EXCURSION FOR SALT LAKE MEN

Plans Started for Booster Trip Here

RAILROAD MAKES UNUSUAL OFFER WITH REGARDS TO RATES.

Commercial Club Inviting Salt Lake Men to Visit City and Investigate Resources.

A short time ago a movement was launched by the Commercial club to get Salt Lake businessmen interested in the resources of the Twin Falls tract. Letters regarding a good road excursion route for the round trip were sent to D. E. Burley of the Short Line, who responded with the following telegram:

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 16, 1913. D. E. Spencer, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agent, O. S. L. R. R., Salt Lake City, Utah. Your wire of 14th, say to Mr. Perrine that we will authorize ten dollars around trip rate, and provide special train service if necessary, Salt Lake to Twin Falls and return on guaranteed covering purchase of minimum of one hundred tickets. This is lowest rate we have ever made and can only be done on bonafide guarantee. Advise definitely as soon as possible.

D. E. BURLEY, General Passenger Agent, Oregon Short Line R. R.

The plans if carried out will bring the Salt Lake men here July 27, in the morning, give them all day to take in that scenery, business of the tract in automobiles furnished by the citizens here and allow them to get back to their work in Salt Lake early Monday morning. J. D. Terrell, who is well known in Zion City, will take the matter up with the Salt Lake Commercial club and get their promise.

NEW PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR INSTALLED

Dr. John Franklyn Shepherd Received by Congregation

TOLEDO DIVINE GIVEN HOUSING RECEPTION WEDNESDAY.

First Presbyterian Church Starts on New Era of Church Work with New Pastor.

A called meeting of the presbytery of Twin Falls was held in the Presbyterian church here yesterday afternoon, the Rev. D. Dunham of Heyburn, moderator, presiding.

The chief business was the matter of a call to the Rev. Dr. Shepherd by the local church to the regular pastorate. Thus far the relation has been simply that of a call to supply, a temporary arrangement between Dr. Shepherd and the local church. The latter now presented to presbytery a unanimous request that the permanent pastoral tie be created. On motion of presbytery the call was placed in Dr. Shepherd's hands, and the Doctor having signified his acceptance of the call, arrangements were made for the installation in accordance with the request of the local church officers, and at 8 o'clock in the evening the installation services were proceeded with as follows:

Rev. J. H. Barton, D. D., of Boise, presided and conducted the services throughout.

Rev. J. K. MacGillivray read the Scriptures. Rev. C. M. Junkin of Jerome, preached an able sermon on the "Ministry of Reconciliation." The constitutional questions were propounded by Dr. Barton, first, to the pastor-elect, and then to the congregation, and being all answered in the affirmative, Dr. Barton, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, the

AN ISSUE FOR FARMERS

The Times desires to call the attention of the ranchers of the county and the residents of the cities and towns other than Twin Falls, that the city of Twin Falls cannot, according to the state law, receive one cent of the bond issue which will be voted on next Wednesday, and all of that money must be spent on highways which will benefit the ranchers more than any other class of citizens of the county. Outside of the two bridges across Rock creek and outside the corporate limits, this city, while paying one-third of the taxes for the bond issue, cannot use a bit of the money for road work within the city and receives no benefit other than the use of the improved roads throughout the county.

The rancher has all the best of it. To the residents within the city dependent, road district the Times wishes to recall them emphatically that according to an agreement reached with the county commissioners, the bond issue received one cent of the dollar of the bond issue pro rata with its valuation and that in voting for the bonds they are merely getting the benefit of county financial practice in raising money for their district road work.

WILL MEET IN TWIN FALLS

Christian Endeavors of State Will Hold Convention Here August 25-31.

The state convention of the Christian Endeavors will meet in this city, August 25-31. On Tuesday evening of this week representatives of the societies of the Presbyterian and Christian churches held a meeting at the Presbyterian church to formulate plans for the entertainment of the visitors. The young people's societies of the other churches of the city are to be invited to assist in the meetings. Joint committees from the two churches have been appointed to go ahead with the arrangements for the meeting.

ON A HUNTING TRIP

Twin Falls Men Will Return Today Loaded Down With Chickens.

Dr. Parrett, Dr. W. H. Sawyer, L. C. Thompson and Don Lyman, left Wednesday afternoon for the western part of the county to spend several days hunting and fishing. They were prepared to kill anything from a hawk to a sage hen. They will return sometime this evening.

YOUNG BANKER TO WED

Ottawa, Kansas, Belle Coming to Twin Falls as Bride.

Another of Cupid's ventures was made known today at the delightful party which was given by Mrs. Fred N. Harris at her home in honor of Miss Gertrude Harris's approaching marriage. The guests were invited for 9:30 o'clock and spent the time until midnight at the garden bridge.

Scorn was kept on envelopes which assigned the places and they containing slips of cards advertising the guests. In keeping with this idea the first prize was a tin wrist watch in a handsome box. It was won by Mrs. Robert Phillips. Miss Harris received an especially useful gift favor when she was presented with a large hat box. It was covered with pretty willow paper and the lid was decorated with a bow of pink tulle. Everything ready for use in the kitchen, breakfast room, living room, kitchen and glass towels, holders, dent cloths, cooking spoons and knives and many other gifts, all of which were of pink tulle, formed the contents of this box.

For the three course luncheon the bride-elect and five other guests were seated in the dining room at one large round table and the other guests at three small tables. A cluny lace set was used on the round table which was centered with a tall Indian basket filled with ivy and beautiful white roses. Stagnant flowers were placed by strands of white ribbon over the basket were eight butterflies made of gauze and pink velvet and before the place of Miss Harris a large bouquet of white tulle was hung from the dome. The centerpiece for the small tables were low bowls of sweet peas. Small vases decorated with hand-painted sprays of sweet peas, were at each place and these contained cards bearing names of Miss Harris, her fiance, Mr. Clarence Henry of Twin Falls, Idaho, and the date of their wedding, October 15, 1913. The favors for the guests were pretty enough to be quite of sweet peas. After the serving of a large lobster had tied in the shape of a shepherdess basket by pink tulle was given Miss Harris. This was filled with the pink shower gifts the guests brought for Miss Harris. Miss Jeanie Jones of Williamsburg, a sister of the bride and Mrs. P. C. Debon, assisted Mrs. Harris.

Those who enjoyed this pretty party were: Mrs. Mary C. Harris, L. C. Thompson, Mrs. Robert Phillips of the City of Mexico, Miss Faye Stine, Miss Helen Hanson, Mrs. Roy W. Stockley, Mrs. Helen Wallace of Corvallis, Miss Jo Broderick, Mrs. J. Henry Bonnett, Miss Grace Davenport, Miss Corinne Adler, Miss Rebecca Ott, Mrs. C. M. Shotton, Miss Sauter, Miss Elizabeth Dunn, Mrs. Ben Howers, Mrs. J. C. Armstrong and Mrs. J. P. Harris—Ottawa (Kansas) Evening Herald.

The funeral services were held at the residence last night at seven o'clock and the remains taken this morning to Colorado Springs, where they will be interred beside the two daughters who passed away in early childhood.

Dr. Shepherd of the Presbyterian church, of which congregation the deceased was a member, gave a brief address and paid the respects to the bereaved family, and to show the love and respect for the deceased by the many friends in this city.

Forever remembered by her husband and two daughters, Beth and Ruth, Mrs. Hamilton came to Twin Falls when the incoming trail thirty-five miles from Shoshone, led into a barren desert and the beautiful city of Twin Falls of today was a dream long distant. As a member of the little group of women pioneers Mrs. Hamilton bore her part staunchly with the hardships that came in the early days and those people who pass through the same hardships have a great deal of love and respect for the deceased who has been stricken by death when life promises a future of enjoyment in the wonderful city which she helped to build. To the sorrowing relatives the sympathy of the whole city is extended in the bereavement that has come to them.

BAPTIST INSTITUTE CLOSES

Rev. W. E. Henry of Twin Falls, Elected President.

The Baptist Pastors' Institute closed a successful five day session Friday afternoon. Rev. W. E. Henry of Twin Falls, was elected president of the institute and A. B. Minkler secretary. One of the interesting discussions of the day was on the social life of the young people of the church. It was the opinion of the pastors that all athletic sports should be encouraged in the church and Sunday school. The ministers passed resolutions thanking the hosts of the institute for the enjoyable time and those who assisted in the various ways in making their visit so enjoyable. The pastors also gave for their respective parishes last evening.

A LAWN SOCIAL

For Benefit of St. Edward's Church, Wednesday Evening, July 24.

The ladies of St. Edward's church will hold a lawn social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Regan, 620 Main avenue North, Wednesday evening, July 24. A splendid musical program will be given. All are invited.

BARGAIN DAY FOR FARMERS

Many Cities Already Using Trade Getter

COMMERCIAL CLUB URGING ACTION BY BUSINESS MEN.

Total Value Giving of Business Men Shown in Lump Sum to Attract New Trade.

A big day of Bargains on a joint advertising sale of the local merchants is the fond hope of Secretary McMillan of the Commercial club, who is pushing the matter, hoping to get it started for one day next month. The plan has been used in a number of cities and found to bring a large amount of ready money into the city as a result. Each store, under the supervision of the Commercial club, which handles the advertising, puts on one or more articles on sale at a big reduction and with every line represented it gives the ranchers a splendid opportunity to save money on their entire purchases for the day, by making the bargains attractive it brings in many from territory not usually tributary to this city. Several of the local merchants have decided that the plan is a good one and are getting in line with the Commercial club.

MRS. HAMILTON PASSES AWAY

Esteemed Pioneer of City Succumbs to Death.

At an early hour Wednesday morning Mrs. Frances Hamilton, wife of Attorney S. T. Hamilton, passed away at the family home located on 14th and North, from toxic poisoning after lying for days in a state of complete coma. Death came as the end of a brief but very happy life. Impaired health had allowed toxic poisons to collect and despite a gallant fight and heroic character of recovery, physical claims could do nothing. At the bedside was the husband and only daughter, Miss Beth, relatives at Colorado Springs, who have been notified of the serious nature of her illness.

Frances McQueen was born in Higgsville, Ill., July 5, 1862, and was there for 31 years before she came to this city. She died on December 20, 1888, at Higgsville, she was united in marriage with S. T. Hamilton. Much of her life was spent in Colorado Springs, Colo., and at Fort Collins.

The funeral services were held at the residence last night at seven o'clock and the remains taken this morning to Colorado Springs, where they will be interred beside the two daughters who passed away in early childhood.

Dr. Shepherd of the Presbyterian church, of which congregation the deceased was a member, gave a brief address and paid the respects to the bereaved family, and to show the love and respect for the deceased by the many friends in this city.

CHILDREN TOO NOISY

Complaints Made of Disturbances at Band Concerts.

For the past few band concerts there have been a good many complaints made about the noise created by the children who apparently care nothing for the music and who by their noise spoil the pleasure of the older people. Parents are urged not to keep the children at home on the evening for a large number of the music loving people of the city.

A repetition of your want ad—over a dozen publications of it—would be a really inexpensive way of selling that property!

LACK OF PATENT NOT CONSIDERED

Carey Act Lands Will Be Taxed by County

TAX COMMISSION MAKES IMPORTANT RULING.

Where Final Carey Act Proof Has Been Made Owners Must Pay State and County Taxes.

Land filed upon in Idaho where certificate of final proof has been issued, although patent is still held by the owner, becomes assessable and must be placed on the tax roll to bear its just proportion of taxation.

Ruling is made by tax commission which is of vast importance to the state due to the fact there are many acres of public land filed upon to which certificate of final proof has been issued but to which the government has not issued final patent. Ruling is made in case that came up from Twin Falls county.

Chairman Axel P. Ramstedt of the state tax commission has laid down a ruling that has the indorsement of other members of the commission and which is of great importance in this state in that it is held that public land filed upon because subject to just proportion of taxation when certificate of final proof is issued. The ruling thus the support of the supreme court of this state which held to the same effect.

J. W. Beauchamp, assessor of Twin Falls county, raised the query as to the assessment of final proof land in a letter to the commission in which he said:

"We have a peculiar case in Twin Falls county liable to land in court but the parties have agreed to submit it to you. This is desert land on the Salmon River. The land is all in cultivation and in crop this year and is good land. Proper proof was made and accepted and this office was notified by the land office that final certificate was issued in October, 1911."

"Now the owner claims patent is suspended by the government and he should not be assessed. I gave what I then understood to John D. Robertson of the state tax commission. I have done so and the owner has filed a protest with the commissioners against being assessed. I have given you only one case. In fact there are several just the same amounting to several sections. Assessment to all this land will amount to about $20,000. Should I assess this land or not?"

Under date of July 14, President Ramstedt of the tax commission replied to Assessor Beauchamp laying down the ruling as follows:

"Dear Sir: Your communication of the 9th inst. relative to the taxation of certain desert lands on the Salmon River tract has been received and contents noted. It appears from your letter and from copies of the report of the general land office at Washington enclosed therein that final proof on this land has been made and accepted and that a receipt for the same was issued on Aug. 29, 1911, that the land is all in cultivation and in crop this year and that the owner objects to the taxation of the land on account of his entry being suspended pending receipt of an action on the report of a special agent."

"The rule which has been generally followed by the courts with reference to the taxation of lands for which patent had not yet issued is, that when payment in full has been made and the state or federal land office or department had accepted the proof and issued a final receipt to that effect, the operation of the law is to immediately render the land liable to taxation although the legal title is still held by the state or federal government."

"The fact that the government might, prior to passing of title from the state to the settler, revoke its patent to the state or institute proceedings for its cancellation can make no difference with the question before us. The government may and frequently does cancel its patent for tax delinquency. You are advised that this land should be assessed for taxation this year."—Capital News.

THE "IDAH0" AN IDEAL MACHINE

Idaho Falls Harvester Is in Great Demand.

P. L. Orcutt, a northern Idaho newspaper man, is a visitor in the city, making his headquarters at the Elks Club and Commission company, who are handling the "Idaho" international harvester, a combine that is making a wonderful record for economical harvesting of all kinds of grain, including peas. Mr. Orcutt lives in Moscow, where the "Idaho" is manufactured, and one of the reasons for his coming here is to see it in operation on both dry and irrigated farms. Speaking of this harvester, Mr. Orcutt said:

"Idaho Falls is an ideal place for the 'Idaho,' and our people are more than pleased with the results of the last season. We found very little to change to make the 1913 models as nearly perfect, both as to construction and quality of work done, as the former could ask for, and the best proof of the 'Idaho' meets the needs of the farmer is found in the tremendous demand that Mr. Sims has had from farmers who watched it work last year. We are shipping thirty harvesters to Idaho Falls this season, and Mr. Sims is keeping the wires to Moscow hot trying to get more. He will not be able to fill one-third of his orders, he tells us."

"What is true of Idaho Falls, is true generally of south Idaho, and the demand in the Grangeville country, in northern Idaho and other counties of the section, is even greater. M. C. Priddy, who is general agent for that territory, asked the company the first of the year for 200, and was ready to contract for 100, if the company could supply them."

In the fall of 1912 the Technical World, the leading magazine of the kind in the world, published a five-page illustrated article on the "Idaho," and this attracted world-wide attention. The leading agricultural doctors in Johannesburg, South Africa, wrote for the agency for that continent, and inquiries poured in from all the world. The Russian government twice sent its American representative to Idaho to investigate this new harvester, and published descriptive articles in its official agricultural journals. This year the Argentine Republic has issued patents to the Moscow Company, and negotiations are pending with Argentina for the erection of a new machine factory at Buenos Ayres. When informed that the Moscow, Idaho, company was unable to meet the home demand, steps were at once taken by the department of agriculture of Argentina to finance and build a factory with home money. Argentina is also as ideal for the "Idaho" as is the Idaho Falls country, and so vast is the wheat area there that it will require more than 10,000 of these harvesters to handle the crop."

"For the past seven years the Moscow company has been producing in time and every available cent in command to the perfection of the machine. Originally we had a four-foot machine that looked no more imposing than an ordinary wheelbarrow and a job of six-hundred stone pile. But that year we harvested a hundred acres, and by hard, persistent work have produced, in seven seasons, a nine-foot harvester, that has attracted the serious attention of every grain-growing country on the globe. "In a nutshell, the Idaho does perfect threshing at a cost far below any other machine ever invented. We claim the Idaho will put grain in the sack for a dollar an acre, and that the farmer gets the dollar. This claim is to a surprising degree borne out by the experience of the farmers who used this harvester in this section last season. W. L. Shattuck, one of our most prominent farmers, used one last year, and his experience makes interesting reading."

"The Register will make an effort to get an interview from Mr. Shattuck, that the farmers may know just what it cost him per acre, and how, as compared with other harvesters, the 'Idaho' performed. The Register has no particular interest in the 'Idaho,' but this paper has a vital interest in what ever makes for the prosperity of the farmers. If the 'Idaho' can reduce the cost of harvesting, thus increasing the profits of the producer, this paper will be only too glad to acquaint the farmers with the facts. Idaho Falls Register."

FILED NEWS.

(Piler Journal.)

Mrs. McCaw was a Twin Falls visitor Monday.

Dr. Courtney went to Holase on a business trip last Saturday.

Mrs. Shearer and mother, Mrs. Bolens, were Twin Falls visitors Monday. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vanhaugh and daughter Zella, spent Sunday with Twin Falls friends.

Earl and Ora Maynard came out on the 4th with brass banding new Studio-baker buggies.

Miss Minerva Stevens came up from Bogert on the 3rd for a short visit with home folks.

Mrs. I. S. Lambing returned home Monday from a four days visit with Twin Falls relatives.

Quite a number of Sucker Flat and Piler people enjoyed themselves at Crystal Springs on the Fourth.

Higgenbotham & Ellis were the lowest bidders on the school house in District No. 22. This firm also secured the contract for building the new M. E. church.

The awning in front of Strauss' clothing store was blown down by the wind Monday night. One end had become loosened a few nights before and when this weakened it did not take much of a breeze to do the rest.

E. F. Crow of Boise, father of Mrs. Sam Whitney, spent several days here last week. Mr. Crow has lived for several years in the Boise valley, but admits that when it comes to riding the South Side Twin Falls tract beats anything he has ever seen.

C. B. Taylor, the hotel man, has added a much needed improvement to his hostelry—that of a short order lunch counter. He is prepared to take care of the public now in any manner they desire. When hungry at any hour of the day don't forget you can get served at the hotel.

A. N. Walling and wife of David City, Mo., parents of Mrs. E. C. Graves, are visiting here a few days. They are on their way west to the coast on an extended visit. Mr. and Mrs. Walling visited here about three years ago and were wonderfully impressed with southern Idaho at that time, and are even more so on this, their second visit.

If you care to listen to his fish yarns let Ira Lambing or Elmer Hanz get your ear for a few minutes.

Miss Peterson of Twin Falls, sister of Mrs. L. G. Hill, spent several days visiting here last week. The foundation for a new bungalow on his acre on South Yakima avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Allen entertained the members of the 5th club at their home on Sunday for the Fourth.

Carl Statley, an attorney of Cornish, Iowa, who owns land near Piler, is here on a visit, a guest at the Shiban home.

Mrs. Hoffman, wife of Rev. Hoffman, who formerly resided at the M. E. church here, came down from Murtaugh Monday on a short visit with Piler friends.

The dance at the opera house on Saturday night, was attended by one of the nicest crowds that ever gathered in Piler. While there have been larger crowds we doubt if they ever enjoyed themselves any better.

J. E. Wood writes us from Walla Walla, that they are nicely located and that they like their new home so far very well. In ordering the Journal to his new address, he says: "I am still interested in Piler people, and a letter to me of people I never expect to find." Piler gave up this finally with regret, as they seemed to "fit in" from every point of view. It is not too much to hope that they may come back some day, and if they do they will be warmly welcomed.

Monday evening after the cut-off and range, a number of boys went down to the alfalfa meal mill to have a time. They broke several window lights, took the whang out of the belts and done other damage. It is time right now that something was done to these big husky loafers just emerging into men. Some of them are fit subjects for the reform school and ought to be looked after. If allowed to go unpunished it only means grief for their families later on. We understand that the officers intend to take some steps in this case.

Dick Davis, Claude Whitney, and W. A. Glasgow left for the hills this morning for poles.

V. E. Tittle and wife, sister of Arthur and Grover H. Hanz, arrived in Piler last Tuesday evening from Rapid City, S. D., in a Ford. It took Mr. Tittle 11 days to make the trip overland, a distance of 1152 miles.

NOT KILLED IN MEXICO

"Diamondfield Jack" is Very Much Alike.

"Diamondfield Jack" Davis, the cowboy prospector who was reported as killed in Mexico several months ago, is registered at the Spanish hotel. Mr. Davis, who is interested in southern Sonora, explained that he did not deny the report at that time because the Mexican officials were after him and a party of companions, and his reported death might stop activities.

That his execution was ordered but never accomplished, Mr. Davis says to the friendship of a man, who informed him in time to effect an escape.

Yesterday Mr. Davis called on Judge O. W. Powers, whom he claims as one of his best friends. Judge Powers secured a conviction of Davis for murder in Idaho several years ago, but afterwards came to the conclusion that "Diamondfield" was innocent, and aided materially in obtaining his ex-emption.—Salt Lake Telegram.

CARNIVAL WEEK JULY 28

Splendid Attraction Secured by Twin Falls Commercial Club

The Dore Water Carnival company will be in Twin Falls for the week beginning July 28th, under the auspices of the Twin Falls Commercial club, which promises an unusual attraction in the community.

The main feature of the show are the water sports, consisting of log-rolling, high diving, fancy swimming and a number of electrically controlled water sports which are hard for the spectators to comprehend.

Of course some of the usual carnival games will come with the show, but for the most part this show represents a change of the better class of amusements and will prove a drawing card with the public.

There was a very large crowd at the Moose street carnival last night, larger than on the first evening, and the shows were well patronized. While the water carnival is the big attraction, all the others drew good crowds and pleased the audience.

The Moose arch was illuminated last night for the first time and presented a very pretty appearance. The grounds are illuminated with 1,000 electric lights and made everything look bright and inviting. The high standard of the Dore Water carnival for cleanliness and merit carried out everywhere.

The water show gave its full performance last night and proved a decided novelty so far different from the made the score 4x-0, one in favor of Twin Falls. With three minutes to play, Glasgow, the new pitcher, for Twin Falls, let down for a short time and a fusillade of hits gave the visitors four earned runs with others in eight.

One of the features of the Monday and Tuesday games was the umpiring of Golden of Western League fame, and his manner of conducting the game took the hearts of the most violent fans. No kicking was permitted.

Though playing was not even attempted and the game moved with clocklike precision. Several players tried some of the tabooed stunts and were punished and promptly ejected. It was refreshing. Golden is an umpire all the time and it will be a good stunt to keep him in this neck of the woods for the rest of the season if the finances will permit.

The board of county commissioners, in a communication to the Times, make full explanation of what they propose to do with the money to be derived from the proposed $100,000 bond issue provided the bonds are authorized by the people of the county.

To the Taxpayers of Twin Falls county.

Gentlemen: The board of county commissioners of Twin Falls county after careful consideration of the questions which have been raised by the road and other legislation of the last session of the Idaho legislature, has decided that the best interests of the citizens of Twin Falls county require us to make use of the provision in the constitution for the last legislature providing for road bonds, for the following reasons:

The demand for some progressive road building from a large part of our citizens is so persistent and constant that it is absolutely necessary to spend some money on such construction. Responding to this demand the old board in 1912 levied $15,000 as a direct tax, which we believe is entirely too small to meet the demands of this year in any one year. Hence the present board has decided on a plan involving the expenditure of $100,000 in road and bridge work. This would be a reduction of a little more than 50 per cent in the levy, but still means heavy taxes for this year.

On the other hand, if the bonds are not issued it will be necessary for the county commissioners to levy a very heavy tax to needed road improvements. Condition of roads and bridges in the county in many places means heavy expense this year in order that the county may avoid the possible litigation from damages which may be expected to incur from present condition.

At the same time under the new automobile law Twin Falls county will, under present conditions, be called on to pay into the state road fund about $1000. Seventy per cent of this fund, or about $350, will be saved to the county if bonds are voted, and the amount will pay the interest on our $50,000 bond issue.

We propose, if the bond issue is authorized, to cut the road and bridge levies to the minimum for 1913, and the same amount for 1914.

We propose to give the labor provided for the road improvements to Twin Falls county citizens as far as possible.

We submit this statement to your organization for your careful consideration and with the request that, in your judgment, the proposition merit the support of the county. We ask all citizens to work for the bond issue, for better roads and for lower taxes for the next two years.

Respectfully submitted,

H. C. TAYLOR,
O. E. CARLSON,
G. O. ZUCK.

BORAH FOR PRESIDENT

Washington Papers Predict That He Will Be Republican Nominee.

(Special Correspondence.)
Washington, D. C., July 15.—"The Presidential Race for Senator Borah," says the Washington Times of July 14. The article is as follows:
"Politically speaking, they are keeping an eye on Senator William E. Borah of Idaho about the senate, as well as in Washington generally. Regarding the fact that Senator Borah has recently written a letter to a Kansas politician to the effect that he has not yet decided whether he intends to keep that pernicious insect pretty completely ignored away from him, a good many Republicans are not much interested in the nomination of Borah as an extremely available for the 1916 nomination."

"Senator Borah indicated in his recent letter that he did not want any of the relatives to the presidency coming between himself and the work he is trying to do in the senate. In this he is doubtless sincere. He has seen enough of the ravages of the microscope as it has affected many public men, so that he is under no illusions about the possibility of it. Still, there is no doubt that at this time numerous Republicans in congress look on Borah as extremely available for the 1916 nomination."

Must Nominate Progressive.
"Even the most realistic of the old guard politicians realize that if the Republican party is going to make any sort of showing in the 1916 field, a progressive must be nominated. It is not probable that there will be in the next Republican convention any of that sort of blind and obstinate indifference to the nomination of a candidate obnoxious to the progressive men in the party, a course which split the Republican party and got nowhere except for all time. The regulars will be as ready as anyone to accept the nomination of a man of the type of Borah, Cannon, La Follette, Kenyon, Norris or Hoadley."

"Of course the lightning might fall on any one of a number of progressive Republicans in congress. But there has for some time been more talk of Borah than of any other. He would command the support of both wings of the Republican party and would do it without effort."

Is Protective Tariff Man.
"Borah is a protective tariff man, though not a believer in extreme high duties. He favors a moderate protective tariff, free from graft features and devices that benefit interests. No man at this distance can guess whether, in 1916, the country will turn toward protection or whether it will find the Democratic bill, as the tariff free list, beneficial or whether it will demand radical steps in the direction of free trade."

"So much depends on the workings of the new tariff law that intellectual speculation can hardly be indulged in. At best, opinions on this point are conjecture. Should the pendulum swing in the direction of protection the moderate protectionists of the Borah type would be in a strait position. Whatever happens, there will not be, for years at least, any return to the extreme duties of the Dingley bill and the Payne bill."

Would Command Labor Vote.
"Senator Borah would command a large labor vote. The part he took in the last congress as chairman of the Education and Labor committee in working for the department of labor bill, the prominence he has had in the West Virginia investigation, and his generally friendly attitude toward organized labor or would insure this. He has not been as progressive on tariff as other progressive Republicans, largely because he has been embarrassed by the fact that the demand for high protection from Idaho is usually strong."

"But on the question of regulation of railroads and of corporations, he has taken advanced ground. In general, he is in line with the progressive measures in the senate. He has achieved a reputation to be coveted as a constitutional lawyer, and has one of the finest legal minds in congress. One objection that would probably be found to him would be that, as a man from the Rocky Mountain country, he was not as friendly to the Pinchot conservation policies as the conservationists would like."

Senator Borah is keeping up the fight to open up Yellowstone National Park to automobile traffic. He has received the following letter from Prof. Miller, who is at the head of the division of national parks in the interior department, and which indicates that favorable action may be taken in the matter:

Washington, D. C., July 2, 1915.
My Dear Senator:—I am in receipt of your note of July 2, with enclosure, and I am sending a note to Colonel Brett urging his co-operation with you in the matter of experimental tests of automobile traffic on the upper section of the roads of the Yellowstone park, this summer, and asking him to transmit a plan of operation as early as practicable. I am sure that you are that a beneficial result will be made, but I am also anxious that we shall not prejudice the success of the enterprise by hasty action, but believe the matter can be satisfactorily arranged and safeguarded. As soon as I hear from Colonel Brett, I will advise you.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) ADOLPH C. MILLER,
Assistant to the Secretary.

More Fish for Idaho.
Congressman Smith has arranged with the commissioner of fisheries for his active co-operation with the state game warden and the various trap and gun clubs in their effort to stock the streams of Idaho with trout and game fishes. The congressman expressed himself very favorably toward the establishment of a government fish hatchery in Idaho, and Congressman Smith introduced a bill providing for an appropriation of $25,000 for this purpose.

Appropriate blanks will be furnished by Congressman Smith to any one who desires to make application for the supplying of desirable and suitable fish for the stocking of private ponds, lakes or streams, as the government has an ample supply of fish for distribution.

The commissioner of fisheries has also promised to conduct a series of experiments with reference to the culture of salmon in the Snake river with the hope that an ample supply of salmon can be procured.

The Idaho people who attended the Gettysburg celebration report having been an enjoyer of the Senator's speech in commenting on this historic event, said:

"I believe the Gettysburg centennial has done more to join the hands of the north and south in good fellowship than any other one thing since the time of the Civil war. The Gettysburg centennial is considered to be the greatest in the world, and it will go down in history marking one of the greatest events of this age. Although the weather was very warm, the old soldiers enjoyed shaking hands with their comrades and previous foes. Friendship is now in the hearts where opposition once dwelt."

"I sincerely regret that all of the G. A. R., especially those who took part in the Gettysburg battles, were not able to be in attendance and enjoy the hospitality extended and hand shaking of their old comrades, and rehearsing their thrilling stories of the war that once threatened this great nation."

It was a pleasure for the Idahoans to see Mr. W. N. Shilling, of Rupert, Idaho, who participated in the battles on the outskirts of Gettysburg fifty years ago. Although Mr. Shilling is seventy-three years of age, he looks to be but fifty or fifty-five years old, and it was certainly a pleasure to see him enjoying the centennial.

A letter was sent to Representative Burton L. French, Washington, D. C., care of "Bureau of Plant Industry." Of course the letter was not delivered there, but it was re-addressed by drawing a line through the word "Plant," making it read, "Care of the 'Bureau of Industry.'" It was delivered promptly to Mr. French.

WHO STOLE THE ICE-CREAM?

Bold, Bad Man Swiped Ice Cream at Jaridge, the 4th.

Jaridge, Nev., July 12, 1915.
"From time immemorial, or thereabouts," said Society Red on the Fourth, "there have been momentous questions for the free and untrammelled college of a liberty-loving people to settle." "I don't know what he means by that and there's no law to stop a politician to explain what he says on the Fourth of July—but the question that is now putting a gray hair or two in the heads of some of the Jaridge ladies is 'Who stole the ice cream?'"

So absorbed have they become with the above query that for a day or two—well, for half a minute anyway—the still unsettled question, "Who 'staked the punch'?" was forgotten—almost.

The ladies decided to have a real old-fashioned celebration on the Fourth, a celebration which would amuse the young and the old and "the Twins." There were races and sports of all kinds (including a gay old sport from Twin Falls) in the afternoon, and a concert and dance in the evening.

And all, including delicious refreshments, was free.

Then what hurts the ladies' feelings. Everything—except on the grand stand for the races, dancing, concert and refreshments—was free.

And yet someone stole the ice cream.

What's more, he stole it before it was ice cream. The proper ingredients were mixed together, put in the innermost receptacle of the freezer, and ice placed around it. All that it lacked was a dash of salt on the ice and tugging the crank to slow music. That was to come later.

But a bold hand came sooner. When he wheeled the ice cream to "cool his fevered brow," as the lady poet puts it, but the chances are he had been drinking spilled punch and had kicked a fire down where the Warburgers flows. He must have been an amateur bonzer at that, for anyone with experience knows that when a fire starts in the region south-west of the solar plexus the best thing for it is ice water—not ice cream.

Thus the morning after the night before that one with experience awoke a gallon of ice water in two cups, and a miracle and put himself on record, saying: "No blame to the dealer over how good water tastes."

Possibly the thief was a big-hearted fellow who, thinking he was feeling better after drinking a few, wanted to spike the ice cream as the punch had been spiked.

But no matter what his object was, the fact remains that a bold hand stole the ice cream—and stole it before it was ice cream. That's the only side of the matter that is new to us just now. There may be a joke to it, but the ladies have not started to smile about it—yet.

No doubt the bold hand man felt pretty sore himself when, after carting the heavy freezer half way up Bear creek (that's where it was found), he opened it up and discovered he had been too profuse. There was ice and cream all right, all right—but no ice cream.

But who was the bold hand man? The one who answers that can live on the fat of the land for the next few weeks in the local haunts.

Every man in camp is trying to prove an alibi—and the stronger his alibi, the more suspicion points his finger at him.

JAMES F. O'HURIN.

PORTLAND MARKET REPORT.

North Portland, Ore., July 14, 1915.
Receipts for the week have been: Cattle, 1026; calves, 232; hogs, 2125; sheep, 1171.

Cattle market steady to stronger at the close of the week's business. Prime grade steers offered at $2.00 to $2.15, with a few loads at $2.20 and $2.25. The market is steady to strong on a basis of $2.15. Good demand for smooth and ranch heavy hogs. Receipts have been fairly liberal considering the season of the year and fluctuation will doubtless decrease during the next two months.

Buying demand in the hog pens increased materially the latter part of the week; top sold in bulk at $2.00 to $2.15, with a few loads at $2.20 and $2.25. The market is steady to strong on a basis of $2.15. Good demand for smooth and ranch heavy hogs. Receipts have been fairly liberal considering the season of the year and fluctuation will doubtless decrease during the next two months.

Sheep home prices have suffered to some extent during the last six days. Demand to the show demand, the part of the killers. Good fat mutton is not finding a very broad outlet, while lamb values have decreased 25 to 50 cents since prices were at a high point. $5.25 to $5.50; ewes at $1.00; old wethers at $1.00 to $1.25, and lambs at $6.00 represent extreme quotations.

DEMAND THIS LABEL

On all of Your Printed Matter, it represents Good Workmanship, Good Wages, and Good Conditions.

The Times with this label will have its last opportunity to urge the taxpayers of this county to vote for the bridge and bonds bond issue at the election next Wednesday. The reason why the bonds should carry are numerous and should be born in mind by the voters next Wednesday.

First—The bond issue will spread an expense of $100,000 over twenty years of time with about $10,000 coming due each year and for which the levy will be very small.

Second—Unless the bonds are voted at least $75,000 of the amount will have to be collected by direct levy which will be a heavy drain upon the debt-burdened farmer at present. In ten years or less most farmers will be able to better care for direct levy. It is thereby paying for needed improvements upon the installment plan at very low interest rates.

Third—It should be remembered that Twin Falls County, through its automobile owners, is paying approximately $2000 into the state for automobile licenses and that unless this bond issue carries and the road district formed not one cent comes back to be expended upon the roads here. On the other hand, if the bonds are issued, seventy per cent of the above sum will be paid over to the county to pay interest on the bonds which you may vote next Wednesday. That seventy per cent amounts of $2400 or enough to pay interest on over fifty thousand dollars expended for roads in the bond issue. With each year this sum will increase as the number of autos increase.

Fourth—It should be born in mind by the ranchers and residents of the other cities and towns of the county that under the bond issue Not one cent of the bonds you vote can be used within the corporate limits of the city of Twin Falls. It is not a scheme of this city to not roads built at county taxpayers' expense. On the other hand, on direct levy in case the bonds fail, this city would be entitled to seventy-five per cent of the money raised on the city valuation.

Fifth—Bear in mind that good roads under this movement have a direct bearing on the value of your farm property and that distance to the market over good roads bears a striking difference to the distance over poor roads in the sale price and value on your farm holdings.

Sixth—Your taxes have been heavy for the past six years and have drained your resources. Why not let some of the burden fall on the future generation and your future prosperity? Why stand all of the burdens of pioneering with nothing of the good things. The bond issue will hold many years while you are enjoying the benefits which accrue.

Seventh—Don't let Twin Falls county money paid on automobiles go to help other counties. Vote the bonds and keep at least seventy per cent of it at home for your own highways. You are paying enough state taxes as it is.

EIGHTH—The last big reunion of the men who fought at Gettysburg is expected by editorial observers to approach remotely the one of last week, for most of the veterans are nearing an age that forbids such exertions, so the gathering thus takes on a national importance. Indeed, the handclasp of former foes on the very ground where they sought one another's lives is regarded as a lesson in patriotism of the highest sort that is well worth all the exertion and sacrifice of the aged survivors. Many writers are content to reflect on the deep feelings roused by the celebration and the deeper meaning underlying these feelings. They look back on the bitterness of the past, "wiped out by a flow of new sentiments," as the Detroit Free Press says, reminding us that today "from Michigan to Alabama the soldiers of fifty years ago are embold for us others the disappearance of the old and the full birth of the new." It is long that we have been talking about the healing of the scars of war, we are reminded, but the present gathering at Gettysburg was needed to seal up finally the book of the past. Other commentators live over again the strategy of the battle in maps and books, study the causes that brought it about just in the particular manner of its beginning and ending while at the same time they consider the vast consequences of its result and the responsibilities bequeathed to us of today. In the preparations for the reunion somewhere the rumor started that no battle-flags would be permitted to be displayed, but the Union veterans were the first to insist that the Confederate flags should again feel the air they knew fifty years ago; and the Charleston News and Courier remarks:

"This is as it should be. . . . It was hard to see how the display of the shirt-collars could lead to discord of any sort, and it was difficult to understand why those in charge of the Gettysburg celebration should have deemed it proper that only the Stars and Stripes should float above the field on which the Stars and Stripes also won a bloody story. Without the presence of the South's banner, the celebration of the anniversary could not have been complete; and no matter how void of offense the motive back such a request might have been, many Southern veterans could not have helped resenting it if they were asked to leave their colors at home."

The risk incurred by the veterans, considering their age, in making the journey to Gettysburg in the most heated term of the year, which was feared from the start, has been witnessed in the prostration of many and even in the death of several. How this risk was envisaged by a thorough soldier may be read in the statement of a man 70 years old, reported in the New York Evening Post. His wife expressed her concern for him and he told her:

"This is most likely the last chance I'll have to do anything for the Union, and I'd like to do it fifty years from the time the Union was served. It's going to mean something to all the younger generation to have us old fellows get together and show there isn't any hard feeling. It will take away the last excuse for the young people to cherish any sectional hatred. It's a duty we owe the country, about the figure out I ought to do it."

An idea of the terrible mortality on the same field when the actual battle was on is conveyed vividly in the reminder of the Chicago Journal that, "In fifteen minutes the First Minnesota lost 215 men killed and wounded out of 262." The Twenty-sixth North Carolina went in July 1 with 800 men, and came out July 3 with eighty still fit for service, and a captain in command. He was the only captain left in the regiment. The Twenty-fourth Michigan lost seven color-bearers the first day; the North Carolina regiment went out alone lost eleven. The "Iron Brigade" fought till it was almost annihilated, and the Confederate chieftain who drove those heroes back at last admirably reports that their dead marked the line of battle as accurately as if on dress parade."

Technically, as the Chicago Tribune notes, Gettysburg was a drawn battle, although really a Union victory because Lee was forced to retreat. ## NORTH AND SOUTH ROAD

State Engineer King Inspects Route and Approves Salmon River Road.

State Engineer F. P. King, working with the state road commission, arrived in Grangeville on Sunday evening's stage from Meadows. He represented the state road commission, who held him at the Idaho county, who where he has been for some time in connection with the work on the mines of that section, and who, being one of the best posted men in the state on the Salmon River country, assisted Mr. King in taking notes and making estimates on the cost of the proposed new north and south road on the trip to White Bluffs and Grangeville. Mr. King was entertained while here by the Commercial club, and the citizens met Mr. King the next day before his departure and offered him every possible encouragement in his work, with such information as they possessed. Mr. King is making a preliminary inspection of the route, which he proposed to build a north and south boulevard connecting the two extremes of the state, the work to be carried out under the supervision of the new state highway commission.

At the meeting with the citizens Mr. King was an old friend of Governor Haines, stated that the governor is a warm advocate and supporter of this north and south road project, and that the people of northern Idaho could count upon his doing everything in his power to bring about the construction of this new state trunk line road at the earliest date possible. Mr. King said that there was no doubt but that the route down the Salmon River from Meadows, through the old and out to Camanche Prairie afforded the most practicable and feasible line along which to construct the new road.

Mr. King was accompanied from this place to Cottonwood by Walter Hovey Hill, Charles Parsons, A. P. Parker and J. A. Turner. In the latter's party, and most of the route to the west side town being followed and inspected. The Lewiston party composed of J. J. Turner, road commissioner, and County Engineer Booth of Nez Perce county, met Mr. King at Cottonwood where he had back over the route to Lewiston. They were accompanied on the return trip by Eugene Hill, who rendered Mr. King every assistance in the work. The state engineer sees no difficulty in constructing a splendid trunk line across the prairie at a nominal cost. At this time no other route was known which can be of greater benefit to the country than the construction of this proposed trunk line road.

From the time Mr. King's plans provide for going to Sandpoint and Wallace where he will meet members of the commission and will later go north to inspect proposed routes in the Twin Falls section. President Turner of the highway commission, who is making the trip here with Mr. King, but was called back to Pocatello.

Few persons, comparatively speaking, are acquainted with the proposed plan of building and maintaining the national highways and especially the connecting link between north and south Idaho. With the construction of the three government roads across the continent that will follow the Santa Fe, the Great Northern and the northern route two of them will cross this state. One will pass through the south portion of the state, the other through the north portion will cross the panhandle portion of Idaho in the north. The state highway commission is now considering the best route to connect the two main thoroughfares. On the journey north at this time State Engineer King will be followed by an engineering crew which will be the preliminary step in establishing the route. Its feasibility is to be first determined. The commission will then determine the exact route after taking into consideration all of the conditions that exist on several proposed locations of the highway.

The construction of this connecting link is to be paid for through a bond issue by the state of $200,000,000, and the revenue to be collected from the annual tax now levied upon motor vehicles in Idaho. There is now over $200,000,000 available from this source. With these funds a splendid road can be made and later on other aid will be rendered the enterprise. Such a highway is now in great demand and no effort will be spared in hastening construction.

There is another feature concerning the building of the national highways that has not been mentioned in this publicity. Under the present laws a county can vote a bond issue to pay for the construction of the road with in its borders and in order to secure the road within its confines the county must pay 60 per cent of its original cost. After construction the road is maintained by the state. Any county voting bonds will be entitled to 70 per cent of the auto tax collected within its boundaries, the balance of 30 per cent to be paid to the state in a sinking fund and discharge the community's debt. In this way there is no general tax on the state, but the road automatically pays for itself.

Unless the funds are raised by the county the entire motor vehicle tax goes into the coffers of the state. The road active work is now needed to secure the location of the national connecting link between north and south Idaho. The construction of the two avenues of travel means much to every community that they traverse and nothing should be overlooked by the citizens in their efforts to secure their influence to bear and doing their full part toward securing both roads for Idaho county—Grangeville Globe.

BANK ROBBED BY WHITNEY

Idaho Desperado Gets $3800 From Highly Bank.

That it was Hugh Whitney, notorious Wyoming and Idaho desperado, who held up the bank at Rigby Tuesday afternoon, escaping with $3800; that he eluded Sheriff Hovey, by swimming around by Willow creek and back to the main line of the Short Line at Pocatello; that he boarded train No. 3, southbound, early yesterday morning, alighting at Pocatello and taking eastbound train No. 6, bound for his Wyoming haunts; that a madman in taking notes and making estimates on the cost of the proposed new north and south road on the trip to White Bluffs and Grangeville, Mr. King was entertained while here by the Commercial club, and the citizens met Mr. King the next day before his departure and offered him every possible encouragement in his work, with such information as they possessed. FOREST NOTES.

France has spent $35,000,000 in planting trees on the watersheds of important streams.

According to the Canadian Forestry Association, 60 per cent of Canada is capable of growing nothing but timber crops.

Ammonia bombs are being tried out on some of the national forests for the purpose of extinguishing forest fires. They are said to have worked well in the case of brush fires where the firefighters find difficulty in getting near enough to the burning area to beat out the flames. Each bomb exploded will extinguish fire in a circle of about five yards in diameter.

The Western Pacific railway has instructed its engineers to report fires along the right of way where it traverses the Plumas national forest, California. The location of fires is indicated on a card, dropped by the engineer or fireman to the next section crew met after the fire is discovered. It is the duty of that part of the section crew to go back on handcars or speeders and put out the blaze.

More persons make use of the national forests in Utah than in any other state. Nearly 27 per cent of all the permits for sheep and cattle grazing on the forests are taken out in this state. This does not mean, however, that Utah carries one-fourth of all the national forest cattle and sheep. It happens that many small grazing interests make use of the forests there, and individual flocks and herds are larger elsewhere.
