CHERUBS IN ART

A Story About Pictures That Will Appear in The Times This Week

STRICTLY speaking, the word cherub is used as the name of a winged angel, placed in pictures with the ser-aphim and the cherubim of the Bible.
But this word has come to be used in a much broader sense. In art both cupids and pretty little children are referred to as cherubs. This week in The Times and in "The Monitor," the publication of The Associated Newspaper School, you will find about some of these "Cherubs in Art."
Cherubs from the "Statue Madonna,"
by Raphael; "Angel," by Bartolomeo; "Cherub," by Rubens; "Holy Child," by Boucher; and "Angel Heads," by Reynolds.

And you are hereby summoned and required to appear and answer said complaint within twenty days after service of this summons, if served within the Fourth Judicial District of the State of Idaho, and within forty days if served elsewhere (exclusive of the day of service); and you are further notified that unless you so appear and answer said complaint, an above required, said plaintiff will take judgment against you for the sum of $312.50 and interest thereon from March 21, 1913, at seven per cent per annum, and for plaintiff's costs, being the sum demanded in said complaint.

Attest my hand and the seal of said court, this 21st day of April, 1913.
E. J. FINCH,
Clerk of said Court.
By P. H. CROW,
Deputy.

GUSTAV KOBBE

Gustav Kobbe, the well-known author and art critic, will tell you about these famous pictures in "The Monitor," and in his most delightful article will show their artistic value and significance. Then in The Times each issue this week a vivid human interesting story will tell you the interesting facts about one of these pictures about the man who painted it. These stories are as instructive as they are entertaining.

The wonderful painting of the "Statue Madonna" has been called the most famous picture in the world. It is at the bottom of this great painting about the man who painted it. These Times will tell you about today are found. The "Statue Madonna" was painted by Raphael originally for the Church of San Sisto in Piacenza, Italy, but now hangs in the German city of Dresden.

The name of the man who painted the picture "Cherubs in Art" will be told today in "The Monitor" and Baptista Salvi—John the Baptist Salvi—but he was called Sassoferro from the place in which he was born. This was a custom of the Italians at that time.

In his painting, "Holy Child," Rubens has painted children—and they are very real children, not a bit like angels.

The little beings pictured in "The Target" by Boucher are really cupids rather than cherubs. Friday's story will tell you about this charming painting and about the life at the French court at the time this famous artist lived.

In the picture, "Angel Heads," Sir Joshua Reynolds, the great English artist, painted the face of one child in five different positions. This painting and its artist and others will be in Friday's issue.

In next week's "Monitor" Mr. Kobbe's delightful little article will tell you all about these famous paintings;
and the exquisite intaglio reproductions of them that come with "The Monitor" will tell you by their beauty and excellence.

The stories that are being published in our columns are part of the plan of The Associated Newspaper School, to give you just what you have always wanted to know about art, new history, science, nature, and story, and literature. The Times gives you week by week the benefits of this plan. The semi-weekly feature is the human interest story, and the weekly feature of the plan is "The Monitor," issued every Monday, and containing an illustrated article, an emblem, and a picture.

"The Monitor," "The Monitor" contains six beautiful pictures, either in color or in intaglio-gravure.

The price of "The Monitor" is 10 cents, and it can be purchased at the Liberal News Stand.

TARIFF REBELLION IN THE SUGAR AND WOOL STATES.

A cry for help comes from the wool and sugar producers, shuddering before the Democratic preparations to tear down their section of the tariff wall and expose them to the unsheltered winds of foreign competition. Other interests hit by the proposed reductions, such as the cotton manufacturers, the paper-makers, the California fruit-growers, the Minnesota millers, and the Texas cattlemen, are contributing to the expected chorus of protest, but their voices are almost drowned by the Louisiana sugar planters, the Western beet-sugar men and the sheep-raisers of Ohio and Western ranges. If the wool men are at the moment less audible than the sugar producers a plausible explanation may be found in the statement of a Washington correspondent that they "are so mad they can scarcely speak." Wool and sugar, taken together, present the crux of the tariff situation, remarks the Baltimore News (Proc.), and the news columns are full of rumors of a tactical alliance in Washington between the Democratic Senators from wool and sugar States to defeat the provisions for immediate free wool and for free sugar at the end of three years, even at the price of defying the party leaders and disrupting the party program. Since the party in power has a majority of only six in the Senate, it is argued, a very small group of Democrats, by co-operating with the enemy, could bring about this result. Yet, in spite of all protests and rumors, Majority Leader Underwood confidently declares that "the bill will pass the House just as it is, in approval of the caucus," and the President, after a conference with the Senate Finance Committee, "assures the newspapermen that we don't see any difficulty in standing together on any sort of party program."

President Wilson, according to the Washington correspondents, is unbending in his demand for free wool at once and free raw sugar in three years. These features, Mr. Underwood informed Congress, are the President's own contributions to the framing of the Tariff Bill, and to repudiate them would be a slap at the Administration. "Out of four thousand and more items in the bill," said Mr. Underwood, "the President made only these two suggestions. It seems to me that we should accept these two suggestions from the President of the United States." The opposition to free wool in the House comes chiefly from Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Missouri, Michigan, California, New Mexico, and Arizona. That this opposition sees little prospect of victory on the main issue may be inferred from the following statement of Congressman Ashbrook, of Ohio, to a New York Times representative:

"We demand that if raw wool is put on the free list, manufacturers of wool also be put there. There is no valid reason why the farmers who raise the wool should be hit and the manufacturers who use that wool be protected. If the farmer is to be hit, the manufacturer should likewise suffer. To put wool on the free list without treating manufacturers of wool the same way would not cheapen the price of woolen clothing."

Leaving the manufacturers out of the question for the moment, says the Philadelphia Inquirer (Rep.), "free wool means the destruction of the 'locks' of American sheep." Thus, according to the secretary of the National Wool Growers' Association, will be destroyed "a $500,000,000 industry in the Western States." In an article published in the New York Herald he backs up this statement with the following statistics:

"According to the last census we had in the United States 600,000 wool-growers, owning 32,000,000 sheep worth $232,000,000. In addition to the value of the sheep we have the value of the lands and equipment needed to maintain them, which amounts to $350,000,000. Therefore the aggregate investment in the sheep industry is $582,000,000. This is more money than is invested in all forms of wool manufacturing in the United States."

"Free wool is going to annihilate this industry as effectively as if Congress had passed a prohibitory law against the raising of sheep in this country," exclaims the Denver Republican (Rep.), which adds that "in the matter of wool Colorado is on the firing line, as in the matter of beet sugar, live stock, and ore." Under the present tariff, says The Republican, wool-raising in Colorado brings in $1,500,000 a year; and it continues: "If Colorado had voted for free wool, free sugar, free live stock, and ore, it might be argued that the State deserves a trial of the consequences of experimenting with the Democratic Ways and Means Committee would put into effect. But the Democratic vote in this State is not a majority vote, and no sort of juggling with words will get the members of the Colorado delegation right if they vote for free wool."

The prospect of defeating free wool in the Senate seems bright also to such papers as the Salt Lake Tribune (Rep.) and the Portland Oregonian (Rep.). It is evident, says the Salt Lake paper, that the President's proposition can not carry "except by the aid of Democratic Senators from States that are vitally interested in wool-growing; and it goes on to analyze the situation as follows:

"The Senate is composed of ninety-six members. Of these fifty-one are Democrats and forty-five are protectionists, including two Progressives and forty-three straight Republicans. "On the wool question there are at least four Democratic Senators, two from Montana, and two from Oregon, whose constitutions are vitally interested in the wool tariff. It is not in the least likely that those four Senators could be induced to vote for free wool; but taking those four Senators out of the Democratic column there would remain but forty-seven free wool men in the Senate, to fortify in favor of a wool tariff. Doubtless the two Democratic Senators from Colorado would range themselves on the same side of this question, so that the likelihood of free wool disappears at once on the consideration of the membership of the Senate and of the probability of the votes of Democratic Senators from wool States.

"It is a plain case that the Democratic Senators from the States that are vitally interested in wool, sugar, lead, and zinc have the matter in their own hands, and will be able to force compromises with respect to the tariff on these commodities that will protect the interests involved, and correct the views of the radicals." ## ADKINS RETAINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Winning Decision Over Young Morteson in Last Two Falls.

Last Saturday night at the opera house there occurred between Dutch Adkins of Filer and Young Morteson of Twin Falls a wrestling bout that decided the lightweight championship of Idaho. Both men weighed in at 135 pounds and were in the pink of condition which assured the fans of a close contest.

The first fall was won by Morteson in 15 minutes with a front chancery. The second and third falls were won by Adkins in 5 and 12 minutes respectively. A large crowd was in attendance and from the first to the last moment was all enthusiasm.

A return match was asked for by Morteson and accepted by Adkins which will probably take place in the near future, winner to take any part or all.

The champion will take on any and all comers in the state at 135 pounds who can prove their worth as professionals. The fans have the necessary coin that goes along with talk in order to sustain the championship. Filer Journal.

SERIOUS SHOOTING SCRAPE.

Burley Man Makes Shot at Peace Maker.

W. G. Underwood, having paraded too freely of the prohibited, started to make things interesting at the Anderson rooming house, Tuesday evening. When A. W. Anderson appeared and attempted to quiet things, Underwood pulled a revolver and fired a couple of shots. By this time E. J. Anderson had arrived and attempted to remove the gun from the scene of action, but before he could succeed, in doing so, he was shot in the right hand, inflicting quite a serious wound. Underwood was placed in jail that night but was released Wednesday evening on a $1,000 dollar bond. Preliminary trial was being held Thursday afternoon as we went to press. Advocate, Burley.

AS IN A LOOKING GLASS.

Three Real Feature and Vaudeville at Orpheum Theatre.

The Orpheum last night was filled with an audience which was highly pleased with the evening's entertainment. "As in a Looking Glass," a powerful story in three acts, is one that is seldom seen in a city the size of Twin Falls. Moore and Browne, in black face comedy and singing, give a very pleasing stunt. This show will be seen tonight and Wednesday evening. For the last three nights of the week the manager will introduce Ford and Louise in a refined Irish act, with excellent music, also four reels of motion pictures including the Gaudin Weekly of current events. In a short time Murphy's trained animals will be seen. This is said to be one of the best acts on the road.

This is a very promising enterprise and at this time looks as though it would be built, very soon, and taken in connection with the line to be built from Buhl or Twin Falls to Wells, New, it will make a splendid outlet for the productions of the North Side tract to Prico. Boost for it and we will all be benefited. Lincoln County Times.

CARL HAGENBECK IS DEAD.

Famous German Animal Collector Passes Away in Fetherland.

A press dispatch from Hamburg Germany says: Carl Hagenbeck, the animal collector and senior partner of the Handels' menagerie and Tier Park at Stellingen, near Hamburg, died today.

Carl Hagenbeck was born in 1844. His father, who had commenced the animal business in 1848, transferred the business to him when he was 21 years old. In 1876 he began to exhibit a collection of the representative animals of many countries, accompanied by troops of natives throughout Europe. The French government in 1891 awarded him the diploma of the academy. Several sovereigns bestowed decorations upon him.

DYNAMITE IN COAL.

Courthouse Janitor Yesterday Made Startling Discovery.

In filling up the furnace at the court house yesterday, Morris Springfield, janitor, found a stick of dynamite lodged in a big lump of coal. The discovery was made by the fuse which hung from the coal. The dangerous explosive was entirely concealed. Had the lump of coal with its contents been thrown into the furnace, the consequences would have been disastrous. It was apparent that the dynamite was a portion of what called a "skidder" of the mine from which the coal was taken. Shoshone Journal.

FIND BONES IN LAVA CAVE.

Number of Human Skulls, Bones and Flint Implements Found.

The party of seven who made the trip from here to the lava cave about forty miles east and south of here just beyond the big buttes in the lava beds, returned Wednesday night with several sacks of skulls, bones, buffalo horns, flints and other things found in the lava cave discovered New Years day by Adrian Empey and another man while herding sheep in that neighborhood.

The party was made up of Ed. Winn, Bert Coos and his two brothers, B. A. Brown, Adrian Empey and Karl P. Robinson. The latter from Blackfoot. The trip was made from here in automobiles, the party being able to get within a few miles of the cave, where they camped all night, making the balance of the trip on foot. The party was equipped with flint and made a search of the cave, which it made up of four rooms, following the narrow entrance. One of the rooms is quite large and in this the skulls and bones were found all grouped within a small space. There were a number of ash and nearly all of the skulls were scorched, some badly burned.

Fourteen skulls were secured, a number of finger bones, ribs, large leg bones, buffalo horns, several pairs of broken bows, round sticks covered with what seems to have been deer hide, several flints and a number of broken arrows. One of the most peculiar finds is two flat sticks, round, about a foot long, each with a hole bored in either end and with twelve notches cut in each stick. There was no evidence of metal to show that the bones are those of white men nor beads to confirm the opinion that they are of Indians. Some of the skulls are very large, others medium size and some very small, which would indicate that there were men, women and children in the party which met death in the cave. Who they were, how they were killed and how long they have been there is a matter of conjecture only, but from all evidence they have been there a number of years.

Adrian Empey while herding sheep with another man last New Years day found the cave and brought eight of the skulls here with him at that time. It would indicate that over twenty people met their death there at the time and probably more. Idaho Falls Register.

Instead of the regular monthly meeting of the C. W. M. U. on Thursday afternoon, May 1, we unite with the other missionary societies in a meeting at the Baptist church. This is the regular semi-annual union meeting, and all members are earnestly invited to attend and others who can are cordially invited. An important subject will be discussed, that of the "Bible in the Public Schools of Twin Falls." A social hour will follow the session and a good stock dinner will be served by the ladies of the Baptist church.

First Game of Season.

Bursing, Star Twirler, Proves an Enigma to Picked Team.

That Twin Falls is to have some real class baseball this coming season, has been proven by the fact that the local fans watched the home team in its preliminary workout against the Buhl-Piler combined team at the ball park last Sunday afternoon. The local fans got away with the big end of a 14 to 5 score. Although the weather was somewhat cloudy, the game was a good crowd, with the ladies well represented, attended the game and was well rewarded for its interest.

The local fans were particularly interested in Bursing, the big Minnesota star pitcher, who will do the heavy work for the pitcher's staff of the coming season, supported by C. H. Chapin behind the bat. Bursing knows the game, and will be called on, and is steady as a clock, and with Chapin to hold them behind the willow, the Twin Falls contingent has a battery to be relied on.

The game started with Buhl-Piler getting their first man to bat on first with a third-base line drive. The next three failed to find Bursing for even a nibble, and the locals took the lead. Faulkner, one of the best of the west-enders for a low one in left and reached first. Patrick decided not to hit them so early in the game and went to the mound. Chapin struck out while Faulkner pilfered the second sack. Johnson lifted a high one to the outfielder. Bursing smothered and the west-enders hung in from the meadow. Bursing unlimbered and the first three up for Buhl-Piler were the most of the Twin Falls then opened up a sackful of runs, and Bally, Kiersted, McClure and Bursing each scratched a tally on the plate.

The Buhl-Piler team called on Griffith and Barker, while the locals retaliated with a mark each for Faulkner and Bursing. The visitors put Stradley over in the seventh and H. Benoit, Chapin and Johnson added three to the score for the winners.

Both teams played good ball from the start, the field men doing exceptionally good work under the weather. The chapin will show equally good, if not better form, than last year, and will give the strength that the players of last year have.

The latter will work steadily with the locals from now on, and the team will come into shape within the next week or two.

The schedule now being arranged will insure high-class baseball during the coming season.

The team will meet American Falls next Sunday.

ABSTRACT BUSINESS SOLD.

Fowers & Dew Acquire Fidelity Abstract Company.

The Fidelity Abstract & Trust company which has been under the management of Attorney E. T. White, changed owners this week when the business was purchased by Fowers & Dew, who will conduct it under the same name.

The business will be moved across the street to the offices of the Twin Falls Water company, in the Perrine annex, where the new owners will be pleased to meet both new and old friends of the firm. Mr. Fowers, who has been engaged in the real estate business in this city, has had considerable experience in the abstract business and will be able to give a good account of himself. Mr. William Hughes, who has actual charge of the business of the Fidelity Abstract company, will be retained by Messrs. Fowers and Dew.

ROGERSON NOTES.

Mr. Norman, of Salt Lake City, brought a cartload of household goods and farming implements the last of the week, and will take up his residence on his ranch on China creek west of the Salinas river.

Miss Ethel Jernigan, who has been living in Rogerson for some time, returned to her home in Twin Falls Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Arm and Mrs. Niel West, who have been visiting friends in Piler last week, have returned home.

Mr. Fred Hendrix and daughter, Daisy, drove to Piler Tuesday to bring the remaining household goods to their new home near Rogerson.

J. A. Vandenberg made a business trip to the Salinas district last Saturday. Mr. Micklowatt and family came down in their machine last week by way of the camp to view the country and call on friends here.

Walker brothers report the loss of a flock of sheep which have strayed away from their large drove, and were hunting for them Monday.

Mr. Fred Hendrix has shipped several carloads of hay from Piler and sold it to the farmers here.

Oaken & Macfate, our hustling merchants, are clearing their warehouse and disposing of the remnants of winter storage to make room for heavy spring shipments.

Miss Lynch, who has been operator at the telephone central since its installation in present quarters, returned to Twin Falls this week. Mrs. Florence McMillan will take the place vacated.

Miss Nellie Malby received a fine new organ last week.

Horace Goldworthy was a Twin Falls visitor for several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Vandenberg took a trip to one of the deep canyons a few days ago to explore its mysteries and to picnic there.

The Sunday school is preparing to celebrate Children's day June 8, when we expect to have a grand rally for the young people, also preparing special music for Mother's day, which beautiful custom is now observed almost universally and we know is doing a great deal of good.

The book club met with Mr. and Mrs. Craig last week and a very delightful evening was enjoyed.

There was a jolly waltz of our folk taken out by Donald McCloud, and was enjoyed as much as any part of it, beside quite a number of others, which made quite a household. The guessing contest was pictures of prominent people, which were mislabeled, being quite confusing, and so on. Many pleasant features were carried out, and very nice refreshments served. This was intended to be the last meeting for the season, but all were loath to give up these pleasant entertainments that have been so thoroughly enjoyed. Our next meeting will be held at the school house, and entertainment to be given by the men, which we are sure will be something new and novel.

HANSEN HAPPENINGS.

W. D. Griffith and daughter were Twin Falls passengers Monday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Vanderpool were at Oakley last Sunday looking over the Oakley farm.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tarr, of Twin Falls, were in Hansen Monday night. H. A. Smith boarded the 11:14 train to Twin Falls Monday, and the 6:30 back to Hansen Monday evening.

Lawrence Hansen was in town on business Tuesday.

A bull is erecting a new house on his ranch southwest of Hansen. He expects to have it completed before long.

J. S. Smith bought a fine bunch of sheats near Twin Falls Monday.

Mrs. Stone, who has been visiting in Hansen, returned to her home in Twin Falls Wednesday.

Mr. Humphrey of the C. W. & M. Co. was in Hansen Wednesday.

Mrs. C. E. Edwards and Mrs. Ambrose were in Twin Falls Thursday.

Mr. Pett, of Twin Falls, was in Hansen Wednesday on business.

Key Mues and wife were visiting friends in Hansen Wednesday.

Miss Edith Towne came out from Twin Falls Thursday evening to spend a few days on the farm.

Mr. Roberts was threshing clover for Mr. Kilborn Friday.

August Wellner received the appointment as manager of the Hansen lumber yard. We feel that August is competent for the place and we all join in wishing him a success.

Mrs. Lincoln Rush has been on the sick list the past week.

Ed. Smith drove to Piler Thursday where he expects to do general farm work on his Piler ranch.

Mr. Albert Felton has returned from Piler where he has been attending to some business. Mr. Felton has to go back in a week or ten days.

Mrs. McCullough is on the sick list this week.

The closing exercises of Excelsior school will be held Saturday evening, May 3, at the school house. After a short program of songs and recitations will be served. Every one is welcome.

The Sunday school social, given by the ladies, was a decided success. About twenty were present and all report a good time. A nice lunch of punch, popcorn and waffles was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Searek, of Piler, were in the show at Twin Falls Monday.

The water is out of the low line canal at present on account of repair work.

Mr. and Mrs. Balch, of Kimberly, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Searek.

Mrs. Hubbard and Mary Wilson were in Twin Falls Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wesson boarded the train for Ontario, Oregon, to expect to visit their son at that place.

Herb Smith, Ray Vanderpool, Spencer and Marguerite Edwards attended the show at Kimberly Friday night.

Herb Smith purchased a nice team of mares last Thursday and is proud of them.

Mrs. R. W. Gager, a well-known citizen of Hansen, passed away at her home last Sunday evening. Mr. Gager was a typical young lady with a kind and sweet disposition, which soon won for her the affection and love of her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Laycock and children were in Twin Falls Saturday.

Mrs. and Mrs. Arthur Town were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Eubanks Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. J. S. Smith, Herbert, Gladys and Opal Smith went to Milner Saturday.

FILER NEWS.

(Filer Journal.)

Quite a bunch of Twin Falls fans attended the wrestling match Saturday night.

Mrs. West and Mrs. Orm, of Rogerson, were visiting and shopping in Filer the past week.

Quite a number of Filer young people attended the dance at Shurrun's hall in Sucker Flat Saturday night.

The "kid" ball team of the place played the Buhl kids last Saturday and won. On Sunday they went to Buhl and played a return game.

We are a little worried that not enough attention is being given to the planting of watermelons. For goodness sakes, don't let us have a shortage of melons this year. Plant 'em now—and then some more later.

For some time now about town have been laughing at Helvey and Beener for their usual luck in getting in the country by the route mode, and then having to walk in. Don't laugh any more. Deener says they are simply training for the Marathon and by this simple little act, means are getting in great shape for the long distance walking stunt when it is pulled off next field day.

The "Gospel car" pulled out Tuesday evening for greener fields. But few meetings were held in the car, the evangelist using the Monnette church in which to do his preaching. It is an open question among those who attended as to any good he did while here.

This village and having attended many of the meetings is therefore in a poor position to comment on his work. It might be said in passing, however, that Filer has two able ministers who are equal to the work demanded in this small community, and are not overpaid for the work performed.

Coming in a large able bodied fellow, plate to do an extra stunt and gather in the grapes doesn't appeal to us when there is so much grape juice needed for the extra muscle these fellows are barded with.

Russell and Russell have named for a large able bodied fellow, plate to do an extra stunt and gather in the grapes doesn't appeal to us when there is so much grape juice needed for the extra muscle these fellows are barded with.

The Filer Women's club will meet with Mrs. Whelan, Wednesday April 30, at 8 o'clock.

J. W. Robinson, of McCook, Neb., an old friend of Earl Murry, is visiting on the tract, with the intention of buying.

Several changes were made on Main street this week. Murry moved his barber shop to the former drug store building where he will have ample room for his barber shop and bath room, and also two pool tables. Mr. Glazebrook moved his shop to the building on the corner west of Town

The Kimberly high school ball team came to Filer last Friday to play the home team. It was a splendid game and well attended.

The Filer boys finally won the game at the end of the 13th inning by a score of 10 to 5. The score was 10 in the seventh inning and from that time on it was a great battle. The Kimberly boys were a gentlemanly bunch and won many friends here.

The Filer team will play Buhl tomorrow, Friday, on the home grounds.

Chas. Allen came up from Rupert Tuesday night to mingle with the Filer throng. Charley formerly lived in Chicago, and says that he would die with loneliness if he did not get to a live town like Filer occasionally.

A little walk down Yakima and then on to Main street, with the dazzling lights burning hundreds of electric globes (band stand) and so forth, is so late to his soul. He likes the excitement always to be found in Filer and is an ardent booster of all her athletic sports. He says there are more genuine sports in this town than anywhere on Idaho state from end to end.

A number of young ladies gave a farewell party in the opera house Monday evening to Robert Ray and Orlo Lee, who leave soon for some point near Sacramento, Cal. Those present report a most enjoyable time.

The young ladies proved very gracious hostesses, and won the hearts of all the gentlemen who were lucky enough to be "among those present."

Refreshments at the opportune time made the occasion all the more enjoyable. Dancing, card playing and social conversation filled in the allotted time. The Lee boys will leave many friends behind them in Filer, who will always wish them the full measure of success and most pleasant evenings like the last one they enjoyed among their southern Idaho friends.

Earl Murry was a Twin Falls visitor Tuesday.

Through an oversight, we neglected to mention in our last issue the splendid entertainment given by the high school on the program of the 11th last. The play was certainly fine and the large audience that turned out to hear it was a delighted one. Each and every factor was of the highest quality and drew the applause of the entire audience.

Albert H. Wilson, deputy state pure food inspector, is here today. He says he found Filer generally in a very sanitary condition, especially the meat market, hotel and restaurants. He found that the place was in need of cleaning up, and he gave orders to have the "cleaning up" done at once. The city officials are getting busy and the mayor's proclamation in another column should be headed by one and all, if they expect to escape a bad time.

J. A. Hughes, state club supervisor, who recently lectured through this section, has these good words to say regarding Filer: "Superintendent Dooley, of Filer, stopped all classes and had his school assembly so we could address them. Up at the state

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS.

In accordance with the provisions of Ordinance No. 125 of the City of Twin Falls for the betterment of sanitary condition of the city, all owners and lessees of barns or sheds for housing horses, cows, mules and other live stock within city limits, are required to provide a closed-bin or receptacle for all manure or refuse.

Section of said ordinance reads as follows:

"Section 7. Every person owning, leasing or occupying any stall, stable, bin or compartment where any horse or any cattle or mule shall be kept, and every owner of any horse, mule or beast of burden shall maintain a durable made receptacle, bin, vault or cellar which must be so constructed as to preserve the contents at all times from rain and other moisture, and of such nature and character as to preclude the contamination of the atmosphere or the passage and breeding of flies, in which receptacles shall be placed all manure or refuse from such horse, mule or

Therefore, in accordance with such ordinance, the said owners or lessees of barns, stalls or sheds are required to, on or before the first day of May, 1913, provide such receptacles or be liable to arrest for violating said ordinance.

Signed FRED SPENCER,
Sanitary Officer.

Ladies Riding Skirts

We wish to dispose of the remainder of our stock of ladies riding skirts so have made a price reduction to insure their speedy departure. This lot comes in light and dark brown and blue corduroy. The skirts are made in Norfolk style and the skirts are prettily trimmed with 16 buttons. They button up the front, panel effect, and are so draped in the back to insure a continuous skirt effect when not astride. Clean up price.
