WANT TO UNLOAD SALMON TRACT

Bondholders Ask State to Release Contract.

CLAIM WATER SHORTAGE WOULD NOT BE CONSIDERED

Settlers of Salmon River Tract Will Vigilantly Protect Against More of Company.

To determine whether the Twin Falls-Salmon River Land and Water company has complied with the contract between that company and the state of Idaho, which contract was entered into on April 30, 1908, and provided for the construction of the so-called Salmon River irrigation system, the land board at a meeting November 24th issued an order directing the state engineer to examine the system and to report his findings to the board not later than December 15th. Engineer J. H. Hollister has been designated by the state engineer to see to it that the desired information. Mr. Hollister will be recalled, however, that a series of investigations for the land board must not later than the middle of next week.

This information, which was received early in the week, is confirmed by a letter from Mr. J. H. Hollister, general manager of the Twin Falls-Salmon River Land and Water company, from Boise under date of December 1st. His letter follows: "H. M. Sims, Publisher, The Herald, Hollister, Idaho.

At a meeting of the State board of Land Commissioners held on November 24th, an order was made directing the State Engineer to examine the Salmon River project for the purpose of determining whether or not the construction work called for under the contract with the state of Idaho is being undertaken with the utmost dispatch. It is understood that the question of water supply is not involved in this examination of the project, but that the people under the project have information that this examination will be made and that the state will ask the State to accept the system as complete, as to the construction, in accordance with the State contract, this publicly giving opportunity for the settlers to call the attention of the State to the completion of the construction work. We will therefore, thank you to publish this letter.

Yours truly,
G. M. HALL,
General Manager.

To settlers on the Salmon River project who have appealed to the federal court to protect their interests, the state engineer has issued an order to the part of the company to secure exemption from the heavy liabilities confronting it as the result of the fraudulent error in estimate of the amount of water available for the irrigation of this project.

The irrigation company has heretofore been making a claim that it is responsible for the water shortage that confronts the settlers, that it has contracted with the State for the construction of the system, and that all of which have been duly and properly constructed, and that all it held to the settlement was shares in the system. The settlers, however, their part have always contended that it is obviously the duty of the water company to furnish the water for which it provided the means of diversion and transportation. Hollister, Herald.

"THE HAPPIEST MAN"

Comedy (Holds) Boards at Lavering Theatre

The Lavering theatre held a good crowd to witness the first performance of "The Happiest Man," played by the Della Pringle Company. This is the latest work of this popular company, with business getting better every week and with such clean-cut comedy as "The Happiest Man" offers, many prosperous weeks are ahead of Miss Pringle. Last night's play is the best comedy ever staged in a local playhouse and it has a splendid plot to work on. Each character was total comedy, and the Della Pringle company, Mr. VanAuker at their best. "The Happiest Man" is really worth liberal patronage and as far as comedy is concerned, it is the best.

Wednesday night the greatest of all dramas, "Paid in Full," will be the offering with C. VanAuker in the part of Clay Williams. The Della Pringle company were unanimous in their praise of Mr. VanAuker in his characterization of this part. "Paid in Full" is a great play with a great moral.

Friday and Saturday, "The Lion and the Mouse," will be staged, a play of great interest and politics and clearly showing how "things" are manipulated by the powers that be. The regular Saturday matinee at 2:30.

POTATO SHIPMENTS SLOW

Failure to Market Cotton Crop of the South Kills Market.

The Salt Lake Herald-Tribune, in discussing the Idaho potato situation, says: "Potatoes are selling in Idaho at 45 cents a hundred pounds because the market for Idaho potatoes in Texas has been closed. The market in Mississippi has been taken away through the failure of the southern potato crop to sell their cotton crop. Heretofore, the bulk of the Idaho potato crop has been shipped from the Idaho Falls region daily during the last year only an average of ten cars a week being sent out. The Oregon State records show that last year the average of 15 cars to 160 cars was maintained and prices averaged 35 cents to 50 cents a hundred pounds.

FAILED TO RETURN OUTFIT

Kimberly Livery Men Short a Horse and Buggy. No Clue to Thieves.

Woods brothers, who are engaged in the livery business in Kimberly are short a horse and buggy, in spite of the fact that the outfit was returned to them. A short time ago two men appeared at their barn, representing themselves to be sign painters, and hired a horse and buggy to go out into the country a short while, stating that they would be back in a short time. The liverymen, believing that the pair were going out to paint signs, readily let them take the outfit. When they failed to return by the next morning, the liverymen became anxious and notified the sheriff's office in this city and the country was thoroughly searched, but no trace of the missing rig or men can be found.

NEW BARBER SHOP

Agree and Mullan, Proprietors of New Establishment.

George Agree and Louis Mullan are the proprietors of the new barber shop which they have opened next to the Palace Cafe, on Main avenue west of the high school. They are well known in the city and will no doubt attract a large patronage. The shop is equipped with new fixtures throughout and presents a very neat appearance.

COURT ADJOURNS TUESDAY

Judge E. A. Walters Goes in Gooding to Platte Fall Term

Tuesday evening, the November term of the district court adjourned until Thursday, December 17. The same evening Judge Walters left for Gooding where he will hold court until the 15th of December. The court will adjourn until the 15th of December.

Vision of the Seasoned Railroad Editor of Boise's
Most Noted Railroad Dope Sheet

When the Boise-Winemucca railroad is built, it will be but a link in the chain of the Western Pacific line, which will connect Boise and Caldwell with the rest of the world. The Boise-Winemucca line is a great play with a great moral.

Friday and Saturday, "The Lion and the Mouse," will be staged, a play of great interest and politics and clearly showing how "things" are manipulated by the powers that be. The regular Saturday matinee at 2:30.

BOISE, THE TERMINAL

The plan of the Winemucca, Boise, Twin Falls, Boise, loop, was then made known. It was conceded that the best proposition was to build the Ogden-Boise portion of the road first, the Boise-Twin Falls line being a branch road from the main line running out from Twin Falls into the Yellowstone park section.

BEN GREY PLAYERS

The Best Shakespearean Interpreters on the Stage Today.

The Ben Grey Players in Shakespearean comedy will be one of the big attractions of the year. These players are considered the finest in their line in the country and have enjoyed this enviable reputation for years.

Mr. Grey has spent the better part of his life studying the various works of the immortal Shakespeare and his interpretation and presentation of his plays is of a high dramatic standard. His plays are not only wonderful but delightful to his audiences everywhere.

Seldom are we privileged to hear such talent as the Ben Grey Players or such productions as "Twelfth Night" or "As You Like It" at the prices that will be charged and there is little doubt but what the Ben Grey players will face a crowded house on January 9th.

Some people seem to think this attraction is in the region of a passing fancy, but it is not. It is a separate attraction entirely and has no connection with it.

Ticket sale will begin at nine o'clock Saturday morning, December 12th, at Skeels-Wiley's.

Have you registered your preference between "Twelfth Night" and "As You Like It"? It is left with the public to decide. Go to any of the drug stores or the liberal and note.

From the prevailing opinion of the press of the state, the public utilities commission will be in for some rough treatment in the coming session of the legislature. Reviews of the acts of the present commission are for the most part hostile with a few exceptions, where the reason for the support is very apparent. Some want the act repealed, others want the powers of the commission curtailed, as for the elimination of competition and a number of revisions which to a great degree hamper a good commission in the work which should benefit the public. The Times believes that to repeal the law is dangerous in the extreme and would eventually work a greater hardship on the public owing to the inevitable combinations of public service corporations in the state field or territory. But if the blindest views which have ruled the action of the present commission is to be the standard, the people of the state have gained nothing and have been instrumental in building up a powerful ally for the corporations. Corporations have no souls and have a great contempt generally for the public with which they must deal. This attitude has been the prime factor in the great animosity and distrust which has sprung up on the part of the public. Corporations will not do business at a loss for any length of time nor do they figure to furnish any article of consumption to the much despised public, only so long as the public pays well for the service. For that reason any great anxiety for the welfare of the corporation is needless. They are perfectly able to care for themselves. The idea that a public service corporation must be bailed and protected from extravagant expenditures is so much wasted gray matter.

The contention that if a fixed rate for service is made by a commission, necessitates equal protection against competition does not become attractive to the consumer who pays the bills, although seemingly fair in the first aspect. There is no question but what the corporations with their array of legal talent and their influence upon all legislative functions of the state are well cared for. The claim that competition will duplicate systems and eventually raise rates when the combination is effected depends altogether upon the honesty of the commission which the public rates should not regard costs to the corporations during a destructive rate war. Idaho surely needs greater electrical development. Twin Falls certainly needs electrical development and if that development is retarded or stopped altogether by the failure of the present company, then competition should be allowed. Let the corporations compete for control. That is what every other business is doing in its chosen field. There should not be monopolies in public service unless owned and controlled by the people. Private gain for public service corporations is not the concern of the state. The state should protect only the consumer as to the rates charged until such time as the development of the state warrants closer restrictions. That time is far distant in Idaho, where the corporations practically control the legislative functions and the up natural resources by reason of the power given them.

LET DOWN THE BARS

The public utilities commission of this state has brought itself under condemnation from promoters of new corporations. The commission has made the full length of its granted or usurped authority in preventing new electrical enterprises from engaging in business in this state. This is just what the opponents of the public utilities law said would happen, but the general public had hoped that a reasonable law would be enacted and that it would be administered by a commission which would take into consideration the upbuilding of the state through competition in electrical lighting, power and transportation facilities. Instead, their every decision has favored monopoly.

Of those companies which established, setting themselves up as judges in a wide field of endeavor and control, where capital is not only willing but anxious to enter and assist in developing our state. Consequently this law should be amended by the coming legislature so as to take away this authority from the commission. In other words capital and enterprise should be given leave in this new state, which needs further development in almost every line, and especially electric transportation and power. In this connection the following paragraph from the Lewiston Tribune is pertinent:

In all probability, the commission has done a favor to the applicants for franchises in saving them from getting into what might be bad business. At this time, it is probably very much better for all concerned, that these applicant member funds be not subjected to competitive electric enterprises which might not succeed and which might only mean loss and harassment. We are sure, however, the commission has mistaken its functions and perpetrated a grave wrong upon the state.

In assuming the power it has done in these cases, and in establishing the principle of legalized private monopoly. This commission was created for the purpose, on the part of the people of the state, of revising rates and regulating practices with a view to removing causes of dissatisfaction and distrust between the people and the companies. It was not created for the purpose of saving the companies from competition and of preventing them from investing their money perhaps wisely. Something must still be left to private judgment, to private right in this country, and the right to seek to find desirable changes in the state in the electric field or otherwise, is a right the people do not intend to abrogate and that public opinion will not allow to be abridged once the facts have become fully known. --Wesley American.

STILL HITTING AT BORDEN'S HERE

Once more it seems Senator Borden has committed an unpardonable sin in the estimation of his political enemies -- at least they keep on harping on the matter as though he had done something which should condemn him to the denunciation howlows, and what might this act of simple treason be?

Simply without the chairman of the Republican state committee, after the Allen state fund had been exposed and urging that his resignation from the Republican ticket be demanded and in the event of his refusal that he be repudiated by the party organization. This happened before Allen's defection as state treasurer was known, and while there was every disposition to whitewash Allen and get back his candidacy. No longer had Senator Borden's letters to the chairman been made public than he was pounced upon for his "attempt to knife the state ticket." Notwithstanding he had been courageous enough to say to the state chairman, what others were saying behind his back, the senator's motives were impugned and he was credited with all the instincts of the Mexican Greaser.

The Statesman in all of its strong set-baiter and the popguns followed suit, and some of them are still keeping up the desultory firing although the campaign is over. Allen is in the penitentiary and the senator's course has been fully justified by subsequent events.

It is a well known fact that a word from Senator Borden could have defeated John M. Baines for renomination, but notwithstanding he disclaimed the governor he refused the importunities of his friends and declined to interfere. Had he done so he would have been heralded as a dictator by the same critics who deplore his interference in trying to rid the party of a crook. In fact The Statesman, very wrongly endeavored to force an expression from him concerning Baines early in the primary campaign for the sole purpose of howling "hoax." But they failed. He let them continue off had not the Allen matter developed, and then he did what every other Republican should have done, he demanded that the party organization clean house.

Notwithstanding Senator Borden's frame out in a strong interview and urged the election of Senator Brady, he is even accused by that gentleman's home organ of trying to lull his tailors by simply asking the state committee to do his duty. What injuries effect this could have upon the candidacy of Brady they will have a hard time explaining unless we are to believe the higher senator had approved the course of the state chairman in applying the whitewash. It would seem to the Statesman that Senator Brady had much to lose and nothing to gain by allowing his organ to attack Borden in this manner. The organ will never relocate a leader who is such a traitor in his demands for cleaner politics and clean men in public life and elevate to his place one who covertly attacks him for taking a stand on the side of honor and decency. Senator Borden certainly will not suffer through comparison, and it would seem to be part of political wisdom for some people to not even indirectly court the same. --Wesley Signal.

IT SEEMS SO.
(Hole Post.)

Another traitor was victorious in defeat, when it was charged during the campaign that he had promised to appoint Judge Budge to the supreme bench and was holding back the appointment until after election for that purpose. Even Judge Budge made public denial of the charge. Now that the election is over and Judge Walters was the logical man for the position, we find Walters turned down and the appointment given to Budge. The opinion is firmly lodged in the minds of Idaho people who read and think, that Senator Borden has had--maybe two of--

(AUTOMATIC)

No matter how hard the wind blows, this device automatically regulates the chimney draft to just the right velocity.

This uniformly correct draft makes any fuel burn steadily, evenly and without waste; it prevents waste. That means a saving of 25% on fuel bills (by actual test), a uniform, comfortable temperature in your home, less time and labor spent in firing the fire.

It's simple in design, easy to install, lasts a lifetime. Price from $6.00 up. Get one now. It will mean a big saving of fuel during the windy months of February, March and April.

ZUDORA—THE MYSTIC-GIRL-DETECTIVE—SOLVING THE MYSTERY OF THE SPOTTED GO

A Wonderful Story

Another Times Scoop! Next Week the Orpheum Theatre will present to you the first episode of Thanhouser's greatest photoplay—ZUDORA.

Beginning in This Issue the Twice-a-Week Twin Falls Times will present the novelized version of this exciting story by Harold MacGrath, to its readers. This is Mr. MacGrath's masterpiece. It was written in collaboration with Daniel Carson Goodman—famous author, philosopher and scientist. It is a story of love, science, mysticism and adventure that is bound to thrill you, bound to hold your interest. You'll marvel at the remarkable powers of deduction and hypnotism which belong to beautiful Zudora—the heroine. You'll wonder as the sensational pitfalls of this young girl's life are revealed. You'll admire John Storm, the hero. Don't miss it—even if you have to stay awake nights to read it. It begins
