EMPHATIC NOTE SENT TO MEXICO

Steps Must Be Taken to Protect Foreigners

Washington - General Carranza has been informed in a note from the United States government that unless there is an improvement in conditions with respect to foreigners and their interests in Mexico territory under his control, such steps as may be necessary will be taken by the American government to obtain the desired protection.

The note is the strongest and most emphatic document that has been sent by the Washington government to Mexico since the correspondence with Huerta a year ago. Carranza is warned that the United States has viewed with deep concern the growing complaints made by foreigners generally against the administration of affairs and is now in effect demanding a change of policy toward Mexico on the part of the United States.

Some regard it as an assurance of policy toward Mexico on the part of the United States. Carranza should have presented the note to Carranza Huerta. A copy of it was sent to the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, to be shown to General Carranza, Carranza commander. In the meantime some movements of American warships have been reported, the effect of which will be a naval demonstration, such as which it is hoped by naval officials will convince Carranza of the determination of the American government to obtain a change in conditions in Mexico City.

Secretary Daniels conferred with President Wilson regarding the prospect of sending additional warships to Vera Cruz. Only one vessel, the battleship Delaware, has been sent to Vera Cruz for several weeks. Five warships will be in that vicinity in a few days. It had been planned to send the Delaware to Guantanamo to join the Atlantic fleet in its spring maneuvers.

HENRY FORD ON THE JOB

Makes Popular Change in Lines of New Cars

The 1915-16 Ford has some radical changes in appearance which will make the little car even more popular with the public. The car is designed for a stream line body as a part of the new automobile has forced the manufacturer to make changes and the result is a stream line appearance with a dash and solid clear vision windshield. Electric lights operated from the magnet and curved fenders on the rear make a radical change in appearance. The Western Auto company regarded a car of the new model Monday of this week. The new model is a four door sedan with a steering wheel on the left side of the car. The change has been reported by the car dealer at Twin Falls. The people are mostly from Minnesota.

SPEEDERS IN THE TOILS

Twenty-five Prominent Citizens Pay Tribute to City

About twenty-five prominent citizens of Twin Falls were called upon the streets Sunday and ordered to pay a fine for speeding. The police officers the city traffic rules. The plain clothes men stationed around the business section was no respecter of persons, and punished Ford drivers along with the rest. Nor did it take a very strong opinion to get the attention of the speed cop. He was after victims and certainly was successful.

BASQUES CUT UP

Wounded Over Team and One Drains a Knife and Slashes Other

As a result of a quarrel growing out of precedence in manning a team, Cortez, a young man, was wounded in a slashing wound on his left shoulder, inflicted by a knife in the hands of his countryman, Jose Tatanca, at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday morning on George Mudgett's farm where they were taking care of the McCabe flock.

Cortez, who has been in the service of T. R. McCabe for several years, is a good workman, but is not an expert horseman. He seems to have resented the fact that when he and Tatanca were sent out together Tuesday morning, the latter was put in charge of the team to herd his sheep bordering the field, but not to fight until they came in. Just before noon and put up horses, Cortez went up to the camp wagon, and when Tatanca tried to throw him out and down to the ground, having his knife, Tatanca made some strong observations to the Basque who was aroused, whereupon Cortez sprang down from the wagon and whipped out a common jack knife from his pocket and ripped his assailant's shoulder from the collarbone to the neck by the shoulder blade, inflicting a laceration, but not dangerous wound.

A gate doesn't seem important enough to make much fuss about.

Still—if you had overheard the remark as we did, "By golly, that's a good gate—that farmer's up to scratch—but he has a good farm"—then you would probably look around and see in what shape your own gates were.

Little things like that certainly do a lot toward making a place look shabby or up-to-date.

A traffic cop in plain clothes caused sensation Saturday by the snappy methods of nabbing speeders in the business section. The traffic cop, while small, was large enough to cause the victim to remember. Sootier driving will be the fashion for some time and the lives of the citizens safeguarded to that extent. It was a good move and the council should be commended for making an early start.

The outcome of the investigation of George Day said the board by the legislature was similar to every other started - nothing gained but a new coat of whitewash for some officials who should be speedily removed.

In the same six months during which the main currents of our foreign trade were reversed, foreign exchange went from the highest to the lowest level ever recorded. Thus last August, as the New York Commercial Advertiser reported, it cost seven dollars to reach a pound sterling from New York to London, while the normal value of a pound, as of 1910, is $18.00. A few weeks ago the exchange value of the pound sterling, under the so-called gold standard, was reflected in exchange rates in Germany, France and Italy. At that time, yet several acres of land were sold and the rate set the mark of its approval upon the matter when it was declared there was nothing wrong with the deal. The purchase of the affairs of the state land board and all of its branches has been an affront to the people of the state. This state not only applies to the nation, advertising, but to the trust and the land, and a few lack of that. It is neither pertinent nor does it represent anything but the interest of the state, and the state's interest of itself.

THE RIGHT IDEA

The formation of a Teachers' association for mutual cooperation is the wisest move ever made by the people of this school community. One of the greatest drawbacks to sound educational work and the hardest problem of the school instructors is the small amount of encouragement given by the parents. It is not a problem pertinent alone to this school district but in almost every school district.

but in almost every school district the parents to the school system with things are running smoothly. The teachers are the backbone of the system. It is not a problem pertinent alone to this school district but in almost every school district. The formation of a Teachers' association for mutual cooperation is the wisest move ever made by the people of this school community. One of the greatest drawbacks to sound educational work and the hardest problem of the school instructors is the small amount of encouragement given by the parents. SUPREMACY OF THE AMERICAN DOLLAR

With the American dollar at a premium in the world's exchanges and the balance-of-trade showing an accumulation of credit on the side of the United States, editorial observers are congratulating this country on the financial ascendancy thrust upon it by several months of European warfare. A few, however, shake their heads apprehensively because this ascendancy, due to abnormal causes, is but a temporary phenomenon.

"dumplings" of American securities by European traders. Flooding these markets for the moment was found in the Chicago Herald declaring that while we have been waiting for news of a decisive victory for the side of the other in Europe, a "great victory" has finally been won in America. "The financial center of the world, remotely following the westward course of empire, has been given a tremendous push in this direction within a few months," says the New York World.

wealth should now be pouring into domestic trade channels. When the financial business will "boom" again. All that is needed to open the flood gates is a little more confidence. So far as trade with the United States is concerned, explains the New York Globe, "German currency is at 10 per cent discount and British and French currency at a 1 per cent discount." "American dollars are in tremendous demand all over the world. They have never been so widely wanted as today, and if all signs do not fail the limit-of-demand-for-them-is-not-entirely visible." "The rest of the world can not now send us goods in quantity to squander our obligations. It can part with its gold only to buy goods of us. It can part with its gold only to buy goods of us. It can part with its gold only to buy goods of us."

At the bottom is the real and important significance that the fall in the British pound sterling, in France, Germany and in Germany marks for us. The world's financial capital has shifted, or is shifting. From the standpoint of the money market, New York is now in London's former place, or will be before long, provided circumstances do not shake our neutrality in the European war. — Literary Digest.

NORTH SIDE SUITS STARTED

The Company Begins Action Against a Number of Chronic Defaulters. Last Friday about one hundred foreclosure suits were filed by the North Side company against holders of mortgages on the tract. Fifty were filed in all three counties in which the tract is now situated since county districts are in the district court of the Fourth Judicial district in which all the mortgages are.

Mr. Shepherd said that in many of the cases the mortgagee had failed to pay. Letters from the company to their law firm advised them to pay or else foreclosure suits would be filed. Some of the mortgagees who had failed to pay had been advised by their attorneys to pay or else foreclosure suits would be filed. Argument Used to Induce Merchants to Advertise in Newspapers. In talking recently with a man who has made a big success as an advertising salesman, the question was asked: "What has been the most effective argument you have used to induce merchants to advertise?"

"Very few of them, in reply to this question, claim that any large proportion of the population has come into their store within the past three months." "Then I say, how are all the rest of the people going to have any idea about the merits of the stock you carry?" "The people had been in their store during that period. In many cases the proportion would be away 100 per cent." "Then I say, how are all the rest of the people going to have any idea about the merits of the stock you carry?" INDIAN HUNTERS' CORE

Five Outlaws Killed on the Utah-Colorado Line

Bluffs, Colo.—Scouts reported that at least five Indians have been killed and possibly more wounded. Marshal Nebeker says he does not want state troops. He thinks the posse is better able to meet the Indian methods of warfare.

One white man, one Indian brave and an Indian maiden were killed in their first battle. The Indian maiden was killed almost as the first shot was fired. The Indian brave was a bullet in the forehead of the posse a few minutes later, and the Indian maiden was the third to fall. It is believed she was shot by the bullet of an Indian. According to the posse members of the posse, recognizing her as a girl ceased firing and it is believed who was hit by a stray bullet from the posse.

The United States District Attorney said yesterday the captured Indian would not be brought to Salt Lake, but would be held on charges of assisting in preventing the arrest in the San Juan country. The posse was captured at Monticello. The posse was captured by the posse. The posse was captured by the posse.

Dispatches from Washington yesterday indicated that the government's Indian service regard the Indian tribes of grave importance. United States Commissioner Cato Sells said: "Despite the unfavorable prospects we expect to accomplish the arrest of the Flute outlaw without further bloodshed. It is possible that the Indians may be able to negotiate with the posse to give up the outlaw when they arrive on the scene. Our office is averse to having within the boundaries of the state any more men." —Portland Tribune.

Condemns State Land Board

In the case of the lawsuit of state lands the committee takes up in detail complaints filed by J. C. Watts of Montpelier and W. A. Broadhead of Hite. The committee made an investigation of the manner in which Indian school lands are being sold.

Messrs. Watts and Broadhead charge that selections of school lands were made in violation of the provisions of section 4 of the Idaho admission act, which provides that such selections shall be made in sub-divisions of sections and in accordance with the provisions of section 4 of the Idaho admission act. The committee also charged violations of a section of the same law in that they were not made in accordance with the provisions of section 4 of the same law.

The committee found that those who have been practically delinquent for a number of years. Land Commissioner Day explained to the committee that the Idaho admission law was regarded by the government and state officials largely as a contract which had been abrogated at the consent of both parties to it. The report dealing with the testimony of Mr. Day in this particular.

It and counsel about it and had their heart in it, and under the conditions as they are, with all due respect to the best of the country, that they are engaged with their own duties, pertaining to their own offices, that they can't get the time and put the thought into this matter, that they are engaged. There is exactly the way I feel about it.

"As a matter of fact, Mr. Day, you are in a position, are you not, to land board?"

"The responsibility rests upon the State."

SILFOR ECONOMIC PRODUCTION

With modern changes on the farm you will see a desire on the part of progressive farmers to improve their silage with all conveniences that tend to cut down the labor and the expense of it to the production of their land or stock. Under these conditions the silo, combining as it does the advantages of these very important features and having behind it the scientific principles of the Silfor silage-making process, is making rapid progress out at an annual rate will establish itself as a part of the necessary equipment of every farm silage-maker.

Many farmers say: "We do not doubt that the silo will make feeding much easier during the winter, but will it pay?" We will not say that it will not pay if you offer all its advantages. In winter what the only work we have to do is to take care of our stock. Our time is not to be spent in the field, but in the barn. And then, what about the cost of the silo? We do not intend to invest in a silo simply because it is a good thing to have. We intend to buy a silo only when we know just how it will make money for us.

The answer in a nutshell to all such questions is that the Silfor silage-maker is worth $6.00 to $8.00 in feeding value. There are other advantages in feeding the Silfor silage, but we will not discuss them now.

Mr. C. J. Hinman, formerly of the Kansas state agricultural college, advised that on an average acre of land the total cost of production, that is cultivation of the corn and filling the silo, will cost about $1.00. The Silfor silage-maker will cost $1.00. As stated before, many farmers prefer to bring the total cost of production down to $1.00. The Silfor silage-maker will cost $1.00.

The Silfor silage-maker is a large part of its total value is not through exposure to the weather. With the Silfor silage-maker you can get the most out of your silage. another lot of twenty stows of the same average weight and quality fed exactly the same feed except silage. The best of the lot gained 46.1 pounds of silage saved 18 pounds of grain and 165 pounds of alfalfa. At present prices these figures are 46.1 pounds of silage more and saving of $10.524. This is equivalent of $1.61 per ton for corn silage which can be made from the same amount of grain.

This is not all, for the cattle were shipped to Kansas City and sold at the stockyards and the silage fed to the cattle here. The results were more than the others. This is making a profit in two ways: in the cost of feed reduced and higher price for animals. The cattle here are sold for about each year came up to this standard it would add thousands of dollars to the wealth of the farmers. It is not all, for many feeders are putting in large silos in evidence that they believe the above results can be accomplished by feeding silage.
