Denver—If the government is going to make money out of the public lands, it should pay taxes and obey the state laws. Under the fostering care of the forestry bureau has grown up the greatest trust I know anything about—the lumber trust. The only difference between landlord and ownership of land is that you can't monopolize cheaper under a lease than an Assistant Secretary Jones hands are tied; he's in bad company. The cost of the average hat would furnish homes for 4000 people. Excerpts from an address by Governor E. M. Ammons of Colorado before the Western governors conference.

CLOSING PROGRAM OF THE YEAR

Twentieth Century Club Members Listen to Interesting Addresses.

The closing program of the year was given at the club Tuesday, the president, Mrs. Mary Y. Norton, presiding. Mrs. Jennie Bradley was chairman of the day. Mrs. Edith Tucker sang very sweetly three Scottish ballads, Loch Lomond, Hills of Skye and Land of the Leal, accompanied by Miss Mary Douglas.

Following this the speaker, the chairman in a few words introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Miss Helen Porter, one of the teachers of English at the high school. Miss Porter charmed her hearers from the first with her low, clear, ringing voice, her command of English, and the sympathetic manner in which she handled her subject. In a broad way, the speaker classified the poets into two groups, the first group being said to be the great old poets, writers which include Homer, Dante, and the second group would include those who were born in the last group Robert Burns would be the first of this group. Porter dwelt upon the hardships of his early life, his lowly, honorable parents, and read from The Colter's Saturday Night, which shows a vivid picture of the homelife of Robert Burns. He is the poet of nature but always the student of human nature. He was later in life in the college, rather than in the tree that shades the cottage of the stream that flood-past people.

The speaker extolled the independent spirit of the man as manifested in A Man for a Man or A That. Full of life and vigor, the speaker didn't fail to recognize the pitfalls into which Burns fell, but she pointed out that his life had peculiar temptations, and that was one of his greatness, and to forget his weaknesses. He stands for all that is best in Scottish poetry. In the present, song-writer, and the people, in Auld Lang Syne.

Miss Combs delighted her hearers by singing a number of songs, accompanied by Mrs. Regan. A rising vote of thanks was extended to the speaker and others assisting in the program.

The club voted that the annual election be held Tuesday, April 14, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. J. H. Seaver spoke of her recent visit to the Children's Home at Boise. The speaker brought before the club the needs of the institution. Closing for boys, older boys of age 12 to 18 years, is much needed. Overalls, coats, trousers, shirts, and shoes were suggested. The speaker would be most grateful for donations. It was suggested that donations might be sent by parcel post directed to the club, which will be distributed to the boys.

Club Breakfast. Mrs. Wilbur Hill announced that the annual club breakfast would be given April 21 at one o'clock in the historic home. The speaker will be assisted by Mrs. W. S. Hill, Mrs. Mary Y. Norton, Mrs. J. H. Seaver, Mrs. J. O. Gates, Mrs. E. A. Baker, Mrs. C. F. Parsons, Mrs. V. H. Ormsby, or Mrs. Chas. E. Barr and calls accordingly.

In Honor of Miss Porter. The next meeting of the history and literature department, which occurs April 17, at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Bradley, will be a party given in honor of Miss Porter.

Masthead Given at Masonic Hall. The masthead given by the music department, April 2, was a splendid success, both financially and socially. It was filled to its capacity with a delighted and appreciative audience. Every number on the program was enthusiastically received.

Fire. Mrs. Frier delighted her hearers with her highly cultivated voice. Mrs. Ripley, also of Frier, gave an interesting paper on the fire at the heart of mine. Mrs. Trull, president of the Women's Elter club, was the accompanist. Mr. Bannister's vocal duet with Mrs. C. H. Hader, vocal duet by Mrs. Turner and Mr. Williams, was thoroughly enjoyed as was the vocal duet by Zita Hines and Mary Douglas.

The ladies' quartet, Misses Givens and Combs, and Madeline Wiley and Mrs. Hader, were the vocalists.

COMMERCIAL CLUB OFFICERS CHOSEN

A. L. Swin Heads New Directorate of Boosters

SMALL VOTE CAST FOR CANDIDATES IN ANNUAL ELECTION.

Vote on Question of Closing Social Part of Club Proves Even Division of Opinion.

The annual election of officers for the Twin Falls Commercial club resulted in a complete change of administration with A. L. Swin as president to guide the destinies of the club for the ensuing year. The question of closing the club rooms for social purposes was made a part of the ballot on Tuesday afternoon and evening of this week, with the result that by one vote the retention of social officers and directors were elected to serve this year.

President—A. L. Swin. Vice President—J. A. Povey. Treasurer—J. G. Bradley. Secretary—R. M. McCollum. C. H. Channell, J. L. Buitolph, A. R. Ostrander, D. D. Alford.

The club under the active direction of Secretary McCollum, has accomplished much good for the whole town in a quiet way and with the new officers composed of keen live business men, working in harmony, there is no reason why the good work should not go on.

UNIVERSITY WILL CO-OPERATE

Attempt to Get Experiments Here Receives Backing.

The proposed trial of the hog cholera serum by the government in this section, in meeting with approval by the officials of the State Agricultural school at Moscow and will probably be in getting the government to loan a trial station here. The following letter was received from the Commercial club offering hearty co-operation by Dean Carlyle: Moscow, Idaho, April 6, 1914. Mr. M. J. Sweoley, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Dear Mr. Sweoley: Your telegram of recent date received. I have learned from the Bureau of Animal Industry as to what their plans are for the coming year. Hog cholera in this state, I will certainly do everything that I can to assist you in securing here in Twin Falls county. I feel, however, that since the cholera is not widely distributed in this state, that the state should be taken as a unit, with a reasonable amount of money to be spent in this year from this state. I am urging the importance of this work to the bureau and hope that something will be done along the road here and also supplies to be shared of the money. During the survey of the route from Murtaugh to Dubi and westward to Hagerman a meeting of the commission of Lincoln county has been called for the latter part of this month and I think it is hoped that something definite will be given out.

Very truly yours, W. L. CARLYLE, Director.

Commissioner Carlson of the county commissioners, when asked about the status of the work on state highway activity now being with the state commission. He stated that the county work and that nothing can be done until the state gets busy with its part of superintending the construction of the road here and also supplies its share of the money. ing to the minds of most of the people it is poor policy for anyone of them doing the thing objectionable in the mind of the other fellow. THIS DRUG-ENDANGERED NATION. Little stir has been made by the alarming statements about the drug evil lately, perhaps because most of us are few of the "doze fiends" and have an idea that the men and women who are giving their lives to the war on such evils are prone to imagine them. But now the problem is becoming the attention of so many legislators, writers, and social workers, that our newspaper editors are beginning to demand somewhat forcibly new laws, and the enforcement of old ones, to curb this evil. With the cocaine habit practically unrestricted, and the opium-trade flourishing in spite of the laws meant to regulate it, the United States deserves a writer in the New York Sun has now "distanced every other nation in the world in the volume per capita of its illicit drug consumption." And we read further: "The commerce in cocaine, heroin, morphine, and opium now approximates the opium traffic of 1906 in China—history's most notorious example of a druged nation—when after two hundred years its commerce in opium is per cent of China's population were found to be opium-smokers. With the aid of practically every civilized nation in the world, China has today reduced the figure to 4 1/2 per cent while in the United States twenty years ago practically unrestricted traffic in drugs has made drug addicts at 4.45 per cent of the population. "Not only is the United States the scene of the world's greatest drug traffic, but cocaine, and heroin, whose illegitimate use is peculiar to Americans, are among the deadliest of the world's habit-forming drugs. Opium, morphine, and hashish are their vicelike sedatives for solitude, but their vice, especially after lifting its victim into a half-hour's racy overstimulation, drops him into the streets and allows in a state of dangerous melancholia. So brief is the drug's effect that it takes from 14 to 36 a day to satisfy a cocaine addict—more money than any other drug addiction exacts. That's why "coke" produces more criminals in the city of New York than any other cause. "But as this is, it is growing worse as evidenced by our increasing importation of cocaine leaves—the only source of cocaine and the product that cannot be grown here. "According to the American Pharmaceutical Association the coca import from 1888 to 1907, inclusive, was valued at $8,237,761, or 1908 to 1909, inclusive, $1,616,500. The present annual consumption of cocaine is 200,000 ounces, of which 92 per cent is used illicitly. "Expense evidently fails to deter the victim. As a result! "Its enormous profit explains the growth of the cocaine industry. An ounce of cocaine, wholesale, costs about $4. Divided into pink pillboxes and blue tablets, the ounce is sold in "addiction" for from $20 to $25 to those who use the needle and know the difference. Adulterated heavily with acetanilid it is sold to "sniffers" for $40 to $50 an ounce, and half-creased "frends" on the verge of the "cocaine lunge" can be made to yield to even greater profit. Thus profits ranging from 600 to 1500 per cent on the investment have entrenched the cocaine business on a national scale. "But we are not to believe that the only cocaine fiends are crooks and associates. Dr. Charles B. Towns, a New York authority, is quoted as saying that the wide-spread use of cocaine in the comparatively short period of time since its discovery has brought about by patent preparations containing small quantities of it." Then, to take the Sun writer's word for it, 25 per cent of America's addicts learned their vice in a doctor's office. "An further, "the use of drugs has crept into colleges, where students "take them to counteract the effects of overwork; they creep into the army, where soldiers take them to counteract the effects of "overwork." Writers use them to whip their inventiveness into action; judges use them to refresh their memory; and "it has been estimated that 15 per cent of all the medical men in the United States are drug addicts." Worst of all, "school children, even at the ages of seven and eight, are offered cocaine and heroin by peddlers about public school buildings. Turning directions we see that "in this section of civilized society known as the underworld, cocaine education is so generally introduced under its influence, we most of the drug crimes committed. "Most of the attacks upon white women of the South says Dr. Christopher Koch, are the direct result of a cocaine-crazed negro brain. Thousands of dingy hovels are scattered through the negro sections of Southern cities where "snuff" is retailed in "dimp boxes" through back doors which are protected by chains from opening under their throats. "In New York City, we are informed, there is practically no restraint upon the commerce in habit-forming drugs; as a result, according to one physician, there are ten deadly drug cases to one of alcoholism." So it is not inappropriate that Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt Sr., should have begun to finance an anti-drug campaign which will first concern itself with the passage of necessary Federal and State legislation for "present State legislation in general stands still, and there is no Federal legislation, save in the case of the opium traffic, which, instead of being killed thereby, has been increased, it is asserted. "A restrictive measure is now before the New York State legislature. All very well; but the trouble is, such laws can not be made effective unless similar measures are passed by other states. The same difficulty would find a remedy in Federal action. "Congress should act without further delay and enact a drastic law not only to cover the present known habit-forming drugs, but comprehensive enough to provide for any new drug that may come into existence. "Restriction of some sort is obviously desirable if the state of affairs is half as bad as it is represented. "Admits the New York Sun, "the present situation is a lamentable one, and it is to be hoped that the law, it would be prudent to find out the reasons for the failure of the law as it stands. Having failed to check the illegitimate use of drugs by legislation, the reformers are now for more legislation, and apparently some of them do not care whether it interferes with legitimate uses or not." "The Government has one weapon now, several millions of dollars in the form of drug stamps, such as opium and heroin, which are excluded from the mail. The Postoffice Department, says the New York Commercial, tries to justify its prohibition of the transmission of such drugs by firms in trade. "By showing that a large number of practicing physicians in this country are evidently violating the law by selling such drugs to the unfortunate victims of the habit. This is the several arrangements of the medical profession that has yet been made public. If it is true that physicians are the chief dispensers of habit-forming drugs in an illegal and even criminal manner, more vigorous measures should be taken to expose their criminality and to drive them out of business. Physicians are permitted to enjoy certain privileges, and the breach of faith toward the general public involved in the illegal sale of habit-forming drugs by them is a grave offense. "The cleanliness of these drugs and the ease with which they can be obtained in all parts of the country fairly amaze the New York World. "Cocaine and its allied intoxicants appear to be about the cheapest things in our market. They are seemingly cheaper than whiskey, cheaper than beer, cheaper in proportion to the effects than tea or coffee. Even in the old days of untraced whiskey, when a single cent of distillate could be had for five cent a glass, the price of intoxication was never so cheap as now. "It is evident that either an enormous amount of these drugs are smuggled into this country or else that some adroit chemists know the secret of furnishing substitutes that do twice the work for much less money. Literary Digest. "Practically every seat in the Orpheum theater has been sold for the Monday night performance of the Band Minstrels. Those desiring seats should call at the Retail Drug Store Thursday in order to be certain of securing them.—Adv. "The cleanliness of these drugs and the ease with which they can be obtained in all parts of the country fairly amaze the New York World. "Cocaine and its allied intoxicants appear to be about the cheapest things in our market. They are seemingly cheaper than whiskey, cheaper than beer, cheaper in proportion to the effects than tea or coffee. Even in the old days of untraced whiskey, when a single cent of distillate could be had for five cent a glass, the price of intoxication was never so cheap as now. "It is evident that either an enormous amount of these drugs are smuggled into this country or else that some adroit chemists know the secret of furnishing substitutes that do twice the work for much less money. Literary Digest. "Practically every seat in the Orpheum theater has been sold for the Monday night performance of the Band Minstrels. TRAMPS ARE GOING WESTWARD

Trains Loaded Down With Unemployed Going Westward

While it is estimated that more than 250 tramps and jobless passed through Nampa Sunday and Monday night bound for the salt flats across the Pacific coast, the Nampa police do not believe the movement has yet reached flood stage.

It is usual at this time of the year for large numbers to take night passage aboard freight trains and outside cars and to sleep in them until the peep of dawn, at which time there is a general scuffling for food and sleep and darkness again checks the circulating migratory movements.

Word has been received in advance by railroad and police authorities that a large number is expected tonight and each night throughout the remainder of the week—Nampa Leader Herald.

THE MINSTREL SHOW

Band Minstrels Will Be a Feast of Music and Comedy.

A most appetizing menu of minstrelsy, with which the most fascinating and delicious will be served at the Orpheum theater, on next Monday and Tuesday nights when the local band boys present their Fourth Annual Minstrel Show and Cabaret performance, respectively.

Thirty-five "merry minstrels" attracted in showy and soft and neat chorus costumes, together with stage settings which are pronounced to eclipse anything of the kind heretofore attempted in Twin Falls, will present the "first part" or musical portion of the show. Ten musical numbers, including the latest comic songs and class ballads, which are now being sung by professional performers in the east, clever jokes intermingling, possibly at the expense of some of our local celebrities, a comedy sketch introducing Twin Falls' latest "female imperator," all contribute to make the affair a night of real "mirth and melody."

The performance on Tuesday night is termed "A Night On a Roof Garden," and is presented in the form of a cultured production. The program follows:

- Opening Medley Chorus.....
- "How the Day I First Met You".....Mr. Hall and double quartet.
- "I'm Goin' Back to Louisiana".....Mr. Herald and chorus.
- Smith and Sumner—Singing and dancing.
- "Heldberg Stein Song"—Double quartet. Minors, Turner, Christensen, Peck, Reed, Cox, McManis, Hall and Simpson.
- "A Ractime Dream"—Mr. Clupin and chorus.
- "I Wonder Why It's Always You".....Miss Marie Roberts and chorus.
- "In a Bungalow Where the Red Red Roses Grow"—Miss Dwight, Mr. Peck and chorus.
- String Quartet—Madame Sprague and Regan, Misses Pauline and Viola Alfonsi and Miss Ebert.
- "Fastlane Reel and Band"—Messrs. Thorp and Lauterbach and chorus.

Smith and Sumner, sketch artists.

In the City Club—Messrs. Mr. McManis and chorus.

The Tango Dance—Misses Thomas and Ostrander.
 "In the Garden Light"—Miss Combs, Mr. Reed and chorus.
 "When Was There Ever a Night Like This"—(Hesitation waltz)

 and women, was much appreciated. They sang with much feeling and expression. The Mandolin club, whose members were Mrs. Reagan, Mrs. Helen, Ruth Harvey, Kenneth More, Ray Stevens and Merrill Stansbury, recited two very pleasing selections.
 Miss Myrtle Cristalin gave a delightful reading.
 Mrs. Spaulder, with Misses Cash, Ostrander and Thomas, gave a very graceful representation of the Tango minuet and other new dances.
 At the conclusion of the program punch was served and an informal reception was held in honor of the visiting Pler-Tadles. The musical department and its director, Mrs. Reagan, are to be congratulated upon the success of their first entertainment.

Annual session of the Minors—held Tuesday, April 14, at 2 o'clock sharp.

The history and literature department will meet at the home of Mrs. Bradley, Friday, April 17, at 2:30.

The parliamentary and civics department will meet at the home of Mrs. Daube, Monday, April 20, at 2:30.

The third annual club breakfast will be served at the Masonic hall, Tuesday, April 21, at 1 o'clock.

NEW USE FOR ALFALFA

Oklahoma Man Using Juice to Tan Leather.

J. H. McWhirte, a farmer living out two miles from Scouting, Okla., has found a new use for alfalfa in tanning leather with juice extracted from the hay. McWhirte says that he has been experimenting with the bark from trees and the various plants and herbs native to the plains country of Texas and Oklahoma for many years to find something that would be equal to oak bark for tanning, but never found anything that he hoped experimenting with.

He says that alfalfa not only is equal to any of the juices of oak used in tanning, but is far better. McWhirte has several sides of leather on exhibition in Scouting that he tanned with his new alfalfa juice process and the work looks to be extra good. He is going to have several pairs of shoes made from leather tanned with his new process and will test them as to wearing qualities. McWhirte says that one good, bright bale of alfalfa hay weighing 70 pounds will make 50 gallons of juice strong enough to tan hides in 30 days.

GREATEST STRIKE IN IDAHO

Proclaiming ore impregnated with gold and showing assays running from $200 to $1000 per ton was uncovered two days ago in the Ruth mine on War Eagle mountain at Silver City.

The strike being the greatest made in that camp since its early days when it produced millions in gold and silver. For two days a force of miners has been working on the vein, which is steadily growing better. The entire population of the old mining camp is filled with excitement and it is freely claimed by miners familiar with ore bodies in the district that the richest old lost vein in the camp has been uncovered.
 The property is situated about three-quarters of a mile from Silver City and is parallel to the Poor Man's mine which was a great producer. The mine was discovered by John St. Clair, Sr., and was named after his daughter, Ruth. Considerable work has been done on it and recently it was taken over by Portland capitalists who paid $2000 cash as a first payment and are to make the second payment in May. Word of the big strike was received here this morning by Jay Crotek and several former residents of Silver City and he declared by conservative mining men from the camp to be the greatest strike made in Idaho for years.—Capital News.

SOCIETY NOTES

Society items for this column will be gladly received by The Times.

To celebrate the seventy-eighth birthday of Mrs. John Peterson, a number of friends of the lady gathered at her home on Blue Lakes boulevard Tuesday evening. Mrs. Peterson baked a splendid birthday cake, which was served with other good things, which had been prepared by her in honor of her friends. The evening was spent playing five hundred; the prize for high score being awarded to Miss Ethyl Dittmer for Mrs. May Dixon receiving the consolation.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Alken very delightfully entertained their dinner club Tuesday evening, seven o'clock. The table, with its spotless linen and beautiful tableware and pretty Easter decorations, drew forth groups of admirers. The table was set with the doors were drawn back and they caught a glimpse of the pretty scene. The floral decorations were of Easter Wines and Marching. The Easter idea was further carried out with nests constructed of apricot blossoms filled with tiny ducks and eggs, which table decorations in evidence on the outside of the nests.

After the delicious six-course dinner which was served by Maxine Hill, Blina and Yvonne Peterson, the evening was spent playing five hundred; the prize was presented with a dainty gift. The guests present were Messrs. and Mesdames Ostermer, Booth, Palling, McCallum, Woodman, Woodman, Messrs. Nixon and Davis, and Mr. M. J. Sweely.

The Saturday Bridge will meet this week with Mrs. Harstad.

The Wednesday Auction Bridge met this week with Mrs. Moran. Favor for high score, a beautiful hand contributed centerpiece, was won by Mrs. Closs.

The members of the east of Emmet, belonging to the Young Women's Union church, of which Mr. Elliott is the teacher, were beautifully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Elliott with a seven o'clock dinner Tuesday evening.

The table around which all the guests in their costumes of the occasion were seated, were most delightfully decorated with sweet peas and the excellent five-course dinner was enjoyed to the fullest extent. After dinner a beautiful and very social affair was given by Mrs. Elliott a witty entertainer. The entire room were present, including Miss Hobbs, who acted as manager of the affair. Everyone deeply enjoyed the dinner which was served in such a pleasant and social atmosphere.

Mrs. Gant and her sister, Miss Cole, entertained a number of ladies at a tea party at the Orpheum Tuesday evening, after which they all went to the home of Mrs. Gant, where a Mexican and Italian dinner was served. Mrs. Garwood of Tuhl, Mont., a former school friend of the hostesses, being guest of honor.

On Tuesday of this week a score of friends gathered at the home of Mayor Meigs to wish his three-year-old son, Oliver, a happy birthday. The little people had a lively time, dropping handkerchiefs, hunting the things, and playing tag until refreshment time. The kindergarten table surrounded by small chairs was nicely decorated. At each place was a card with a picture of the child. Great chairs and crowded with brightly lighted miniature candles. In the center of the table stood the birthday cake with a beautiful center. For the past year, and edged with fluffy white and yellow chicks. After the light lot could not do more there was great excitement for each seat was to try his luck with a fishing rod in a marvelous pond. Rabbits, chickens and Easter baskets, filled with candy and toys, were drawn out by the surprised and delighted children. The pond was emptied too soon and the following happy children lathered honey-corn, Mr. Alcazar, Dorothy and Beale Weaver, Dorothy and Jean Dinkelacker, Edgardo, Hunter and Zora Shurtz, left Mrs. Gant, Mrs. Garwood and Earl Han, Elmore, and Paul Barnes, Alta Steice, Clement Streiff, Norma and Ruth Grady, Carlos and Harlow Helge.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

March Meeting in Nature of Reception at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. DePoke.

The March meeting was a reception tendered the husbands of the W. C. T. U. ladies at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. DePoke, who with Miss Redmond and Mesdames Peirs and Touchman, on the hostesses, and entertained the guests in a most cordial and pleasing manner.

The appropriate talks given by Rev. C. E. Pickett, a paper by Mrs. H. J. Wall, a reading by Mrs. Bowers, a play by Mrs. DePoke, and a play by Mrs. Henry, violin solo by Master Lester Henry, and Victoria numbers furnished by Mr. DePoke, made an excellent and most interesting program.

"Does Prohibition Prohibit in Kansas," discussed by Mr. Pickett, drew from Dr. Shephard the sad story of Carl's father, for the brilliant and handsome young husband of her youth was ruined and murdered by drink and her inheritance being carried off by swindlers. Inference caused her brood upon the deplorable end of her dreams and happiness in the early days of her life.

The program was most interesting and the program was most interesting and the program was most interesting.

Boost Twin Falls "Knoekers" Deserve This Man's Fate

Home Industry Week at the Popular Store Will be a Busy, Busy Time

Jenkins and Company believe in Twin Falls. They are boosters for this community, in the truest sense of the word. They deal absolutely with local people for such things as are produced here. Local agents for outside productions always get their business. Not a dollar is spent outside of Twin Falls that can be avoided. Jenkins and Company mark their goods at a reasonable profit and never resort to fictitious sales. They never mark goods at high prices in order to fool the public into imaginary sacrifice prices. They credit the Twin Falls public with having common sense. We would say, "Horse sense," but that noble animal has wisdom man vows not of. Jenkins and Company respect and appreciate their patrons, they are out for clean business, and they know that in the long run the public will cease to patronize the schemers. A dollar is always worth one hundred cents. Good merchandise is worth a fair price.

IRRIGATION PRACTICE

In bulletin 78, entitled Irrigation Practice, of the Extension Department of the University of Idaho, J. B. Welch, superintendent of the Gooding Demonstration farm, offers the following suggestions to the farmers engaged in diversifying farming on irrigated lands in Idaho.

"In the preparation of new lands for irrigation farming careful attention should be paid to proper leveling. Time and money spent in this way will yield good returns.

"Fields should be irrigated by the corrugation method during the first season, after which flooding between borders is more satisfactory in most cases. The production of alfalfa hay seven or eight irrigations should be given in a three-crop season, totaling about two and three-quarters acre-foot per acre.

"The moisture supplied by winter and spring precipitation is usually sufficient to carry winter wheat to the booting stage after which one or two irrigations totaling less than one acre foot per acre should be given. Flooding between borders is a desirable method of application.

"In the irrigation of spring wheat, oats and barley, care should be taken to irrigate comparatively high soil moisture content at the jointing, booting and soft dough stages. The water can be applied to advantage by flooding between borders. For each of these cereals one and one-half to one and three-quarters acre foot per acre is the proper amount. This can be given in about four good applications.

"The irrigation of potatoes should commence about the time the tubers begin to form. During the next five or six weeks about 100 acre-foot irrigation should be given, applying in all about one and three-quarters acre foot per acre. The water should be applied in deep furrows and the applications should be followed by cultivation.

"The improvement of silt brush lands by the addition of barnyard manures and by the growing of leguminous crops will result in a saving of water per acre.

"In addition to the foregoing it should be mentioned that the growing of diversified crops is one of the most efficient means by which the duty of water can be increased. The results shown above for winter wheat for the diversified rotation in securing the desired diversification. The comparatively low water requirements of

AFTER HORSE THIEVES

The horse thieves that have regularly and for years made the lava north of American Falls a rendezvous would better move a little further out during the next few days, as there is a sound of cool-bling off the horse trail on headed their way, and if there is to be any cap-snapping some of the boys in the sheriff's posse will not record many mistakes.

A posse composed of sheriffs of several neighboring counties started from American Falls yesterday, close on the trail of a bunch of horses that disappeared from Bannock county a few nights ago, and the search will be continued until a pretty definite line is figured out. A great many horses have disappeared from eastern Idaho during the past few weeks, and most of them are believed to have been taken toward the great lava waste that cuts through Blaine county.

Deputy Sheriff George Taylor, who rode into Blaine county in the posse, phoned back last night that a fresh trail had been found near Aberdeen, and that a bunch of horses had been taken out and headed toward Minidoka, and this morning Deputy Sheriff Dell Lutz left for that point in the posse to follow the horse trail while the balance of the posse work into the lava.

As soon as the present term of federal court is finished Sheriff Lutz will start on the trail to relieve Taylor, and will join Sheriff Zug, Sheriff Nelson, and other officers, and it is probable that the outlaw horde will be continued for a couple of weeks. Pocatello Tribune.

COURT ORDER IS TOO LATE

Belated Injunction Did Not Cut Off Inflation.

While attorneys for a cattle company contended before Judge Stocker that the federal injunction should apply to the village of Hollister, sink deeper the Artesian well from which the said village takes its domestic water supply, the water level by said plaintiffs would become diminished in flow, drillers in the employ of the company were working overtime. The injunction asked was granted and the village authorities were enjoined from further drilling operations.

WILL PUT ON AUTO STAGE

J. B. Perrine was in town a few hours on Tuesday, taking the west-bound Oregon Short Line train in the afternoon. Mr. Perrine is very sanguine of the success of the proposed auto stage, and he also believes the railroad, in regard to the line generally as they affect southern Idaho.

The bus here he announced that he has ordered on sight a manager White gasolene car and will put on an auto stage between Jerome and Shoshone falls to connect with the Shoshone Falls-Twin Falls electric cars, and it will be operated in the expectation of accommodating the tourist traffic monthly. Mr. Perrine believes there are many tourists traveling in the west of the Oregon Short Line who will take advantage of such a side trip and he also believes the railroad will cooperate in the matter. Passengers either east or west bound could make a trip by auto and electric car transportation without in any time to speak of. West bound they would go to Twin Falls and take the electric car and auto route by way of Shoshone Falls and Jerome, connecting with the Short Line again at this place. East bound the process would simply be reversed.

The plan is perfectly feasible and is an important move for Jerome. It has always been regretted that more of the tourists through Idaho could see this wonderful natural attraction, especially as they necessarily pass within a few miles of it—Jerome News.
