EDUCATIONAL CLUB ORGANIZED IN BURL

Purpose is to Help Solve All Sorts of Local Problems. Farmers Union Meeting.

The Burl Community Educational Club was organized in the west city Monday evening, declaring in its constitution that "it shall be the purpose of this organization to co-operate in the solution of the problems which arise in the educational, social and civic life of the community." All citizens of the school district in which Burl is located and all having children attending in such school are eligible to membership. Officers elected were: C. G. Manning, President; Mrs. C. E. Inglesby, Vice President; Mrs. A. M. Stange, recording secretary; K. H. Coran, corresponding secretary.

The Farmers Union met last week and elected a board of directors for the coming year, consisting of John McNeave, Matthew Scully, Albert Winters, C. G. Chambers and Cohn Campbell. An eight per cent dividend was declared.

Burl will have city carriers after the first of July, the postal receipts for the past year having increased enough to insure that result.

H. H. McCann, for some years police judge of this city has resigned and his place has been filled by the appointment of L. C. Washburn.

The corral at the west end of the city are being removed on account of the proximity of the hog yards to the town.

E. Lacey has filed suit for divorce with a man bearing the appropriate cognomen of Silliman. Lacey charges that Silliman has proved the right to his name, he charged it to Sullivan to hide the identity of himself and the runaway wife.

MAY EXTEND FROM BURL

A crew of O. S. C. civil engineers and surveyors, arrived in Burl the first of the week and they are making surveys from Burl to Castletford, presumably with a view of extending the railroad from Burl to Castletford, says the Burl Herald. They made surveys from a point, seven miles south of Twin Falls, on the Hollister branch, west through Clover and to Castletford last week.

PLUG CHEWING A WHOLESOME HABIT

In No Other Way Can You Get All the Richness and Flavor of the Leaf

"SPEAR HEAD" BEST CHEW

Many prominent physicians declare chewing to be the most wholesome way of enjoying tobacco.

"I began chewing some years ago," said one, "and I soon found that it is the only way to get the benefit of all the rich juices which are in the tobacco leaf. I refer, of course, to the plug form of tobacco, which is the most natural and the cleanest form."

"Chewing good tobacco like Spear Head makes the salivary glands more active, which in turn has a beneficial effect on the whole system. Add to this the sweet, mellow, delicious flavor of the chew of Spear Head, and you have the highest possible degree of tobacco satisfaction."

"I mention Spear Head because I have found that this brand is exceptionally pure, being made in a factory that runs strictly according to pure food rules."

Spear Head is made of sun-ripened Burley, which is acknowledged to be the richest, mildest, finest flavored tobacco leaf in the world. And it is produced by the latest processes, which develop the quality and luscious flavor of the choice Burley to the supreme degree."

A chew of Spear Head has a wholesome relish that is not found in any other chewing tobacco. Try a 5c or 10c cut.

HOLSTEIN AND THE JERSEY RUN CLOSE

Contesting Association Figures Show Little Difference Between the Two Breeds.

The race between the Holsteins and the Jerseys in the Contesting Association is close enough to be interesting. The first month the Holsteins men carried off the honors, but in the second month the Jerseys came in for a bigger share of the honors, but evidently not enough to put the Holsteins men off their mettle. The third month (December) C. E. Long with his seven Jerseys carried off enough of the honors to show the Holstein owners that Jerseys can do good work in Twin Falls country.

McCann captured first place in herd average and in the individual cow record, he can claim the second and third prizes.

The cow giving the greatest amount of butter-fat for the month was a grade Holstein owned by A. A. Stauff. She gave 69.6 pounds, which by the way, but makes her high cow for December, but puts her in first place, as the cow giving the most milk. It is interesting to note that she is only a grade. This is the first time a grade cow has been able to win the blue ribbon. Some of the Holstein owners look to her with a mixture of awe and admiration. Another interesting circumstance is that a large per cent of the cows making the herd or roll are to be found on the farms as the silos. Here are the figures:

October, 25 cows on farms with silos; 20 on farms without.

November, 24 cows on farms with silos; 18 on farms without.

December, 22 cows on farms with silos; 19 on farms without.

It is probable that most of the silos were not opened in October, but the fact that the silos and the best herds are on the same farms, as an average, it is true that some of the best herds have no silos, but most of the best owners are giving the silos serious consideration.

Another feature worthy of note is that the 10 cows which were the honor roll for all three months, were all being fed allage. It appears that the allage must have some good effects on the yields of these cows.

While considering testing associations, it might be well to note the results obtained in seven herds in the first association organized in the United States, and which is still in operation. The first year 1908 the cows averaged 231.1 pounds butter-fat, which yielded $22.25 more than cost of feed. The last year's record available, (1913) was 284.7, giving returns over cost of feed of $51.08. The least profitable cows had sales and expenses. No man will keep a border cow if he knows it, and the testing association is one of the best means of knowing.

Mr. O. T. Kottler, the leader for the association, is taking names of dairymen who wish to join such an association. His address is Box 141, Bull County Agriculturalist W. N. Birch, is also making a list of those interested. If the two of them succeed in finding enough dairymen to justify another association, they request that all eligible hand in their names.

PRIVATE USERS OF AUTOS NOT TO BE TAXED

Proposed Federal Revenue Bill Hits Manufacturers of Machines and Not the Owners.

WASHINGTON.—The proposed federal tax on horsepower of automobiles will be imposed on the manufacturer and not on the owner, according to a statement issued Monday night by Secretary McAdoo.

"No yearly taxation of automobiles and factory cars similar to the license tax of states and municipalities is contemplated," said the statement, "nor has it at any time been suggested that federal tax be imposed on automobiles in use by private owners."

Legislation to provide the federal government with additional revenue will be considered it is said, at a conference of Democratic leaders at the home of Secretary McAdoo Saturday night.

SNOW DEEP IN SOUTHEAST

POCATELLO, Idaho.—Monday night Pocatello and southeastern Idaho was visited by a severe fall of from 9 to 15 inches, the heaviest snowfall in 10 years. It means thousands of dollars to the farmers. The train on the Victor branch of the Great Northern was held up by snowdrifts as deep as 16 feet. The road to Mackay was kept clear, although 20 inches of snow fell.

STRIKE AT YOUNGSTOWN IS DECLARED OFF

State Mediator Is Successful in Ending Strike. Will Attempt to Adjust Other Trouble.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Fred Croston, state mediator, announced Tuesday night that the strike of tube workers at the plant of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company had been declared off. The men at the mass meeting Tuesday night voted to accept the company's offer of an increase in wages amounting approximately to 10 per cent and will return to work on Wednesday.

The plant employs ninety-five hundred men, not all of whom, however, have been on strike, although they were compelled to quit work. Mediator Croston is endeavoring to settle the strike at the plant of the Republic Iron & Steel company and conference of representatives of the company and the men will be resumed Wednesday.

Announcement was made Tuesday night by the Republic Iron & Steel company that the company's plant at Lansingville, near here, will resume in full Wednesday. The strike, which tied up the operations of that company, originated at that point and affected seven thousand men.

The East Youngstown and Struthers plants of the company resumed in all departments Tuesday according to an official announcement.

John D. Rockefeller, in a telegram received late Tuesday, denied charges made by Thomas H. Flynn, general secretary of the American Federation of Labor that the Rockefeller interests were in any way interested in the proposed merger of his independent interests with the Republic Iron & Steel company.

Mr. Flynn had charged that the plot was part of a scheme to depress the value of stock of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, so that control could be obtained by a merger affected with several other companies in which the Colorado Fuel & Iron company was to be included. When the telegram was received, Mr. Flynn at once replied that he would, if Mr. Rockefeller desired, submit to him the source of his information.

THREE MILLS ARE DESTROYED IN DAY

Powder Factories in Wilmington, Delaware, Wrecked. May Have Been Incendiary.

WILMINGTON, Del.—Following the explosion at the Du Pont powder plant, Carney's Point, N. J., early Monday, in which thirty workmen were killed, two mills blew up at the Upper Hagley yard near here Monday afternoon. One of the latter accidents was a result of the explosion at the Carney's Point mill, a workman was slightly burned.

Three explosions within "one day" have had the effect of making the service and police departments of the Du Pont Powder company unusually active in looking for possible causes indicating "outside influence."

A press mill blew up at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon with a loud report. It was in this explosion that the workmen were killed. Many minutes later a mixing mill near the same place exploded. It contained five hundred pounds of powder. No one was injured. Both mills were blown to bits, the shocks being heard for at least 25 miles.

The disaster at Carney's Point was due to an explosion of potassium nitrate, while at the Upper Hagley yard it was black powder that went off. Up to a late hour Monday night there were no developments as to the cause of the three explosions. While expressing the belief that all the blasts were due to accidents, officials of the company have issued instructions for a searching investigation.

HAMBURG-AMERICAN SERVICE CHIEF IS MISSING

LONDON.—The police searched today for Paul Koenig, the so-called chief of the Hamburg-American line, who is at liberty under a $50,000 bail on a federal indictment charging him with conspiracy to blow up the Welland canal. A warrant for his arrest was issued yesterday by a magistrate, charging him with corruptly influencing Frederick Scheldt, formerly a clerk in the National City bank, to deliver letters and telegrams to Koenig. Scheldt was arrested and released on bail

VAN DEUSEN WILL RUN ON DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Progressive Candidate of Two Years Ago For State Auditor, Will Be Candidate.

Clarence Van Deusen, the man who is generally credited with making the many local exposures in the office house which led up to and resulted in the discovery of a shortage of over $32,000 in the state treasury, will make the race for the Democratic ticket as auditor on the Democratic ticket and has authorized a statement to that effect. While Mr. Van Deusen will not start as an active campaigner for some time he wishes it known generally over the state that he proposes to conduct a vigorous and successful campaign. He has received assurances from all sides that he will be given staunch support. Mr. Van Deusen is the first Democrat to announce his intention of running for the nomination to state office.

"That Mr. Van Deusen will be a formidable candidate for auditor evidenced from the strong race he made for the same office as the nominee of the Progressive party ticket at the last general election. He led the ticket with a vote of 17,381. The Democratic candidate received 34,235 and the Republican candidate, 40,684. It is claimed that Mr. Van Deusen is a very popular man in the state and is familiar with the problems confronting the state in the renovation which is said to be necessary of the several state departments."

ABUNDANCE OF WATER IN SIGHT FOR NEXT SUMMER

The amount of snow on the ground in the watersheds of Idaho streams at the end of the year was considerably above the average, with the exception of the Bear river drainage in the extreme southeastern portion of the state, says the Boise Statesman.

In this locality there was much more snow on January 1 than there was one year ago, according to reports made to weather bureau headquarters in Boise.

The snow came early, packed well and is high in water content. While the reports for December are highly encouraging to the farmers who irrigate. It is worthy of mention that January has already contributed a generous amount of snow so that conditions are extremely favorable for a bountiful supply of water next irrigation season.

The water drainage is well above the average in the matter of snowfall. There was on the ground December 31, at Bear 35 inches; Coeur d'Alene, 26 inches; Heath, 10 inches; Hornet, 26 inches; Landore, 43 inches; and Smith Mountain, 88 inches.

The Payette watershed is well supplied for this time of the year. Reports to the weather bureau show 25 inches of snow on the ground at Kirkham, 29 inches at McCall and 24 inches at Pile creek.

Big Wood river will carry plenty of water until spring, when the snow melts. There were 10 inches on the ground at Hailley on New Year's Day and 22 inches along Soldier creek. Arrowwood reservoir should have an abundance of water for the Boise project farmers in 1916. Boulder mine reported 30 inches on the ground at the end of the year. Cottonwood creek 15 inches, Grimes-Pass 26 inches and Rattlesnake creek 10 inches.

Aggressive use of the channels and canals will result in good crops in or out of seasons, and practically cut out losses from vacancies.

ALLIES ABANDON POSITIONS ON GALLIOLI PENINSULA

Turkish Guns Prevent Holding Trenches Longer. Only One Man Wounded in Withdrawal.

LONDON—The remaining positions held by the allies on Gallipoli peninsula have now been abandoned with the wounding of only one man among the British and French, according to a British official statement issued last Sunday night.

Renewed activities of various kinds noted by the Turkish official communications in the past few days, has presumably been in the nature of preparations for the final act of the Dardanelles tragedy. Sunday night's Turkish official statement covering the period from Thursday to Saturday, records the increasing effectiveness of reinforcements of the Turkish batteries which have been drawing in and concentrating on the allies' remaining positions.

Another pang to the British public will be caused by the announcement Sunday night of the loss of the battleship King Edward VII., which has been blown up by a mine. The British official statement on this subject does not reveal the scene of the action and merely says that the disaster occurred in a heavy sea despite which the entire crew was saved before the ship went down.

The King Edward VII. represented an investment of nearly 2,500,000 and was one of the finest of the last class of dreadnoughts, corresponding in general to the American ships of the New Jersey and Nebraska type and was only slightly older than the Natal, which was sunk by an internal explosion about a week ago.

COW TESTER REPORTS GOOD RESULTS FOR BUHL SOCIETY

At the close of the first quarter's work, the members were beginning more than ever to realize the immense good resulting from the work of the association, to both their herds and the dairy industry in Idaho.

61 cows in the association met the requirements for the honor roll during the month of December, 40 pounds of butterfat per month.

Rubbing, a grade Holstein owned by A. A. Stauffacher, securing first place with a record of 1785 pounds of milk, 3.9 or a total of 69.6 pounds of butterfat for the month, while a registered Jersey, owned by C. E. Long, secured second place with 1094 pounds of milk, testing 4.6, producing a total of 50.4 pounds of butterfat. She was Castilian Lady No. 265,628.

Third place was captured by Lada Bright Light No. 268,005. She is also owned by C. E. Long. She produced 1178 pounds of milk, testing 5.0 or a total of 58.9 pounds of butterfat for the month.

In the high herd butterfat average for the month, C. E. Long secured first place with his herd of registered Jerseys. Their average being 42.1 pounds of butterfat.

Fred Reed's grade Holstein—capable of producing an average of 38.1 pounds of butterfat.

Third place went to H. H. Stuyver, his registered Holstein averaging 31.5 pounds of butterfat.

As a result of the work of the association, three cows have already been sold to the butcher as unprofitable for milk production and 8 more are slated to go.

That persistency in our herd has not been denied is proven by the fact that there were 10 cows on our honor roll in December which were also on the roll for October, which is unusually good for this season of the year.

The association now has 27 members with a total of 875 cows; twenty of these herds are headed by registered sires while seven herds have grade sires.

Besides keeping a record of the cows of the association, we also keep a check on the cream separator owned by members. Investigations have also been made in regard to the prices of linseed meal in car lots and the figures are now on file with the tester.

The herd tester desired to express his appreciation of the co-operation extended him in his work by the secretary of the Buhl Commercial club, the Buhl newspapers and the newspapers at Twin Falls. The Commercial club rooms in Buhl's bank has been lent for the convenience of the tester and he now has a permanent place for business when in Buhl where he can prepare his reports and attend to his correspondence and also has been extended the use of the rooms for holding meetings of the association.

On Friday afternoon, December 11, 19 members of the association and their wives were entertained at luncheon by the Buhl Commercial club. A nice lunch was served after which the guests were entertained by an exhibition of beautiful colored stereoscopic views of the herds, barns, farms and homes of the Buhl country, County Agricultural Birch and Secretary Secretary of the Commercial club made short addresses complimenting the association on its progress. It was decided to hold these meetings in the future so that food questions and other matters of importance could be discussed.

TALKS ON THRIFT

Every man should be jealous of two things: his good name and his credit. A good name helps his credit and good credit helps a good name. He should value his reputation as his choicest possession, and he should guard his credit equally well, if not better than he guards his money. He can protect his good name by keeping good company, avoiding questionable places and bad habits in general. His name is what he chooses to make it. He can build up a perfect character by the course of growing and giving his good name, on time and paying on time.

The greatest force in the business world is credit—the power to borrow—to get trusted—to obtain the property of another to use as our own on a mere promise to pay. "Credit," says

Webster, "has done more a thousand times to enrich the nations than all the mines in the world." Credit spans rivers, opens mines, builds railroads, moves commerce and wages war. Our whole business structure rests upon it. For every extension of credit there must be a debt, and there can be no credit where there is no debt.

Debt is not dishonorable; the abuse of credit is. The man who runs in debt is not a business effort; but a sensible man—provided he uses his credit right. There are some forms of debt to be encouraged; there are others to be discouraged. A business house with a mortgage on it is commendable; but to buy an automobile from the proceeds of a mortgage on your house ought to be discouraged. To run a grocery bill is no crime; to fail to pay as you agree ought to be. To furnish your house on the installment plan may be the best thing you ever did—some people could not have a home any other way; but to buy clothes on a dollar-a-week installment plan is financial suicide.

Strange as it may seem, those who have operated on the pay-as-you-go-grocery plan find it difficult when they must ask for credit. The trouble is, they have done nothing to establish their credit. This is particularly true in large cities where one's habits are not well known, but in small places a reputation as a cash customer soon gets to be common property. At such times it is a good plan to deal on credit for the sake of the time when you may need accommodation.

One of the best known accountants in New York states that early in life he saw the time coming when he would need to be regarded as a credit risk. He knew that if he borrowed and paid promptly, he would soon have good credit and a good test for credit is cheap. And so he opened a bank account, got in favor with his banker, borrowed but paid punctually, until he was well regarded as a credit risk. The time came when he needed money to finance his undertakings, and he found no trouble in getting credit and at a low rate for credit is cheap. And so he opened a bank account, got in favor with his banker, borrowed but paid punctually, until he was well regarded as a credit risk.

Guard your credit as you guard your health. It will always be a good friend to you and never desert you. Borrow when you must, but pay as you agree—and there is no other way. Make your name as good as your bond. Treat your debts as sacred obligations. Don't "watch" on your business transactions. Play the man. Don't let the lender do all the worrying over the debt, do some yourself. Don't let it go so far that but worry to a certain result. Don't think for a moment your creditor will forgive your debt, no matter how old we never forget such things.

When you must borrow, do not go to your friends, but find some organized agency (they exist in every large city) that makes lending a business. If your proposition is good and you can qualify, you can get your loan, and it will be a "solid" business proposition, satisfactory to both.

Next to a good bank account, good credit is your best friend. Guard it as such.

BUILDING JUST THE HOME YOU WANT.

In speaking of the home you want to build one writer has said:

"The house he is to build is the house of his hopes and dreams, probably the fruit of long years of work and study and contemplation; it is to be a home for his soul as well as his body, a little corner of the world that is essentially his own."

In other words, to be just what you want, your new-home must be vastly more than an example of practical construction of good quality materials. Its whole makeup, interior and exterior, must interpret and express you—it must harmonize with your individuality.

The floor plans and sketches comprising our "Cottage Home" Plan Service are chock full of sensible suggestions which the architect or builder can carry out at a modest outlay.

The home of your hopes need not be an expensive home.

GOODWIN'S ON MEXICO

Goodwin's Weekly, one of the most brilliantly edited Republican publications in the west, in discussing the latest Mexico outrage, places the blame where it really belongs, when it declares that the men who were killed should never have been sent out without a sufficient guard to protect them, and denounces the "mining companies who sent their officers and men to resume work without first taking means to protect them."

This criticism is the fairest that has yet been made by critics of the president. If a mining company in this country at the close of an Indian war had sent foreign workmen into the Indian country while predatory bands were still roving abroad without securing military protection for them, and the men were killed, deplorable as the incident might be, the foreign powers of which the men killed were citizens, would hardly have been justified in demanding intervention.

Goodwin's criticizes President Wilson for not invading Mexico on the assassination of President Madero and insists that after such intervention an election should have been called by the United States and a president chosen, when we should have retired without demanding any territory or pecuniary advantages. As Taft was president at the time that the murder of Madero occurred, the censure should have been directed against him, if against anyone, for failing to follow the course outlined. In fact President Wilson simply followed Taft's precedents in regard to the Mexican situation. But Goodwin's admires Taft and therefore throws the blame on Wilson, though it does have the fairness to exonerate him from the charge of cowardice that small politicians have made. It says: "The hardest thing that can be said about President Wilson is that he has no natural aptitude, no training, no experience to fit him to cope successfully with a menacing company who have for the first time obtained places where they can prey upon their fellow men." The critic acknowledges by implication that the representatives of South American nations are equally at sea.

However erroneous the opinion of Goodwin's may be on the incidental question as to whether Taft or Wilson managed the Mexican muddle as well as it might have been managed, it does well to call attention to the men really to blame for the latest outrage, the great mining companies that sent miners into a lawless district without providing for their safety. They should have applied to the Mexican government for a sufficient guard and if that could not have been obtained they should have stayed out of the danger zone until normal conditions were restored.

WE WOULD LIKE SOME FIGURES

Before accepting too readily the implied strictures on the post-office department by Congressman Smith for the regrettable charge in the design for the Twin Falls postoffice, it might be well to remember that in order to provide for preparedness, retrenchment is considered necessary and that all the departments are trying to curtail expenses wherever possible. In some instances, as in this case, suggestions for curtailment will be made where there should be no reduction, and there is no doubt that a vigorous protest from Twin Falls people as the original plan will be adopted. But when it is finally adopted it is pretty certain that the Statesman will have one of its periodic "porkbarrel" cartoons on the front page censuring the department for extravagance and appealing to the voters to defeat the Democrats for wasting the people's money. A reasonable respectful but firm protest should be sent to the department against its change of design. Congressman Smith expresses the belief that the sort of structure in marble in accordance with the original design, would be little more than the cost of the building in brick under the new design. It is unfortunate that Mr. Smith was unable to spare time from his duties to learn approximately how much that small difference would amount to before he wrote as a protest could be made more intelligently and, therefore, more effective. We have such information at hand. Perhaps if he will apply to the department he can secure the estimated cost of both designs.

Late Trains Bring Small Loads But Market in Portland Holds Up Well in All Things.

Sheep today are conspicuous by their absence, none whatever being unloaded. All grades are quiet. Strong, best lambs at $5.25, best ewes $5.30 and yearlings as high as $7.00, says the Portland Live Stock Reporter.

Hog undertone has been steady to strong with but few arrivals. Shipments, as was expected, are falling short of past two or three weeks. North Portland is again enjoying distinction of being the best Western market.

Only a few hogs were on the market today with the bulk of the run reported in at 4 o'clock, too late for today's market.

13th, 1916, a writ of attachment was issued out of the above entitled court in the above entitled cause, attaching the property of the above named defendant for the sum of $222.00.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of my office this 15th day of January, 1916.

E. J. FINCH, Clerk of the District Court, Losley & Walter, Attorneys for plaintiffs, residing at Twin Falls, Idaho.

G. T. Hunt's barber shop has moved to 110 Main St. North, next to Elbridge's clothing store.—Adv.

Steam Roller in the Shoe Dept.

Broadly speaking, we did in fact, run the steam roller through our shoe department, driving more than five hundred pairs of high grade shoes to the bargain counters. During the past week their friends, the buying public, have been carrying them away by the score, and we expect these last few days to clean them out entirely. With absolute disregard to cost, these shoes are lumped into two lots to go at $1.69 and $2.19.

Children's Shoes at Cost

We are definitely closing out our stock of children's shoes, and everything we have in this line, is being sold out now at cost and below.

Last Call on Children's Coats

While in our store, ask to see our children's coats. Goods that you will pay dearly for next season, we are selling now at tremendous reductions.

Last Call

Saturday of this week will mark the close of our January Clearance Sale. Decidedly it has been a "Sale Worth While," almost Conscription in fact, forcing people to buy at low prices, as a matter of self defense against the next few years of high prices which are most certainly coming.

Preparedness Applied to Curtain Goods

Preparedness is indeed no empty term as applied to the two tables of curtain goods on display in our store. On one of these 25c and 35c goods are cut to 19c. On the other 20c and 25c goods are being sold for 15c. Prepare for Spring by buying now at these prices.

Preparedness in Sweater Coats

Sweater coats are useful eleven months in the year, and as good next year and the year after as they are this. We bought heavily in these goods last summer, preparing ourselves against the rise in wool which we felt sure would come. In this sale we are offering all of this advantage to you. Anticipate your own future by buying now.

Bargains in Woolen Goods

On display in the center of our store you will find a splendid lot of woolen piece goods, at prices which we believe were never before equalled in Twin Falls. Values running from 50c to $1.75, to be sold at prices ranging from 39c to $1.15.

Chaplin is found in an entirely new role. First time in town. It is largely this element of surprise that makes his fun of the top notch variety. You expect to see one thing and you are confronted with an entirely new phase of the mysterious Chaplin. But the surprise is always pleasing, as the fun is always there.

I recommend it as the best family laxative, because it is put up in tasty candy tablet form that appeals to men, women and children alike, and is as delightful and pleasing to take as it is healthful."

LAVERING ACTS PLEASE FIRST-NIGHT CROWD

The movie fans who complain because the handsome hero invariably wins the fair lady at the end of several reels of intense and narrow scenes can have a taste of an ending of another character by seeing "His Conquered Self" at the Lavinger the first night of the week, for these beautiful photographed films the innocent young maiden is lured by conspirators who succeed in undermining her respect for her fiancé and win her for one of the conspirators. While the villain is man enough at the end not to humiliate the girl and to marry her, the hero is lost in the shuffle, thereby pleasing the people who delight in something different.

In the vaudeville Miss Wilson and Schneider are real headliners and fully live up to the advance agent's promise of "disappointing acrobatic feats." Both members of the team have mastered a new variety of flips, somersaults and a dozen or more other stunts, which must be seen to be appreciated. Lots worse acts have broken into the big vaudeville circuits, and Lavinger patrons can depend upon their money's worth of amusement from this act alone.

The Lloyd Sisters did not disappoint with their musical act, Monday evening, but the audience with their selections on cello, organ, violin and piano. The young lady who performed on the violin was especially well received.

The other pictures shown at the Lavinger, including a Bray animated cartoon, were up to the usual standard.

NOTICE is hereby given that Fred S. where the family, as well as the girl, are living. There is a son in the girl's room, where the father starts to get the girl to give up his son. Instead of that, the older man becomes infatuated himself by the beauty of the mother at a cafe, and they are having a great time dancing until his wife and son appear on the scene.

The married couple next appear in their underwear, where the wife is packing her handbag to leave. The son acts as peacemaker and reconciles his parents, and his father in turn agrees to his son's marriage. The clerk comes on the scene with a bill for the girl's room rent. There is a violent quarrel, in which a lamp is upset, the room is on fire and the father thrown out of the window. He is saved from death by catching on a hook at the third story. There is a big scene where the firemen arrive with engines and ladders. The girl drops down a rope and chops the father loose from the hook with an axe. Her father is in a water barrel, the girl gracefully slides down a rope, and the wedding takes place as the firemen turn the hose on the blaze.

Comedy novelty, musical, singing and talking. This is a big time act.

Marie Laurent

The girl with the golden voice. This act comes highly recommended, being featured in the east as a high class singing act.

Neal of the Navy

The next number of this unusual serial is full of exciting episodes in which the leading actors show at their very best. This is one of the most interesting chapters of the story, in which the quest for Lost Island continues and Neal and the charming heroine are slowly but surely approaching the end of their adventures.

Hot Heads and Cold Feet

A good farce comedy, in which Lucas and Larkin looking for a job make frantic efforts to be of use in a photograph gallery, which is amusing.

Luke's Social Gangster

This is also a very good comedy.

The Brisk Smoke—"Bull" Durham

When you see an alert-looking young man in a lively argument roll a "Bull" Durham cigarette—it's the natural thing. He likes to punctuate a crisp sentence with a puff of "Bull". His mind responds to the freshness that's in the taste of "Bull". His senses are quickened by the unique aroma of "Bull". A cigarette of "Bull" Durham just fits in with keen thinking and forceful action.

EDITOR A. J. GLOVER ABLY CHAMPIONS THE DAIRY COW

Place Address of Editor of Hoard's Dairyman Before the Twin Falls Commercial Club and Invited Guests.

(Specially Reported for The Times)

THE TWIN FALLS Commercial Club in living up to its duties and opportunities, frequently tries to bring the business men of the community— which, of course, includes the farmers and ranchmen— into touch with currents of thought and action in the great outside world. A very successful attempt of this character found fruition last Thursday evening, when a well advertised talk was given by Mr. A. J. Glover, associate editor of Hoard's Dairyman, a widely known periodical published at Ft. Atkinson, Wisconsin. Happily introduced by Mr. Van Tassell, of the Sterling Creamery company, Mr. Glover said, in part:

"I have seen a part of your great country. It is a thing that affects every community has something of which to be proud, since local pride stimulates both enthusiasm and effort. But I do not think I have ever visited any place so full of promise and hope as I am finding in this vicinity. I do not see why we have it possible to develop this country as I now see it in a time occupied. Any country that can grow alfalfa as we here, need have no fear. It is a crop that water and good society are all that are needed anywhere, including the driest soil; but you have already achieved both."

Here the speaker referred to having seen Mr. Bradley's views and heard his praise of this section before coming here, and it really seemed so extravagant as to remind him of the quartette of farmers who were traveling together in the "Talking shop." "I said the man from Kansas, 'We raise eighteen inches of alfalfa in 18 days, and harvest two tons to the acre,' said the man from Texas, 'We have cucumber, squash and pumpkin vines that grow so fast that they shade the ground, and the fruit to keep it from being worn out as it drags along the ground.' And even that ain't much," said the man from southern Illinois, "corn grows so fast in our soil that when my kid tried to climb a stalk, it took him up so fast he was afraid to let go, and when I came with the axe to cut the stalk down, I couldn't make it by one lick, and could never hit twice at the same place, because it grew out so rich between times. We were kind of alarmed about the youngster at first, but when he began throwing down axes with the corn, we knew of no man he was right."

The man from Kentucky scratched his head a little but finally said, "I tell you something, my wife and two little kids, from Kentucky, came out to dry; but they at once began to grow and for two weeks she cut an extra bushel off each of them every day." At this juncture a stranger across the aisle said, "look here now, you've explained one text of scripture I never understood before—And Ananias came to (u)rth!"

Returning his main purpose, the speaker said no matter how rich the soil is anywhere, it will deteriorate without intelligent care. The single crop system will kill any soil. Citing southern Illinois, where past carolinas

BURKE GOT JUDGMENT

A jury in the justice court of W. J. Smith in this city Friday gave judgment of $167.50 in a case in which John M. Burke sued John Warren White for $250 alleged to be due for overtime. Aside from numerous details and certain questions of recollection, the main issue was with reference to the terms of the contract under which Burke was working on White's paper, the Bull Pioneer. White introduced a telegram from Burke for the purpose of attempting to prove that the latter agreed to do all the work in the office for $25 a week. Burke claimed that he was to work eight hours a day at the rate named, and that it was understood he was to get union rates of time and a half for overtime. The telegram was based on misconception of the amount of work to be done and did not bind him to do an unusual amount of work for $25 a week, which was somewhat below the union scale. The issue of mathematics arose over the amount of overtime that he would have coming under his understanding of the agreement, or whether he actually worked full time.

The jury took a neutral view to the apparent dissatisfaction of both parties.

MISS PORTER PASSES AWAY

Louise Ida Porter, aged 45 years, died at her home on Fifth avenue, in this city, Friday, and was interred in the Twin Falls cemetery the following day. She leaves a sister, Miss Helen Porter, who is a teacher in the high school here. Miss Porter was a woman of rare intellectual attainments and scholarship, and was at one time teacher of Greek in Western college of Oxford, Ohio. Following a stroke of paralysis, her health gave way and she was compelled to retire. She never fully recovered and has been an invalid for a number of years. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. J. Bent, of the Methodist church, of which she was a faithful and consistent member.
