STRICTER REGULATIONS

Those who have watched the increasing number of women and half grown children driving automobiles are convinced that within the city limits more stringent regulations of traffic are necessary. According to the state automobile license law, children under sixteen are forbidden driving motor driven vehicles, yet it is a common sight in this city to see children of twelve and fourteen years running cars. Traffic rules of this city say fifteen miles per hour in the limit on city streets with twelve on the intersections. Few pay any attention to this rule. Another fault of drivers and fraught with danger is the habit of turning around in the middle of the blocks in the business district. A strict rule should be made requiring every auto driver to drive at a certain angle to the street intersections before turning. In some cities even turning on the intersections is forbidden and the car or team must go around the block in order to get in the right direction. While Twin Falls is not a big city, the number of automobiles has increased to the point where traffic regulations must be obeyed for the safety of the general public.

SHOULD WITHHOLD JUDGMENT

Ament the hearing given to Albert Carlson, of Buhl, by Officer Taylor of this city, one of the Buhl papers taking it for granted that Carlson was beaten because he was from Buhl, wastes indignation and urges the removal of the officer. The Times believes that the Buhl paper should first find out the truth and until that time take it for granted that Twin Falls people are going to see that every visitor is protected while within its limits. This, however, does not mean that every drunken, swearing man is to be given liberty to insult women and children by his vile speech. That was just exactly the dilemma of Officer Taylor in treating with Carlson on the Fourth. Carlson could have been led swearing and cursing all the way to the court house through crowds of women and children. Perhaps kind treatment of Carlson would have brought kind thoughts in the mind of the Buhl editor if the swearing had been done in the presence of his wife and little children. Probably not. Officer Taylor did just what any man would have done if his wife or child had been insulted by some man using vile language. If Mr. Carlson comes to the city of Twin Falls and behaves himself there will be no question about his treatment. Officer Taylor has sworn to protect the peace and dignity of the city and its visitors and inhabitants from harm and insult. The Times believes that he did his duty irrespective of whether his victim came from Buhl or some other point or whether he was a citizen of Twin Falls who did not have sense enough to keep from drink. The Times is sorry, however, that the Buhl paper is attempting to make capital out of the affair to increase the feeling between the two cities. Officer Taylor did not know that Carlson lived in Buhl. There was no intention of persecuting a Buhl citizen.

A WAR OF THE RAILROADS

Not a "clique" war, nor a "war" between the "railroads" and their own employees, but a war in which railroads are playing a capital part as never before in the world's history, such, according to Walter S. Hatt, special European correspondent of The Railway Age Gazette, is the present great European conflict. Something of the part played by the railways of the great nations involved is described by Mr. Hatt in his paper (Chicago, May 21). He writes: "One of the big achievements of the war in Europe has been the handling of the transportation situation by the railroads. One general has called it 'a war of railroads,' because of the vast part played by them in getting troops, provisions and munitions to the front and on time, the victory being won by the army that gets first to a critical point. The often-quoted remark of Napoleon, 'An army is as strong as its feet,' has been adapted to read, 'An army is as strong as its railroads.'

"Every railroad man today knows that Germany has been able to keep up a remarkable fighting on her two frontiers by her government-owned military-railroad system, which enables her to shut the same troops back and forth from one frontier to the other. It is not known that the French railroads have rendered an equally great service in France, and at the same time with the exception of the first two weeks of the war, practically continued on their regular schedule of civilian passenger and commercial freight. And all this wonderful work has been done without any noteworthy accident, and it has been done with a constant re-routing of large numbers of troops and war material to meet the new battle conditions on a front of 940 kilometers (584 miles) long, from the English Channel to the Swiss frontier. It has been done with a decrease of rolling stock, in the face of an ever-decreasing coal supply, and always with the same or a smaller number of railroad men.

"During the critical period from August 1 to 20 last, no less than 1,500,000 soldiers were got to the front and each of these soldiers was handled three times, so that in reality 5,400,000 troops were delivered at the required points. While these troops were being moved, while possibly 5,000,000 of the civil population were also traveling, while two armies were being hurried into Alsace and Lorraine to begin a double campaign to turn the German army heading for Belgium, on August 3, a special train was provided to conduct the German ambassador, M. de Schoen, to Berlin. No, there was panic among the railroad employees, there was no breakdown of the French railroad system.

"One must have seen the handling of an army corps to get an idea of what work these inefficient-looking French trains have accomplished and still are accomplishing. Let railroad officers who have sweated over a 100-car circus movement consider that any heavy movement of troops is made by army corps, and that an army corps consists of no fewer than 39,000 men, all food, and that to boot there are cannons, horses, kitchen equipment, engineers' equipment, wagons, airplanes, ammunition-boxes, provisions—enough things to make the moving of a trainload of wild animals seem tame in comparison.

"It takes two trains of fifty cars each to transport the men of an infantry regiment. This regiment is subdivided into three battalions, of 1,000 men each, and each battalion into four companies. The military end of the affair is easy. Get your cars there and the soldiers, company by company hop in quickly, without any confusion. Your cars for the infantry regiments are easily got rid of. But you need an extra hundred cars to carry nothing but the immediate infantry equipment—mitrailleuse guns, regiment wagons, and odds and ends of baggage.

"Then you need another extra twenty trains for the artillery of this army corps. Only one cannon can be set on a flat car, including its limber. About fifty cars are necessary for each regiment's cannon. Six for the artillerymen, and for all the other equipment that goes with cannon.

"If the cavalry regiments travel with the army corps, the job is still worse, as no fewer than six trains of cars are necessary for one cavalry regiment. Add to these trains the ones required by the commissary, the hospitals, the heavy artillery, the trench-diggers, the bridge-builders, and no fewer than seventy trains of fifty cars or about fifty big circuses, are necessary to move an army corps—and the French railroads, if you please, had to move no fewer than forty-two army corps in twenty days."—Literary Digest.

WASHINGTON LETTER

A visit to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in one of the great attractions for a visitor to Washington. Every one wants to see how Uncle Sam makes his money, and the obliging lady guides at the Bureau are kept busy from 9 to 12 o'clock which is the limit of time for visitors, showing great crowds through the establishment. There are over 600 employees in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

The old Bureau was at 14th and B street and the building still stands, but the enormous increase in work to supply the ever increasing population, required, imperatively, a greater number of skilled people and the building became so packed that the congestion was dangerous. It became absolutely necessary to have a better and larger building and so the new Bureau was built on Block 20 on 14th street. It is an immense two-story building with a great stone colonnade front, facing to the west on Potomac park, with four great wings running back to 14th street and having the extreme of window space and light for Uncle Sam's skilled employees. The best of light is necessary for the men and women as the work has to be done with extreme care and the eye strain is great. Each piece of money or other security is examined with great care to see that it is perfect before leaving the Bureau. A big steel-roofed building is employed all day in carrying money, bonds and revenue stamps to the Treasury Department, which is half a mile north at Penn. Ave. and 14th street. This automobile is guarded by a number of Secret Service officers who go heavily armed.

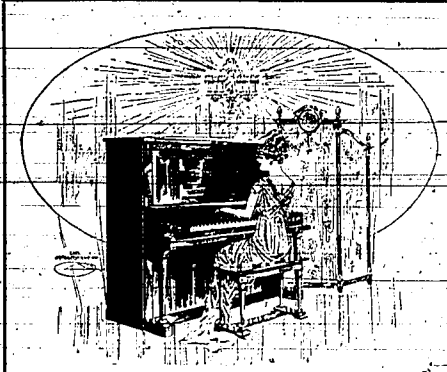

Joseph E. Ralph, the director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and it is due to his great skill and ability to handle the tremendous business that is made upon it. Sometimes a big hurry order is suddenly sent from the Secretary of the Treasury. Immediately the bureau tunes up and the men and women work night and day and a great string of securities begin to pour forth to be carried immediately to the treasury. When an order comes to the bureau for new work, the engraving division is instructed to prepare and make engraved dies or original forms with which a transferring process, the engraving on the die is transferred or duplicated on steel plates from which the printing is done. The master plates have four transfers each on them and when printed and cut apart make four bills each. Very few visitors are allowed in the engraving branch of the bureau as the original dies lie around on the desks of the engravers and great precautions are taken that no loss or accident may occur. No engraver can leave to go home in the evening until all the dies are checked and put in place and locked up. Then word is given to the Captain of the Watch and all of the men pass out of the building together.

SUMMONS

In the District Court of the Fourth Judicial District of the State of Idaho, in and for the County of Twin Falls.

Mary L. Brower, plaintiff, vs. George W. Brower, defendant.
THE STATE OF IDAHO SENDS GREETINGS to George W. Brower, defendant.

30th AND HERETOFOR SUMMONED
AND required to appear in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff in the said District Court and to answer the complaint of the said plaintiff, filed therein, within twenty (20) days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons; if served within the Judicial District, or if served elsewhere within forty (40) days. That the said action is brought for the purpose of dividing the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing as between yourself and the said plaintiff, upon the ground that you have failed, for a period of more than one year last past, to provide the plaintiff with the common necessities of life. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in her complaint or file in the said cause.

Attest my hand and the seal of the district court of the Fourth Judicial District of the state of Idaho, in and for the county of Twin Falls, this 10th day of June, 1916.

E. J. PINCH, Clerk.
By H. H. COGINS, Deputy.
E. V. Larson, attorney for the plaintiff, Twin Falls, Idaho.

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT

(From Camas Prairie Courier; July 1, 1916.)

Since taking over the management and control of the Fairfield Towassie Company, I have reduced the price of most of my goods from 25 to three-fifths of the original price, having blue prints made of the same with the price of each lot marked. These prices will never be reduced again for all time to come except for one day which will be the 30th of July, 1916. On the 30th day of July, 1916, the marked prices will again take effect, and on December 31, 1916, all the town lots which the company own, and are not sold before that date, will be advanced 10 per cent above the present marked price. I am doing this for the sole reason that I wish to give the poor people as well as others a chance on July 30th, to secure what lots they want and take their choice of location.

The regular terms on town lots will prevail. Twenty-five per cent of the purchase price, cash; 25 per cent one year from date of sale; 25 per cent two years from date of sale; and 25 per cent three years from date of sale, 25 per cent per annum, with privilege of paying all or part at any time. On all cash sales of lots a discount will be allowed of 5 per cent. There will be no changes whatever after the purchase of the town lots. Consideration or circumstance. For instance, you buy a lot on the 29th of July on the regular terms as above, we will say, of $100. You buy it for $80, divided into four equal payments, which means $25.00 cash; $22.50 one year from date of sale; $22.50 two years from date of sale; and $22.50 three years from date of sale. This gives the purchaser a 10 per cent advance on his purchase immediately, and on December 31, 1916, advancing our prices 10 per cent above the regular prices, gives the purchaser a 20 per cent advance on his purchase, making each and every buyer a partner with us in building up a good town and enjoying the advance of values accordingly.

For your information, I have signed an artesian well which will start to drill as soon as pipe for casing, which is now ordered, arrives. The well will be about 100 feet deep and is to be drilled in Block 16 on lots 28, 29, 30 and 31. These lots are reserved for hotel purposes and are in the center of the town. Buried 100 feet in an artesian tank, 80 feet above the surface of the ground. This gives a water pressure of 80 pounds. The water is pure and soft, and can be used for all purposes. It will make an excellent fire protection, which means cheap rates of insurance for the merchant. It will be a building within the fire limit especially.

The auditorium, which will be fire proof, will be built on lots 3, 4 and 5, of Block 15.

The architect, Merton G. Kingsley, who is now located permanently with us here, has his office above the Golden Rule store and is now preparing plans and specifications for this building, and specifications can be gotten from him, or those wishing to bid on this work.

There is also to be constructed, as these plans are definitely settled, a fire proof automobile garage, with dimensions about 50x100 feet. There is also a plan for a six-story building which bids will be asked for to construct. Also, the Fairfield Commercial Club owns lot 6 in Block 16. They are now building a hotel on this lot, and an early date. The bank building, which is now under course of construction, is located in Block 28 on lots 28, 29, 30 and 31.

I am having a number of maps made with the prices printed thereon of each and every lot, which will be in my hands in about ten days, and I shall be glad to give one to any one interested.

I will also present, free and without charge, to any one who is interested, and every legitimate religious organization wishing to build a house of worship in Fairfield, regardless of denomination.

I have also set aside the entire Block 14 for public school purposes, without cost to the school district. I have also set aside the entire Block 20 for city park purposes, and parts of Blocks 2, 3, 10 and 11 for public buildings.

Referring to our water system with an elevated tank, that means water pressure in every house built in Fairfield and the lowest of insurance rates. The owners of residences as well as business property owners as well as Fairfield is destined to be the largest town in this section of the country. Our present prices of town lots and terms of sale are such that will bring for the purchaser an assured increase in value.

We shall aim to keep you posted through the Courier as near as possible, the exact conditions and progress of our town is making.

Never in Idaho have town lots been offered to the public at such reliable and substantial conditions as these rights here in Fairfield.

Asking the co-operation and hoping to receive the good will of all, Very truly yours,
THE OREM STATE LAND COMPANY,

All Men Respect The Hudson

Has that fact impressed you? There are no HUDSON rivals. Many buy other cars because they are cheaper. Or because they are higher—high enough to be unique. Or because they are novel in some other respect. But all of these men respect HUDSONS. They respect the judgment of men who buy for them. That's evident everywhere.

Note Its Buyers

About 95 per cent are experienced motorists. About 25 per cent have owned higher-priced cars. They are motor-wise and fastidious. As a class they are men accustomed to the best. They are quality buyers who demand value. They don't care to pay for mere excess of show. They want no passing fail. They are buying in most part for keeps. There are multitudes of such men now. And since June 15—when this new model appeared—they have bought over 5000 HUDSONS.

They Are Right

These men are right. The six-cylinder engine, with its continuous power, is the ultimate in motors. The HUDSON type—high speed, small-bore, long stroke—has become the universal standard in a Six. Excess weight is crudity. There never was a stancher car than the HUDSON, despite its lightness, which is unmatched in any 7-passenger Six. No car carries more passengers. None has more needed room. None has more comfort, luxury, quality or class. And none more beauty than this new model. It brings out the yacht-line body, the luxurious finish, the enameled leather upholstery, and many other final touches. If you buy a car in this class this season you are bound to want the HUDSON. You will not find a rival in sight of it. But you can't get a HUDSON, in all probability unless you order soon. The demand for this car is exceeding all expectations.

ROCK CREEK CELEBRATES

Congressman Smith Delivers Fine Address.

The celebration was a success at Rock Creek. The program was well rendered. The main feature was the address of Congressman Adolph T. Smith. With the exception of the ball game the sports were all enjoyed to a great extent. The prizes for the races were as follows: 100 yard dash—Art Wilson. 50 yard dash—Clarence Dawson. 75 yard dash—Leon Redhead. The boys' race was won by Eddie Donmore. The potato race for ladies was won by Mrs. James Handford, and Mrs. Cassie Larson for second money. The horse race was won by Viggo Rasmussen. The nail driving contest for ladies was won by Mrs. J. Schrup, of Hanson. The dance in the evening was a decided success, being unusually quiet for the Fourth of July.

Supper was given by the Christian Endeavor and the proceeds together with the liberal donations turned in by the Fourth of July committee will nearly finish paying for the piano. Congressman Adolph T. Smith spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hansen. Doctor and Mrs. Byrd, Mrs. Jameson and daughter Vera, came up for the celebration from Kimberly. Miss Myette Johnson, of Canby, Oregon, is spending a few days with Miss Lettie Pickford, who is spending Kimberly was well represented at the celebration.

Miss Olga Brose and Toots Jones went to Twin Falls Saturday. Robert Brose was painfully injured Sunday when their car hit a culvert and threw him against the top. Medical attention was needed Sunday afternoon, but at the present writing he is feeling better. Mrs. Nephil Larsen and John F. Hansen also received notice in letters. Dan Iverson and Carl Hatch, of Oakley, were here for the celebration. Among the Rock Creek people who went to Falls Monday, to attend the celebration were: Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. M. Larsen, Viggo Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. H. Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harrell, and Mrs. Wallace, Miss Olga Brose and Toots Jones, Mr. J. J. Johnson, William J. Kitch and several others. Mr. and Mrs. L. Suddarth and children spent Saturday with Mrs. J. Greenfield, Kimberly, Cal.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

Rim-to-Rim Bridge Would be Benefit to Whole Country.

Much favorable comment has been aroused both in Hansen and in all the cities of the tract by the publication of the guaranteed estimate of the Hansen plan to build the bridge. The unanimous opinion seems to be that at the reasonable cost to the county of less than $100,000 it is not business for the county to build the bridge. The accompanying dangerous grades, where the resulting crossing could be used bars for half the year and the rest of the life of the limh. And the value of such a grade bridge would be but about half that of the high structure, which would be a road to haul; to the sheepmen who had flocks to move, or to the autists who wished to cross to the north side of the Snake river canyon and on the other by the Skeleton butte, which means a long up hill pull in order to get their grain to market as well as to get to town to do their business. What would be the help to them to put a steep, dangerous grade before them? Could they haul their grain across there any easier than where they now travel? Could their wives and children drive to town with any safety or comfort where they had to cross a place where serious accidents occur with frightful regularity? Contractors who would know the horse was on a bridge except for the floor under him, and who would not know where the horse was unless they should look over the side. And once the bridge is in place, it is practically impossible to repair to the extent of the approaches which have been damaged by wind and rain.

The relative sentiment behind the various bridge propositions in this county is shown by the petitions presented by those interested. The Hansen bridge is backed by the signatures of over a dozen of the best business men of the county, and the names are close to 40,000 acres. Does this not show that the demand for a rim-to-rim bridge felt by all who have the Snake river canyon? The fact is that the majority of names on other petitions were from sheepmen and farmers, when the report was circulated by the knowing that the Hansen bridge was a $100,000 proposition, those signers said "Well, we don't want the bridge, and we want a high bridge first but if a high bridge will cost $100,000 we will have to be satisfied with some other bridge." The general opinion of the cost of the Hansen bridge is known, these men who were led astray by expensive signs were again behind the high bridge and are ready to use it to go in. The conservative business men of Twin Falls give their support to the rim-to-rim bridge because they feel that as a business investment for the good of the county at large, Kimberly, Cal.

MISS PICKFORD NEAR DEATH

Screen Stars Stage Real Thriller While Riding in California Hills.

A movie her "registered" as regular, sure enough here in a thrilling incident which occurred near Santa Barbara, Cal. a few days ago. The Cummings, well known to picture fans the world over, is the actor who won the unique distinction. Cummings is the brother of the famous actress, famous Mary's younger sister, are in California taking the "riding party" in the big "Flying A" production. "The Diamond From the Sky." The two had finished their day's work and set out on horseback for a canter among the hills. Back of them, Barbara, the vivacious Lettie challenged Cummings to a race and was accepted. At breakfast speed the two galloped about the California twigs, and the pretty little ingenue a length or more in the lead. Suddenly Cummings heard Miss Pickford scream. Her saddle bridle was slipping.

"Black Beauty" Miss Pickford's steed lay back his ears and ran the faster. Cummings, however, dug his spurs into the horse and managed to draw up beside Lettie's mount just as Miss Pickford was about to fall. At imminent peril to himself, Cummings seized Miss Pickford about the waist and held her until he could jerk up his own galloping horse. The two movie stars walked back to Santa Barbara.

"Pshaw," exclaimed Jacques Jacquard, who is directing "The Diamond From the Sky." The two have staged that thrilling stunt in front of the camera? We could build a whole show around that. Cummings is a man of which movie fans' enthusiasm can carry her, or him, was shown the other day at San Francisco when Lettie Pickford, the charming younger sister of the famous Mary, was literally mobbed by her admirers at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Cummings, however, had a leading role in "The Diamond From the Sky," the big continued photoplay of the year, was gaining in wide-eyed popularity. Cummings, however, was recognized. At once she became the center of a surging crowd of men and women. One of the more enthusiastic admirers was Lettie Pickford's hat and tore some ribbon from it. Another woman kissed her. Meanwhile one of the exhibition policemen aware of her identity, kept watchful eye upon Lettie. When the crowd became too impetuous, the bluestock stopped the girl and escorted her back to her automobile.

COMMON DISEASE OF SHEEP

Animals Afflicted With Foot Rot Should Be Removed to Clean, Dry Lands and Trouble Attended To.

The first thing to do for sheep with foot rot is to get them to clean, dry lands. Their feet should be examined and any foreign matter between the toes, which may be aggravating the case, removed. All ulcers containing pus should also be opened and the pus drained out. The next thing to do is to apply strong disinfectants to kill the troublesome parasites. Ointments made of a lard or lard-and-flour body, with carbolic acid or sheep dip in generous proportions incorporated, are sometimes used for this purpose. This is applied after the foot has been thoroughly bathed and cleaned up. This treatment requires considerable time and effort and is not practical in large flocks.
