SHARP DEFEAT ON SUFFRAGE

Resolution to Submit Amendment to States Rejected

DEMOCRATS STRONG IN OPPOSITION TO THE MEASURE.

Champions of Cause Declare Proposals Will be Pressed Forward as a Fight.

Washington—The house of representatives today voted 201 to 114 refused Tuesday night to submit to the states an amendment to the federal constitution to entitle the women.

The vote, the second in the history of congress on the woman suffrage issue, came at the close of a day of long preparation for speakers during which the many speakers were listened to with frequent evidences of approval or disapproval by packed galleries.

The question was before the house on the Mondell resolution to submit a constitutional amendment providing that the right of suffrage should not be denied on account of sex.

A two-thirds affirmative vote was necessary to pass the resolution; it was defeated by a majority of 30.

Party lines were not strictly drawn in the fight, although Democratic Leader Underwood, voicing the attitude of his party, that suffrage should not be granted on account of sex, strongly opposed the resolution, while Republican Leader Cannon was one of the chief speakers of the day.

Enthusiasm mingled with dejection when Speaker Clark announced the result and into the corridors of the capitol galleries filled the hundreds of suffragists, with their purple and yellow sashes, and the red rose bedecked anti-suffragists.

The second defeat of the suffrage cause in the national legislature within a year, March 19 next a constitutional amendment proposed by the state of Oregon received a vote of 35 to 24 in the senate, securing a bare majority, but falling of the necessary two-thirds.

As they left the galleries, led by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and other champions of the cause, they declared that the fight was by no means over and that the suffrage propaganda would be pressed forward until every woman in America should have the right to cast a ballot.

"The result was what we expected," said Mr. Arthur M. Dodge, president of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, "but means that the suffrage question must be settled by a direct vote of the people."

Often during the earnest and at times bitter debate preceding the vote, Speaker Clark was forced to interrupt the speakers on the floor, fill the chamber with the deafening battering of his gavel and warn the speakers to desist, and order must be preserved. Several times he threatened to have the galleries cleared unless the disturbance subsided.

Mr. Bracken gave a good talk on "Country Duty," showing the advantages of the country life and was met by committee appointed by the state superintendent and one formulated by Mr. Bracken was presented. Every teacher and trustee should know something about county duty as it is probably one of our future educational developments.

The fifteen-minute demonstration in "Muscular Movement Writing," by Miss Taylor, supervisor of writing, and the "Twin Falls" given the teachers a chance to see some excellent work in Palmer penmanship.

Proceeding the general debate there was a debate of an hour and a half on a special rule providing for consideration of the resolution, which was adopted by a rising vote of 209 to 31.

TEACHERS MEETING VERY SUCCESSFUL

Teachers Present from All Parts of the County

SPLENDID ADDRESSES BY TEACHERS AND OTHERS.

Meetings Held in High School Auditorium Friday and Saturday of Last Week. About 100 Present.

An interesting session of the county teachers association was held Friday afternoon, though a majority of the teachers did not arrive until Saturday morning.

Not only was the music furnished by the Misses Althea appreciated, but the question was the willingness to have they donated their time and services so often.

The primary class poems, reading and dramatization given by Miss Peels was especially interesting and helpful to the young teachers.

Miss Leland's paper on "Incentives in the Upper Grades" brought out an interesting discussion of what were proper incentives.

The "Washington Plan of Rural Supervision" by Miss Davenport of Huxson and the paper on "School Revision" by Mr. Gastner were listened to with interest.

Mr. C. S. Miller of Mirron then gave a short talk on "Equipment and Supervision of the Playground" pointing out what equipment would be found most useful, and the need of playground supervision.

While the meeting was a large number of the districts have placed on their playgrounds equipment such as swings, rings, teeters, horizontal bars and basketball baskets.

The vocal solos and duet Friday evening by Mr. McGinnis and Fred Skogvang, were excellent and deserved a large audience than was present.

The most interesting session was held Saturday morning. There was a large attendance of teachers and extensive program, many talking in the discussion.

The first number, Dr. Shaver's address on "Tests of Teaching" should have been heard by every teacher in the county.

The fifteen-minute demonstration in "Muscular Movement Writing," by Miss Taylor, supervisor of writing, and the "Twin Falls" given the teachers a chance to see some excellent work in Palmer penmanship.

Proceeding the general debate there was a debate of an hour and a half on a special rule providing for consideration of the resolution, which was adopted by a rising vote of 209 to 31.

Two New Directors Elected at Annual Meeting Held Tuesday.

Scenes During Session Animated.

The annual stockholders meeting of the Twin Falls Canal company, probably the most interesting and important, from the standpoint of attendance and issues decided, which has been held since the system was turned over to the settlers for operation.

From early morning until late at night the streets of the city took on the aspect of a national election rather than one concerning an irrigation project.

The election of directors caused just as much excitement, as a strong effort had been made to put in a director unfavorable to George Harlan, the general manager of the company.

The resolution to shut off winter flow of water and to put in a directorate which would change management was carried.

The meeting was presided over by H. O. Munson of C. H. Burton acting as secretary. At 10 o'clock a dinner was served in the hall.

BORAH ATTACKS WILSON POLICIES

Talks on Speech Delivered By President in Indianapolis

DAY OF LIVELY DEBATE IN UNITED STATES SENATE.

Borah Seizes Notice That Republicans Will Oppose Legislation Not for the People.

Washington—In a stirring debate Wednesday the senate heard sharp Republican attacks upon President Wilson's recent Indianapolis speech, criticism of the administration's policy toward Mexico and denunciation of Democratic legislation, followed by warm defense of the president by Democratic leaders.

Political discussion was precipitated by Senator Cummins' remarks questioning information from the president as to what the government proposed to do with Mexican customs collected during the American occupation of Vera Cruz. The resolution did not get to a vote.

In the course of the discussion Senator John Sharp Williams of Missouri declared with emphasis that President Wilson would be "renominating" himself.

From numerous places in the affected regions calls for doctors and medicine are reaching here. Pope Benedict is receding thanksgiving after the morning mass when the shock occurred. The pontiff retained his composure and gave orders immediately that the damage both inside and outside the Vatican be ascertained and requested a report winter assistance was required.

King Victor Emmanuel also ordered the minister of the interior to furnish him with all details of the earthquake. The king expressed the desire to visit the damaged cities—Stalsman.

CHAPTER VI. THE CASE OF THE MCWINTER FAMILY.

In a room in an ordinary dwelling, a woman sat before a sewing machine. The low hum of it filled the room with a murmur like that of many bees. The woman's husband sat in a chair near by, was reading and smoking and he looked up absently each time the humming ceased. "I'll know what you're doing," he said, "and I'll know what you're doing."

"How long?" To the man she said: "Keep a stiff upper lip, Sally. We'll straighten out this middle in time. It looks to me that McWinter is just right in the upper story. If we could get him away from his whiskey there might be a change. But he's an 'Indian' and he'll never change. He'll stay at the laboratory that he'd be glad to give him steady work if they could trust him."

"A few minutes later a visitor was introduced to him by the Indian servant. Hassan Ali was pointing over his shoulder. Near by sat Zadora, reading and reflecting. The two had been talking about Messmer and Gallostro, and Zadora was making her arguments from the book she held. The bell was heard to ring. "A few minutes later a visitor was introduced to him by the Indian servant. Hassan Ali was pointing over his shoulder. Near by sat Zadora, reading and reflecting."

"Why now you come to speak of it, you. I thought he was just eating." "Here's a bit of luck," said Zadora, suddenly. She pointed down to the wagon, where a wagon was visible in the distance. "I'll take it to the village. I want to see the authorities at once. I've an idea how your husband came to die."

details of the trap. McWinter's dog evidently got in his way, and he kicked it. The dog, in its endeavor to escape, a second kick jumped against the leg, shattering the bone. The dog was killed. Hassan Ali nodded gravely. There was nothing else for him to do. Storm stared at him ironically for a moment. "But there is something else to add," he went on Zadora, now satisfied that the matter was of the nature of a trap for Smith himself. He was an insane man, and none of you ever suspected this fact. He was insane, but he was sane. Smith had absolutely nothing to do with them. Now hang him if you can!"
