Buick C25 the only car to negotiate the Blue Laker Grade at this time of the year.

No Car Ever Went Where a Buick Can't

To Buick owners comes that mental satisfaction, that peace of mind, of knowing that they are not going to find any roads that will stop them.

"That's one thing about a Buick that makes every one of those 200,000 Buick users a Buick Booster. They know a Buick will take them anywhere and bring them back.

"This has always been true of the Buick. A Buick never was a disappointment.

Some automobile manufacturers are continually changing their cars, changing starters, changing ignition, changing gear ratio, trying to rectify their mistakes of the past. We can show you cars less than a year old that are now on the second hand market at less than fifty cents on the dollar.

Just try and buy a second hand Buick. You'll find the man who owns a Buick always gets the idea that his Buick is the best. Buick the Buick people ever built.

We can show you old cars with greater mileage behind them that are still pulling the Shoshone Falls grade with their loads than any other two makes put together, and you have never heard of a worn out Buick.

We are anxious to give you a demonstration over routes that Really Prove the cars. Will you let us?

CHINA'S SUBMISSION

The news that China has acceded to all the demands which Germany made for control in Manchuria comes as a blow to the powers apparently and as little understood at present by many. The United States stands as sponsor for an undivided China and the open door will now have a chance to be put about how much of a compromise is worth while. There is little question but what China is to be made the car with which the allies are to maintain their hold on the continent. It is a great many loyal Americans are at present in a quandary as to whether a Republic is to be made and the good to be gained there. And opposition to the proposed treaty of Japan must come from the United States. To consider such a proposal is to consider an international agreement for the system of international relations. The treaty submission of China to the demand, hardly before any of the diplomatic correspondence of the powers, had been received or considered in this country. Does not occur well for our interests in the part of Japan, with an absolute right to control the system of international relations.

HOW TO BEAT THE SUBMARINE

There is an undoubted submarine against the submarine, and, only enough, it is not in water-carrier, but in aircraft in the line of the airplane and the airplane to detect the under water machine. From a height of two or three thousand feet, a submarine of a hundred feet under water may be seen clearly. In case observation from a height, and its rapid and silent movement, has the present hope of being able to fight the latest form of the submarine. This information was given editorially by The Scientific American (New York, February 13), says this paper.

TALKS ON THRIFT

No. 15.—THRIFT—THE MAINSTAY OF THE NATION

"When he threw himself so energetically into the movement for the conservation of his natural resources," said Roosevelt, with statesmanlike pertinacity, "compulsory taxation to meet his needs, and by dint of persistent reformation, he awoke the public conscience to a realization of conditions that were fast leading to bankruptcy and ruin."—Literary Digest

Thrift in the individual and thrift in the government are more closely related than is often realized.

VALUE OF A HOBBY.

Perhaps the most common instance illustrative of the need of a hobby is that of the business man who retires after years of attention to his business interests, leaves in a few months, and then furnishes a column of ordinary matter for the newspapers. As the retired business man with a hobby, on the other hand, Andrew Carnegie might perhaps be cited, says Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, Philanthropy and the peace propaganda are apparently keeping him in the hand of the living, hale and hearty. In a hobby, or in a more serious occupation, the writer sees the cure for those mental ailments that try to be satisfied with such diversions as light reading, social frivolities, and even the drink habit. "It is not hard to agree with him that what many persons need is a worthy aim in life, and many hobbies are extremely worth while. That of Oliver Wendell Holmes, W. E. Miller and Conan Doyle, who were primarily and chief men, was literature, and it has been worth while. The needed warning is that the lucky possessor of a hobby should not let it run away with him, as in the case of a physician who became so engrossed with checker playing that he quite abandoned his practice. But isn't that really falling into the old rut, by making an avocation a not too profitable vocation and "slipping into it alone."

WHETHER WE GO TO LIVE OR LIVE TO GO.

Whether we go to live or live to go, there is no getting away from the fact that each one of us consumes an enormous quantity of food. Have you any idea how much? If not, the following figures probably will astonish you. A school will have for kitchen fuel for a year, the whole amount, and according to this authority, the average old gentleman, during the process of attaining his third score

AN AMERICAN SOCIETY FOR THRIFT.

has been organized in Chicago with the avowed purpose of promoting nationally the individual thrift which is the basis of good citizenship and enjoying prosperity. Men of prominence, including governors of several states, are back of this movement which aims to inculcate a broad and sensible view of economy, pointing out to the people that, as a great English statesman said, "Thrift is not meanness, but management."

THE CONTINUOUS INCREASE OF LIVING.

The continuous increase in the cost of living, accompanied by a corresponding increase of individual incomes, is making many an American family right about-face in the matter of personal and domestic economy.

PERHAPS THE NEW TARIFF WILL REDUCE THE COST OF LIVING.

Perhaps the new tariff will reduce the cost of living eventually, but it hasn't yet. Possibly governmental investigating commissions may lead to that consummation, but there are no signs of it yet. And no other panacea has been found for it. Apparently, therefore, for the present at least, there is no hope of attaining the steady rise in the price of everyday necessities, and so far, no way has been found to head the high cost of living except to stop living so high.

IT IS NOT QUITE POSSIBLE THAT IN GOOD OLD OBLIVION THRIFT MAY BE FOUND THE SOLUTION OF THE DIFFICULT PROBLEM OF LIVING UP TO MODERN STANDARDS UNDER MODERN CONDITIONS.

HERE IS A GREAT TRUTH, A TRUTH WHICH IT WAS HIGH TIME SEVERAL MILLION PEOPLE WERE BEGINNING TO REALIZE.

They try for economy for the elimination of waste in government, and they do not practice economy, they do not eliminate waste in their business or in their private affairs. Only as we as a people become individually more thrifty—thrift in our savings, more economical, more conservative—can we expect our country, our institutions, our commerce to be likewise.

CONSIDER THRIFT IN ITS RELATION TO THE INTERESTS OF THE COUNTRY.

If everybody should spend his entire income every year, there would be no money left for investment beyond that which is already invested; no new enterprises could be financed, and improvements of all kinds, public and private, would be at an end. The world's supply of new capital is simply the margin between the world's income and its expenditures. If we had more thrift we would have more investments. A few pennies' worth of the money spent for the 20,000,000 gallons of whisky we drink in the last half of 1914, would be returned into constructive industry now.

WE ARE THE BENEFICIARIES OF THRIFT IN MEASURED WHOLLY IN TERMS OF ECONOMY.

The steadiness, the industry, the sobriety, the respect for property, which are fostered among thrifty and frugal people are political virtues that make for stability and permanence of government.

THE HABITUAL INDIVIDUAL THRIFT IS A MENTOR TO THE COMMUNITY AND THE NATION.

The careful citizen, guided by a sense of the true value of property is a safeguard to our institutions. Habits of extravagance tend to make trouble in the family, the community, the nation.

THE NATIONAL SOCIETY FOR THRIFT HAS BEEN ORGANIZED IN CHICAGO WITH THE AVOWED PURPOSE OF PROMOTING NATIONALLY THE INDIVIDUAL THRIFT WHICH IS THE BASIS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND ENJOYING PROSPERITY.

Men of prominence, including governors of several states, are back of this movement which aims to inculcate a broad and sensible view of economy, pointing out to the people that, as a great English statesman said, "Thrift is not meanness, but management."

THE CONTINUOUS INCREASE IN THE COST OF LIVING, ACCOMPANIED BY A CORRESPONDING INCREASE OF INDIVIDUAL INCOMES, IS MAKING MANY AN AMERICAN FAMILY RIGHT ABOUT-FACE IN THE MATTER OF PERSONAL AND DOMESTIC ECONOMY.

PERHAPS THE NEW TARIFF WILL REDUCE THE COST OF LIVING EVENTUALLY, BUT IT HASN'T YET.

It will have eaten 12,000 eggs, 400 pounds of cheese, about four tons of fish, and could it have been all baked at once, a loaf of bread equal in size to an ordinary family loaf. But think of the vegetables devoured! Our scientist says a train three miles long would be required to bring a life's supply to the average family—though in this case, a train it might also be possible to carry his 500,000 cigarettes, his half-ton of tobacco, his 10,000 pounds of sugar and his 1,500 pounds of salt.

WITH THE GREATER PART OF EUROPE SHUT OFF TO TRAVELERS BY THE WAR, THE OPPORTUNITIES FOR EXPLORING THE LEAST FAMOUS COUNTRIES OF SOUTH AMERICA WILL DOUBTLESS APPEAL TO MANY.

Such cities as Rio and Buenos Aires should offer ample entertainment and instruction. The facilities for going thither have been greatly extended and improved in recent years, the voyage is quite as comfortable, if not as quick, as that across the Atlantic. Already the steamship companies are preparing for a rush of American tourists. This movement, if it fulfills expectation, will be a favorable factor in the betterment of trade relations between the United States and South American nations. The vast amount of travel to Europe has been a stimulus to business, and the same result is bound to follow in this case. Personal interest counts for a great deal, even in the processes of buying and selling.

THERE'S NO BETTER COVERING FOR A HOUSE, THAN THE RIGHT KIND OF CEDAR SHINGLES.

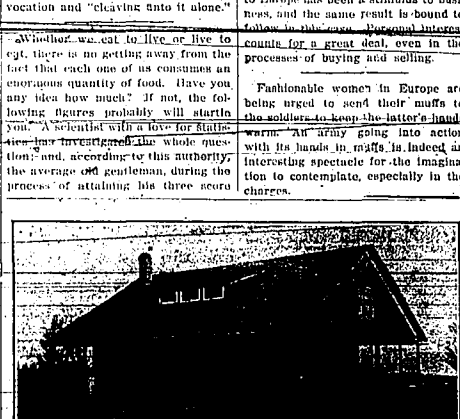

And if they are to be used all over, as they were in this case, it's especially important that they be good. Extra wide shingles tend to split and cup. Likewise if they are cut from cross, curly-grained wood.

If they are to be durable and weather-resisting, they must not be baked to death in the dry-kill. That drives the life out of the wood.

In short, there's a mighty difference in shingles.

ZUDORA

In the Twenty Million Dollar Mystery

By Harold MacGrath

SYNOPSIS

Zudora, heiress to $20,000,000, is placed in the guardianship of her uncle, Hassam Ali, a mystic. Hassam Ali is determined to secure the girl's fortune for himself and when the heiress of age he makes every effort to bring about her death. Zudora is in love with young lawyer, John Storm, and she seeks permission of her uncle to marry him. Hassam Ali promises to grant her wish provided she shall solve twenty of his riddles. Zudora solves nine of the cases when her uncle dies, and she is released from her pledge.

At the death of her uncle, Zudora has another suitor for her hand—Jim Hunt, a man who has been playing an double-cross game. He is a man, through sincere love of the girl, who gives up the false life and goes back to his work as a newspaper editor. No longer hindered to solve Hassam Ali's cases Zudora now confronts the greatest mystery of all, which is the mystery of her own life and the ambition to secure the vast fortune of $20,000,000 left her—she is looking through her uncle's papers and she finds that her father left her an interest in a diamond mine, and Storm and Hunt had both found assistance in trying to register her possession of this estate, which is being appropriated by rogues.

CHAPTER XVII

THE BATTLE AT THE BRIDGE

One bright, keen winter day Zudora and Mrs. Hamsay sat in the former's room discussing the malignancy of the star that hovered over Zudora's destiny. If only she might find one bit of complete evidence against her enemies, or some document to fully acquit her claimant, she would be standing at court with these fragments, those little scraps of information which pointed in the way and it did not need the John Storm's legal advice to convince her of this fact.

"If Hassam Ali had not been a thorough pinner all available papers would have been turned over to me long ago at the bank. More and more she became convinced that her uncle had had sinister designs on her. She had been maneuvering to get her out of the way so that she might control the entire fortune. All she wanted was to be left alone with the money and the John Storm's legal advice to convince her of this fact.

"I'm going to look through that old trunk again," said Zudora rising. "Come and help me, please, and then we'll go to the bank. I'll have the trunk opened and we'll see what we can find in it. I'll have the trunk opened and we'll see what we can find in it. I'll have the trunk opened and we'll see what we can find in it.

know, he was delighted. He already knew the contents of the African property, so far as it was concerned, and was of no further value; but it would eventually be valuable to Zudora. HUDSON 6-40 THE PATTERN CAR

Without doubt one of the chief reasons for the popularity of the Hudson Light Six is the phenomenal record that the Hudson has made with 10,000 Hudson Light Sixes in the hands of automobile owners throughout the United States. The fact that these 10,000 Hudson Light Sixes have been driven 25,000,000 miles is the fact to which Mr. Johnson points when he is asked on what facts the Hudson company bases its claim for superiority in the Hudson motor. He added:

When I say that the Hudson Light Six-Four is the pattern car of its class, I mean that it is the model from which practically all other Light Sixes are copied. The Hudson motor has had two years of refinement and tests. It is in all respects and purposes the same motor as appeared in the first Four car put on the market in the fall of 1912, but it has been refined in many important particulars, which is only natural.

The Light Six of today is a much better car than the one that was produced in the fall of 1912, although that was at its time in advance of anything yet on the market. It is only logical to suppose any Six produced today must be through an equivalent period of tests and refinements before it can match up with the Hudson. It is somewhat, not generally known also, that the Hudson company was testing the Hudson Six-Four motor for two years before it was put on the market. Hence, after 24 months of tests and refinements have gone into the original design of our Six-Four motor and car.

The Commercial Sensation of Twin Falls County
A Mighty Matchless Movement of Modern Furniture

E. C. Lavering Furniture Company, Twin Falls, Idaho

Twin Falls' Greatest Furniture Dealers for the First Time in their Business Career Throw Down the Bars and Place their Fine Stock at Your Disposal for 12 Days Only BEGINNING SAT., MAR. 27, AT 9 A. M.

THE GREATEST PRICE WRECKING CASTROPHE THIS CITY HAS EVER KNOWN

The greatest values human beings have ever seen. We are slashing prices in our desperate efforts to turn this stock into cash. Every cent worth of Furniture now on the block of sacrifice. Prices never were butchered as now. This sale will set the whole community aflame with excitement. Never before, probably never again such amazing, unbelievable reduction in price. The entire store converted into a grand sensational bargain panorama. We have simply cut the life out of everything that bears a price. SELL! SELL! SELL! Comes the order from the E. C. Lavering management.

Doors Open Promptly at 9:00 a. m. Sharp. Be on the Spot When They Open Lavering Furniture Company, for the past two years Twin Falls County's largest dealers in high grade furniture of every description has decided to inaugurate the most daring, wonder-inspiring sacrifice of modern furniture ever attempted in the commercial history of the State of Idaho.

For the first and only time in its long and honorable business career in Twin Falls County, the Lavering Furniture Company finds itself heavily overstocked. Truth is stranger than fiction, they must raise the cash. Owing to the general business depression, this season has fallen far short of our expectations. Therefore, we are compelled to slaughter our most magnificent stock and raise $10,000 immediately. We would like to say for us to reduce our tremendous overstock and raise the amount of cash through the regular channels of trade. Hence this gigantic sale. We are going to do the battle of our lives. It will be a battle for the masses and not classes. Right in the heart of the spring season when other merchants are making their profit, we have cast all profits to the four winds.

We fully realize that this is an immense undertaking to sell $10,000.00 for spot cash in 12 days, and we want to say to you right here and now, man to man, that our word has always been our bond. We have put our word to the people that this will be a legitimate sale, conducted along the same honorable lines that have marked our previous career. And we intend to hold our promise sacred no matter how great the cost may be. Take into consideration the fact that our stock is the largest and one of the best selected and cleanest stocks of furniture to be found in the State of Idaho, and it will convey to you some idea of what this mighty sale means to the people of this county. We don't handle any trash and never did. Shoddy plunder has never found a place within the four walls of our establishment. Nothing but the Standard Brands from America's leading and foremost makers. World renowned brands that mean to merchandise what they mean to a watch and sterling means to silverware—up a reputation second to none in Idaho. This reputation must be maintained. We are well aware that in the past the people of this county have been hoodwinked by the glittering advertisements of unscrupulous dealers, and the people have been disappointed so many times that it is almost impossible for a reliable concern to advertise a special sale and expect people to have any faith in the truth of their statements. Don't be mistaken; don't be misled. This sale, positively has no kinship to the many weak-kneed offerings which have been so much in evidence in the past.

The Lavering Furniture Company's Gigantic Slaughter Sale which positively commences Saturday, March 27, is in a class by itself. This is the very largest Reduction Sale we have ever advertised in all our business career in Twin Falls and our friends and customers are urged to use their good common sense and come and test the truth of our statements with their own eyes. Seeing is believing. We have actually placed our stock within the reach of every man and woman in this county. This is a premier effort in selling without a parallel in a century in the annals of merchandising. A supreme master movement of underpriced furniture, and a direct appeal to the commercial instincts of thinking people, and the saving of a dollar is equivalent to a dollar earned. Not a day in all your lives, perhaps, will you have such a golden opportunity to buy furniture at so trifling a cost. The chance of a lifetime now stares you in the face. At the appointed hour the excited masses will be permitted to enter the bargain arena, there to feast their eyes upon the most marvelous array of majestic bargains ever offered in this or any other state in the Union. We are going to raise the roof if necessary, to let the sun shine in. Our merchandise has been underfoot's waiting for a sale like this. Our merchandise has been underfoot's waiting for a sale like this. The large white tags with the blue pencil marks will enable the smallest child to trade here with perfect safety. We save of three prices, but every one will be satisfied and instantly the price will be the lowest rate during this grand sale which positively commences Saturday, March 27, at 9:00 A. M. Below we quote a few of the big values that meet the demands of the Twentieth Century in an emergency like this. The following list should convince the public beyond the shadow of a doubt that for once the people of Twin Falls county will at least have an opportunity to participate in a genuine bargain feast, the like of which mortal man has never seen since the day he was born.

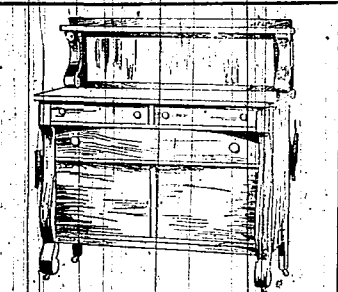

OUR GUARANTEE

We assure each and every purchaser absolute satisfaction. We guarantee every price and statement made in this circular to be the gospel truth, and we hereby bind ourselves to take back, exchange or refund the money for any merchandise purchased here during the sale, proving misrepresented or unsatisfactory for any reason whatsoever if returned within 48 hours in good condition. Signed,
E. C. LAVERING,
Twin Falls, Idaho.

Sale positively opens Saturday, March 27th, at 9:00 a. m. for 12 days only. Stop everything for at least an hour and attend this sale. You can make money faster here than you can ever hope to earn it. Borrow the money if you haven't it and make it your business to come and visit the greatest slaughter sale of modern furniture since the world began.

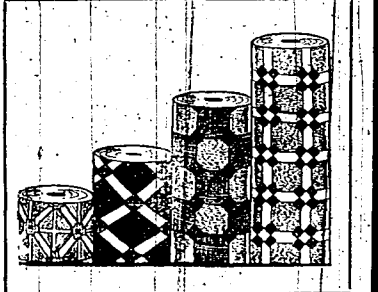

While you are reading this advertisement through you'll say to yourself, will they really sell as they advertised. Right here we want to say that the prices are absolutely correct, we have read the proof. The prices are printed as instructed, and we are going to sell exactly as advertised.

Explosion wrecks garage

Idaho Falls Building Badly Damaged by Explosion.

"Bang!" went the window in the front office of the Times about 10 o'clock Saturday morning, as a small note was knocked in the window glass. As those in the office looked up they saw tall and fragments of the McMillin building drifting through the air. At the same time the gasoline tank team started rumbling down Broadway and instantaneously flames shot out the sidewalk in front of the building.

A gas explosion had occurred in the basement of the building which blew out about half of the street and the lower floor and threw the wall out about two inches.

The lower floor of the building is used by the State for the people as a garage and repair shop. In the basement is a large gasoline tank furnished by the Continental Petroleum Co. where gasoline is held for the retail trade by the automobile company. The oil company's man was filling this tank and had secured in 110 gallons when the explosion occurred. Fire broke out immediately. The fire company threw three streams and succeeded in extinguishing the flames in about twenty minutes, but for a time it looked as though the building was doomed.

Several automobiles were in the garage but were removed in a short time. During the excitement, however, some of the federal records were lost.

Fortunately no seriously happened directly from the explosion. The window glass and debris as they suddenly fell from the building and no serious injury to anyone resulted. Mr. Parsonsworth had driven up to the garage and his son, who had gotten out of the car, was cut pretty badly about the face when he fell. Mr. Parsonsworth was not far away when the explosion occurred. The office force of the Studelaker company was shut off from a front street by the fire. The street and had to make their way through the dense smoke through the rear of the building.

The damage to the building, which is owned by J. C. McMillin, is estimated at about $2,000. It is insured by Idaho Falls Times.

ENFORCE HOTEL LAWS

State Inspector Issues Warning to Hotel Men of State.

Boise, March 18, 1916.

The law known as the Hotel Inspection Law, enacted by the legislature of this state in Chapter 189, Session Laws 1911, having been in force and effect for more than three years, the department holds that it is not unreasonable to assume that all hotel owners, managers or keepers, have become familiar with this law, and to make such alterations and improvements in the arrangements, management and conduct of their hotels as to fully meet all requirements of this law.

However, in order that there may be no misunderstanding or argument with respect to hotel keepers and inspectors of this department, your attention is called to the following special provisions of this law that must be complied with:

Definition of Hotel.

Section 1. Every building or structure kept, used or maintained as, or advertised as, or held out to the public to be an inn, hotel or public lodging house or place where sleeping accommodations are furnished for transient guests, whether with or without meals, in which ten or more rooms are used for the accommodations of such guests shall, for the purpose of this act be defined to be a hotel, and when ever the word hotel shall occur in this act, it shall be construed to mean every such structure as is described in this section.

Our courts have held that dining rooms, kitchens, parlors, reception rooms, or lobbies when used for the accommodation of guests form a part of the hotel and are to be included in the rooms for the accommodations of guests.

Fire Protection:

a. Hotels more than two stories in height must be equipped with iron fire escapes as provided in Section two of this act.

b. Hotels two stories in height not equipped with iron fire escapes must provide ropes in each outside bed room. (Sec. 3).

c. Every hotel must be provided with at least one chemical fire extinguisher approved by the National Board of Underwriters. (Dry powder extinguishers do not have this approval) for every twenty-five hundred square feet or less in floor area. (Sec. 4).

d. Every hotel shall be provided with fire escape located and equipped as designated in Sec. 5 of this act.

e. Metal cans must be provided for ashes.

Fire signs must be posted to show location of fire escape.

3. Sanitation:

a. Every hotel having a public wash room, must provide individual towels and keep them where they can be used by guests.

b. Bat tubs must be eight feet in length, the extra length to be used at the head of the bat and located in the room. Proprietors and managers will be held responsible for giving proper instructions to employees in making up beds to carry out this provision of the law.

IZETTA, the Lady Accordionist, at the Laving, Tonight and Saturday Night.

c. Outside doors must swing in the direction of the exit.

Section 13 of this act makes it compulsory that inspectors bring prosecution for violation of this law, and it is hoped that the proprietors and managers of hotels in this state will not make any necessary excuse with us in securing a compliance of our duties. In view of the fact, however, that this law has been on our statute books for more than three years, and the proprietors have been given of the requirements and every possible attempt made to urge owners and managers to comply with its provisions, we feel that there is no reason why one should be prosecuted for violation of the law, and I am, therefore, instructing inspectors to use every means at their command to have this law complied with. Very truly yours,

J. E. WHITE, State Hotel Inspector.

GOOD ROADS

OPERATION OF A ROAD DRAG

One of Advantages is Maintenance of Smooth Surface, Free From Ruts and Troublesome Holes.

By H. E. HASKINS
The successful operation of a drag involves two principles: The first concerns the length and position of the blade, while the second deals with the position of the driver on the drag.
Each influences the other to a large extent and successful manipulation of the drag is dependent upon an understanding of both of them.

For ordinary purposes the hitch link or chain should be fastened far enough toward the blade end of the chain to force the intended drag to follow the team at an angle of 15 degrees. This will cause the earth to move along the face of the drag smoothly and give comparatively light draft to the team, provided the driver rides in the line of draft.
The distance from the drag at which the team is hitched affects the depth of the cutting. Shorter the chain leads to lift the front end of the ground; a longer hitch causes the blade to cut more deeply. The length

Serviceable Road Drag.

of the hitch may be regulated by lengthening and shortening the chain at the end which runs through the hole in the blade end of the drag. Usually two horses are enough to pull a drag over an ordinary rough road.
The object of the drag is to move earth toward the center of the road, and to raise it gradually above the surrounding level. While this is being accomplished, all mudholes and ruts will be filled, and when traffic will pass the fresh earth. The drag does the best work when the soil is moist, but not sticky.

In soils full of loose stones or even small boulders the drag does good service. The loose stones are drawn into a window down the center of the drag, while the earth is deposited around the boulders in such a way that the surface is leveled.

The approximate cost of a split-log drag, labor and material is about three dollars. The cost for dragging one mile, going over several times, team and driver, is just what you will make it from one dollar up, depending on the number of times required to go over the rough road.

The advantages to be gained from the persistent use of a road drag may be summarized as follows:
1. The maintenance of a smooth road and mudholes. The obtaining of such a road surface with the expenditure of little money and labor in comparison with the money and labor required for other methods. The prevention of mud in wet weather and of dust in dry weather.

CONSTRUCTING A PLANK DRAG

Road implement Often Made of Lumber Instead of Logs—Two Horses Sufficient to Haul Device.

Drags are often constructed of planks instead of logs. The plank should be strengthened along the middle line by a 2x6 inch strip. A crumple mat may be used under the lower edge of the blade to give it the proper cutting slope.

Usually two horses are enough to pull a drag over an ordinary earth road. The team should be driven with one horse on either side of the right-hand wheel track, the full length of the portion to be dragged and the return made over the other half of the roadway. The object of this treatment is to move earth toward the center of the roadway and raise it gradually above the surrounding level. While this is being accomplished all mudholes and ruts will be filled, into which traffic will pack the fresh earth.

Horse Care.

Don't whip the horse if he is afraid.
Talk gently to him. Don't forget his salt. Don't put a rough, dirty bit in his mouth, nor a frosty one. Don't crumple him in the cold, suppress his blankets, and hitch him so the wind will not be in his face. Notice how horses in a lot always turn tail to a cold wind. Give him enough to eat of good wholesome food, and all the good water he wants.

The Dairy Business.

It is said that those who don't like dairying should go out of it, or not concern in it. Dairying has brought us that men seldom make money from any commodity that they do not like to handle. This is as true of eggs as of cows. There is money in both if you are organized to handle them and give the matter plenty of intelligent care.

Eggs to Discard.

Eggs weighing less than two ounces each should not be incubated.

FARM ANIMALS

PRUDENT TREATMENT OF EWES

In Winter Keep Her on Clover or Alfalfa Hay Until After Lamb Comes—Give Some Wheat Bran.

A sensible treatment of the ewe that lambs in winter is to keep her mostly on clover or alfalfa hay until after her lamb comes. There will be no need to limit the amount of hay that the consumer after lambing and then when her lamb takes all her milk and wishes more, begin feeding her a little wheat bran. For a week bran will suffice, gradually increasing the amount fed, then there may be added to it a little chopped corn or barley and a little later some oil-milk pound a day of this mixture will keep her in good milk flow. It must be gradually led up to for about ten days.

About the right proportions of this mixture are five pounds of wheat bran, 100 pounds of chopped corn and 20 pounds of oil-milk. This with clover or alfalfa hay will push her to a very heavy milk flow. If she is a large ewe she may consume more than a pound to advantage, as much as two pounds being consumed by some large Dorset ewes.

If this feed is so gradually introduced to the ewe that her digestion is not disturbed nor her milk flow adjusted toward milked times, there is no danger of overfeeding her, supposing that the lamb is to be pushed for early market. Her unselfish nature turns the feed quickly into milk and the life it goes to nourish her own body.

HORSES IN STORMY WEATHER

Sufficient Care Not Always Observed
When Animal Has Been Heated
After Strenuous Drive.

It is not generally realized to what an extent loss in horse flesh is suffered on account of exposure in stormy and cold weather, not only in cities, but also on farms. When a horse is driven rapidly or required to draw heavy loads, the action of the heart is increased, the blood circulates more freely and rapidly to the lungs and the surface of the body and the horse becomes heated. Then the horse sweat more or less, and when in this condition is more sensitive and more liable to be injured by currents of cold air or by exposure to rain. This is not sufficiently recognized and a very common occurrence is to see such a horse left by his driver to stand in the street without any protection whatever until he is chilled through. Even when there is some appearance of life in the way of providing a blanket for a horse on such occasions, this is frequently put on in such a way as to leave the most sensitive portions of the body exposed. When a horse is heated in the way of providing a blanket of cold air strikes the breast, the result is likely to be more or less serious lung trouble, and this may be brought about in much less time than many suppose.

SLAUGHTER HOGS IN WINTER

Good Plan to Provide Double Hook, Best Lard Will Cling to Copper Gambrel Stick.

Farmers use a pole to hang the hogs on at slaughtering time in winter. On this pole a gambrel stick is placed, the ends being inserted in the hook of the animal's leg. It is always a hard job to slip the gambrel and since the gambrel sticks of the same time, writer Travis R. Sutter of Towanda, Ill., in Popular Mechanics.
A better way is to provide a double

Hook Provides Easy Way to Hang Hog After Gambrel Is in Place.

hook of metal, heavy enough to support the animal, and hang the gambrel stick on this hook as shown.
The metal may be square or round, but it is a U-shape of such dimensions that it will cover the gambrel used in hanging the hogs and with a hook formed on each end. It is an easy matter to insert the gambrel when the hog is lying on the work-table, then lift it to the gambrel and place the latter on the hooks.

Winter Shed for Wagons.

If there is no room in the barn for the wagons during winter time, a few dollars will build a shed in which to shelter them from the storm. The savings in paint and strength of wood would astonish you if there was any way to estimate it.

Have Fresh Pork Is Retained.

Have you not a pig in the pen for retaining? Fresh pork is relished at this time of the year and there is no reason why the farmer should not be entitled to the best that he can do.
The farmer who has plenty of work to do this time of year without dressing chickens.

RIGHT PRECAUTIONS TO USE

In Case of Outbreak of Hog Cholera, Everything Should Be Done to Prevent Spread of Disease.

When cholera breaks out on the farm, the dogs should be tied up—the live stock should be shut out of the hog pen and the wagon which should be disinfected as far as possible. The disinfection of the farm to the neighbors, or even to scatter the germs along the road. The farmer should not leave the infected pig pen without a thorough dipping of his shoes, rubbers or rubber boots in a solution of sawdust and kerosene. Limes should be scattered in the buildings which are occupied by the sick pigs.

Every pig or hog that dies should be buried at least four feet deep in the ground or should be burned. A small trench open at both ends and covered with pieces of iron or with a piece of hot fence will make a good oven on which to burn all hogs that die of cholera.

The hog wallow should be eliminated and the hole to be made to take its place. Fill it with clean water and put in a small amount of coal tar dip. The pigs can be fed wood or sawdust and a little sulphur scattered over them.

Value of Sweet Clover.

Sweet clover cut at the proper stage has a high feeding value, resembling alfalfa in this, as it does in appearance. Cattle and sheep do not eat it as readily at the start as is the case with other hay, owing to the peculiar aroma of the plant, but those who have tried it out thoroughly claim that they soon become accustomed to it and eat it as readily as they declare or alfalfa hay.

Having the only grinding plant in this part of the country, we are able to do the first class outfit work cheaper than the rest. (Largest Optical Company)—Adv.

POWERS ARE RESTRICTED

Novello Men Prohibited From Taking Final. Profits.

Salt Lake, March 22.—Theodore Turner, mayor of Pocatello, and Henry Van Sloan, of Hancock, cashier of the Hancock State bank, have been found guilty of treasonable conduct in their offices of United States commissioners in a decision of Clay Tallman, commissioner of the general land office.

In the decision Commissioner Tallman prohibits both men from ever holding any more federal commissions in their capacity as federal commissioners for the respective districts. The decision states that it is not to be taken as a determination that the officials be indicted on criminal charges. This statement and the fact that the decision quotes the section of the federal statutes of 1914 which make treason an criminal offense, is taken by the local federal officials to mean that they are indicted by a grand jury.

Service a Requisite of Any Meal

Tasty viands and daintily prepared dishes to be appreciated must have careful serving in order that the diner be satisfied. Sloppy service often spoils the best cooked dishes to the taste of the patron because of the lack of minutely methods called.

The cafe or restaurant that can combine service with delightfully cooked foods appeals to the people of today. We believe that in the Rogergon Cafe that we have just the combination to please and hold our customers.

Clean and neat service combined with the best culinary methods known, are what we are striving to give every day at prices no higher than you will pay for poorly cooked meals. Your patronage will be appreciated.

The Pacific northwest this year will turn out one of the largest wheat crops it has ever produced. If the weather continues to be good and the harvest time are favorable, should the weather not be as good as the farmers wish, the crops will still be equal to last year's crop in accordance to well informed grain men, as there is enough new acreage planted in wheat to offset any probable deficiency in the harvest.

LARGER WHEAT CROP

Northwest to Have Largest Wheat Yield in History.

The Pacific northwest this year will turn out one of the largest wheat crops it has ever produced. If the weather continues to be good and the harvest time are favorable, should the weather not be as good as the farmers wish, the crops will still be equal to last year's crop in accordance to well informed grain men, as there is enough new acreage planted in wheat to offset any probable deficiency in the harvest.

In all parts of the Pacific northwest farmers are putting square land to wheat, and in some sections a number of acres are abandoned to increase this year's production. The increased acreage runs as high as 20 per cent in a number of places in the Pacific northwest as a whole. It is probable that 10 per cent will be the maximum gain.
