MOB APPLIES TORCH TO TOWN

Six Blocks Burned, Three Killed and 19 Injured

TROUBLE THE CULMINATION OF STRIKE AT STEEL MILL

Fleeting Battle Result of Strike in Which Lives Are Lost and Business Portion of Town Burned

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio.—Three men were killed, a woman and several women, wounded, six city blocks were burned with a loss estimated at $800,000, and state troops were called out to restore order as the result of rioting in East Youngstown following a battle between a crowd of strike sympathizers and armed guards at the plant of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company Friday night.

Rioters stole five hundred pounds of dynamite and a dynamite and several boxes of dynamite. The bridge from East Youngstown to Struthers was burned to prevent rioters from entering the town. Two companies of United States regulars from Columbus are reported to have been ordered to East Youngstown because of the looting and burning of the town.

The trouble was the culmination of a strike of laborers which began at the plant of the Republic Iron & Steel company a week ago and spread to the plants of the tube company, the Youngstown Iron & Steel company and the Republic Steel company. The men demanded 25 cents an hour, the companies offer an increase from 22 cents to 24 cents. On Friday morning when the strike sympathizers and workers at the sheet and tube plant clashed. Stones were thrown and several shots were fired, but no one was injured. Later in the afternoon a riot occurred just outside the tube company's plant and two men were injured so badly they were taken to a hospital.

The most serious trouble started Friday night when the day shift at the sheet and tube mills left work. A crowd of six thousand gathered at the entrance to the works and stoned a band of police. The police were ordered by Chief J. M. Wolts of the sheet and tube company force.

According to the statement made by Wolts, he fired a blank shot into the air to scare the crowd and then firing became general. Nineteen in the crowd were injured. The crowd, frenzied urged into the East Youngstown business district and set fire to several buildings. As the torch was applied first to a clothing store and then to a jewelry store, the looting began. A saloon was fired and looted, liquor being distributed through the crowd.

The Youngstown fire department went to the scene of the fire, but was driven off by the crowd. The East Youngstown department also attempted to check the blaze, but the hose was cut and the firemen driven away. The flames quickly spread and more than 15 buildings were destroyed. More than 20 families are reported homeless as a result of the fire which at one hour still was burning beyond control.

Sheriff Unstead found the situation beyond his control and called state troops. He sent him Governor Willis ordered the Fifth regiment with headquarters at Cleveland and the Eighth regiment with headquarters at Bucyrus to this city. The Fourth regiment at Columbus was ordered to mobilize and move to the scene of the trouble as soon as possible.

One man who was killed has not been identified. He was fatally shot while attempting to enter a store in East Youngstown. Some shots inside the store fired the shot.

Shortly before midnight mob leaders broke out a freight car containing five hundred pounds of dynamite. They took the dynamite and started toward the residential part of East Youngstown, declaring they would blow that section of the city to pieces. An unidentified foreman was seen

INDEMNITY FOR AMERICAN LIVES LOST IN LUSITANIA DISASTER PROMISED BY GERMANY

Concessions Include Principal Contentions of U. S. and Include Assurance That Non-Combatant Ships in Mediterranean Will Not be Torpedoed Without Providing for Safety of Passengers

Communications from Germany have reached the United States—one containing a proposal to pay an indemnity for the American lives lost in the Lusitania disaster, and another containing suggestions on that subject to a conclusion, and the other conveying assurance that German submarine commanders operating in the Mediterranean would not torpedo non-combatant ships of any character without warning them and according to the wishes of their passengers and crews. The communications were delivered to Secretary Lansing by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador here. The ambassador immediately sent them to President Wilson. Official Washington Friday night considered that America and Germany at last were near a compromise on the conduct of submarine warfare. Officials made no attempt to conceal their gratification at the news, which was apparently had assumed. It was considered to be virtually in harmony with the American viewpoint. The Lusitania controversy, which has been considered by the American government, seemed to have lessened considerably. Austria in its reply to the last American note having assured the United States of its intentions to operate submarines with due regard for international law and the principles of humanity. Turkey and Bulgaria it is understood now will take steps to give such guarantees. It is stated authoritatively that Germany has agreed to accept the influence to accomplish this end.

The Lusitania controversy, except for the wording of the agreement to be entered into, is considered in Lusitania circles here virtually ended.

Under the terms of the proposal submitted for the approval of the United States, Germany, while offering to pay an indemnity, makes no reservation that an admission of wrongdoing thereby is involved. It is contended that the Lusitania was sunk as an act of reprisal for the British blockade of Germany.

While Secretary Lansing is understood not to have indicated to Count von Bernstorff whether the proposal was satisfactory, a number of officials in a position to be familiar with the American attitude indicated that it would be accepted. The assurance regarding the conduct of submarine warfare in the Mediterranean, obviously prompted by the sinking of the British steamship Persia with a loss of two American lives, are much broader in their scope than the proposal made after the Lusitania disaster covering the operations of submarines in the North sea and adjacent waters. The latter guaranteed only that "liberty" should be immune from attack without warning. The assurance regarding the Mediterranean operations, which included privately owned ships of every character, freight as well as passenger vessels, provided, of course, they do not attempt to escape or offer resistance.

It has been revealed, too, that in the reply to the last note regarding the Lusitania P. F. Wilson, Berlin foreign office agreed with the American view that small boats cannot under conditions be considered as a place of safety for persons leaving a ship about to be attacked.

The German government apparently has certain other concessions and promises the United States in Friday's communication that should it develop that such was the case, the matter would be investigated and submitted to prize court proceedings, and that if the commander disobeyed the orders, he would be punished and reparation would be made for the death of or injury to American citizens.

Consent of the German assurances and of the apparent attitude of Austria-Hungary as reflected in dispatches from Ambassador Penfold at Vienna, led officials to believe that the sinking of the Persia might not result in difficulties so grave as at first were feared.

Information regarding the circumstances of the Persia still were lacking, however, Friday night.

the fact that in that particular locality the formation is clay and dirt, there being no lava-rock. Several theories are advanced as to the cause. The most plausible seems to be that a settlement of the earth's crust following the earthquake of last fall, resulted in the crack. The reclamation service now has a crew of men engaged in filling the crevice in and on both sides of the canal. This task will be completed in a short time.

It is suggested that a conference be held at that point a week ago last Saturday night. At that time Mrs. Paris, who lives on the Cleveland side, held a loud party. She supposed blasting was going on and paid no more attention to it. Investigation disclosed the fact there had been no blasting in that vicinity and on Monday morning the crevice was discovered. This crevice is from a few inches to four feet or four feet wide. At the point where it broke the canal workmen went down 40 feet and discovered a large cave, the dimensions being at least 20 feet by 10 feet. At another place a man was lowered down 50 feet and saw water. The crevice narrowed at that depth and he was unable to proceed lower.

GREENS ANXIOUS TO MIX IN EUROPEAN SCRAP

LONDON.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Athens says:

"The last 10 days have seen the biggest drop in German prestige since the war began and this despite the energetic allied evacuation of a portion of the Gallipoli peninsula. The cause of the German slump have been external and internal. Namely, the fall of the Lusitania, together with General Caninean's confidence in the strength of the allied position at Saloniki, and the impotence of the Greek troops to resist any attempt of a Bulgarian advance in Greek territory which has compelled the government to give the commanders on the border the necessary orders to be prepared for action against the Bulgars if necessary."

"Moreover, through the queen, who has had depressing letters from her sister, the Princess Charlotte of Sax-Meiningen, King Constantine is learning the true state of affairs in Germany."

PROPOSES 600-ACRE HOME-STEAD FOR STOCK RAISING

WASHINGTON.—The stockraising homestead bill which proposes to take the only 640 acre homestead entryman is to be passed before congress in the near future, this measure having been made a part of the administration conservation program. This bill, however, will apply only to lands that can not be entered under the quarter section homestead law or under the 320-acre enlarged homestead law—that is, to rough mountain sides and to lands so arid that they can not be used for agricultural purposes. The stockraising homestead bill is third on the list of conservation measures to be considered after the water power bill and the general leasing bill.

WILSON ENDORSED BY CONGRESS

Interpretation of Monroe Doctrine Approved by Congress

CALLS FOR CO-OPERATION OF ALL AMERICAN NATIONS

True Americanism Should Promote a Spirit of Harmony Between Countries of North and South Continents

WASHINGTON.—Formal approval of President Wilson's interpretation of the Monroe doctrine and Pan-Americanism was voted Wednesday by the International Congress of the Pan-American Scientific Congress. A resolution adopted for presentation to the executive committee of the congress, the first recorded expression on the subject which has been uprooted in the minds of many of the delegates since they gathered here 10 days ago—declared that the president's interpretation as "a true definition of Pan-Americanism."

In its preamble the resolution declared that the words of the president were of such importance to the relations of the countries of this continent that we must have a definition of unquestioned advantage that the second Pan-American congress should in some way record this its approval. Then it resolved:

"The second Pan-American Scientific Congress applauds the declaration made by the Honorable President Wilson in his message of December 7 to congress, explaining and amplifying the Monroe doctrine, because it regards this as a true definition of Pan-Americanism."

The president in his address proclaimed it a duty on the part of the United States to prepare for the defense not only of its own rights, but of those with whom it had made common cause and spoke of the evolution and honorable association of partnership between ourselves and our neighbors in the interest of all America, north and south.

Unreserved co-operation of the different governments of the two continents, even in case of war, was advocated by many. Juan de Dios Garcia Kohli, Cuban minister at The Hague, in an address before the international law section.

A balance of American nations to protect their neutral rights during the present war was urged in a paper read by Professor L. S. Rowe of the University of Pennsylvania.

"The machinery for such a conference is at hand," said Dr. Rowe, "in the international commission of jurists provided for by the Pan-American conference of 1910. This body should be called immediately and remain in permanent session as a congress of neutrals until the close of the war."

A suggestion by Secretary of State Lansing to the effect that international law that it discuss neutral laws with the idea of securing a clearer definition and greater uniformity was referred to a committee instructed to report Friday.

Mr. Lansing said that ordinarily questions of neutrality were defined by the belligerents but that it appeared desirable and logical that the governments of the Americas formulate and agree upon laws instead of waiting for that to be done by belligerents.

Delegates to the Institute representing Argentine and Brazil opposed immediate discussion of the subject.

IDAHO KATES THIRD IN WOOL PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON.—Wool production in the United States during 1915 is estimated by the department of agriculture at 238,777,000 pounds, with a value of $97,573,244, or $14,000,000 more than last year. Production was 1,415,000 pounds less than last year and 7,398,000 pounds less than in 1913. The price of unswaled wool at producers has averaged 22.4 cents per pound, compared with 18.4 cents last year and 16.7 cents in 1913. Montana led in production with 29,040,000 pounds, Wyoming was a close second with 28,882,000 pounds, and Idaho was third with 26,000,000 pounds. Other states producing more than 1,000,000 pounds each were: New Mexico, 18,621,000; Oregon, 16,000,000; Ohio, 14,350,000; Utah, 13,320,000; and California, 11,609,000 pounds.

THE CASTLE GARDEN GATES

No right-minded citizen of the United States can read the account of what took place last Friday at Youngstown, Ohio, without mingled feelings of indignation and alarm, in which indignation comes easily first and foremost.

The employees of two large steel manufacturing concerns had struck a week previously upon a demand for wage increase from 19 1/2 to 25 cents per hour. The employers offered 22 cents, which was refused. But in the meantime had secured enough non-union help to keep the works running. After considerable trouble during the day, at the time the day shift left work, Friday evening, a crowd of six thousand strikers and their friends assembled at the entrance of the Tube mills and stoned the departing workmen and the private police who were there for their protection. This developed into a battle in which firearms were used and over a hundred persons were more or less injured. Two are dead and twenty-two are in various hospitals. The mob then began firing the city, setting the torch first to a clothing and then to a jewelry store, quickly followed by other fires and by breaking and looting promiscuously in all directions, including several stores and the East Youngstown postoffice. For six hours this frenzied mob rushed through the streets burning and rioting indiscriminately, destroying the public lighting plant, leaving a score of families homeless and causing a property loss estimated at $1,500,000; very little of which falls upon the mill owners.

Of course, militia arrived during the night, and up to this writing no further rioting has taken place, but the community feels that it is standing over a volcano, liable to break into fury at any moment. In the meantime, the works are closed and the children of the men who are willing to work, as well as the children of the strikers, are liable to suffer hunger!

Do you ask how are such things possible in free, prosperous and enlightened America? This insane mob was neither free, prosperous nor enlightened! Could you have hovered above it on the wings of a bird, in all that volley of talk and imprecation, there would have been hardly a single word of understandable English! It was a crowd of foreigners of low degree, enervated by venal agitators, impetuous by habit and enlightened only by the ignis fatuus of anarchistic teaching!

The question as to whether the original demands of the strikers were reasonable, or otherwise, has nothing to do with the case here presented. The laboring man, individually or collectively, in unions or out, has a perfect right to demand what he pleases for the wage of a day or an hour, and if compliance with such demands be not made, he has the unquestioned right to refuse to work—to "strike," if you will. But when the laboring man, either organized or unorganized, attempts to decree that other men, who may have no stake in the world save potential days' work, shall not sell them for a price less than that fixed for himself, nor shall not take up the work he has thrown down, and to enforce that decree by violence, he attempts a tyranny and monopoly that is as bad and iniquitous as that charged to the discredit of the capitalist or employer.

The statement last above made is too simple and fundamental to require either repetition or amplification. The pertinent question is, what can we do about it? It is stated that out of fifteen thousand population in East Youngstown, where this destruction took place, only four hundred are voters; and a local magistrate has communicated with the United States district attorney to see if these foreign murderers and fire-bugs may not be legally deported and sent back to their homes in Central Europe, where they would doubtless get all the fighting they needed. This sounds well, but it is only scratching the snake. It has been our proud boast that "the gates of Castle Garden only swing inward" and to turn them outward just long enough to let a few thousands of undesirable from Youngstown, Ohio, through, might have some sentimental value but little else. The plain fact is that both the emigration and the naturalization laws of this country need revision and amendment. In just what way and manner is the problem of the statesman—and the duty is his also!

THE EMERGENCY LAW DECISION

There is no reason for criticizing the supreme court for declaring the emergency employment act unconstitutional, as it did Saturday, but it is fortunate that the statute was not drafted so as to avoid such a decision, for it was a good law, inasmuch as it provided for the employment of needy workmen without leaving any stigma upon them or injuring their self respect. That it is the duty of the supreme court to declare unconstitutional all laws which violate the plain terms of the constitution, as this seems to have done, is unquestioned, but it is unfortunate that there is no such provision in our state constitution, as that which is found in the constitution of Colorado and some other states, which permits the legislature to secure a decision on a point of constitutional law in a proposed measure while pending in the legislature. When a proposed measure is held unconstitutional for a certain reason in such states, the legislature can then amend it so as to meet the objection and gain substantially the results desired, instead of having to wait a year for a decision which may render a statute inoperative at a time when the legislature which passed it is not in session to enact another law to meet the emergency which the unconstitutional law was intended to meet.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS PAY-UP WEEK IN TWIN FALLS

The following proclamation has been issued by Mayor E. M. Sweetley, announcing Pay-Up Week. Whereas the week of February 21st to 25th has been designated as National Pay-Up Week to be observed throughout the nation, and Whereas, people in cities, towns and communities in all parts of the country are unable to make Pay-Up Week a memorable occasion conducing to the good of all, and Whereas, a spirit of optimism is abroad throughout our entire country, due largely to the abundance of last year's crops and the favorable prices that they have commanded, and Whereas, an event of this kind is bound to be of great value to every citizen in every city, town and community, therefore, I, by the authority vested in me as mayor of Twin Falls, Idaho, do hereby designate and proclaim the week of February 21st to 25th, inclusive, 1916, as Pay-Up Week in this community and I do sincerely trust that every man and every woman in our city or community who owes a debt will endeavor to pay it during this week and thus aid in the great national movement for prosperity.

NOT SIMILAR SAYS

MAYOR SWEETLEY

fact, this point is conceded by defendant's attorneys. They claim that while the employment of the detectives by Compton, at the instigation of the mayor, did not create a valid claim against the city, still the acts of the council in allowing the title after the service were rendered, constitutes ratification.

"If the words of a statute clearly 'put' a municipality in a position amenable for a court to resort to enforcement in order to defeat that meaning, the demand upon which the warrants in question were issued was not by the employment of the detectives by Compton at the instigation of the mayor and by the services performed pursuant to the employment. It will not go to say that the claim is based upon the resolution ratifying the claim, because, to say that, would be to make section 27 inoperative in any case. The purpose of the section is clearly to defeat ratification in certain cases. To hold that ratification constituted the claim itself would make the statute meaningless and without force. The resolution allowing the title is not the basis of the claim, but is a ratification of the claim which had previously accrued. At the time of the employment and of the rendition of the services a claim was created but it was not a valid claim, not one for which the city was liable under the plain language of section 27. At that time it was a claim which the council could not later allow, make valid or in any manner recognize."

"The defendant's counsel contend that section 27 refers only to claims which were ultra vires, or inherently unlawful at the time of their creation. It is claims which could not have been created or authorized by act of the council itself. And they argue, that, since the council could not authorize the employment of the detectives in the first instance, the council could not later ratify their employment by allowing the bill after services were rendered. It has always been the law that a council or any other legislative body could not make valid by ratification an act which could not have been authorized in the first instance."

"Counsel for the defendant contend that if section 27 refers to the construction which I place upon it it is implicitly repealed by sections 3 and 11 of the Black Law. Section 3 provides that cities operating under the Black Law shall have and exercise all the powers, functions, rights and privileges usually exercised by or which are incident to—incorporated—municipal corporations of like character and degree. This omnibus clause simply means that such cities shall have the power granted to similar municipal corporations by all the laws of this state, and it must be read in the light of all these laws, including section 27."

PASSENGER HAD BOOZE—LIVERYMAN GETS JAIL

North Side Paper Vouches for Freeman's Reputation, Says Liveryman Is Being Made the Goat.

J. H. Freeman, of Jerome, was bound over at a preliminary trial in Twin Falls last week to appear for trial in the higher court under a charge of bootlegging, says the North Side News. That he is likely to be a surprise to his many friends in Jerome as it was to himself, Mr. Freeman owns an automobile which he operates for hire in the effort to make an honest living. Some time since a Twin Falls man who was over to Jerome broke down with his machine and hired Mr. Freeman to take him home. The man had some automobile repairs and packages with him in Mr. Freeman's car. It was a night-trip and next morning Mr. Freeman was arrested charged with bringing intoxicating liquor into dry territory. It seems that during the night the Twin Falls officers arrested the passenger on a bootlegging charge.

Mr. Freeman claims he did not know that his passenger was carrying with him, but the justice bound him over just the same. Mr. Freeman bears an excellent reputation in this community and none of his friends believe that he would knowingly break the liquor laws or any other laws of the state.

But Twin Falls has been hit after the North Side people on the liquor business and it looks as though Mr. Freeman was to be used as a horrible example.

GAME DEPT. SHOWS GAIN

Deputy Game Warden Joe Fitzsimmons has received the annual report of the fish and game department for the state for the year 1915, and it is pleased that the department with which he is so active has shown a good balance for the year. The total receipts were $55,804.64, while the expenditures were $45,516.60, leaving a balance of $10,288.04. At the license sales and fines for the year in receipts was $4,814.83, and the reduction in expense $6,247.68, making a net gain of $11,067.15. At the license sales and fines are placed together under the same head it is impossible to tell the amount of the fines from the report, but whatever it is, more than $100 was paid in through the activity of Joe Fitzsimmons.

STOCKHOLDERS ARE IN SESSION TODAY

to bring how much land he had, but how he could do the required work. He said the owners of railroads and mines frequently owned no stock in the concerns managed. He said that somebody last year made a similar motion for the purpose of cutting out an efficient director and that the man who did it did not own enough land on the tract to contain a good-sized claim. He added that the man was in the meeting this year. Monahan said that if anyone without interest in the land should be permitted to vote or voice, Connor named D. M. Denton, who promptly responded that he did own land in several places and had interest in other lands on the tract, and vigorously denied the implication in the speech of Connor. Denton agreed with Connor that political questions, the issue of county division and such things should not be considered. Monahan said that his understanding was that the officers of the stockholders were stockholders. The situation was confused by a point of order that the whole was out of order, but the Monahan motion was sustained by a vote of 10 to 1, where the ballot boxes were opened while the secretary proceeded to read the names.

When Secretary Taylor had finished reading his report, it was accepted and an adjournment taken until 1:30 P. M.

The cold weather in no way intimidated the stockholders, who came in large numbers from all parts of the tract. There are several matters of interest to be thrashed out before adjournment tonight.

The meeting after lunch was characterized by the expedition and harmonious transaction of business. The matter of the unwieldy character of the meetings and the fact that voting by proxy has not proven wholly satisfactory, resulted in the statement by Attorney Monahan, who has presented the matter to the stockholders, that a committee appointed last year, of which he was chairman, found that it was impossible under the constitution of Idaho to change the law so as to provide for the abolishment of proxy voting or for the division of the tract into districts. He said that they succeeded in having the law taken from control of the public utilities commission.

A motion by H. Barnes that further efforts be made to secure cause for complaint was carried and was followed by motion by Sweetley that a committee of five be selected by the stockholders to be selected to draft plans for a special measure covering all practicable reforms to report next year at the annual meeting which will be held on the eve of the legislative session. This was carried and M. J. Sweetley, J. H. Barnes, D. A. West, Fred Nihart, H. M. Van Drogen, S. P. Atherton, John Farn, Carl Hahn and J. A. Waters were chosen as members.

It was suggested that a possible way out of the difficulty was to organize as a public corporation under the irrigation district laws, which would let only those present vote and give each stockholder but one vote, regardless of his holdings. Motions to cement all stock holes before May 1, that the board have some office completed take out notarial commission, that ditch riders be forbidden to collect delinquent fees and that the secretary release certain liens on payment of amount on margin were carried unanimously. Several other plans were referred to the legislative committee that had been appointed.

A committee of nine to select another committee of three to get experts to audit the books was selected as follows: F. W. Fisher, F. C. Gray, C. E. Barnes, H. M. Van Drogen, W. H. Hobbins and George McPherson. It was announced that the special trial was held at 7 o'clock tonight instead of at 9 o'clock as originally scheduled.

A discussion over the repair expense account of $12,000 practically closed the active business of the day. The canal board stated that all the items of expense were on the books of the company and that a motion was then carried that all items be set forth in detail and mailed annually to members, with the call for meeting and the treasurer's report, and the most harmonious meeting in the history of the company closed for all practical purposes except in the matter of voting for directors. At 5 o'clock the ballot boxes will be moved to the headquarters of the company where they will be counted after the members who desire to do so, have all voted. The votes will probably not all be counted until long after midnight.

WORK ON SHOBIHONE GRADE

As a result of the supreme court decision, declaring the irrigation employment unconstitutional, the county commissioners who had planned on which he is so active has shown a good balance for the year. The total receipts were $55,804.64, while the expenditures were $45,516.60, leaving a balance of $10,288.04. At the license sales and fines for the year in receipts was $4,814.83, and the reduction in expense $6,247.68, making a net gain of $11,067.15. At the license sales and fines are placed together under the same head it is impossible to tell the amount of the fines from the report, but whatever it is, more than $100 was paid in through the activity of Joe Fitzsimmons.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our thanks for the assistance and sympathy given us by our many friends and neighbors, during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother, Sarah Kline, also for the many floral offerings which were very much appreciated.

BUHL COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS ELECTION

C. S. Peck is chosen as President and Selects Live Board of Directors.

C. S. Peck was elected president of the Buhl Business Men's Association at the regular monthly meeting held last Monday night, says the Buhl Pioneer. Charles Merriell is the new vice president and Russ W. Allred is treasurer. President Peck has appointed as the board of trustees, C. G. Manning of the Buhl high school; M. P. Dax, prominent farmer and dairyman; and H. R. Farn, pioneer Buhl resident and real estate dealer. Owing to a number of conflicting affairs for the evening there was not a full attendance of the membership, but twenty-five loyal members were on the job to hear the report of the first month's work by the new secretary, and the report in every way was satisfactory, one of the most pleasing features being the news that the membership was exactly doubled during the month, and that after all bills were paid there is a nice fat cash balance in the treasury to carry on the work of the association.

The next meeting of the association will be held on Friday night, January 14th, and there will be big crowds. On that night there will be a social hour, and after that the fair will fly, so to speak, for there is going to be one lively campaign for new members and trustees. Every one is urged to come and hear the report on the evening of St. Patrick's day with a grand Irish ball at which Charlie Snyder, the only real straight Irishman in town, will lead the grand march. It will be some time away, and all the college in town will wear green.

A Beautiful Home for the "Only Girl"—It's a Duty

When you own your home you know you have a refuge at all times. You take a pride in beautifying YOUR dwelling. Your children instinctively turn toward HOME against outside attractions.

Your merchant looks on you with favor, because he knows that a HOME-OWNER is permanent; that he will strive to keep his bills paid and his credit good; that his example will induce others to do likewise, thereby insuring greater communal permanence and stability.

Should reasons of business or health necessitate a change of location, you have a bankable resource to secure needed funds, which rent receipts, no matter how numerous, can never afford.

In your OWN HOME you can live as you want to live without interference from anyone, and without considering the whims of an owner who might have different ideas from your own.

You are your own master—you are free to do as you will—and this very independence of material conditions gives you an independence of thought that makes you a better father or mother, and a better citizen.

One hundred designs of Modern, Convenient, Moderate-priced Beautiful Homes ready for your inspection, together with interesting information on HOME BUILDING.

This means no obligation on your part.

SKETCH OF WILLIAM S. HART

"Star of the Disciple"

William S. Hart, whose methods have been a large factor in reviving the popularity of "Westerns," has just been signed to a long term contract by Thomas H. Ince. This is in recognition of his work in "The Disciple," which will be seen at the Orpheum theatre, Monday, one night only.

The renewed popularity of "Western" film plays due to Hart and Ince's energies has been brought about through the return of the "drums of the plains," and of the heroes and bad men of a decade ago. Dustin Farnum, who starred in "The Virginian," and Mr. Hart, who succeeded him in the title role; Frank Campana, who was Trampus in the same play, and Frank Keenan, who played Jack Rance in "The Girl of the Golden West," are all now Triangle stars.

Old players who remember Mr. Hart as the hero of "Ben Hur" when it was first produced. He was also the originator of the role of Cash Hawkins in "The Squaw Man."

In "The Disciple" Mr. Hart's newest and latest play starring Mr. Hart, he creates the part of Jim Houston, the "good bad" cowboy, and he is declared by those who have enjoyed a private view of the picture to lend great force to the effect.

But before sailing she hides her ship on a tiny island, and through the perfidy of Joe Wheeler, her foster brother, is thrown and seriously injured. Hernandez and Ince the schemers in the plot to secure Annette's map of Lost Island, make it a they try to kidnap her, but the house catches fire and is destroyed. Next coming along on horseback just in time to save the girl, later they leave for Lost Island with Hernandez and his henchmen stowed away in the hold. He almost succeeds in wrecking the ship, but all hands escape in small boats and land on the shore safely. The brute swims ashore with Hernandez in his grasp. The climax of the episode is a most unusual one of interest.

LIVE BULL NEWS

(From The Bull Pioneer.)

Everybody agrees that the masquerade ball at the Bull Opera, Saturday evening was the largest dance ever given in the history of Bull. And not only from the number present but also from the amount of genuine pleasure it could not have been surpassed. It is true that the hall was terribly crowded, but the merry-go-round, spinning, and other amusements, and a bit just tossed each other on every side and went right ahead "having the time of their lives."

There was a meeting at the high school auditorium Monday evening, January 10th, for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee recently appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws for a parent-teachers association, and to perfect the organization and elect officers.

The girls of the Lucerne neighborhood are taking time by the forelock to speak and are going to commence early to take advantage of Leap Year, which began last Saturday. On Friday evening, January 15th, they are going to give a Leap Year dance at the Lucerne school house, to which invitations have been issued.

Mrs. A. J. Moore arrived Thursday from Dore, North Dakota, to make a visit of several weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Smithwick, and other relatives here and at Castleford. Mrs. Moore is a sister of Mrs. A. M. Wilton.

S. V. Hunt, of Pullman, Washington, is here visiting his son, J. P. Hunt, who recently bought the Davis place, east of town. He is also enjoying a visit with Marshall Baymiller, who was a former resident of Pullman and neighbor of Mrs. Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Preston left Saturday evening, Mrs. Preston and children for Moab, Utah, where they will visit Mrs. Preston's mother, Mrs. Perkins, for several days. Mr. Preston will go on to Denver and has not yet decided where he will locate.

R. H. Hill is here from Long Beach visiting R. L. Turnipseed and the turnipseed families near Filer. Friday morning he and Mr. Turnipseed went to Twin Falls, and from there Mr. Hill will go to Weiser to visit his mother, Mrs. B. W. Turnipseed.

A party of young folks enjoyed a social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Owenby Wednesday evening. There were young people present from the Brann, Daniel and J. E. and J. A. Owenby families.

Mrs. R. Dyer, of Twin Falls, was in the city Tuesday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Funder. She returned on the evening train.

Charles King, chef at the Club Lunch, left Tuesday evening for Twin Falls, where he will spend a few days with his family. While he is away E. L. Rogers will have charge of the lunch counter.

Charles King arrived home from Twin Falls today. He went away several days ago to see about moving a large range down from Twin Falls to use in his lunch room in the Club Lunch, the one at present in use not being large enough.

H. P. Tracy, who has been cashier at the Oregon Short Line depot for several months, left Sunday evening for Coaticton, thus reducing the force at the depot by one, and making that much more work for the force, which was not enough when Mr. Tracy was here.

Miss Lovena Ralston returned to Twin Falls Friday evening, where she will resume her studies at the Twin Falls Business College. She has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralston, south of Buhl, during the vacation.

O. Jay Childs, manager of the Farm and Milling company at Elgin, was in the city Thursday calling on L. G. W. local manager of the same concern here.

The Ladies Aid will resume work January 12, 1914. The ladies of the Work Committee, Mesdames George, Young, Graves and Wilcox, have had a meeting at which time plans were laid and some material was passed out, to begin work on this year. The Aid is growing in numbers and interest.

C. M. Owings was in town on Monday. C. M. lives down on the Snake river and does not come to town very often. He reports that the river is frozen harder this year than in the ten years he has lived down there. The weather has been colder than it has been this year, but it was the continuous cold during the holidays that caused the river to freeze harder than heretofore.

At the musicale given yesterday afternoon at the club house the following program was given:

Exercises, school children from Miss Pond's room.

Violin solo, Walter Weaver.

Description of the fair, Mrs. Schildman.

Mrs. Mesdames Ripley, Anderson and Shearer.

Hostesses, Mesdames Schildman, Erickson and Myles.

EDITOR TELLS SUBSCRIBERS ABOUT HIS PHONE SERVICE

There is nothing more exasperating than to attempt to talk over a "bum" telephone. We say "attempt" advisedly, for the reason that the instrument called a telephone, in this office is about as near a useless a piece of apparatus as one could find in the travels of a life-time. People who have business with the postoffice or The Herald office are informed that we have made every effort to have an instrument installed that would be of some service at least, but without success.
