Will Co-operate With Twin Falls and Hagerman.

PETITION SENT TO HIGHWAY COMMISSION.

Buhl and Hagerman to Put Road in Shape from That City Through Hagerman Valley.

An informal meeting of some of the businessmen of Buhi was hastily called together at the Buhi hotel Monday morning, May 26, 1915. Those present were: J. A. Snyder, J. H. McGley, J. H. McHenry, J. H. Snyder, Byrne, Meredith, Harvey, White, Ellison, Hopkins, McCluskey and Paris, and those visiting from Hagman were Messrs. Snyder, McHenry, and Harvey. After some informal discussion the meeting settled down to business and a resolution was unanimously adopted to the effect that a committee of Buhi and vicinity to heartily co-operate with Hagman and Twine Falls in an effort to secure for this section of the island a road which would be free from heavy grades, an noying sand, and yet bring before those who would travel this road as much of Idaho's scenic wonders as possible—including the Thousand

Springes, Upper and Lower Salmonson, and Falls, and the beauties of one or two of the oldest settled localities of the state.

Being assisted by our visitors, through they would take care of the road from Owley's Ferry to Bliss (putting it in the hands of the State), we were

It was moved, seconded and unanimously carried that Buhl would immediately adopt measures for putting the same in better condition.

Buhl, through Buhl to Owley's Ferry, in good condition, by some date. This resolution to include a temporary stop at the mouth of the river at a point near the Norton ranch.

In accordance with this resolution
the following committees were appointed:
Messrs. Meredith, Ellison and Whitcomb on bridge building, McQuown, Cassiday and Coombs.

This was made and carried that a committee be appointed to draft and circulate a petition to the intercommu-the advantages of this proposed route and securing as many signatures as possible. It was argued that a large petition backed by a large personal delegation would bear some weight. Messrs. Feeler, Snyder and H. L. Evans were appointed on this committee.

to Buhl, Mr. Eilmon being named as official pilot. Twin Falls to Owsley Ferry, at which point we were assured that the Hagerman people would fornish a pilot to Bliss.

Donors were read from Mr. M. J. Swelley, president Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, and from Arthur L. Swin, president Twin Falls County Automobile association, also Theo. Turner, chairman state highway commission.

Meeting adjourned subject to a call of chairman.

CONCERT LARGELY ATTENDED

Conservatory of Music Present First Inq. Program.

The cantata, "King Rene's Daughter," given by the Twin Falls Conservatory of Music last Thursday evening, commemorating the 100th anniversary of Wagner's birth, was most pleasing performance and greeted by a well filled house. For the fact that some of the best musical talent of the city, together with the finest organs of instruments tors of the conservatory took part in the program, it is needless to say that a most perfect rendering of this wonderful cantata was the result. Mrs. A. Guibert, head of the conservatory and director of the performance, is due a large amount of credit for the musical treat given to the audience.

ALUMNI RECEPTION

Reception to graduates of the Conservatory of Music and the Conservatory of Art and Design was given at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City, on Monday, June 11, 1929. The program was given by the graduates of the conservatories, and was a most perfect rendering of the cantata. The program was given by the graduates of the conservatories, and was a most perfect rendering of the cantata.

Fake advertising seems to be the rock on which a great many business men are snagged even in this up-to-date and live town. Advertising services of little or no value to the man who secures them are worked off each year by smooth salesmen who charge as much for stilted mechanically worded advertising as the newspaper charge for running the same. In fact, many of the smooth-tongued fellows go around to the newspapers and attempt to abstract an advertising agency discount from the publishers on the grounds of throwing the advertising in that direction. Following on the heels of the bill board advertising from which the results are to be questioned the city is soon overrun with all kinds of schemes which take money out of the town and leave nothing in return. For a while, during the life of the Merchants and Manufacturers association the fake advertising grater passed the city up as hopeless, but with the letting down of the bars the conditions are almost as bad as in the early days when some new shark trimmed the business men every day. There is only one real basis of judging advertising value and that is reaching the customer of the merchant or advertiser. Newspaper advertising has to bear the close scrutiny of the advertiser for circulation or the number of people it can make read its advertising. Any other form should be made to measure up to the same test, the number of people it will reach. Too few of the fake mediums are ever called to an accounting on such basis and as the result many thousands of dollars are thrown away from which the merchant realizes nothing. If such loss was shouldered by the merchants it would not be quite so hard on the community, but, as a rule, for every dollar thus thrown away, the merchant subtracts it from the legitimate advertising medium—the newspaper.

To the people who are forced to travel over the roads of the county this year, the high culverts present a series of obstacles only surmounted with great damage to the springs of the vehicles. It is a matter of fact that the culverts on the road leading due west of this city for six miles are positively dangerous to all kinds of vehicles. The same can be said to be true of a large number of other culverts made around about the city where culverts and bridges are not up in the air so that a flying machine would be necessary to get over at anything more than a snail's pace. The Times believes that the county commissioners are unaware of the real condition of many of the roads and place dependence upon the road supervisors who are the ones really to blame. In the first place, in setting culverts, too much attention is paid to the ditches and laterals and too little to the condition affecting the roads. If the laterals are too high for a proper grade for the road then the laterals should be apportioned under the road even at double the expense for the reason that such work would be permanent. The Times has not in the past favored a general road overseer for the county, but in view of the fact that a greater efficiency in the road work might result it may be worth a trial. It is out of the question to ask or expect the county commissioners to personally inspect the many hundreds of miles of roads in this county and it seems that district road work does little save eat up the county's road funds, with temporary repairs. Not that the conditions are any worse under the present board than have existed heretofore, but it seems to the Times that any further money spent should not be used unless it means permanent road improvement even if only a few miles are built each year. The Times believes that all the citizens of the county will acquiesce in this opinion.

THE INCOME-TAX UNDER-FIRE.

The Democratic income-tax plan, now before the Senate as part of the Tariff Bill, has for weeks been attacked by a large portion of the press as a remarkable example of how the right thing can be done in the wrong way. The taxation of incomes is an eminently fair method of collecting revenue, many editors believe, though the New York Sun and several of its contemporaries object to its use save as an emergency measure. The chief points of criticism in the present plan are the "undemocratic" $4,000 exemption, the provisions that seem to let off lightly the incomes received from corporation bonds, the taxation of the incomes of insurance companies, the administrative features, especially the "collection at source of income," and the "obscure and contradictory" language of the bill. For it seems to the New York Journal of Commerce that the various provisions "are involved in prolix and ambiguous sentences from which it is difficult to decipher the exact intent in many places, and the more clearly the sense is made out, the more the defects are disclosed." Some phraseological changes were made in the income-tax section of the Underwood Bill before its passage in the House, and certain criticisms were answered by two committee amendments exempting from taxation the incomes of mutual-benefit cemetery companies and the incomes received by the insured from payments upon life-insurance policies. The host of changes suggested while the bill was before the House led many editors to hope for a general overhauling by the Senate. Yet the income-tax plan has been looked upon by its creator and called good. Mr. Cordell Hull, of the House Ways and Means Committee, who framed the income-tax section of the Underwood Bill, and defended it on the floor of the House, is confident of its "workability." He says:

"The pending measure has been submitted to some of the best expert accountants in the country and to Treasury officials—both of whom are well versed in the operation of the present Corporation Tax Law and former income-tax laws—and each has pronounced the measure entirely practical and workable. I have no doubt as to its successful administration."

Perhaps the most serious objection to the Hull measure from those who insist upon their belief in income taxation lies in the high exemption limit. As, our readers are doubtless aware, is $4,000. In England, notes the San Francisco Chronicle, it is only $750; in Prussia, $225; Austria, $113; Italy, $77.50; and in the Netherlands, $250. But, though it is admitted that income range higher here than abroad, we find that the comparatively high limit does exclude most of us. According to figures submitted with the report of the Ways and Means Committee, the number of people who would pay taxes is something like this:

Four thousand dollars to $5,000, 129,000 persons; $5,000 to $10,000, 178,000; $10,000 to $15,000, 100,000; $15,000 to $20,000, 50,000; $20,000 to $25,000, 25,000; $25,000 to $30,000, 10,000; $30,000 to $50,000, 21,000; $50,000 to $100,000, 8,000; $100,000 to $250,000, 2,500; $250,000 to $500,000, 550; $500,000 to $1,000,000, 520; over $1,000,000, 300.

That is, as the New York Sun observes:

"The number of persons to be affected by the income tax as its provisions now stand is estimated officially at about 425,000."

"The amount of revenue to be produced by the income tax as its provisions now stand is estimated officially at about $70,000,000."

"The income-taxed part of the population, therefore, is about one person out of every 225 persons."

This is not a very "democratic" measure for Democrats to enact, say opposition papers. It "smacks of class legislation." And even the friendly New York Evening Post sees dangers in it, remarking:

"The principle ought to be that those should be exempt who must exercise great frugality in providing themselves with the necessities of a simple life, and that all others should pay something even though it might be very little."

The Republican suggestion that the $4,000 limit was a "retrograde" was frankly and rather naively admitted by Congressman Palmer on the floor of the House. He said:

"If we taxed all incomes of more than $1,000 we would be turned out of power at the very first election after the tax collectors called at the houses of the voters. Now it is generally admitted that this is a just system of taxation and one needed in this country to place upon the rich their proper proportion of the burden of government. Therefore the party first writing such a law on the statute books should see to it that there is nothing in the law that will destroy its popularity and turn a majority of the people of the country against it."

The $4,000 exemption was fixed on the assumption that it takes that amount of money to maintain an American family according to the American standard and send the children through college. There are, of course, different standards of living, but our purpose was to pick out a high standard."—Literary Digest.

Your Special Attention Is Called to Our Line of $25.00 Values

which we offer at a discount seldom equaled and never beaten. Quality, material and workmanship considered we challenge the world to undersell us. To fully grasp the meaning of this statement consider a moment just what we are offering you and you will realize this is no idle boast or mere talk to consummate a sale or sales. We are offering the product of the most highly skilled craftsmen in the tailoring world; merchandise placed on the market by people of brains and people who have made a reputation and who for their own protection must keep their product up to a certain standard. In selecting a line of clothing from the wholesale market, we used just the same judgment, care and thought that you will use in buying to satisfy your needs. Our judgment, after a thorough inspection and investigation, prompted us to secure the agency and sole right of sale in this section of what we consider the two best lines in the country.

$18 50

We backed our judgment by spending thousands of dollars to lay in this stock—money in an amount which means success or failure to us if the lines should not hold to the claims made for them. Now, honestly, are you taking any chance do you think when you buy to fill YOUR needs? These lines have made good in every particular for us. They will do the same for you.

We offer the choice of our entire stock in regular $25.00 values, for the next 15 days, at, choice

218 SUITS TO CHOOSE FROM IN THIS LOT

Wonderful Values at $9.75

Circumstances and certain needs may prompt you to purchase a suit from the lower priced selections. Maybe you wish a suit for work or rough wear on occasions when a higher priced model would not answer the purpose. Very well, we have guarded against that very need and can satisfactorily fill the want in a suit that will more than please and which will give entire satisfaction. Do not conclude that because the price is little that the real worth is not large, for that is not so. Realizing that all sensible people will not expect too much at a less price, we promise satisfaction and genuine worth in this lot. All the style, the correct fit, the value for value quality of material are all here and the selection of weaves and patterns are wonderfully good. This line of $12.50 and $13.50 values will be on sale for 15 days at your choice.

$9 75

45 desirable models in this lot.

Worthy Offerings at $14.75

In this lot, none excepted, you will find a surprisingly handsome selection of Men's Suits that are a credit alike to the manufacturers and the man who wears them. Plenty of style, perfection of fit and a grade of fabrics that are bound to please. You will undoubtedly find in most any clothing store you may enter suits that can be had at the price we ask for these. But right here is the time to call your attention to the undoubted difference between the usual $14.75 suit and the suit which we offer. In most cases the other suit is just a suit, built to sell at the price asked and worth not one cent more, while the values which we offer during this sale at the price are made to represent honest values to sell at a much greater price. These are suits which you ordinarily pay $18 to $20 for and get your money's worth every time. The styles are absolutely authentic, workmanship unrivaled and materials and patterns right up to now. This lot for 15 days, at, choice.

$14 75

119 distinct selections.

Our Best Numbers at $21.75

The cream of the Society and Kuppenheimer lines is here placed before you in a well and carefully selected assortment, offered at the price of models worth only one-half the price of these perfect garments. A few of the most careful dressers, judges of all that good in correct men's wear hold in favor of the custom-tailored clothes, but only because they have never tried a suit of either of these famous makes. The men who are converts, who have come over from the other side are the best boosters for the Society and Kuppenheimer lines, as they find no local tailor, or two or three tailors can compete with the trained corps of skilled workmen who make suits by the hundreds, while the small shop turns out one and the local shop can only copy while the large manufacturer is original. In each and every lot offered in our large stock we can fit the tall, the lean, the stout, the short, in fact any figure is provided for. For the next 15 days you can buy $27.50 and $30.00 values at, your choice.
