

KUHN FINANCIAL AFFAIRS IMPROVE

One of Closed Banks to Open Doors Shortly

Run on Pittsburg Bank of Savings is Stayed.

Receivership for American Waterworks Company Holdings Granted by Court

Pittsburg—Conditions in financial circles at the closing hour Wednesday had, to all appearances, reached normal. The run on the Pittsburg Bank of Savings, which was started by the closing of the First-Second National on Monday, had subsided early in the afternoon, after a resumption of the run Wednesday morning had caused some slight anxiety.

The First National bank of McKeesport is expected to reopen within a week, after a reorganization of its officers and directors with the elimination of the Kuhn interests, which hold the majority of the stock of the First-Second National.

Application was granted by Federal Judge C. P. Orr Wednesday for receivership for six subsidiary companies of the American Waterworks & Guarantee Company. The companies are the United Coal, the Somerset Smokeloke Coal, the Nacmi Coal, the Merchants' Coal of Pennsylvania, the Inabell-Connelville Coal, and the Pittsburg & Baltimore Coal company.

Three receivers were appointed for each company, with the exception of the United Coal, for which, four will act.—The receivership order made out of these men:

Samuel A. Gilmore, Jas. D. O'Neill, William K. Johnson, Thurston Wright and Robert P. Watt, now serving for several of the companies.

The application was made by Lucien S. Kuhn, who has been president of the First-Second National bank, who was at the bedside of his wife, who is ill at Pittsburg Crossing, Mass., when the crisis came Monday.

Today he was closeted with his brother, J. S. Kuhn, all day and an account was given of the situation. He has no statement to make for several days.

Bankers on the whole feel that the situation has been relieved and that the financial situation locally has been greatly clarified.—Statesman.

REFUSES TO PAY POLL TAX

On Construction Co., Between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea.

Fear: A labor strike involving over 2000 employees on one side and threatened prosecution on the other, has put the Phoenix Construction Company, which is building a gigantic hydro-electric power plant on the Bear river near the Canadian border, between the devil and the deep blue sea, as it were. On the company's payroll are 1023 men, who have been on the job long enough to be subject to the payment of poll taxes in this county. The company was asked to collect this tax from each of its employees, as provided by law, but refused, explaining that if they attempted to hold the tax out of their men's wages, a strike would ensue. The county commissioners, not interested in the company's affairs further than to insist that the money for this county be paid, today instructed County Attorney C. Douglas Smith to begin suit against the company: to collect the poll taxes. The county is now in a predicament, for the law provides that failure on the part of a company to pay the tax makes it liable in double the amount. Attorney Smith announces his intention of getting the coin, or finding out the reason why.—Pocatello Tribune.

COOLEST PLACE IN TOWN

High Wind Wednesday Smashed Glass in Front Door into 5000 Pieces

During the high wind Wednesday afternoon the front door of the Coolest Place in Town was blown down and the glass in the door broken into five thousand pieces. The proprietor of the Coolest Place, Fred Smith, who had not counted the pieces, but who did not care to take his word for it, they should call and see for themselves. Yesterday the five owner, and manager of the Coolest Place in Town, has sent for a fine plate glass to take the place of the one broken.—Adv.

TWIN FALLS PEOPLE VISIT OTHER CITIES

City Practically Deserted - on National Holiday

BUHL AND JEROME DIVIDE HONORS FOR ATTRACTIONS.

Celebrations in Both Cities Receive Heavy Praise from Participants Here.

Twin Falls' streets resembled the deserted village of July Fourth, and the excursion trains to Jerome and Buhl had left. It was so quiet that even dogs which congregated in the streets became alarmed at the racket they were making and slunk away ashamed. Twin Falls' population was scattered all over the two counties.

Over a thousand people were at Buhl. An equal number took advantage of the excursion rates to Jerome and spent the day there. A still larger number took advantage of the cool retreats in the foot hills angling for the festive trout and attacking the picnic diners.

Those who attended the big celebration at Buhl were greatly pleased with the magnificent manner with which the West End City handled the crowd which had to be kept amused during the entire day. The sports were good and varied enough to interest all classes of visitors. The beautiful close and exciting, was one of the drawing cards which kept the Twin Falls bunch very busy roosting during the afternoon.

Jerome, too, was not outdone by her neighbor and presented many attractions during the stay of the visitors. Accidents were few and the day passed without anything to mar the pleasure of the day. The excursion trains arriving in the city with a big crowd in the early hours of the morning.

NEW CASHIER INSTALLED

C. A. Robinson of Twin Falls, Succeeded to Joise Position.

C. A. Robinson succeeded George W. Green as cashier of the Idaho Trust & Savings bank in this city. Monday morning, Mr. Robinson was elected to the responsible position several days ago, but public announcement of the fact was not made before he was called to the city by the death of his father, Mr. Robinson has had years of experience in banking in Nebraska and in Twin Falls and brings to the new position the reputation of a banker and citizen. At the last general election he was chosen state senator from Twin Falls county and served with distinction in the legislative branch of the last legislature. Later he was elected to a position in the Idaho State Life Insurance company and resigned this position to enter the bank.

In speaking of the change Robert Andie, president and first vice president of the bank, said: "We have recently put a large amount of new money into the bank, and we are now in position to make a vigorous campaign for business."

It was announced that Mr. Robinson was retiring from the position of cashier that this did not mean that he was leaving the bank. On the contrary, the former cashier was to remain for the present at least. He has been with the bank since its consolidation of the Bank of Commerce with the Idaho Trust & Savings Bank.—Statesman.

MAY HEAD EDUCATORS

Miss Grace Shepherd Candidate for President of N. E. A.

Salt Lake, July 8.—The second day of the general session of the National Education association convention opened this morning in the tabernacle with about 2400 delegates in attendance. The business meeting was preceded by a musical service in which Mrs. Shepherd, who was the stand-in for the absent Mrs. Shepherd, part. The delegates will go to Salt Lake beach this afternoon.

Prominent among the women candidates for president of the National Education association is Miss Grace Shepherd of Boise, Idaho. Miss Shepherd is treasurer of the national organization and has been very successful with educational affairs in her own state and throughout the west. With her long experience and her wide acquaintance with numbers both in men and women of the convention, Miss Shepherd's prospects for election are good. Her campaign has been one of the most successful of the entire west. She has received the support of the entire west. Her husband, Mr. Shepherd, is a prominent business man of Salt Lake City. Mr. Shepherd will not be present at the convention.—Pocatello Tribune.

FAIL TO AGREE ON THE PRICE OF WATERWORKS COMPANY AND CITY HOLD CONFERENCE WITH NO RESULT

Waterworks Company and City Hold Conference With No Result

Attorney E. B. Critchlow for Twin Falls Waterworks Company Visits City and Confers With City Council

With a difference of fifteen thousand dollars between them a conference yesterday between the city council and the representatives of the Twin Falls Waterworks company, came to naught in the effort made by the city to acquire the waterworks system.

The conference was represented by E. B. Critchlow of Salt Lake City, part owner and attorney for the waterworks company, and was represented by Mayor Meigs and members of the city council, and the water commission.

The conference was a friendly one in which Mr. Critchlow admitted that the city's estimate of the value of the plant and the revenues was fairly accurate. He agreed further that his company would take the city waterworks system on payment for the system provided terms could be agreed upon. He held out for one hundred thousand dollars as the purchase price of the plant, while all that the city would offer was eighty thousand dollars. The conference broke up late Wednesday afternoon with nothing accomplished.

In an interview with the Times a representative of the water company stated that he thought a deal could be made if the city made such offer, but that in the meantime his company were proceeding as rapidly as possible in the repairs on the filter plant and that it would be permanently repaired this time.

HANGING ABOLISHED IN IDAHO

Last Execution Five Years Ago and Probably Will Never Be Another.

Boise, Idaho, July 7.—Although this state has not done away with capital punishment, Idaho is today virtually a hangmanless state. The gallows at the state penitentiary in this city have just been removed, and it is very doubtful if ever again the hangman's noose will be resorted to in punishment of crime against society.

This change is due to the fact that a law has been enacted and is now in the statute books placing in the hands of juries the right to find a defendant guilty of murder and designate whether he shall suffer the death penalty or shall spend the balance of his days in a living death, incarcerated for life behind prison walls of a prison.

The gallows the penitentiary had stood for years within the prison walls, and many men had walked its steps to be dropped to their death. The last hanging took place five years ago when a man named Sowell, convicted and sentenced to hang for the murder of a woman in northern Idaho, was marched to the gallows.

At that time the death trap was sprung at a moment when the trembling prisoner had just expected the prayer was in progress by the prison chaplain when the trap was sprung and the condemned man was hurled to the gallows, published broadcast in vivid description, resulted in the recent passing of a bill taking the power to pass the death sentence virtually out of the hands of the judge and placing it in the hands of a jury.

Since the passage of this law not a man has been executed. The gallows in this state has been given the death penalty. In one case, tried in the northern part of the state, the jury failed to use its option and the presiding judge gave the defendant the benefit of the doubt as to what his fate should be and sent him to prison for life.

There are a number of life term prisoners in the penitentiary here. Among them is Harry Orchard, the Western Federation fame, the celebrated prisoner who placed the bomb on the gate of Governor Steunenberg that resulted in the death of the executive. Orchard expects to spend the rest of his days behind the prison bars. He is in the law department, and since assigned to the work of making shoes for his fellow convicts has become very efficient in the work.

The houses probably the youngest murderer held by any prison in the west. He is a lad of 21 years of age, who deliberately shot and killed a brother in Fremont county. He was convicted of murder in the first degree. Although, ordinarily he should be in a reform school the crime for which he was convicted was of such a nature that under the laws the only place he could be incarcerated was in the state penitentiary, and he must spend the balance of his life there.—Twin Falls Register.

TAXES LOW BY COMPARISON

Twin Falls County Second Lowest in the State.

A very carefully compiled statement of the tax levy for last year and the amounts raised compiled by the State Tax Commission, shows that Twin Falls county is more fortunate with regard to levy than some of the more wealthy and thickly populated counties of the state. The table compiled to show the probable amount of tax for this year places Twin Falls county at 40 cents per hundred, with Kootenai county at the same figure. Latol county is figured at 70 cents. Two counties run as high as $1.50 or more than that, Ada county runs $1.00, according to the table given above.

There are a large number of taxpayers paying heavier taxes than there are paying less.

OBS BANK AT RIGBY

Cashier and Assistant Locked in Vault After Giving up $3800.

Rigby.—A during daylight robbery of the State Bank of Rigby occurred here Tuesday afternoon by a lone robber, who secured $3800 and escaped. A Kootenai in pursuit.

About 5:25 p. m. a short, heavy-set, dark complexioned man, evidently a foreigner, entered the back door of the bank. Cashier Elmer and his assistant were engaged in work on the books. The holdup ordered the two men into the vault and told them to get out to him the paper money and gold. He expressly stated to them he did not want the silver. After searching the money the robber locked the men in the vault and escaped.

The five-year-old son of Cashier Elmer arrived at the bank about 6:30 p. m. but he was not molested. The lad, following instructions from his father, locked in the vault, gave the alarm and a posse was gathered. A few minutes later the robber, who had disappeared and no clue left. The officers, however, are scouring the country for the bandit.—Statesman.

WILL ASK PROBE OF BANK FAILURE

Secretary of Treasury Wants to Know If Law Has Been Violated

WILL ASK ATTORNEY GENERAL TO LOOK INTO MATTER.

Big Depositors of the Pittsburg Bank Became Scared and Made Heavy Withdrawals.

Washington, July 9.—Secretary McAdoo before the close of the day expects to ask Attorney General McElwain to investigate alleged irregularities in connection with the closing of the First-Second National bank of Pittsburg and determine whether the national bank act has been violated.

Sufficient facts have been collected by the treasury department, it is said, to warrant immediate intervention by the department of justice.

Thomas P. Kane, acting comptroller of the currency, who returned today from Pittsburg, where he closed the First-Second National bank of that city should have been cleaned up at the time of its merger with the Second National bank several months ago. The merger was authorized by Lawrence O. Murray, former controller of the currency. At that time, Mr. Kane declared today, the First National's capital was badly impaired and the bank was notified last December that it was impaired capital must be restored. The comptroller added that the condition of the bank had been long known in bank circles in Pittsburg, New York and elsewhere.

"The closing of the bank clears the banking and financial atmosphere of Pittsburg. Out of this incident, the banking conditions there are excellent and there is no cause for any further anxiety," said he.

The First National bank of McKeesport, which suspended a few hours after the First-Second National bank was closed, is arranging for resumption of business in a few days. The bank is in a good condition and there was no reason why it should have closed other than by reason of the Kuhn connection with the bank. The board of directors of this bank will be reorganized and the Kuhn interest eliminated before it is reopened.

Details of the causes which induced the treasury department to close the bank are being furnished to the attorney general with the return of Comptroller Kane. He declared that information concerning the government's surveillance of the bank leaked out and one big depositor withdrew $200,000 last Saturday. The government was told that other big depositors contemplated making heavy withdrawals Monday. To prevent the large depositors from withdrawing their money, the treasury department ordered the closing of the bank on Saturday.

The board of directors of the bank will be reorganized and the Kuhn interest eliminated before it is reopened.

TRAINMEN DESIRE TO STRIKE

Final Action Remains With the General Committee to Meet Saturday.

New York.—Peace overtures ceased Tuesday between 45 eastern railroads and 100,000 members of the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, after the employees' representatives, in conference with the railway managers, announced that 94 per cent of the men had voted to strike.

The increase demanded represents an annual cost to the three roads of $1,200,000. The Brotherhood claims that the increase demanded represents an annual cost to the three roads of $1,200,000. The Brotherhood claims that the increase demanded represents an annual cost to the three roads of $1,200,000.

The conference committee of management will meet Saturday to consider the decision of the employees' general committee. The railroads are then expected to make their ultimatum.

It was said that at no time in the session was the Erdman arbitration act mentioned, but comment was made on the fact that the general committee of the employees' representatives should have been consulted before the matter was decided.

T. H. O'Brien, representing the trainmen of that road, said Tuesday night:

ROAD PLANS FOR THE BOND MONEY

Ten Thousand Dollars in Hard Surface Work

COMMISSIONERS DECIDE ON FORM OF ROAD WORK.

Balance Will be Used in Grading and Levelling Roads of the County.

At a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners held yesterday in conference with a number of citizens, the question of the expenditure of the county thousand dollars called for in the coming election was up for discussion.

A great many opinions were offered gratuitously to the commissioners who were rather divided among themselves as to the plan to be adopted. As the question will be asked a great many times by the taxpayer prior to the election the county decided to come to some agreement of opinion.

Several citizens wanted the whole amount spent in hard surface roads, while others believed that it should be expended on all county roads in filling, grading and rounding up to proper form. Under the first plan only a limited amount of permanent road could be made with the money, while under the latter nearly every mile of road in the county could be improved.

The matter was put to a vote and with Commissioners Carlson and Luck in favor and H. C. Taylor opposed, the plan to improve all roads with hard surface was adopted and the remaining thirty thousand in road improvements all over the county.

RAILROAD IS GIVEN GRILLING

Radical Reforms in Management Proposed on New Haven Line.

Washington, July 9.—The financial operations of the New Haven, Hartford and Hartford railroad, its ownership of trolley lines and control of the New England railways, are condemned in a report of the Interstate Commerce commission in the report of its investigation made public today. The "outlets" financial management has been found to be to the extreme and had the New Haven compelled itself to its actual railroad activities in the management of the line, that prevailed in other respects, it could have paid a dividend of 8 per cent for 1912 and carried the surplus of $1,040,000 instead of the deficit of $330,000, according to the report.

No order was made by the commission but the following propositions, which would have national application to all railroads, were made:

"Every railroad should be prohibited from expending money or incurring liabilities or acquiring property not in the operation of its railway, and no such expenditure or acquisition should be permitted to lease the stocks of any other road or acquire the stocks of any other road or acquire the same without the approval of the federal government."—Capital News.

BORAH AMENDMENT REPORTED

Will Allow Tie Where Improvements Equal $150 Per Acre.

Washington.—The senate public land committee has favorably reported Senator Borah's amendment to the homestead law by providing that in lieu of the cultivation now required, the homesteaders may, after three years' residence in showing improvements on his land to the extent of $150 for each acre. The report was unanimous and Senator Borah expects the bill to pass the senate at this session, though it is not likely to pass the house at this time.

The committee also favorably reported the Pittman bill, authorizing the non-resident dry farm homesteaders in all states where the dry farm law applies, provided the entryman can show their lands do not contain sufficient water for domestic use.—Statesman.

A good many citizens after viewing the terrible cost of the motorcycles running about the city and the absolute disregard of road rules wonder whether the noisy flyers are regarded as gas driven vehicles or just toys for the amusement of the riders. There seems to be no limit to the speed at which they are allowed to run around the busiest corners of the city and few arrests have been made.
On the other hand, automobile owners have been warned against speeding with dire threats of what will follow in case of future speeding. The Times believes that the motorcycle is just as dangerous to the public safety as the auto and that disregard of road rules and speeding should be punished by arrest and fines. It is a very common sight to see the motorcyclists rounding the corners to the left when they would come directly in the way of other vehicles observing road rules and the practice is increasing every day. The same can be said to be true of teams which run all over the roads with no regard to the common rule of turning to the right. It is a safe bet that if any automobile should run down some of the aforesaid carelessly driven vehicles that damage suits and arrests of auto drivers would follow quickly, for matters where blame is rightly rested. If fifteen miles an hour and the right side of the road is right for the auto, by all means make it the proper stunt for the other vehicles.

With the city offering eighty thousand dollars for the waterworks system, and the waterworks company holding out for ninety-five, the conference came to naught. It is true while objecting to over payment of the water company for its make shift plant, believe that a compromise on ninety thousand dollars could have been made and thus clear up the present troublesome tangle. It is true that ninety thousand dollars is more than the actual physical value of the plant and it is too much considering the repairs which will have to be made on the system. But notwithstanding the above objections, the Times believes it to be good business to pay the price and get the field cleared for a municipal plant as quicker as possible and that some sacrifice should be made in order to accomplish the ultimate good of the city. It should be borne in mind that a revenue of twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars will be coming to the city from the present plant and that it will help decidedly to have much income toward paying for needed improvements and the interest on the bonds. On top of the above reasons the fact that all legal tangles are overcome, in worth many dollars to the city. It will take two years to test the legal status of the city's claim for damages to paving with attendant legal expense amounting to several thousand dollars. In the meantime at least forty-five thousand dollars of water works revenues have been allowed to slip away during the two years.

FAVORING FARM AND LABOR "TRUSTS."

Even though President Wilson apparently has done just what it was expected he would do in signing the sundry civil appropriations bill, which Mr. Taft vetoed because of an exemption clause affecting the farming and labor interests, yet it was what many editorial onlookers, up to the last moment, were hoping he would not do.
The new law provides, the press reports, for an appropriation of $300,000 to be expended in trust prosecutions by the department of justice, in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, but contains this proviso:

"That no part of this money shall be expended in the prosecution of any organization or individual for entering into any combination or agreement having in view the increasing of wages, shortening of hours, or bettering the conditions of labor, or for any act done in furtherance thereof, nor in itself unlawful. Provided, further, That no part of this appropriation shall be expended for the prosecution of producers of farm products and associations of farmers who cooperate and organize in an effort to and for the purpose to obtain and maintain a fair and reasonable price for their products."

This exemption clause was characterized by Mr. Taft as "vicious class legislation," and President Wilson received protests against it, say Washington correspondents from "business and professional men, organizations, and many individuals having an interest in the welfare of the government." It is suggested also by these writers that before the presentation of the bill to the house, President Wilson had disclosed no objection to the exemption clause, but that later, when he sought to have this clause eliminated, he found the house majority in favor of it too heavy, and was informed, moreover, that to attempt to persuade it might insure the passage of the whole bill. Just what this risk would involve is shown by the Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post, who says that unless the bill had been passed, practically every department of the government would suffer for lack of funds for important work, almost every committee of the house of representatives would have to be appointed again for consideration of budgetary matters would have to stay in session two or three months after the passage of the tariff and currency bill, and, what is more, "all the attempted raids on the treasury, more or less successfully fought in the last session, would be resumed with results—problematical." Consequently the question of the veto or approval was not such a simple matter as it looked, this writer concludes; and that the president himself judges one for explanation may be gathered from his personal statement attached with his signature to the bill:

"I have signed this bill because I can do so without, in fact, limiting the opportunity or the power of the department of justice to prosecute violations of the law, by whomsoever committed."

"If I could have separated from the rest of the bill the item which authorized the expenditure by the department of justice of a special sum of $300,000 for the prosecution of violations of the antitrust law, I would have vetoed that item, because it places upon the expenditure a limitation which, in my opinion, unjustifiable in character and principle. But I could not separate it. I do not understand that the limitation was intended as either an amendment or interpretation of the antitrust law, but merely as an expression of the opinion of congress—a very emphatic opinion, backed by an overwhelming majority of the house of representatives and a large majority of the senate, but not intended to touch anything but the expenditure of a single small additional fund."

"I can assure the country that this item will neither limit nor in any way embarrass the actions of the department of justice. Other appropriations supply the department with abundant funds to enforce the law. The law will be interpreted, in the determination of what the department should do, by independent, and I hope impartial, judgments as to the true and just meaning of substantive statutes of the United States."

The campaign to have the president veto the bill on account of the labor and farming proviso was based on misrepresentation, the New York Globe (Reg.) maintains, and it says that many business men were deceived into signing a veto petition without having examined the matter for themselves. The sole question raised by the proviso is "whether or not labor unions and co-operative farmers are per se illegal." The Globe continues:

"No issue relating to boycotting or intimidating or the like is involved by the proviso. These are just as illegal as before. The only exemption sought is one that, in fact, has never existed—namely, that men should not be prosecuted for associating themselves in organizations 'having in view' to use the precise language of the proviso, 'the increasing of wages, shortening of hours, or bettering the conditions of labor, or for any act done in furtherance thereof not in itself unlawful.'"

Very little is gained by labor in the passage of the bill, according to the Socialist Milwaukee Leader, for
"probably prosecutions of the government has rarely instituted, while permitting suits which have aroused the enmity of the workers against the antitrust law." Even the little merit the exemption clause may have, the Leader believes, will cease to have effect once the life of the appropriation has ended.

The charge of "vicious class legislation" brought against the exemption clause is flouted by The Saturday Evening Post (Huffa), which remarks that the railroads "have violated the Sherman law every day since it was passed," for

"Their exactly uniform rates between given points could not possibly be reached except by joint agreement in restraint of trade and in spite of the antitrust law. The government tacitly sanctions this violation because it dare not do otherwise—knowing that prohibitive competition in railroad rates would be ruinous. Why is not, exempting the railroads, in this respect, from the Sherman law class executive action of the most vicious sort?"—Literary Digest.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS

coln.)

Moses Prepared For His Work. Ex.
13:1-25; Acts 7:17-25; Heb. 3:1-23-27.
Golden Text—Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth. Matt.
5:5.

(1) Verses 11-12—About how old was Moses and what kind of a life had he lived up to this time?

(2) Seeing Moses had been raised in the court of Pharaoh how did he come to have such a patriotic spirit for his own race?

(3) On what principle would you approve or condemn Moses for slaying this Egyptian?

(4) Would a man ever be justified in slaying another man today, and if so, under what circumstances?

(5) What would you say if he foolish, immoral and unnecessary, as well as illegal, for any person to carry concealed weapons today? This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.

(6) Verses 13-14—Did Moses show the proper tact and the necessary patience in trying to settle this dispute between two of his brethren? Why?

(7) Under the circumstances can you understand or not that the brothers whom Moses rebuked resented his interference? Why?

(8) Moses appears to have thought that his slaying of the Egyptian was not known. Now would you say or not, and why, that there are some things that it is right for us to do and also hide from our fellowmen?

(9) In what sense did Moses feel that he was a fugitive?

(10) Verses 15-17—The cause of Moses fleeing from Pharaoh to Midian is from the circumstances, of human origin, but would you say or not, and why, that God sent him there to prepare him for his future work?

(11) Verses 18-20—Can you give a description of the position or circumstances of this priest or prince of Mid-ian?

(12) What is the significance of the fact that every man should be an actual priest in his own household?

(13) What does it show when a man who has been raised a prince willingly helps draw water and attends to the flock of these young women?

(14) Why should all young men, no matter the degree of their culture or wealth, be trained so they can work when necessary?

(15) What lessons may we learn from the hearty hospitality of this priest or prince of Midian?

(16) Verses 21-22—For what occupation did Moses hire himself to Rahab?

(17) Did Moses do well to take a wife and would you say or not, and why, that it is the duty of every normal man to marry?

(18) Verses 23-25—How do we know that God hears and answers the cry of all who are in trouble?

(19) What was God's covenant with Abraham?

(20) Acts 7:17-25—When and how did Moses learn that God meant him to deliver his people from Egypt?

(21) How did Moses' forty years as a shepherd fit him for his great work
to deliver his people from Egypt?

(22) Heb. 3:1-23—By whose faith was Moses hidden three months as a baby?

(23) What is the evidence that Moses was a man of God before he left Egypt?

(24) Why do men of God need discipline or training for their work the same as other men?

Pioneer Day to Be Fittingly Observed

All Neighboring Towns Invited to Oakley, July 24-25

In honor of the Pioneers who entered the Great Salt Lake Valley over one half century ago, Oakley will hold a fitting celebration to which she invites her neighbors in all directions. There will be two days of genuine fun. Music will be in the air from early morn to close of day. All ages will find that which entertains. Everything from the popcorn whistle to the sublime. Ball Games, Horse Races, Foot Races, Motor Races, Childrens Sports. Dancing for the little ones and the big ones too. Attractive purses and prizes throughout. A program second to none. Everyone invited to join in this celebration and thus do honor to those who made it possible for them to enjoy so many bounties. Complete program and handbills will be out in due time for distribution. In the meantime everybody get ready to spend a few days in the city of shade and homes.

THE COMMITTEE

ROCK CREEK NEWS.

Rock Creek, Ida., July 9, 1913.
Mr. and Mrs. George Scott have recently moved to their ranch over on Mule Creek near the Nevada line. Louis Harrell and family from Salmon river, have moved to their ranch east of here. We welcome them in our midst.

The dance given on the evening of the Fourth was well attended. A number from Deep Creek, Hollister, Buhl, Kimberly and Murtaugh were in attendance. Everyone enjoyed themselves immensely.

It is reported by the men on the Garity ranch that Alex Gray was seen in a rage headed for the top of the mountain one day last week, but he failed to reach the summit.

Mr. Reynolds, commonly called "Tim," is here again after spending several years in Chicago. He is stopping at the Brose ranch at present. Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Miller are rejoicing over the arrival of a new girl which arrived on the morning of the 7th inst.

Mr. R. H. Hartley from Berger, is spending a while at the Garity ranch with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sizer and Miss Sizer of Twin Falls, spent the Fourth of July as guests at the Norton ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Sizer left Sunday afternoon. Miss Sizer is with Miss Norton a few days longer.

Two of our boys feeling jubilant on the afternoon of the Fourth, decided they would take a short cut to Heaven. After playing some roman candles under a galvanized tub and lighting them, they sat down to await results. However, they did not wait very long to learn that the tub was badly damaged, and they had not taken their departure. Both aspirants are still with partners. Both aspirants seem to prefer the standing position.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain and children, Mrs. Daube and children of Twin Falls, were guests at the Brose home a few days last week.

John P. Hanson made a business trip to Hansen Tuesday. Miss Kate Larsen left Monday for Cottonwood to take charge of the domestic work on J. B. Rice's ranch. Dr. Wilson made a professional trip up this way on Monday.

Mrs. A. D. Norton left for Twin Falls Monday. The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. George Brackenbury passed away Sunday afternoon after the short life of a few hours.

Miss Ellen Larsen is preparing to leave in a few days for Albion to attend the summer normal. W. J. Kitch of Boise, arrived a few days ago to join his wife and daughter here.

When the apartment, which might have been planned and designed for you, becomes available to you, the news will be found in the "To Rent" column.

KIMBERLY NEWS.

Kimberly, Ida., July 8th, 1913.
F. H. Hillard, vice president and general manager of the Gem State Lumber Co. of Pocatello, was transacting business here Tuesday afternoon.

Orn Jones came over Tuesday from Artesian City to get some repairs for his well drill. Wells Webster was in town the first of the week getting repairs for his gasoline engine. He reports the ground in good condition for plowing.

Vernon Layton was over from Hansen Tuesday afternoon.

A. G. Ellis and W. F. Breckon made a business trip to Hansen Monday.

James Shoenmaker, who has been visiting here for a few days, returned to his home in Wyoming Sunday night. The ladies of the G. A. R. organized at the home of Mrs. A. J. Wilson Saturday, June 14th, and elected the following as officers: Mrs. Lulu Sullivan, president; Mrs. A. J. Wilson, senior vice president; Miss Lillian Martin, secretary; Mrs. W. R. Summers, treasurer; Mrs. E. T. Newberry, chaplain, and Mrs. A. C. Burkhalter, guard. The ladies were assisted in the organization by Mrs. Daube, Mrs. Worth and Mrs. Humphrey, of Twin Falls.

The Ladies' Aid of the Christian church, met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. J. Wilson. On account of the busy season only a few were present.

The horse belonging to Charlie Dunn created some excitement Monday by taking leave for home without a driver. A broken pair of shafts was all the damage done.

Horace Eubanks and Miss Alice Wilkins sprung a little surprise on their friends here by getting married at Twin Falls Saturday evening. Their many friends here wish for them a happy and prosperous married life.

The Nibbel-channel Lumber Co. are re-arranging their lumber yard and expect to soon have their stock of lumber under shed.

Mr. Clawson, manager of the alfalfa mill, is busy these days getting ready to grind meal.

Mid-summer finds us with larger stocks on hand than we ought to have at this season of the year. Nothing wrong with the goods. But in our early spring enthusiasm we over-estimated the probable demand. Then came the unseasonable spring and summer weather, materially reducing the volume of business we might otherwise have reasonably expected. So it happens that now, when it is time for us to plan our fall purchases, we find our shelves and counters filled with thousands of dollars worth of summer goods which must be moved promptly, even though CONSIDERABLE LOSS of profit result. We never allow goods to accumulate from one season to another. It is for this reason that we hold this DRASTIC PRICE LOWERING JULY CLEARANCE SALE, an occasion for QUICK ACTION, DECISIVE STOCK REDUCING and small or no profits.

Sale Will Commence Saturday Morning, July 12

AMERICAN SEA PAINTERS

"Learn One Thing Every Day"

Copyright, 1913, by The Associated Newspaper School, Inc.

No. 4. CHARLES HERBERT WOODBURY, "MID-OCEAN"

It is a curious fact that many of the most distinguished of American painters were originally educated as engineers. Charles H. Woodbury was one of these. He graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1886, receiving the degree of mechanical engineer. He always had the art instinct, and much sooner or later to take up that profession. Even when he was taking the difficult course at the institute he managed to paint a great deal, and obtained in his junior year a medal from the Boston Arts Club—a small accomplishment. After his graduation he went to Paris and entered the Julian Academy, and he has been receiving medals ever since he came home.

Few men have studied the sea as has Woodbury. He has a house and a studio on the Maine coast at Ogunquit, a workshop where he can paint the sea directly out of his window. There he lives the year round, and he works like a hired man, every day and all day, no matter what the weather, or how high the wind.

Woodbury was one of the first men

No. 5. ALEXANDER HARRISON, "THE WAVE"

Alexander Harrison has lived so continuously in France that one is apt to forget he is a very good American. Yet he was born in Philadelphia, in 1855, of good American stock, one of three artistic brothers, the youngest of whom died years ago. The other, Birge, is an able landscape and figure painter, who not infrequently paints the sea as well. Alexander, as a very young man, was a member of the United States Coast Survey, working along the Pacific shore, when the art career first appealed to him, and he threw up his commission to enter the schools of San Francisco. From there he went to Paris and entered the studio of J. L. Gerome in the Ecole des Beaux Arts. But he spent most of his time studying nature. He painted landscapes and figures. And with the latter he had a fine success, his picture "En Arcadie" being afterward bought by the French government for the Musée de Luxembourg.

His recognition was almost instantaneous. Honors were heaped upon him, among them being the ribbon of the Legion of Honor (the has the Grand Cross of the order now), together with membership in many European academies and societies in Munich, Berlin, London, and elsewhere. He was also awarded gold medals abroad and at home, and his sea pictures may

No. 6. EMIL CARLSEN, "OPEN SEA"

Emil Carlsen won recognition first of view, seeing it in a manner quite different from the followers. Indeed, no other worker in this country possesses so individual an outlook on the world of color. He has as well a method of painting with his own, of handling his pigment, of blending the tones and obtaining sparkle and vibrancy.

Few painters keep up their interest in such a high pitch. Carlsen is today an enthusiast. A beginner. Among the members of the Salamaquid club of New York, that intimate painting circle he owns, of handling his pigment, of blending the tones and obtaining sparkle and vibrancy.

to paint the open ocean, making many trips over the Atlantic for this purpose. He used to stay on deck, with his canvas, and himself also for that matter, lashed to the rigging, that he might catch storm effects. His most important work, a great canvas called "Mid-Ocean," created a sensation when it was first shown, and he followed it with many more.

Woodbury married a prominent painter, Miss Maria Oakes. Together they spent much time in Holland, where she painted the figures while he did the shore and the canvas. Up in Maine where he lives the natives all know him and have a profound respect for a man who can go out in the rain and sit for hours on the bleak rocks painting pictures.

One of the most successful teachers in this country, Woodbury has often as many as sixty pupils in his class during the summer of Ogunquit. There, twice a week, he gives criticisms and talks which are famous the country over. He has von young men, both here and abroad, and his pictures are in many famous museums.

to be said to have changed the method of modern-day painting. An Italian, a French painter, had some influence on his style, and he traveled extensively throughout the Continent studying the various galleries. A tall, distinguished looking man, with a large amount of energy and enthusiasm, he worked continuously out of doors with front success, and, hence, had a large class of students, with a host of followers, not to say imitators. Harrison was one of the first of the modern men in the early '80's to get the real feeling of diffused light of doors. At that time he was considered almost an ingenious innovator, though we accept the manner readily enough nowadays. Yet at that time he was a leader, and his pictures made a great impression, causing others by their side to appear dull and thin; indeed, he was particularly good in rendering the effects of early sunshine over the water. His painting of surf came as a revelation to eyes accustomed to the old-fashioned manner of painting the waves.

Never a clever workman, he obtained that which he sought by the hardest kind of labor and application, and he worked a picture over and over until the result was satisfactory. Much of his painting has been done along the coast of Brittany.

He is a member of the National Academy of Design, of the National Institute of Arts and Letters, and of the French Academy of Painting, as well as the even more famous Bohemian club of San Francisco. He is an untiring worker, never happy away from his easel. One of his important canvases at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, "Surf," shows him to be a rare poetical and lyrical painter of the sea. "Cavities," said one of the prominent New York painters, "well, Carlsen's color is cool and clear, which gives one an idea of its appetizing quality."

In each issue of The Times three different human studies will appear. You can get a beautiful, full-size reproduction of the above pictures, 10 1/2 inches in size, with this week's "Mentor." In "The Mentor," a well-known authority covers the subject of the pictures and studies of the week. Readers of The Times and The Mentor will know Art, Literature, History, Science, and Travel, and own exquisite pictures. On sale at the Liberal Shanty and Old Book Store, Associated Newspaper School plan. Price, Ten Cents. Write today to The Times for booklet explaining The Art.

LESSON FROM THE PROFESSOR

Old Gentleman Was Perfectly Convinced That the Youngster Was Competent to Give It.

The old gentleman wondered where the young couple had got to, for it was getting late. He rather suspected they had wandered out into the garden, so he wended his steps in that direction. He soon came across the young people, and found them in a most interesting attitude. The young man had the fair girl clasped in both his arms, and was kissing her as if he had not tasted such a dainty for at least five minutes.

The old gentleman watched the osculatory performance, to the finish, which he found to be somewhat weary work—and then made his presence known.

"Isn't it very late for you young people to be out?" he said. "It is—rather, pa," faltered the fair girl; "but—but Mr. Poppie has been giving me a lesson in astronomy."

"My stars!" ejaculated the old gentleman. "He has, and no mistake! I myself saw him teaching you how the Great Bear hugs."

Then the young couple looked so foolish that the old gentleman shut his eyes out of sheer compassion.

Scientific Recognition.

Data have been gathered in Germany with reference to the distance at which persons may be recognized by their faces and figures. If one has good eyes, the Germans claim, one can not recognize a person whom he has seen but once before at a greater distance than twenty-five meters (eighty-two feet). If one person is well known to another, one may recognize him at from fifty to one hundred meters, and if it is a member of one's family, even at 150 meters. The whites of the eyes may be seen at from twenty-seven to twenty-eight meters, and the eyes themselves at seventy-two to seventy-three meters. The different parts of the body and the slightest movements are distinguishable at ninety-one meters. The limbs show at 182 meters. A man in a morning coat appears only as an indistinct form, and at 720 meters (2,361.6 feet) the movements of the body are no longer visible.—Scientific American.

Eyes and the Sun's Rays.

Why are our eyes less dazzled by the sun toward sunset than just after sunrise? Is the early morning sun really brighter than the later afternoon sun? There are two answers: one physiological, the other physical. The retina becomes progressively more sensitive the day. A sudden illumination at night dazzles our eyes, whereas the same absolute intensity of light would have less effect in the daytime. During the day the eyes become gradually more and more accustomed to the light; in other words, less sensitive to it. However, the setting sun is probably actually less bright than the rising sun, because of the diminished purity of the atmosphere through which it shines. Solar radiation pumps up an enormous amount of moisture from the earth during the day.

Creating a Character.

Stinking one's identity in character parts on the early morning sun. Indeed, no other worker in this country possesses so individual an outlook on the world of color. He has as well a method of painting with his own, of handling his pigment, of blending the tones and obtaining sparkle and vibrancy.

Great Mistake.

"I educated one of my boys to be a doctor and the other lawyer," said Farmer Cornsossol, as he shifted his crutch. "That ought to be a good arrangement." "It's nothing of the kind. It has led to a war that's going to break up the family. I got run into by a locomotive. One of 'em wants to cure me, and the other wants me to go lame so's we can sue for damages."

CHARM HARD TO ANALYZE

Its Presence Easily Felt, but Description Will Be Found a Thing of Some Difficulty.

Over half of our American girls work. They stand behind counters, bond over machines, sit at desks, and march, militant figures, in the procession of industries that seem to block the road to idleness, grace and light-heartedness and freedom from care.

One woman who has worked among and written books about and found inspiration in the working girl says unawares a thing ephemeral, a gift of the gods to the girl who has had to work so hard that she has had no time to think about her lack of beauty.

"I wish I knew wherein charm lies, but I don't know, although I've studied it and tried to analyze it as much as most folks have, I suspect. In books, in pictures, in people, in places. I've met many, many kinds of charm: I've seen that bored and listless, that cheerfulness that repelled, and met with cheerfulness that was innate and with kindness that was exasperating. Charm is a gift of the gods, and it cannot be wooed like fame, nor won like money; nor bought like titles, nor developed like patience, nor seized like a prize of war. If it comes, it comes; and if it's thought on too much, it flies away. And there's an end on it!"—Mother's Magazine.

Poet's Memory Lives.

The saying "Christmas comes but once a year" is attributed to Thomas Tusser, a medieval poet (1524-1580), who seems to have been strong on epigrams. The same idea may have occurred to others, but Tusser gave it expression. He was classed as an agricultural poet, partly because he had not much education and partly because he treated simple themes, which he understood in a plain and simple way. Tusser had an ear for music, and served to order as chorister in some churches of his day. His first publication was entitled "A Hundred Good Points of Husbandry," and later he published "A Hundred Good Points of Husbandry Lately Married Into a Hundred Good Points of Housewifery," and still later this was amplified into "Five Hundred Good Points of Husbandry United to an Many of Good Housewifery." Reprints of these books are still extant. An autobiography of his day, this in verse. Southey, himself a critical poet, characterized Tusser as "a good, honest, homely, useful old rhymester." Some of Tusser's phrases have passed into proverbs.

Standing Room Only.

According to statistics, the population of Paris is 2,700,000 and there is a carriage for each forty-one inhabitants and a taxicab for five. At this rate, making reasonable allowance for the smallness of Parisian families, hardly anyone needs to walk unless by choice. The total area of the city of Paris is 324 hectares, and it is calculated that the united length of all the vehicles in use would cover an area of ninety-eight hectares. In other words, the accumulation of vehicles would represent about one-third of the surface of the city streets. As the number of vehicles is duplicated every fifty years, 1950 will find the number of vehicles in Paris too large for the city streets to contain, unless they are scattered evenly throughout the capital. But perhaps by the time Paris can no longer drive through the streets, it may be able to fly over them.

A good want ad, telling what a prospective boarder would naturally want to know, will be all the "drummer" you'll need for your boarding house.

"Pittsburgh Perfect"

The only perfectly adjustable fence

A wire fence to give perfect service and satisfaction, must meet all conditions arising when fencing the farm.

In stretching through valleys or over hills, the fence should perfectly conform to the uneven ground and be fully as effective as when stretched on level land.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence stands, without treble, this most trying test. Once placed in position, it always remains in position, and no sagging or bulging. THE WIRE FENCE is especially built for just stay wire in place and the fence stands stiff, even in firm through rough use and abuse.

Open Hearth Wire—like old time iron wire—proven by test and service to be the toughest, strongest and most durable fence wire made, and the only kind endorsed by the United States Government, is used exclusively in "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence. The wire is heavily galvanized with pure spelter (zinc) by the new "hot" process, and electrically welded into "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence in styles and sizes perfectly adapted to every purpose of Field, Farm, Ranch, Lawn, Poultry and Rabbit Yard and Garden.
