HEARINGS BEGIN ON FREIGHT RATES

Interstate Commerce Commission Listens to Arguments

IMMEDIATE RESULTS, HOWEVER, PERTAIN TO NORTHERN SECTION.

May be Postponement—Recent Death of Commissioner and Resignation of Others the Cause.

Washington.—The interstate commerce commission will begin Monday a hearing on the proposed freight rate increase of approximately 5 per cent filed October 15 last by the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers.

Actually every railroad in the country is concerned, for should the commission permit the roads applying to increase rates, the same authority might be extended to other carriers to increase rates on all classes of freight. The railroads asked two years ago for an increase of about 10 per cent. After an inquiry the commission refused the request. When the tariff providing for the present proposed increase was extended to the present date, November 15, they were suspended by the commission, pending investigation, until March 1, 1914.

In May, 1913, the railroads involved filed a petition for a rehearing of the former freight rate case, and the commission on June 21 last issued an order directing that inquiry be instituted as to whether the present rates of transportation yield adequate revenue to common carriers by railroads operating in official classification territory and, if not, what general course carriers might pursue to meet the situation. It was ordered that opportunity be afforded to interested carriers and the public generally to present facts and arguments as they might desire.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and chairman of the committee of railroad presidents chosen by the eastern railroads to appear for them in the premises; Frederic A. Delano of Chicago, president of the Western railroad and representing the Central Pacific association, general and George Stuart Patterson, general solicitor of the Pennsylvania railroad, will present the railroads' arguments to the commission in support of the proposed tariff increase.

It was reported Sunday night that the actual taking of testimony might be postponed to a later date, owing to the recent death of Commissioner John M. Marble and because the term of Commissioner Clement Alabama, expires in December and Commissioner Charles A. Phily has been selected to succeed him, practically vacant—Stamatt.

MAY GET CONTRACT

W. W. Humphrey Lowest Bidder For Yellowstone Stage Line.

Washington.—It is believed probable that the secretary of the interior will award the contract for carrying tourists through Yellowstone park on the route to W. W. Humphrey of Twin Falls, Ida., who has submitted a proposal to reduce the rates from $25 to $20 per trip, and is also offering to provide the government $7000 a year for the rental of the ground occupied by the park and other buildings in the park. This is the best offer yet received and Senator Brady is strongly urging the award of the contract to Humphrey.

BIGGS POSTMASTER AT BUHL

Nomination Confirmed by the Senate Saturday of Last Week.

The nomination of C. V. Biggs as postmaster at Buhl, which was pending in the senate for several months, was confirmed by that body on Saturday last. It is understood that the appointment of Mr. Biggs was on the recommendation of Mr. Elder, Democratic national committeeman from this state. Mr. Biggs will take over the office as soon as his commission arrives.

SPLENDID BAND CONCERT

Citizens Poorly Repay Effort to Help.

The band concert given Sunday was not as well attended by the generous citizens as should have been for the splendid concert given. The proceeds were about twenty-five dollars and will be used for the relief of the needy people of this city. It is not too late for any of the citizens to donate for the worthy cause even now. Just hand it to some member of the band.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL

Match Between Americans and Anglo-Americans, Thursday Morning.

The first association football game ever played in the state of Idaho, will take place in the ball park at eleven o'clock Thanksgiving morning. Considerable interest is being taken in the event as many are anxious to see the game that attracts such enormous crowds wherever played. The Anglo-Americans were brought up on the British Isles, where they learned to play the soccer game. Until recently many of them had not seen a foot ball for many years, but they are anxious to introduce the pastime in the land of their adoption. The Americans have been practicing for several weeks and have made splendid headway under the coaching of P. A. Harrison. The accident to Chaplin will deprive them of the services they expect to make the "Anglo" go all the way. What they lack in experience they make up in dash and speed and a very clever play. The game is expected to be made for admission. The teams will be:

Americans—Goal: O. O'Brien; backs: F. Jones and H. Neher; half-backs: Lyle Doherty, T. Thometz and L. P. Jones; forwards: H. D. MacClair and Brown; right wing: E. A. Beymob; left wing: P. D. Kingsbury; center: Captain—center: S. Hamilton; and John B. Dow, left wing.

RESCUE WORK

Captain Green and Wife Ready to Respond to Help the Needy.

The Salvation Army's social department, which have the rescue work in Twin Falls and vicinity by Capt. and Mrs. L. Green. They will call on anyone who is in need of help, and give whatever is possible. They have not been able to secure a hall or store for their headquarters on account of the limited funds, and believe they have better use for the cash in hand at present to relieve those who are in real need of help. They are willing to take in rent, and let the needy suffer.

All who desire the captain to call on them, kindly send your names and addresses to the captain, or to the Salvation Army, Twin Falls, Ida., and he will be pleased to call on you at once. Or anyone who has had plenty, and desiring to help this branch of the Lord's work, please kindly send it to the captain, or to the Salvation Army, in this city in the rescue work of the Army.

NAMPA DRUGGIST SUED

Made Defendant Under New 1913 Inter-State Liquor Law.

Jacob Forch has been made defendant in an action of forfeiture on his $500 bond given under the new 1913 liquor law, for having violated the law in filling prescriptions for intoxicating liquors. It is alleged in the complaint that he filled two prescriptions, one for whiskey and one for alcohol for the city clerk. The new law seems to give druggists the right to do this and it makes them liable if they do so. It is probable that there are very few druggists in the state who have not sold liquor under the conditions prescribed by the city clerk's orders and there would seem to be no reason why this power should have been given to city clerks if compliance with them by a druggist would be a violation of law. It is probable that the case will not be finally settled until the supreme court has passed upon the law.—Nampa Leader.

AT THE ORPHEUM

The Man Who Handles Electricity Like Water.

The manager of the Orpheum theatre has been able to secure two first-class vaudeville attractions for Thanksgiving week. For the first three nights of the week will be seen the Hummeltons, in the greatest of comedy acts. It is a laugh from start to finish—amused, with music and music. For the last three nights of the week will be seen Electrica and company. This is one of the best acts on the vaudeville stage. Don't fail to see the man who handles electricity like water. It is surely a great feat. The management has secured a first-class line of motion pictures for the entire week.

RESISTS COMPETITION

Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Water Power Co. Appeals to State Commission

Similar Case Already Decided at St. Anthony in Favor of the Company Holding Field

The first move to prevent competitive rates within this city was made last week by the Great Shoshone and Twin Falls Water Power company, which has appealed to the state public utility commission to restrain the Idaho Power & Light company from entering this field, under franchise already granted by the city. The appeal was made on behalf of the Kuhn company by J. H. Seaver as a private citizen, who, however, is in the employ of the Kuhn and assistant the Beaver River Power company and its successor, the Idaho Power and Light company.

The Idaho Light and Power company the past week received shipments of poles and were preparing to place the public utility law into effect. The entrance of the utility commission into the fight will delay their action until the matter is settled. In brief the Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Water Power company attacks the status of the two other powerful electric corporations in this city, and attempts to enter the Twin Falls field on the grounds that not only is the field already filled by that company which alleges it is furnishing all the electricity and electric energy now needed or required all that will hereafter be needed by Twin Falls but that while the public utility law went into effect in Twin Falls it was not approved until June 23 following and the bond was not given until Oct. 3, thereby giving the public utilities commission supervision.

The complaint sets forth, that on April 23 of the present year the Beaver River secured from the city council of Twin Falls a certain ordinance known as No. 124, "pretending to grant to said corporation, its successors and assigns, the right and authority to distribute electricity in said city for the purpose of furnishing light and power to said city, and the inhabitants thereof; that the ordinance required the filing of a bond conditioned that it would begin work within Twin Falls on the construction of an electric power plant or system within six months; that the Beaver River company was ready to file an unconditional acceptance of the ordinance in writing within 60 days; that on June 23 a written acceptance of the ordinance was filed with the city clerk by the Beaver River company; that on or about Oct. 1 the property of the Beaver River company was transferred to the Idaho Power & Light company and that on Oct. 3 a bond claimed by the defendants to be the bond required by ordinance No. 124 was filed with the city clerk of Twin Falls and that on Oct. 6 that company procured a pretended ordinance No. 124 to be passed by the city council approving the assignment and transfer of the rights of the Beaver River company."

Since Nov. 1 the Idaho Power & Light company began work on its transmission lines, plant, etc., to furnish Twin Falls with electrical energy but while this work has been progressing it is alleged in the complaint that the company has not secured a certificate of convenience and public necessity from the public utilities commission of this state.

"Therefore," says the complaint, "plaintiff prays: That the commission of the public utilities act be granted to the defendants or either of them for the construction of works in the said city of Twin Falls, state of Idaho."

"That defendants be ordered and directed to refrain and desist from the construction of any line, system or plant for furnishing electric power, light and energy to said city of Twin Falls, and also from furnishing and from making or entering into any contract for furnishing electricity or electric power or energy for any purpose within said city, and plaintiffs pray for such proper relief as to the commission may seem most necessary."

Copies of the ordinance granted by Twin Falls to the defendant companies accompany the complaint which was filed by S. H. Hays and P. B. Carter, attorneys for the Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Water Power company.

STAPLETON'S DUTCH AUCTION

Jewelry Puts on New Reduction Possibilities.

O. B. Stapleton, the jeweler, has put on a new reduction sale that allows some ambitious shopper to get a standard article from his big stock every Saturday. Each Saturday he has a big display of goods, and does with the price plainly marked. Each day that the article stays in the window without selling it is reduced in price. The first article, a twelve dollar clock, went finally at five dollars. It will pay the Christmas shoppers to watch Stapleton's Dutch sale.

A COMMUNICATION

To the Potato Growers of the Twin Falls Tract:

On October 10th, 1913, we shipped one carload of potatoes through the Twin Falls County Potato Growers Association. These potatoes were shipped to Oklahoma City, and there sold at 75c per bushel delivered. The following facts and figures, which are self-explanatory, show the details of the transaction:

341 sacks. Weight 37,180 lbs. Sold at 75c per bu. del.
341 sacks. Weight 37,180 lbs.—Sold at 75c per bu. del.
Less Freight 75c.
Less Broker 10.00
Less Exchange 45.46
Less Freight 15.00
Less Postoffice 7.43
Less Commission 11.13
Less Association membership fee 20.00
Total of freight, commissions and charges $287.09
Net return to us $477.41

Based upon the above figures the net return to us per cw. wt. was 48 cents. On the day these potatoes were shipped we were offered 65 cents per cw. wt. by three local buyers, from which fact it is easily deductible that we sold this carload of potatoes at a very low price. Instead of shipping it through the Association, we would have realized $82.20 more in cash than we did.

It occurs to us that we have paid well for the privilege of being members of the Twin Falls County Potato Growers Association.

KING HILL CASE DECIDED

Judge Dietrich Hands Down Decree in Favor of Chicago Bank.

Judge Dietrich of the federal court has rendered his decision in the foreclosure case against the Kings Hill Irrigation & Power company brought by the Continental & Commercial Trust & Savings bank of Chicago, the trustee for the bondholders. The case became a complicated one by reason of the intervention of several corporations claiming mechanic's liens against the property. Among these were the Pacific Coast Pipe company and the Minneapolis Steel & Machinery company. The decision covers the following points:

The lien of the Pacific Coast Pipe company is not good as against the plaintiff mortgagee because this plaintiff was not made a party to the foreclosure proceedings. Judge Dietrich makes his decision in the case of the implement-Vehicle company against Frank C. Bowman apply to this case and upholds the opinion in that case to the opinion in this case.

He holds that the pipe company has no lien upon the bridge upon which the Steel & Machinery company claims a lien, but that if the pipe company holds legal title to the bridge it may, consistently, constitute the machinery company's foreclosure in the state courts.

It is held that the bank's trust deed does not cover any property in Elmore county and its lien is, therefore, limited to the property in Lincoln, Twin Falls and Owyhee counties and does not extend to the bridge or the pipe line carried thereon or to the ditches on the north side of Snake river supplied by this pipe line.

The bank is given a decree of foreclosure for $155,440 with simple interest thereon at the rate of 5 per cent from the date of the decree. It is held that under the laws of Idaho interest cannot be allowed upon over-due interest coupons.—Capital News.

HERMIT OF THE HILLS

Wild Man Found in Hills North of Mackay.

Up in Case Canyon, on the head of Big Lost River 40 miles above Mackay, there lives in seclusion a man who is thought to be insane. His presence in the hills has been known for the past six or eight months. An old miner's cabin serves as his hermitage, and in that section report that he runs at the sight of human beings. His hair has grown long and that his clothing is in shreds with patches of deer skin and there.

How the man lives in a mystery for his cabin was visited several weeks ago and the only food was a small amount of corn. One of the miners' cabins of the section have been pillaged lately and it is some fifteen miles to the nearest ranch house. Who he is, where he came from or the reason for his seclusion, is utterly unknown to anyone but that he is there and that he lives the life of the wild creatures of the hills. None but the few who have been seen by many travelers in the district who have reported the case to the Mining and Geographical Society.

The chilly blasts of winter will probably drive the reclusive out to settlements or end his earthly career. If he does not leave the hills, he will get cold up in that country by the end of the year.—Mackay Miner.

BEET-GROWERS GET A MILLION

Idaho Beet Raisers Receive Nice Sum of Money.

Idaho sugar beet growers were paid $600,000, Nov. 10, for beets delivered during October. It is believed the December pay day will bring the sum received by farmers in this state for beets up to the million dollar mark.

The Southern Idaho factories and the sums paid to the growers supplying them are given out as follows: Idaho Falls $175,000 Blackfoot 157,000 Burley 150,000

This is the industry that the beet sugar companies claim President Wilson will pay out of the goodness when sugar goes on the tariff list. It remains to be seen if these claims prove true. If they do, the free trade party will get a hard fight to the beet growers' sections. It is by testing out these theories that the actual facts are known.—Nampa Record.

HOODLUMS ATTACK FOOTBALL PLAYERS

Good Game Spoiled by Rough-house Aftermath

TWIN FALLS LOSES TO WEST END CITY BY 15 TO 6 SCORE.

Irresponsible Gang Attempts to Start Riot at O. S. L. Station in Buhl.

Buhl beat Twin Falls fairly in a good, fast, snappy game last Friday in the city of Buhl, by a score of thirteen to six. And after it was all over and the winners about to leave, they properly celebrating their victory the roughs of that city spoiled the whole thing by trying to mob the Twin Falls team while it was waiting for the evening train. According to the faculty who accompanied the team, while walking about the streets before the game, the players were called vile names and threatened with all kinds of violence. At no time, however, did the Coach or the players attempt to get into the game pay any attention to the insults, acting on the advice of the coach and faculty.

After the game the team, Twin Falls adherents went to the station to wait the departure of the evening train. Some of them were in the coach and a few were out on the platform. In a short time a number of Buhl hoodlums appeared and with little comment proceeded to start things. One of the Professors of Twin Falls was attacked and after standing his man off threw him over the depot fence, and a few were out on the platform. In a brief space of time six fist encounters were being fought. The mob, who stood back waiting to see the results. In every case the Twin Falls players gave good account of themselves and the mob had to retreat until at a safe distance when they proceeded to use language which was stronger than their fists, and more suited to their dispositions.

On the Wednesday previous to the game the captain of the football team had received a letter signed "Buhl" in which the vilest of language was used and the team was threatened with violence when it came to Buhl. The blame for this disgraceful affair is not hard to place. After the game of Nov. 8, in this city, prominent Buhl men made an effort to prevent the Twin Falls team from leaving the city. When the leaders in any community preach revenge the hoodlums are sure to respond.

The Nampa Record shows up. The Twin Falls youngsters who experienced the affair were deeply impressed and the treatment they received. The Nampa Record shows up. It is rather amusing to note the wonderful claims made by the best sugar companies of the great amount of wealth lumped together which they have paid to the raisers in this state. They very carefully refrain from giving the total acreage from which the beets were grown so that any fair estimate can be made of the net average profit. They are equally careful not to say anything about the wear and tear on the soil which rapidly goes back when put under sugar beet cultivation. It is true that a large sum of money is paid into this state every year by the sugar companies, but it is also true that the sugar beet raisers pay pretty dearly for the privilege of furnishing the sugar company with its source of revenue.

If a former decision made by the Idaho Public Utilities Commission can be taken as precedent, the attempt of the Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Water Power company to prevent the entrance of its rival, the Idaho Power and Light company, will be successful. According to the power taken up to it, the wonderful Idaho commission declares that it can also stop competition in public utilities. A decision in a power war in the city of St. Anthony was decided in favor of the company in the field—the commission refusing to concede the right of the city to grant another franchise. If such is the case it is high time that the Haines regime and its public utilities commission be voted out of office. In the first place the people of any city are entitled to competition in electric light and power just the same as any other commodity and the ruling of the commission will arouse enough public sentiment to eventually sweep the political commission out and demand a non-partisan board and a just law. Twin Falls has paid a higher rate than it should for a number of years and if the political board is going to shut out competition it should be just enough to make the company holding a monopoly most competitive rates. There is no reason why Dolan, Gooding and several other cities should have a much lower lighting rate than this city which does not have the right to bring in competition according to the political commission making the St. Anthony decision a precedent for the whole state.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR LANDSEY
The dispatches tell us that Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of juvenile court fame, has had another favorable ruling in his struggle with "The Beast in the Jungle," as his foes in Denver are collectively called by the crusader and his friends. The other day a committee of three men and two women from the Denver Taxpayers' Association declared groundless the charges of the Woman's Protective League that Judge Lindsey had been too lenient with men found guilty of crimes against young girls and had been absent from his post too much. This, in the opinion of the Washington Herald, "completely vindicates Lindsey's court and methods," and in the Denver Post we read that Lindsey's foes are scored by their own committee, and that "the old Beast dies hard—but it lies." Yesterday news from the Colorado capital would indicate that the figurative animal is far from dead. While the three men on the committee adhere to their decision, "afterwards," says a dispatch to the New York American, "it is said the two women yielded to the demands of the 'interests,' which for four months persistently sought to hamstring and ruin Judge Lindsey." The "yielding" alluded to by the American correspondent came when, some ten days after the "vindication" was filed, the two women, in a minority report, asked the Taxpayers' Association to recommend that the charges against Lindsey be investigated by a grand jury. The minority report was adopted by vote of 12 to 19 after what the newspapers describe as a "rough house," which followed charges of falseness passed between Mrs. R. B. England and the Rev. W. P. Simington, members of the committee. The dispatch to the American says there "broke loose a torrent of recrimination, of profanity, of shrieks and threats and tactics which resulted in a call for the police," and the departure from the hall of many of Lindsey's friends, who were no longer willing to take part in the shameful force. The Judge's supporters charged that the house had been "packed" with non-members of the association, who were allowed to vote. The original report, which exonerates Judge Lindsey, follows:

Many rumors came to the ears of individuals composing your committee regarding derelictions of duty and wrong decisions of Judge Lindsey, but when asked to submit written reports of the same and evidence in support thereof, none were forthcoming. Most of these related to a previous term of office and were decided by other judges, sitting for Judge Lindsey in his absence. The only matter that effects the Taxpayers' Association your committee deemed pertinent is a question of his absence during this term of office, from March, 1912, to September, 1913, for which you have heard his excuses and reasons. Very respectfully submitted,

W. P. SIMINGTON,
BERNARD FORD,
MRS. VASSA REPLEGUE,
H. S. VAUGHN,
MRS. R. E. ENGLAND.

On the day the report was printed the Denver Post, with Lindsey leaning, had this to say:

"It is an evidence of the fair-mindedness of the members of the committee and it is a direct rebuke to those anonymous agents hiding behind the Woman's Protective League and the methods they brought with them from the old days when the Beast ruled Denver."

"Never has a judge or court been so covered with slime and mud as Judge Lindsey and the juvenile court have been covered by the circularizing Hates-Whithead-Curtis Protective League."

"When, on September 15, the committee of three men and two women was appointed Taxpayers' Association to investigate Judge Lindsey and probe charges made against the administration of his court, their anti-Lindsey sentiment was acknowledged. 'We were ready to hear charges against Lindsey,' said Major Vaughn, and I told the judge that I would certainly find against him if the evidence warranted. Any flimsey of men and women have appeared before the committee and been glib with their tongues, but when it came to plucking them down with a written statement and asking them to name witnesses who would substantiate their charges—that was another story; they flew out of the room."

"The judge explained his absences from court at the public meeting of the association, and since no one can so found who will come to the open and fight, we consider the incident closed and Denver is well rid of the turmoil which the Woman's Protective League has stirred up."

"The Woman's Protective League, consisting of Dr. Elizabeth Hates, Royce Curtis, former president of the Tramway under the Evans management, and E. K. Whithead, secretary of the Bureau of Child and Animal Protection, has been moving heaven and earth to 'get something' on Lindsey. That they have failed and that circulars made up from jail records are not to be relied on in the discussion or disposal of cases in the juvenile court is proved by the finding of the taxpayers' committee."

"The investigation has served one purpose," said Major Vaughn; "it has cleared the atmosphere. Now we can all go to work together for the good of the city."

The Denver News says some of the members of the Taxpayers' Association are in favor of dissolving the organization because of the fight on Judge Lindsey. This in turn from Harper's Weekly:

"His enemies thought he was sicker than he was. When they found he was able to present his own case, the probabilities of attempting a recall vanished. There never was anything in it but opposition. The news was an unjust in the mind of the awakened and free part of the population of Denver that Ben Lindsey has done more for the welfare of that city and of its inhabitants, and of generations to come, than the city can ever repay. Those who attack him are those who think they profit from a system iniquitous in its essence."

The Judge's enemies have not been given much space in the newspapers, and presently all the editorial comment and most of the news dispatches are favorable to him.—Literary Digest.

FRENCH CANDIDATE FOR SENATE

Will Shy His Caster in Ring as Candidate from North Idaho.

Washington—Congressman Burton L. French will be a candidate for United States senator against Senator Brady next year. He will not make a formal announcement of his candidacy at this time, but through friends his purpose was made known Tuesday.

No surprise will be aroused by Congressman French's indirect announcement of his candidacy for the senate. Since the votes of the last general election were announced it was a foregone conclusion that sooner or later the congressman would inform the voters of Idaho that he aspired to the senate.

At the election of last year Congressman French received 53,542 votes. This was the highest vote cast for any candidate of any party for the office in the state. French was the only candidate for any office on any ticket to get a majority of all the votes cast. The total vote for president was 104,202. French had his highest opponent for congress on the Democratic ticket, Mitchell, by 23,244. He beat the head of his own ticket, President Taft, by 20,732.

It is clear from the returns that Congressman French received many more votes than he because Roosevelt received 25,530 votes for president, while P. Monroe Smoot, running on the same ticket, but against French, received only 13,696 votes. This is taken to indicate that 13,000 Bull Moose voters voted for French. On the surface it would seem that French's candidacy for the senate will cut into the candidacy of Chief Justice Allshouse, as both come from the same section of north Idaho. It was freely charged last week that French had it in his power to nominate Judge Allshouse to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Hewburn, but refused to do so, to please his friends in North Idaho to go to the chief justice's estate.

PROGRESS IN FORESTRY

Forestry Officials Claim Progress Depends on Public.

Washington, Nov. 17.—"Progress in forestry depends more upon what the public permits than upon what foresters and lumbermen perform." This is the conclusion of the forestry committee, as expressed at the conservation congress today.

"As a consequence," the committee goes on to say, "public education is of prime importance, and the best methods of educating the public demand special study. Since no one else has the interest and the requisite forestry knowledge, foresters and lumbermen must learn this trade or profession in addition to their own."

"It is not forests, but the use of forests, which we seek to perpetuate and therefore to be sound and convincing education must include a knowledge of the lumber business."

In presenting some of the educational devices the committee commended particularly the booklets gotten out by various forest fire protective associations. Another device is a paper drinking cup to be folded by children, each fold telling a picturesque story of the growth of a forest tree, and of the evils of its insects. Still another is a small box labeled which points out that while a match has a head, it does not think for itself, but is dependent on the thought of the user to keep it from doing harm in the woods.

Society and Kuppenheimer Clothes are Best

We make our appeal to the INTELLIGENT MAN, the man who THINKS, and can reason for himself. The man who KNOWS QUALITY AND STYLE we are sure will see our line. We are equally sure of the result. It is the man who doesn't know that is bewildered by the extravagant claims of some dealers, by gaudy signs, and the various kinds of BUNCO which the honest and self-respecting merchant will have none of. Sooner or later merit reaps her reward—Why not now?

MEN'S SUITS

Consistent with our policy of good clothes and fair prices, you will find these all, and more than you expect for the money. A wide range of styles, fabrics, and colors. Compare, and remember we're here to stay, also that these are NOT sale prices, but new and dependable clothes.

QUARANTINE ORDER MODIFIED

Southern Counties Now Permitted to Ship Alfalfa.

The quarantine order issued by the state horticultural inspector on Feb. 24, which prohibited the shipment to other parts of the state of alfalfa and seed from counties in the southeastern part of the state, which are infested with alfalfa weevil, has been modified by an order issued under date of Nov. 12, which permits the shipment from that section into other counties of the state of alfalfa seed, provided it is contained in new so-called sacks, and is properly inspected either at point of shipment or point of delivery. The counties interested in this modification of quarantine order are Bear Lake, Fremont, and Oneida. This modification of quarantine was decided upon by the state horticultural inspector after a thorough investigation of the alfalfa weevil in those counties during the past season by T. H. Parks, field entomologist, who found that there is practically no danger in allowing the alfalfa seed to be shipped out, provided it was put in the prescribed seamless sacks. As a matter of precaution, however, all alfalfa seed shipped from the state, these shipments are allowed only subject to inspection by the deputy state horticultural inspector or other quarantine officers.—Capital News.

ROADS PAY FOR THEMSELVES

Incidents Related Whereby Several Southern Farmers Profited by Improvements Made by State.

The direct effect that changing bad roads into good roads has upon land values and marketing prices, as well as the general economic welfare of the community, is shown in several concrete illustrations which were gathered by the United States department of agriculture. In Lee county, Virginia, a farmer owned 100 acres which he offered to sell for $1,200. In 1908 his road was improved, and although the farmer sought the improvement, he has since refused $2,000 for his farm. A near-by tract of 188 acres is said to have been sold for $6,000. After road improvement, the same farm was sold for $9,000 in Johnson county, Alabama, the people voted a bond issue for $250,000 for road improvement. The selling value at that time was $5 to $15 per acre. The selling price is now from $15 to $25 per acre.

In another state, two farmers living at equal distance from a cotton market learned by telephone that cotton had gone up in price one dollar per bale. The farmer on the bad road hauled one bale of cotton which was all he could get over that road. The other farmer on the good road was able to haul four bales. The man on the good road gained four dollars by the rise in price, while his neighbor on the bad road gained only one dollar. A farmer in Sullivan county, Tennessee, had 100 bushels of Irish potatoes which he intended to market during the winter. Owing to bad roads, he was unable to haul the potatoes at all. They rotted in the cellar. In the meantime, the price of potatoes at a market point went as high as $1.40 per bushel.

MACHINE FOR WORK ON ROAD

Tar-Spraying Apparatus Gives Good Satisfactory Results on Macadamized, Thoroughfares.

Particularly satisfactory results are claimed for this system of applying tar to macadam roads. The tar is heated and applied to the road under a pressure of about 150 pounds to the square inch, and at a temperature of from 100 to 120 degrees Fahrenheit, being sprayed through fine nozzles. Each spraying head comprises four nozzles. So applied, the tar will be more quickly absorbed by the road, penetrating to a considerable distance.

ROADS AND COST OF LIVING

Good Road Is Not Only Convenience and Pleasure, But Is an Actual Economic Necessity.

Until very recently the vast majority of people failed to understand that the good road is not a mere country dweller's convenience, or the means to motorist's pleasure, but that it is an actual economic necessity, says Suburban Life Magazine. That it costs the farmers of this country more for a ten-mile haul of produce from farm to town than it does to ship that produce from New York to London, is a fact. That it costs farmers abroad from one-half to one-tenth as much to haul a ton a mile on a road as it does the farmers of this country, is another fact. That practically every pound of flesh and bushel of wheat we consume must travel over a road at least once and sometimes twice before we eat it, is a third fact. The three are the answer to one part of the question: "Why does it cost so much to live?" Someone has to pay for the depreciation in the value of horses and vehicles caused by poor roads. Someone has to pay for the extra time it takes to haul cotton to market, when two mules are required to haul two bales ten miles in one day, when on a good road the same two mules could haul 24 bales in the same time with the same effort.

Calf to Save.

No calf should be saved as a future member of the dairy herd unless she has good high producing mother and a sire who can transmit these traits in his female ancestry.

Some Tasks Are Hard and Some Are Easy For Want Ads----While Few Indeed Are Impossible

The easy want ad tasks are usually accomplished through one publication of the ad. The want ad tasks may require repeated publications of the ad--sometimes growing into the dignity of "want ad campaigns."

And, while purely "transient" classified advertising may not complete the task set for it, a "want ad campaign" does not fail, if sensible persistence is used. This means that such difficult want ad tasks as that of finding to all sorts of climates and it is especially favored by homebuilders in those sections where there is extreme moisture and wide variations of temperature. Ever since the landing of the Pilgrims it has been the universally favored homebuilding material, but the lumber we handle now would certainly make our ancestors rub their eyes could they see it. Why, it's so smooth and so much of it cut to exact lengths that there is scarcely more than half the labor required now to build a house. That makes a big difference in building costs you see, and the mills we buy of have got their machinery so scientifically adjusted and run that the additional cost for this fine lumber is hardly noticeable. If you're going to build, you'll want the best—we've got it—come in and see it.

EXTRA SESSION CONSIDERED

Governor Haines Says That Much Pressure Is Being Brought

That the next construction work attempted on the Lost River irrigation project and the Ketchikan dam will have to be done in thorough manner, was the vigorous statement of Governor John M. Haines, who was an arrival in Pocatello this morning.

The governor remained over between trains, and will leave this morning for Idaho. He cited a belief that the new developments in the Lost River project, and the circumstance that Corey Hines, would bid in the project at the next sale, have a decidedly encouraging front, and if work is to be resumed in any manner it will have to be on thoroughly substantial and sound basis in the matter of fixing the dam.

The governor stated that strong pressure is being exerted to induce him to call an extra session of the legislature for the purpose of creating a drainage measure of particular benefit to the north, and that while matters of revenue and the determination of the best method through which to dispose of the many road bonds that were provided during the last session have to be considered, that he had not yet decided on issuing the call.

"There are many good reasons for calling the extra session," he said, "but the urgency must be so pronounced that it will justify the expense of such an extra session, beyond a doubt, but it is difficult to determine the advisability of calling it unless there is sufficient urgent business that will stand approved before the people of the state."

Governor Haines looked the picture of health and stated that for the first time since he took the office he has had an opportunity to enjoy the position, and he is getting in touch with the state and its resources just as fast as opportunity will permit. Pocatello Tribune.

AVOID THE STRENUOUS

Hasband Your Energy—"There's a Big Night Coming By and By."

"A Bachelor's Honeymoon," that hilarious sufficiency, will soon be presented to the people of this vicinity in large laughter loads.

A company of comedians, artists in their line, and their line in laughter making, under the management of A. Mayo Bradford, will present this Great Night theatre, New York, success.

"The Bachelor" in this case, offered with an old maid sister, an actress bride, a German doctor for a rival, and twins, real live twins, in order to extract himself from the embarrassing positions into which he is thrust by the multiplicity of the temperamental distinctness of his household, he is compelled to—well, we wouldn't say that he lies, nor would we intimate in the least degree that he was a pervertor; but if he was walking down the street with "Ananias" on one side and "Sapphira" on the other, we wouldn't say that "He was in the bosom of his family."

His propensity for trouble out-lookings "Happy" in his halcyon days and his ineffectual attempts to ride the temperamental waves are ludicrous in the extreme.

Accompanying "The Bachelor's Honeymoon" is a satire of laughter, arising from it and travelling after it from every city in which it has been produced. Rhinoceros, silver, Jovian laughter, that is what "A Bachelor's Honeymoon" is, all bound up in one great comedy. There is going to be a "cloud-burst" of fun when it arrives.

People of Twin Falls take refuge in the Cottillion theatre on December 2.

At Joe a line you bring your wants to your neighbors' door.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

The Current Events department met on the twelfth of this month. An unusually interesting talk was given on Mexico, and the attitude of foreign powers towards the policy of the United States. Among the Current Events given were several interesting foreign items by Mrs. Chamberlain.

The lesson period was devoted to the subject of Alaska—its also, purchase, resources and government. Much was developed which gave a new color to this vast unknown part of our land. The time was entirely too short to cover the subject which is to be continued at the next meeting.

The History and Literature department met Friday afternoon. The members responded to the roll call with quotations from King John. The first part of the study period was devoted to the early life of Shakespeare, his family history, and the opening of his career.

The second part was devoted to their part in shaping this wonderful character. An interesting account was given of the author's connection with the theatre. The chairman had prepared a list of sixteen questions on Shakespeare which were read and answered by the members.

The Parliamentary and Civics department met with Mrs. Deane Monday afternoon. The chairman had prepared a list of sixteen questions on parliamentary law. The work and reports of committees were demonstrated. The illustration of a minority report was exceptionally well handled.

The musical department is studying German music this year. The next regular meeting of this department will be devoted to the study of Mozart. All club members are invited to the following program at 8:00 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 25, at the Masonic hall.

"Life of Mozart"—Mrs. J. W. C. Denke.
Piano solo, "Sonata" (Mozart)—Miss Sarah Higgin.
"Personal Appearance and Character of Mozart"—Mrs. S. E. Brookover.
"His Value to Music"—Mrs. H. P. Laird.

Vocal solo, selected—Mrs. C. A. McManister.
"Hind's Opinion of Mozart"—Mrs. C. S. McMartin.

"Mozart's Greatest Opera"—Mrs. B. A. Baker.
"Wagner, 'Sweet Zephora'—Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Kenneth.
Reading—Miss Jennie Kukin.

Violin solo, selected—Mrs. Harry Brown.
"Concerto and Symphonies"—Mrs. C. W. Parsons.

Overture for four hands—Miss Edith Huter and Miss George Palfrey.
The Home and Educational department has changed the place of meeting. It will now meet at the home of Mrs. J. H. Sawyer.

The chairman, Mrs. Myronette Cox, has invited the South Hills and the Twin Falls school to cooperate in the work. A large attendance of teachers and club women is expected at this meeting.

ORANG CROP LARGER THIS YEAR

Forty Thousand Carloads of Fruit Will Be Shipped From California.

Approximately 40,000 carloads of oranges will be shipped out of California this season, according to the estimates received from the various districts by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

This means that the crop will be perhaps a little larger than the crop of 1911-12. Of the total crop 6,000 carloads are from the northern citrus sections.

Prices for the fruit in the east, it is stated, are likely to be at least normal, and perhaps somewhat above normal.

The orchards are in excellent shape and the fruit is in splendid condition. More than 1,000,000 have been expended in various districts for amudges pumps, fuel tanks and other equipment against any possible cold weather.

Shipments already have begun in northern sections. They are in time for the Thanksgiving trade in the middle west.

HEALTH AND HYGIENE

When and How to Bathe, by the Idaho State Board of Health.

If you want health, a clear complexion, a system well toned, you should make it an invariable rule to take some kind of a bath not fewer than 365 times a year.

The temperature of the bath? That depends. If you are of a vigorous constitution—or wish to be—1 would advise a cold-water bath, provided you have enough vitality to stand the reaction; if not, begin with lukewarm water, and have it less warm each day, as the body gradually becomes accustomed to the change. The water should be of a temperature to suit the body rather than the mind.

A certain Chicago doctor claims that bathing of any kind, especially with soap, is detrimental. He further claims that consumption may be cured by also bathing with non-bathing. There are thousands of people (and people) who will rise up and call that doctor blessed. His legitimate sphere is among the "Wetters."

Bathing, daily bathing, is necessary to obtain the very best bodily conditions. Health requires that the four eliminating agencies of the body (the kidneys, bowels, skin) should be kept normally active. Deep breathing is essential to the first; water, inside and outside, for the three remaining agents.

A cold bath is always stimulant, and has not detrimental reaction for those who are sufficiently robust to take it. If you are obliged to exercise after bathing for the purpose of getting warm it is sure indication that your vitality is too low for such a bath. This applies with equal force to the matter of dressing immediately after bathing.

When the cold water comes in contact with the skin, the superficial blood vessels contract and the blood driven to the internal organs and the temperature there is raised while the temperature at the surface is temporarily lowered. Then when the reaction takes place (a beautiful reaction) the skin vessels dilate, the blood rushes back to them, and better oxygenation, a pleasant glow over the entire body. A cold water bath in a cold room is a positive luxury—for one whose vitality is high.

A hot-water bath, as a rule, should be avoided, especially by those that are nervous. While it is a powerful stimulant of the nervous and vascular system, it is equally followed with strong reaction. The fibrous ends of the nerves, extending over the surface of the body, are thrown into a state of excitement, and so-called nervous leakage follows. Should you insist upon taking a hot-water bath, it should be taken immediately before retiring. If taken during the day, it will not fall to follow it with a plunge or, at least, a dash of cold water. De neither over-warm nor chilled when coming from the bath to the outside air. A hot-water bath being a reducer, it may be desired by the very obese, but the thin, spare person should avoid it. A warm-water or tepid bath is highly recommended for those that can not take a cold bath. The effect is soothing, the blood flowing into the relaxed superficial vessels of the skin, and thereby increasing its functions. As heat facilitates the bodily functions, a warm bath will do more to refresh a fatigued person than a longer time spent in sleep. If the bath be only moderately warm (tepid) it acts as a sedative to the entire system. Those who take the cold bath daily should take a warm bath, with soap, at least once a week, for the sake of cleanliness.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF FORESTS

C. S. Forester Graves Advocates Control of Forests by Government.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Henry S. Graves, U. S. forester, spoke before the National Conservation Congress in session today, dwelling particularly on the public policy of the government in respect to the activities of the forest service. Referring to the attitude of the present administration, as to the so-called "sinner" right policy, which has advocated state instead of federal control of forests, Mr. Graves says there is no thought of any change in the established system of federal ownership and control.

The forester spoke in part as follows: "The nation has an important stake in forestry. Here as in all other countries the real development in forestry begins when the government took up its practice. Even today some persons would leave the forests entirely to private owners, others insist that the public phases of forestry be altogether a state function and federal activities in this field uncalculated for those who hold this view are equally for forest conservation or opposed to restricting private activities. Yet unrestricted exploitation of the nation's forests is impossible if we are to continue to have the forests that the nation needs.

"National responsibility in forestry is perfectly clear-cut. There need be no confusion with an equally clear responsibility of the states. And as to private forestry little of value has so far been done that has not been an outcome of public action through state of federal agencies, or both. The national work will always be the backbone of American forestry, not trenching on or interfering with state work or individual efforts but serving as a guarantee that national needs which individual states can not meet will be provided for on a national scale.

"Underlying the forestry problem are two fundamental considerations which should be emphasized and reiterated until thoroughly driven home. The first is the public character of forestry. Both in the matter of a continued supply of forest products in that of the conservation of water resources the public welfare is at stake. Secondly, stability of policy and permanence of ownership are essential to any successful attack on this great conservation problem.

"I am frequently asked as I travel about the country whether I am going to make important changes in forestry policy. I was asked that very often in 1910; when I first took office. I am asked it often this year. My answer is that what we are seeking is not changes but the development of a permanent public enterprise with consistent and stable policies. The national forests were set aside in the recognition that the bulk of these lands should be handled permanently under public protection and control.

"The aim of present administration is not to overturn, but to take every possible step to increase efficiency of the organization, to advance the public interest as fast as possible the purposes for which the national forests were established. Secretary McAdams recently said to me: 'Establish permanent boundaries. Classify your lands; segregate the agricultural land and fix right limits for it. It is needed as protective and productive forests. Develop permanent policies based on full recognition of lasting public interests, and settled forestry practice fitted to the individual needs of each forest and locality. Study efficiency; make any changes necessary for this purpose, but make no changes that are not clearly called for in the public interest. Carry out your plans for the development and increasing use of the forests; but above all, make each forest work for community upbuilding and local as well as general welfare. We must always have in mind the public interest and the public good.'

"Women who are building up a new country and laying the foundations for prosperous, thriving communities. We must try to study their needs and see where and how the forests can help them. But we must not cease to guard effectively against the evil of private privilege and monopolistic control of resources now the property of the public."

Paris Surin Believes Too Many Operations Are Performed.

Paris, Nov. 17.—Dr. Edmund Perrier, at the Academy of Sciences meeting last week the discovery that the appendix excited the activity of the intestines, and he says that it should be removed except in cases of absolute necessity.

After experimenting on animals, with their appendices removed as in human beings, Dr. Perrier discovered that the secretions of the gland had a strong effect on the intestinal muscles and make a strong plea that the appendix should be removed, to French surgeons that they cease from performing appendix operations for any but urgent reasons.—Blackfoot Courier.

LOST RIVER TRACT TO BE COMPLETED

Water Will Be In Canals Next Spring

COREY BROS. PROPOSE TO BID IN PROJECT.

There Will Be No Delay in Finishing the Work—Good News for Settlers of Tract.

There will be water enough flowing in the canals of the Big Lost River irrigation project to supply the settlers on the Era and Arco tracts next year and the entire tract, including the Powell, will have sufficient water to irrigate the lands included within them within a reasonable time thereafter, for the Corey Bros. Construction company, of Ogden, who secured a judgment for $650,000 in the federal court of Idaho, which was affirmed recently by the United States circuit court of appeals, proposes to bid in the project at the receiver's sale if the bondholders do not step in with a high-bid than the amount they have involved, which is not likely, and start work on the dam and the canal system. This was the authorized announcement made today by W. W. Corey, head of the Corey Bros. Construction company and Judge H. H. Henderson of Ogden, counsel in the litigation for that company.

"The Corey Bros. Construction company will, in the event it secures the Big Lost river project at a receiver's sale, proceed immediately to place the dam and the project in a completed condition, commencing work as soon as possible next spring," stated Mr. Corey today. "We do not know whether or not the bondholders propose to bid on the project, but we have about $750,000 involved and we, of course, propose to protect ourselves and to bid in the project unless the bondholders so over that amount we are there to have the bondholders do this, as far as that goes. In the event we secure the project, work will be started immediately next spring and the project pushed to completion.

"We should be able to furnish all the water that is necessary for irrigation purposes next season to the Era and Arco tracts and it will be but a reasonable time after that when there will be water sufficient for all of the tract. In fact, I might say that if our plans go through now as it looks as though they will, the project should be able to furnish water to all of the land that is ready for it. There is a large amount of land that is not ready to receive water and will not be next season. You can say for me that we absolutely intend to complete the project, should we receive it at the receiver's sale."

Judge Henderson when interviewed today made practically the same statement as Mr. Corey, declaring that it is the purpose and the intention of Corey Bros. Construction company taking over the project and completing it without further delay.

"You understand that the bondholders have 30 days in which to apply for a writ of review," said Judge Henderson, when speaking of the present status of the Big Lost River case now named upon it. "Notice to that effect has been received by local counsel for the bondholders. A writ of mandate will be forthwith issued out of the circuit court to the federal district court directing judgment entered as per the decision rendered."

"At the request of the bondholders the receiver's sale of the project has been postponed from time to time pending the outcome of the litigation. The last date set for the sale was the 25th of this month. However, another postponement will be taken for the sale probably for 30 days which will permit the closing of the litigation providing that the writ of review is not applied for or is not granted. The project will then be offered for sale and the Corey Bros. Construction company will bid on it of course to protect its interests, having $750,000 involved. The bondholders may also bid on it. Should the Corey Bros. Construction company secure the project on their bid the bondholders still have the right to attack the sale. Application would of course immediately be made to have the sale affirmed. Corey Bros. will then proceed to complete the project. "It will be up to the state land board to declare whether or not the present dam site is to be the dam site for the project or another is to be selected. However it is fully the intention of the Corey Bros. Construction company to go ahead and complete that project and to do it within the shortest possible time. Once completed there will be no better project in the state of Idaho."

Messrs. Corey and Henderson held a conference with Governor Haines and members of the land board at which the present status of the case was carefully gone over. Both informed the governor and those members of the board present at the conference that Corey Bros. Construction company will complete the project and that there will be no delay in the construction work.—Capital News.

CAN STILL RAISE BEETS

Utah People Believe Product Can Still Be Made to Pay.

There seems to be a difference in opinion among the prominent beet sugar capitalists of the country regarding the effect of the new tariff on the industry, according to information sent out by the Associated Press respecting the meeting of the beet sugar manufacturers in Chicago and the attitude of some of the Utah men interested in the industry.

In the Chicago dispatch it is declared that the beet sugar men will be but one more season for the beet sugar manufacturers, as it will be impossible to compete with the cane sugar after that time. M. S. Browning, president and one of the prominent stockholders of the Amalgamated Sugar company, believes that the manufacturers, at least this part of the country, can successfully dispose of beet sugar from two more crops. The new tariff respecting the free entry of cane sugar does not take effect until May, 1916.

While he is of the opinion that the fate of the industry is problematical after 1916, Mr. Browning feels certain that the local company will find it profitable to dispose of the sugar made from beets grown in 1914 and 1915. Henry H. Boland, representing the Amalgamated Sugar company, and LeRoy Eccles, representing the Lewiston Sugar company, a subsidiary of the Amalgamated, are attending the meeting in Chicago.—Idaho Falls Register.

ROPED YOUNG BEAR

Gave Bruln an Automobile Ride of One Hundred Miles.

Capturing a 100-pound black bear with a lariat and bringing the animal alive a distance of 150 miles in an automobile was the feat performed by G. E. Riegal, manager of a Spokane taxi-cab company, and Bert Sparrow. The two men were hunting near Leavenworth, in central Washington, and their dogs treed the bear. Riegal prepared to shoot bruln, but agreed to permit Sparrow to try to capture the animal alive. While Sparrow went to camp for a rope, Riegal and the dogs kept the bear in the tree. Climbing a tree near the bear's retreat, Sparrow succeeded in throwing a noose over the bear's head. After that it was an easy matter to choke bruln into insensibility and back him out to the party's automobile, tied securely on the back of a horse. The bear refused to eat for several days, but hunger finally throttled his pride.—Idaho Falls Register.
