PRESIDENT WILSON TALKS ON CURRENCY

Delivers Message in Person to the Congress

INSISTS THAT CURRENCY QUESTION BE SETTLED AT ONCE.

Tuesday Session Will Soon Be Out of Way—Extra Session Will Probably Last All Through Summer Months.

Washington—A fixed determination to have currency legislation passed at this session of congress was accepted by the members of the lower house, as President Wilson's text for the currency message, which he personally presented to congress assembled in joint session in the house chamber.

Both Democrats and Republicans saw in the carefully worded appeal of the president an earnest conviction that the money situation must be dealt with before congress adjourns. Preparations were made to begin committee work on the administration bill which would be introduced in the house by Representative Carter Glass and in the senate by Senator Owen.

From the rostrum of the house chamber the president read the brief message.

"It plainly is clear," he said, "that the duty to supply the new banking and currency system the country needs and that it will be immediately needed more than ever."

"We must act on whatever emergency to ourselves. It is a duty which circumstances forbid us to postpone. I should be recreant to my sacred conviction of public obligation did it not impress it upon you with solemn and urgent insistence."

The president then the custom of 100 years for the second time by delivering the message in person.

A joint committee, led by Majority Leader Underwood and Keen met the president and escorted him to the clerk's desk on the rostrum. The full text of the message follows:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, gentlemen of the congress.

It is under the compulsion of what seems to me a clear and imperative duty that I have come to this session sought the privilege of addressing you in person. I know, of course, that the heated session of the year is upon us; that the house chambers and in the committee rooms is likely to be a burden as the session lengthens and that such a situation of personal convenience and personal comfort perhaps in the cases of some of us, considerations of personal health, even dictate an avoidance of the deliberations of the session; but there are occasions of public duty when these things which should us privately seem very and when the work to be done is so pressing and so fraught with big consequences that we know that we are at liberty to leave the matter at the point of personal sacrifice. We are now in the presence of such an occasion. It is absolutely imperative that we should give the attention of this country a banking and currency system by means of which they can make use of the free and mature, and of individual initiative which we are about to bestow upon them.

We are about to set them free; we must not let them down with the shackles of a system which they are free. We are about to set them free by removing the trammels of the protective tariff. Great since they have been waiting for the free emancipation and for the free opportunities it will bring with it. It has been reserved for us to give it to them. Some feel that indeed, with the faithful security of their dependence upon the government, some took advantage of a shelter of the tariff and set up a little mastery of their own within its walls. Now both the tariff and the discipline of liberty and mature age are to make.

There will be some readjustments of purpose and point of view. There will follow a period of expansion and contraction of free enterprise which independent men need when setting on their own initiative.

It is not enough to set them free from those. The duty of state-manship is not negative merely. It is constructive also. We must show that we understand what business is and that we know how to supply it. No man, however casual and superficial his observation of the conditions now pressing upon the country, can fail to see that one of the chief business needs now and will need increasingly as it gains in scope and in vigor in the years immediately ahead of us is the proper means by which reality to vitalize its credit, corporate individual, and its origination.

What will it profit us to be free if

THOUSAND SPRINGS EXCURSION

Judge Urbahn Arranges for Outing Next Sunday.

Judge Urbahn and L. A. Durson have made every preparation for the big excursion to Thousand Springs next Sunday from this city. The plan is to start at five o'clock in the morning, return to the Judge's famous Riverside resort for lunch, spend the afternoon at the day there, returning to Twin Falls in the evening. The automobile liveries of the city have made low rates for the trip so that for five dollars all of the expenses of the trip will be covered for the excursionist.

Transportation for the trip will be ample for all who desire to go and the start will be made promptly at eight o'clock in the morning from the Perrin Hotel.

The roads to Riverside and the springs have been put in first-class condition, according to Mr. Urbahn, so that there will be no difficulty in making the trip.

POPULAR COUPLE MARRIED

Miss Grace Parsons and Harry Coggin Joined in Wedding Sunday.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Parsons northwest of the city Sunday afternoon, when their daughter Grace was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Coggin. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Walter E. Harman, pastor of the First Methodist church, in the presence of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Coggin left the same evening for Salt Lake City and will return to this city in a few days and will make their home on Addison avenue. The groom is a native of the city and is deputy county auditor. Mrs. Coggin has lived here for a number of years and has a wide circle of friends.

VISIT SOUTH AMERICA

Theodore Roosevelt May Go to Interior of That Country.

New York, June 25.—Theodore Roosevelt will leave New York during the first of October next to deliver a series of addresses in the Argentine and Brazil. The trip is for the purpose of social interest. Incidentally he will visit Brazil and Chile and may make a trip into the tropical interior of the continent.

These details of Mr. Roosevelt's trip were announced in his behalf today, simplifying a previous brief statement that the group of his friends, headed by the Argentine, at the invitation of the Museo Social. The address he has in mind will be somewhat of a character to those he gave at the Sorbonne, in Paris, three years ago. Salt Lake Telegram.

HUMPHREY WINS HIS STAGE LINE

Secretary McLane Orders Franchise Cancelled

TWIN FALLS MAN OUSTS YELLOWSTONE-MONIDA PARTNERS.

Litigation Lasting Several Years Turns Out Successfully for W. W. Humphrey.

News was received from W. W. Humphrey at Washington by his attorney, P. Guthrie, of the successful termination of his case against the present Yellowstone-Monida Stage company, operating in the national park. By a decision of Secretary of the Interior McLane the company's franchise for operating in the park is revoked on September 14, 1913, or at the conclusion of the present park season. Mr. Humphrey will at that time succeed to the franchise which is worth a large sum of money.

The case has been in the court for the past three years and has been kicked back and forth on the usual legal grounds until Mr. Humphrey was forced to take it up with the department of the interior. With the above result at one time the Twin Falls man was a partner with the men whom he has just succeeded in ousting and was defeated by his stock through clever juggling. He has spent a large sum of money in fighting the matter and is to be congratulated upon his success.

THE TWIN FALLS LIBRARY

Neely Located in New Home at 225 Shoshone Street.

The public is very cordially invited to visit the public library, which is now located in its new home, 225 Shoshone street.

In the present quarters are three rooms, the largest room, which you first enter, is known as the circulating department, where there are over 1500 books at the service of the public, with an average circulation of over 1000 a month, the maximum being 1784 during the month of March last.

At the rear are two rooms, the reading room and the reference room. The former are the current magazines, all the local newspapers, which are kindly donated by the publishers; a Chicago and a Boise daily newspaper. Besides the above are the organs of the following societies: Unitarian, Christian, Catholic, Christian Science, and Socialists.

The reference room has two hundred books for reference only; a new Encyclopedia and Webster's Unabridged dictionary. This room is used largely by the high school students.

Mr. W. H. Edridge has loaned to the library a number of patriotic pictures and Mrs. J. L. Daube has given a framed base relief of Lincoln; Mr. Edridge has also loaned a classical music on the piano. Her appearance for the first number was greeted with hearty applause and each number was warmly appreciated.

Besides the seven piano numbers by Miss Thomas the program was read by Mrs. Kenney and chorus music by the conservatory pupils.

At the conclusion of the following program, Mrs. Guthrie, director of the conservatory, presented Miss Thomas with the first diploma ever given by the conservatory.

MRS. A. D. MCKINLAY STRICKEN

Widow of Pioneer Suffers Stroke of Paralysis.

While stepping from her carriage at her residence on Seventh avenue East Wednesday, Mrs. A. D. McKinlay was stricken by paralysis and is in a critical condition. The death of her husband in a railroad wreck two years ago, Mrs. McKinlay has been an invalid resident of her ranch home near Elgin, and had come into this city on a visit.

Mrs. McKinlay passed away at six o'clock Thursday morning. The stroke which occurred Wednesday. The remains will be taken back to her carriage at Elgin for burial. The deceased leaves three sons and a daughter to mourn her demise.

KEEP OFF THE SIDEWALK

A Number Fined for Violating Side-Walk Ordinance.

Constable Robert Graham was out on duty Tuesday and Wednesday of this week taking in violators of the sidewalk ordinance. The two days were marked by a heavy rain and by Police Judge W. J. Smith. It is the intention of the officers to put a stop to this kind of a law and to see that when it is made, better leave your wheel at home and avoid trouble.

LANDSLIDE AT SHOSHONE FALLS

Stairway Completely Demolished Wednesday

ACCIDENT OCCURS WHEN NO TOURISTS ARE ABOUT.

All Access to the Canyon Below the Falls is Cut Off by Terrific Landslide.

About four o'clock Wednesday afternoon the stairway leading to the rock above Shoshone falls, was swept away by a landslide which practically leveled nothing of trees and vegetation in the narrow draw leading down to the river bed. The land descended and loosened by the unusual flow of irrigation water over the rock above, gave way with a rush and a crash which sounded like an explosion and as the trees and stairway gave way with loud snaps it sounded like the artillery fire in battle, according to the people who were fortunate enough to witness the awe inspiring sight from a safe point across the river.

Where hundreds of tourists and people from this county have descended and ascended by a long, stairway, nothing is left but the splintered ends of the timbers sticking out from the debris at the bottom.

At present there is no way of reaching the bottom of the canyon with any degree of safety and it is a question whether the stairway will be repaired this season.

Due to the effect that several tourists were missing and possibly buried in the slide is without foundation, according to E. W. Spangler, of the Shoshone falls hotel.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC GRADUATION

Miss Yvonne Thomas Presented With Diploma at Recital.

The graduation exercises of the Twin Falls Conservatory of Music were held Tuesday evening in the Methodist church before a very large and appreciative audience. Miss Yvonne Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Thomas, was the sole graduate and rendered several very fine numbers. Her appearance for the first number was greeted with hearty applause and each number was warmly appreciated.

Besides the seven piano numbers by Miss Thomas the program was read by Mrs. Kenney and chorus music by the conservatory pupils.

At the conclusion of the following program, Mrs. Guthrie, director of the conservatory, presented Miss Thomas with the first diploma ever given by the conservatory.

GRANTED EXTENSION OF TIME

West End-Twin Falls Company Given Three Years to Complete Work.

At a meeting of the state land board Tuesday, Sydney J. Dillon of Des Moines, Iowa, advised an extension of time for the West End-Twin Falls Irrigation and Land company, with a request for longer time in which to complete its contract with the state. After Mr. Dillon had explained that the reorganization of the company had been completed on July 1, 1913, cessation of operation in the development of the system, and an extension of three years from April 7, 1914, in which to complete its irrigation system, these privileges were granted on the condition that the company should have the written consent of the sureties on the bond of $50,000 now held by the state providing for the completion of the terms of the contract between the company and the state.

The West End company was organized about two years ago, and secured a segregation of something like 60,000 acres of land west of the Twin Falls tract, south of Snake river, in large acreage of this land was flooded, largely by parties in town, who had been interested in the project through the connection of some of the more prominent agricultural experts of that state. Various difficulties have confronted the company, both of a financial character and having to do with the development of a water supply, so that the work of development has lagged.

Mr. Dillon informed the land board that little work had been done, but that the company would be able to push the work of construction next year and that speedy completion might be looked for—Statesman.

SOUTH SIDE PROMOTERS HERE

Frank H. Buhl and Party Visit Tract for Short Time.

Frank H. Buhl, of Sharon, Pa., H. Bassett, of Cincinnati, and G. A. Baird, of Chicago, were the guests of C. D. Thomas, of Twin Falls, and J. W. Water company for a short time last week while engaged in looking over the tract which owes its existence to the Buhl family. The Buhls have been active connected with the Buhl-Kimberly Corporation, which financed the Twin Falls South Side project, and have been visitors here at various times. This time, while accustomed to the country, the increase in the cultivation and the rapidly increasing orchards brought forth much praise from the three irrigation magnates.

THE INCOME TAX.

The Following Direct Steps Forth Who Shall Pay.

Washington.—The income tax provision of the Underwood bill, as it stands, is a decidedly complex bit of legislation, not entirely intelligible to the average reader, and not readily digested by those whose time is short. In order to make clear the provisions; purposes, and effects of this new tax, Representative Hull, author of the income tax provision, has prepared a digest, which sets forth, in plain language, the scope and scope of the income tax section. The synopsis is as follows:

Income Tax—Personal.
Those of all citizens of the United States residing, at home or abroad. Those of all persons residing in the United States although not citizens thereof.

Normal Tax.
One per cent per annum upon the amount of net income over $4,000.

Additional Tax.
One per cent per annum upon the total amount of net income from all sources over $20,000, and not over $50,000 per annum.

Two per cent per annum upon the amount of net income over $50,000, not over $100,000.
Three per cent per annum upon the amount of net income over $100,000.

Income Tax—Corporate.
All gains, profits and income derived from salaries, wages or compensation for personal services of any kind and however paid.

Professions or vocations.
Business, trade or commerce. Sales, dealings in property, real or personal, growing out of the ownership or use of, or interest in property, real or personal.

Interest, rent, dividends or securities.
Transactions of any lawful business carried on for gain or profit.

Gains or profits on incomes derived from any source whatever.
Income, but not the value of property acquired by bequest, devise or descent.

Income, but not proceeds of life insurance policies paid upon death.
Necessary expenses actually incurred in carrying on any business.

All interest accrued and payable within the year on indebtedness.
All national, state, county, school and municipal taxes.

Losses actually sustained during the year, not compensated by insurance or otherwise, arising from fire, storm or shipwreck.
Debts actually ascertained to be worthless and charged off during the year.

A reasonable allowance for the exhaustion or wear and tear of property arising out of its use or employment in business.
All income the tax upon which has been paid at the source.

Amounts received as dividends upon the stock of any corporation, etc., which is taxed upon its net income.
Interest upon bonds and securities guaranteed free from taxation.

Reductions Not Allowed.
All personal, living or family expenses.

Taxes assessed against local benefits.
All expenses of restoring property or making good the exhaustion thereof, for which an allowance has been made.

Amounts paid for new buildings, permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property or estate.
Exemptions.

Interest upon the obligations of a state or any political subdivision thereof.
Interest upon the obligations of the United States the principal and interest of which are now exempt from federal taxation.

The compensation of the present president during the term for which he has been elected.
The compensation of the judges of the supreme and inferior courts of the United States now in office.

The compensation of all officers and employees of a state or any political subdivision thereof.
Amount of Income Exempt.

Four thousand dollars shall be deducted from the net annual income, as above ascertained, of each person.
Only one deduction of $4,000 shall be made from the aggregate income of all members of a family.

Family Consists of
One or both parents and one or more minor children, or of a husband and wife.

Exemptions.
A wife living permanently apart from her husband.

Guardians are allowed to make deductions in favor of each and every ward when same are not comprised in one family having joint property interests.
Time of Going Into Effect.

The tax shall be computed upon the remainder of the said net income for the year ending December 31, and for each calendar year thereafter.
Return of Income.

A true and accurate return of all net incomes of $2,500 or more shall be made under oath or affirmation.
It must be made to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which said person resides or has his principal place of business in the United States.

Form of Return.
The form shall be prescribed by the collector of internal revenue and approved by the secretary of the treasury.

Shall set forth specifically the gross amount of income from all separate sources. From this total shall be deducted the aggregate items of expenses and allowances above authorized.
Time of Return.

The return must be made on or before March 1, 1914, and on or before March 1 of each year thereafter.
Persons Required to Make Return.

or control of the person for whom they act.

All persons, firms, companies, partnerships, corporations, etc., having the control, receipt, disposal, payment of fixed or determinable annual gains, profits or income of another person subject to tax arising from an annual business relationship shall in behalf of such other person render a separate and distinct return for each person upon which the normal tax is paid at the source.

Exemptions to Returns.
No return of income not exceeding $3,500 is required.

Persons liable for the normal tax only on their own or another's account shall not be required to make returns of the income derived from dividends on capital stock of corporations payable upon their net incomes.

Duty of Collector of Internal Revenue.
The collector or deputy shall require each list to be verified by oath or affirmation of the party rendering it.

The collector may increase the amount of any return if he has reason to believe that the same is understated.
No such increase shall be made except after due notice to such party and upon proof of the amount understated.

In case of disagreement between the collector and the taxable person such person may submit the case with papers and proof to the commissioner of internal revenue.
Assessments.

All persons shall be notified of the amount and when they are respectively liable on or before June 1 of each year.
Neglected, Fraudulent or False Returns.

In case of neglect or refusal to make returns, or in case of fraudulent or false returns, upon the discovery within three years after said return is due, the commissioner of internal revenue shall make such return himself.
Time of Payment.

Said regular assessments shall be paid on or before the 30th of June each year.
Assessments made by the commissioner of internal revenue are payable upon notification.

Penalty for Delayed Payments.
On sums due and unpaid after June 30, or for 10 days after notice and demand thereof by the collector, there shall be added 5 per cent to the amount of tax unpaid and interest at the rate of 1 per cent per month from the time the same became due.

Incomes from the estates of persons, deceased, or insolvent persons.
Collection at the Source.

All persons, firms, companies, etc., including lessors or mortgagors of real or personal property, trustees acting in any capacity, executors, etc., employers and all officers and employees of the United States having control, receipt, custody, disposal or payment of interest, rent, salaries, premiums, annuities, compensation, remuneration, emoluments or other fixed or determinable annual gains, profits and income of another person exceeding $4,000 for any taxable year, who are required to make and render a return in behalf of an other, are hereby authorized to deduct and withhold such normal tax and pay it to the United States official authorized to receive the same.

Exception.
Incomes from the dividends on the capital stock or net earnings of a corporation, etc., subject to the normal tax, are not to be included in the above.

Liability.
Each of the persons, firms, etc., above enumerated are hereby made personally liable for such tax.

Benefit of Exemption.
Where the income tax of a person is paid at the source, the benefit of the $4,000 exemption shall not be allowed unless there shall be filed, not later than 30 days prior to the day on which the return is due, with the person or concern required to make such payment of tax at the source, an affidavit claiming the benefit of such exemption.

When a taxable person's tax is paid at the source, if he desires any deduction for losses, expenses of business, etc., he may either file claim together with return of any other income upon which the tax is not withheld at the source, either with the collector or with the person or corporation withholding his tax, as the taxpayer may choose.

Individual Incomes Not Exceeding $4,000 to be Taxed at the Source.
Incomes derived from interest on bonds, mortgages or other indebtedness of corporations, joint stock companies or associations, insurance companies.

Securities of the United States not now exempt from taxation.
Incomes composed of coupons, checks or bills of exchange for or in part payment of interest or dividends upon stock or obligations of foreign corporations, etc., owned in business in foreign countries.

Interest upon bonds of foreign countries.
Foreign mortgages or like obligations not payable in the United States.

General Provisions.
No taxable person shall be released from liability for this tax.

When a return is made and his tax paid at the source no person shall be required to make a return himself unless he has other net income.
Only one deduction of the $4,000 shall be made in case of any person.

Any person, corporation, etc., liable to make a return for a personal tax refusing or neglecting to make such return shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $500.

FLOWERS OF DECORATION

No. 4. THE DAFFODIL

Copyright, 1918, by The Associated Newspaper School, Inc.

The golden daffodil, the earliest harbinger of the joy that is to come with the awakening of Mother Earth after her long winter's sleep, as Shakespearo says, "comes before the swallow darts and takes the winds of March with beauty." It is in fact sometimes called the Lenten lily, and is dedicated to Our Lady, in Germany, where every peasant cottage, no matter how humble, has its cheerful daffodil, it is called Joseph's staff. For do they not believe that it is one of the flowers that budded in his hand? And as it came to us so others had all its perfect golden grace of flower, tag it will always hold a warm place in our hearts. Not so, however, with the sacred Greeks for with them the narcissus, a sister bloom, held first place.

In the old myths we read how it was foretold that the beautiful halcyon narcissus would die, should he chance gaze upon his own image. His

No. 5. THE ORCHID

The orchid has rightly been called the elite of the flower kingdom. Every curve and outline of its delicate make-up suggests the exquisite grace of a pampered beauty of the aristocracy. And indeed if it were not for the aristocracy there would be little known of these rarest and so-called last efforts of the Creator. For its native habitation is among the impenetrable recesses of the jungle, and it is only at the investigation of the wealthy that florists have staked their fortunes on orchid hunting expeditions. Much is told of the perilous journeys of arctic explorers—heroes who risk their lives for the fame and glory of being the first to discover—but little is handed down in history of the lives of these seekers for beauty whose stirring adventures would nevertheless fill books. Yet it can be said without exaggeration that innumerable men have passed through the most dire privations and tragic deaths when in search of these slender flowers.

Every flower, like every human soul, expresses some unique quality. The carnation is no exception. The carnation is supposed to symbolize tears—the tears of the Virgin Mary. When the Jews led Christ to Calvary, the Virgin Mary followed, through her heart was breaking with grief. When she saw on way the bloody tracks of her Son's wounds wept bitterly, and from these tears of Christ's mother and the blood of her Son sprang forth along the way to Calvary a certain beautiful flower, the carnation.

The origin of the carnation is as old as the rose. It was cultivated as far back as 300 B. C. by the Greeks, along with the iris, the narcissus, and the violet.

In each issue of The Times three different human interest stories will appear. You can get a beautiful illustration reproduction of the above picture, with five others, really attractive and tender every day with in finite time, 7x11, inches in size, with this card. They were watercolor, often one week's "mentor." In "The Mentor" a magazine, published by the Associated Newspaper School, Inc., is a weekly effort. One morning, last of the picture and stories of the white carnation spread its fragrance week. Readers of The Times and through her room. And wonder what the carnation's story was. The carnation is a flower that is closely related with red. Of course, Liberal Stand and Glow Book Store, she believed that the blood of her Son, the carnation, was the red of the carnation. So now, The Times, for booklet, supplies the Associated Newspaper School, plan.

Twin Falls this year can be said to have a really, truly safe and sane Fourth of July with no celebration of anything to break the monotony. The small boy will be as safe as though he were tucked away in his little bed.

The sensational resignation of U. S. Attorney McNab at Los Angeles, and its acceptance by President Wilson, promises to be merely the first chapter in a case that will cause Wilson some uneasy moments. Although practically whitewashing Attorney General McKeen, the fact that the prosecution was halted will remain unexplained in the minds of many voters and will be one of the acts of the administration subject to criticism.

The state land board for the past two years after making a foolish ruling regarding the publication of the Carey act final proof notices, has repeatedly refused to do the right thing about the matter and still continues to play into the hands of one or two favored newspapers and against legitimate publications. Requests for a change from the rule have been made by a number of papers all over the state with no results. The Times has been among the papers which have been legislated against in the matter and does not propose to stand the outrage any longer. If any members of the present land board are candidates for office in this state again it will be the aim of this paper to oppose their candidacy by every fair means. The action on the part of the Times is due to the belief that instead of viewing the matter from the standpoint of right and wrong the state land board has more regard for political expediency. If such is the position of the board the newspapers of this county should treat it as a political move and act accordingly.

There seems to be a great need for a firm stand on the part of taxpayers against extravagance and useless expense along all lines and the curbing of official zeal and expenditures to the actual necessities of each office. It is high time to cut off the rills with the taxes mounting upward each year. It will be time enough to put on the frills when the taxpayers have put away bank accounts and can stand the luxuries. The people of this tract have become accustomed to having the best of everything and have as a rule paid the bills willingly, but there is a limit to the burden which any group of people can stand. The city of Twin Falls has gotten in line in the matter and has cut down its budget for next year to the final limit. The county is trying to do the same with regard to its expenses and it remains for the school districts to do the same thing and get down to brass tacks. It is a false idea that there is nothing too good for our public schools and such idea creates a wrong impression. Every improvement should be measured by two standards, first of economy and the second of actual need. There are a great many things which on second sober thought will prove to be luxuries and not necessities. The taxpayers are waking up to the fact that taxes increase very fast for every luxury and are getting down to the idea of slower and saner progress.

NEW JERSEY'S JOURNALISTIC PERILS.

An unexpected development in the Paterson strike—the conviction of a Socialist editor for daring to impugn the Paterson police in his Weekly Issue—has resulted in a change of the popular temper toward the strike-ridden Jersey city and bids fair to bring up the question of free speech as a national topic. Alexander Scott is the name of the convicted editor whose sentence is indeterminate at from one to fifteen years at hard labor, with a fine of $250. The New York Socialist Guild announces the formation of a "Scott Defense Fund" by the Passaic county Socialists, to carry the case to the highest courts. The contest will be fought out on a proper legal basis, says The Call, and there will be no anarchy; even if the anarchists are the police, for Scott is not to be railroaded and his fight "will persist when the strike in the silk mills is ended." The statements on which Scott was indicted were directed against the chief of police and his men, and some of them are quoted by the Kansas City Star, which says that "every interest, big or little, that fears publicity" is always ready with the cry: "Send the editor to jail; teach him a lesson so he won't interfere with our game." Once Scott wrote, The Star tells us: "Highly respectable, sober, and old-time are brutally clubbed, cuffed, and manhandled right on the streets." And again: "The police anarchists not only believe in lawlessness, but they practice it. They don't waste words on the workmen—they simply crack their heads." It is of remarks like these that the New York Tribune says the Curran Report makes "quite as serious charges against the police of New York" and counsels the higher courts of New Jersey to show disapproval of "the perversion of justice now being practiced in Paterson." For—

"If they do not check the infringement on the rights of the press and of free speech now going on there, congress will properly step in and inquire whether citizens and residents of New Jersey are enjoying the full protection of the guarantees of the federal constitution." Just what rights of citizenship have been violated in Paterson are touched upon by the New York Globe in a resume of the progress of the strike in which it holds that the whole trouble has been that "Haywoodism on one side has been met by Haywoodism on the other," and it adds that "anarchism is not prevented, but stimulated, when public officers, losing their heads and forgetting their oaths, become anarchistic." Also The Globe points out that it has been the game of Haywood and his associates to turn "a stupid chief of police" into making "illegal arrests," thus giving support to "the Haywood theory that the present government is all wrong." Then follow instances, such as the conviction of Haywood in April "by a foolish magistrate"—a judgment reversed in a higher court; then the conviction of Patrick Quilgan "for an offense which it is seemingly conceded he did not commit," and finally, the conviction and sentencing, as above stated, of the Socialist editor of The Weekly Issue, who, as The Globe says, was found guilty of criminal "hostility to government" by a jury consisting of "two county officers, two farmers, and eight business men." Continuing, The Globe tells us that although "minorities of the voting citizens of Paterson are employees," not one of them was on the jury, and it sums up the Scott verdict in these words:

"Free speech" was first suppressed in Paterson. Then free assembly. Now freedom of the press is attacked. It is to be hoped there is enough virtue left in the press and among the friends of free government to protect this Jersey editor in his constitutional rights. A poor man, he should not be asked to bear the sole expense of his defense. He should be furnished with competent counsel and a prompt appeal taken. In the meantime it is proper to repeat one of the statements for which this Jersey editor has been convicted as a criminal—namely, that the marchion of the worst kind is the marchion of public officers who flagrantly violate the law by disregarding constitutional rights."

The statute by whose provisions Scott was convicted, the Springfield Republican informs us, was passed soon after the assassination of President McKinley "in sympathy with the popular excitement of the hour over the criticism of governments and public officials by the press," and observes: "That it is a statute which might be used outrageously by the authorities is evident enough, whether it has been in the case referred to we do not undertake to say without having seen the text of the articles in the Passaic paper on the Paterson police. But it is a law which, having now been enforced in a special instance, should be made to stand the test of the judgment of the highest tribunals to which the individual may appeal for the safeguarding of his liberties."

But the New York World, which disclaims any sympathy for the I. W. W., says it has read carefully Editor Scott's criticism of the Paterson police and concludes that—

"If New Jersey had such a law and it was interpreted as the New Jersey law has been interpreted, most of the inhabitants of this city would be in jail. Indeed, except for Mayor Gaynor and Commissioner Waldo and the police force, the town would be practically depopulated." "Not an ornament to Jersey justice," remarks the Boston Transcript on what it calls a "gag law," and believes the Socialists will be duly grateful to the court for having provided them with an asset so valuable as "a fully fledged martyr." The Transcript does not believe Scott guilty from the evidence of his editorials, and defends criticism of public officials with this argument:

"A great deal has happened within the year so close to New Jersey that the courts of that state should have been that the literal application of the law under which they were working was hardly in accord with the public welfare. Suppose that when Rosenthal was shot down the newspapers and people of the city and state of New York had been compelled to keep silence, that situation would have continued to fester and expand under the immunities of enforced secrecy. It was the publicity that followed that gave justice its opportunity and helped the authorities to discover and punish at least a few of the guilty parties. The delight of men high up in the police department at finding themselves protected by a law of the state against criticism and the detection to which it led, for their parts in an infamous conspiracy, can well be imagined."

"It is fortunate that the case is to be considered by a higher or probably the highest court in the state. If there has been an inadequate or too technical interpretation of the law, the court will doubtless find it out. If the terms of the law compel the verdict that has been given, then it is so much the worse for the law. When a public servant, from the highest to the lowest, is protected against criticism, we may look for bad and oppressive service. Publicity is the safety-valve. Public sentiment is a better regulator of public service than any other influence that can be invoked, but it is impossible to know what public sentiment is if it is deprived of the right of free expression."—Literary Digest.

ALFALFA NOT KILLED BY INSECT

Thorough Investigation Made by Expert in Cassia Co.

T. H. Parks, the government expert sent into Cassia county to investigate the cause of the destruction of small patches of alfalfa in some of the fields near Oakley, reports that the death of the plant is not due to any insect pest. It was feared for a time that some new pest had made its appearance in the alfalfa fields of this section, but Mr. Parks found that the insects which were supposed to be destroying the plant were in no way injurious to it. He had no explanation to offer as to the cause of the death of areas of the plant. However, it is generally felt that the alfalfa simply froze out last winter. This theory is supported by the fact that the plant did not start this spring, and that large areas in other parts of the county and in Lincoln county are known to have winter killed.

The government is keeping a close watch of the plant diseases and pests in this section, and Mr. Parks informed us that the department of agriculture of the state university at Moscow will be glad to investigate any specimens sent to them at any time.—Burley Bulletin.

RICH ORE STRIKE AT JARBIDGE

Good Veins Found at Head of Jarbridge Creek

WORK PROGRESSING ON ALL CLAIMS IN THE GOLD CAMP.

Assays Announcing High From the Empire Group at Jack Hole—Outlook Good for Prosperous Season.

Jarbridge, Nev., June 21.—On the West group at the head of the Jarbridge river, owned by Olat Norman, William Martin and William Rowland, some very rich ore has been found at different places for over 800 feet, and not only the vein matter itself, but also the surface dirt, alongside. In drifting on the vein some fine specimen ore was encountered and it carries a greater percentage of silver than the ore from this section. A tunnel is now being driven to cross the vein under the place where the richest ore was found. J. T. McCormick, who with William McCormick owns a group of nine claims at Bearpaw mountain, twelve miles west of town, has returned from a visit to the property. He was accompanied on the trip by George Winkler and A. T. Macaulay. The vein is fifty or sixty feet wide on the surface—about a panhandle. Not much development has been done as yet, but with the values so widely distributed, there is the possibility of a big mining proposition.

Under the supervision of Dick Swanson, formerly of Boulder county, Colorado, the Enterprise tunnel is making good headway, when the size of the ore is considered. It is seven by nine feet in the clear, and is now in 240 feet. Up to the present, it has gone through the regular country rock for this section, but in the last day or two the formation is changing. It was not expected that a vein would be cut so soon in the tunnel, but as many of the veins in the Jarbridge district are close to the surface it is among the possibilities.

John A. Jones, superintendent for Honore Palmer of Chicago, has secured a permit from the state mining inspector for the installation of a hoist on the Alpha, and from this fact it is believed that work on the property will be resumed soon. It is stated that sinking the shaft to greater depth is the first work contemplated. No work has been received this week as to whether or not Mr. Jones' deal for the Bourne mine and mill has been satisfactorily concluded, but it is known that he has been in Salt Lake City and Elko conferring with interested parties.

Messrs. McCoy and Shurtliff went down the first of the week from the Jarbridge-Alto property in the Crater section, by careful surveys which they have recently made it has been decided that neither of the two veins heretofore cut in the tunnel is the one in which the rich ore near the surface. The tunnel will have to be run about twenty feet further to get under the high graptolite, which it will tap at a depth of about 200 feet.

The vein on the Buckeye was struck the first of the week in the lower crest-cut tunnel, which opens it at a vertical depth of about 160 feet. Where struck, the vein is about two and a half feet wide, and the values, as shown by panings, inclined to be small, but as it is being drifted on the graptolite it is coming in in the upper levels, and preceded the widening out of the vein and the increase of the ore values.

J. A. Dwight has received returns from a sample of ore from the Empire group at Jack Hole, which he recently sent to W. H. Puckett of Boise, Idaho, for panings of former Governor Hawley. This sample gave ussy returns of $40.68, according to Mr. Puckett, and is so satisfactory to the partners in the group that an increase of the working force is contemplated.

The 200-foot tunnel on the True Picture property at the Craters is now in thirty feet, and ore from the face was brought down this week. Panings show both wire gold and the ordinary "floaters," and indicate average values of about $12 per ton.

At the Flaxie they are crosscutting the vein from the drift in the 53-foot tunnel, and until this is completed, and a general knowledge of the vein at this place obtained, Manager Joseph continues to prospect.

In the upper tunnel of the Arizona L., owned by Nelson and associates, solid formation has been reached. In fact, the formation is changing. It was not expected that a vein would be cut so soon in the tunnel, but as many of the veins in the Jarbridge district are close to the surface it is among the possibilities.

John A. Jones, superintendent for Honore Palmer of Chicago, has secured a permit from the state mining inspector for the installation of a hoist on the Alpha, and from this fact it is believed that work on the property

A STATE BUREAU OF MARKETING.

Recognizing the vital importance of the marketing problem to the farmers of this territory at the present time, and realizing that the agricultural colleges are devoting too much of their effort to the cultural or production side of farming, we propose that the director of the state agricultural college should have a bureau of marketing, diverting some of the present "increased production" enthusiasm, and other lost motion, into more practical channels, by helping the farmer to find an outlet for his present product.

We do not want the above suggestion construed as showing an opposition on our part to scientific cultural methods; on the contrary, we are anxious to support all worthy efforts for crop improvement. However, we do contend that right at this time distribution is a ten times more important problem than production and it is the duty of our state agricultural department to tackle this problem immediately.

In fact, the experiment station should have gotten busy before this year's crops were planted or even decided upon.

We do not entertain the strong general prejudice against the work of the agricultural department, which many of our readers feel, as we believe that the work of the department is of the highest importance.

In no way can the state agricultural department reach the confidence and support of our farmers as quickly as by co-operating with the various farmers' organizations and individual growers, in getting in touch with the present markets and developing new ones.

The writer knows from bitter personal experience what it means to have good onions rotting in storage, good potatoes rotting in his cellar, after he has stuffed his hog to the limit with merchantable spuds; surplus hay offered for sale at less than its cost, to produce it, when feeders could undoubtedly be brought into the state with benefit to all concerned, if the agricultural department would only use its influence to secure the necessary capital and "leaders" to handle our surplus hay.

We have undeveloped markets right in our own state which would consume much of our surplus fruit, vegetables, poultry, etc., if properly worked up by a state department of distribution. But why go farther—we have already shown the possibilities of such a marketing bureau and will leave the details for later consideration.

If you are in sympathy with our suggestion let us hear from you, together with your experiences and any suggestions you have to offer.—Weekly Capital News and Western Farmers' Review.

we are not to have the best and most accessible instrumentalities of commerce and enterprise? What will it profit us to be quit of one kind of monopoly if we are to be made in the grip of another and of a different kind? How are we to gain and keep the confidence of the business community unless we show them we know how both to aid and to protect it? What shall we say if we make fresh enterprise necessary and also make it very difficult by leaving all else except the tariff just as we found it? The tyrannies of business, big and little, lie within the field of credit. We know that. Shall we act on that knowledge? Do we know how to act upon it? If a man cannot make his assets available at pleasure, his assets of character and character of resources, what satisfaction is it to him to see opportunity beckoning to him on every hand when others have the keys of credit in their pockets and treat them as all but their own private possessions? It is perfectly clear that it is our duty to protect the country needs, and that it will immediately meet it more than ever.

The only question is, when shall we supply it now or later, after the Democrats shall have been reproached that we have so long and so slowly shall we have to change the laws and then be regarded about making it possible and easy for the country to take advantage of the fact. There can be only one answer to that question. We must not act at what ever sacrifice to ourselves. It is a duty which we cannot postpone. I should be recreant to my deepest convictions of public obligation did I not press it upon you with all the solemnity of my office.

The principles upon which we should act are also clear. The country has sought and found in this matter within the last few years—sets it more clearly now than it ever saw it before—much more clearly than when the last legislative proposals on the subject were made. We must have a currency, not rigid as now, but readily, elastically responsive to sound credit conditions and contracting credit of everyday transactions, the normal flow of personal and corporate funds.

Our banking laws must mobilize resources; must not permit the concentration anywhere in a few hands of the monetary power of the country or their use for speculative purposes in such volume as to hinder or impede or stand in the way of other uses of the money power of the country; must not be such as to make the system of banking and of issue which our new laws are to set up must be tested in the government itself so that the banks and the money power, not the masters of business and of individual enterprise and initiative.

Our legislation in this character is referred, have devoted careful and dispassionate study of the means of accomplishing these objects. They have been ready by consulting me. They are ready to suggest action. They have come to you, as the head of the government and the responsible leader of the party in power, to urge action now, while there is time to serve the country deliberately and as we should have a clear air common course of duty. I believe that you share this conviction and therefore appeal to you with confidence. I am at your service without reserve to play my part in any way you may call upon me to play it in this great and the most important reform, which it will dignify and distinguish us to perform and discredit us to neglect.—Statesman.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of the Twin Falls Times.

In a recent issue of your valuable paper, was noticed a cordial invitation from Jerome to her decent and successful neighbors of the south side tract to come to the city of "boots" to celebrate the glorious day of independence. Let us hope that the fair city of Jerome will be honored by a large and healthy leaven upon the Fourth of July, with the complicity of the Twin Falls tract city which will come to vote for a slogan that hides a conspiracy, with the silly arms ever extended to grasp and destroy our country's commonwealth and its borders should be extracted from all decent communities.

Shame upon a city that for the sake of a few petty gains, would sacrifice its saloon licenses, will allow these boot-sucking, virtue-destroying, devil-flesh-tasting, to sap its moral vitality and destroy its future. It is better to believe that a town in this great and prosperous valley should be so near bankruptcy, that it must give up its wives, mothers and sisters, to keep its head above water. You had better give up the boot-sucking habit, and let loose and say, "Here goes nothing and so under." We would have more respect for you, than that you would say, "Or better yet, we will collect for you." We are not so hard up as that. We respect the tears and prayers of your neighbors, but more than are the victims of a conspiracy of a few "boomers" and "bums." Better down up sister Jerome. Your excesses of needing the vote of the south side license is too thin. The "boomers" are feeling the need of it.

Grampally goes up to the good people over on the north side, who are cause of being out-numbered, must be raised. Their families in a community infested with boot-suckers much longer, is our national government going to allow this unthinkable injustice of local opinion to prevail as the remedy for the question? We must not take a vote to decide whether to allow thieves and murderers to rule their trade. We do not intend to let the territory you may want and need, the good people are not numbered over there. We are not so poor as this fair to be induced to let the boot-suckers of the world and say, "Shame upon a city that for the sake of a few petty gains, would sacrifice its saloon licenses, will allow these boot-sucking, virtue-destroying, devil-flesh-tasting, to sap its moral vitality and destroy its future. It is better to believe that a town in this great and prosperous valley should be so near bankruptcy, that it must give up its wives, mothers and sisters, to keep its head above water. children up as they should we would not have thieves and murderers and we must endure them with that patience we may not much time as the hope of good mothers will over-balance the work of poor mothers, and there will be no one with desire to steal and murder, or in fact until the world is converted.

No one proposed to make laws to oppress them in order to protect the innocent, which is the only sense thing to do.

And who shall say that they who run saloons are not thieves and murderers? Do they not steal the honor of a young man, and when a man dies of "acute alcoholism," when a man is better designate the fearful thing that has happened to him than "murder"? No, no, no, dear Miss Jerome, we shall steel them, dear Miss Jerome, upon the Fourth, but for all time until you can get around to it to have a bit of more cleaning, and we shall also keep our young folks away from you until that disengendered old we notice things about you just now is removed.

I am the mother of five, and I pray the octopus may not claim them; but I thank you for my neighbor Jerome.

NOT A CRIMINAL JUSTICE

The Webb Law is Not a Criminal Statute Says Attorney General.

Washington, June 20.—The Webb law forbidding interstate shipments of liquor into "dry" states, is not a criminal statute and violations of it will not be prosecuted in United States courts, Attorney General McKeeney declared in instructions sent to every United States attorney in the country.

The law merely prohibits such interstate traffic and contains no penalty for infraction.

"For purposes," said the attorney general, "is to permit state laws to operate in respect to intoxicating liquors moving in interstate commerce."

The law simply deprives shippers of any privileges they might claim on the ground of interstate commerce and permits the application of state prohibition laws to interstate commerce in liquors.

This is the first time the department of justice has construed the Webb law which was declared unconstitutional by former President Taft and former Attorney General Wickersham.
