tried in all classes of soil found in the Northwest and has given the best of satisfaction except in places covered with large stone. Small stone and rolling land have but little influence on the quality of the work performed. DRAFT—Our five-foot machines are made expressly for horse power, although they can be used with engines. The number of horses required is governed by the size of the sage brush usually from four to six horses draw them with perfect ease.

The engine power machines are usually constructed to cut a space ranging from six to eight feet in width. A forty horse power gasoline engine will easily draw two six foot machines while a twenty-five to thirty horse power steam engine will draw two eight foot machines.

WAYS FOR ITSELF IN A SHORT TIME—There is as much difference between the present day method of removing sage brush as compared to the old way of using a grubbing hoe as there is between the present methods of harvesting grain and the reaping.

"WAS SHE TO BLAME"

STATE PAYS HALF.

Topographic Mapping by United States Geological Survey.

The topographical map resulting from the survey of an area by the United States Geological Survey becomes at once the "mother map" of that area. Many maps of the same area may be made subsequently from ordinary schoolbook maps, but they are usually based on the Survey topographic map, which is tied to fixed points, such as mountains and hills and referred for the various altitudes to mean sea level.

Recognizing the great importance and value of such a basic map and the fact that the Federal Geological Survey, with its trained and experienced topographic engineers, can most accurately and economically make the map, many of the States are co-operating with the Survey and coming forward with State money to equal or more than equal the Federal share. In other words, the States are turning over their money to the government survey in order to expedite the completion of their state topographic maps. Such cooperation between the United States Geological Survey and the State of Ohio was commenced in 1901, and since that date the State has appropriated $70,000 for the purpose. The Federal Government expended $223,000. The State of West Virginia has appropriated for cooperative work $155,000 and the Federal Government $149,000. In Pennsylvania $153,237 has been expended by the State and a like amount by the Federal Government. In Illinois cooperation was begun in 1905, and the state has since expended $77,523 and the Federal Government $70,423. The State of California inaugurated in 1903 a definite scheme of cooperation with the Federal Survey with a view to a systematic survey of the entire State and place that time has contributed $122,000 for the work, which has been met with an equal amount of Federal funds. Many other states have been and are still contributing in like manner for the purpose of carrying to completion as rapidly as possible the topographic mapping of their unimproved areas. The total amount of money contributed by the States for cooperative surveys during the current fiscal year is $187,000, to be met by $145,000 of Federal funds.

MOUNTAIN VIEW HAPPENINGS

March 16. Mrs. Williams passed away Friday evening at 10 o'clock after a illness of several years. Those who knew her best give testimony of her strong character as a good mother and kind neighbor. She leaves to mourn her husband and six sons—Hert Wesley, Clyde, Jay, Alton and James. The sympathy of the community goes to the family which death has visited twice this winter.

Mr. H. W. McElderman returned Friday from a trip to Omaha and Iowa. Ross and Clarence Clemons were enrolled as pupils at school this week. The box social was a success; there was a full attendance and the receipts amounted to forty-one dollars. Part of this will be spent for books. The program was very good and Miss Swan deserves credit for her faithful work with the children.

Charley Brothers has moved his building south to Mr. Livingston's. Not much hay left unsold in this neck of the woods.

SENT TO LAST RESTING PLACE

The Maine Towed Out to Sea, For Burial.

Havana, Cuba, March 16.—The funeral rites connected with the sinking of the battleship Maine and with carrying to their last resting places the bodies of many of her gallant sailors were the centers of interest here today. Followed in the procession by the president of Cuba and other high dignitaries, the dead of the Maine were borne on the shoulders of Cuban sailors and artillerymen through the streets of Havana.

The old battleship, the decks blazoned with great masses of floral offerings and escorted by warships belonging to the United States navy and the Cuban navy, was towed out to sea. Under the salute of cannon from the Cabaneros fortress she proceeded to find her last resting place in the unscathed depths of the Gulf of Mexico.

SHEAR SHEEP BY MACHINERY.

Great Plant to be Established on Maids River.

The introduction of modern methods of combination for economy in the matter of shearing sheep, with machinery to do the work by whole-sale where primitive hand work has heretofore been the rule, is to have its try-out in Southern Idaho where some of the leading flockmasters are about to install a shearing plant capable of handling 10,000 sheep a day.

The location selected for the plant is near Prairie City, which is adjacent to the new branch of the Short Line railroad for shipping facilities, with an abundance of feed and water right at hand and the Forest Reserve upon which the flocks may be turned after shearing near by.

Several hundred thousand sheep are expected to be sheared each season at the new plant, which will be the largest in the State of Idaho if not the largest in the part of the country. A gasoline engine is to furnish the power until electricity becomes available.

"Small plants for shearing by machinery have been in use for some years in this part of the state. Their introduction has not been so much to save cost of shearing, as to expedite the work, where the sheep, being kept close to the sheds, soon eat up all the feed within range and consequently suffer if the shearing process is long deferred, as it often has been with uncertain manual labor to do the work. But the sheep men say there is economy in the machine shearing besides the saving of time and feed—feeding labor."

BORAH FOR PRESIDENT.

Idaho Senator Mentioned as Compromise Candidate.

Senator Borah of Idaho was yesterday advocated as a compromise candidate on the Republican ticket for president of the United States, and by one of the leading Republican papers of New York City.

The New York Evening Post takes the position that neither Roosevelt nor Taft, if nominated, can be elected and suggests the name of Senator Borah as a compromise candidate for president.

In view of the bitter strife between the Taft and Roosevelt factions the Post says that it is necessary to have the party. Senator Borah, it says, is reasonably progressive and at the same time is not lined up with either faction and would be acceptable to both.

BIG DRIVE IN NORTH IDAHO.

Hauling Logs from Dprst District in Northern Idaho to Mills.

Spokane, March 14.—Seventy-five million feet of sawlogs, chiefly white pine, is contained in drives to be started on the Coeur d'Alene, St. Joe and St. Maries rivers in northern Idaho late this month or early in April. The drive on the Coeur d'Alene river, amount to 40,000,000 feet and is the largest yet sent down that stream. The drives on the St. Maries river total 20,000,000 feet and those on the St. Joe are estimated at 15,000,000 feet.

Most of the logs are from the burned over national forest districts, which were swept by flames in August 1910, when more than 100 firefighters lost their lives and several million dollars worth of property was destroyed or scorched. Six weeks to two months will be consumed in reaching the lakes where the logs will be sent to mills in northern Idaho and eastern Washington. Large drives also are planned in other parts of Idaho, Washington, Oregon and Montana, thus giving employment to many river men.
