DEMAND THIS LABEL

On All of Your Clothing Matters, If Represents Good Workmanship, Good Values and Good Conditions.

The complications which have beset the city and its private waterworks company are in a fair way to be settled as the result of an interview between the city council and Attorney B. B. Cuthbert. While there may be some differences of opinion as to the physical value of the water works system, there is sound logic in the theory that to buy the system is the cheapest way to a municipal system. While the price demanded may be high yet there are many in the paying several years more and in waiting the same price. The price during these years would help substantially toward paying the cost of the system. There is pretty good evidence that until the city takes over the present system there will be no bonds sold for a municipal waterworks system. No bond company will buy a possible lawsuit.

SHOULD LOOK TO THE FUTURE

It has been suggested by the Times that it is the right time to make provisions for a larger city park. A park that will care for the needs of its people for years to come. It was urged by this citizen that during the present low ebb of land prices that forty acres be obtained upon which the city should plan a beautiful park. In connection with this park it was suggested that the city should be located within a few minutes ride from the city center. The view is made and one that with proper maintenance can be brought to realization. Forty acre tracts close in that are worth while for such a project are not plentiful, but the editor has several in mind which can be purchased at right prices. The plan by which this could be accomplished would be that of a stock company selling the shares at either ten or one hundred dollars. It would seem easy to this set on the installment plan money to finance the deal.

WHAT AMERICA NEEDS MOST

THE PATRIOTISM AMONG THE POLITICALS

The patriotism this nation needs most is its hour of danger is the patriotism of political honesty.

Our unpreparedness for war is due as much to crooked politics as to the idle dream of pacifists.

If there is not an awakening in congress to the need of real patriotism and a policy of doing what is best for the nation, the nation will be ruined. It is the duty of every citizen to see that the United States is ready to meet the most potent foe.

If our money had been spent as Ger-of our unpreparedness, the first step to be taken should be the removal of our political dishonesty caused by the unpreparedness. —Salt Lake Telegram.

EFFORTS TO HALT ARMS-EXPORTS

There is no prospect that our government, as the New York Journal of Commerce remarks, "will attempt to stop the making of war-munitions in this country or to prohibit the sale of them abroad." This statement is strengthened by Mr. Bryan's declaration that the government will not interfere with the government's position as secretary of state; and also by the admission of a distinguished German publicist, Maximilian Harden, that this "hands off" attitude of the Washington government "is neither legally nor morally wrong." Yet to Germany the cessation or continuance of "war arms-traffic" with the Allies presents very serious as a nation. Calculations made in Berlin and forwarded to this country a few weeks ago, says the Providence Journal, "propose to show that the Allies cannot possibly arm their increasing forces or secure ammunition for their great numbers of large guns from their own stocks, and that they must have the help of this country in order to accomplish their purpose." The German representatives also thoroughly believe that without this assistance the Allies will not continue and complete an aggressive campaign, driving the Kaiser's armies out of Belgium and France.

TALKS ON THRIFT

No. 22—VACANT LOT GARDENING

"Economy is no disgrace; it is just living on a little than what you can afford to live on." —Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Owing to the rolling nature of the surface in the upper part of the Borough of Manhattan, New York City there are places where the Broadway "Subway" is really an "Elevated" and one must ride in an elevator to reach the station platform.

From a vacant lot a piece of one of the elevated avenues, a contractor has seen another apparent contradiction in terms—a garden plot in the great city.

There is a triangular piece of ground formed by the coming together of three streets, is a little house and garden entirely shut out from the passersby in the streets by the high billboards enclosing the place on all three sides.

For both economical and esthetic reasons, there ought to be many more such garden spots in New York and every other city.

It is estimated that $75,000 was realized from plots rated on vacant lots in the city of Philadelphia last year.

There are four cities in the United States that cover the immense area that Philadelphia does, but there are none without some vacant land that could be used for a similar purpose.

Even in the biggest and most crowded cities, like New York and Chicago, there is a considerable acreage of land not under cultivation.

And "kitchen" gardens have become a reality in Chicago. Mrs. Leonard Z. Meder, commissioner of public welfare, opened a five-acre tract at East One Hundred and Tenth street and Indiana avenue and a thirty-acre tract at East One Hundred and Twenty-Sixth street and Indiana avenue a few weeks ago.

Fifty men were awarded plots in the five-acre area and in the larger tract sixty men and their families till the soil.

"The unemployed are given first choice," Mrs. Meder said. "Each man is given enough land to cultivate so as to afford him a means of livelihood. The plots are divided into two groups, one for the unemployed and the other for the general public. A similar movement has been started in Seattle, Cleveland, St. Paul and other cities."

A California newspaper says: "War-stricken Europe would today be starving were it not for the wonderful knowledge of gardening possessed by its people, who can make a few square yards enough to keep a family fed for a year."

"The soil of America, even that of American cities, is better than that of Europe and it can be made still better by work and fertilization."

With a little garden on every waste lot, a big municipal garden on the waste acre owned by the city, and a fair sized garden in every suburban back yard, there would be little danger of poverty in any American city.

T. D. MacBRIDGER.

THE UNION STEEL COMPANY

The Union Steel Company has a contract to supply 3,500,000 rounds of ammunition weekly, and the understanding is that this is to be increased to 7,000,000. The Bethlehem Steel company has received an order for 8,000 field pieces and also is turning out 12,000 shipyard shells every day, while for the one-pounders and smaller shells the rate is 50,000 a day.

The General Electric company has an order for $100,000,000 worth of war materials.

Germany naturally wishes it is added, to disrupt in any way and at any cost the system by which England, France and Russia are thus being provided with the means to victory. But added the New York Journal of Commerce, "war industries and war materials to cease it must be by the voluntary or forced action of those engaged in it. A sudden halt in the manufacturing of munitions of war would be a disaster of the first magnitude to the country, seeking to suppress or cripple this traffic by buying up establishments engaged in it, or subsidizing their owners to cease operation." Detailed accounts of the plans and activities of German representatives appeared in the Chicago Herald, Exchange Journal, and other papers.

"But what is the worst of all, and more or less obvious thing."

The next German move "was under way," says the New York Sun, "to foment strikes in these factories." It continues:

"With many of the big plants under contract to provide supplies on certain dates, it is apparent that a sudden demand of change for munitions would mean a stoppage of the work of the program of the men behind the strike propaganda to allow the workers how easy it is now to strike for and obtain higher wages. They are causing points of this kind to be impressed on the labor-leaders in different parts of the country."

And the Sun cites a series of minor labor-disturbances in centers of the arms-making industry which it believes "can be made to do much harm if not a direct result of the German plan." In a statement appearing in the Evening Sun, a New York labor-leader promises an investigation of the matter, though "so far," he says "no authentic information has come into my possession that agents of Germany are contemplating the promotion of strikes." And Mayor London New York's Socialist Congressman says in an Evening Post interview, "I believe that the German plan is that they, if it takes less than a year, months or even years to agitator's strike." To the Brooklyn Eagle, however, there seems some reason for fearing this strike campaign. And The Eagle has a word of counsel for labor-leaders:

"Every labor-organizer who sells himself knows perfectly well that he is running counter to the best interests of American labor—playing into the hands of the man who is trying to increase unemployment and fomenting discontent in the United States. If he has had a common-sense education, he knows also that the making and selling of guns, ammunition, and other munitions is a patriotic duty and that the right of a neutral country."

The Allies, German agents to buy up war materials and other labor-leaders "have a direct connection."

we fear in the New York Sun, "will the movement now on foot to start a protest among labor-organizations against going to war with Germany." Yet an indirect relation between the latter movement and the Allies' munition supply may be traced in the "Safeguarding" reported by the Chicago Herald's Washington correspondent, in the following paragraphs: "The committee of the American Trust and Power Trust in the United States are working up a labor movement to have a declaration against war with an appeal to the president to act again for mediation and peace."

"It is feared by the administration that such a declaration, coming at this time, from organized labor, will be interpreted in Europe and in Germany of the attitude of the striking shipyarders and laborers there. The strike, it is reported, have interfered seriously with the output of munitions in the British plants and delayed the construction and repair of warships in the navy yards." Literary Digest.

HOW TO PREPARE BORDEAUX—TIMELY WORK IN ORCHARDS

A few suggestions are required to insure Proper Mixing—Formula Most in Use at Present Time.

As Bordeaux is probably the most used fungicide at present, a few suggestions in regard to its proper mixing will not be out of place. The formula most in use at present is four pounds of copper sulphate (blue vitriol) four pounds of good lime and 50 gallons of water. The granulated form of copper sulphate should be used, and only well-burned lime which is not air slaked should be used. Be sure to use lime enough. If lime is poor or if there is any fear of bordeaux injury to the fruit add another pound of lime.

The lime and copper sulphate should be prepared in different receptacles, preferably half barrels. The copper sulphate should be held in a sack at the top of the half barrel and allowed to dissolve. Never put the copper sulphate in the bottom of the barrel. When slaking the lime add the water a little at a time so as not to kill the heat from the lime. When the slaking is completed and when the copper sulphate is all dissolved and both mixtures have been brought up to 25 gallons, they may be put together after a thorough mixing. Be sure to pour the copper sulphate into the lime, which has previously been put into a mixing barrel of the spray pump. Do not pour the lime into the copper sulphate as this may cause a violent explosion and will certainly do good instead of being beneficial.

LOWER PRICE FOR MOON CAR

New 1916 Moon Six-30 Now on the Market.

The 1916 Moon Six-30, which is announced this week by the Moon Motor Car company, marks a new era in the history of the company. The new car sells for $1195, which is $185 lower than the lowest priced car of the Moon line in the 1915 season and $100 less than the lowest priced car of the Moon line in 1914. It is little more than half the price of the lowest priced car of the Moon line in the 1915 season.

The production of a six-cylinder car with all the equipment of a touring car at this low price is the result of constantly increasing factory efficiency and the use of high quality standard parts that have established a reputation of their own, according to Stewart McDonald, vice-president of the company.

We have been producing every year to produce cars at the very lowest price possible, considering best quality in every respect," declared Mr. McDonald. "We believe that in the Six-30 we have produced a wonderful automobile value. We expect this car to bring all previous sales records of all other Moon models. We expect to sell at least 3500 of the new cars in the 1916 season.

The Six-30 will be ready for delivery in June. Demonstrators are being put into the hands of the Moon agents in every part of the country as rapidly as they can be run. The Six-30 was designed to meet the demand of those who want the flexibility of a six cylinder motor but are content with less seating capacity and a five passenger car. Except for having a shorter wheel base, a less powerful motor and less seating capacity, the Six-30 is a counterpart of the Moon Six-forty, which sells for $1475.

While the Continental-Moon motor is termed a "six-30" in keeping with the conservative policy of the Moon company in cooperation with our former of the cars, the motor of the new car really develops forty horsepower.

The Six-30 is equipped with the 1916 Delco starting, lighting and ignition system, including an automatic spark advance. The wheel base of the new car is 120 inches.

The gasoline tank is on the rear. The steering vacuum assists in the use of the rear fuel tank and spare tire on the rear, give the car perfect balance. The fuel box being under the hood, the headlights are absolutely clear, thus adding to the grace of the streamline body.

Other features of the new car are the "Kickdown" drive and undercar spring springs, short-turning radius, one man top and rough tread tires on rear wheels.

The board has traded an old motor for a gasoline engine that will be attached to the sprinkler, so that the tank can be filled any place along the ditch. To use city water would be rather an expensive proposition, so the gasoline engine will be the best.

Bassford was some scrap but no decision was reached.

Two gentlemen from Gooding met with the school board Monday night with a proposition to heat the school gym. The board was so much impressed with their plan, that they decided to go to Gooding and visit the state and dumb institute and look over a similar plant that was installed in that institution, that they may more closely inspect the plan.

The street sprinkler arrived last Saturday and over since the dust has had the worst of it. We undertake that besides Main street, Yakima avenue will be sprinkled. The board has traded an old motor for a gasoline engine that will be attached to the sprinkler, so that the tank can be filled any place along the ditch. To use city water would be rather an expensive proposition, so the gasoline engine will be the best.

Guy H. Shearer and the editor drove down to the Crystal Springs Orchard Tuesday. The grade is in fair good condition and the bottom looks prosperous with their crop out look, while the orchards are simply fine. Mrs. Shearer said that the season is very promising. The cherry crop is being gathered and all varieties are exceptionally fine. She informed us that the Snake river is the lowest at present she has ever seen it. The Canal company have cut down the supply 10 per cent already, but a greater cut will have to be made in another month. However, all necessary irrigation will have been passed by that time and no suffering for water for crops is anticipated.

IDaho SHERIFFS ORGANIZE

Meeting Held in Boise. Two Reforms Nestling Held in Hope. Proposed.

The Idaho State Sheriff's association was formed in Boise yesterday afternoon with a charter membership of 17. Emmett Frost, sheriff of Ada county, was elected president and George Chaffin, sheriff of Blaine, Ada county, for nearly 20 years, secretary.

The sheriffs took deplorable and advanced steps on the important matters, the first being the passing of a resolution which provides that all sheriffs will collect fees strictly in advance. They believe such a movement will be better for the officers and better for the taxpayers, as it will give the latter an opportunity to demand the necessary fees from their clients and not compel them to stand good for papers to the sheriffs. It was pointed out that the sheriffs had to make good to the county commissioners, often paying out of their own pockets, and nearly all the officers reported they had no money through failure to collect their fees in advance.

The second point was to ask the commissioners of each county to offer a reward of not less than $50 for the arrest and conviction of any persons stealing stock and that the reward could be collected by any sheriff of any county, his deputies or any stockman. A resolution was also passed and ordered forwarded to the state pardon board asking them in strong terms to refuse to grant any applications for pardons to prisoners serving terms for stealing stock.

Coming to the large amount of stock stolen in this state in the past few months, the officers of the law feel that there is an organized band of cattle and horse thieves at work here and the only way in which they can secure results is through organized efforts and cooperation.

The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair, and at the next session the sheriffs of all counties to the state will be invited to attend. Following is a list of those who signed the charter organization yesterday afternoon:

Frank T. Merril, Preston; W. W. Williams, Sweet; J. William Koorso, Idaho Falls; C. H. Lewis, Oxford; W. E. Smith, City; Sam Sanders, Gooding; George W. Froman, Caldwell; Arthur A. Stevens, Mountain

RAILROAD TO BE ELECTRIFIED

Power Near Salmon to be Developed as Part of General Plan.

The Northern Pacific says the Ancon standard will be the next big railroads of the West to electricity its lines through the Rocky Mountain district. Within a year, work will be started on a system of electrification that will span the work now under construction by the St. Paul lines. Word of the proposed work was reported in Little yesterday from authentic sources.

The first step toward the electrification of the Northern Pacific was made several months ago, when one of the engineers now connected with the electrification of the St. Paul line ran a line from Butte over the Hootsake hill with a view of estimating the cost of the work. The estimate was considered too high by the Northern Pacific officials and a second preliminary line was run.

The Hill interests have followed up the scheme for the electrification by quietly purchasing power sites through the Rocky mountains. One site has already been secured in the vicinity of Salmon City, Idaho. It is reported that power will be used in the Gilmore & Pittsburg which is slated for a place on the main line of the road that will go through Twin Bridges. Verification of the rumor that Twin Bridges will be on the new main line, which will have a water-level route almost to the coast, was received in Butte yesterday from the same source from which the word of the electrification of the road came.

It is believed that the department of the Northern Pacific in Montana have been shifted to that section of Montana where the new main line will go and indicating point to the starting of construction work soon—Idaho Falls Territory.

CATCHING CHILD LABOR YOG

Hope of Heading Off Child Labor in West Expressed at Conference

"The children won't suffer any more after this will they," said a small orator after the child labor parent conference on the eleventh annual conference of the National Child Labor Committee, held here in Twin Falls, Idaho, May 28. While this parent written by Mrs. George Hough Ferry, and a student of the exposition grounds, may not have the address of the child labor official in San Francisco, he did state the hope of hopelessness that prevailed throughout the proceedings and the determination of the committee to interest in the conference. An appeal to the West to prohibit child labor was made by the committee. Dr. Felix Adler, of New York, chairman of the National Child Labor Committee, touched the heart of the matter when he pointed out that child labor has always been a by-product of the change from an agricultural to an industrial community. By the law of economics it has appeared in every part of the world going through that change. It appeared in England and our eastern states during such a time of change. It is now in its height in the South during a similar change, and it will appear in the West when the time comes. Dr. Adler said that the real solution of the child labor problem is to prevent the recurrence of child labor there if it will.
