FILER'S BIG FIELD DAY

Today and Saturday the Fish City Invites Guests.

The hustlers from Filer are out this year to outdo all past records in the way of displays with their big Field Day today and tomorrow.

This day has always been looked forward to by residents of the Twin Falls tract and great preparations are being made to make the day an even greater success than before.

The government will conduct a booth wherein they will demonstrate the serum vaccination treatment for Rubeola.

Largo tents are being erected to take care of the grain and produce exhibits which promise to surpass all former efforts as well as the exhibits of seeds of all kinds.

The premiums offered to the public total to the amount of $1,230.00 and this will bring out strong competition in all classes.

In the line of sports, a whole block has been fenced for the "Ducking Contest." A great parade has been arranged for all lines of businesses.

To the active little community of Filer, Idaho much credit for the manner in which they conducted their annual Field Day and the country surrounding this village is accorded to none in the state.

POCATELLO FIXES TO BUILD

Gate City To Have a $80,000 R. F. O. E. Club House.

Houghtaling & Dungan, Portland architects, have been commissioned to prepare plans and working drawings for a four-story building at Pocatello for the R. F. O. E. Club.

The structure and furniture will cost approximately $80,000. The furniture will be designed by the architect.

The general contractor for the work has been awarded to LeDoux & Ledoux, Portland architects. The building will cover a ground area of 40,000 feet.

The architecture will be of modern style. The structure will be of steel and concrete with terra cotta trimmings.

GOOD ORPHEUM BILL

Florence La Badio Featured in "A Freight Car Homecoming"

In a splendid well-attended bill for tonight and Saturday night, the Orpheum presents an especially clever comedy, "A Freight Car Homecoming," showing how a clever young employee outwits a crusty old boss, and featuring Florence La Badio, the star of the Pullman Dollar Mystery.

The vaudeville feature of the program is taken care of by the Rvatts, in a singing and dancing comedy act.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE WED

J. R. Smith and Miss Dora E. Gulick Married Monday.

In the presence of only a few of the immediate friends and relatives, J. R. Smith and Miss Dora E. Gulick were united in marriage Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Baptist church.

Immediately after the ceremony the party repaired to the Palace Cafe, where a sumptuous wedding supper had been prepared. The program is a night of the city and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Swarthout, who live on the corner of the city.

The young couple expect to make their future home here.

CHAS CHAPLIN AT THE ISIS

The Irrespressible Comedian Will Feature Monday and Tuesday's Bill.

Charles Chaplin, the irrepressible comic star of the movies, whose funny face and rummy antics have delighted hundreds of thousands of people will appear at the Isis Monday and Tuesday.

On Wednesday and Thursday Manager Nagel will put on a special Broadway feature in four parts, "The Runaway Wife." A side-splitting comedy will also be presented for those nights in "Daddy Dada" and "Visit to His Uncle Dudley's Farm."

On All of Your Printed Matter, It Represents Good Workmanship, Good Wages and Good Conditions.

After looking into the waterworks situation as it now stands, there seems little hope for a municipal system short of three years at least. In the meanwhile the people of this city will be compelled to drink the same old impure water, and the population of the city be given a black eye because of the water furnished. In the three years, fifty-five to sixty thousand dollars will go into the coffers of the waterworks company. As far as the city is concerned it is the loser at every turn. If at the end of three years the city does not gain its contention, there is no question but what the city must eventually buy the plant. Any conclusion advanced to the contrary is erroneous. Even with a writ of necessity on the part of the utilities commission, the water company by legal action can frighten away bond buyers. These facts must be faced by those who favor fighting the company for a lower rate. The Times believes that if a fair offer had been made showing at least good faith on the part of the city to the Waterworks company, that some compromise could have been made between the price asked and the price offered. As it now stands, however, there is nothing but litigation ahead which will eat up city money and not advance the municipal ownership one iota.

The Times believes that today, if the matter was left to the waterusers and voters of this city that fully eighty per cent would vote to get rid of the old company even at a sacrifice of price and principles. The Times also believes that before entangling the city in legal action that a canvass of the wishes of the majority of the people should be made. It urges this in fairness to all concerned. There is no desire on the part of the Times to aid the Waterworks company. There has been no stronger opponent of that company and its methods than the Times, nor a stronger champion for a city system. But the situation demands that the city adopt a course that will not continually play into the hands of the Waterworks company, written to the "winner" by every year of litigation and obstruction to a municipal system. Bitterness against the company is natural on the part of the citizens, but should not prejudice their reasoning. The Times contends that the only way to get at the desired result is to get the old company out of the way as cheaply and speedily as possible.

FRUIT SITUATION IMPROVED
The fruit growers of the Twin Falls tract this year can find a great many reasons for thankfulness in the improved marketing situation. After last year's disastrous fruit marketing, there were many growers who were ready to pull up their trees by the roots and sow the land to some other crop. However, Twin Falls this year under the Fruit Growers' association came nearer to the ideal marketing plan than ever before. Will practically his own independent growers' outfit has been contracted for delivery here at a good price which will allow a clear profit of from sixty to seventy-five cents per box to the grower. This means the beginning of an influx every year of independent buyers who will in years to come, bid on the fruit crops. Heavy overhead expense of the bigger organization have been cut down to a purely local one with no cost in commission to jobbers. Write or course the much smaller outfit is responsible for the splendid prices this year, yet the fame of the local product in the coming years is going to maintain a much better price than has prevailed in years past. The fruit men after five years of struggle are coming into their own.

DISMISSAL OF THE AUSTRIAN AMBASSADOR

More than a rebuke to an indiscreet diplomatist is discerned by our press in President Wilson's request for the recall of Dr. Constantin Dumba, Austrian-Hungarian ambassador at Washington, because of his conspiracy to instigate strikes in American munition plants. Through the general chorus of editorial praise for the President's action runs also the suggestion that the incident has a wider significance than appears on the surface. Thus the Chicago Herald, noting that Dr. Dumba destroyed his welcome at Washington by "plotting to destroy our industrial power" and by "seeking to transfer the European War to our neutral land," remarks that his case should convey a lesson "to all and divers gentlemen in Washington who are here on sufferance." The incident, says the Baltimore American, "should prove a salutary warning to other foreign representatives who have been just as active, but so far have been shrewd enough to prevent a full exposure of their acts." Let other diplomats who have been "savouring to middle in our internal affairs" take heed, admonishes the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times, and the same warning is sounded in varying accents by the St. Louis Globe Democrat, Philadelphia Record, and many other papers. Reminding us that the Lusitania, Arabic and Hesperian cases are still pending between this country and Germany, the New York Tribune remarks:

"Words of argument of remonstrance have hitherto failed to obtain from this country's representatives anything but a vague and indefinite assurance that hereafter the rights of our citizens shall be respected. It is not too much to hope that the dismissal of Dumba may carry to Germany the pointed assurance, as only deeds can, that the United States is determined to make its rights respected."

The penitentiary sentence of Stahl, the self-confessed perjurer who swore he saw guns on the Lusitania and the demand for the recall of Dr. Dumba, says the New York Times, serve notice on the Austrians, Germans and German-Americans that "the rights of our citizens shall be respected. It is not too much to hope that the dismissal of Dumba may carry to Germany the pointed assurance, as only deeds can, that the United States is determined to make its rights respected."

The penitentiary sentence of Stahl, the self-confessed perjurer who swore he saw guns on the Lusitania and the demand for the recall of Dr. Dumba, says the New York Times, serve notice on the Austrians, Germans and German-Americans that "the rights of our citizens shall be respected. It is not too much to hope that the dismissal of Dumba may carry to Germany the pointed assurance, as only deeds can, that the United States is determined to make its rights respected."

Even the German-American New Yorker Herald confesses that "Dr. Dumba invited the fate that befell him," but it qualifies this admission with the following comment: "The pro-British newspapers, embittered by the defeats the Teutonic allies are inflicting on their adversaries, seized upon this letter as a welcome basis for a new campaign of hatred, and the President had to yield.

However, he went further than he might have gone. Instead of submitting to the Vienna government that to grant letters of exchange for the office of recall for a later date, would be a "clever way of disposing of this incident—a procedure usually followed in such cases—the President selected the tougher road to a curt dismissal. This mode of getting rid of Dr. Dumba is calculated to increase the tension between this country and the Teutonic allies."

The activities which made Dr. Dumba an "informer acceptable" to our government failed to "right wrong" but rather "substituted a new wrong" as carried by James F. J. Archibald, an American war-correspondent, who sailed from New York on August 21 on the Holland-American liner, Rotterdam, bound for Rotterdam. The Rotterdam was ordered to Falmouth where a search of Archibald's stateroom brought to light a number of confidential communications from the Austrian and German ambassadors to their home governments. One of these was in Dr. Dumba's own handwriting and addressed to Baron Barian, minister of foreign affairs for Austria-Hungary, outlined and "most warmly recommended to your Excellency's favorable consideration" a plan for "the preparation of disturbances in the Belhethien (Schwab's) steel and munitions factories as well as in the Middle West." In this letter Dr. Dumba went on to say:

"I am under the impression that we could, if not entirely prevent the production of war munitions in Belhethien and in the Middle West, at any rate, strongly disorganize it and hold it up for months, which referring to the statement of the German military attaché, is of great importance, and which simply outweighs the relatively small sacrifice of money."

But even if the disturbance does not succeed, there is a probability at hand that we shall compel, under pressure of the crisis, favorable working conditions for our poor, oppressed fellow-countrymen. In Belhethien there will be a strike at 6 o'clock, lasting a day or seven days in the week. Also, weak persons succumb, become consumptive. As far as German workmen are found among the skilled elements, provision will be made for their exit. There has, besides this, been created a German private (underlined) registry office for providing employment, and which already works voluntarily and well for such persons. We too, shall join and the widest support is contemplated for us. Literary Digest.

Finally he sold the business for $4000, which he put into the bank. He passed the civil service examination and became a letter carrier in the northwest section of Chicago. He kept his eyes open for good real estate "buys." He made $1000 profit on a house he built on the first lot he bought. As his capital increased he began to deal in larger blocks of vacant property. Almost always his experience as a mail carrier helped him to buy in the right place. Presently the increasing burdens of this business made it necessary for him to resign his government position. In the last fifteen or twenty years he has built and sold more than 400 houses in the same northwest corner of the city. He is a director in one of the local banks. He is worth about $250,000. His recipe for success is an old and simple one. Save part of what you earn. Keep your eyes and ears open for the opportunities which lie all around you. Play the game squarely. T. D. MacGREGOR.

STATES TO SHARE $850,000

Secretary of Treasury Approves Annual Division of Receipts.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The portion of the National Forest receipts for the fiscal year 1915-16 to go to the benefit of the various states in which the forests lie, according to the computation of the forest service, has approved by the secretary of the treasury, amounts all told to more than $850,000. The gross receipts for the year ending June 30 were $2,481,469.35, of which under the law, 25 per cent is paid over to the states for county school and road purposes and an additional 10 per cent is made available for expenditure by the secretary of agriculture in building roads and trails for the benefit of local communities.

Montana gets the largest share, having contributed the largest amount of receipts for the sale of timber, grass and other products—$684,000 or more than $218,000. Of this amount, Montana is to receive $79,539.78 for county school and road purposes, while the forest service will expend $81,835.91 for improvements of special benefit to local communities and not included in the regular administrative and protective improvements. Idaho comes second with a 25 per cent allowance of $75,631.15, and a 10 per cent fund of $27,644.74. The other National Forests states follow in the order of the size of their respective shares:

Arizona, $59,807.89 under the 25 per cent provision and $23,923.15 under the 10 per cent provision; Colorado, $59,213.60 and $20,057.74; Oregon, $44,974.93 and $15,370.33; Utah, $43,676.96 and $15,470.33; Wyoming, $43,088 and $17,234.76; Washington, $37,446.58 and $14,476.23; New Mexico, $31,795.45 and $12,714.58; Nevada, $15,244.63 and $4,971.91; South Dakota, $12,988.11 and $4,906.86; Alaska, $11,167.68 and $4,467.07; Florida, $2,326.77 and $934.71; Minnesota, $1,971.60 and $788.64; Nebraska, $1,401.15 and $550.45; Kansas, $1,347.33 and $514.33; Oklahoma, $769.77 and $303.91; Michigan, $198.37 and $79.35; North Dakota, $81.92 and $33.73; Porto Rico, $2.85 and $2.70.

The States of Arizona and New Mexico receive additional shares for their school funds on account of school lands included within the National Forests, yielding them $28,966.46 and $9,311.87 respectively.

On the National Forest Purchase Areas in the East, a total of $1,977.80 was collected in Georgia, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia, these states thereby obtaining $944.46 under the 25 per cent provision and $397.78 under the 10 per cent.

The total amount to be expended under this system of sharing the Forest receipts with the states to make up for the loss of local taxes due to public ownership of the land is about $16,000 greater than the previous fiscal year, as the receipts for the fiscal year 1915, exceeded those of the previous fiscal year about $4,000.

TO-VINEGAR MANUFACTURERS

In order to better control the quality of vinegar on the market in this state, I am asking the manufacturers to send out no vinegar that does not meet the acid standard required by law. This department will test all vinegars for acidity sent by the manufacturer and render report as promptly as possible. All vinegar sold by manufacturers after October 1st, 1915, to have been tested by this department before sale and delivery.

I will ask that every barrel or bottle of vinegar be stencilled or plainly marked with the date the goods leave the manufacturer and the State Laboratory number of the sample from a barrel or lot, which number will be given you by the Chemist.

The only way this vinegar question can be worked out without injury to our home product is through the true co-operation between the manufacturer and this department. In the event of requesting the date on all containers, that we may know the barrel or bottle bearing this date has been sent out by the manufacturer after receiving an official test on this vinegar.

Any vinegar found on the retail market not bearing a date will be placed under State Seal and held from sale until tested can be made to determine its standard.

In order to have uniformity in the marking, I would suggest the words: Mfr's Date (Mo.) (Day) (Year)

Wisconsin producer, that $100-million picture production would have succeeded, but after predictions were realized by D. W. Griffith's notable "Birth of a Nation" trial, the picture was canceled. The picture was to be produced by the Triangle Film Corporation and was to be shot in New York City. It was to be the most expensive picture ever made. It is explained that the picture was canceled because the picture was to be shot in New York City and the picture was to be shot in New York City. The picture was to be shot in New York City and the picture was to be shot in New York City.

LATENT TALENT IS DISCOVERED

BRADY LOVE, playing in the Grand Opera Band, in the support of John Emerson, is another demonstration of Griffith's ability to detect latent talent. Miss Love is a petite young girl with an appealing face and eyes, with no range experience, and recently, while she was making application for "extra work" at the Fine Arts Films studio, was discovered by Mr. Griffith, who questioned her as to her quest, made a photographic test of her, and two days later she was made a permanent member of the Fine Arts Film studio. Since then, each day marks a remarkable improvement in her work.

Containers invented by British Columbia grower.

The ordinary barrel container for apples and pears, has been replaced by a new one, invented by a grower in British Columbia, who does not use the American barrel, nor does he use the ordinary box that has been used in the Northwestern States. Describing this new container, which is nothing more than a division of the ordinary barrel, General F. M. Eyster of Seattle says:

Realizing that the ordinary barrel is not so strong and convenient as the box for apples and pears, and that the ordinary barrel is an expensive item, a partitioned barrel has been invented by a grower in British Columbia, patents for which have been applied for in Canada and the United States. The new container is similar in an essential respect to the ordinary barrel, in that it can be made of cheap sawed lumber, shipped in the knocked-down state, and easily assembled at the packing house; the fruit can be shipped without wrapping, owing to the firmness imparted by the central partition, the fruit being in the perfect condition, while the convenience afforded by sawing the barrel in two enables customers to purchase a half or a whole barrel containing two varieties of fruit. —Statesman.

To Baby's Mother:

What is the value of a baby? Is it possible to compute the worth of laughing eyes, of dimpling cheeks, of curving lips, of silken hair, of soft warm hands, of toddling feet—why, the wealth of Klondike is an atom in comparison. Surely a baby is the greatest thing in the world.

Some people say our studio is a regular play-ground for the babies. Some people say that baby portraiture is our specialty and they ask us why we chose it, for it is very, very much harder to take pictures of babies than it is to make portraits of grown people. Maybe we like it best because it is the hardest kind of work. We can please the baby—and you.

FREIGHT RATES TO BE REDUCED

New Tariffs Filed With Interstate Commission Effective Oct. 18.

Westbound transcontinental rates on freight will be greatly reduced on and after Sunday at 11 o'clock. Existing rates will be maintained until the commission, notice to which effect has been received by shippers and jobbers to the Interstate Commerce Commission. The tariffs were filed by all the carriers comprising the Transcontinental Freight Bureau, or those railroads terminating in the Northwest. Under this tariff, the rates drop from New York to Western points, especially to terminals will be similar rates from Chicago to most every city. The reduction is supposed to meet the reduced freight rates made possible by the Panama canal. The tariff of unusual importance to Idahoans and in fact every jobber and merchant in the Northwest, for there is a reduction in the freight rates on practically all commodities which may have its effect in reducing retail prices.

These tariffs are issued on practically the same date as the schedule C rates published a few months ago. Some of the typical reductions are as follows:

Apparel and implements and their parts, such as blades for graders or scrapers, plow discs, harrow plates, and similar articles—other than iron. The old rates varied from $1.50 per 100 pounds to $1.75; the new rate will be $1.00.

Building materials, including brick and fire glasses, tops and top fastenings: Old rate, 35 cents; new rate, 27 cents.

Carpets and rugs: Old rate for less than carload shipments, $2.60; new rate, $2.00; carload shipments, old rate, $1.25; new rate, $1.25.

Baking powder, spices, etc. in cans: Old rate, $1.25; new rate, $1.00.

Motocycles, boxed or crated: Old rate, $2.50 from New York and $2.00 from Chicago; new rate, $1.50.

Plumbing goods, including bath fixtures, iron pipe, cast iron pipe, concrete, pipe, etc. in carload lots: Old rate, $1.50; new rate, $1.35.

Kitchen sinks, etc. old rate, $1.50; new rate, $1.25.

Ammunition, bullet cartridges, shot shells, etc. old rate, $1.50; new rate, $1.00.

Pipes, unboxed: Old rate, $2.50; new rate, $2.00. The tariff also permits shippers to mix boxed and unboxed pipes in the same car.

Woodware and shrovetree: New rate, $1.50, in less than carload lots. The old rates varied substantially in excess of the new.

Talking machines: Old rate, $2.50; new rate, $1.50.

Rubber boots and shoes: Old rate, $1.50; new rate, $1.25.

Commissions also were made to the automobile industry. The new tariff will permit the automobile manufacturer to "set up" conditions that is, on their own wheels, with enough gasoline in the tank to permit them to be removed from the cars on their own power. Electric belts, connections and wire will be permitted. The railroad hereafter have the right to charge for the use of the tanks on the cars, but the practice was dangerous, they are satisfied now that there is no danger so long as only enough gasoline is contained in the tanks to run the machines out of the cars into the yards.

It will be permissible, also, under the new tariff to ship inner tubes, channels, rims, flanges, rings and other rim work, as well as tires with rubber, automobile and motorcycle tires and on the same rate that was contained in the automobile tariff. The tariff also permits for the use of the tanks on the cars, but the practice was dangerous, they are satisfied now that there is no danger so long as only enough gasoline is contained in the tanks to run the machines out of the cars into the yards.

and the general excellent condition of the flocks at the close of the season. The European conflict is generally credited for the boom in wool prices. Idaho and Wyoming combined clipped 28,000,000 pounds of wool this season. Most of the wool has been sold, but there still remains a large amount in storage. The wool of Utah is said to have been close to 14,000,000 pounds. Drought in California, sheepmen say, caused the wool industry in that country to become demoralized and thereby caused the improving of the price for the clip in Idaho and other Western states.

Factories are working heavier this year than ever before in the United States and the demand for wool which is supplied in large quantities from the sheep raised in Idaho about 30 cents a pound. Practically all the wool produced in this state was contracted for at about 20 cents before the clip, which accounts for the small amount consigned to warehouses—Idaho Falls Register.

(The Last Ultimatum).

Oh, Gott, Dear Gott, attention! Your barner Wilhelm's horse Un hats a word to two to say Into your listening ear; So durn avay all udders now, Und listen vell t'ome, For vat I say concorns ME much, Myself und Sherman.

You know dear Gott, I was your friend, Und from my hand or hip, I loudly let you rule der Haffen. Vile I rule o'er red ear, Und ven I told my soldiers Of by-gone battle days, I staidy spill der glory Und afft you half der praiso.

In every way I tried to brave, My heart was ever true, Und only claimed mein honest share In great deeds vat VE do. You could not haf a better friend In sky, or land, or sea, Den KAISER VILHELM Number Two, Der LORD of Sherman.

So vat I say dear Gott is die, Dat ve should still be friends Und you should help to send mein foes To meet der bitter ends. If you dear Gott vill die me do I'll noddings care again, Und you and I vill barners be For, o'er more, Amen.

But listen Gott, it must be quick, Your help to me you send, Or else I haf to stop attack, Und only half defend, So You und I'vey hours I gif To make der Allies run Und but me in mein probber place Der middle of der sun.

If you do die, I'll do my bar, I'll tell der world der fact, But if you don't den I must dink It is an health care, Den var at once I will declaro Und if mein anger rise, Und send mein Seppelstein ships to vago A fight up in der skies.

Der ultimatum dear Gott, Is von of many more; Mein mind is setted up to clean Der whole world off der floor, Because you was mein barner, Gott, An extra chance I've giften, So half at vance der will be Der Ember of Haffen.

THE DIAMOND FROM THE SKY

day and a tree piece. Luke Lovell, the presence of the eccentric English lawyer, Marinduke Smythe, enlightened the proceedings.
"As to purchaser of the whole had come forward, the auctioneer was prepared to sell the historic and proud old place and all the line, old furnishings it contained, in separate lots. Pictures, ornaments, rugs and beds brought out upon the broad piazza to make the auctioneer's work the easier.
Among all these furnishings, and among all these pictures, the eyes of the English lawyer as a fine mounted deer head that he was informed had been at Stanley Hall for over a century. In fact, none knew how old it was. The lawyer about to return to Insular England from what he and his friends deemed the wilds of America, nothing appealed so much as this. In fact he aimed his gun at the trophy as though it had fallen to his prowess as a Nimrod.
He resolved to purchase the deer head and take it to England as a trophy of good hunting in the jungles of Virginia. At his request it was put up as first thing to be sold, and he bought it. The jokes and mockery of the crowd nettled Marinduke Smythe beyond endurance, and so taking his purchase he mounted his horse and awkwardly bore it away.

He had hardly done when Detective Blake arrived, driven over from the Fairfax depot, followed in another station carriage by Blair Stanley and his mother and the agitated-for every lip to thing upset her, and she would tell you—Mrs. Randolph.
Blake asked that the house and the furnishings be offered as a whole, and that an opening bid of $2,000. Mr. Stanley drew her thin lips together, and Blair nervously lashed himself to a suppressed and murderous anger. The Stanleys had not expected competitive bidding. Blake admitted acting for an unnamed client.

Neither Blair nor his mother dared openly affront the interloper, as they seemed him. But they bid desperately to the limit of their resources only to see Stanley and mother rise to the high, save the deer head already purchased by the English lawyer, go for $20,000 to Thomas Blake, the agent of the unknown highest bidder.

They dared not vent their cold anger upon the smiling and inimitable Blake, but Mrs. Stanley turned with a torrent of bitter, contemptuous gibes upon poor Mrs. Randolph, who happened to remark that her poor nerves were shattered, and she had fainted. In consequence Blair and his mother went to their house in Fairfax and did not return with Mrs. Randolph to Richmond.

Either reached the gypsy rendezvous worn and exhausted, not knowing of the sale of Stanley Hall. The gypsies received her with wild delight, but she only stayed with these sincere though bumble friends long enough to make another unavailing search for Hagar's missing hoary.

—Meanwhile what of the diamond from the sky?

It glances upon the breast of a passenger dined by late at night in the glare of the California sunshine, outside an adobe hut, Luke Lovell. It is fated, is to see and gain again the diamond from the sky. He has taken up with associates as bad as himself and has become a bootlegger or illicit whisky peddler. With a companion of his own, he has passed by the desert Indians, but now sees the diamond the squaw has found gleaming in the sunshine, a papoose's plaything of the eager white man.

"It is only a bit of glass and dust in the mind of the sudden, drink craving Indian father. Despite the angry protests of the squaw, the gleaming ornament is carried to the vile whisky of the eager white man.
"And so the diamond moves on again. Santa Barbara, on the seacoast, resort for rich tourists, is not far away, and thither Luke Lovell and his cronies bear it, seeking a purchaser able to pay a sum of money.

"The English lawyer that man who is John Powell now, takes it. How have his fortunes, fortunes to be founded on stolen means, prospered? Not well.

"Arthur has filled into the hands of all sharks and has inherited the outfit plunder in the Good Hope wells. The Good Hope wells have been a joke of these oil fields. But who is to warn a gullible young investor?
John Powell has played with high stakes in a crooked game and has lost. His wife who laughed at what he had done, his back for his stupidity, how feel for him. Jack Wilson, his foreman, looks his despairing young employee and tells him in the privacy of the office of the Good Hope wells.

"I am sorry, boss," says Jack, "but I'll tell you something. There is oil in the Good Hope. We've struck every indication. If you only had money to drill deeper, it is there. If you only had money to sink east would save you!"
"It's too late now, Jack! that money, saved something more to me than these wells."

"I'm from Pennsylvania," says Wilson. "I believe we've torpedoes the big well—we start the oil—I know it runs a well if the oil doesn't start, and already the shysters are coming to take the property away from you because we didn't strike oil, and the last argument is due to us. Let us do something desperate, boss—let's torpedo the big well!"

John Powell is desperate, and he agrees. The man of law representing the unpaid owners hears of the plan and writes with an indignation.

But the desperate John Powell defies law, as which he was known as Arthur Stanley he defied all order. The lawyer is held back waving the "scrup of paper," the injunction. "The attorney's charge is dropped, is dissolved, the bottom of the well, the heavy iron detonator is dropped, and all run for their lives. A throb shaked the earth, and the derrick rocks. A jet of gas a seep of mud and a spouting fountain of oil had gush.

"A big gusher! How well has money in a gusher! John Powell is a millionaire!
No such gusher has ever been known in those fields, on the long dry and long despoiled Good Hope becomes. No oil millionaire is due to us. A thickly popular young John Powell.

His associate, Jack Wilson, wearing impressively his first dress suit, gives him "the swellest banquet with cabaret entertainment" that Los Angeles leading restaurant has ever known.

Vivian Marston dines with an elderly admirer at the same restaurant the night of the banquet.
John Powell's associate toast and praise him for the plan, and resolution that snatched victory from defeat, and ever Vivian's dark eyes are on the smiling and handsome face of the magnate. Her elderly admirer testily endures the pages of jealousy.

But it is not long of sudden infatuation that draws the dark eyes of Vivian Marston to the young millionaire at the head of the feast. Where has she seen this laudal young favorite of fortune before?
John Powell's secretary enters deflated with a telegram. "It has come to the offices of the Good Hope Oil company, and the secretary, thinking it impossible, brings it to the feast. Arthur opens it and reads:
"Either Harding departed Paris unknown. Hear Harding better. Bought in Stanley Hall for $100,000 you sent. Will keep anything quiet."
"BLAKE!"
Either departed for Paris, unknown. Arthur crushed the telegram in his nervous grasp. Mechanically he hears the secretary's voice, and he shouts and chant joyfully, "For he's a jolly good fellow!" An one dazed he rises and departs with his happy, felicitating associates.

—The Big Good Hope Well Has "Come in a Gusher!"
"I'm hardly aware of the dark eyes of a luxurious woman rustled upon him.
"Walked by the green high hills and the grey and higher mountains at its back, beautiful Santa Barbara slopes down to the sea.
"Fair as the gardens of the Lord seems the scene to the desert, burned eyes of Luke Lovell and his fellow bootlegger as they stand upon the hill over the old mission and gaze upon a panorama as of paradise below them. Far off at anchor on the sapphire waters of the bay a great white yacht rides like a swan upon the tide.
"A girl rich enough to own a yacht like that—she would pay the diamond from us," growls Luke Lovell. "That night they uncle a rowboat at the water's edge, and Luke Lovell puts upon the oars to bear them out to a purchaser for the diamond from the sky.

"But the evil man who fell—fall be the great Jew's hateful spell is not yet at an end. Luke's companion rises stealthily behind him and strikes him down.
"There is a hoarse cry in the night, a shout of alarm. The boat goes over a glistening main range in agony, and the diamond from the sky is sinking in the deep, cold waters.
