ACCUSED TAKEN IN SAN FRANCISCO BY GRAND JURY.

Over Score of Indictments Against Immigration Officials Charging Attempts to Bring in Chinese.

SAN FRANCISCO—Fifty-nine federal indictments—32 charging violation of American neutrality directed against high German consular officials here, the Turkish consular general, steamship agents, and 27 against immigration officials in connection with the attempted smuggling of 86 Chinese into the United States last November from the Pacific coast steamer Mongolia—were in the possession today of the United States district attorney's office. It was said that they would be returned in open court tomorrow when arrests would follow.

The indictments against the German consular officials, who include Franz Bopp, the consular general, were voted yesterday by the federal grand jury as a result of the nation-wide investigation by the department of justice of the bomb plots and neutrality violations which involved interference with shipments of munitions of war to the allied governments and the French fleet of coal and supplies to German warships in the Pacific. The indictments are the first the government has attempted to obtain against official representatives of any foreign power in connection with its efforts to curtail the activities of persons engaged in the alleged smuggling of munitions.

The indictments voted against immigration officials and steamship men followed a searching inquiry into reports that a wholesale traffic in contraband aliens was being carried on with the help of steamship officers and the connivance of federal officials. United States district attorney J. W. Preston, said that J. F. Boyce, assistant United States immigration commissioner, four immigration inspectors, and a customs house broker, M. M. Hunt, Robert Paul, J. J. Richards, W. S. Scott, officers of the Mongolia, as well as Chinese, were among those indicted.

While the indictments against the consular officials were not unexpected, some consular officials expected today over the large number of true bills, which indicated, it was said, that the government had completed the San Francisco investigation of the conspiracy plots. The following were among those against whom indictments were voted:

Franz Bopp, consular general of Germany; Baron E. H. von Schack, vice consul for Germany; H. W. K. Kaufmann, chancellor for Germany; Maurice Maurer, consul general for Turkey; Frederick Jebens, former owner of the steamer Mactel; Johann H. H. Koelgen, alleged agent for the German consulate; John and Julius Rothschilde, wholesale grocers; George and James Hood, steamship agents; Captain H. Capa, general agent of the North German Lloyd Steamship company.

LIGHT GARRISON'S ADDRESS AT AUDITORIUM SATURDAY EVENING

Unpreparedness in the Past Calls
Loudly For a Real Military Policy of Readiness at All Times in Future.

On last Saturday evening a dozen civil war veterans, escorted by Company B, National Guard, directed the opening service in the tabernacle, in which about 1,500 persons participated.

The splendid chorus, whose singing reflects great credit upon those who had charge of its preliminary training, sang a series of songs. The people were gathered: Mr. Butler, the director of music, in a delightfully unaffected and spontaneous mood, sang partly of the heart of every patriot, and partly of the heart of every soldier. The voice of Mr. Butler's baritone voice of marvelous richness, coupled with his compelling personality, was at once the heart of every patriot, and the voice of every soldier. He was joined at times in the singing by his charming wife, who has a contralto voice of wonderful mellowness and beauty. The enthusiastic applause of the audience was highest, however, at the times when these two sang. Mr. MacLaren, the Scotch soprano, sang, too, for exquisite harmony. Mr. MacLaren was accompanied by a large orchestra of local talent, with Mr. Fath at the piano. Mr. Fath is a musician and a good singer. SHEEP DAMAGED LITTLE BY SNOW

Prominent Owner of Flocks Says But Few Died and Even Herds Caught in Storm Were Brought Out.

"That most of the sheep in southern Idaho was properly cared for and therefore were unharmed by the storm and that even those which were caught out in the snow were in most instances saved by systematic effort, which kept down the mortality of the flocks, was the statement made to a Times representative Saturday by C. L. Williams of Shoshone, one of the largest sheep owners in this part of the state, who was on his way to spend a few days at Bull Lake, his home in the Snake valley.

Mr. Williams said that the snow did no damage whatever to the sheep that had previously been provided with sufficient food, but some owners had allowed herds to remain away from a base of supplies and when the storm came they were in a predicament. However, the men in charge were prompt in getting out with oil cake and corn and feeding the animals all of them. The effect will, Mr. Williams fears, be felt in some of these flocks at lambing time, as the ewes are weakened by the exposure and he thinks will be heavier than they otherwise would have been unless the weather hereafter should be unusually favorable. However, the loss as a result of the storm will be small in any event.

Mr. Williams says that conditions around Shoshone are much worse than here and the snow was still deep there when he left. He was surprised to notice that there was little snow here and that the weather was better than at the frost arrested the sheep. All anticipate a big year and bumper crops.

LOCAL MARKETS FIRM.

There has been no change in local markets, since the last issue of the Times—Wheat in bulk brings $2.50; flour in sacks at $1.15; potatoes at $1.40 to $1.45; potatoes at $1.10 to $1.20; steers show an upward tendency ranging from $1.10 to $1.20; lambs from $1.20 to $1.30; hogs from $1.10 to $1.20; and eggs from $1.10 to $1.20.

WATER ASSESSMENT SUITS SHOW ACTIVITY

Canal Company Will Push Action
Brought in 1914 and 1915, for Alleged Non-Payment of Water Dues.

Papers will be issued within a few weeks for service on defendants in the suits filed in 1914 and 1915. The suits are brought by the Idaho Canal Company, which represents the Canal company, said Monday that he had paid since the suits were filed and that there were about 30 defendants left in the suit against Summers and others, and between 30 and 40 in the other cases. Mr. Bowen said that under the old law all parties delinquent could be joined, hence the number of separate actions under the old law. The fact that the company has determined to push the case to some conclusion will be welcomed by many, including a large number of those interested in the lands involved. The fact that an underwritten legal question as to the party on whom liability will fall, property transfers are difficult. Mr. Bowen said that summons would issue in the case against Summers, et al, as soon as they could be made out and in the other cases as soon as possible, early in the spring of the next.

Assertion Made That Oligastic Game
of Freeboot is Being Practiced Throughout District.

The small sheepmen of southern Idaho stated their vigorous protest relative to the alleged injustice of the continuation of the department of interior in giving prior rights to forest reserve ranges to big sheepmen at a meeting called for that purpose at Shoshone yesterday by Chief Supervisor Knipe of the Ogden district. Attorney E. J. Hetherington, who is interested in the sheep business, represented the small growers of the Twin Falls South Side and the Salmon Falls sections. All five supervisors of the district were present. Robert Campbell of Oakley, is a member of the body before which the hearing was held. The supervisors have no authority beyond the power of making recommendations to the interior department.

The small sheepmen put up the following plea for their side of the controversy, in given to The Times by one of their number: "When the government took possession of the forests and placed them under federal supervision they found certain sheepmen pasturing vast flocks on the territory included in the forest reserve. In order that utter chaos not succeed and that the grubs on the reserve not go to waste they gave what was known as prior rights to those then pasturing on the land in question. These rights, however, ran out from year to year and no voted into law or could be granted. In the course of time with the settlement of the country a condition was brought about

SECY. GARRISON LEAVES CABINET

President Accepts Resignation of Secretary of War

WASHINGTON—Secretary Garrison has resigned from the cabinet because President Wilson declined to insist without compromise upon the adoption of the continental army-plan by congress. The resignation was tendered and accepted Thursday night, with Mr. Garrison the assistant secretary of war, Henry Brickeridge, left the service to handle the presidential duties.

Today the president finds himself personally in charge of the administration's plans for strengthening the army and war department military policy. He has not selected a successor to Mr. Garrison, and it is regarded as probable that over the new head of the war department is named the president, who has made a careful study of the problem, will be a permanent factor.

The reasons for Secretary Garrison's resignation and its acceptance by the president are disclosed in lengthy correspondence made public between them. The correspondence revealed that while the secretary left the cabinet, Mr. Brickeridge, the president would not "irrevocably" support the continental army plan, his opposition to the "continental" program for setting a definite time for Philippine independence, as outlined in Senator Clark's amendment to the Philippine bill, was a major factor.

Secretary Garrison contended that only a federal continental army, instead of a recognized national guard, would be contented with the needs of the country, while the president contended that no one plan could be enforced upon congress. It was upon this point that the correspondence between the president and his secretary of war came.

Assistant Secretary Brickeridge, who had been Secretary Garrison's ally, resigned because of loyalty to this chief.

His resignation was also accepted. Major General Scott, chief of staff of the army, automatically became secretary of war ad interim.

Before any speculation here today over a possible successor to Secretary Garrison—Those talked of most prominently in that connection are Representative Stephen P. Knapp, chairman of the house fortifications subcommittee; Secretary Lane in the interior department, and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy department.

It is expected that the president will appoint a successor immediately.

While Secretary Lane was being considered in official circles as a likely choice, it was understood that the president had been considering the names of two or three other men, and will not make an appointment before weighing their qualifications carefully.

"BOIL YOUR WATER" IS ADVICE GIVEN

Water Taken From Hydrants Not Thought Safe—Free City Well Again
Opened to the Public Every Day.

"Boil your water," is the counsel given by the public health committee of the city council in regard to the muddy condition of the city supply since the opening of the city well. All been swept clean and in spite of any filtering to which the water may be subjected, it is far from clean in appearance. Pending the installation of the new water system, the city legislators do not wish any bad effects to come to the people through the use of the old supply. During the winter the water is fairly safe without boiling but in the present condition it is unusual and while it is safe to drink, it is not safe to use for cooking. Any one who takes the opinion of the city authorities.

The free water well at the city barn has been open since the installation of weather began, was put in operation again this week by Street Commissioner Porter and will be open to the public every day. Any one who takes the opinion of the city authorities.

SUCH ASSISTANCE A SAFEGUARD AGAINST POLITICIANS.

Plan Would Provide That Government
Expend Amount Equal to That of States in Constructing Highways.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Gradually and insistently the federal aid in good roads question has approached a definite expression which will be embodied in legislation adopted by the present congress. The comment of Chairman George C. Ditch of A. A. National Good Roads board, in reference to the multiplicity of highways measures which have been introduced in the nation's legislative mill in Washington, D. C.

"The concern of the motor car owner, despite any assertion to the contrary and borne out by the exact facts, is the same as that of any other citizen. Because of greater opportunity of observation and a yearly mileage which disintegrates township, county and state lines, the user of the self-propelled vehicle has realized in advance of other road travelers that multiplying population and the increasing requirements of comprehensive intercourse have revolutionized highway construction and maintenance methods.

"The state must now approach the problem from the viewpoint of the necessity of the commonwealth and must relieve the counties of these thoroughfares the cost of which has become crushing. It is a matter of the swelling streams of travel from tributary roads, making the roads from modern building and upkeep.

"So great has this call from the counties accumulated that the states now approach the federal source for co-operation essential to the healthful development of the nation. Neighboring once restricted itself to localities within the ability of the mass of private enterprise to handle. Economical form of transportation for humans and the exchange of commodities is astoundingly accelerating. To not reckon with the changed conditions, is worse than standing still.

"The bills now pending in congress are drawn from the best of the highways shall be improved which are

BANNOCK COUNTY JAIL

Four Prisoners Follow President and Take French Leave of Potatoes "This Jail."

POTATOES.—In a jail delivery at the Bannock county lockup last night four prisoners made their getaway and have not been apprehended. Escape was effected by sawing the rivets from a steel plate which covered a small hole in the floor of a cell, the plate was removed and a passage was then opened up under the cage to the east side of the large room which contains the prisoners. The prisoners then crawled back to the west side over the top of the cages, took the wire screening from one of the windows and down a passage which had been made of blankets.

Those who escaped are: Bill Kennedy, charged with the robbery of a merchandise store in the vicinity of Duffield; Carl Anderson, charged with burglary of a store at Soda Springs; Walter Sampson, charged with burglary of a store at Soda Springs; and Joe Russell, a Mexican charged with bootlegging. The remainder of the prisoners are to take advantage of the opportunity to leave.

Discovery of the occurrence was made by Night Auditor Bull who, realizing the situation, called South Fourth street stalling that three men known to be prisoners were in that neighborhood.

A small blade of a steel saw with an improvised handle of heavy wire was the only tool which was discovered in the jail. How this was secured by the men, the authorities have not been able to ascertain. The hole in the floor was one which was cut there about three years ago when another break was made.—Potatoe Tribune.

MAD COYOTE PLUNGES

THROUGH FARMER'S WINDOW

GOODING.—Ibald coyotes are abroad on the Gooding tract and several attacks upon domestic animals, and even upon people, have been reported during the past week. The most sensational case was reported by D. W. Keays, on Tom Creek, on which he is the head of a coyote to Dr. Cromwell, the county health officer. This animal, Mr. Keays reported, had entered the yard of one of his neighbors and sprang through the window of the house, to the terror of the inmates, but it was shot before it could bite anyone.

J. T. Patterson, living west of town, reported that a mad coyote entered his yard a few days ago and attacked the dog. Mr. Patterson proceeded to run and shot the beast.

J. N. Nutt, living south of town, started out with an axe to cut a hole through the ice of a pond and when on his way to the pond a coyote came toward him and attacked him. He dispatched the animal with the axe.

The heads of these three coyotes have been sent by Dr. Cromwell to the state board of health at Boise. The fear of these wild animals and their extreme boldness in attacking people and domestic animals are causing a great alarm among the settlers.—Gooding Leader.

WASHINGTON.—Rep. He says that as a delegate in any election of any delegate in any interest directly or remotely.

Justice Hughes' letter, made public with his consent, was in reply to a letter from Mr. Slomp which informed of the justice that Frank H. Hitchcock, postmaster general under President Taft, had been named as a candidate in the north favoring the justice for the Republican presidential nomination.

FEW INVOLVENCIES

FOR PAST JANUARY

Donn's Review Shows Lightest List of Failures Among Agents and Brokers Since January, 1909.

Owing to the strains incident to the annual settlements, some expansion in the country's business mortality is usually observed during January, but the numerical change in commercial failures last month was the smallest noted since 1909. The number of failures was 2,359 in January, and 2,359 in January, 1915; and these supplied an aggregate indebtedness of $25,863,286 against 1,704 for $19,000,274 in January, 1914; for $19,640,575 a year ago, 1,867 in 1913; for $19,374,347 and 1,814 in 1912; when the liabilities were $22,572,763. Apart from 1915, when the record was distorted by the effects of the economic disturbance caused by the war, the latest returns compare unfavorably in point of number with previous years, but the increase in defaults over the preceding month was less than at any time since 1909.

Analysis of the statistics according to occupation shows that there were 117 suspensions for $11,750,746 in manufacturing—the largest contrasted with 161 for $27,041,279 in 1915, 407 for $10,780,539 two years ago and 395 in 1913 for only $8,762,457, while reverses in the retail division numbered 1,476 and involved $12,360,558, against 2,184 for $20,227,896 in the previous year. For 1915, 1,399 in 1914 and 1,361 in 1913, when the aggregate debts were $10,889,112. Among agents, brokers and other concerns not properly included in other classes, such as trading, there were 28 failures for $1,443,003, these figures comparing with no fewer than 113 in 1915 for $2,371,400, 66 for $6,702,428 and 68 in 1913 for $3,321,300. In this class the liabilities were the lightest reported for the period since 1909.

Mr. J. A. Sinclair arrived home after an extended visit to the large eastern metropolis, including New York, Chicago, etc., and it is interesting to read his remarks in regard to present prices of cotton in the east. He says, "I saw how he gives a list of price comparisons, which he obtained from one of the large wholesale concerns in the east."

"Face thee well; the elements kind to thee and make thy spirits all of comfort," Shakespeare.

NONE OF OBJECTS OF WORLD WAR REACHED

THE HAGUE, Netherlands.—The great Socialist international is not dead but very much alive, according to a statement made to a congress of the Dutch Socialist party at Amsterdam by M. Camille Huysmans, the Belgian secretary of the International Socialist Bureau, whose seat was removed from Brussels to The Hague on the German occupation of the former city. If the Socialists had been at the head of the governments of Europe, the war would never have broken out, he believed, and he expressed the view that the lines of the political movement were gradually converging in a direction which would re-establish the unity of the proletariat throughout of world.

He maintained that none of the objects of the war had been reached, and pointed out that on July 1, 1915, some forty-one millions of soldiers would have been thrown away, and millions killed and maimed, as the result of an imprudent and unwise policy of the all-redeeming Socialist policy.

GEN STATE SPIRITS IN BIG DEMAND

"Chicago is just crazy about the big Idaho spud," said a man who has just returned from a trip to the Illinois metropolis. "It sounds like you are out here, but I actually say Idaho potatoes wrapped in parchment and exhibited in a grocery store window with a sign 'Idaho Potatoes, Five Cents Each.'"

"I talking with a commission man who buys from 14 to 20 carloads of potatoes each year. I learned the potatoes from this section have won a great reputation in the markets of the world. The better trade is clamoring for the Idaho potato."

"This same commission man told me that nowhere in the country can he buy potatoes that compare in quality and appearance with the potatoes from the irrigated sections of southern Idaho."

TESTS RIGHT TO TAX IN EXCESS OF STATUTORY LEVY

IDAHO FALLS.—A test case will be instituted to ascertain the right of the board of county commissioners to levy a tax in excess of the maximum fixed by law for special school purposes.

In school district No. 7, being the district located in the west end of Swan valley, the board of trustees submitted an estimate of the amount of money needed, which was in excess of the amount that could be raised by a ten-mill levy upon the property located in said district. The board of county commissioners, in order to raise for the district the amount of money which the trustees estimated was needed for school purposes, levied a special tax of thirteen and a half mills on the dollar.

It places the district in an embarrassing position. If the levy should be declared void, it will leave the district without money to carry on the school for the ensuing year.

WILSON POPULAR IN NEW YORK

That people regardless of party are enthusiastic over Wilson in the Empire state is the way that Judge Shank sized up the situation on his recent trip to Buffalo. He says that while there is not much war feeling, there is more interest taken in preparedness there than here. The war has been a little talk of Hughes among Republicans, the issue with them being principally Teddy or anti-Teddy.

RUPERT PLANS BIG FAIR FOR THIS FALL

Extensive Plans Being Made—Race Track Contemplated—Fair To Be Annual Attraction In Future.

RUPERT—That Rupert will have a bigger and better fair than ever is now an assured fact and many of the preliminary arrangements are completed, says the Pioneer-Record. Details are being worked out as rapidly as possible, and there will be a preliminary premium list issued in the near future. This will give information concerning the various crops and articles for which premiums will be given, and give all ample opportunity to prepare the entries. It is the intention of the new association to acquire grounds for a fair and they have their eye on seventeen acres north of the canal on A street. If this is secured a race track and all necessary buildings will be erected and everything put in ship shape for a fair.

LAMB PRICES ARE AT HIGHEST POINT

Record Made In Portland History—Hogs Advance—Cattle Prices Are Somewhat Weaker.

Lamb prices are at their highest point at this market, says the Portland Live Stock Journal, Monday. Quotations have been freely made for choice grade at 9 cents. Actual sales have been made this week at $8.35. Yearlings sold at the same time for $8.60. The supply of sheep of all kinds at course show up to very poor advantage on account of the poor traffic conditions that have prevailed.

General quality was very good, although limited. Hog receipts are very light, being in line with receipts of cattle and sheep. The advance has been 30c during the week. Bulk of the hogs have sold the last day or two at $7.85 to $7.95 with tops at $8.00.

General quality throughout the week has been good. Packers are anxious buyers at the advance. Eastern market shows slightly stronger, at Chicago and steady at Omaha.

In the face of materially smaller receipts as compared with two weeks ago and a year ago there is barely any improvement in the cattle market. Cows, heifers and common steers sold fairly steady, while the better class of steers were if anything somewhat weaker.

Receipts are expected to be heavier the end of the week. The first series of this year's wool sales here came to a close today, with all classes showing advances ranging from one-half to as high as four pence above the prevailing quotations of December.

The last day saw 3,746 bales offered without any change of price from the recent level. Charles Baine & Co., Jacob, Son & Co., and Duxton, Honald & Co., were the final day's brokers.

IMPORTANT RULING ON SCHOOL TAXES

District Judge Bothwell Holds Rupert District Can Levy More Than Eighteen Mills.

A decision which if not overruled by the supreme court may prove of importance to the several school districts of this state, has been handed down by District Judge Bothwell in which it was held that school taxes in excess of 14 mills could be collected by a district levying the same. The Rupert Pioneer-Record says in regard to it:

W. B. Hardy, clerk of Independent School District No. 17, on Saturday last received word that the Inland Empire sought against the district, suit for which was brought by the Oregon Short Line to enjoin the collection of all taxes in excess of fourteen mills, had been dissolved, District Judge Bothwell having rendered the decision favorable to the school.

The levy made by the school board was eighteen mills, four of which the railroad objected to paying. Last year they paid twenty and said nothing. It is not known whether the case will be appealed or not.

A real, authentic story of the big developments in sight for Twin Falls in the year 1916.

Entertainingly told in a Special Contribution to THE TWICE-A-WEEK TIMES, by E. V. BAXTER

EVERYBODY in this part of the country knows that the Magic City is going to excel even its own wonderful record during the next twelve months—a record that has already made the city and community famous throughout the continent.

Rumors of building activity have been persistent and some facts have been given, but it remained for THE TIMES to gather ALL the facts that can possibly be secured at the present time, to separate them from the rumors, and give its readers an authentic account of THE GREATER TWIN FALLS.

Several weeks ago THE TIMES engaged E. V. Baxter to secure the information for this story, and present it to TIMES readers. The contribution is from the pen of an experienced writer and appears in an original style.

To appear in The Times for February 18.

Realizing that this is the sort of an article Twin Falls people will want to send to their distant friends, a limited number of extra copies will be printed. These can be secured at 5c per copy at THE TIMES office. Not more than five copies will be sold to any one person unless previously reserved. The article is to appear in the regular edition of THE TIMES and can be secured in no other way. If you think you will want more than five copies you can reserve them by phoning THE TIMES office (Phone 38) before Thursday.

STATE'S RESERVOIRS MUST BE SAFE

California Disaster Mores State Officials To Instruct State Engineer To Inspect All Reservoirs.

"BOISE—Every public and privately owned reservoir used for the impounding of water in Idaho will be carefully investigated, and examined before the spring floods set in, by the state engineer so that there will not be reported in Idaho a similar disaster to the one that visited southern California. If it is within the power of the state to prevent it, State Engineer Smith will start soon on the trip of inspection and will have the assistance of an able corps of engineers.

The state land board decided at a meeting Saturday to take action of this kind. Idaho has numerous reservoirs, especially in the arid sections, many of which are made to impound water through the construction of dams. This is true with regard to irrigation project reservoirs as well as of reservoirs used for the impounding of domestic water for consumption in cities, towns and villages.

The heavy snows of the present winter are almost unprecedented in the history of the state. There is more snow on the water sheds of many of the valleys and of many streams than has fallen for years. There is also heavy snow on the lower lands in the valleys and along the plains. Spring will soon be ushered in over Idaho and the melting snows will cause swollen streams and fill many of the reservoirs to overflowing. The water later in the spring along the water sheds will start to drift a great surplus of water, much of which will be caught in the reservoirs. To be able to hold this surplus the reservoirs will have to be in the best possible condition. Should any of them be weak and break, disaster might follow, not only resulting in the loss of life, but damage to a great deal of valuable property.

BRITISH CAPTURE GERMAN RAIDER

Captor of Appam Is Taken by Armored Cruiser Drake 200 Miles From Bermuda.

NEW YORK—Advises received here assert that the German warship Hornet, alleged to be the captor of the U. S. ship, has been captured by the British armored cruiser Drake after a three-hour fight 200 miles east-northeast of Bermuda, according to a story printed by the New York Evening Globe.

The capture of the Hornet is said by the Globe to have been followed by the seizure of two merchantmen flying the German flag, one of which was armed. The story is contained in a message which the Globe states it received in code from a reliable source in Bermuda. The message reads:

"Drake here today, towing Hornet. Took her 200 knots east-northeast Bermuda, three hours' running flight. Lost Drake's eighteen men. Her losses about one-third. Struck as we came aboard. Two merchantmen with her, one armed. Took both. Brought aboard. German on lightning floor, said, 'Please God, today I will avenge Craddock.' Hornet badly knocked about by 8.2. Thirty-two officers and 715 men taken in the three prizes."

The German mentioned in the message is supposed to be Captain Seagrave, who was with Admiral Craddock when the latter went down with his flagship, the Goodhope, which was sunk in an engagement with a German squadron off Chile.

There is no doubt among the officers in the British navy list.

TRUSTEES MEETING AT BUHL SUCCESS

County Superintendent Noel Tells About Excellent Results From the Gathering.

The following account of the trustees' meeting at Buhl last week was furnished to The Times by County Superintendent Noel, who is enthusiastic in his praise of the gathering and of the reception given the teachers by the people of Buhl.

The trustees' meeting held at Buhl, February 7 and 8, was a decided success from the standpoint of interest.

Only sixteen trustees were present to take part in the meeting, some probably being kept away by the condition of the roads. Though few in number every one present put something into the meeting and got something out of it, no doubt. It would have meant much to the schools of the county if all the trustees had been present to consider school problems.

Dr. Sisson's address Tuesday evening, and talks to the trustees Wednesday, were very interesting and instructive. From his wide knowledge of school affairs in the state he was able to deal with facts and situations as they are not with mere opinions and theories.

F. L. Atkins gave a short talk on "School Revenue," which was followed by a lively discussion of how this should be apportioned.

C. H. McQueen spoke on "Records and Reports of School Trustees," explaining the excellent system used in the Buhl independent district.

Dr. D. F. Albee of Rock Creek, talked on "Holidays and Institutes, Their Cost and Value." Nearly every one present had something worth while on the subject.

It was agreed that the proper time for institute was before the beginning of school in the fall. It was the consensus of opinion that there should be some uniform practice in the county as to pay to teachers full or half time or no pay at all for the Christmas vacation, and that that time should not be considered a part of the school term.

President Axline of Albion, spoke on "The Qualifications and Salaries of Teachers," which was listened to with much interest.

The question of the qualification brought up the question of the selection of teachers which is the most important duty of a trustee. It was pointed out that trustees as a rule do not investigate the record of training and teaching experience of the applicant before hiring.

The following officers were elected: Dr. D. F. Albee, president; S. C. Diehl, vice president; O. G. Chamberlain, secretary.

Trustees in attendance, were: W. L. Eaton, Pleasant Valley; Dr. D. F. Albee, Rock Creek; S. C. Diehl and C. H. Taylor, J. W. Farin, M. P. DeGustavo, Kunko, Buhl; A. N. Ring, Thousand Springs; G. C. Chamberlain, Willowton; Fred Biers, B. P. Barcliffe, Cedar Draw; F. L. Randall, Hiron; F. L. Atkins, Castleford; R. J. Day, Artesian City.

NEW SCHOOLS TO BE CONSTRUCTED

The Board Proposes to Erect Eight Room Grade School

BOND ELECTION CALLED FOR SATURDAY, FEB. 26.

All Schools Already Cannot Be Extended—That Best Results Cannot Be Obtained—Ble Increase Soon.

An election for the purpose of voting on a $40,000 bond issue for the purchase of the site and the erection of an eight-room grade school building at a point yet to be selected, has been called by the school board for Saturday, February 26, at 10 o'clock, and will close at 5 o'clock p. m., as a result of an investigation of present and pending conditions in this city.

The schools are already crowded to their fullest capacity and would be too small even with the normal growth of the city by the time that the next school year would open. With the erection of the sugar factory it is inevitable that there will be an increase in the school population and conservative estimates of from 150 to 200. The proposed building would probably enable the board to abolish "the dinner" now served at the Buhl school, which is unsatisfactory, now accommodates some 150 pupils, and is a waste of money. It is also pointed out that the eight rooms will be practically filled some time during the school year, when the new building will be needed. The school board and others who have investigated the subject are convinced that conditions here will be improved if the new school is built. It is made in time for the increase which it is conceded is inevitable. It will be necessary to provide in the future for the purchase of a site, which is the first time in the history of the city that this has been required as a condition of the erection of a new school site. The qualifications of electors are the same as for ordinary school elections and include all residents of the city who are over 21 years of age. The need of more room was effectively set forth in an address delivered by Superintendent H. O. Blue at a dinner given at the Buhl school Monday evening to the school board, the board of directors of the Twin Falls school district and prominent citizens of the local press. Professor Blue showed that while the best results would be obtained for both normal and retarded pupils, there were more pupils to the teacher, it was already necessary to crowd 45 into each room. There were some retarded pupils as they are called in each room, but pupils who are behind through natural causes and who require extra attention and these children need the best conditions of teaching, receive proper attention without neglecting normal pupils. The failure to give the best possible service to the retarded pupils causes a heavy economic loss to the community, far more than balancing any slight expense involved in securing the best results.

The dinner was a five-course affair, was served by the domestic science department of the school at a cost of fifteen and a half cents per plate. The guests at the dinner were equally appreciative to their host, Superintendent Blue, to the musicians and to the domestic science department.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION COMES

Twin Falls the Place and April 20 the Date—Meeting—Delegates Will Number 202.

The Republican state convention to elect delegates to the national convention at Chicago June 7, will be held at Twin Falls, April 20. The representation at that convention will consist of delegates from each of the 27 counties in the state on a basis of two delegates for each member the county has in legislation. This is the first election reached by the Republican state central committee. The representation given to counties in the last state convention was on a basis of one delegate to elect delegates to the national convention in 1912 was five to every representative by each county in the state. The state committee cut down the representation. There will be 202 delegates in the next state convention where four years ago there were close to 400.

It was left optional with the county committees as to how the delegates to the state convention shall be elected. This is taken in view of the fact that organizations may determine whether a preferential primary election shall be held or not. It is also left optional whether the delegates shall be picked by the county organizations. The state committee did not go on record as to elect delegates to the national convention in 1912 was five to every representative by each county in the state. The state committee cut down the representation. There will be 202 delegates in the next state convention where four years ago there were close to 400.

In the selection of Twin Falls for the place of holding the state convention the committee acted unanimously. A number of other cities were discussed, including Boise, Pocatello, Lewiston, Idaho Falls, Curlew, Shoshone, Wallace. When the committee assembled Evan Evans was elected chairman and E. R. Dampier of Rupert, secretary. The committee then proceeded to business and without a hitch the place for the next convention was decided and the delegates to the state convention of the representation in the state was decided. It appears that a little thought was given to it until after the committee had finished its business and after the delegates had reached the lobby of the Owyhee hotel and discussed the matter. So far as could be learned from committee members the particular reason was given for reducing the representation.

The members of the state committee recognized as entitled to deliberations in the place of holding the convention. The following were present: Peter Canavan, Ada county; E. A. Burrell, Bear Lake county; Peter G. Johnston, Blaine county; J. H. Rockwell, Blaine county; Fred Huston, Bonneville county; N. Jones, Canyon county; Hector C. Hinkley, Cassia county; J. H. Hinkley, Blaine county; J. H. Flint, Fremont county; John Thomas, Gooding county; Evan Evans, Idaho county; Alfred Hicks, Madison county; J. H. Hinkley, Blaine county; David Burrell, Power county; W. P. Guthrie, Twin Falls county; Victor Hock, Teton county; Harriet Sinclair, Boundary county.

MUCH BUSINESS UNDER NEW RATE

Fifty Per Cent Increase in Western Union Messenger Service in a Week After Reduced Charge

That the reduction of rates for messenger service, a week ago has increased business 50 per cent already and recouped the putting on of an other messenger boy, was the statement of J. T. Hoses, manager of the Western Union Telegraph company to a Times representative today. The new rate was put on by Superintendent U. G. Lila February 9, at the suggestion of Manager Hoses, who found the old rate too high to invite patronage. Mr. Hoses is convinced that when the people generally become familiar with the new rate, the business will be still further increased. "The cut went all the way down the schedule," the 15-cent rate came down to 10 cents; the 25-cent rate to 15 cents; the 35-cent rate to 20 cents; the 40-cent rate to 25 cents; and the rate for the suburbs which ran from 80 to 75 cents, was cut to a level of 50 cents. All rates are based on distance.

GOOD ROADS DAYS FOR WEST END ROADS

Buhl People Will Spend Five Days Repairing "Road Damage" Damage in Twin Falls Small.

The people of Buhl at a mass meeting Monday determined to have five good roads days in the independent road district of which that city is a part, and appointed a committee consisting of W. H. Harvey, H. W. Herman and S. P. Atherton to take the matter up with the road commission of the district. It is proposed to ask leave to use the tools of the district, and to have good roads days in this city, and one day each for the four roads leading from the corners of town. Roads in the west end are said to be in bad condition as a result of the floods.

Relative to the flood results in the county generally, Commissioner O. E. Carlson said today that the most serious damage is that of damage being reported from different localities. The total loss could not be estimated at present.

Damage to city streets was less than anticipated. Half a dozen small culverts were moved from their places and a small amount of damage done to the streets, according to Street Commissioner Porter.

WHY GERMANY BALKED AT A WORD.

The difficulty experienced in getting together by the United States and Germany in regard to verbal construction in the negotiations regarding the settlement of the Lusitania case, is thought of by many in this country as quibbling and this state of mind has been encouraged by the utterances of many newspapers and some magazines. Critics of President Wilson have been especially prone to point out the alleged inability of what they have termed "his exchanges of words," that they do not hesitate to intimate that the president has virtually agreed in some way to barter away the interests of the American people and speak deprecatingly of taking a "cash payment for American lives."

The debate over the wording of the agreement involves vital principles. Germany, at first denying, has at length accepted the American attitude in regard to the killing of Americans on board the Lusitania, but she does not wish to concede that she was equally wrong in regard to killing of citizens of Great Britain, which was incidental to the sinking of the ship. Hence her care relative to the wording of the agreement, and her refusal to use the word "illegal" to describe the transaction. The point of view from which she approached the matter is indicated in the leading article for "The Atlantic" and the "Lawyer's Magazine" in its January issue, written by Charles W. Russell, former United States assistant attorney general and at one time envoy extraordinary to Persia. Mr. Russell, who is an authority of some international standing on the subject, touches the question of the controversy with Germany only as an incident to his main purpose of showing the difficulties in the way of adjusting claims against nations, but what he says goes far toward clearing popular apprehension in the case at hand. He says: "Another fundamental mistake seems to be made, namely, not regarding the law of nations as what its name implies, a law dealing with nations as such, and not with individuals as such, but with individuals as subjects, alone, property of the sovereignty. By way of illustration, I venture to remark upon the general failure of our newspaper writers to see the point, when the German foreign minister alleged that the conduct of the British government had a bearing upon the question of the obligation to make visit and search. In other words, it seemed not to be understood that the foreign minister was contending as a matter of fact, that the British government could and did absolve British ships from the correlative duty of peaceful submission to visitation and search, and thereby, as a matter of law, absolved Germany from visit and search to be made. It seemed rather to be supposed that this was an argument outside the law and a mere excuse for evading it, the law being supposed to govern the individuals, and whether it was violated or not, to be determined only by what occurred between those at sea in the particular case, regardless of the alleged action of the British government to its subjects about arming and arming or fleeing from German vessels. I do not, of course, mean to express any opinion in regard to the facts alleged by the foreign minister in support of his argument."

Mr. Russell is not taking sides in the controversy, with which his paper is not, indeed, directly concerned, and the differences about verbal construction have arisen since the article appeared, but the explanation makes clear why the difference is considered important. Applying this rule to the difference over verbal construction, Germany in effect says, "Great Britain by her orders of council made rules which absolved us in dealing with her subjects, from observing rules which it would otherwise be illegal to break. Therefore, the act of sinking the Lusitania with British subjects on board was not illegal." But American citizens bound by British law were not in the same relation to Germany as British subjects, even though they were on board a British vessel. We are sorry that they were killed, we are willing to acknowledge that we were wrong insofar as they were concerned, to disavow the act, to promise not to do it again and to make such restitution as it is possible to make, but we want to do so in words that do not imply that the act was illegal so far as British subjects were concerned." As the protection of Americans is the duty of this government it is quite right that the United States should not go to war with Germany over a word so long as its own dignity is protected in the construction of the words and regardless of whether it shows her right in her attitude toward Britons on the Lusitania or not. Relative to taking money in recompense for lives lost through the sinking of foreign citizens or officials every government on earth has done that where the act has been disavowed officially by the nation whose subjects have offended. Even helpless China has been permitted to settle by indemnity with all civilized nations for citizens killed by Chinese troops and Great Britain accepted like terms from Russia when the great Muscovite fleet fired on and killed a number of helpless fishermen near the English shore during the Japanese war. This alleged argument against the administration, which appears to presume on the ignorance of those to whom it is addressed, can hardly be considered worthy of serious reply.

GARRISON'S RESIGNATION.

That Secretary of War Garrison should resign when he found Congress irretrievably committed to a plan which would prevent the carrying out of his long-cherished scheme was not surprising. A strong man, imbued with the justice and feasibility of his plan, he could not lay it aside to adopt another which he considered diametrically opposed to it. It is evident that the congressional plan, in the opinion of the retiring secretary was primarily wrong because it did not admit of an extension into a system of universal national military service on which he had set his heart, and toward the ultimate realization of which he believed that all plans should be directed. Secretary Garrison in retiring denounced Congress as ignorant and as being led in its ignorance by Chairman Hay of the house committee on military affairs. The ignorance of Congress in regard to this subject may be taken for granted, and it may further be admitted that it is a pity that the military experts who ought to instruct it are all of war, not merely as to what ought to be done to remedy certain conditions, but also in regard to what conditions are. Half a dozen different estimates by experts have been filed with Congress relative to the degree of increase imperatively needed in the regular army. The Harrison continental army plan was first endorsed by General Leonard Wood and afterwards rejected by that officer. The possibility of a successful invasion by a foreign force large enough to do us serious damage is a moot question. Turning from the army to the navy the same divergence of expert opinion appears. Two admirals in active service and one retired admiral unite in saying that the United States has the second most powerful navy in the world. A Japanese naval expert, probably urging an appropriation at home, reports that Germany is twice as strong as ours. On the other hand an American naval expert, differing from the Japanese expert and from the three admirals referred to, says that the Japanese navy is stronger than ours. "In view of all this, it is quite easy to understand why Secretary Garrison says that the 'proposal of settling this matter by voting money to the enlisted men and officers of the state troops, appeals to the direct, personal, political interests of the members.'"

It does so appeal, because the people want the money voted that way, since the experts themselves cannot get together on any other definite, practicable plan of national defense. The people are like the congressmen, they are ignorant in regard to the details of a feasible plan. If all the military experts were united on a definite plan, the voters would support their congressmen in supporting that plan. But when the military experts are engaged in a wordy battle, and are united only in demanding an increased military force, the people inevitably turn to a strengthening of the historic military organizations of this country. In this they are governed by a perfectly sound principle of conservatism, indeed, of conservation. The burden of proof lies on those who would adopt any specific new plan in place of an old one. The Garrison plan may be right, but because of lack of united support on the part of experts it has failed to win popularity either with the people or their representatives. In this case it is impracticable and whether the alternate plan of strengthening the national guard is inferior or not, it is, as confessed by Garrison, a more popular one.

A FAIR FIELD AND NO FAVOR.

Salt Lake Desert News.

President Wilson's reversal of practice and precedent in the selection of Louis D. Brandeis as a member of the supreme court of the United States, is now to be supplemented by a senate innovation whereby committee hearings for and against Mr. Brandeis's confirmation will be held openly. This will be the first time in history. The dispatches say, that inquiry as to a nominee's fitness has ever been conducted outside the hushed precincts of executive session. Whether this is true or not, there is no reason why the innovation is not a good one, nor why it should not become the rule for the future. Certainly the candidate who may happen to be under fire should welcome the opportunity of knowing who are opposing him and what their grounds are. As the world progresses in human liberty and in the conception of justice as between man and man, there is less and less favor for the secret and anonymous accusation which flourished under the Venetian Council of Ten, the Rhenish Vehmegericht, the Spanish Inquisition, the English Star-chamber, and which to some extent persists in the American "grand jury." The tendency of such sessions always was and always will be to weigh artificially and fairly all that may be offered, but to search out especially that which may be construed to the injury or detriment of the person under discussion. It were better for all such hearings to be held in the open—that a man or his friends may face his accusers, and that he be not judged upon ex-parte evidence.

Mr. Brandeis should regard it as a compliment that his cause is deemed unusual enough to require this new treatment. His career gives evidence of a courage which will not shrink from the inquiry, but on the contrary will welcome it. As to his learnedness in the law, there has been no suggestion of doubt. Some critics say he is a radical; but every reformer at some stage of his life and work is deemed a radical. Others say he is lacking in the judicial temperament, whatever that may be, but perhaps he possesses it without having had occasion in his profession thus far to show it. He might try new ideas and methods to the utmost length; but perhaps there would be no great peril, there might even be benefit, in that. The committee hearing cannot be expected to demonstrate the qualifications which he is not known to possess, except as this may be gathered from alleged proof of unfitness. If the latter is established of course he should be rejected. But the open session gives him a chance for self-defense and offers him—what every American claims as his right—a square deal.

OPTIMISM GROWING AMONG BUSINESSMEN.

Salt Lake Desert News.

No man can pass among businessmen of the city, talking with them about their own operations and endeavoring to learn how they regard the business outlook, without being much impressed by the lively spirit of optimism that prevails generally. In all lines of business the immediate future looks bright. Real estate men are especially hopeful. Almost without exception they regard the coming of spring as certain to witness a widespread awakening in their life. They report inquiries coming in much earlier than is usual. Real estate activity is a dependable barometer of business conditions. When times are good, the real estate business is always good. Many real estate dealers declare that the fruits of last year's unprecedented travel east and west through this city are already manifesting themselves. What is more, they are anticipating a volume of travel through this city next summer very nearly equal to that of last year. While the stimulus of the two great expositions on the Pacific coast will be lacking, there still will be the San Diego exposition in full swing. Vigor this year than before even, that will draw heavy tourist patronage, and thousands of eastern travelers who have been habitual voyagers to Europe and who never dreamed of the lure that California has to offer in summer will again take their way to the shores of the Pacific. The wonderland of the Yellowstone is just beginning to gain the fame it has for long been entitled to and the invigorating air of Utah's mountain retreats is winning its way with those who never thought of the west when they were seeking the mountains, but always turned their steps toward Switzerland and Italy. All these will draw travel. Thousands who want to escape the crowding of the eastern centers will also seek the free western country. Added to these causes, many others which businessmen have at the tip of their tongues, point to prosperity. The prevailing optimism is a healthful sign and its foundations are more than the mere longing "for better days."

ATTRACTIONS FOR THE THEATRE GOERS.

"ROBIN HOOD" LIGHT OPERA.

COMING SO LATER
"Robin Hood," which will be produced at the Lavington Theatre, February 23rd, is acknowledged to be the greatest masterpiece of comic opera ever written by Americans. The charm of Reginald de Koven's music is as fresh today as when it was first enjoyed 23 years ago, and the dialogue of Harry St. Smith is as sparkling now as it was then. It has about the acid test of time because it is a real work of art, and the genius which inspired it, gratifies the pride of every American.

Nothing could be more fascinating than the story upon which the opera was founded. The old English tale of Robin Hood and his band of outlaws is a famous one, and their merry pranks in Sherwood forest have supplied Sir Walter Scott and other writers with stories which will live as long as our language.

An opera of such merit as "Robin Hood" demands a singing cast of the highest order, and the coming production fully meets this requirement, as the principals are all of grand opera caliber.

Heading the cast is dainty Ivy Scott, who made her debut at the Grand Opera in Australia, where she made an instantaneous success. In America she has won fame as Madame Butterfly and as the girl in "The Girl of the Golden West."

Other popular members of last season's company are Cora Tracy, who sings Alan-a-Dale and Ralph Brinard, who continue in the title role. James Stevens of the Chicago opera, sings Little John. Carolyn Andrews, sings Anabel and the part of Will Scarlett was given to Herbert Waterman, the noted basso of the Metropolitan Opera company.

The comedy roles are admirably carried off by Phil Branson as the High Sheriff, Titilo Salinger as the Damsel Durdan, and Sol Solomon as the wily Sir Guy of Glabourne.

The thirty girls in the chorus are as pretty, but can sing and they are accompanied by handsome men, also with voices.

The de Koven Opera company is a superior organization, with its personnel accompanied by handsome men, who are carefully picked by the composer himself and Fred Walker, who can always be depended upon to send out something first class.

HUMOR AND THRILLS IN

"A SUBMARINE PIRATE"

There is a happy combination of humor and realism in the Triana-Koytose "A Submarine Pirate." Syd Koytose supplies the humor in big doses, but it is owing to the enterprise of the Triana company, and the permission of the navy department, headed by Secretary Daniels, that a real, rugged submarine and a genuine war vessel are used in the pictures. There is accordingly an educational value and interest and thrill to spare in seeing an actual submarine in operation. It is seen plowing its way through the waters of the Pacific, then submerging and then rising to the surface. The complicated machinery of the engines and its torpedo firing apparatus and also the means by which its small surface guns are fired, are shown in complete detail. It is as thrilling, it would seem, as actually taking a trip in a submarine.

Of course there are secrets that the government must keep from foreign nations. So Secretary Daniels and battle ship commanders had to pass on the pictures at a special exhibition at Washington. The pictures were given a very enthusiastic approval. In fact, they are going to use the film to show at navy headquarters in the future. The pictures are shown throughout the United States to encourage military

PREPAREDNESS SURE OF CLEAR MAJORITY

New York Herald Poll Shows Congress Wants Bigger Army and Navy and Increased National Guard.

That the measures for an increased navy proposed by the national administration are certain of passage, and that the continental army project is doomed to failure, and must give way to the plan to increase the army and militia are proven by the poll taken by the New York Herald. In the lower house 162 Democrats, 193 Republicans and Progressives and two Independents declared themselves for the proposed increase in the navy. Fifty Democrats and six Republicans and Progressives wished the elimination of two of the battle cruisers proposed, seven Democrats and one Socialist were against any increase, while ten Democrats and four Republicans and Progressives favored the increase.

In the senate 50 Democrats and 35 Republicans, favored the administration plan; two Democrats and five Republicans declared themselves for the continental army project; four Democrats and four Republicans were doubtful.

The continental army measure fared badly with all parties in both houses. The overwhelming majority were for the plan to increase the militia forces. A small element in both houses wanted to increase the national guard without adding to the regulars. Those favoring the increase of the regular army and the strengthening of the national guard in the house consisted of 12 Democrats, 12 Republicans and Progressives and two Socialists. In the senate 24 Democrats and 12 Republicans favored the increase of the standing army and the strengthening of the militia—10 Democrats and two Republicans favored the continental plan, four Democrats and two Republicans favored the strengthening of the national guard without increasing the regular army and 18 Democrats and 12 Republicans favored the continental plan. The opinion is noted by the Herald, which adds that many members of both great parties opposed the five year term of office proposed by President Wilson who favored adopting the first year's program. More Republicans than Democrats in the lower house favored the continental plan. Only two Democrats in the house favored the plan of increasing the national guard without a regular army increase. The overwhelming percentage of Democrats than Republicans for adoption of the national guard without a regular army increase were more Democrats in the green the above plan. In the continental army plan, one more Democrat than Republican in favor of strengthening the militia, the army to be increased in a large percentage of the militia alone. There were four more Democrats than Republicans in favor of the double column in the upper house, and five more doubtful Democrats than Republicans in the lower house.

U. S. MINISTER HORNBOOK

WRITES FROM VAR SIAH

W. H. Hornbrook, formerly in the newspaper business in this city and at present United States minister to Siam, in a letter received by his brother, E. J. Hornbrook, this week says that he is enjoying his experiences in the far east. The country is at peace and everything is pleasant. There is much to be seen and it is not to be put off. The amusement has much of the occidental about them, the only difference being that the people here are more interested in getting a couple of months to get the films across the Pacific ocean and the motion weeklies are a little old when they get there.

SEEK TO THROTTLE PARCEL POST SERVICE

Chairman Moon of Postoffice Committee Says Express Companies Are Backing Greatest Lobby Ever Known

WASHINGTON—The charge that "the greatest lobby ever known to the American people" is seeking to prevent the substitution of the parcel post service in the railway postal service was made in the house yesterday by Chairman Moon of the postoffice committee, in presenting the annual postoffice appropriation bill. He declared the real object of the opposition was to throttle the parcel post service in the interest of the express companies, whose profits are shared equally by the companies and the railroads.

In urging the establishment of a government guarantee fund, proposed in the bill, the chairman asserted that a combination of surety companies had so manipulated their bonding of government employees as to cause the government to lose "hundreds of thousands of dollars."

Mr. Moon told the house that under the weight system the railroads now are receiving $40,000,000 annually for carrying mails, and that $64,000,000 would be allowed them by the proposed space plan. They seek not only an increased rate, he added, but want the weight system retained and the interstate commerce commission given the right to grant them higher rates if it sees fit.

"They have the greatest lobby at work today ever known to the American people," he declared. "Since this bill was introduced, the express companies (last session) did not pass the senate, although concurred in by the house conference committee, there never has been such a proper propaganda promulgated among a civilized people against a government as these railroads have carried on against this measure. There has been a falsification of every fact that is material for consideration. They have not presented a single fact in justification of the charge that this law ought not be changed—not a single one."
