

FARMERS' NIGHT

Saturday Night Set Aside for Those Coming from Country

THREE SERVICES SUNDAY, AFTER-NOON FOR YOUNG FOLKS.

Praise Given Dr. Olier and All His Associates by Those Attending. Ex-

Saturday night will be a farmers' night at the big Tabernacle and services will all be planned with that fact in view. The managers feel that as many farmers spend their winter evenings at home reading, they will welcome a change which will be at once spiritual and intellectual in character, and as they will largely be in town on Saturday in any event, they can easily make arrangements to stay over and attend the meetings.

There will be three services Sunday: One at 10:45, one at 2:30 and one at 7:30. The afternoon service

The thing which has elicited most favorable comment since the opening of the revival is the uniformly high class of those conducting the meetings. The company is balanced on a high plane, the preaching, singing and music being all the very best from a classic point of view. Dr. Oliver stands high but has not placed himself on a pedestal to attract attention by planning to outclass those with whom he is associated. The mannerism sometimes censured in some evangelists are wholly lacking in his case, and he appeals to the logic rather than the emotions of his audience.

In his sermon last night on "Forgiveness," he showed that modern science had demonstrated the value of the teaching of the Bible in this respect. The man who flies into a rage poisons his own system, and incapacitates himself from making his best efforts. He cited the case of a mother who became violently angry with her husband, with the result that her baby, which nursed her milk while in this state was thrown into convulsions, and compared this poisonous food

The marriage state was touched in a general way on Tuesday evening and the following observations throw out during the sermon indicate its trend:

Oliverensis.

"I am impressed to announce 'Forgiveness' as my subject for tomorrow night."

"You can't join the true church of Christ; you have to be born into it."

"If we don't get the homes right there's no hope for the church."
"That's right, preachers, back in up; say amen right out loud. I won't let anybody hurt you!"
"I don't dislike dogs! A dog is a right in his place, but that place is not in a woman's arms."
"It takes brains to hold the love of a man; any dunce can hold the love of a dog simply by feeding him."
"I often wonder what has got wrong with a woman when she will quit his

"There is a vast difference between a man and a brute. I have seen a horse that could spell words and distinguish colors; but an educated horse is a horse, not a man—you can't teach him theology. Chickens may be taught to come for food when the whistle blows or the gong rings; but, although I have known many chickens to enter the ministry, you can't teach them religion."

HURT CRANKING AUTO

Dr. W. A. Sullivan Suffering From Injured Arm—Attended Meeting After the Accident.

While cranking his auto at the garage Wednesday afternoon, Dr. A. Sullivan received such a severe jolt on the right arm from the refractory machine that the member is the time and went with Prof. E. W. Bircho to a big meeting at Mountain view, but by the time that he got back to town his arm was in bad condition. It will be necessary to reduce the swelling before it can be determined whether one of the small bones is fractured or not.

POSTOFFICE MAY BE

BUILT OF STONE

Boise Firm Says It Can Furnish Material Lower Than the Price of Brick for the Structure.

In a letter received Wednesday by Secretary James McMillan from Congressman Addison T. Smith, the latter stated that he was in receipt of a letter from a Boise firm which offered to put up the walls and ornamental pillars for the Twin Falls postoffice from stone at a lower cost than the same could be erected from pressed brick imported from another state, and that he would lay the matter before the department.

BOISE ARCHITECT THINKS

TWIN FALLS BEST IN STATE

B. Morgan Niblett, a Boise architect, who came to Twin Falls and bought land before the arrival of the railroad, and who still owns real estate in the Niblett neighborhood, has made up his mind that the Magic City is the coming Idaho city and will leave here permanently. His family will arrive on March 1. Mr. Niblett built a number of noted structures in this state, including the Empire story office building in Boise, the Hotel Oxford and Hotel Oxford in the same city and several state buildings at Caldwell and Coalinga. He believes that this city offers more inducements in his line than any other city in the state at present.

GANGWAY FOR HANSEN BRIDGE

Congressman Addison T. Smith has introduced a bill to congress granting the right to Twin Falls and Minidoka counties to erect a bridge two miles north of Hansen, in accordance with an act to regulate the construction of bridges over navigable streams.

WEATHER PREDICTIONS GIVEN

BY THE TELEPHONE SERVICE

Arrangements have been made by which those interested in the stock business can obtain weather predictions for 36 hours ahead by telephoning, after 10 o'clock a. m., to the chief operator at the telephone office. This innovation, which is of great interest to shippers during the lambing season, was secured by a request from the Twin Falls Commercial club.

DEATH OF MRS. E. WILLIAMS

Mrs. E. Williams, aged 61 years and 23 days, died Wednesday morning at the home of her son, L. T. Shiffert, 357 1/2 Main avenue north. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the Crosby undertaking parlors. Mrs. Williams, who came here about a year ago, was the mother of Mrs. L. T. Shiffert, who died on December 23. She leaves a husband, L. T. Shiffert, and two children, one in Idaho, a daughter, a daughter in Indiana, a daughter in Indiana and two sisters.

LAMBS AND HOGS

GO STILL HIGHER

Market Shows Another Advance. Cattle Market Steady at Same Point as on Last Week.

Portland, Ore.—The lamb and mutton market took another advance this morning, says the Portland Live Stock Journal of Monday. Ordinary lambs found ready buyers at 9 cents. Another feature was the sale of a bunch of ewes at 27. Even with today's fairly good run, receipts do not meet the demands of buyers. Lambs continue their strong feeling. Some well put up lambs sold at $8.85 during the past week and $9 price is quoted by buyers for any thing that would show up worth the work. The steady basis, but the best of the best still called in at 3 cents. Some of the off-quality heavies and light ewes at the usual differential. The general hog market over the country is on an advance, as is the case in North Portland. No information has been given in market papers in the east that would indicate that prices there are any better for shippers in this territory to even think of shipping east. Prices here are on practically a parity and in some cases much better than the nearest eastern markets.

Today's cattle market opened on a slow basis, with prices on a steady basis with last week. Pulp-fed steers was sold early at $7.75, three heads going to Burton & Co. of Puget Sound, G. I. C. Barton, the manager, buying them.

The end of the week saw more cattle on the market than is usual, due to the opening up of transportation. Nothing startling or sensational was made in the way of sales very well in line with Thursday's prices. The bulk of the fair killing steers sold around $7.25 to $7.35, which would indicate a steady basis. Steers are quoted around $7.75 for best fed. These who keep in close touch with market conditions in the east will readily see that North Portland prices are well in line with other markets. Outside of corn-fed stuff, there is seldom any difference noted. As for the Coast, prices are from 10 cents to as much as a dollar more than at any other point.

Conditions prevailing in the week-end market for butcher cows and heifers were much the same as noted in the outlet for best steers, and but very little change was detected either in the way of quotations as compared with Thursday. There was, as in the case of steers, some little outside demand, and clearings were made in fairly good quantities of stuff in the division sold as high as $6.75, although bulk of sales could not qualify in that class.

Bulk of fat calves and heifers that are coming at present are selling mostly from $5 to $6.50 and up for choice grades. Some right good stuff is going at a little less than the 6-cent level. Bulls and stags got the usual clearance at around steady prices.

REUNION OF FORMER ILLINOIS

PEOPLE PLANNED AT DUBL

The first annual reunion of all former residents of Illinois now living in Twin Falls county, will be held in Clinton's opera house at Dubl on Saturday, March 4. There will be a grand banquet dinner at one o'clock to which all are invited whether you can bring a basket or not. There will be plenty for everyone to eat. At the Dubl Commercial club rooms more than 100 former Illinoisans have already registered. Plans for an elaborate program are being worked out by the committee and the evening program which will wind up with a grand "Suckers' ball" will be the warmest thing ever put over in Dubl. Before the dance in the evening there will be a program. "The Day of the Fool" to be participated in by everybody and everybody is hereby invited to the evening's performance. There will be a spelling school and the words will be pronounced from an old, old, McGuffey's spelling book. There will be speakers' pieces and recitations by former Illinois folks who will speak the places they remember from the old school days back in the prairie and from the timber sections of the old state. Johnny Parks, banker of Dubl, Marshal Raymiller will speak "The Sun is Up, the Lark is on the Wing." Mrs. Van Riper will recite "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star." R. E. Williams will tell about his little dog whose name was Snip; Johnny Bradley will recite "Come Forty Years Ago"; Overly, of Carey, Idaho, will recite "I Had a Little Dog, His Name Was Rover" and a number of other boys and girls from Illinois will perform stunts which we dare not mention here, else they'd stay home from school that night. A prominent attorney of Pocatello, who has been at the opera house for the noon-day program and in invitation has been sent to Jim Markle at St. Anthony. If you have an old McGuffey's spelling book, please notify the secretary of the commercial club at Dubl and above all bring your old school-books to the reunion.

HEAVY "VALLEY" BROUGHT FROM $8.25 TO $8.00

HOG RECEIPTS TODAY WERE NOT AT ALL LIBERAL

Hog receipts today were not at all liberal, only a very moderate supply coming in over Sunday. Buyers and sellers were able to get together early and a very good top was established at 48.25, the highest spot for some time. Other good loads went at high at 48.00, while quite a bulk went at 48.00.

Eight twenty-five was an high as hogs went at North Portland last year for a car lot. Hogs are not coming at all freely and it is becoming apparent that the season of a crop has reached the market, although information still continues to come along occasionally that there are still a good many good hogs farmers. These are chiefly the farmers who refused to be frightened at the "scare" stories put out in some quarters. The market, to be sure, has been against movement to shipping stations, and this has been a factor in less hogs here this month. Trade at the end of the week was steady basis, but the best of the best still called in at 3 cents. Some of the off-quality heavies and light ewes at the usual differential. The general hog market over the country is on an advance, as is the case in North Portland. No information has been given in market papers in the east that would indicate that prices there are any better for shippers in this territory to even think of shipping east. Re-elected Last Year's Officers, With G. M. Hall Manager. Settlers Decline to Participate.

At the adjourned meeting of the Salmon River Canal company, G. M. Hall, S. S. Champlin and E. B. Darlington were re-elected directors. Mr. Darlington, according to G. M. Hall, is no longer associated with the Salmon River company. The officers elected are the same as last year: President, G. M. Hall; vice president, A. C. Robinson; secretary, E. B. Darlington. The annual report of the watermaster was presented and a financial statement of collections and disbursements presented by Manager Hall. A summary of this statement follows: January 1, 1915—Cash on hand $113.25

The maintenance charge for 1916 was not fixed although considered at the meeting. Action was deferred to secure further information as to the acreage which will probably be in cultivation this season, and the acreage on which maintenance will be paid. In 1915 maintenance was paid on a little over 46,000 acres, and about 35,000 acres were in crop.

The directors found that estimates for 1916 vary greatly, some predicting a much larger acreage than 1915, some leaving the project because of unsettled conditions; others think the present reports of good snowfall are encouraging, and that it will be an increase in the acreage.

It is probable there will be some reduction in the maintenance, but Mr. Hall is reported as saying that he does not think much of a cut can be made and provide good service in distributing the water and keeping the system in repair.

The estimate prepared by the president and the watermaster for 1916 expenses, amounts to $24,555, which is less than the estimate for 1915, as the watermaster figures there will be as much work required to put the canal and interests in condition for this season's operation. It is estimated for office help is also less.

The settlers on the project took no part in the meetings, which did not come to the state, it being foreseen by their almost unanimous action in rejecting the offer of the committee to select representatives of the settlers on the directors of the Canal company.

Relative to the plan of adjusting the difficult situation on the Salmon tract suggested by the state, it being foreseen that Mr. Hall is also the manager of the Land and Water company, stated to the Times representative this week that the bondholders' committee had called a special meeting at which the proposed plan would be considered.

LUSITANIA NOTE OPENS CASE ANEW

Von Bernstorff Submits
Latest Note to Lansing

LANSING SAYS GERMAN STATE
NEXT RESPONDS TO PROPOSAL

German Government Refuses Its Liaison
Office for Losses, and Pleads Responsibility for the Act.

Washington.—Secretary Lansing said today that the German government's announced intention of sinking armed merchant ships without warning after January 22 has reopened the entire question of submarine warfare. The Lusitania agreement presented today cannot be finally accepted until the United States determines whether any such policy is in conflict with the new policy of sinking armed merchant ships.

It was pointed out that American officials realized that the Lusitania agreement refers to "liners," and that the newly announced German submarine policy refers to all armed ships. Before the Lusitania agreement finally is accepted it will be necessary to clarify the situation. In his conference with Secretary Lansing today the German ambassador discussed the advisability of a postponement of the effective date of the new submarine order to give opportunity for negotiations. Secretary Lansing did not commit himself and made no comment.

When Von Bernstorff came from Lansing's office after a visit of less than ten minutes, he said: "Gentlemen, I am sure that you, the secretary of state, 'almost at the same time' Lansing sent out this message: 'Have nothing to say.'"

Von Bernstorff presented formally the draft of the agreement and it is understood was informed that it could not be accepted until it had been submitted to President Wilson.

The indications were that it seemed satisfactory to Secretary Lansing. As now drawn and formally signed by the German ambassador, the agreement is in reply to the last American note.

It begins with reference to the formal assurances given by Germany last September that submarines would not sink unarmed ships without warning and regard for the safety of life aboard and that the instructions to submarine commanders were as definite as to allow no risk of understanding. It then states that the submarine warfare around the British Isles was a reprisal for what is characterized as "the infamous" blockade of Great Britain to starve the central powers, and then promises indemnity for Americans lost on the Lusitania and expresses "profound regret" for their deaths.

It goes on to say that the German government, "recognizing liability" for their loss, makes the proposals contained in the draft submitted today and then deals with the question of reprisals against other than enemy subjects. The change which the foreign office has made in the wording of the latter proposal has not been publicly disclosed, but from the air of optimism which prevailed today there was a general impression that the chances of its delaying the negotiations were slight.

STRONG DEMAND FOR LOW PRICED HIGH GRADE CAR

That the low-priced, high-grade car meets a long-felt demand from the public is fully demonstrated by the unprecedented sales of the Dodge Brothers car during its first year on the American market.

Commenting on the ever-increasing demand for these cars, Russell Huff, chief engineer of Dodge Brothers, says: "The discriminating buyer of today, fully appreciating smoothness, appearance, quality, durability and performance in a motor car, but until recently such a car at a low price was considered an impossibility. It remained for the Dodge Brothers to make possible such a car for the unimpaired resources of years of engineering experience and exceptional manufacturing facilities have enabled them to produce a car of the highest quality at very low prices."

"The public have been quick to realize that first quality means low maintenance costs and that light weight construction means low operating cost. The artisan, the agriculturist, the professional man and the banker, alike, respect the prospect of savings. Practically all the supplies of gas, oil, tires and other kinds of goods and labor in demanding a car of the Dodge Brothers."

Mr. Huff further points out that it should be of special interest to the buyer to note that all Dodge vital parts are made of special Vanadium alloy steel, scientifically heat-treated to enable them to stand unusual abuse and service; that magnetic ignition is provided to insure the maximum of power and speed; that the car is a minor or the traveler in the remotest spot in the country the ability to start and run his car regardless of the condition of the electric starting storage battery; that self-lubricating alloy springs giving the maximum of comfort in easy riding and low price; that genuine hand-buffed, first grade leather is used throughout in the upholstery of the Dodge cars and that an all-steel body, capable of receiving the most beautiful and lasting enamel finish known to the art, is a standard equipment feature.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING SESSION

Important business in the nature of amendments to the bylaws of the Twentieth Century club was transacted at the Tuesday afternoon session. Another item of interest was the report of the treasurer to the effect that $111.25 was taken in at the Colonial ball Friday night. This was satisfactory news to the members, who, though not intending this event as a money-making affair, are desirous of increasing their funds with a view to the entertainment of the state federation, which will meet here October 10, 11 and 12. At the next meeting the president, Mrs. Moran, will appoint committees to have in charge the entertainment of these guests.

In the hands of Miss Juniors, under the direction of Mrs. W. F. Pike, the program of Tuesday's meeting was especially good. A piano solo by Miss Dorothy Wright was successful and then followed a reading by Miss Irene Woods, which was so well appreciated that she was compelled to give a second number.

Miss Pfeiffer sang two very pretty solos, accompanied by Miss Teasdale, and then came an amusing sketch by Mrs. Olson and Miss Mildred Conroy, exceptionally well given.

At the close of the program a Colonial tea was announced for the next Tuesday night in charge of Miss Maxwell. This will be open to the ladies of the city and an admission of ten cents will be charged. The program will show signs of strength at an early date has come true. Hogs are now bringing $7.75 for the pound sound market and it is generally expected that shipments are so limited that it will be necessary in another forty or fifty days the price will be $9 or even more by early spring. The government has always contended that it is a serious mistake for growers to even temporarily abandon the raising of

AZNUM CAPTURED BY RUSSIANS

to Secure Belgian Independence

BRITISH FAIL TO RETAKE THE TRENCHES LOST TO GERMANS.

Three Attacks Made to Southwest of Ypres. Without Success. Stormy Weather Hinders Activities.

London.—Reuter's Petrograd correspondent telegraphs that Erzrum has been captured by the Russians. Erzrum or Azrum, the chief town of an important vilayet of the same name in Asiatic Turkey, is a military station and a fortress of great strategic value, closing the road from Kars, Oltu and other parts of the frontier. Several important routes from Trebizond and various parts of Armenia converge toward it from the west. It is situated at the eastern end of an open bare plain, 30 miles long and 12 miles wide, surrounded by steep, rounded mountains and traversed by the Kara Su, or Western Euphrates. The scenery in the neighborhood is striking, lofty bare mountains being varied by open plains and valleys dotted with villages. Just east of the town is a broad ridge. The town has a population of 15,000 and in times of peace was garrisoned with 6,000 men.

Three attacks by the British in efforts to recover the trenches southwest of Ypres, in Belgium, which they lost to the Germans, are announced today by army headquarters. All the attacks are declared to have been fruitless as were those of the French in attempts to regain ground lost northwest of Tabbure, in the Champagne.

The official statement follows: "Western theater: The English made three vain attacks yesterday on the position southwest of Ypres, which we had captured. They lost 100 prisoners."

In the Champagne the French repeated their endeavors to regain their positions northwest of Tabbure with the same failure as on previous days. Generally speaking, stormy, rainy weather is hindering fighting activities.

"Eastern theater: There has been a driving snow along the front. Nothing of importance has occurred." Paris.—The following statement was given out at the war office this afternoon: "There were no important events last night. In the Champagne recaptured by means of attacks with hand grenades, certain trench sections to the east of the road from Tabbure to Somme-Py."

The allied powers deny to the treaty guaranteeing the independence and neutrality of Belgium have decided to renew the agreement not to end hostilities until the political and economic independence of Belgium is re-established and the nation is indemnified for the damage suffered.

EASTER SUNDAY COMES LATE THIS YEAR

Easter Sunday will fall on the 23rd of April this year, the latest since 1865, within two days of the latest possible date, April 25th. It will not fall as late again until 1945, when it occurs on April 25th. Thereafter it will not come as late again until the year 2000.

Easter cannot occur earlier than March 22 or later than April 26, because it always being the first Sunday after first full moon following the spring equinox.

In 1870 Easter fell on March 23, the earliest since 1656, when it came on the same date. It will not come as early again until after the year 2000.

On Wednesday, the 22nd of March this year, Ascension day will be June 1st and Pentecost on June 11. The trade always welcomes a late spring. Florida also favors a late spring. It leaves the farmer plenty of time to raise lilacs, tulips and other seasonable flowers.

hogs notwithstanding that wheat prices were soaring and hogs were not bringing the prices they should. This condition, the government contended, was only temporary and that it would be only a short time when wheat would go down in price and hogs would go up. This prediction is certainly coming true as to the advance in hog prices and students of the market conditions are sure that the wheat prices are liable to take a slump most any time. Once the allies succeed in coming to terms with Germany, the American hog market is getting in fine shape and growers are assured of fine prices for the future.

And with the close of the war, or even earlier, if they can get it, European countries will be very anxious to get our pork. There is a pork famine in Europe today and it will be even greater for a time, at least, after the war comes to a close. But even now, leaving European demands out of consideration, the American hog market is getting in fine shape and growers are assured of fine prices for the future.

An Interview With an Old Inhabitant on the Building Outlook for 1916

An Old Timer Escorts a Times Reporter About the City Pointing Out the Changes in Its Sky-Lines That the Next Few Months Are Going to Make.

(Written Especially for The Twice-a-Week Times by E. V. Baxter.)

HE SAW me bobbing about in the meadow of activity which had finally wanted me on until I stood in front of the new hotel building in just beginning to show up at the corner of Main and Second. For as yet the curtain had not been run on the new era of building progress in Twin Falls for the year 1916.

With a Main-like plunge he bucked his way through the throng and stepping me on the back, exclaimed with enthusiasm: "Right on, building! I've been roaming around this corner of the valley since the sagehen heard the first crack of a rifle to warn her that the days of civilization were at hand and in all that portion of my career as a loyal citizen in the Twin Falls country I've never seen a year as full of promise as this one."

The speaker was The Oldest Inhabitant, the pal of many of my previous peregrinations who had years ago proclaimed that fact is stranger than fiction. He is at present a leader in the deliberations of the Twin Falls Commercial club, who woke up one morning to see his name on the front page of the biggest newspaper where before he could not have found it in the city directory without the aid of a microscope. He had passed one of his many bunches, and for once it had paid.

"Say, don't you want to take a look over our city and see how we are on this 'preparation' business? Won't you say any more to see some real, bona fide evidence of property than it costs you wife to go window shopping without any money to spend. Nothing like watching a town spend its capital when you're not on the investment list yourself."

"Perhaps you're not wise to the fact that a lot of the guys who came in this tract with nothing but an everyday and Sunday too, 15 cents and a smile, have gone to writing their 'taxable' up in the five-figure class. Yes sir! Men that carried all their property to work with 'em every day are now sitting up putting their O. K. on the blue prints submitted by the architect."

"That why so much building at this time?" I had a chance to slip in a query while he took a long breath for a fresh start.

"The Oldest Inhabitant glared at me. 'I thought everybody knew what had started things off,' he muttered. 'Why we're going to have a million-dollar sugar factory here in the good year of our Lord 1916. The High Moguls have already raised the necessary dough and the ties are here to build the spur out to the site where the main performance is scheduled to be pulled off as soon as His Majesty, the weather man, sees fit to give us sunshine again.'"

"Just what sort of increase will this bring?" I inquired timidly.

"Well sir, this way new residences will spring up in this region will be so rapid that I'll make the driver of a 1917 Ford motor put on top speed to keep up with them. As for the future by the past, as the high-brows say, we can easily see two thousand more money-hunting citizens adding to the population of this burg. And don't you worry about the mercenary inhabitants not being onto this special opportunity for making one dollar for over two eagles in one quick time. 'There's a much-thinking, little-speaking bunch of folks who know that if order to take care of 2,000 extra they'll have to erect at least four hundred more dwellings to shelter them.' And don't forget that this factory is something like the Good Book says of the old. 'We shall have it always with us.' Hence, if you have a-bits in change, you're the who got it if you invest it in a Twin Falls piece of property."

"I have been informed that this tract is noted for its great clover the word 'prepare' means good to them to the extent of a new building with the necessary kale furnished by the Hood Sisters of the Golden Rule. I may add that Mr. Peck, of Peck's and so renowned, will try to atone for his past misdeeds by putting on a change of front."

By this time we had returned to the starting point.

"Mr. Reed is getting ready to put on a silk hat and a white vest, so 'am informed," said my companion as he directed my gaze to a gentleman across the street.

"Some swell place this will be when the last hall is in. Size of it is 60 by 125 feet and the cement, which is to be a harder ship, will have a concrete floor and fixtures that'll make the spectators put on smoked glasses when they enter its portals. The first floor will be arranged so that one store or two may occupy it, but don't get confused and think our department store managers are asking 'Take it from me, I'll were in the business there'd be something doing when Reed yells 'all aboard' the first of June."

"There will be maple floors that'll cause you to hold your breath when you walk over them, they're so slick, and the ceiling of patterned tile will be so ornate that you'll wish for your own home to get a good view of it. As for the lighting system, it's to be so complete that in case a lace counter or linoleum the last space back the old lady with the my-eyed-light had excuse won't have to take the lace to the front door, while you wonder if she slipped on extra place in her muff on the way. And when you ascend to the upper regions you find 24 outside rooms with open doors and cold water in each, and vapor system of steam heat. Most modern fire exits and sufficient up-to-date to command the attention of Robert Rogers, who plans to insure the comfort of his guests to such an extent that they will want a permanent home right down here. So he's rented the second floor."

"Maybe you didn't know that we had some companies who help us in keeping our money at home? Just take a look at Reed's list of supplies and see where they come from."

"I'm thinking you'll be ready to agree that we've got some chance of staying on the map."

"How about those 400 new residences?" I put in.

"They're started," Asher Wilson, our honest lawyer, is about to part with eight thousand planks in order to keep our money at home? Just take a look at Reed's list of supplies and see where they come from."

"I'm thinking you'll be ready to agree that we've got some chance of staying on the map."

of attention. This community believes in an investment that will pay; yes, and the old-time method of allowing a child to drag through school, spending three or four years doing the work he should do in one year, is the poorest kind of economy. With the present congested conditions, we have improved the retarded pupils in the schools some fourteen per cent. So you see what we may be able to accomplish with the addition of the new building, which will bring about a 100 per cent increase in the number of pupils in the time the school bell rings in September. We are already practicing the method of promoting a pupil whenever he is qualified to go on, regardless of the time of year. And with the completion of this, we can abandon the slack which is being used for the shelter of 124 future defenders of the nation, and begin making our new population thankful that they are residents of the modern city in the land. (That expression didn't originate in a real estate office, either!)

"How about churches?"

"The new Episcopal Parish House is going up at the cost of forty-five hundred, and will be a six-thousand-dollar affair before the end of the year. We are also making arrangements to take care of the unfortunate who may have tripped and fallen in this dollar race we've all got to be in order to keep our pulse up to normal. There are some who failed to begin practicing early enough, and some who met the Host of Disease and became his victim. All these must be cared for in the new way. No old, germ-laden, tumble-down shack that nobody else wants is to be used for this purpose. The county commissioners are planning to erect a modern brick structure which will equal a Healy-Connell model from a sanitary standpoint. They've got ten acres on Addison avenue and there'll be no occasion for the Women's club and sanitary officers to borrow the inmates by inspection."

"Then we are going to have another valuable addition, and as it's something that'll save the place of a church in that it has a chapel in connection, guess you had better go look it over for yourself. The Crosby Undertaking establishment is going to fill the bill all right when we are through our town-building efforts and ready for the 'lay long rest,' as Mr. Jacob Reed would say. But we won't go on to the office and you can come after you've seen Crosby's. We'll have lunch in here where the music makes you feel like you want to take your partner and balance all!" and with a cheery wave of the hand the Oldest Inhabitant plodded on through the snow, I continued my journey to Crosby's alone.

Nowhere in the state is there a more up-to-date and convenient undertaking establishment than this. The reception room, which opens into the office, is to be finished in mahogany, the latter being done in similar material. Because of this arrangement, the undertaker may be reached at any time without disturbing service which might be in progress in the chapel, and the scheme of constructing a stairway from office to basement makes any portion of the place accessible at all times without inconvenience to any concerned.

The chapel itself, with its beautiful Gothic windows and soft gray furnishings, will seat one hundred persons without the addition of chairs. The office opening directly into the chapel makes it possible for the undertaker to enter without confusion to those who may have lingered in the outer corridor. The pulpit is located in front of the two family rooms, the morgue room from view by heavy curtains, which will bring about privacy to the bereaved family. In the basement is the show room, an apartment measuring 17 by 43 feet, where the caskets may be viewed, the white finish of the interior being completed by the use of shadowless lights. The morgue room is fitted with a perfect system of ventilation, so that with the outer halls by which the various rooms may be entered, also the garage built in connection, this is truly one of our most modern municipal additions.

MARKET CONDITIONS

Conditions surrounding merchandise markets at present, and for several weeks past, have been both peculiar and unusual. Aside from higher prices of raw materials, and the difficulty of securing good quality dyes, mills and manufacturers are unable to supply the demand for merchandise, with the result that merchants who have placed orders during the past two or three months, have not only paid higher prices, but will be obliged to accept goods that are inferior to those manufactured at an earlier date, with the uncertainty of getting their goods when wanted, and in the quantities ordered.

Merchants of long experience, those of many years, who anticipated these conditions, and made their purchases before present conditions arose, will be in a position to take better care of their customers than those who have been in the market during the past few weeks.

A merchant necessarily come before the public with prices much higher than he has been asking, and if he is one of those who have been pricing his goods high heretofore, his customers will be obliged to pay for his lack of foresight in not having bought many months ago, instead of recently.

I have seemed to be fortunate in forming my conclusions regarding market conditions, some time in advance; in fact I have the reputation among manufacturers and mill agents, of making my purchases at the opportune time. The fact of the matter is, I am usually a small buyer when goods are high, and a liberal buyer when goods are low. I was a liberal buyer early last year and have what is considered a big stock for this market, on hand now, which was bought before prices were advanced, and the serious trouble over dyed began.

In view of the foregoing I need hardly say that I am in a most fortunate position, which will enable me to take the best of care of you good folks for some months to come.

FILER FACTS

A Special Contribution To The Times By Juneau H. Shinn

The name Filer, is inclusive. It means that territory extending from the Snake river, the well-known Sucker flat, to the north, including a part of the Salmon river project on the north. The east line the city of Twin Falls, and on the west is the Bull canyon, and beyond that the great trirapine tract, as yet unclaimed.

Arbitrary to Filer but a few miles south is the well-known Sucker flat, or Moron district, conceded to be the most fertile section of the Twin Falls tract. This progressive community was erected in its midst a $150,000 two-story brick school building, the educational facilities of which are a model of rural school life. Free transportation for the scholars to and from the school is one of the features used by this and various other school districts. At Moron the school building contains besides the school rooms, a large auditorium, used as a social center, fire-escape, lavatories, and special waterworks system. There is a teachers' dormitory with garden, janitor's quarters, and stables. Students may augment their noon lunch with hot soup or cocoa, served by the domestic science department, at two cents, the actual cost. These facts are given so that the outsider may judge for himself the type of progressive citizenry that make up the population of the eight rural school districts directly tributary to Filer.

A large tract of land, southwest of Filer, and lying between the Salmon River tract and the high line canal, has been reclaimed by the simple expedient of forcing water up on it by the means of electrically driven hydraulic pumps. The aggregation includes about 3,500 acres and has all been put into cultivation by the Filer Land Company. This company seeded the entire acreage, principally to clover; fenced each forty acres with woven wire; built nine miles of telephone and electric lines; guaranteed the establishment of an electric railway, connecting with the Oregon Short Line R. R. and the new sold stock of their property, principally to German farmers from Nebraska. The community has a church, school, hospital, and hotel, and is known as Clover, called from the main product of the out-lying farms.

Clover and other seeds has proven in the past season to be one of the most profitable crops in the Filer section. Last fall the world's record for the production of white clover seed was made on a holding of the Filer Seed Farm at Clover, sixteen acres netting over $357.00 per acre. Many fields netted over $100.00 per acre, and not a few persons have since made money from the sale of ordinary white clover seed gathered from along the road and waterways. So important is this particular industry becoming that the Dequay company of Chicago, have a branch warehouse at Filer, where they keep a force of about twenty-five men employed in the fall sorting beans, peas, and other seeds. The Volger Seed company of Salt Lake, have purchased frontage on the S. L. right-of-way, and will erect warehouses before the next harvest season.

Beans are also an exceptional crop, netting the grower from $75.00 to $112.00 per acre.

The prosperity of the Filer section can be gauged by the substantial improvements being put upon modern farms. Modern homes, large barns, deep wells, gas engines, pure-bred stock, and automobiles are the luxuries which cannot but touch successful industry.

There are Corn, Pig, Canning and Farm clubs for the boys and girls, under the supervision of the schools. Farmers organizations include a Fruit Growers association, Honey Producers association, Holstein-Friesian association, and the most active is the Potato Growers association, capitalized at $5,000, and incorporated under the laws of Idaho. This company owns a large potato warehouse and is shipping constantly. L. M. Smith is its manager.

Hog and sheep raising are two of the principal industries and is perhaps the most profitable manner of disposing of the enormous tonnage of alfalfa hay.

Filer ranks seventh in the state as a shipping center, and in 1915, there were handled at the local station a total of 1965 carloads.

It is no wonder therefore that the commissioners of Twin Falls county in 1915 accepted the offer of Filer for the Twin Falls county fair, perhaps the greatest accession that ever came to the town. Citizens of Filer and community subscribed $10,000.00, and purchased a forty-acre plot adjacent to Filer on the north and gave it gratis to Twin Falls county for county fair purposes. This county has heretofore been without a county club, known as the county fair of all Idaho, will have as a strong competitor the Twin Falls county fair. Filer for the last twenty years has been a fair ground, called the Filer Field Day, the success of which eventually brought the location of the county fair grounds at this point.

1915 has been prosperity year for

Filer, but 1916 is already overstepping. There has just been completed seven brick blocks on Main street, and two are under way. It is no wonder that the Filer Hardware company have built a two-story store building, and will complete the front half of it in the spring. J. W. Tanner, editor of the Filer Journal, has completed a brick block containing the post office, of which W. P. Tanner, the postmaster, an excellent room used for a bakery, lunch room and confectionery, and a modern theatre, which is the pride of Filer. This theatre is 120 ft. long, has a large stage, dressing rooms, is heated by hot air, well ventilated, and the indigestible lighting system is used. The Snyder Hardware and C. A. Love Mercantile company both have new homes on Main street. The foundation has all been laid for a 120-foot garage to be erected by E. H. Tippley. Work is progressing rapidly on the F. C. Graves building, which will contain two well equipped offices.

Cornet lots have been purchased by Beem & Hammerquist within the fire limit, for the erection in the spring of a large late of display room and service station. N. Jackson has made arrangements for the installation of a plate glass front in the Bakery property on Filer avenue, which he will open a bakery immediately. Residents are being erected constantly but the demand is invariably greater than the supply. New homes are to be erected at once by John Bliss and S. D. Taylor. J. W. Tanner is converting three former store buildings into residences. However, there are several acre plots still on the market in the Johnson, Munyon, and Mattison Additions.

Three churches were built in Filer during 1915, which together with the two edifices of the Methodist and Baptists, gives Filer five churches. However, there are several acre plots still on the market in the Johnson, Munyon, and Mattison Additions.

Eleven instructors are employed in the public schools at present. The high school has an enrollment of over a hundred, and the courses are particularly broad in their scope, including the usual subjects supplemented with agriculture, and an advanced domestic science course, covering every requirement. The noon hour lunches are served at 10 cents. The student body are alive in athletic lines, having a monthly page, and an annual, "The Filer."

Filer boasts over four miles of wide cement sidewalks, a 24-hour electric light and heat service, with 36 street lamps, a $15,000 municipally owned water system, with an unceasing water supply from a deep well 576 feet deep, located 60 feet above the level of the city's highest water pressure. It is thereby gained for fire protection. A well-equipped fire company, with hose carts and fire fighting paraphernalia, keep fire danger and insurance rates at a minimum. The fire building limit also keeps the standard of building up, and eliminates possible disaster.

The Farmers' Mutual Telephone company, as its name indicates, is a co-operative concern having over 80 miles of system, reaching from Good Hope, on the south, to the north, covering 10 miles of Snake river canyon valley, connecting with Clover six miles to the southwest, and goes ten miles to the southeast.

One of the features of the $15,000 May's ranch lying on Snake river directly north of Filer, is a large private fish hatchery, calculated to supply trout for the Salt Lake market. The cool, pure water of Niagara Springs are diverted into concrete waterways built in six levels for the different aged fish. The fish are hatched from the embryo in two special buildings, 40,000 trout were raised here last season.

Then there is the Iron State Cheese factory, but in 1915 that boys made the dairyman, giving to return, churning, cheese, and checks!

Filer has five lodges, two women's clubs, and the commercial club, known as the Farmers and Merchants Commercial association, with J. W. Tanner, president, and Elmer E. Haug, secretary. Practically every business and profession is represented in Filer. Important assets are a flour mill, wagon box factory, planing mill and saw mill. Most every state and nation are represented in Filer.

PRICE OF GASOLINE DOUBLES IN SIX MONTHS

No Relief in Sight—Automobile Manufacturers May Turn to Kerosene

Advances in gasoline are beginning to attract the attention of automobile owners, who view with more or less alarm the fact that the cheapest fuel is now selling at 30 cents a gallon where one year ago the price was 14 cents. Dealers explain that this is because the production is not equal to the demand, which is a steadily increasing quantity. In addition to this, prices of tires are also advancing, as well as cost of fittings and general equipment. One traveling salesman of an eastern oil house when asked when this advance in gasoline was going to stop, he replied: "Judging from present conditions, not until it reaches such a point that automobile owners will no longer buy, but house their machines."

One factor in the situation is that 15 months ago the Standard Oil company offered to supply crude oil at 25 cents a barrel to the many motorists who were scattered over the oil fields. This was at a cost to them less than the expense incurred in oil localizing, and resulted in getting most of them out of the prospecting business. Shortly thereafter, it was noted that the price of the crude article began to rise, and this morning it was quoted anywhere from $1.61 to $1.75 per barrel. It is claimed that this condition made more favorable to them by the phenomenal increase in number of automobiles of all kinds.

Kerosene can be a very limited extent be used for propulsion purposes, but its action is regarded for economical use with automobile machinery as at present constructed. One make of machine does use kerosene, however, and it is believed that the current exigency is likely to result in the directing of inventive genius toward devising an engine that will operate on kerosene instead of gasoline with satisfactory results.

With a cosmopolitan people, cultured and intelligent, you will find that ex-doctors, clergymen, judges, lawyers, business men, and ex-politicians, but the fact is that a large percentage of the people here, or agricultural workers, but better still you will find farmers—plus on—farmers—ambitious men who farm in a business-like way, most of them, and substantial lunch is mobile. Many have their farms named, with the name on their stationery. One has a sign up—John Jones & Son—considered real by some of course, but they are making farming their paramount busy-ness.

Filer as well as most towns alive to the needs of the farmer, had a movable school, or agricultural college, this winter, conducted by the extension department of the University of Idaho at Moscow. The meetings were well attended, and a keen interest manifested. New methods of production and stock-raising are thus indicated by specialists, so that the man on the farm by the use of a little water may tickle the soil, and make it laugh a harvest.

If you want to ascertain the integrity of Filer Farmers (capital noun), ask the Filer business men, or vice versa. Note the report of the Filer State bank, which shows deposits aggregating $216,503.19.

The business man—he who depends upon the fertility of the soil, and the farmer—must work together. That is why the commercial club is the Farmers and Merchants Commercial association; also that is why the Filer business men provide the free picture shows on Saturday afternoons for the rural patrons. This is a new idea, the intention of which is claimed by Filer. Free matinee tickets are handed out by the merchants. The women and children, after shopping may attend the movies, in a comfortable, well ventilated, modern theatre, for a little relaxation, while the husband has his car fixed up, or sells his beans, or buys his machine, or prepares for work, that has a compensation.

If you want to know about Filer farms, "ask the man who owns one!"

WILL ATTACK ARMED VESSELS AFTER FEB. 29

Austria Follows Lead of Germany and Serves Notice on Neutral Countries

Vienna.—A portion of the text of the memorandum communicated by the Austro-Hungarian foreign office today to the representatives of neutral governments, announcing the decision of Austria-Hungary to treat as warships armed merchantmen of countries at war with the author, is as follows:—

"It is not unknown to the governments of neutral powers that the British admiralty in the course of the year 1915 caused a number of large British liners to be armed."

"Experiences gained in the present war show that a considerable number of British merchantmen used the guns installed aboard against hostile warships and not solely with the intention to escape legitimate exercise of the price right, but also to attack and destroy enemy warships."

"As is evident from the memorandum which the imperial German government communicated to neutral states, instructions have been found aboard British steamers which prove that the British government itself incited its merchantmen to illegal acts, and this in complete contradiction to assurances which it communicated to the state department at Washington. Its allies, particularly France and Italy, followed the example of Great Britain during the course of hostilities."

"Under these conditions, the order has been given to the Austro-Hungarian naval forces to treat such ships as combatants—an order which, however, will be in force only from February 29, 1916."

"This delay is granted in the interests of neutral powers, in order that they may be placed in a position to warn their nationals of the danger to which they will expose themselves if they intrust their persons or property to armed merchantmen of states at war with Austria-Hungary and also to notify these of their nationals who may already be aboard ships of the above mentioned character."

DODGE BROTHERS ROADSTER

After ten months of heavy production the demand for the car is still far in excess of our ability to supply.

The car itself—its performance, and the things said about it by owners—is solely responsible for this remarkable state of affairs. The motor is 30-35 horsepower.

The price of the Touring Car or Roadster complete is $755 (f. o. b. Detroit)
