C. A. Jungst braved the storm all the way from Twin Falls, Idaho, with a car of cattle, says the Portland Live Stock Journal Monday. Mr. Jungst sold 14 cows for $6.75 per cwt., which is the highest price for cows for many moons. The steers also sold high at $7.50 per cwt.

The receipts today were only those that could get from nearby points. Lines are beginning to open up and railroad advices say that shipments are moving out of both Washington and Seattle. During the week two calves sold Monday not more than two or three carloads of cattle all told could get from the state. Packers, of course, were unable to move but very few cars of beef, making demand very light.

Today, July 44 head of cattle were on the market. One Idaho sheep and a valley shipment divided evenly between abate and steer stuff.

Part of the cows at $6.75, making a new high level for cows. Some very ordinary steers negotiated a $7.00 price, which was good for the quality shown.

With only one carload of "Valley" hogs on the market this morning prices are quoted very strong by all buyers. Just to what level the market will force hogs is not known, but

UNITED GOOD ROADS AND PREPAREDNESS

Senator Lane of Oregon has Plan to Improve Highways and Drill Men at the Same Time.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senator Lane has made a formal statement on his attitude toward military legislation as follows:

"I am opposed to the creation of a large standing army, which, in addition to being a burden on the people, I fear will be used to override the liberties and rights of the citizens of this country.

"I will favor an endeavor to secure an amendment to the bill to collect from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 men, who are to be trained for six to nine months, pay them ruling wages and employ them in building highways across and through the country, at the same time training them in rudimentary military tactics say two days each. By pursuing this course we can turn out 1,000,000 healthy young men each year who would not be ruined by life in barracks and we would secure the roads which for badly needed.

"One man in a trench armed with a machine gun can defend 100 men marching in dress parade order against him, and the old order of bayonet drill and foot drill is a relic of the past and has gone never to return.

"In regard to the navy I would say that as many millions of dollars have been frittered away and lost by paying extortionate overcharges for an inferior quality of armor plate for battleships, and for munitions of war to private contractors that I am not in favor of throwing away another dollar in that way. We have expended $100,000,000 for munitions of war and have been left defeated.

"I would be in favor of a bill providing for government construction and equipping of all vessels and armor plate, powder, mines, aeroplanes and other munitions of war, and for the purpose of safeguarding this country from invasion."

PYTHIANS HAVE CELEBRATION

About one hundred Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters gathered at the hall Wednesday night to celebrate the city's first anniversary of the establishment of the order. A big supper was served by the Sisters and this was followed by a dance and card playing which continued until about 1:00 o'clock Thursday morning.

WOOL CAR PROVES GREAT ATTRACTION

Many in Car Every Minute From the Time of Arrival Until Night—Many Valuable Suggestions Made.

The government wool car was crowded all Wednesday afternoon by men, women and children, many students from the high school visiting the car. L. L. Heller, who had charge, was interested in getting the main idea to his visitors, which was that in wool raising discrimination should be shown in selecting the sort of sheep that would get the best results. For instance in this territory the larger shrinkage in fleeces would more than offset a difference of sixteen cents a pound in price over the longer, braded wool, so that the former wools would shrink less and be the most profitable. However, he insisted that there should be a breeding to a grade of sheep that would produce fine wool, with small shrinkage.

The difference between good and ordinary alras was strikingly shown in figures, indicating enormous loss for those keeping the common kind. Many suggestions were made in regard to matters of detail. For instance, Mr. Heller showed that the cost of branding with insoluble paint was very large. Branding on the shoulder is necessary and it is at that point that the wool is finest. Soluble branding liquid comes out and leaves the wool as valuable as ever while the insoluble sort practically destroys the finest fleeces on every sheep branded with it.

Shrinkage, grade, strength, character and preparation were all considered and lastly explained over and over again. A number of sheep were brought in to illustrate the differences of wools. Mr. Heller also showed methods of determining values of different wools so that the sheepman would be able to determine the value of his product and not depend wholly on the wool buyer. In regard to some of the matters under discussion, Mr. Heller said:

"The staple wool quoted at 70 cents (secured) if it shrink 60 percent, would be worth 20 cents in the fleece. The wool of the same quality, but with a great deal of shrunken wool, with little or no shrunken wool, is found to average better than others in the flock of clean wool and in the way the sheep are bred and cared for. The strength of the wool depends upon the feeding and care of the sheep and upon the breeding and selection of the flock. The character of the wool depends largely upon the breeding of the sheep and to some extent upon the care and feed. Wools of the best character run from 3 to 4 cents above those of poor character. (Selling, etc.)" "Suppose sacks or bales for 'blacks,' buckles, lamb's wool, etc., to the advantage of both seller and buyer. If wool is properly graded when shorn it can be sold without further handling in the warehouse. Had some of the wool been entirely given to the use of wools for some kinds of goods."

The wool car visited Buhl Tuesday and Kimberly Wednesday morning.

HUNDRED BOGS LESS AS RESULT OF CRUSADE

The unannounced dogs in and about the city have been reduced to three canines who have become wary and buyers. If wool is properly graded when shorn it can be sold without further handling in the warehouse. Had some of the wool been entirely given to the use of wools for some kinds of goods."

MOVABLE SCHOOLS

That there was a large attendance at the monthly schools in Kimberly, Buhl and Buhl, and that great interest was manifested, is the report given by Dr. L. C. Hendrick, of the Bureau of Animal Industry. The Buhl meeting continues the rest of the week but the others are closed.

BIG SHOW PLANS TAKING SHAPE

O. S. L. Promises Rate of Two Cents Per Mile For Occasion

OLIVER TABERNACLE TO HOUSE
IDAHO'S FIRST AUTO SHOW.

Cars of All Sizes and Makes Will Be Shown. All Space Sold. Elaborate Arrangements Planned.

Idaho's first automobile show will open March 20th in this city in the Oliver-Butler tabernacle and will continue for one week. There will be exhibited at this show the greatest variety of makes and models that have ever been gathered together anywhere in the inter-mountain country. About forty different models will be shown, including all the different types of bodies and engines, from the largest twelve-cylinder, seven-passenger touring car, down to the smallest four-cylinder, two-passenger motor cycle. There will be cars of two, three, four, five and seven-passenger capacity and with motors of four, six, eight and twelve cylinders.

Perhaps the most noticeable feature of this year's cars is the reduction in size. This is the result of the standardization of manufacturing operations. Next to this feature is the increase in the number of cylinders, the great majority of the cars to be exhibited having at least six cylinders, and from that on up to twelve.

Many of the mechanical changes are not particularly noticeable to the layman who are struck by the more apparent improvements in the design and construction of bodies. Riding in these models is much more comfortable than in the older types. Decorations have reached a higher plane, if possible, than last year. Up-to-date styling has been incorporated in the new models, and they are provided with a view to meeting every slightest need of the motorist.

The Twin Falls show has been arranged to give concerts during the evening of the show, and other entertainment features will be provided. These cannot yet be announced.

Decorations and lighting effects have been arranged and will be especially white. And to cap the climax, the management announces that the usual admission fee for automobile shows will be cut in half, the universal accepted charge being fifty cents, while for the Twin Falls show it will be twenty-five cents.

Word has just been received from D. J. Ward, general passenger agent of Oregon State, that a special rate of two cents per mile will be granted from all points on the Minidoka branch for the benefit of all those who wish to attend the show. The rates dates on which these rates will be available will be announced later.

THREATENED FLOOD IN CITY AVERTED

Street Commissioner and Force
Fight Water Several Days

CANAL BREAKS SOUTH, AND EAST OF TOWN FLOODING LOW LANDS.

After a battle lasting several days, the city, represented by Street Commissioner Porter and his force, succeeded in stopping the further advance of water and unless the flood was heavily reinforced by further rains, the city will be spared a serious inundation. The overflow of the floodgates on the Klamath river, which caused the overflowing of the ditch east and south of town Wednesday afternoon, and as a result of the stoppage of the culvert under the Oregon Short Line tracks, back water flooded the Twin Falls Sash and Door factory yards, causing a temporary suspension of work. The land in the immediate vicinity of the factory was also under water. The big ditch at the corner of Sixth and Washington, which was filled to the top and a rise of a few inches would have sent the water over the top. Fortunately there was no serious breaking up of ice until there was a big flood of water running down Sixth avenue North for a couple of days to the great inconvenience of the people in that part of town. Only a few private cellars in the city were flooded and there was no serious invasion of water into any strange cellar in the city, though several cases of flooding potato cellars and pits in the country are reported.

During the time that the snow was melting and until the situation was well in hand, Mr. Porter kept ten men busy, but cut the force to five Wednesday.

The water under the Sash and Door factory began to subside Thursday morning, when work was resumed. When at its height it was within two inches of the floor of the factory. The culvert which caused the trouble was an old wooden one, which caved in under the tremendous pressure of the water. It is still in bad condition but the water is finding a partial outlet around it.

The Twin Falls Canal company reported this morning that conditions are much better in the canals over the tract and that the situation was recovered as safe unless another big rain should happen. Up to date the only break has been the one in the high line near Buhl, mentioned in the last issue of the Times.

Federal Engineer Sloan of Boise was in this section attending the movable schools, was called Wednesday to hunt the location of four "wild" gauges located on the canal and on Rock creek, which had been swept away. He had found four of them at last report.

J. W. PRINGLE DIES SUDDENLY

AT HOME IN FAIRFIELD, IDAHO.
Word was received Wednesday by Mrs. F. W. Kendall that her father, J. W. Pringle, had dropped dead this morning at his home in Fairfield, Idaho, at the age of 66 years. The wife has been seriously and dangerously ill for some time and his death was daily expected, but Mr. Pringle's death was a sudden shock. He was also the father of P. J. Pringle of this city.

COVOTES ARE SCARCE ON SALMON TRACT

Deputy Jackson Gets Three Mid Ones
But But Gets to Black Butte Falls to Blight Any.

S. C. Stewart headed a party of 16 coyote hunters who went on a drive to the Salmon River valley, returning Wednesday. The party mapped out their course carefully and swept the country thoroughly on their way. They did not see a single coyote on the drive which indicates that the animals are getting scarce. Deputy Jackson, who went out in the week had better luck, as he located and killed three of the animals, all of which showed signs of rabies. However, these animals are a single coyote have been noticed prowling around and may have been among the last of the breed on the tract. The heads of these animals have been forwarded to Boise to verify the impression that they were made.

Used the Telephone Promptly and Prevented Serious Damage.

A small fire was started at 4:08 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the store of C. L. DeLong, who resides at 514 Third avenue North, by children searching for matches for an Indian suit. Some clothes caught. The children, who are about 10 years of age, and showed good judgment by telephoning at once to their father, who in turn telephoned to the fire station and the fire was extinguished. The fire was not serious.

LOCAL MARKETS FIRM

The local market for grain and other commodities was firm Tuesday. Wheat in bulk brings $1.50, and in sacks a nickel more. Oats bring $1.40 to $1.45, potatoes are commanding from $1.10 to $1.20. Steers show an upward tendency ranging from $5.50 to $5.75; cows and bulls bring $4.50 to $4.75; lambs from $6 to $7. Hogs are from $5.25 to $5.50.

DISTRICT COURT NOTES

Immediately on the completion of the case of C. L. DeLong, trustee, against the Idaho State bank in which judgment was entered for plaintiff, the district court took up the case of the Twin Falls Produce company against J. W. Sharrum. In this case the verdict was for the defendant. A jury then was empanelled in the case of D. L. Hocking against T. W. Potter, which is now on trial.

WILL REMAIN A MONTH

W. G. Sloan, government engineer, who has been chasing missing gauges for the past day or two, said yesterday that he would remain here for a month, following the big floods. Several foot bridges on Rock creek have been washed out and repairs are being made. Mr. Sloan has charge of government drainage work in Idaho.

DIRECTORY SUBJECT OF MUCH DEBATE

Question of Endorsing Advertising
For Directory Discloses Divergence
of Opinion.

The question of the binding effect of the decision of the advertising committee on forms of advertising which returned to endorse was the principal topic discussed at the meeting of the Twin Falls Association Tuesday night after a committee consisting of W. R. Pelebe, V. H. Decker and H. E. Fisher had been appointed to line up the members for Pay-up Week and to collect a fee of a dollar from each for current expenses.

The question relative to the interpretation of the by-law governing the vote of the advertising committee arose over a certain directory now being compiled. Lester T. Wright, manager of the Consolidated Wagon & Machine Co., contended that the action of the committee was directory and not mandatory, while others insisted that it was binding. In terms it is admittedly clearly binding, but the question being a legal one, they would not want to take action either approving or condemning it. Others insisted that it should receive an endorsement. The motion to endorse was lost on a tie vote.

The committee on Pay-up Week were instructed to canvass the city and put in banners and posters in the different stores and places of business.

SALMON RESERVOIR GAINS

Latest advices on the water in the Salmon river reservoir are dated February 6th, and indicate a gain during the preceding week of 540 acre feet. The water level is now 10 feet and the available storage water, 5,665 acre feet.

The recent thaw have no doubt increased this amount a great deal. On the tract the canals have been carrying considerable water, making it unnecessary for the Canal company to make a run of water for domestic purposes.

ROBERTED IN BATTLE LANE

At the conclusion of the preliminary hearing before Judge Sloan, the case of the Twin Falls Produce company against J. W. Sharrum, which was set for trial in the district court, was postponed to a later date. The case of the Twin Falls Produce company against J. W. THREE MEETINGS IN TABERNACLE SUNDAY Revival Will be Opened by Dr.

French Oliver in Morning

AFTERNOON AND EVENING MEETINGS WILL ALSO BE HELD.

Interest Increases as Time Approaches
for Opening of Great Religious Campaign.

There will be three big services Sunday, morning, afternoon and night at the Oliver-Butler tabernacle. The churches identified with the movement will hold no services except Sunday school. The hours for the services on Sunday will be 10 a. m., 2:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. The popular interest in the forthcoming revival grows by day. The word comes from localities where he has spoken and from a host of standing who have heard him, continue to be favorable to arouse interest of the people.

Dr. Cattle says of him:

"The effect of his message on an audience is most marked and incisive. He is a man of great power, of great force and decision for or against the right. He paints sin in deepest ebony and righteousness in brightest radiance. With an impossible gulf between. He uses no pseudonyms when dealing with sin. He forces the sinner to face his record and sin is classed according to its setting in the Word. All who want to get right with God are drawn with an ever growing esteem to the messenger. While those unwilling to be drawn are drawn into a bitter and violent denunciation. This is a high compliment to the divinity of his ministry. In an editorial the Eugene, Ore., Morning Register said:

"Dr. Oliver preaches the evangelism."

all yard traders predict a fair advance.

Trading has of necessity taken on an aspect of "watchful waiting."

Chicago telegraphic reports show a 5-cent higher market and Omaha lower.

There has been a very firm undertone to the sheepshow feeling all week. Lambs are strong at $3.65, which is the highest that have been at this time for several years. Choice yearlings at $7.75 and best ewes at $6.50.

Many sheep feeders are finding extreme difficulty in getting hay for feeding and are offering exceptionally high prices at feed lots.

Lambs are quoted by buyers for choice offering $3.75 to $3.90.

Wool values show a hardening tendency. The fact that the British government has prohibited export licenses favors the domestic grower. The New Zealand embargo applies to all wool not bought on the regular auctions before Jan. 10 and prevents access to a large quantity, estimated at seven to eight million pounds contracted on the sheep's back in that country—American importers are hopeful, however, that they will get licenses for all the wool they have made long.

QThe so-called "big institution" is not entitled to anything because of its size.

QAs a matter of fact, it is up to such an organization to prove that it deserves patronage as much as does the small individual merchant.

Too many times these larger institutions like ourselves, are simply too big to give painstaking care to small things.

Would Communicate With Twin Falls Young Men of Satisfactory Age With Matrimonial Intentions.

The fame of Twin Falls products which has gone abroad and has interested all sorts of desirable folks with a desire to settle with us has at last turned the fancy of the Minnesota maidens of these congenial climes, convinced of the advisability of residing with progressive people in the most prosperous agricultural section of the country, as will be seen from the letter published hereunder. Eligible bachelors who have found the young ladies of this country too obscure, an many fine fellows probably have, and who see no chance for local conditions—improving—with the temporary loss on their part of the right of taking the initiative, will no doubt investigate the prospects offered by the Janssen of Minnesota. The letter follows:

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 29, 1916.

Dear Sir: Owing to old legends and customs giving the gentle sex, on leap day the right to select their life companion: we herewith take the liberty to ask you to find space in your paper for this letter. A Minneapolis club of young ladies between the ages of twenty and thirty wish to correspond with several young bachelors in your city or immediate vicinity. We are of good character and between the ages of twenty-five and forty.

Kindly address Miss Ada Hughes, 1115 Harmon Place, Minneapolis, Minn., Apt. 4.

Boston Authority Says That Germany and Austria Will Absorb Surplus at Close of War.

BOSTON.—The copper metal supplies have been so thoroughly exhausted in Germany and Austria that following the end of the war those countries, normally very large consumers of copper, will quickly absorb any surplus which may have been contracted for by the manufacturers of the remainder of the world, and take enough in addition from the producers to keep the price at a relatively high level for two or three years thereafter.

BERGER

Times Special Correspondent.

Surely the backbone of a long continued drought has at last been broken. Snow and rain has continued falling for the past ten days with the result that a large area of the Salmon River tract is temporarily under water, and the Salmon reservoir is fast filling up. Judging from present appearances good character and between the ages of twenty-five and forty.

Optimism prevails everywhere. That there will be an abundant supply of water for all purposes this year does not assure us that there will be a sufficient supply of water in the future, nor does it settle our existing troubles with the land and water company.

Editor Twin Falls Times.

If the city council and mayor would pass an ordinance compelling people to clean the snow off their sidewalks, instead of spending a $1000.00 of the people's money for a Burns detective, which after two or three months they can't or won't explain what it was for, it would be more in keeping with what the people elected them for.

Girls have to walk nine to fifteen blocks and wade snow knee deep and stand and work all day with wet feet, because our council is too busy thinking up ways and means to get rid of a little negro of the people's money that

USE FOR A TARIFF COMMISSION.

Congress in the past has shown how much they know about the tariff. Everyone in the country's suspicion of political promises about the tariff. Tariff reform has come to mean granting government subsidies to the friends of the political party in power. It has had nothing to do with a scientific protection of weak but necessary industry.

It is hoped that the establishment of a permanent tariff commission will bring about a change from the traditional system of tariff making by special pull and permit the development of a system of adjustment based on broad principles of general welfare. It is improbable that congress will consent to give over its powers to a commission in any final way or confine itself self-denyingly to the mere enunciation of general principles. Those who hope the mere creation of a new piece of machinery will transform tariff making are doomed to disappointment. But a commission of sufficient weight, fortified in a reasonable independence and equipped with adequate means of inquiry, should be able to lay a basis of public judgment to which congress would be compelled in some measure to conform. The past selfish and chaotic scramble would be gradually mitigated and a fairly responsible process substituted.

A commission cannot bring about a tariff millennium, but it should improve conditions and put some check upon the tariff making of mere private privilege and greedy exploitation.

CLEAN AND WHOLESOME SONG PLAYS, LIKE
LITERATURE ARE IN POPULAR DEMAND

Successful issue. When it became known that the wonderful popularity of Gene Stratton-Porter's novel "Freckles" was an absolute truth, and that the book gaining entrance into thousands of homes, there were a number of New York producing managers, who immediately sought the dramatic rights to Mrs. Porter's story of the timberlost authors and copy-right owners of looks, however, with such popularity as this one are slow to relinquish their reward. Mrs. Porter knew the motto of the Broadway Amusement Co. firm: "Producers of Clean Plays," and they got the rights. The question arose who was to dramatize "Freckles," a book play must stick to the text of the story in both word and deed, and this requires more than a playwright. It requires a knowledge of stage intricacies and craftsmanship; Nell Twomey was given the assignment and went to work diligently; that she succeeded, even above the hopes of the producers, is attested by four first-class companies playing on this coast.

MISS KATHRYN CAMERON
With the New Song Play, "Freckles."

NELL TWOMEY'S dramatization of Gene Stratton-Porter's famous novel "Freckles," with all of its familiar characters and illustrative scenes will be presented for the first time at the Loring theatre, Monday, February 14th.

The trouble, time and expense necessary in staging a dramatization of some popular novel must be understood to be appreciated. It is a hard task, and there are few who possess the stamina to bring the work to a

The success of "Freckles" lies in its simplicity. There are no characters in modern fiction nor the stage, and the story is simple, nobility, sweetness and wonderful delineation as has been given Freckles and the Evans. Angel Mrs. Porter knows nature, she has lived all her life in the great timberlost region of Indiana, studying it and writing about it. She has achieved a position which can be disputed by none; her fiction and her plays are in popular demand.

BIG COMEDY NIGHTS AT THE 1916. DOUBLE BILL FRIDAY

Evermore Betts, a born gambler, a regular "take-a-chance fellow," is made in love with Julia Woodrow, the amateur champion heart breaker of North Chester county. Julia is ambitious for millions and a "title" and although she has smiled at Betts, she hasn't whispered the proverbial "This is so good."

Franklin Pimorris is the "hated rival" of Betts, with a more than even chance of capturing the "fair Julia." The two men make a wager of $10,000 and "the girl's hand" that one can beat the other in an automobile to Florida. A condition of the contest is that a car must be purchased by each one, but in no case must it cost more than $500. If anything happens to the car of either, the driver agrees to make the trip and enter the state of Florida in a vehicle of four wheels, not on rails, not propelled by steam, and not drawn by horses.

Betts appears in his wonderful "Ford Flivver" which he has borrowed the money to purchase. Pimorris, with his fine second-hand car, gets away to a beautiful start and soon leaves Betts far behind.

Betts experiences everything from a puncture to "general auto debility" right from the start and after growing gray nearly trying to make it work and mechanically "links the flivver" in a lake and is forced to grab himself a job with a traveling circus in order to get out of the degree of poverty. In this new and eventful life, risk, rise, is rapid—from feeder of lions, caretaker of elephants, etc. he is promoted to a position of a clown at the proper place for him to while away his conical ideas of life. All the while, unable to advance, he pictures the $10,000 dollars to Fitz for the wager and the loss of the lady's hand.

One day by chance, By-dar-Zee, a pretty circus girl, with whom he has spent much time learning to forget the "fair Julia," gives to the gambler, a sandwich wrapped in the indispensable newspaper. By-chance Betts reads in the paper that Pimorris has been held up in Georgia and that if he can get to Florida he has a golden chance to win.

He breathes his dark secret to By-dar-Zee and with her makes his escape from the ferocious circus boss and his outfit. Hugo, a discharged clown, learns of their whereabouts and informs the boss. The fugitives are traced to a small country town,

RUSCOE ARBUCKLE

RUSCOE ARBUCKLE, who plays the role of a funny fat boy in the Keystone-Comedies, made his first glimpse the light of day March 24, 1897, in Smith county, Kan. He then tipped the beam at sixteen and one-half pounds and now weighs 285. His first appearance as a subject for a hypnotist, when he was supposed to undergo the influence, led him to take up stage life. He then began singing illustrated songs. He was induced to add comedy to his singing by Leon Errol, who also assisted in his makeup for the first appearance. He made his first hit at Long Beach, Cal., in a musical comedy. In this same year, 1908, he met and married Minta Durfee. He played engagements with Ollie Morosini and with the Ferris Hartman Opera company. Then came the Keystone comedies in the well-remembered play, "The Gangsters." Arbuckle was in Salt Lake City for an hour or so last week. He, Mabel Norman and several other Keystone players, were here before trains on their way from Los Angeles to New York. They are going to do some pictures in the east. Be sure and see Fatty and the Broadway Stars at the Orpheum theatre, Friday and Saturday.—Adv.

where the boss-of-the-circus orders the whole town burned down to get his "crown" back. During the excitement of the blaze, Betts and By-dar-Zee again make a get-away and manage to eventually get to the state line of Florida which Betts crosses in a baby carriage with By-dar-Zee as his engineer. He collects the bet from "rival Fitz" and then gazes fondly at By-dar-Zee chooses her instead of the title-holding "fair Julia," whom he wishes on Fitz as a "booby prize."

FRED MACE, THE LIVES CHARMED LIFE

Fred Mace, the burly comedian, has found narrow escapes from under the thumb of the new-Keystone comedies. "Crooked to the End," which is to appear at the Orpheum theatre next Monday.

"Right at the start he" is nearly drowned when he gets under a water-spout near the station, where he is the agent. He goes back to the station and hangs up the overall to dry. As he has no other change, he does a night and crawls into bed. His slumbers are broken by his daughter, who calls him to his duties on the arrival of a passenger train. Mace has to officiate in his night apparel because some one has taken the overall. He finds the engine scaring him and makes him return them.

Mace's next half-baked escape comes when he goes fishing and is caught in the quickest with his reputation, the constable. Then Mace comes near being blown up with bombs in the hands of crooks when he finds the police in action as they pursue the robbers who are running away with his daughter and the station safe. However, Mace comes out safely and lives to give his parental blessing to the wedding of his daughter and the engineer.

SOME POINTERS ON DRY FARMING

Article in Western Farm Life Discusses Principles and Methods of Dry Farming.

The states adjoining the dry farming belt are always giving us hard knocks. It is not much to be wondered at, for it must be heart-breaking to see the younger generation leaving the old home and going farther west. There is a very good reason, however, for this exodus from the older states. The younger generation is willing to learn how to grow and conserve moisture already in some states they have doubled the crops, and as soon as they have mastered this they can come to Idaho, Colorado or any other good dry farming state and raise as big crops on ten dollar land as the old man at home is raising on hundred dollar land.

Henry Wallace of Wallace's Farmer on one of these busy commission organized for political effect, for which the people pay and for which they get nothing. We doubt if they ever get in touch with any reputable dry-farmer or procure any reliable data of the millions of dollars' worth of the beef, dairy, fruit and feed-products shipped from the dry farms of the west. Wallace says that while on that commission they inquired how much land was necessary for such a quantity of goods and he discovered that it didn't say from whom that at least 600 acres are required.

The writer corresponded on one of his Colorado farms in 1886 with 80 acres and sold out in 1914 with 1120. With fifteen cows, three or four heavy horses, chickens and bees, he made a living until he was able to acquire more land. Some years he sold a ton of honey, some years only a few hundred pounds. We fed two to horses and dry stock and some pigs ran to the stacks all winter and lived off the grain. One hundred chickens scientifically handled will add the grocery bill.

The dry farmer would plant on land plowed ten inches deep. It often grew from five to seven feet high and went several tons to the acre. Of course, we had very little pasture and a little outside range. On thirty or forty acres he would raise from fifty to one hundred tons of feed, corn fodder, wheat (always Turkey Red) for chickens, sorghum, and sorghum and alfalfa. If we had plowed like they do in Iowa, or broke the sod two inches less in some wonderful system of dry farming recommended, we would have gone broke at the start. We broke sod sometimes ten inches deep, doing only one-

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB ENJOYS USUAL PROGRAM
At once entertaining and educational was the current topic program at the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon, under the supervision of Mrs. S. S. Humphrey, who was an opening number, called on Miss Tensdale for a singing solo, which was executed in that young lady's usual artistic style. Mrs. J. C. Deane then reviewed current topics in general, choosing the most important and opportune and in closing her paper referred to the aufferage situation in some of the eastern states. Mrs. Deane read a letter from Governor Alexander, in answer to queries made by eastern women regarding the effect of eastern suffering in Idaho, in which the chief executive gave his hearty recommendation.

Mrs. P. C. Igebo, in writing on "Self-Defense and Invention," gave some very interesting facts concerning recent remarkable discoveries and enlightened her listeners on many of the inventions to which they had previously given little thought.

The leader announced that it was her intention to give a patriotic turn to the remainder of the program and that Miss Tensdale had consented to play "Star Spangled Banner" by way of introducing the program in a patriotic mood. Edwin Markham's "Ode to

SOCIETY NOTES

Society items for this column will be gladly received by The Times, Phone 125-W. The Society Editor.

Miss Grace Bower and Miss Marie Wood have issued invitations for a Valentine party.

Miss Belva Pearson will entertain a number of friends Saturday evening with a Valentine party.

Mr. and Mrs. Peavey entertained with a second informal dancing party Saturday evening, concluding with a supper at midnight.

The leading society event for this week will be the Colonial ball given by the ladies of the Twentieth Century club in the high school auditorium Friday night of this week.

The Sewing club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. T. O. Brown at the Bonelli flats last week. The evening was devoted as usual to sewing and conversation and at the close light refreshments were served.

The Kimberly Road club held their regular election of officers at the home of Mrs. McMillan, Wednesday, February 2. Mrs. Martin was elected president, Mrs. Ross, vice-president, Mrs. Crawford, secretary, and Mrs. Stearns, treasurer.

The regular meeting of the M. C. T. club, was held at the home of Mrs. J. Evans, Wednesday, February 2nd. The members were present, Mrs. T. A. Reed had high score and was given the usual club prize, a hand-painted plate.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. W. L. Glasgow entertained the members of the "Walden" club at the home of Mrs. Chas. The ladies enjoyed a bobbed ride to get to the meeting, as the snow was too deep for pleasant walking. Sewing and conversation made up the entertainment for the afternoon, after which a delicious luncheon was served.

Another very enjoyable party, complimentary to Mrs. Chadwick, guest of Mrs. C. A. Robinson, was the luncheon given by Mrs. E. L. MacVicar last Friday. A six-course luncheon, carrying out a dainty color scheme of pink, was served at one o'clock. Pink carnations formed the centerpiece and pink place cards completed the artistic effect.

In honor of her guest, Mrs. E. F. Chadwick of Boise, a former resident of Twin Falls, Mrs. C. A. Robinson entertained a few friends with an informal tea, Tuesday, February 1st. The tea table, presided over by Mrs. Fanning and Mrs. Chadwick, was especially artistic with a color motif of pink. In the center was a large cut-glass punch bowl holding a pink cranberry sauce. The lighted candles in pink shades.

Mrs. G. F. Baker was hostess at two luncheons last week, one on Friday and the second on Saturday. Sixteen guests were seated at the table each day. Pink was the color scheme used and this was most effective in the centerpieces of carnations, twined with sprays of Wandering Jew; the table and the pink candles in pink shades.

On Friday, Mrs. Senior and Mrs. W. T. Wood, assisted in serving the six-course luncheon and on Saturday Mrs. Buller and Miss Marjorie Baker assisted. Luncheon was followed by bridge. Miss Jane Maxwell had high score. Friday and Mrs. L. P. Morse, for Saturday, each receiving a dainty embroidered towel edged with pink crocheted lace.

The ladies of the Twentieth Century club are working hard this week getting everything in ship shape for the colonial ball. A large number will be in costumes and the exhibit number, which is being rehearsed under the supervision of Madame Cookerly at her dancing studio, as well as the circles, are said to be well worth the effort, to say nothing of the splendid musical program. The ball will be appropriately decorated and a reception committee will be on hand to make the guests welcome.

The public is asked whether having received an invitation or not, will be admitted to the gallery on payment of 25 cents. Dancers who have received invitations will be admitted to the floor after the exhibit dance. Costumed dancers, though they may not participate in the exhibit dance, may join in the grand march.

G. H. Smith filed Friday answer in the suit brought against him for $485 commission on a real estate transaction, asking that R. M. Wilson, R. C. Letch be made parties to the suit in order that the rights of all parties alleged be entitled to commission be determined.

Hall returned Saturday from a business trip to the state capital, and now finds quite a lot of unusual work here as superintendent of the Canal company in keeping the ditches open sufficiently to carry off the flood water, the result of the thaw which has kept up for a week following the severe snow storm of the first few days of February.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Craven of Twin Falls, returned home Thursday after a few days as guests of relatives at the Craven hotel.

Ex-Postmaster Graham is back here looking the boxes after a visit of several weeks with friends and relatives in Kansas.

So far as can be told now, there is good prospect for winter wheat. The farmers are feeling hopeful about their work and crops for the year 1916.

Dr. J. H. Smith of Twin Falls is calling on patients here at the Craven hotel.

ENGINEERS ENDORSE PLAN FOR WATER COMMISSION

BOISE—The creation of a state water commission was asked of the legislature by the Idaho Engineers and Operation conference, Saturday, in a resolution which met unanimous approval. The commission according to the resolution, should have absolute power in the administration of the public water of the state, another clause proposing an amendment to the constitution to take the method of securing a water right by appropriation and use.

The commission would be composed of three members, one from the state engineers, the others named by the governor for six-year terms, one to be appointed every three years. In addition to the power of appropriating the waters of the state, the commission would adjudicate the waters and fix their duties.

SHORT LINE FOR SHEEP KILLED

Al. Houghton Asks Damages For
About $2000. For Alleged Negligence Company.

When sheep valued at $1000
were destroyed by dogs at Piller on December 29, through the failure of the Short Line to properly control its sheep pens, A. L. Houghton, of that town, wishes to claim damages of $2000.00 for which he has taken action in the district court by Houghton, Houghton & DeLong.
The complaint asserts that the dogs got into the yard through an opening left in a fallen plank and that a deposit of $2000.00 was made to get in. He states that this condition of affairs is known to the company.

SWARMS WITH SPIES HIS LIFE EXCITING

Baltic Ports Crowded With Agents of Many Nations.

Heroes, Too, Smugglers, Exchange
Gamblers and Fugitives Are There.
—Many Women in "Trenches"
of Secret Workers.

Stockholm.—Just now the Baltic is the sea of adventure. Normally it is a dull, insipid sea. "After war" began the Baltic woke up a little, but its liveliness was ignited by Great Admiral Tirpitz's command of the sea.
Now about ten British submarines,
backed by some Russian submarines,
have awakened the ogrely quiet waters. All the ports are nests of espionage, adventure, intrigue, bor-neal and rogues, chiefly the last named.

Stockholm ignores the war, but it is full of Russian and German jobs who gamble in exchange. Copenhagen is the chief center of German espionage.
The saloons and fourth-rate hotels are thronged with German agents.
Liban, Alfred von Hinderburg captured in 1914, is the headquarter of a German motorboat corps
which does scouting in the Baltic.
Helsingfors, Oulu and other small Swedish eastern ports are the homes of scores of marooned German merchant captains whose ships have been torpedoed or beached.

The liveliest places are Haparanda and Tornaa, frontier towns on the Tornea River, which divides Sweden from Russian Finland. These towns, 20 miles from the Arctic circle, are crowded with spies, contraband smugglers and fugitive prisoners. The Russian gendarme Colonel Alabov discovered two German spies in Tornaa recently. One of the gen-darmes he pursued the suspects to Karungi, further up the river, and besieged them in a house. After a two hour battle the two Germans and four Russian soldiers were killed.

In coming here from Copenhagen, via Malmö, one has to cross the sound, the entrance gate of the British submarine. The sound is an international waterway, but it is also territorially, being less than three miles across at the narrowest point. The Swedes own the east side and the Danes the west. The other entrances, the Great and Little Belts, which are anciently owned by Denmark, were mined against submarines in October, 1914.

Danes and Swedes could not agree about mining the sound. The Swedes regret this for the submarines have disturbed the halcyon calm of the Baltic and injured Sweden's trade with Germany.

After England had got at least four submarines through, Germany mined the sound. Mines were placed in a big triangular patch in the south and German patrol boats were not to watch
it. At least two English submarines have got between or under the mines and more may come any day.

From the Malmö steamer could be seen Germany's tremendous measures against submarines. South of the mine field, on the horizon, is a fleet of motor and torpedo boats belonging to the big flotilla of cruisers, gun-boats, armed trawlers and motor patrol boats. Their business is to watch for and destroy submarines that get past the mines. Ahead of the flotilla was a hydroplane. The hydroplanesteamer captain said that when he had sailed a boat south a few days before he had counted about fifty German craft of different kinds all on the lookout. From the sound down to the broad water between Sweden and Rügen Island every mile of sea has a small German warship on the watch.

At Copenhagen the police brought aboard for transit to Russia an alleged spy. In the Baltic ports are aware of purely military and naval spies who serve belligerent governments, many "trade spies," and large numbers of spies of the neutral Baltic powers whose trade is spy—spies.
The trade spies, all British, keep numerous ports. Their function is to collect facts about Scandinavian firms'
trade with Germany, which firms trade, what they sell and to whom.
London takes care that overseas goods consigned to Scandinavian firms which trade with Germany do not reach the firms. The trade spies pose as language teachers or drummers. Many have been expelled.

Mlle. Ansgaard, a handsome, black-eyed Russian girl, who, posing as governess, spied on a great scale, was expelled recently. The spies who spy on spies are mostly Swedish. They watch all foreigners, particularly those who speak English. Two days after an Englishman reached Stockholm he visited a dentist. Half an hour later an agent telephoned to the dentist to ask who his patient was.

Copenhagen is the center of the false passport business. Dances point to the Cosmopolite hotel and say:
"There can be had passports of any nationality." The false passport business was started in order to save Russians from capture by German cruisers.

Indiana Full Citizens.
Piero, S. D.—It is reported from Cheyenne reservation that more than seventy-five Indians had been given full citizenship in the past few days.
The Indians are very anxious to be given full citizenship and title to their property. With this privilege the Indian obtains all the rights and has placed upon him the responsibility of any other citizen of the state, including the payment of taxes.

VICTIM OF AUTO DISEASE

Petromortis, or Automobile Gas Poisoning, Kills a Chicago Lawyer.

Chicago.—Eugene M. Bumpfrey, a lawyer, is dead at his home here of what physicians term petromortis, or automobile gas poisoning. According to physicians, it is the first fatal case
in Chicago from that cause.

An idea of the violence with which petromortis attacks its victims was given by Dr. John D. Ellis, head of the department of occupational diseases of Rush Medical college.

"The thing is now to science in admo aspects," said Doctor Ellis. "Persons who are subject to vertigo may be attacked when in a close, small garage. The danger lies in a failure of some elements in the gasoline to oxidize. In any event, there is a quick suffusion of a violent gas that renders the victim faint. Thus if the exhaust of an automobile continues,
the result is almost instant death."

The post-mortem showings are those of brain and lung congestion.
Bumpfrey went to his garage last night to get his automobile, in which he intended to deliver a number of Christmas gifts to his family. An hour later his body was found on the floor of the garage, the engine of the automobile was running, and the small room was filled with gas fumes.

BRIDE PAYS HALF THE BILL

Miss Mabel Jacobson Started in With Sharing All Charges With Future Husband.

Denver, Col.—Financial equality between husband and wife was advocated by Miss Mabel Jacobson, daughter of Mrs. C. H. Jacobson, acting president of the Housewives' league, and Earl E. Lee of Victor, Colo., when each laid down $125 for their respective shares of the marriage license a few days ago.

"Come through with $125," said the groom when he learned the price of the matrimonial permit. Miss Jacobson "came through" with her half and the prospective bridegroom initiated a life of salary-splitting by his own contribution.

They had agreed to share the expense of the wedding and started with the license. When they met the minister some time later they had to go to a corner drug store to get change
before the ceremony could proceed.

Each owned a half interest in the gold band, which, on the bride's left third finger, announced the knot was tied.

LIVES ON 15 CENTS A DAY

Student at the University of California
Says It's Easy If You Know How.

Berkeley, Cal.—Miss Berna Rudovic,
eighteen, a freshman at the University of California, has discovered a method of defeating the high cost of living.
Since August she has subsisted on 15 cents a day, or $1.05 a week.

According to Miss Rudovic, who has been supporting herself since she was twelve, it is easy if you know how.
Eggs, bread, chicken, soup, meat, steak and milk are on her menu, which she keeps within the 15 cent limit.

Miss Rudovic recommends her diet
only for those of sanguine temperament.

SWISS INSURE ART OBJECTS

People of Basel Fear Bombs of War
"Air Pilots"—Take Policies for Million and Quarter.

Basel, Switzerland.—A million, and a quarter dollars' insurance against damage to artistic treasures as the result of air raids has been taken out by the Swiss government and citizens of Basel. A great many valuable paintings, tapestries and art objects have been taken from museums and private houses and placed in cellars since the dropping of bombs at Chaux-de-Fonds by German aviators who had gone astray. The passage of French or German aviators near Basel is now almost a daily occurrence.

Five Cents a Week.
Senator Kern of Indiana has found recollections of the small schoolhouse where as a boy he earned his first nickel. He agreed to build a fire in the schoolhouse stove every morning at least an hour before the opening of school, and to sweep up once a day. For this work he received five cents a week. He still feels that he earned it.
