VILLETT'S INTERESTS IN RAILROAD

SALT LAKE

Official Claim the Work Will Commence This Year When Merger Details Is Noted.

Further confirmation of the intention by the Short Line railroad to build south to the Central Pacific through Clinton, was brought to this city by Miller Hance of the Lincoln Standard Locomotive company, who came here from Salt Lake City yesterday.

Information was given Mr. Hance in the office of General Manager Bancroft that the line would be pushed through this year and that within a short time work would be started on the line.

With the clearing up of the difficulty over the U. P. and S. P. merger money and construction crews would return to complete the line.

Plans for the line have been made and approved and the report of the engineers filed with the head of the Harriman system for approval. Hinging upon the report of the number of men and the exact address of the wye and the name and location of the switch which or he is attending must be plainly written at the top of the first page.

The announcement of the competition for the line will be made to the public.

Any child between the ages mentioned attending a country school may compete. Only one side of the paper must be written on; one page about the number of men and the exact address of the wye and the name and location of the switch which or he is attending must be plainly

GOLD MEDAL FOR COMPOSITION

Question of Good Roads to Be Taken Up by Children

A gold medal to the school boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 16 who writes the best composition, not exceeding 500 words, on knowledge gained from books or other sources, but no quotations should be used, will be awarded as soon thereafter as the compositions are submitted to Mr. Bowden before the 1st of May.

After many years' experience in dealing with the public road situation of the country, it is Mr. Bowden's belief that ignorance on the subject of roads is the chief cause of their condition.

After many years' experience in dealing with the public road situation of the country, it is Mr. Bowden's belief that ignorance on the subject of roads is the chief cause of their condition.

Many children living in the rural districts have experienced the disadvantages of roads made impassable through a lack of proper maintenance and in expectation that their interests would be better served by the parents.

Two special cars from Salt Lake City, drawn by electric motors, will be used Saturday noon conveying visiting members of the order and candidates for initiation. Among the most prominent Jovians who will attend the reactivation are H. F. Holland of Boston, Thomas A. Edison, who is also a member of the Jovian order, and his son, John D. Dingman, western manager of the Western Electric company; W. W. Torrance, western manager of the General Electric company; C. H. Hawley, manager of the Montana Electric company; Robert Nichol, manager of the Capitol Electric company; and Leo Brandenberger, Jovian master of the Twin Falls Lodge.

After the reactivation, a well-prepared band will be served, which Major Fred Reed will conduct as bassmaster, and the dinner will be served by a number of speakers including Dr. W. C. Muller, general manager of the Kuhn interests; L. B. Perrin, of Twin Falls, and H. F. Holland of Boston.

There seems to be a great deal of misunderstanding among the automobile owners of this city over the conditions of the new tax law for motor vehicles. The amount of the tax and method of collection seem to have created doubt in the minds of many.
This issue of THE TIMES contains a brief sketch of the important features of the law which should be carefully scanned by the auto owners.

The decree giving this tract the prior water right over the north side and Minidoka project is the best piece of news which has been given out to the public since the tract was opened. Not that the question of the priority of right has been in doubt in the minds of those who have studied the matter, but the court decree gives every booster a chance to make telling argument in favor of this tract and its water rights. It practically means, with the abundant water thus assured, that the Twin Falls South Side tract can appeal to settlers in a way that will bring them here rather than to take a chance where a doubt exists.

It means that every settler can work out his problem unhampered by any of the elements of uncertainty that beset the earlier farmers. It properly advised this one argument should be the one thing that will turn the decision of the prospective immigrant toward this section.

The settlers on the Salmon river tract have finally decided to take their troubles into court and get them settled once and all. Few people on the prosperous Twin Falls tract realize just how much the people on the Salmon river project have had to endure and credit the movement to agitators.
But if they could realize just what the actual settlers are up against in that new project they would express sympathy and admiration for the sturdy courage of the men and women who are sticking there in the face of terrific odds. Those settlers are going through with the same difficulties, over demanded payments, that the south side tract went through in the early days. Where this tract could deliver continuous water and allow it to filter slowly into cisterns with a clear supply finally as the re-mainly per cent of the population is collected, while representation is greater discrepancy than the relative populations would warrant. Which makes it evident either that New York fails in its duty, or that Nevada fails in hers of it. It is interesting to note that local taxation supports the public schools from 17 to 25 per cent in the case of Massachusetts to only 4 to 5 per cent in the case of Georgia. It is also noteworthy that the local communities should allow not to look to the state for aid for their schools and in the matter Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Kansas, which are above the 25 per cent mark, furnish examples that the other states should seek to emulate.

Six states got from 10 to 20 per cent of their school income from purchase land grant funds; allowing for this, the honor lies of states which do not lean heavily upon state taxation should be considerably increased.
But there is not much to be said for the local governments of Kentucky, Georgia and Alabama, which call upon the state to collect and distribute more than half of the funds applied to the purposes of the schools."

No more "vitally important figures" in this statistical exhibit are given than those showing the investment in school plant, the expenditure per child of school age, the ratio between wealth and school expenditure and the daily cost of the child's schooling.
We learn that

"Massachusetts has put $115 for each of her children into school buildings and grounds; Mississippi has provided the meagre sum of $4.
This is the best available index for a state of the past educational interest of its people... The amount annually spent for each child is from thirty-two to three dollars in Washington and South Carolina, respectively. A note points the moral: 'In the long run, states like individuals, purchase what they pay for, not much more and not much less. For each hundred dollars of wealth in the state, the amount paid annually for schools is 76 cents in California and 16 cents in New Hampshire. It would seem to be in order for the White Mountain State to quadruple its educational budget without delay, unless it is content to be permanently shamed by what was only a few years ago the Indian Territory, Nevada, which which makes a rather poor showing in most respects, comes magnificently to the front in the matter of the daily cost per child in its schools, providing no less than 89 cents, as against the seven cents of Georgia and the Carolinas. Low cost, of course, means cheap teaching, and the wages that we pay our teachers, the country throughout, are nothing less than a national scandal."

"This latter subject deserves a paragraph of its own, and the statistics of average salary in the forty-eight states show some surprising contrasts. California and Arizona, with averages of $516 and $517, respectively, set the pace for even New York and Massachusetts, whose averages are $313 and $315, respectively. North Carolina is disgraced by the fact that its teachers receive salaries averaging only $200, and this of course means that there are thousands of individuals receiving far less than this average. The average for the entire country is only $485, which is less than the average for factory workers and common laborers. The fact that teachers' wages are lower than those paid for almost any other sort of service means that as a nation we are nothing asking for nor getting a high grade of service, and that as a nation we place a low valuation on the teacher's work. It seems to be about time for public speakers to stop boasting about our national devotion to education. Stated in aggregates of millions of dollars, the figures are doubtless impressive; stated in any rational way, with reference to our resources in wealth and taxation, they constitute a painful exposure of our national negligences." Literary Di-gester.

proposes that in lieu of cultivation required, the homesteader may make improvements such as grading, clearing, fencing, erection of buildings, setting out trees for orchards, cultivation, and other like improvements, which will result in an enlarged homestead, habitable and capable of production to the extent of $1.50 per acre per year, accepting under the enlarged homestead act where the improvements are made.

Another bill provides for the homestead entry of a large area of land classified as phosphate land and withdrawn from entry with the reservation of the phosphate deposits to the government, allowing the owner under the government's proposal to find remove the phosphates but protecting the homesteader in his rights to the surface.

The third bill provides for an extension of the minimum annual payments required by law for water right charges from ten to thirty, upon projects completed, in course of development or hereafter to be developed, where no annual payments have been made for three years, the amount of payments unpaid to three times the number of annual payments due. The bill as will be introduced also provides the same extension of payments to owners of private lands but who have granted water from reclamation projects.

Mr. French intends to make an earnest effort to have these measures enacted and will devote considerable attention to them in the hope the homesteaders will immediately have the benefits sought to be accomplished by these bills in the near future.

Congressman Addison T. Smith, who is especially interested in legislation beneficial to homebuilders on the public domain, is preparing several bills which will encourage settlement of the public lands and make farm life more attractive, and make unnecessary many of the hardships which are now imposed by stringent laws and regulations on those who are endeavoring to develop the resources of the country.

In order to make possible the rapid extension of the reclamation of the arid lands by the government it is proposed that the amount available each year by the issuance of additional reclamation bonds. Senator Borah succeeded several years ago in securing legislation for a $20,000,000. bond issue which has made possible the construction of the Arrow Rock dam near Boise; and the completion of the Boise-Phryrite project. He has introduced in the Senate a bill providing for the issuance of $30,000,000. bonds to facilitate irrigation work. Senator Smith has introduced in the House, which, if enacted, will make possible the undertaking of a number of vast irrigation projects upon which preliminary work has already been done, but the construction of which has been deferred because of the lack of money.

Congressman Smith has also introduced a bill appropriating money for the construction of a federal building at Caldwell and Weiser.

Sen. Borah recently returned to Washington after an extended visit to Idaho. While in the state he visited Pocatello, Boise, Lewiston, Wallace and Coeur d'Alene and had the pleasure of meeting many of the citizens. He found the people of the state in close contact with the people of the state on this trip than ever before, and that his visit was most profitable to him. While there, he talked with a number of leading men who have made a study of the problems of the state. It affects the products of Idaho, especially with reference to lead, wool and mutton, and received much information which will be of benefit to him when these schedules are up for discussion in the Senate.

The Yellowstone park is justifying its name and thought of perhaps by its protectors. When Gen. Washburn, Lieut. Doane, N. P. Langford and the remainder of the Washburn and Doane exploring expedition reached the park, they made many remarkable discoveries, first geological discoveries, then mammals, birds, plants, Yellow-stone Park, and the Grand Canyon and falls were the objects that most interested them. While these expeditions were in the park, there were nearly 300 buffaloes, 200 mountain sheep, many numbers of black and grizzly bears, and 80,000 elk by actual count, that make Yellowstone the park the home of the government.

Mr. Myres has been away from his recent illness.

Mrs. Martha Workman spent the afternoon with Mrs. Eden Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hayes of Kimberly, took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Hastings Bishop.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Congressman Smith and French Are Workers for Homesteaders

(Special Correspondence)
Washington, D. C., April 8.—Three important bills of much interest were introduced yesterday by Congressmen French and Smith, and which will affect the homestead act.

The first bill provides for the enlargement of the homestead act, so that the homesteader may make improvements which will result in an enlarged homestead, habitable and capable of production to the extent of $1.50 per acre per year, accepting under the enlarged homestead act where the improvements are made.

Another bill provides for the homestead entry of a large area of land classified as phosphate land and withdrawn from entry with the reservation of the phosphate deposits to the government, allowing the owner under the government's proposal to find remove the phosphates but protecting the homesteader in his rights to the surface.

The third bill provides for an extension of the minimum annual payments required by law for water right charges from ten to thirty, upon projects completed, in course of development or hereafter to be developed, where no annual payments have been made for three years, the amount of payments unpaid to three times the number of annual payments due. The bill as will be introduced also provides the same extension of payments to owners of private lands but who have granted water from reclamation projects.

Mr. French intends to make an earnest effort to have these measures enacted and will devote considerable attention to them in the hope the homesteaders will immediately have the benefits sought to be accomplished by these bills in the near future.
