If it were not for the little destructive germs working with a persistence worthy of a hell-cause, there would be no baldness. Parasitic Sago will kill the dandruff germs and remove dandruff in two weeks or money back. Scales-Wiley guarantee it. It will stop itching scalp, falling hair and make the hair grow thick and abundant. It puts life and lustre into the hair and prevents it from turning gray. It is the hair dressing par excellence, daintily perfumed and free from grease and stickiness. It is the favorite with women of taste and culture who know the social value of fascinating hair. A large bottle costs only 50 cents and leading druggists everywhere, and Scales-Wiley, the girl with the Auburn hair is on every package—Advocate.

The bluff worked by the English suffragettes with the fake bombs would do credit to American politicians who have been taking financial disaster bombs every time the attempt is made to lower the tariff. The English women must have made close study of American methods.

A large number of the automobile owners of the state are holding out the payment of the state automobile tax, waiting for the state to make the first move in collecting the same. The result will be interesting at least. With a jail sentence and fine of three hundred dollars as a penalty for violation of the law, it looks as though the state has by all odds the best of the argument. There is no question but what the tax is not based on good principles inasmuch as the man with a three or five year old car is taxed as high as the man with a new and expensive one based on horsepower. The law should have made a flat rate much lower than now in force for all kinds of gas-driven vehicles, regardless of horsepower and in this way each would pay a fair share of road maintenance. As a matter of record, Idaho, with one exception, has a higher automobile tax than any other state.

The statement contained on the front page of this paper by Dr. Scribner, the government dairy expert, should be carefully pondered by a large number of the ranchers of this tract who are worrying along year by year, attempting to get a profit from the raising of products subject to market changes. The Twin Falls country today is merely in its infancy as far as the development of dairying is concerned and the tract is fully capable of using all of its alfalfa hay right here in each rancher's farm yard. The products of the dairy, too, are not subject to the violent price fluctuations that many of the grains and other crops have shown in the past five years. Another feature that most ranchers overlook is that in dairying and stock-raising the products bring ready money the year around, thus cutting out interest paying, which does so much to keep the farmers in debt. If the ranchers will talk with their neighbors who are leading better fat to the creameries in this county, they will be surprised at the total income of even a small dairy herd.

MARKETING THE FRIEDMANN CURE

While doubt about the merits of the Friedmann treatment for tuberculosis is still entertained by the medical experts, and while no report from the Federal Government officials is yet forthcoming, the improvement reported in several cases seems to have been sufficient to persuade a New York drug firm to undertake the marketing of the serum. The sale of the remedy gives the buyers the sole right to prepare the remedy discovered by Dr. Friedmann, and to apply the treatment to tuberculous victims. "Remarkable, but not so surprising," is one newspaper characterization of what is discussed in the New York press as the "commercialization" or "exploitation" of the cure. And though they deplore the doctor's "ethics," these papers in the city which he has made his American headquarters admit that he is "quite within his rights," and that if he is really the conqueror of consumption, no one will grudge him the millions he may make. The arrangements for the continuation of the Friedmann treatment in the future are outlined in the following formal statement issued to the press:

"An arrangement has been definitely arrived at between Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann and Mr. Moritz Eisner, of this city, providing for the preparation and use of the Friedmann vaccine in the United States. The plan which has been formulated provides for the establishment of institutes in the various States in order that fresh vaccine may at all times be available to those afflicted with tubercular disease; that under reasonable regulations persons requiring treatment, but who are unable to pay for same, shall be treated free of charge; and that all duly licensed physicians shall without cost to them be entitled to receive at the respective institutes proper instructions in the methods of application.

"Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann will return to the United States after his visit to Canada for the purpose of instructing a number of doctors in the methods of handling the vaccine.

"Dr. Friedmann has from the start made it an absolute condition that the poor in every State shall be treated free of charge."

In view of the stories of a million-dollar offer which first brought Dr. Friedmann from Germany to America, there is much curiosity regarding the exact sum which he receives for the disposal of the American rights in his cure. This, Dr. Friedmann says he does not care to discuss. But the New York Times, on what it believes to be good authority, tells its readers that "he received $125,000 in cash and $1,800,000 in stock in thirty-six Friedrich F. Friedmann Institutes to be organized in thirty-six selected States, with a total capitalization of $5,400,000."

The objection to this arrangement, or whatever arrangement of the kind Dr. Friedmann has made, is, as the New York Globe puts it, that he gets "a handsome amount of money" before he has proved "that his serum would do what he said it could." This "melancholy end to Dr. Friedmann's mission here," as The Tribune calls it, apparently confirms "a wide-spread impression" that Dr. Friedmann's motives are "not scientific and humane, but commercial," thinks The Evening Post, which adds:

"Certainly, the drug company that offers such a royal payment—in stock or cash—must be admitted for its courage. . . . Until tested in hundreds of cases and a period of years has elapsed, no one can state with authority just how effective the injections are."—Literary Digest.

A Dish of Delicious Vesta Ice Cream Free.

To every lady in Twin Falls who reads our booklet entitled "A Pure Food Factory in Southern Idaho" telling about our Pure Food Products.

This booklet was written especially for the ladies and we are sure it is worthy of their most careful consideration, for it tells them how they can safe-guard the health of their family by the choice of pure foods and beverages. Among other things, it describes delicious but realizing how much more satisfactory it is to eat ice cream than to simply read about it, we want every lady who reads the booklet to have the opportunity of enjoying some of the real thing. So we have arranged with the dealers named below to serve a nice large dish of Vesta free to every lady in Twin Falls who reads our booklet. Anyone who reads the booklet carefully cannot fail to notice which was overlooked by the proof reader (the mistake being in the use of the wrong pronoun) and all you need to do in order to enjoy this free offer is to mark this error, sign your name on the cover and present the booklet at the drug store.

VESTA ICE CREAM

OFFICE OPENED BY MAJ. REED

To Combine Duties of Immigration and Expatriation Commissioner

The department of Immigration, labor and statistics coupled with that of the headquarters of the Panama-Pacific exposition, was opened at the state house annex, the old state capitol building, by Major Fred R. Reed, commissioner of immigration, labor and statistics and executive commissioner of the exposition commission. Major Reed is in charge of the department. One of the duties had been employed for the two departments. Because there was no appropriation made by the legislature for the actual maintenance of the department of immigration, labor and statistics, the work heretofore carried on by that department will have to be very largely abandoned.

Major Reed is preparing for a trip to San Francisco and will leave here Tuesday, May 20. He will travel to the city of California the bearer of two titles, but his duties will be confined to those of the executive commissioner of the Panama-Pacific exposition. He will review the exposition site and particularly the site for the Idaho building selected about a year ago by Governor Hawley and the commissioner appointed by him for that purpose. There have been a number of changes made in the exposition plans and Commissioner Reed wishes to become familiar with them so as to be prepared to place before the Idaho Panama-Pacific exposition data of value to it in the preparation of its plans for the Idaho exhibit.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

By this item I wish to advise the people of the Twin Falls tract that I have resigned my position as wire-chief for the Mountain States Telephone Company and have purchased the bicycle and general repair shop owned by Mr. J. A. Buchanan, at 217 Main avenue. I have employed an expert bicycle mechanic to handle that end of the work. Personally I have had 12 years of electrical experience, practically all of which has been in the maintenance of the various kinds of electrical appliances, and I expect to carry a full line of electrical maintenance supplies. In addition to the up-to-date equipment purchased from Mr. Buchanan, necessary to handle the general repair work, I have installed a modern grinding lathe for lawn mower work exclusively.

If you cannot come, just telephone your troubles to W. REED, and they will receive prompt attention.
