LOST RIVER CASE DECIDED

Circuit Court of Appeals Affirms Judge Dietrich

PRESIDENT COMING THIS WEEK TO TALK WITH LAND BOARD.

Contractors Have Made Financial Arrangements Sale to Be Conducted.

Practically all obstacles to the completion of the Big Lost River irrigation project were removed Monday, when word was received here by wire that the United States court of appeals at San Francisco had handed down its decision in the litigation which has involved the project since 1910.

The court of appeals upholds Judge Dietrich of the Idaho district court of the United States district court, who ruled in favor of the mechanical men of the Corey Bros. Construction company, entered a judgment of approximately $450,000 in favor of that concern, and ordered a receiver's sale to satisfy it.

There is little chance of an appeal being taken from the decision of the court of appeals, and it is believed the project will now be reorganized and completed without loss of time.

The Big Lost River project was taken over by G. S. Spear, vice president of the Crowl Bros. & Niver company of Chicago, in 1909. He made the contract with the state land board and organized the Big Lost River Land & Irrigation company. He also organized the Western Loan & Mortgage company, which he owned. The Western Loan & Mortgage company in turn owned all but five shares of the Big Lost River company's stock. The Big Lost River company was incorporated for $1,000,000 shares at $1 each.

Spear paid the old Lost River company $170,000 for the project. He issued $1,375,000 of first mortgage bonds against it and $400,000 of second mortgage bonds. Only $200,000 of the second mortgage bonds are outstanding.

The contract for the building of the irrigation system was let to the Corey company. The contractors have been paid about $1,000,000. At the time the judgment was handed down, the Corey company owned the Corey company $250,000. That, with interest and costs makes the judgment about $450,000.

The Corey filed their mechanic's lien in August, 1909. They did not undertake to foreclose on it, however, until after the judgment was handed down. When they did attempt to foreclose the bondholders' committee, headed by H. B. Riley, president of the Corey company, and the Western Loan & Mortgage company, intervened and contested the right of the construction company to foreclose.

The evidence was taken before a referee, and afterward the case was argued before Judge Dietrich. On December 27, 1912, he entered a decree in favor of the Corey Bros. An appeal was taken and the case argued before the court of appeals.

More than $1,000,000 has been spent in actual construction on the Big Lost River project. Of this amount $250,000 was spent on the Mackay dam. All the main canals and nearly all the laterals have been completed. Water is now being delivered on approximately 2500 acres of the 100,000 included in the project.

It is estimated that it will take $1,500,000 to complete the project. The work already done is said to have stood up well, but nevertheless a great deal of repair work must be done, and the dam reconstructed under a revised plan that will add greatly to the cost of the structure.

The project will be sold to satisfy the Corey Bros. judgment. The date has not yet been fixed, but the sale will probably be held within the next 60 days. J. C. Clinton, Jr., the receiver, will act as master of the sale.

The principal part of the work will probably be completed in 1914. It is understood that the Corey Brothers have made tentative financial arrangements.

ASK IDAHO'S HELP

Omaha Boosters Anxious to Prevent Yellowstone Travel Over North Road.

Idaho has been asked to use its influence with the department of the interior to secure a renewal of the contract of the Humphrey-Haynes people, who operate the Montana & Yellowstone stage line in the park, and to assist in the campaign for the reduction of rates through the park and to continue the conditions to keep the greater per cent of the travel in the park through the state of Idaho.

The following letter is from J. B. Hayes of the Omaha Publicity company to the Boise Commercial club on Thursday of the past week:

"The new rail line to western entrance Yellowstone park is attracting thousands of people to your section annually, and it is highly important that the stage service be kept at present high class. Nebraska is with you. Understand Mr. Hayes and associates operating stage line from Yellowstone are willing to reduce present stage rates 20 per cent, which will largely develop this travel. Please have your club, as well as prominent members, write Senator James H. Brady with the interior department to secure such reduction in order to prevent contract for stage line service from the west on north side of park. We must do all we can to retain travel through present channel. Kindly note necessary action at once. Nebraska is with you."

"Nebraska is entering upon a campaign to increase her population. We want every tourist doing the mountain states and Yellowstone park to traverse the length of our great state and view its manifold attractions. The stage line operating from the west to the interior of the park is, as you know, an important factor in promoting the tourist travel through the states and the length of our great state is reduced. We want to do here all we can to preserve the existing arrangements, providing for the interest of the state."

"You are earnestly requested to send telegrams to Senator James H. Brady, United States senator, and to the interior department in favor of a renewal of the Hayes contract. I think your people understand the situation and it is needless for me to go into further detail."—Statesman.

K. H. DIXON CHOSEN SECRETARY

Former Hollister Man Selected Secretary of Hamilton Commercial Club.

The many acquaintances of Karl H. Dixon, formerly publisher of The Hollister News, who was elected secretary of the Hamilton Commercial Club, published at Hamilton, Montana:

"Karl H. Dixon, who has published the Hollister News for several years, several months and came here last Friday, has temporarily accepted the position of secretary of the Hamilton Commercial Club. He is a well-known new duties Monday morning. Mr. Dixon succeeds Irwin Hayden, who resigned the position of secretary of the club, and his selection by the club meets with the hearty approval of the members of the board as well as all who are affiliated with the organization."

"It is understood that Mr. Dixon, who is a well-known booster and well qualified for the position he has accepted. He has worked successfully as a newspaper man, and is a time consumed with the paper. Mr. Dixon has qualifications which especially fit him for his new work. His progress in the past has been a good mixer—he should be a strong factor in the future progress of the Chamber of Commerce in its efforts to the good of Hamilton and the Bitter Root valley."—Hollister Herald.

E. A. HUTTO ACQUITTED

Case Dismissed on Motion of County Attorney of Elko County, Nevada.

Frank A. Hutto returned Sunday from Elko, Nevada, where he had been to appear for trial in the district court of that county. The case was brought up for trial that day of the week. It is understood that the jury in the case had been drawn and were in the jury box when A. M. Bowen of the city, attorney for Hutto, made a motion that the case be dismissed. The matter was then taken under advisement by the judge and the case was dismissed.

The principal part of the work will probably be completed in 1914. It is understood that the Corey Brothers have made tentative financial arrangements.

GOOD YIELD OF SEED PEAS

Buhl Man Reports 22 Bushels to the Acre.

Seed peas are a paying crop for Southern Idaho. Prof. J. M. Markel reports a yield of 22 bushels to the acre for trial that day of the week. It is understood that the jury in the case had been drawn and were in the jury box when A. M. Bowen of the city, attorney for Hutto, made a motion that the case be dismissed. The matter was then taken under advisement by the judge and the case was dismissed.

BOOSTERS IN SHOSHONE

Three Autos From Twin Falls in Shoshone.

Arthur J. Pewsey, Robt. M. McCollum, brought over three automobiles from Twin Falls Wednesday evening to escort President Bush of the Western Pacific and his party from Shoshone to the south side of Idaho. The intention is to give the visitors an opportunity of inspecting the proposed Twin Falls-Wells railroad, which is designed to connect all this section of Idaho in a convenient way for travel.

Something that seems to be a good way beyond the gossip stage of railroad building. Gooding and numbers of other Shoshone residents met and enjoyed the trip.

PRESIDENT BUSH FAILS TO COME

Boise Visit Consumes Too Much Time

BANKERS OF PARTY HASTEN EAST FROM TRIP.

Twin Falls Boosters Disappointed But Not Discouraged Over Failure to Get Financing.

Twin Falls did not get the promised visit from President B. Bush and his party of eastern bankers, due to the Boise-Winnemucca trail intervening to delay his progress. Although he was scheduled to reach Boise Wednesday afternoon and reach here Thursday, he was obliged to telephone Secretary McMillan of the Commercial club, to cancel the promised visit. In the message some consolation was given by the friendly information that they had not forgotten Twin Falls and that the shorter route from Wells via Twin Falls to Boise was under the consideration.

As soon as the news of Mr. Bush's change of plans was announced the following telegram was sent him which was acknowledged by Mr. Bush into Friday, in which the boosting of the tract was shown to be undiminished by the absence of the railroad.

"Twin Falls regrets that you have been compelled to change plans and that you go East without again passing our way. Our feeling of disappointment is shared by representatives of our town in Southern Idaho. Mr. B. Bush, President, Western Pacific R. Co., Boise, Idaho.

ELECTRIC LINE FOR TWIN FALLS TRACT

Road From Hagerman to Castleford Country

That the Hagerman Valley & Twin Falls Tract railroad has been financed and that work will be begun on the road as soon as possible is the good news that reaches Boise.

This is to be an electric line, extending from Tulle, eight miles from Hagerman on the Bliss cut-off of the Great Northern, to Hagerman and on to Buhl and south to Castleford. It is hinted that it may be extended a considerable distance from the latter point, which is in Twin Falls county. The line from the junction point to Buhl is 37 miles in length.

D. B. Wolty of Oklahoma City, and associates, have taken over the contracts and it is stated that bonds have been sold. It is estimated a million dollars is to be put into the venture initially.

This is the enterprise that H. A. Stroud of Hagerman, and others have been working on for a long time. Former State Senator Wolty was an active factor in the reorganization and financing of the important project.—Statesman.

BANCROFT GIVES INTERVIEW

Is Certain That Road South Will Be Built Soon.

Hollister, Nov. 13.—W. H. Bancroft, President of the Oregon Short Line, gave out the following to The Herald on Thursday, in reply to these questions:

"Can you give us any new information on the proposed extension into Nevada? Mr. Bancroft: Our surveys, you know, have just completed a new survey through that country. Do you still intend to build into Wells? Mr. Bancroft: That has not been decided. We are considering going right down through into Palestine. Why has that change been contemplated? Mr. Bancroft: In order to avoid pulling new tonnage up the grade out of Wells. Our surveys located a line on the hill into Palestine. You are certain, then, that the line will be built? Mr. Bancroft: Yes. When? Mr. Bancroft: We do not know definitely. Probably very soon. In the spring? Mr. Bancroft: Oh, I wouldn't say that now!—Hollister Herald.

Close Score Ends Hopes of Local Warriors

LACK OF FIELD RULES AND OFFICIALS RESPONSIBLE.

Blackfoot's Only Run Due to End Run Through Hoofers Swarming About Field.

Twin Falls fell victim to the Blackfoot team in a hotly contested game which was played up the last quarter. Twin Falls went into the game territory last Friday with the score of 0 to 0, which was largely due to the lack of proper officiating on the grounds. At the close of the game a Blackfoot back went around the crowd and made a govt. without interference by the crowd, the Twin Falls team was able to gain at will.

The latest scientific fact vouches for the Surgeon General of the United States Army, that the silk shirt and the diaphanous gown are conducive to venereal diseases, are now wonderful which office the surgeon general is seeking.

From the present outlook the threatened interference of the United States in Mexico may be productive of clarifying the atmosphere of that country by affording the two warring factions to rest that country. When that happens there will be little need for further action by this country of the warring European nations.

The Pocatello Tribune for some reason easily garbled an item in the Times to the purpose that has made considerable trouble for this paper. The Tribune in comment on the car shortage some time ago, stated that the Twin Falls papers admitted that there was no car shortage. The Tribune could not at that time or any subsequent time find any article admitting such facts. Just how the trolley of that editor became twisted over a plainly written article cannot be connected, but it happened. Editor Sumner owns the Twin Falls papers an apology and to this paper in particular for the garbled report that has been repeated in a number of other papers in this state. There has been and still exists a serious car shortage in this territory despite any railroad reports to the contrary.

DEFAULTERS: WHY PARDON THEM?
 A petition asking for the pardon of Barney O'Neil, ex-candidate for governor of Idaho and former president of a Wallace bank, who falsified reports of the legislative committee on the depositors' money in his campaign and to celebrate on, is being circulated throughout the state. Barney knew the consequences of such acts; perished; bent it to Canada to avoid prosecution and left his creditors holding the sack. Now he should not be pardoned and look pleasant. You were game enough when you were spending the people's money, Barney. Don't be a piker, now.

The poor devil with a big family to support commits a little petty larceny and he goes to the mill and his wife takes in washing to keep soul and body of the family together. The "higher-ups" want the thousands of thousands. They get out by a pardon board influenced by being in the same class, possibly, or otherwise, or by petitions signed by a lot of Wooden Indians who only think the man is in the pen and he'd feel better out. Then he can contract construction or get a cramp in his big toe or contract some other "fatal" malady and slide out—Cokeville (Wyo.) Register.

Many people of Idaho are inclined to favor Barney believing he was more sinners against sinning, but after all the above crimes alight near picturing the truth of the situation—Herald Pioneer-Record.

TAMMANY'S WATERLOO.

When the greatest Democratic city of the nation announces under the organization candidate for mayor by 120,000 plurality, while in near-by states the voters are endorsing the national administration by electing Democratic state and local tickets, explanations are in order. The result speaks for itself. The Tammany leader Charles P. Murphy's income reply to the newspaper men who tried to get some interesting comment from the "chief" of the defeated forces. The result does speak for itself, agree the papers which backed the victorious Fusion movement in New York. Tammany, which has been defeated in previous years, this time "was slaughtered," the Press (Trib.) has it. Mr. Murphy, as the Tribune (Rep.) observes, has far overreached himself that he today lies sprawling in the most deplorable defeat that ever befell a Tammany boss. If we reduce this statement to figures, it means that John Purroy Mitchell defeated Edward E. McCall for the majority by a plurality of 121,308. It means that Tammany controls but one vote out of sixteen in the nearly all-powerful board of Estimate, that it loses control of the board of Aldermen, and that practically all the nominees for county and judicial offices go down to defeat.

Putting these facts into the still more practical form of dollars and cents, it means "four leon years for the Tiger." For, according to the Evening Mail's estimate, Tammany has "misled" elective and appointive offices worth about $1,073,000 a year. The result speaks for itself no less clearly in Albany, add the anti-Tammany people. Tammany representation in the city's delegation, to the state assembly is cut in half. The control of that body passes to the Republicans. Just 17 of the 72 assemblymen who voted to impeach Governor Sulzer are returned by their constituents, and the devoted governor is triumphantly elected to the assembly, "with a vote that adds whiz to the resounding slap that his election plants upon both the cheeks of his accusers." But no election returns are allowed to speak for themselves, at least without generous assistance from the press in the way of explanation and praise.

If we are to credit an observant daily in another city, the Pittsburgh Dispatch (Rep.), Tammany "was doomed to defeat from the day when the exposures of the police alliance with crime became indelible." According to the Providence Journal (Ind.), "it was fairly obvious early in the campaign that Murphy made a mistake in selecting Mr. McCall as nominee for mayor." Yet New-Yorkers will remember the early strength of McCall as a "conservative" candidate, which was reflected in the hotting odds. The New York Evening Post, points to a "slow, but steady awakening of the people" through many years of anti-Tammany campaigning, with last week's victory "the culmination of all the fights of the past quarter century against the domination of Fourteenth Street." But whatever of truth there may be in this popular opinion is more in line with the assertion of Mr. Kilne, New York's anti-Tammany mayor, that two things brought about the overthrow of Tammany: "the refusal of a renomination to Mayor Gaynor by Tammany hall, and the unfortunate Sulzer incident." Mayor Gaynor's rejection was followed, as our readers will recall, by his nomination as an independent anti-Tammany candidate. His sudden death at sea after he had defied Tammany and all its works with his characteristic vigor of utterance, threw his following into the fusion camp. This united the forces arrayed against Tammany, gave them new ammunition, and strengthened their zeal and determination.

But the most obvious explanation of the record-breaking 121,000 Mitchell plurality is found by the impeachment of Governor Sulzer, followed, as it was, by what the St. Louis Globe Democrat (Rep.) calls "the most detailed exposure of the Democratic organization corruption known since the days of Tweed." The history of William Sulzer, and the incidents, real or apocryphal, ascribed to Tammany rule at Albany, says the New York Evening Sun, a McCall supporter, roared "a tremendous and irresistible wave of popular wrath, indignation, and destructive fury." Within forty-eight hours after the first Sulzer broadside against Murphy appeared in The Evening Mail (Prog.), declares that paper editorially, "this whole situation had changed, and from that time the defeat of Tammany was certain."

The startling allegations made on the stump by Mr. Hennessy have yet to be proved before the proper magistrates, but, coming at the time they did, they added fuel to the flames. William Sulzer's "immolation" probably led to Tammany's undoing," remarks the Chicago Inter Ocean (Rep.). And the ex-governor and assemblyman-chose has no doubt that it was his doing—"before I came down from Albany the odds were 1 to 2 against Mitchell." To quote a Sulzer statement appearing in the New York papers: "From Mr. Murphy's high court of inquiry I appealed to the highest court of public opinion."
 "My solicitation for having been true to my oath of office and for refusing to betray the people of the state in general, I am content to let the matter rest on the verdict of the polls."
 "If my removal from the governorship by an ignorant and a corrupt and an arrogant boss whose dictates to do wrong I defied has been the means of destroying bossism in the state of New York, I can console myself with the reflection that I was able to accomplish more out of office than the governors in the last decade could accomplish in office."
 "Tammany is tottering under the weight of Murphyism, and I have the satisfaction of knowing that I struck the abhorrent thing, and the threatening menace, the hardest blow it has received since the days of Tweed."

The people have "determined" correctly in the judgment of the Springfield Republican, "that William Sulzer they will not stand for impeachment trials inspired solely by a political boss embodying all the qualities most dangerous to a democratic form of government." The New York Globe, one of the papers which remained friendly to Sulzer, believes that the people of "The Sixth" were right in returning their emphatic affirmative answer to the ethical question thus put by one of the rabble of the district:
 "Suppose a boy had been in bad company and had done things he should not have done; then suppose this boy broke away from the bad company and began to do good things and related all inducements to him to return to his evil practices; suppose then his vicious former companions should fall on him and begin to stone him, would it be justified in holding their garments as they destroyed him?"—Literary Digest.

no matter what the decision may be, the state will proceed at once to cancel its contract with the company and to proceed with the work of supplying water to the settlers on the project.
 Receiver Clinton is requested by the governor to notify all parties in interest to this effect so that they may know just what to expect.

Result of Careful Study.
 This letter from Governor Haines is the direct result of careful personal inspection of conditions on the Big Lost River project made recently by the members of the state land board and of much research and study of the problem by Attorney General Peterson and other state officials in trying to arrive at a solution that would be fair and just to all.
 It is understood in official circles that a decision by the circuit court of appeals in this case is to be handed down on Monday next. There has been talk of appeal from this decision to the supreme court of the United States, but in view of the position taken by Governor Haines it is reasonably certain that all such plans will be abandoned. The governor's letter made public on Thursday is as follows:

The Governor's Letter.
 November 6, 1913.
 J. E. Clinton, receiver, Big Lost River Irrigation Co., Boise, Ida., Dear Sir: The members of the state land board have heretofore believed that they should await the decision of the circuit court of appeals in the case of the Corey Brothers Construction company, which is the Big Lost River Irrigation company, before taking any step which would serve to indicate the attitude of the state in the settlement of this most important question. The time consumed in the settlement of the legal questions involved has been much greater than was anticipated, however, and it must now be apparent to all that further delays should not be looked upon with favor from any source.

The members of the present land board accordingly hope that the expected decision will be accepted as final by all concerned and we wish to prior to the decision or that it may apply alike to both parties to the controversy.
 Cause of the Delay.
 We realize that because of the legal difficulties which have heretofore stood in the way it has doubtless been impossible for you or anyone else to effect a reorganization of the company and to proceed with the work of supplying water to the settlers on the project. This delay has resulted in great suffering and hardship to many of the settlers, particularly those who have moved to the project and began the improvement of their entries; and must not be allowed to continue a moment longer than absolutely necessary.

Must Act at Once.
 We have been given to understand by the attorneys for the several litigants that there is no likelihood of an appeal from the decision of the court of appeals. We propose, however, to forestall further appeal if within our power to do so, because such appeal could result in delay in the reorganization of the company and still further delay in the doing of justice to the settlers under the project. Our reasons for this conclusion must be sufficiently obvious to all who have given any thought to this matter and we desire you, as receiver of the company, to notify the different litigants that they cannot expect further action on the part of the state land board. Should further appeal be attempted we shall be compelled to at once bring action to cancel the contract existing between the company and the state.

Land Board Ready to Help.
 On the other hand the land board will lend any reasonable and proper aid in the matter of the reorganization which should be proceeded with at once. Those who may have charge of the new company must be made to realize the suffering and hardship which should be to fully protect them in the future. The moral obligation resting on the state in this matter, enjoins the members of the land board to insist upon the state, early reorganization of the company and actively looking to the resumption of the project and, second, such reorganization as will provide primarily for the welfare of the settlers, upon whose success depends ultimately the financial success of the project but of all other Carey act projects within the state.

Yours respectfully,
 JOHN M. HAINES, Governor.

FILER NEWS.

Arthur Deen is in Twin Falls today on business.

Stebler Bros. are improving their 80 northwest of town.

Bob Miller is helping out at the depot for a few weeks.

Wm. Mackie is improving his property west of town.

George Leonard is building a new house on his farm west of Filer.

A. Wilkinson is building a house on the farm he recently purchased from Amos Bros.

The Marion school board started the erection of a dormitory for their district last Monday.

R. H. Goodpasture has started the erection of two new houses on his lots on east 6th street.

J. D. Brown of Arlington, Ore., is improving his Salmon river property southwest of Filer.

Geo. Austill, a brother of H. L., is here from Minnesota, looking over the country with a view to locating.

The young men and boys are requested to meet in the basement of the new M. E. church Friday n. m. with shovels and wheelbarrows.

The Kimberly alfalfa mill started up Wednesday morning of last week to run steadily from now on. The management has orders to keep the mill busy until Christmas.

Chas. F. McCleary has purchased a 6-acre tract in the Andy Mackon addition and will improve it at once. We understand Mr. McCleary proposes to start a dairy line and become a permanent Filer fixture.

Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown gave them a farewell party last Friday evening. They expect to move shortly to their new place, recently purchased west of Filer.

Mrs. Brown will leave for a visit to New Mexico in a short time.

Vern McElrath was picked up at Twin Falls by the officers and a gun taken off him. He was thrown in jail on a charge of carrying concealed weapons until the other charges against him were looked into. Quinn Patton took time by the forelock and let out usually.

W. F. Strudley has purchased a new clover seed huller—a Burdell No. 5 special, and is fixed up now to handle this class of work. By strict attention to the threshing business in all particulars and chewing nothing but Clinton, Strudley has become a force in farm circles.

W. A. Stowell sold out his household goods, grain, hay, etc., and was all ready to leave the country when Royolds Bros. got oyo him. Refusing to make good on mortgaged property he had disposed of, they caused his arrest on a grand larceny charge and he was thrown into jail. We have not learned as to whether or not he secured bonds.

Last Sunday in company with the Ripleys the Tanner family had the pleasure of hobnobbing at a splendid dinner at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conner at Fairview farm. Those who have ever been a guest at the hospitable home of the Conners know about what happened.

The Conners had an outfit around their table on this day that done full justice to the occasion.

It has been suggested that Miss Kerr and her domestic science girls get up a little spread some evening soon and invite the business men and farmers to come up to the school house and see how the girls can cook. Plates would readily melt at a dollar, giving the class a fun to secure some necessary cooking utensils.

Mrs. John Durfee has been very sick the past week.

H. B. Howard is building a house and barn on his Salmon river property.

Garrett Seymour is building an addition to his house north of here on the river.

John Blass has finished making a number of improvements on his place north of Filer.

Mr. Macaw left the first of the week for Texas where he will buy a couple cars of cattle.

Leo Johnson, one of the Democratic warriors from Murtough, was a Filer visitor last Saturday.

One day last week Otis Gatty came home being seriously injured while unloading spuds at the cement elevator.

and in driving down a steep incline he was scraped off the load by the overhead projector and a lot of potatoes piled upon him. He was laid up a few days but is all right again. He is working for Clint McKinley.

Halloween night three daughters of Frank DeKlotz attended the social at the Marion school house. When the time came to depart for home their rig was nowhere to be found. Later in the night some one returning from Twin Falls reported having seen a rig tied to a hay stack this side of Twin Falls. The girls finally secured the rig and arrived home very early in the morning. A nice plush lap robe had been taken from the rig. It is just such dastardly tricks as that that makes hallowe'en time one to be regretted.

At the school board meeting Tuesday evening Miss Kerr with her class of domestic science girls, won their way into the hearts of the members.

At 10 o'clock the members were invited to the basement where nice warm bluelets, honey and coffee were served.

If this treat is kept up their will not be the lack of a quorum, and incidentally we might remark that the teacher and class can get most anything they want in carrying on this work. Buck and Musgrave both lost out—but we will bet six bits that they will meet at another meeting while school is in session.

The poverty social given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Finley last Friday evening proved to be a great success. Everyone entered into the spirit of the occasion with zest. The costume prizes were awarded Mr. Wood, and Miss Clifford, the former appearing as the incomparable and undisputed representative of hard times, and the latter as Miss Antiqua. Gossamer gowns furnished amusement for most of the evening. The vocal solos by Mr. Wood and Mr. Salles were very much enjoyed.

Miss Weaver and Miss Dandley favored the company with a number of pleasing recitations. Light refreshments were served late in the evening and the crowd was so large that it had been an evening long to be remembered.

PORTLAND MARKET REPORT.

North Portland, Ore., Nov. 14, 1913. Gentlemen: Receipts for the week have been: Cattle, 838; calves, 1; pigs, 2747; sheep, 2429.

Cattle liquidation has been somewhat less this week than it was a week ago, but the arrivals did not furnish very large number of prime head.

Killars are not very keen for the half-fat grade, and prices are generally lower on this class: $7.25 to $7.50 was bid for the few choice cars of steers offering the early part of the week, with the bulk put at $7.40. Sixteen head of steers sold for $7.40. The bulk of the stuff arriving week shipments in transit from being short early in the season.

Butcher stock was in fair demand during the entire season. Cow stuff was the only kind to suffer price decline and this occurred only when quality averaged poor: $6.50 was bid freely for smooth fat she stuff, but there was a short supply of prime bulls and steers held steady at firm prices.

Swine values lowered 20 cents from the old price Monday. The first bid of the week furnished his receipts Monday having one of the largest totals on record. Quality of stock has been generally good and most of the finished more carefully: $8.00 as a light hog quotation has stood the test right through the week. Good demand prevailed at the lower price, market closing steady to firm.

Sheep house business was one of the most active of the year. A plentiful supply of choice lambs and nation was offered the buyers, who have been short handed for some time. They advanced prices Monday, later recorded, and the close was about where it was seven days ago, but in steady. Prices on best grades are as follows:

Best: $4.75 to $4.90; old sheep: $4.25 to $4.50; ewes: $3.00 to $4.00; lambs: $5.50 to $5.75.

DICTATOR MAY ABDICATE

Has Come to Conclusion That U. S. Is In Earshot.

Mexico City—President Huerta's attitude toward the demands of the United States that he make way for a new government is that of one only half convinced, notwithstanding the fact that a few of his closest friends and political advisers are urging, although with due caution, that he accede. The representatives of this element in the cabinet conferred Friday with Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, but were given no assurance that President Wilson had unhesitatingly sufficient to warrant hope that the negotiations would be successful. In spite of this, however, those friends of Huerta who now are convinced that the United States government is not bluffing believe they will be able to bring about the desired changes in time to prevent a complete rupture of diplomatic relations. This conviction is based upon the fact that Washington has not put into effect its implied threat to remove the embassy or announce any new course of action.

Sir Lionel Gordon, the British minister, has conveyed to Huerta in intimation that the United States is in earnest in its intentions and is inclined to have told the president that the British government is disposed to back the United States morally. For publication Sir Lionel was reticent regarding his conversation with Huerta, but it is an open secret that he has been made and Huerta is said to have been deeply impressed when he realized that the nation which he had believed would stand by him indefinitely had joined with one he already regarded as his enemy. That Huerta's friends are attempting to persuade him to vacate the presidency or at least to prevent the new congress from meeting is a feature of the situation that is not discussed by them except with absolute secrecy.

It is one of those subjects which it is considered not safe to discuss, and all their efforts have been made more by means of intimations and suggestions than by definite advice.

Huerta is said to be considering his own elimination, although this is always denied whenever the direct question is put to anyone connected with the government.

Saturday is the date fixed for the preliminary meeting of congress and there appears to be no reason to believe that it will not convene, notwithstanding the unequivocal demand of the United States that it should not do so. The meeting set for Saturday is for nothing more than the presentation of members' credentials and organization, after which, following the usual custom, there will be a number of days before the body meets in formal session to listen to the president's message.

It has been represented to Huerta that the United States doubtless will regard this preliminary meeting as seriously as it would were it the formal day of opening since it will indicate the intention of the Mexican government to defy Washington in this regard. Those now lined up against Huerta, however, think that his position is a perplexing one, since the law provides that the resignation of the president must be to congress. The only congress in Mexico today is in jail and Huerta does not feel justified in compounding his humiliation, his friends say, by sending his resignation to the president.

Advisers of Huerta who are sending an embassy to treat with Mr. O'Shaughnessy insist that this last demand of the United States is an unreasonable one, since if the new congress is permitted to meet there then will be a body which Huerta can send his resignation in due form and maintain his dignity. It has been suggested that in order to assure the United States that the new congress will be innocuous, a document might be prepared setting forth the only measure this body would be expected to enact and that care would be taken to see to it that among them there was none which would be objectionable to Washington. It is not denied that to permit congress to meet without previous assurances from the executive would be at best but a gamble, but it is difficult on account of the laws governing the resignation of the president.

There is no doubt that congress is expected to meet Saturday in preliminary session. Most of the deputies elected in the recent balloting are present in the capital and up to a half hour Friday night no indication had come from the palace that the date of the convening of the legislative body had been postponed.—Statesman.

retained the Twin Falls visitors during their wait here for the train that brought the Boosters from Boise. They also found time for a duck hunt where there are ducks.

Governor Gooding and a party of the wires from his town were up to confer with the railroad officials to interest them in building an extension that way.

Mr. McCollum, who is an old resident of Shoshone, expressed delight at the public road improvements made in the roads leading from all directions to this town. "It is wonderful," he said, "to see what you have done over here to make the worst roads in all Idaho the very best to be found anywhere in the state. It is a mighty good for this fine town to have such roads and to have men in it to build them. All four seasons will rise up and call them blessed."

After waiting here the better part of two days the Twin Falls delegation had to depart without Mr. Bush, whose limited time in this territory compelled him to cut out Twin Falls on this visit to Idaho. He passed through at night on his way from Boise. It is safe to say that nothing is needed to convince him of the urgent need for better railroad facilities in this part of the state by the San Francisco market.—Shoshone Journal.

CAR SHORTAGE OVER

Is the Opinion of President of Utilities Commission.

President John A. Blomquist, of the public utilities commission, returned last night from Salt Lake satisfied over the arrangements he was able to make being relative to the car shortage in this state. Not only has the Oregon Short Line secured activity on the part of the Pacific Fruit Express, but cars are now coming into the eastern Idaho gateway, Pocatello, via Ogden and Green River. Commissioner Blomquist is inclined to the belief that there will be no further serious difficulty in the southern part of this state, at least this season, in the car shortage matter.

Several conferences with the head officials of the Oregon Short Line at Salt Lake were held at which the seriousness of the car shortage was shown by President Blomquist, who asked immediate relief on the part of that road and the Pacific Express. The fact that the American Fruit company, the Gough refrigerator line, was prepared to deliver to the commission several hundred cars is believed to have done much to do with the clearing of the situation and hastening on the part of the Short Line to divert cars going into southern California to the Idaho territory, although in regard to this feature of the situation Commissioner Blomquist refused to comment.

DIAZ URGES HUERTA TO RESIGN

Paris—General Porfirio Diaz has advised General Victoriano Huerta to retire from the presidency of Mexico. Two friends of General Diaz, each acting separately and by authorization of the ex-president, sent telegrams to General Huerta last week to this effect.

In outlining his attitude General Diaz said that in the present situation of the Mexican people in relation to the United States it was not a question of whether Huerta was the best man for the presidency, nor was it a question whether the revolutionists were right or wrong; it was a question of patriotism.

General Huerta, he said, had been a man of personal prestige or power and thus have Mexico from a calamity.

General Diaz has many friends here, friends of Huerta, friends of Madero, and a number of his own followers, and has discussed Mexican affairs thoroughly with them. He has been urged to take an attitude for or against Huerta, but always has refused. He declared that he authorized the message through his friends only as an appeal to Huerta's judgment as to whether love of country did not require Huerta's resignation.

General Diaz said to his friends that he would have telegraphed to General Huerta himself, but he had then taken no direct step in Mexican affairs since he left the country and would prefer to leave his conviction through mutual friends.

The denial by a member of the Diaz household on Saturday that General Diaz had sent a telegram advising Huerta to resign was therefore completely refuted.—Statesman.

The Only Way to Buy Lumber Right

is to buy it for a specific purpose and tell the fellow who sells it to you just what you want it for. There's a difference in lumber—not only in grain, color and softness, but also in the way it's manufactured. All of these things naturally affect the price; therefore the use it is to be put to must be considered. It's a good deal like a woman making a dress—the occasion regulates the cost. No woman would pay $2.00 a yard for silk to make a kitchen dress. The same thing applies in lumber. We've always made it a point to help our customers select the right material for specific jobs and truly believe that is the reason we have the reputation we enjoy today for legitimate prices and square dealings.

Mrs. Herbert H. Grant was hostess at a delightful little party at her home on Blue Lakes Boulevard on Saturday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. A. G. Sandberg of Crookston, Minn. Several rubbers of auction bridge were played, after which delicious refreshments were served at the card tables. Standing Waiters, Allen and Chapin assisted the hostess in serving. Quota prize was presented to Mrs. Sandberg and Mrs. G. F. Baker won the prize for high score.

Mrs. H. A. Hamilton entertained at a most enjoyable party last Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Clarence N. Healy. Invitations had been issued for Wednesday and Thursday, the parties to have been held at her beautiful ranch home, but on account of the almost impenetrable roads, the affair was postponed and held in the Jewel hall on the first day. Bridge whist furnished the amusement of the afternoon, at which Miss Lydia Lloyd won the prize for high score. Mrs. H. Chapin second high, and Mrs. A. G. Sandberg of Crookston, Minn., received the consolation. Mrs. Healy, as the guest of honor, was presented with a handsome prize. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. Healy, assisted by Mesdames John Costello, W. T. Webb, and S. H. Kayser.

Mrs. C. C. Bedford was hostess at an informal party on Saturday evening, when a number of ladies were invited to enjoy several rubbers of auction bridge. Mrs. C. B. Channel and Mrs. Chas. Hallis received the prizes for high score. Delicious refreshments for which the hostess is noted, were served to the guests at the close of the evening.

Mrs. E. J. Ostrander threw open her spacious home on Friday and Saturday afternoon of last week to a large number of ladies. On the former day a one o'clock luncheon was given and on Saturday a most enjoyable Kennington. On both occasions the hostess was assisted by Mesdames C. H. Robbins and H. J. Palling. Friday afternoon covers were laid for twenty-four at three tables, which were centered with Japanese lanterns filled with large yellow chrysanthemums. The pretty effect was further carried out with yellow shaded candles. Bridge whist furnished the amusement for the remainder of the afternoon, at which Mrs. C. W. Welton was awarded the prize for high score and Mrs. O. M. Elliot received consolation.

Mrs. T. F. Warner and Mrs. L. A. Warner entertained the members of the P. E. O. at the home of the former last Thursday afternoon. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent with the two charming hostesses.

GOVERNOR JOHN M. HAINES HAS THE MATTER NOW UNDER ADJUSTMENT.

Boise, Nov. 14.—That Governor Haines is seriously considering calling a session extraordinary of the Twelfth Idaho legislature to convene in this city next year because known here yesterday, Governor Haines refused to either deny or affirm the probability of calling the legislature in extra session. Those close to him officially declare that not only in the session extraordinary possible but probable.

The condition of some of Idaho's irrigation projects, through failure to complete them by promoting completion under contract with the state to do so, the need of a workmen's compensation act and to remedy the lag passed by the last legislature to permit the organization of a district to drain north Idaho lands are being urged in support of an extra session so that laws can be enacted to remedy these matters.

Letters are pouring into the governor's office from Shoshone, Bonner and Kootenai counties requesting the session, so that vast areas of swamp land may be reclaimed through drainage. Lieutenant Governor Taylor of Sand Point has been here several days urging the session on account of the drainage problem. Mr. Taylor left for Sand Point last night satisfied, he said, with his mission.—Idaho Falls Post.

FAMOUS HALEY HOTEL CLOSED

Historic Old Altares Is No More—Equipment Sold at Public Auction.

The famous, historic hotel, Altares of Halley, has been closed, and its equipment sold off at public auction. At one time this hotel is said to have been the best between Omaha and Portland. It was built by Robert A. Strahorn, known in the northwest as a famous railroad promoter. Relative to the closing of the hotel, the Halley Times says:

"The Altares hotel was built in 1883-84 by Robert A. Strahorn, the great railroad builder, who related Halley in his special car last summer, accompanied by his wife, who has been married to him over 30 years.

"At that early period of time Mr. Strahorn was in charge of the literary bureau of the Union Pacific Railroad company, and his principal business was to buy out routes of the old railroads. It was he who designated routes for the Oregon Short Line and all its branches, also for thousands of miles of other lines in the interior of the United States and Pacific coast states. In all this traveling—thousands of miles of it—and in facing torments, amid hostile Indians, in all kinds of weather, on stage coaches, in private conveyances, on horseback or afoot, his wife, devoted time, and he never seldom returned.

"At that time there was not a first class hotel between Omaha and Portland, and the only accommodations to be had in that vast region being at the ranches and stage eating houses. Of large proportions and luxuriously furnished for those days, the Altares—which was named in honor of the then county of Altares, of which this was the county seat—immediately attracted travelers from distant points many of whom invested in our mines and greatly assisted in making Halley the then most populous, most progressive, and most prosperous, thrifty city in the northwest.

"The Altares was opened with a grand ball. Money was abundant here then, and hundreds of mine operators and business men who wished to attend were unable to find accommodation. They overflooded the hotel and on the sidewalks, also in the hotel halls, where were two lines of sleeping cots. Over $3000 worth of champagne was sold that day and night at $5 a bottle, and for years the Altares was crowded summer and winter, and it made money hand over fist. Such successful business as the $200 for cut flowers, $500 for champagne, $5 a plate for supper in the east room, and everything else required upon the same lavish scale of expenditure was nothing unusual."—Capital News.

LANDS ON HOMESTEADERS

Secretary of Interior Issues New Order
 In Regard to Filing Up.

Through an order approved by the secretary of the interior October 30, homesteaders under reclamation projects have received a blow equal in importance to the famous order of Secretary Fisher holding up the issuance of final certificates. This order was ordered rescinded by personal order of President Taft and homesteaders rejoiced when the Democratic administration appointed western man at the head of the interior department, believing that their interests would now be handled by a man who knew their difficulties and needs.

The new order has shattered that belief.

Many homesteaders under the Boise project have worked hard during the past year to get their land in shape to comply with the then existing regulations will now find that they cannot prove up for another year and many of them not for two years. In many cases these men have been obliged to run in debt wherever they could with the promise and expectation of paying up as soon as they got title to their land. They will now be unable to do so without outside resources and the burden of the situation will also fall on merchants and others who have given them credit, knowing the integrity of the settler and trusting in the address of the department to impose no additional restrictions.

When this order was approved Oct. 30 it was not received in Boise until last week, and the first knowledge of it was in a letter to Frank G. Stephens from Project Manager Geo. H. Ellis which is self-explanatory and is given in full below:

Department of the Interior, United States Reclamation Service.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 10, 1913.
 Mr. Frank G. Stephens, Nampa, Idaho.

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of an order of the secretary of the interior, Reclamation Circular, affecting final proof on homestead entries under reclamation projects.

In view of the fact that you handle so many final affidavits offered in connection with final proof, I am sending you a copy of this amendment, for your information and files. This is sent to you more especially for the reason that I am now receiving and holding a considerable number of final affidavits which must be returned through the local land office to the entryman for the reason that the records do not show that a satisfactory crop covering half the irrigable acreage has been grown by the entryman during two successive years.

In the future if the entryman are not able to make affidavits that they have had half their irrigable acreage in cultivation for two successive years, as contemplated by this amendment, I think it will be useless to submit their final affidavits to this office for approval. Very truly yours,

Geo. H. Ellis, Project Manager.

Mr. Stephens made a trip to Boise to look the matter up but found no consolation for the settler in what he learned. Unless an entryman can comply with the new ruling they may as well save the trouble and expense of submitting their final proof for approval by the project manager.

The New Ruling.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3, 1913.

Amendment of Paragraph 66 of the General Reclamation Circular.

To establish compliance with the clause of the reclamation law that requires reclamation of at least one-half of the irrigable area of an entry maybe subject to the provisions of that the land must have been cleared of brush, trees and other incumbrances, leveled, provided with sufficient terraces for effective irrigation of the required area, put into proper condition for growing crops, planted to crops, watered and cultivated. It is also necessary that the growth of a satisfactory crop be secured thereon for at least two successive years. A satisfactory crop shall be one for which the yield is at least two-thirds of the average yield on similar land of the project for the year in which it is grown. Planting of trees and vines of which 75 per cent shall be in a thrifty condition and 50 per cent shall have had at least two years' growth from time of planting in the orchard, will be accepted as satisfactory crops for the area covered thereby. Such reclamation must have been continued to the date of approval of proof by the project manager.

Approved by the Secretary of the Interior, October 30, 1913.—Nampa Leader-Herald.

THOUGHT HE WAS HELPING

Countryman Had Decidedly Wrong Idea as to Value of His Unsought-For Services.

Jobshaw was taking a friend for a spin in the second-hand motor he had picked up at such an absurdly low figure, when something went wrong with the works, and the car stopped dead. He dived under the machine and discovered among other defects that two nuts had jolted off during the journey.

"It's only a mile to the nearest town, old man," said the apologetic owner of the car, "if you wouldn't mind waiting there and get a couple of half-inch nuts from the ironmonger I can put the other things right by the time you get back." And for the next half hour Jobshaw was tinkering and tapping away beneath the car, then he started to wonder why his friend had not returned. Presently he heard footsteps.

"That you, Lorkin?" he inquired. "Yes," came the reply, from a buccolic-looking gentleman who peered at Jobshaw under the car. "I come back ten minutes ago. I told 'im you'd gone across that there field yonder." "Oh, scrambling through edges and ditches looking after yer keep quiet and 'e won't find yer for hours, give 'er."

"What on earth do you mean?" bellowed Jobshaw, as he wriggled into the car.

you idiot! I can't do any more—he gets here."

"Want 'im, do yer?" exclaimed the surprised countryman. "Why, I thought I was 'olpin' yer, give 'er. Seels' where you'd looked yourself away, I reckoned you was 'avin' a game of 'de an' seek!'"—London Mail.

ROSE NOBLY TO OCCASION

Book Lover Seized with Avidity Opportunity for Storage of His Beloved Treasures.

Antoinette, being naturally somewhat satirical, I have become used to hearing her describe the family as a small body of humanity entirely surrounded by books, but this morning, when she observed at the breakfast table that "There are books everywhere in this house except the bathroom and the fire escape" I felt obliged to reply with a certain show of firmness:

"My dear, your statement is incorrect."

"Indeed?" with an indecipherably ironic rising inflection of which only the feminine voice is capable. "And may I ask why?"

"Because, my dear, the fire escape is not in the house. It is something quite exterior. However," I went on hurriedly, seeing my chance and boldly resolving to seize it, "I have been thinking of the fire escape for some time. It has occurred to me that it could be enclosed at a trifling expense and would in that form afford a good deal of wall space and shelf room which I could utilize to advantage, at the same time leaving ample room for access in case of need."

Seeing Lions.

"To see the lions of the town," is a phrase in everyday use and of very ancient English origin. During six centuries, dating from the time of Edward III, one of the sights of London most eagerly sought out by people from the rural districts and travelers as well, was the lion menagerie of the tower.

When lions were substituted on the English shield for the harp, the animals in the tower were changed to accord.

The three lions were named for three living kings, and the fortune of each king was supposed by many to be closely bound up with the fate of the tower animal which bore his name. The lions accordingly were treated with the greatest respect and consideration, and their keepers were always, according to the old records, gentlemen.

After some time the lions were removed to the Zoological gardens at Regent park.

Some Tasks Are Hard and Some Are Easy For Want Ads---While Few Indeed Are Impossible

The easy want ad tasks are usually accomplished through one publication of the ad. The want ad tasks may require repeated publications of the ad---sometimes growing into the dignity of "want ad campaigns."

And, while purely "transient" classified advertising may not complete the task set for it, a "want ad campaign" does not fail, if sensible persistence is used. This means that such difficult want ad tasks as that of finding

ST. ANTHONY MAN-SUICIDES

Dependent Over Partial Crop Failure Expires Rope to Beam and Jumps.

St. Anthony, 10th, Nov. 15.—Charles Anderson, a highly respected and well known citizen of this section of Fremont county, was found hanging from a rope tied to the crossbeam of his barn and granary at his place one and one-half miles northeast of St. Anthony at 9 o'clock last evening. Anderson had been missing since early morning, according to the statement of Mrs. Anderson, and as his overalls and mittens were found on him it is thought he suddenly resolved upon the commission of his rash act while attending to his morning chores about the place. He was discovered by City Marshal Buchanan and a posse of men from St. Anthony, who initiated the search in response to the appeal of Mrs. Anderson. Death was instantaneous, the vertebrae of his neck being broken by the fall. It is believed that Anderson was committed suicide while temporarily deranged, as he was ordinarily of a cheerful and hopeful disposition. For the past season he had been operating one of the farms of Col. T. R. Hamer, and a partial failure of crops, together with the insistent demands of his creditors and difficulty over his lease, is given as the reason for his derangement. It is learned from his intimate friends and his almost distracted wife that he had been worrying over his troubles for some time past, and before leaving the house on the morning of his death he had complained to his wife of feeling badly.

Anderson was employed in the engineering department of the Montana and Utah division of the O. & N. at Pocatello about ten years ago, and for a time was clerk of the Porter hotel at Idaho Falls. For a number of years he had taught school in this county and for some time he was employed by A. M. Boylen, clothier, and O. Skalek, a local merchant. St. Anthony, as clerk, leaving the employ of the latter to engage in farming. He was 35 years of age at the time of his death and leaves a wife and two small children.—Pocatello Tribune.

When standing two hours near the court house, not knowing that the officers were on his trail, and the wagon was passed unnoticed. Smith stoutly maintained that the meat came from an elk, and likewise stated that he had bought it from a party. Samples of the meat were placed in the hands of a chemist, together with samples of known elk meat, and he very readily established that they were two different kinds of flesh, showed the texture and other conditions, though did not establish that one was moose meat, which would have required a more thorough analysis than was given.

Chief Deputy Burrell went down to Dempsey yesterday evening and talked the matter over with Smith, and this morning Smith came to Pocatello, having been under bond, and a hearing was had before Judge Knowles, on the specific count of Smith having meat unlawfully in his possession. The charge of killing the alleged moose was not pressed against him, and the department is of the opinion that he never purchased the meat, and has a good line on the individual who sold it.

Smith concluded to plead guilty to the charge filed against him, and was assessed a fine of $100, with costs amounting to $21.40, the cost consisting partly of chumage charges. The mode of determining who killed the moose will be determined, if possible, and the seller of the meat also be required to explain himself to the department. How Much Do You Really Know About Furs?
Comparatively Few People are Able to Judge Furs

Those wishing to buy furs will do well to consult with us—Some folks pretend to know Fur-quality, can talk a lot of stuff they've read, and in such a manner that those who admit they don't know are often misled—We invite those who do know and those who admit they don't know—to examine our new stock of furs for Ladies' Misses' and Children. The prices are most reasonable and the assortment varied. Nothing over fifty dollars. To carry a desirable assortment of the "High-priced" furs would necessitate our doing as is often done where a big showing on a small investment is desired—Let a middleman consign or loan them to us for a given time, returning the left-overs. To do so means an extra percentage tacked on to the cost—you pay the extra. Our furs are bought direct from America's largest furriers, marked at a reasonable profit—ensuring no left-over—They are guaranteed in every respect. GO THE ROUND—BUT BEFORE YOUR FINAL DECISION—SEE OUR LINE.
