The Ladies Aid meets December 2nd. Refreshments will be served.

The drug store is undergoing some new improvements on the inside this week.

Considerable talk of new brick buildings for Filer in the spring is heard. Let's hope that the talk will materialize.

No new cases of small pox appearing in the community, the school board ordered school to open last Monday morning.

Two men were fined in police court Monday for indulging in a street fight. One did not learn their names, both were arrested.

Judging from conditions of the street Monday night, some bootleggers must have received quite some equipment of acquired taste.

Thanksgiving night there will be a big dance in the opera house. Refreshments will be served free and a splendid time promised to all attending.

Louie Miller was the first of the family to get sick of Oregon and returned in a casket last Saturday. He says the rest of the family will be along soon.

A lot of petty thieving is going on in town. Farmers are complaining of their rigs being robbed while hitched in the alleys about town. Some one will be made an example of one of these days.

Since Earl Murray quit the barber business and gone to farming, he has prospered beyond all his best dreams.

One week he came to town in a little old Metz and declares that when the weather gets warm in the spring he will branch out in all kinds of fashions and ribbons and furs.

Another batch of sportsmen braved the mountain cold last week and spent Saturday and Sunday in the best of company with their guns, traps and rifles. They got clear over into Nevada before their trip ended. They bagged a considerable number of sage hens, but nothing larger was brought back. Those who composed the party were: Fred Drake, C. W. Chase, Art Anderson, Ernest Haug, and E. B. Ripley.

Thirty-eight cars of sheep were shipped from this station today.

George Truett and Edw. Walters are in Shoshone today on business. A. A. Tamm is about to trade his 40 south of town for an 80 north of town.

Over two hundred cars of spuds have been shipped from Filer so far this month.

Soon every paper you pick up will contain the slogan "do your Christmas shopping early."

George Truett is going to take a vacation for a few weeks. He will go out to California and on his return will visit relatives in Wyoming.

The late family left recently for the apple show at Spokane. From that point will visit at different points in Washington and Oregon.

H. G. Munyon yesterday sold a lot opposite the "Ninety-Channel" lumber yards to Higgenbottom & Ellis, who will erect a carpenter shop on the same at once.

The electric light crew have about finished their work in town for the new system of street lighting. With the exception of a few lights in the town in Shoshone Idaho when the system is finished.

The lecture Tuesday night by Dr. J. C. Herbert and the supplies of the lecture bureau was thoroughly enjoyed. The audience should have been larger to have heard this speaker, but local conditions militated against a larger attendance.

Wm. Waltey returned Friday from a hunting trip in the Sawtooth mountains with two fine deer and a colubrid cat. Sunday is a day of the week, also, this time however, to show it was not mutton but the genuine article, venison. Not the least of the roasts was the fine dinner prepared by Mrs. Walters. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood and family, Mr. and Mrs. Horner Pierce and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hines and family, Mr. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gulek, Mr. and Mrs. Ehler and son, Mr. and Mrs. Dohl and family, Mr. and Mrs. Moore, Miss Margaret Showers, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pierce and family, Harvey Little, Ray Charles Arthur. THE PATRIOTIC DOLLAR

CONGRESS DECREES DOLLARS IN DULGING IN LUXURIES MUST FIRST SALUTE THE FLAG.

War Revenue Tax of $105,000,000 Levied—Beer Bears Brunt of Burden.

Congress has levied a war-tax of $105,000,000 to offset a similar amount of loss on import-revenue due to the European disturbances and of this amount beer is the heaviest contributor, having been assessed approximately $50,000,000; a stamp tax on taxable instruments, it is estimated, will yield $31,000,000; a tax on the capital stock of banks of $4,000,000 and a tax on tobacco, perfumes, theater tickets, etc., makes the remainder.

Congress has decreed that the brewer, the banker and the investor must shoulder the market and, to the front, that nobody who would add to her beauty must first tip Uncle Sam—and a dollar that seeks pleasure must first salute the flag; that Pleasure and Profit—the two things of which many wars—shall fight the nation's battles and by a judiciously arranged schedule of taxation congress has shifted the war budget from the shoulders of necessity to those of choice and greed, leaving in its various ramifications almost every class of business.

All hail the dollar that bleeds for its country; that bares its breast to the follies of war and risks its life to preserve the stability and integrity of the nation's credit.

The market place has always been a favorite stand for war revenue collectors. The trader is a great financial patriot. The dollar is the first to rally around the star-spangled banner and the last to hear the "God of the Doves of Peace." He is called upon to buy cannon; to feed and clothe the hero in blue and each month cheer their hearts with the "God of the Doves." Men can neither live nor live without food and ammunition, and money is as important a factor in war as blood. Many monuments have been erected in honor of heroes slain in battle, and the nation's history is replete with the noble deeds of the nation's heroes and the nation honors its soldiers while they live and places a monument upon their graves when they die, but very little has been said of the dollar that bears the burden of the nation's war.

Honor to the dollar that bears the burden of war. All honor to the dollar that answers the call to arms and when the battle is over, burdens the wounds of stricken soldiers, lays a wreath upon the graves of fallen heroes and cares for the widows and orphans.

All honor to the industries that bend their backs to the burden of war; lift the weight from the shoulders of the poor and build a bulwark around the nation's credit.

All honor to those who contribute to the necessities and administer to the comforts of the boys who are marching; cool the fever of afflicted soldiers and kneel with the cross beside dying heroes.

A dollar may fight its competitor in business, industries may struggle for supremacy in trade and occupations may vie each other with envy or suspicion, but when the bugle calls they bury strife and rally around the flag, companions and friends, mess mates and chums, all fighting for one cause—their country.

The taxpayer in life has always been the great burden-bearer in government. We will mention a few of them giving the annual contributions to the nation's treasury. Liquor, $250,000,000; tobacco, $100,000,000; sugar, $24,000,000; silk, $15,000,000; diamonds, $3,870,000; millinery, $2,745,000; fur, $2,024,000; and automobiles, $1,870,000. We collect $500,000,000 of internal and excise revenue annually and $100,000,000 of this amount classifies as luxuries, and to this amount we should add the $100,000,000 war tax now levied.

The war tax is immediately effective. Transp. Trusts, etc. The industries are marching $100,000,000 strong—and beneath the starry flag they will OJ the treasury again while they shout, "Hurrah for Uncle Sam!"

In every field of human activity the demand for more competent men and women is growing every day. Especially so in agriculture.

Home made is a quality valuable and the farmer who has none is carrying a heavy handicap on the road to success.

Work is the salve that heals the wounded heart.

Destroying Equilibrium. "That former enemy of yours is paying you a great many compliments," "Yes," replied Senator Sorbus, "and I have not yet said to him: 'One of the easiest ways to throw a man down is to switch his head until he gets too heavy.'" Washington Star.

Why Pay Rent? 50 acres of good land in brush six miles out, school one mile, five lots, $78.00, $500 cash, balance your terms. B. B. Taylor, Elletts, Idaho. Sept. 25, 14.

LAST OF FAMOUS COMPANY.

Doctor Ginsburg, New Doctor, Assailed in the Revulsion of the Old Testament in 1884.

Of the company of learned men engaged in the revision of the Old Testament in 1884, not one was more devoted to the study of the Bible than Dr. C. D. Ginsburg, who was the last of the revisers, died a few weeks ago at the age of eighty-three years.

Doctor Ginsburg was a Polish Jew who converted to Judaism and embraced Christianity. His special knowledge of Hebrew was probably unique, and his introduction to the Hebrew Bible, his edition of the Hebrew Bible, his Massorah, as well as other studies, have secured him a lasting place in the annals of the Bible.

But Doctor Ginsburg is known to the wider world by the service he rendered to the British museum on a memorable occasion. A certain dealer in old manuscripts who had already procured through the Arabi many literary curiosities, a Mr. Shapira, in 1883, reported a find to the British museum which created an immense sensation.

This find was a copy of the Book of Deuteronomy, made in the reign of Jehoshaphat, nearly 900 years before Christ. It consisted of 16 leather strips, black with age.

However there was only a plain gly surface, but on touching them with spirits of wine, these strips appeared covered with writing—10 columns of Deuteronomy, in the ancient characters similar to those on the Moabite stone.

Mr. Shapira estimated the value of this new treasure at $50,000. Obviously the first thing the British museum authorities wanted to be assured of was the genuineness of the discovery. Many expert questions were settled by such a document.

Biblical scholars held their breath while the investigation was proceeding. On Tuesday, August 21, 1883, the Times announced that the document was a fraud, one of the cleverest literary swindles ever perpetrated.

WAYS OF AVOIDING CANCER

New York Board of Health Has Issued Warning Which Is Worth Careful Attention.

The new York board of health has issued a circular warning of the public of the increasing danger from cancer.

Probably it appears that at the present time more men in every country and one woman in every eight over the age of forty die of cancer. Cancer claims 75,000 victims every year in the United States.

Physicians of health give some excellent suggestions as to the best way to avoid cancer. The most important of these are not to permit any irritation of the tissues by contact with broken or decayed teeth, and not to permit the swelling of the palm, lips, tongue, etc.

A wart on a child is rarely anything but a wart; on an adult it is likely to be the beginning of a cancerous growth.

It is not, as is often supposed, generally cured by a simple operation; in its later stages it is generally incurable, though some forms of it in some parts of the body have been eradicated by the radium treatment.

Shipping a Mountain by Rail.

Moving a hill away a few feet proved too big a job for Mohammed, but to day, in California, a mountain is being shipped 3,000 miles to Pennsylvania.

Situated at Longport, Santa Barbara county, this mountain is really a heap of millions and millions of tiny decomposed sea shells. It is held as "infertile earth" and has a high value for insulating purposes and for jewelry grinding purposes. The earth is white in color, fluffy in consistency, and exceedingly fine in grain. Fifteen cars containing 50 tons each go east monthly. When the last car goes out, it will be possible to tell precisely how much the mountain weighed.

Youth's Companion.

Postmaster. Keeps His Job.

A certain car once posted a son of the postman as he had been needed for two centuries thereafter the spot was guarded because no order came to stop guarding it. Apparently our own government can do things quite modern.

On the Maine coast is an island that used to have a summer hotel and a summer post office. The hotel was burned a year ago; but although not a single person lives on the island, the post office still survives. The steamer stops at the dock every day, and the summer postmaster comes over from his home to meet it; then the postmaster and a man from the steamer gravely hand each to the other an empty mail sack—YOUTH'S Companion.

Ocean Conventions.

The new Greek line steamships are to be fitted out with little churches on the shelter deck, each complete with altar, altars and icons. The lines running to western Europe have been too busy with passenger elevators, swimming tanks, shops, restaurants, tango space, gymnasiums and bridge tables to bother with churches, but may in time get around to them.

MONSTER KRUPP GUN

Mortars With Which Forts of Liege Were Smashed.

Secret of Terrible Explosive in Shell Closely Guarded—Results of Eight Years of Quiet Work

By Inventor

Chicago, — Raymond E. Swing, cabling to the Chicago News from Berlin, has this to say of the great Krupp mortars:

"If Germany wins the war it will not be because of her army and navy, but because of her science of warfare, such as other nations have known and practiced, though not so well, but above all it will have been the science of artillery, for the pinnacle of German science is the 42 centimeter (16.5 inch) Krupp mortar, the most miraculous and powerful weapon designed in the history of war.

Mentioned by thousands, the Krupp mortar is known only by a few. The gun was invented eight years ago, but only those in the confidence of the Krupps know who the inventor is. For eight years the Krupps worked at the secret while guarding it with most rigorous precautions. This year they perfected it. This mortar fires the largest and most dangerous projectile ever shot from a weapon. In fact it is a single projectile worked on more than one axis, place, and one vital part of the machinery was made in Austria.

Even the artillery subcommittees of the government was not informed this year. It was merely asked to withhold details of the artillery situation, as something "extraordinary" was being provided. That something extraordinary was first seen when the Liege forts, which could withstand any artillery fire known to Belgium, were shattered like shingles, burying thousands of the garrison under the wreckage. At Namur the same story was repeated.

So far as I can learn, what was done at Liege and Namur was this:

A concrete bunker, 100 feet in diameter, was cleared and a great mortar set in a concrete bed occupying a circle with a radius of 100 feet. Behind the mortar and outside this circle was a tunnel leading to a subterranean chamber. The great mortar was sighted, the projectile was set in place, and then the gunners retired to their underground chamber. Here they pressed a button and the mighty shot was fired.

The explosion was terrific. Anything within fifty feet of the gun at the time of the explosion would be killed. Even men in the neighboring trenches complained of headaches and dizziness from the jar and the same complaints were made by the men in the forts where the projectiles exploded.

The projectile pierced through one, two and three ordinarily impenetrable walls and buried itself in a trench. Here it lay silent many seconds, then exploded like a volcano, bringing to the ground in ruins every stone which had stood upon another.

It was fired into the center of a fort buried itself deep in the ground and lay there as though gathering strength for its monumental explosion. Then, after twenty seconds, it exploded and razed the proudest walls in Belgium.

Each shell cost $2,500. What it contains nobody but the Krupps know. It is brought to the battle field in pieces and assembled by the highest scientific skill.

It is a wonder that the Krupps have not been discovered yet.

THE RED CROSS NURSE

By SAMUEL M. BRICKNER

Now is your mission come, with war's disaster,
In fields a-dip where Peace should hold her wings;
For you shall wander where red Mars is master,
Where bullets hiss and shrieking shrapnel slugs.

There with deft hands, you woman's tears withholding,
You stop the ebbing of the patriot's life.
Or you may close his longing eyes, be- holding
In you the angel of the hateful strife.

Now 'neath the tent-roof over which is flying
In solemn mockery, the flag that holds at bay
The foe's avenger.

Bullet and shell—your very self deny- ing—
You watch and work, and hope, and dumbly pray.

You've stashed the tears that flow at life's beginning—
Yours, now to still them at its early end;
Yours, too, to catch, the while the ranks are thinning,
Some final word to mother, sweet heart, friend.

You have a mission while the cave- man lingers,
While to his maddened vision there remains
Only the club he clutches in his sin- gers.
Only the stone to win his childish gains.

WARRIORS OF INDIA HITS THE BELGIANS

Ghurkas and Sikhs Added to the Armies of the Allies.

All Are Indomitable Fighters, the Methods of the F.D.M. Especially Being Terrifying to European Troops.

By HERBERT TEMPLE, European Manager of the International News Service.

London, — The addition by England of thousands of her Indian fighters to France to combat Germany, and the importation of French African troops into the field, have given an amazing aspect to the international war. Germany now is opposing English, French, Belgians, Russians, Hindus and Africans.

The remarkably short time after the beginning of war in which the British Indian troops were seen crossing Canada from the Pacific to the Atlantic astonished the Germans. It indicated that the Asiatic soldiers were on their way about the same instant that war was formally declared by Great Britain.

England, if necessary, can pour into France from India 238,000 trained men, of whom 76,000 are trained British troops, including some of the crack regiments of the Royal army, the remainder being native Indian soldiers.

According to the official figures, the strength of the Indian army already on its way to the front is, infantry 124,000; cavalry 25,000; artillery 10,000; engineers, etc., 6,000.

The main strength of the Indian army is its infantry. Brahmins, Rajputs, Jats, Sikhs, Panjabs, Dogras, Maharajas and Gurkhas, of all castes and several religions, Mohammedan, Hindu, Buddhist, all are warriors who will lay down their lives for the British and the dark-skinned regiments of the Indian army are a fighting force hard to stop.

Among the most interesting as well as the most formidable fighting outfits in the Indian army are the Gurkhas. There are ten regiments of the Gurkhas.

These little fighters, who come from the region of Nepal and trace their descent from the Rajputs, would rather fight than eat. In appearance they are deceiving. They are short, stocky little men, of somewhat the appearance of the Japanese, only a bit heavier. They wear perpetual grins on their faces and the girls do not come off when they go into a fight.

In close quarters the Gurkha throws his knife and takes to his long

German Prince Charges Them With Many Shocking Crimes.

Declares Lower Classes Are Guilty of Fearful Cruelty Toward Soldiers of the Kaiser, Especially the Wounded.

New York, — Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States, made public the following extract from a letter written to him by Prince Henry of Reuss:

"I hope that we have already protested to the government at Brussels against the frightful atrocities which were committed and are still being committed daily by the lower classes of the Belgian population against our brave soldiers, especially against wounded ones. It seems that the Belgian government is either helpless or else does not know the least about these things, which are worse than the cruelties committed during the Balkan war.

"It might be advisable if the Belgian government would be asked from the Belgians to take energetic steps in the Belgian districts not yet occupied by the Germans, so that they are put to this detestable war of franc-tireurs and that army fights only against army.

"The reports are coming in daily about guards being treacherously killed by peasants, etc., and the fearful cruelty committed even by women to our wounded soldiers. This will forever remain a shameful blot on the history of Belgium. It also seems that in Belgium the minor Catholic clergy is carrying on an incessant agitation.

"It surely does not meet with the Belgian government's intention that the Belgian people commit the lowest crimes against humanity, which, naturally, the Belgian government will have to be blamed for in the future. It is right time to prevent scenes of crimes.

"The cruelties in question are the gouging out of eyes of the wounded soldiers, cutting out of tongues, cutting off of limbs, murdering of the wounded who are lying on stretchers ready to be taken to the hospital, treacherous assaults by peasants, etc. Priests who received our troops in a friendly manner during the day were at night time detected with revolvers in their hands participating actively in the outrages."

SEMI-ANNUAL SALE

The Wherefore and Where-as of It

This is an extraordinary sale. A sale brought about through force of circumstances. "No man is wise at all hours," said an ancient worthy—and so it is even today. This sale occurs the first week in January each year, and is looked forward to by many thrifty citizens who know our honorable methods of doing business, and the high-grade merchandise we carry. This year we find ourselves over-loaded with goods owing to the backward season and disturbed financial conditions throughout the county. Therefore, we are compelled to reduce our stocks. This sale is most opportune for you, in that Christmas is but four weeks hence, and you are able to buy at saving prices now. Everything has been cut in price.

COMMISSION GIVES REPORT

People Have Been Saved Cost of Commission Many Times Over.

Justification for continuation of the public utilities commission in this state to regulate public utilities and common carriers will be shown by facts and figures contained in its first report covering the biennial period that commission has been in existence, now being compiled. It is estimated that the commission has saved to the state during its brief existence several times the amount appropriated by the last legislature to carry it through the biennial period, or $60,000. The records of the public utilities commission show that in many instances, through the fact it existed and was active, work has been accomplished beneficial to shippers and growers that if it could be estimated, in dollars and cents would more than justify its existence.
