Four English Dreadnoughts Sent to Mexican Waters

THOOPS HELD IN SOUTH WAITING ORDERS FROM U. S.

Orders Recalling: Two Cavalry Regiments on Border Are Remanded.

Washington—Two events connected with the military and naval situation in regard to Mexico attracted interest Wednesday.

General Bliss, commanding the American troops on the Mexican border, was authorized to detain indefinitely the Second cavalry regiment at Fort Bliss and the Fifth at Fort Huachuca which were recently sent to Texas for maneuvers recently by the United States. Senator Shepherd and Representative Henry, pointing to the danger to which Texas at El Paso and other points were exposed by the reported approach of a large force of federalists to engage Constitutionalists along the border, had urged the war department to keep all four regiments on the border.

News that three big British cruisers had been ordered to proceed from West India ports to Vera Cruz created some comment in official circles, when it was recalled that recent London dispatches had indicated that the British government would entrust the interests of their subjects in Mexico to the United States. It was pointed out, however, that the Washington government had welcomed the appearance of foreign warships in Mexican waters and that the gathering of British, German, Japanese and French vessels on the coast, might indicate to General Huerta growing lack of confidence in the United States and his ability longer to maintain himself and assure the safety of foreigners in Mexico.

Army reports greatly minimize the strength of the contending forces at Juarez last week, indicating that Villa's rebel command did not exceed 1000 while the federal garrison was only about 800 strong. The staff officers are inclined to believe that the apparently surprising apathy of the federal commanders can be explained only upon the theory that they are endeavoring to take the rebels by surprise and with unexpected presidential great force at a point where they expect to inflict a telling blow.

While on the surface there was a lull in the negotiation between the Huerta government and the United States, it was apparent that messages were passing to and from large O'Shaughnessy paving the way for future steps by the United States. It was said by high officials that the apparent delay was justified by the circumstances were not revealed.

The meeting Thursday of the Huerta congress was awaited with much interest and it is thought that the possibility of some move may be based on action taken by the congress. It has been expected that the congress would nullify the recent presidential election and perhaps vote on certain concessions. Such action, in view of the announcement of the American government that it would not recognize any acts of the Mexican congress, might move the situation a step farther.

The recent arrivals between General Carranza and William Hayward Hale at Nogales are still cloaked in secrecy. Officials minimize the importance of these negotiations. The fact they have been heard here as meaning merely that Hale had obtained all the information desired about the character of the Constitutional chiefs, their program and purposes. Formal recognition, however, the presentation of credentials might involve had not been considered, the mission of Mr. Hale being wholly unofficial.

The attitude of high officials is to place more stress on the affairs at Mexico City as it is pointed out that negotiations of a definite character are being conducted at the Bank of Kimbrey.

TURKEY DAY FOOT BALL

Two Fast Games to be Played on Local Gridiron Thanksgiving.

Two big games of football on the local gridiron, have been arranged for Thanksgiving afternoon. Twin Falls high school and the alumni will be the big game with the Bull records opposing the local high school seconds for a curtain raiser.

The high school alumni game promises to be one of the hardest fought games seen on the local grounds this year. The alumni have long been dominating on this game and early began taking steps to win the buck. A large number of the old guard have been induced to return for the game and the high school will face eleven football stars when the game begins. Secret practices has been adopted by both teams and the alumni are showing genuine practice in the high school gym. Many of the alumni are on the town team and have been in suit long enough to be in the pink of condition.

The curtain raiser will be a scrap to the finish. Bull is still smarting under the defeat their regular received at Twin Falls and their seconds are coming with the do or die spirit to square the deal. These teams are evenly matched and well coached. It will be a battle royal. It is hoped a large crowd will turn out to these games and swell the proceeds which go to wipe out the debt of the high school Athletic association.

FOOTBALL WITH AMERICAN FALLS

Picked City Team Will Defend Honors For City Sunday.

The football fever has struck a bunch of old university and collegiate boys in this city and the American Falls to such an extent that only a real rough and tumble contest can satisfy the longing. A score of graduates of the University of Idaho and the local team will attempt to show the American Falls team a composite picture of the best of the college and college football for that is the number which Twin Falls is prepared to throw into the ring Sunday.

Just what American Falls has up her sleeve with a team is not known, but the graduates who are lined up begins at two-thirds past Sunday can get all the thrills of the game and possibly some of the thrills.

L. E. SALLADAY SERIOUSLY ILL

Attack of Appendicitis Endangers Life of Merchant.

The many friends of L. E. Salladay will regret to learn of his serious illness due to appendicitis. Mr. Salladay was taken ill about ten days ago with so acute an attack that operation was deemed inadvisable until his condition changed for the better. He became much improved the latter part of last week and was able to attend to his business. On Wednesday, however, his condition became so serious that he was placed on the operating table that night. Infection showed that the appendix had broken and had brought about a very critical condition.

Many friends of the pioneer business man hope that a turn for the better may come presently.

SUDDEN DEATH OF BROTHER

Mrs. D. D. Alvord Receives Word of Death of Brother in East.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Harry J. Wolfe, brother of Mrs. D. D. Alvord of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Mrs. Robert Twenty of Durkin, Idaho, died suddenly Friday midnight, November 14th, in Pittsburgh, Pa., and funeral services and interment took place Sunday morning, November 16th, in Buffalo. Besides his sisters in Idaho, deceased leaves his wife, Martha Wolfe, and four daughters, Margaret E., Noble A., Marion M. and Clara Harriet Wolfe, all of Buffalo, N. Y. Funeral services took place Tuesday morning from his late home in Buffalo, No. 112 3rd street, and burial was in Forest Lawn cemetery, Buffalo.

CLOS' BOOK STORE WILL MOVE

Increasing Stock Demands Larger Quarters.

The Clos Book Store will move some time this month to the building occupied by the Lobby Pool room on West Main avenue. The move was suggested by the need for larger space for the increased stock carried by that popular supply house.

SHOE STORE ENLARGED

Buttolph Shoe Company Making Improvements.

The Buttolph Shoe company will occupy a new building on the corner of the Gault block now occupied by that firm and the Clos Book Store. The partition will be removed and the entire space used for the big shoe stock carried by the Buttolph Shoe Company.

APPLE DAY FOR STATE OF IDAHO

Local Fruit Growers Distribute Apples

MEMBERS OF WOMEN'S CLUB RECEIVE FAVORS.

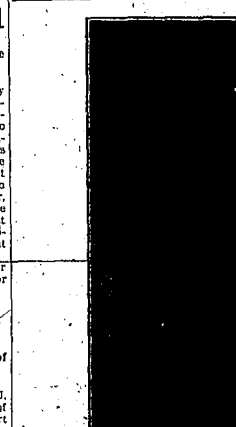

New Movement for the Exploiting of the Big Red Apples of the Northwest States.

Tuesday, November 18th, was Apple Day for the great apple growing states of the Pacific Northwest and it was fittingly observed in nearly all of the cities within the Northwest states. Nor was Twin Falls behind in the observation of the day due largely to the Twin Falls-Bigh Creek Orchard Co., which distributed favors in the shape of buttons and ribbons to the members of the Twentieth Century club with a big red apple grown on the Twin Falls tract. The movement is the outgrowth of the Apple Show held yearly at Spokane and the idea is to boost by concerted community action the fame of the apples raised. The Northwest states are destined to supply the greatest part of the apple crop for the whole nation if government statistics can be taken as reliable.

SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT

At Lyric Theatre, Commencing Monday, Nov. 21.

The new Lyric theatre has secured for an engagement of one week, opening Monday, Nov. 21, The Kenworthy Players, with Helen Duffy, an organization of clever players presenting only the best of comedies and dramas. This company comes highly recommended to the Pacific coast. All scenery is carried for the correct presentation of all plays. Miss Duffy, the leading woman, has been associated with several of the best attractions of Chicago and possesses youth, beauty, talent and wardrobe of the best.

HELEN DUFFY.

For the opening performance the beautiful three-act play of Lena Horne will be given. It is a dramatization of the famous novel and contains not only a beautiful love story but an abundance of good, clean comedy. In this play each member of the company is cast to advantage and a rare opportunity is offered for an evening of pleasure and entertainment. Latest motion pictures will be shown also and at the price of admission, 15c and 25c, no one should miss this great play.—Adv.

POLISH UP YOUR GUN

Company D Will be Inspected Monday Evening, November 24.

On Monday evening of next week Lieutenant Dammiller, Inspector-in-Chief of the Idaho National Guard, will inspect Company D of this city. The officers trust that each member of the company will be present for inspection. Arrangements are being perfected to have the officers of the company from Idaho Falls present with officers of the local company for a school of instruction.

$2100 8 per cent farm mortgage to be sold at a noon auction on Friday, Nov. 21, at 12 o'clock, at the residence of J. Clyde Lindsay, Perrine Hotel Bldg. Nov. 14.

ADVERTISING STAR ROUTES FOR MAIL

Department Will Send Jarbidge Mail from Here

ROUTE DIVIDED INTO TWO CONTRACTS BY GOVERNMENT.

Result of Commercial Club Boosting Aided by Idaho's Senators and Congressmen.

Twin Falls will have a direct mail route into the mining camp of Jarbidge after January 1, 1914, as the result of a long lobbying done by the Twin Falls Commercial club and by the cooperation of Senators Brady and Borah and Congressman Addison T. Smith. At present the mail is going into Jarbidge via Death and over a trail that is often impassable in winter. Owing to the fact that much of the mail for that camp comes from Idaho the roundabout way has become very expensive and the government has decided to eliminate mileage especially with regard to Parcel post. Another thing which was put up to the department was the inaccessibility of the Jarbidge route in the winter during the altitude of the passes into the camp. Mail from this city can go in at any time in the year.

The government advertisement call for two separate bids, one from Rogerson to Three Creek and the other from Three Creek to Jarbidge. Bids will be received up to the first day of January.

NATIONAL REFORM MEETING

Rev. N. E. Henry Will Hold Services at Lyric Theatre, Commencing Monday, Nov. 21.

The National Reform Association has arranged to have its fifteenth annual convention opened in five hundred cities on November 20. Here, the special religious services will be conducted by Rev. N. E. Henry, who was invited by the association. The national convention will be held at the Lyric Theatre, commencing Monday, Nov. 21.

ANNUAL BANQUET AND SMOKER

Local Lodge of Eagles Have Merry Time Tuesday Evening.

The local lodge of Eagles held their annual banquet and smoker at their lodge rooms Tuesday evening of this week. The banquet was attended by members and visitors from out of town and was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the order in Twin Falls. Before the banquet new members were initiated into the lodge, bringing the membership up to near the 150 mark. Prominent members were present from out of town, including C. D. Smith of Pocatello, visiting tri-state president, D. R. Elred, of Pocatello, and J. J. Thomas of Salt Lake City, Utah. After the initiation, which was held in the lodge room, the members and visitors went to the lodge room, where a sumptuous banquet had been prepared. After the banquet had been provided for Dr. F. Pike was called upon to act as toastmaster, who in turn called upon the visitors and members of the lodge who responded in short speeches for the good of the order. The gathering broke up at a late hour and all were well provided for.

The increase the order had made in the past year.

INDOOR BASE BALL

First Games to be Played at Gymnasium Thanksgiving Night.

The Twin Falls Indoor Baseball League will open its winter schedule in the high school gymnasium on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 27th. The Faculty will cross bats with the Alumni and the married men will oppose the single fellows. The two games will be played the same evening, beginning promptly at 7:30 p. m. Mayor Meek has consented to pitch the first ball at H. J. Fanning, who will act as catcher, while Spitt, Elliot will endeavor to hit the ball out of the gymnasium. The high school team will be on hand to furnish music for the grand opening and all who come will be assured of two hours lively, sport and real entertainment.

Appropriate attire in flashy colors have been ordered by each of the teams and will be here for the opening game. The supporters of each of the teams are urged to wear the colors of their favorites, which are as follows: Blue and white for the Alumni; orange and black for the Faculty; red and blue for the Benedicts, and red and white for the Faculty.

W. E. Golden, better known as "Timp," will be on hand to do the arbitrating, thus assuring orderly and fast play. The proceeds of this game and all the league games of the schedule, which provides for two games each week throughout the winter, will be turned into the High School Athletic association and used to buy equipment for the gymnasium. It is the purpose of the league to give the local lovers of real sport some fine games for the winter season and it is hoped everybody will turn out to swell the patronage. Single admission fee will be 25c, but season tickets good for ten games may be had at the ticket window for $2.00.

Final practice for the candidates of all four teams will take place in the gymnasium Friday night, Nov. 21, at 7:30 o'clock for the Alumni and single men, and 8:30 for the Faculty and married men. To show the close resemblance of these games to the open game, a sample sort of score of one of the practice games here follows:

ALUMNI ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

Game For Thanksgiving Day Is Now Assured.

The Alumni of the Twin Falls high school accept the challenge of the local football team for a game on Thanksgiving day. The intention of the alumni is to show the unopposed youngsters of the present day, who are sure to have a sentimental attachment to the old game of football, that the so-called has-beens can come back, and come back strong, and further to make them wish that they had never publicly challenged the old-timers.

Accepted this 20th day of November, A. D. 1913, 12 o'clock M.

SUPREME COURT FINDS AGAINST THE COUNTY.

Case Has Been Hanging Fire for More Than Three Years—Court Unanimous in Decision.

A case of considerable importance to the people of Twin Falls county was settled in the supreme court last Monday.

Eight men who had done work on the Jarbidge road to Twin Falls county at the request of the then commissioners of this county, E. B. Sherman, C. A. McMaster and E. T. Newbury, won their suit when the court handed down a decision in their favor and against the county.

The case was entitled the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company vs. Twin Falls county, the men having assigned their claims to the bank. The decision was concurred in by the full bench. In the record of the case it was shown that the men presented their claims to the commissioners in regular form and were disallowed by the commissioners. Suit was then instituted in the district court of this county before Judge Stockinger and a demurrer was filed on the ground that the complaint did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause for action. An appeal was taken with the result as above stated.

MUSICAL COMEDY COMING

Early, Glad, Good, Singing and Skating Costumes, at Cotton Theatre.

Trust to the authors, Adams, Hough and Howard, for the catchiest of music and the acme of novelty in the successes that they regularly give to the stage, another of their pleasing musical offerings is "The Prince of Tonight," full of merriment and splendid humor, coming to the Cotton theatre, Tuesday, Nov. 25th.

The play is a bright, dainty, sparkling concoction of very best there is in two hours of magic, mirth and melody and the balance of the time devoted to the unfolding of a very sentimental story. There is an excellent cast, lots of pretty girls who are good singers and dancers and a "gingery lot of chorus men that get their work over in many a style. The scenery is correct of the location and the transformation scenes are bewildering. The costumes are a work of art.

There are several musical numbers that make the head nod and the feet tap, among them "I Wonder How's Kissing Her Now," "The night Will Never Come Again," "Her Eyes are Blue For Yale," and a score of others.—Adv.

On all of Your-Printed-Matter, it represents Good Workmanship, Good Wages, and Good Conditions.

The claim made by the Times in a recent issue that the business men of this city are not living up to their opportunities is corroborated by nearly every commission man who has to make the surrounding territory. The smaller towns are getting more and more of the trade of this county which has heretofore come to Twin Falls. The carload shipments in from the other towns shows a big increase and also indicates a big increase in the trade going to each. The Times will not attempt to point the remedy for the defection of old customers from the trading point here to some other locality, but it should be investigated at once by the business men. Some have laid it to the cheaper prices on necessities for the home given in the smaller towns, and state that there is a large discrepancy in the prices in favor of the small town merchant. Whether this is the real reason for changing conditions The Times would not hazard even a guess, but it is certainly up to the merchants to see that a solution of the problem be quickly made.

The sugar beet manufacturers of the middle states and the west are asserting that next year will be the last year for operations of the beet sugar factories owing to the tariff being removed on cane sugar from the possessions and the West Indies. While the assertion may have some bearing on the profits of the industry there seems to be no real reason why the sugar beet industry should go out of existence with output falling off below the demands for both articles. Sugar has been soaring and the sugar beet manufacturers have anteduced down the growers to a point where the profits have been exceptionally large for years. There is no reason to believe that while there is a profit that any manufacturer will quit business, unless the shutting down of the sugar beet factory is made as a political object lesson to discourage future tariff changes. The sugar beet industry and the cane sugar industry is controlled by one and the same trust and for this reason it is in position to shut down temporarily with one branch while the other branch is producing. It is a very common trust movement.

The need for an extra session evidently does not find a responsive chord in the minds of the newspaper men of the state. Few are making any clamor for the session while all are heartily berating the new tax law. Most of the editors have declared that the fundamentals of the law are not at fault but the extravagance in public offices which increase state, county and municipal expenses beyond all reason. The tax law is no doubt faulty in its operation and some features need remedy, but most taxpayers would rather bear the present disadvantages than fly to evils which may be perpetrated by an extra session. No other topic really needs the attention of the legislative body to the extent of going to the juries expense of calling together its members for an extra session. On the other hand a great many who carefully follow the political trend believe that the extra session is urged more for adding the state candidates than for any other purpose. The Carey Act projects of the state need common sense administration rather than new laws and if the present state board really desires to add the settlers it can do it under the present system.

"BIG BUSINESS" BEHIND THE MEXICAN MUDDLE.

Many leading European papers think that the struggle between Huerta and Carranza is a struggle between the capitalists of Europe and those of the United States. We are said to be backing and financing Carranza because under the rule of Huerta North American interests are not sufficiently favored and promoted. We are disgruntled because our manufactured goods are not suffered to supplant those of England, France, and Germany. It is charged more specifically that the battle is being fought for the immensely rich oil fields of Mexico, and the combatants are the Standard Oil Company and the British Agula Company, controlled by the Pearson interests. The London Outlook, speaking of "the world's squabbling," which usually attend rumors of Washington intervention in South American disputes and "the well-founded fears of capitalists investors in the United States," adds, "There is certainly an immense effort at work to necessitate intervention in Mexico." Even more specifically a journalist in the London Morning Post dwells thus on the fight between the Standard and the Agula:

"The fact must not be lost sight of that Mexico at the present time is the scene of two conflicts. There is a revolution against General Huerta and there is also a war of the rival oil interests.

"In the time of President Diaz all foreign, Americans and Europeans, were treated on an equality, as President Diaz welcomed foreign capital and accorded equal privileges to concessionaires. The American oil monopoly had long planned to extend its operations to Mexico, and was greatly disturbed when English capitalists invaded the Mexican oil fields.

"If reports based on something more than mere rumor are reliable, the American oil monopoly had no small share in the events that led to the expulsion of President Diaz and the accession of President Madero.

"It is a fact, and not a mere rumor, that Americans enjoyed the favor of Senor Madero and intrigued against British interests, and it is also a fact that since General Huerta came to power the Americans have lost their advantage and the English are in a better position than they were.

"Rumor has it that the Americans, convinced that there is nothing to be hoped for from General Huerta, are financing General Carranza, and will look for their reward if he comes into power.

"The oil fields of Mexico are so enormously rich, and assure such great wealth to their possessors, that it is not surprising there should be keen rivalry on the part of great financiers to secure their control, or that both sides should use the disturbed political condition of the country to their advantage."

So high an authority as Dr. Emilio Joseph Dillon (London) that we are disgruntled because Europe has got the best of us in the Mexican market, and hence we oppose every Mexican government that refuses to give us special favors. He writes:

"Of late years every stone has been turned by Americans for the purpose of obtaining a firm economic hold of Mexico. Industrial companies and commercial firms have set themselves to bring about a so-called 'reciprocity' treaty with Mexico, whereby Mexican raw materials would be admitted into the United States in return for the admission of American manufactured wares into Mexico. For, strange though it may appear, American manufactured goods have not yet been able to displace those of British, German, and French workmanship. In spite of the juxtaposition of the two countries and of the cheap railway communication they enjoy. The 'reciprocity' arrangement, would, it was hoped, turn the scale in favor of American exports, and oust those of European origin from Mexican markets. But the Mexican government has never availed from the principle of giving equal opportunity to all foreign countries in the shape of the most-favored-nation treatment, with no privileges to any neighbor. And this attitude was calculated to turn American with an ax to grind against the Mexican government, by whatever party it may be carried on. Mexico's statesmen held that the least they had a right to expect from European states in return for this policy of 'equal opportunity to all' would be friendly neutrality in the diplomatic struggle which it must of necessity precipitate between the two republics. And they now complain that this modest hope has not been realized."

Of railway and oil rivalries this well-informed and authoritative writer continues as follows:

"The railway policy of the Mexican government likewise engendered bitterness in the minds of patriotic Yankees. At a cost of hundreds of millions of pesos the ministers of General Diaz, and in particular his finance minister, Senor Llanamantour, bought back over 12,000 kilometers of railways, retained over half the shares for the state, and sold the remainder to a Mexican company. This patriotic and statesmanlike action caused heartburnings among the financiers of the New World and their friends, who treasured up their ire until the insurance supplied them with an auspicious opportunity to translate it into action. In like manner the exclusive rule of the American Standard Oil Company in the petroleum markets of Mexico was broken, and now a British company, known as Agula, is struggling with that great firm for the mastery."

"Those are some of the manifestations of Mexican policy which Yankee plutocrats bitterly resent. And the present chaotic state of the country offers them a handle which is being used for interference."—Literary Digest.

TALKS ON THRIFT

NO. 25—AMBITIOUS YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN.

"A young man may have many friends, but he will find none so steadfast, so constant, so ready to respond to his wants, so capable of pushing him ahead as a little leather-covered book with the name of a bank on its cover."—Sir Thomas Lipton.

If there is any one thing more than another that successful men strive to impress upon the minds of ambitious beginners as a necessary element of success, it is systematic saving. The views of Sir Thomas Lipton expressed above and those of Marshall Field in the next paragraph are typical of an overwhelming amount of similar testimony and advice from the lips of well-called self-made men. The great Chicago merchant said:

If you want to succeed, save. This is true, not so much because of the value of the money which the young man who saves accumulates, but because of the infinitely greater value of the system and organization which the practice of saving introduces into his life. This result of the saving habit is not generally nor properly appreciated. I consider it to be almost the greatest element in making for a young man's success. In the first place, it creates determination. This at the start. Then it develops steady purpose; then sustained energy. Soon it produces alert, discriminating intelligence. These all rapidly grow into an ability that enables him to take the money he has accumulated (even though small in amount) and employ it with profit. Better and better returns follow up his industry, ability and judgment and to his capital—now steadily increasing. Soon he is secure—and that comparatively early in life; and each day widens the gulf between him and incompetence and its inevitable companion, improvidence. This is the real framework of the structure of success. Each of its supports, it will invariably be found, rests upon a foundation stone of an early dollar saved.

There is a distinct moral and mental value in the practice of sensible economy. A college president puts it this way:

"There is no greater steady influence for young men than a growing account in some good bank. There is a sense of proprietorship and responsibility in buying a Certificate of Deposit, while a savings pass-book is an anchor to hold a boy steady in the shoal waters.

The same idea is expressed in the Manual of the Boy Scouts of America in this way:

A scout is thrifty. He does not wantonly destroy property. He works faithfully, wastes nothing, and makes the best use of his opportunities. He saves his money so that he may pay his own way be generous to those in need, and helpful to worthy objects."

Instant Relief From Eczema

"You can stop that awful itch from eczema and other skin troubles in two seconds.

Seems too good to be true—but it is true, and we vouch for it.

Just a few drops of the simple, cooling wash, the D.D.D. Prescription for eczema, and the itch stops instantly. We give you enough to prove it for 50 cents. Now, if you have tried a great many cures for eczema and have been disappointed, do not make the mistake of refusing to try this soothing wash. All other drugists keep this D.D.D. Prescription—so to them if you can't come to us—but if you come to our store we will give you the first dollar bottle on our positive no pay guarantee, that D.D.D. will stop the itch at once."

D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores healthy; asks us about it. Bedford Drug Co.—Adv.

opportunities. He saves his money so that he may pay his own way be generous to those in need, and helpful to worthy objects."

One of the most important things young people can learn is the value of money, and one of the best ways to do it is to save money systematically and to deposit it regularly in a strong, interest-paying bank.

It is a splendid preparation for business, too. The boy who early becomes familiar with banks and the earning power of money will have a distinct advantage when he starts on his business career.

The viewpoint of the employer on this subject is illustrated by these words of a prominent manufacturer:

The best men working in our shops today are the men who are saving money regularly. The steadiness of purpose and ambition thus displayed is apparent in their work. They are the men to whom advancements and promotions must frequently come and they are the last to be laid off when times are dull.

The regular meeting of the Twentieth Century club occurred on Apple Day, Tuesday, Nov. 18, the ladies observed the same by wearing badges on which appears the artistic design of a red apple which displays in the center a beautiful view of the Twin Falls. These badges were the gift of the Dew Creek Land and Water company. The Fruit Growers' Association presented every lady with a basket containing a box of apples and a basket of the club's produce. About two hundred women were then seen upon the streets of Twin Falls wearing the apple badge and the club's produce.

The afternoon was one of great interest and will last to be remembered by the women for its large attendance of members and guests. The program was in charge of the Home and Educational department, with Mrs. Margaret Cox as leader. Miss Mary Roberts, a pupil of the conservatory, rendered two vocal solos, the first a serenade by Goldsmith, the second "The Wind Sings" by Grant Shaffer.

The musical play entitled "Little Grandmother in Grandma Land," was given by twenty-two little girls. The scene opened with a dozen girls dressed in costumes of green and white (the club colors). They gave a very attractive drill, then, believing that grandmothers have the most delightful times in the world, they fell asleep to dream and float away on a gliding stream to Grandma Land.

The second scene represented the dream scene, true. Little girls appeared, dressed as grandmothers, with hair, kerchiefs and glasses. They drank tea and revealed in the privacy of a grandmother, and danced the minuet and Virginia reel of long ago.

The audience greatly appreciated the very creditable performance of Miss Pauline Alfante's orchestra, of eight little boys and girls playing the violins in unison.

The address of the afternoon was delivered by John F. Shepherd, D.D., Ph.D.

A motion was made and carried that a vote of thanks be given to the Twin Falls Fruit Growers Association and to the Twin Falls Dew Creek Orchard Co. for the courtesies extended to the club.

Twentieth Century Club

Ladies Observe Apple Day by Wearing Badges.

The regular meeting of the Twentieth Century club occurred on Apple Day, Tuesday, Nov. 18, the ladies observed the same by wearing badges on which appears the artistic design of a red apple which displays in the center a beautiful view of the Twin Falls. These badges were the gift of the Dew Creek Land and Water company. The Fruit Growers' Association presented every lady with a basket containing a box of apples and a basket of the club's produce. About two hundred women were then seen upon the streets of Twin Falls wearing the apple badge and the club's produce.

The afternoon was one of great interest and will last to be remembered by the women for its large attendance of members and guests. The program was in charge of the Home and Educational department, with Mrs. Margaret Cox as leader. Miss Mary Roberts, a pupil of the conservatory, rendered two vocal solos, the first a serenade by Goldsmith, the second "The Wind Sings" by Grant Shaffer.

The musical play entitled "Little Grandmother in Grandma Land," was given by twenty-two little girls. The scene opened with a dozen girls dressed in costumes of green and white (the club colors). They gave a very attractive drill, then, believing that grandmothers have the most delightful times in the world, they fell asleep to dream and float away on a gliding stream to Grandma Land.

The second scene represented the dream scene, true. Little girls appeared, dressed as grandmothers, with hair, kerchiefs and glasses. They drank tea and revealed in the privacy of a grandmother, and danced the minuet and Virginia reel of long ago.

The audience greatly appreciated the very creditable performance of Miss Pauline Alfante's orchestra, of eight little boys and girls playing the violins in unison.

The address of the afternoon was delivered by John F. Shepherd, D.D., Ph.D.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS
On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Press Bible
Question Club—

Nov. 25, 1913.
(Copyright, 1912, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.)
Joshua, the New Leader, Josh. 1:1-3.
Golden Text—Is strong and of good courage. Josh. 1:9.

(1) Verses 1-2—What qualities did Joshua have to fit him to be the leader of such a distinguished leader as Moses?

(2) Would you say or not, and why, that God speaks with the same certainty to all really Christian rulers to-day as he did to Joshua?

(3) Why is it that Christian men and women today very rarely testify of God speaking to them?

(4) When God selects a man by his providence, or by his spirit, to fill an important position, what are the motives which govern him in the selection? Give your reasons.

(5) If we fit ourselves for a certain sphere, what are the chances of God calling us to it?

(6) Does the work of God ever depend, upon any certain man to carry it out?

(7) Verses 3-4—When and to whom did God first promise Canaan to the Hebrew people?

(8) How many years did it take for God's promise to be actually realized?

(9) Was it God's original intention for so long a time to intervene before the Israelites would enter the promised land, and if not, what delayed them?

(10) What Bible promise or promises are there, if any, that have not been fulfilled?

(11) Verses 5-6—What reason is there to believe that every man has the ability and the opportunity to accomplish well and truly all the work which God has given him to do?

(12) Would you say or not, and why, that a man is immortal until his work is done?

(13) Every true man is a doubtless in the position to which God has called him, may he therefore depend with certainty that God will neither "let" nor "forsake" him, but enable him to be a success? Why?

(14) Verses 6-7—Are courage and moral strength under our own control? Why?

(15) What faculties must we use and in what order to be strong and courageous?

(16) Are dread, fear, anxious care, and other forms of cowardice, actually sinful or not, and why? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(17) What are the arguments for and against the proposition that the land belongs to all the people and that no person has any private rights not shared by the rest?

(18) In how many respects do we need to be strong and courageous, if we would enter into possession of the good things that God has promised us?

(19) Does God expect everybody to be successful? Give your reasons.

(20) Verses 8-9—If we are devoted students of God's laws so that we understand and do them, can any power prevent our success? Why?

(21) What effect does the prayerful and continuous study of the Bible have upon prosperity?

(22) Is it possible for every man to always have an actual realization of the presence of God, and if so how may it be done?

You Breathe It--No Stomach Dosages--Clears the Head.

Use nature's remedy for catarrh, or cold in the head, one that is harmless yet quick and effective.

It is the healing oils and balsams of Hyomel which you breathe through a small pocket inhaler. This curative and antiseptic air reaches the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing the catarrhal germs, stopping the offensive flow of mucus, droppings in the throat, crusts in the nose and all other catarrhal symptoms.

The complete outfit costs only $1.00 and Skeels-Wiley Drug Co. will return your money if not satisfied. Do not continue to suffer catarrhal illness--try Hyomel now--today--Adv.

Lumber Wins In Adaptability to all sorts of climates and it is especially favored by homebuilders in those sections where there is extreme moisture and wide variations of temperature. Ever since the landing of the Pilgrims it has been the universally favored homebuilding material, but the lumber we handle now would certainly make our ancestors rub their eyes could they see it. Why, it's so smooth and so much of it cut to exact lengths that there is scarcely more than half the labor required now to build a house. That makes a big difference in the cost of the house. And the mills we have got to have got their machinery so scientifically adapted and so planned that the additional cost for this fine lumber is hardly noticeable. You're going to build, you're going to build--we've got it--come in and see it.

TWO PHONES 345-320

LETTER TO MR. R. H. BARBER, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Dear Sir: Here's something every purchaser ought to know.

Mr. J. J. Hall, Sheffield, Pa. painted two houses, 5 years ago, lead-and-oleo, cost 49 gallons. Last year, he painted 40 more, 49 gallons, and 10 left. He is one of thousands. The knowledge is getting about pretty generally, that Devco goes further than anything else.

Have you found it out in your own experience?

How much further?

Suppose a few amounts to 10,000 square feet; how much less Devco could you buy?

Is it as easy to paint? Does it cost any more or less to put-on by the gallon than anything else? How much? If it costs no more to put-on Devco by the gallon, it costs less by the foot, you know; for the gallon does more feet. How much less, do you find it, for wages?

Last year, twice as long; that is the owner's gain; but perhaps you reckon it yours; some do. The time, when that comes-in, is when he gives out the next job.

Who gets it? Yours, truly,

P. S. DEVCO--IS-GO

HIGH PRICE FOR CATTLE

Nevada Stock Buyers Offer 13 Cents Per Pound, Live Weight.

Cattle buyers have invaded the Rose River country, which is something unusual for this season of the year, and they are more insistent than ever on getting bunches of 2-year-olds for fattening for the Panama-Pacific exposition year. These men are offering 13 cents on the hoof, but such stockmen as Bell, Keigh and Welch know too well the value of their herds to let go at this time, when they are plentifully supplied with alfalfa. They think they can hold on to their stock a little while longer and get the benefit of topping off prices by sending their stock to Mason valley or Fallon for the winter.

Two buyers of this class arrived in Tonopah this week and took autos for Stone Cabin, with the intention of going through to Duckwater and Ely—Tonopah Bonanza.
