

CHAMPIONSHIP BASEBALL GAMES

Twin Falls Will Have Best Ball Games of the Season

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY OF THIS WEEK: BOGATELLO VS. LOCALS.

Next Week Bancroft, Champions of Southern Idaho, Will Play Twin Falls—Five Good Games

The Twisted Falls basketball team will have the opportunity of seeing some of the finest ball of the season. On Saturday, the team will undoubtedly arrive to cross battle with the local team. The Saturday game will start at 5:45, this will also be ladies day as well as all the ladies are invited to the grounds. On Sunday, commencing at two p. m., a double header will be played, the first game will be a consolation. The bunch from Pontoiac are coming to try and wipe out the defeats of the past and three good, fast players will be added.

A series of five games are booked for next week, commencing Friday night, the first game will be a double header will be for five games. Friday's game will be started at 5:45, the game Saturday will commence at 5:45 and Sunday at 2:00. The last game will be at two o'clock. Labor day, September 10, two games will be played, the first game will be at 5:45 a. m. and the second at 3:00 p. m.

The Hancock team is the champion of southeastern Idaho, and have won all the games they have played during this season. Every fan of Twisted Falls knows what the local players are capable of.

The management of the Twin Falls association will be at a heavy expense in getting the Bascroft aggregation here and it is to be hoped that every fan in the city and surrounding country will be on hand to boost for the home team. W. E. Golden will be on hand and will handle the indicators.

O. A. Boyle, president and general manager of the Boyle Commission company, with headquarters in Wichita, tion, Kansas, of which the company has been a client for a number of years. The tract Wednesday was under the guidance of C. L. DeLong, a local land agent, and Mr. Boyle, during the day trip expects to cover a large tract of land in the northwestern part of the state. He was accompanied by a party of five, including his wife, who visited forty branch buying houses. His visit to this tract occupied more time than he expects to devote to his other homes, owing to the fact that he is in such a hurry to get to his first view of the territory. In traveling over the Minotoka, North Side and Twin Falls tracts about one hundred miles, he was accompanied by Mr. Boyle, who last night thoroughly discussed with the brigst prospectors. While noting the lack of transportation facilities and the meager population of the country, Mr. Boyle pointed out the large parts of the territory traversed by Mr. Boyle stated that in his estimation when these two problems were solved that nothing could keep back the advance of civilization.

Mr. Boyle when asked about a

As an active member in Wichita, Kansas circles Mr. Boyle is identified with the Arkansas Valley Interstate line, which has done so much to develop that country and holds the office of vice president and general manager of that corporation. He is also one of the "financiers" back of the half million dollar hotel building in Wichita. Owing to his being identified with the growth of that city, Mr. Boyle was greatly interested in growth here, and the wonderful work being done by plaster residents in this short space.

The question of cutting down expense in the public schools should strike home pretty forcibly when the enormous delinquent tax list is considered. People who cannot pay their taxes this year under a very light comparative taxation will be strictly up against it next year when with the levy nearly the limit they will be taxed on full valuation as against a forty per cent valuation for the past year. It will stagger many more who were able to pay last year's taxes. In the face of this the school district budget calls for more money and more teachers and a broader scope of work. It would seem to the thoughtful taxpayers that retrenchments can and must be made until the big $61,000 floating indebtedness is wiped out. Rather than lose the financial good name of the school district all of the frills and so-called new lines of study should be absolutely wiped off the slate. Let the schools get down to the basis of the ordinary school systems until the resources of the district will warrant luxuries. The Times believes in the so-called diversified lines of study, providing that the resources of the taxpayers is not drained to meet them. When they are, it is time to stop, and that time has come. Domestic science, manual training, art, music, agricultural training and several others come under the head of such luxuries. They should be cut off until every penny of the floating indebtedness is paid up. There should be no more heroes about hurrying the name of the Twin Falls schools. If we have been foolish in the past regarding the schools, then it is no reason why we should continue to be foolish. The Times believes that at least fifteen thousand dollars can be cut off from the estimate of the superintendent for the coming year. It also believes that in justice to the thousands of struggling households in the county that it is the one thing that should be done. The Times will admit that it will be hard to cut off some things that have been added to the curriculum, but better than a bankrupt district or disheartened and over-burdened taxpayers.

MUZZLE THE BULL DOGS.

There is scarcely a day passes in which from one to two dog fights occur on the streets of this city. In nearly every case it is a bull dog that starts the hostilities. Water, fire and clubs are resorted to to separate the vicious creatures from their victims. In several cases by-standers have been bitten in the attempt to stop the fights. It is high time that an ordinance is passed ordering all dogs running at large to be muzzled or at least the bull dogs and bull terriers. Other cities have ordinances of this kind, made necessary by the same trouble which is prevalent here. There is no other class of dogs giving as much trouble or as completely useless as the bull dog species. If a man wants to have a fighting dog following at his heels he should have the right to do so provided that dog is not a menace or a nuisance to the rest of the people. A good substantial muzzle would stop the fights and not interfere with the liberty of the bull dogs.

MAKING A NATIONAL CAPITAL TO ORDER.

Now that the new federal capital of the Australian commonwealth has been chosen and named, its further disposition is of interest. Its name is to be Canberra, after the name of the district in New South Wales in which it is situated. The foundation stone of the capital was recently laid by Lord Dunsen, the governor general of the commonwealth. But by far the most interesting and inspiring feature of the Australian capital is the fact that the design of the building is the work of Walter Burley Griffin, of Chicago. And not only this, to the credit of this country he said that Mr. Griffin has been asked to design the capital city itself. His plans cover an area of twenty-five square miles, and provide for an immediate population of seventy-five thousand people. What is specially interesting in the Griffin design is that it is similar to L'Enfant's plan of Washington in having radial thoroughfares—that is to say, the streets radiate from one principal center to other centers, from which in turn thoroughfares radiate to subordinate centers. But it does not, as in Washington, superimpose this radial system upon a "grilliron" system. It brings in the subordinate streets at right angles to the main avenues, thus avoiding the acute angles often found objectionable for building purposes. Mr. Griffin's plan is also complete as to cover street railway systems, steam railway lines, commercial and manufacturing and residential districts. What the name of Pierre de L'Enfant signifies in American city planning the name of Griffin is likely to signify in Australia city planning.—The Outlook.

BURNING QUESTIONS.

The immigration question is a burning one on the Pacific coast and the fullest liberty of speech was given from the platform. The question of effort to present plans for reaching through state or through national action the standards which were so clearly set forth at the preceding conference. Especially interesting was the discussion of the present status of minimum wage legislation by Mrs. Florence Kelley, showing how rapidly the idea is spreading through the western states and how thoroughly feasible and practical the plan appears to be. One of the most animated discussions of the session was that on the work of the juvenile court. There is a pretty thorough agreement among social workers that the sentimental era for the juvenile court has about passed, and that there is great danger lest the political opportunities for rewards and punishments shall be too greedily grasped by the bosses who still rule many of our cities. One of the most thoughtful papers of the conference was by Lewis Merriam, assistant chief of the federal children's bureau, on the aims and objects of the bureau. It seemed to be the general opinion that women's suffrage will contribute more and more largely to these problems, as these questions are of special interest to the women voters. It was probably a surprise to many eastern visitors to note how earnestly the coast cities, with the apparent exception of San Francisco, are attempting to solve the problem of commercialized prostitution and how effectively they have succeeded in suppressing this evil. The conference accepted with great regret the resignation of Alexander Johnson, long time its secretary, and thoroughly identified with all the causes of social reform for which the conference stands. Mr. W. T. Cross, secretary of the Missouri state board of charities and correction, who has done splendid executive work in his own state, was elected secretary of the conference. The other officers elected were Graham Taylor, of Chicago, president; A. J. McKelway, of Washington, D. C., first vice president; Mrs. John M. Glenn, of New York, second vice president; and Mr. W. A. Gates, of San Francisco, third vice president. The conference accepted a hearty invitation to meet at Memphis, Tennessee, next year.—The Outlook.

oriental immigration, however, hardly came to the front at all, the overwhelming issue apparently being the expected wave of European immigration that will strike the Pacific coast upon the opening of the Panama canal. The two views of restricting immigration in the interests of better living and working conditions for the American workman and of continuing the attitude of welcome to America for all immigrants without restriction were duly presented by their respective champions; and, as is usual with this question, it may be reported, in congressional language, that the "committee came to no conclusion thereon." ## WASHINGTON NEWS

Idaho Delegation Busy Looking After Needs of Idaho.

(Special Correspondence)

Idaho Not Getting Fair Deal.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Senator Brady is following up the work recently started by him for the survey of the unsurveyed land in the state of Idaho, the proper listing and classifying of same, so that homesteaders when filing on land will know exactly whether it is classified as mineral, agricultural, or whether set aside by the department of the interior for power purposes or reclamation projects, received from Hon. C. M. Bruce, assistant commissioner general land office, department of the interior, the following letter in answer to a request made by Senator Brady for a comparative list of surveys of the various states, and which shows that Idaho's percentage of surveyed lands is very low:

Hon. James H. Brady, United States Senator, Washington, D. C.
My dear Senator: Replying to your letter of the 7th instant, I have the honor to advise you that the states in which all public lands have been surveyed are as follows: Alabama, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, Oklahoma and Wisconsin.

In Colorado, Florida, Louisiana, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming, surveys are practically complete (i. e. over 90 per cent).

In the following states, I submit areas and percentage of surveyed lands to June 30, 1913:

Arizona—Area, 72,927,600; surveyed, 22,364,862; per cent. 30.
California—Area, 99,898,880; surveyed, 78,912,464; per cent. 78.
Idaho—Area, 62,418,067; surveyed, 29,190,430; per cent. 47.
Montana—Area, 93,286,640; surveyed, 63,574,697; per cent. 68.
Nebraska—Area, 70,235,440; surveyed, 40,298,835; per cent. 57.
New Mexico—Area, 70,401,820; surveyed, 64,755,188; per cent. 76.
Oregon—Area, 61,185,480; surveyed, 50,655,637; per cent. 82.
Utah—Area, 62,597,760; surveyed, 26,212,744; per cent. 42.
Washington—Area, 42,775,040; surveyed, 33,674,148; per cent. 78.
Alaska has an area of 378,165,760 acres with a total of 62,604 acres surveyed to June 30, 1913.

Very respectfully,

(Signed) C. M. BRUCE,

Asst. Commissioner.

In commenting on this letter Senator Brady had the following to say: "I fully sustain my contention that Idaho is not receiving a fair deal relative to the survey of her lands. Looking at the states adjoining her, Montana has 68 per cent surveyed, Washington 78 per cent surveyed, Oregon 82 per cent surveyed, and Wyoming 90 per cent surveyed.

"Idaho has settled up faster than any of the other states, and is entitled to have just as large a per cent of her lands surveyed as the others, and I hope to see this accomplished in the near future."

Smith Says Dornb Should Have Credit.

"One of Congressman Smith's characteristics is that of frankness, and a desire to give credit to whom it is due, as is illustrated in the following letter to Editor Dornb of the Twin Falls Chronicle:

"House of Representatives,

"Washington, D. C., Aug. 5, 1913.

"Mr. Thos. Dornb, Twin Falls, Ida.
"Dear Mr. Dornb: In your issue of the 29th ult., I observe that you state that a handsome bronze tablet made from metal taken from the battle of Maine has been placed in the public library through my efforts. While I would gladly endeavor to have the Snake River filled with battleships if it would be any benefit to the Twin Falls country, I regret to say that I am not entitled to credit for securing this tablet for the library as I knew nothing about the matter until I read the item referred to in your paper. Some other friend of Twin Falls is no doubt responsible for having this tablet forwarded to the library.

"Sincerely yours,

"ADDISON T. SMITH."

On inquiring at the navy department it was ascertained that the medal referred to had been forwarded at the request of Senator Dornb.

Department Expert to Spokane.
Representative Burton L. French at the request of the Idaho-Oregon Fruit Growers association has taken, up with the secretary of agriculture, Mr. Houston, the idea of sending an expert from the department to Spokane, Wash., to study the methods of the North Pacific Fruit Distributors organization whereby upon a non-profit and co-operative basis this organization handles and markets the fruit of Idaho, Oregon, Washington and Montana, handling 60 per cent of the product of these states.

Senator Brady Narrowly Escapes Death in Wreck.

Senator Brady was appointed a member of the senate committee to attend the funeral of the late Senator Joseph F. Johnson, held at Birmingham, Sunday, July 10, 1913.

Senator Brady and the other members of the party had a miraculously narrow escape from death in a wreck that occurred just as the funeral train was rounding a curve between North Carolina. The train was running at a rate of about forty-five miles an hour when the rails spread. The engine and four coaches went over the bank, the baggage car turning completely over and two of the other cars thrown at least fifty feet from the track. The car carrying the committee, family, and baggage did not leave the rails, but everybody was badly shaken up. The fireman, who was seriously injured, was buried beneath the engine but later dragged out, the mail clerk also received slight injuries. Parties who saw the wreck said it was almost impossible to conceive of a train being so badly smashed up without anybody being killed. The committee returned to Washington by special train Monday.

In speaking of the matter, Senator Brady said: "We had just finished our lunch and returned to our car when the wreck came. We were all very badly shaken up, and I knew as soon as the crash came that it was a railroad accident and grabbed the sides of the seat to brace myself until the cars had stopped bumping over the rails. While our car did not leave the track, or rather the ties, it ran about the length of the car on the ties and you can imagine the shaking up that we got. It was fortunate that we had finished our meal for the dining car was thrown entirely off the track, all tables were broken and several of the waiters slightly bruised. I noticed one of the boys with his hand cut quite severely. It was a narrow squeak and we all feel thankful that we are alive."

Idaho Man Receives Appointment.
Prof. Hyman T. French of Caldwell, Idaho, has been appointed director of farm management work for the state of Oregon in the further completion of the farm extension work that is being done through the activities of the agricultural department and the several states. Similar men have been selected for the states of Michigan, Nebraska and Iowa.

Prof. French is regarded as one of the ablest men of scientific and practical agriculture in the United States. He was for eleven years head of the agricultural department of the University of Idaho and prior to that was professor of agriculture of the University of Oregon.

RIGHT OF STATE UPHELD

Judge Dietrich Renders Decision of Importance to Water Users.

A decision of extreme importance to water users in the state as well as to the companies supplying the water was handed down by Judge Dietrich in the federal court yesterday afternoon in the case of the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings bank of Chicago, against the King Hill Irrigation & Power company, and others. The decision which is a memorandum one is a partial victory for the plaintiff and at the same time raises a new precedent relative to the rights of the state of Idaho to certain trusts for settlers upon Carey act lands.

The decision handed down by Judge Dietrich is on a motion to strike out a bill of intervention made by the state of Idaho. In his decision Judge Dietrich denies the motion of and makes clear the rights of the state to continue in the case as the representative of the settlers upon Carey act land.

Judge Dietrich's decision is as follows: "The general conclusions reached are, that the plaintiff's mortgage or trust deed is not void or invalid by reason of its being in violation of the mortgage to execute such an instrument, and that in this proceeding the state cannot litigate the general question whether or not the mortgagee completed the irrigation system covered by its contract with the state, and otherwise complied with the terms of the contract. It is further concluded that the state in a sense represents, and is trustee for, the purchasers of water rights from the state, and that under general equity rule 37, which provides that 'anyone claiming an interest in the litigation may at any time be permitted to assert his right by intervention, but the intervention shall be in subordination to, and in recognition of, the propriety of the main proceeding.' It may intervene upon their behalf, and indeed in its own right as a land owner, to protect the subdivision of water rights, and to prevent a decree prejudicial to its interests and those of the water right holders. It is true that in view of the position taken by the plaintiff, and set forth in its brief, there does not appear to be any intention or purpose upon the part of the plaintiff to infringe upon such rights, but at the same time it is entirely possible that a different contention might at any time be made, and there is reason why all water users should in some manner be represented, for the purpose of seeing that any decree which may be entered will be subject to the rights of those who are superior in law to the rights of the plaintiff.

"In harmony with these views, the motion to dismiss the complaint in intervention will be denied, upon the condition and with the express understanding that such movements therein contained as attempted to raise the issue of the completion of the irrigation system and of compliance with the terms of the contract between the plaintiff and the state need not be traversed by the complainant or any other party to the suit. Such a question it is thought is not subject to the court's action exhibited by the bill, and if the state desires to litigate it, it may bring a separate action for that purpose. It follows, of course, that any decree entered in this suit will be without prejudice to that question."

H. P. Shawhan, receiver for the irrigation company, filed a report and made certain recommendations. These have been set for a hearing on September 17.—Statesman.

STATE FURNISHES VACCINE

Board of Health Will Furnish Typhoid Vaccine Free for Asking.

The state board of health will furnish free typhoid vaccine to physicians of the state who care to use it free of charge to those who apply for treatment, according to the following letter received by Nampa medical men:

Dear Doctors: The state board of health at a recent meeting, decided to supply typhoid vaccine free of charge to those physicians who will agree to make use of the vaccine without charge to those who apply for treatment.

Kindly use the enclosed form to inform us whether we can have your cooperation in this matter.

By securing the aid of the best physicians throughout the state we hope to materially reduce the occurrence of typhoid in Idaho.

A list will be compiled of those physicians in each town who are willing to do this work. This list will be published in the various newspapers of the state.—Nampa Leader.

PRESBYTERIAN FLOWER SHOW

Fourth Annual Event Promises to be a Splendid Affair.

The fourth annual flower show, to be given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church on Thursday of next week, promises to be the best that has yet been held. The big annual event grows in interest each year and in promoting interest in flower culture it is of far-reaching influence and importance.

The event will be held in the Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon and evening, and besides the flower show, for which a very nominal charge of ten or fifteen cents will be made, there will be an apron sale, there will also be a Japanese tea room where tea will be served; a booth where delicious home-made candies will be sold; ice cream and cake will be served by the King's Daughters under the direction of Mrs. Crozier and Mrs. Stier, and, beginning at 6 o'clock in the evening, a delicious lunch will be served in the basement. There will also be given a splendid musical program under the direction of Mrs. Tucker, who will be assisted by Miss Albright, the well-known violinist. This program will be given early in the evening.

Mrs. Bryant, chairman of the committee in charge of the event, and she is assisted by all the ladies of the Presbyterian church and others. The event is a public affair and all are invited to participate in it. It is urged that any one having beautiful flowers should enter them in this exhibit, that it may be a splendid success. First and second prize ribbons will be awarded for the flower exhibits in the various classes. Vases and flowers for decorations are also solicited. Previous flower shows held here have been a source of great interest and enjoyment and always presented a most beautiful sight. Nowhere do flowers bloom more luxuriously than here and it is indeed a treat to see assembled such an array of handsome, fragrant flowers as are displayed at these flower exhibits gathered from over the tract and throughout the city.
