

Explosion Came In Dent of Night—
Americans Saved—Survivors Arrive
In Holland.

AMSTERDAM—The newest and finest steamship sailing under the Dutch flag, the "Tubantia" of the Holland-America line, was sunk early yesterday, thirty miles off the Dutch coast. Although it is not positively established whether the sinking was due to a mine or a torpedo, there is a singular unanimity on the part of those who were on board in attributing it to a submarine's act.

The crew have their belief in this regard chiefly on the intense violence of the explosion and on the fact that it occurred amidships.

The vessel was bound from Amsterdam to South American ports, carrying crew of 244 and eighty-two passengers, the latter mostly Americans. The ship bore the usual identification marks of a neutral character, including an illuminated neutral flag.

The disaster has created a profound sensation throughout Holland. The press comments reflect anger and indignation. The Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant says:

"Between being torpedoed and being mined, the only difference which exists is that known in criminal law between intention and conditional intention. If the ship was torpedoed, then there was absolute intention. The submarine commander must have known, when he gave the command to fire, that the ship was the 'Tubantia.' No words can be found to qualify this crime; no excuses can be accepted."

It is now believed there was a small number of lives lost in the sinking of the "Tubantia," either in the explosion or in an accident which attended the launching of a lifeboat. The steamship remained afloat several hours.

According to all reports there was no panic. The boats were launched in their appointed order and the passengers were all safely rescued. The rescue work was difficult owing to the darkness, the heavy mist and the rough sea.

SMALLPOX SCARE AT THE STATE CAPITOL BUILDING

Idaho's state capital building and its famous west wing, the smallpox scare yesterday when City Health Officer Eaton visited the state department, directed Miss Annie Ryan, stenographer, to return to her home, closed the doors and windows and fumigated the office, and incidentally Chief Clerk Cliff, who happened to be present.

The news of the fumigation, and the rumor, rapidly spread through the state house but there was no stampede.

It appears that Miss Ryan, who resides with relatives, had been exposed to smallpox. Some of the children in the family have been vaccinated, and it is supposed that the latest exposure to the disease was suffering from smallpox. Miss Ryan has been attending to her daily stenographic duties and thought of the matter, especially in view of the fact the disease had been considered chickenpox. However, the health officer took no time, on learning of the disease was smallpox, to visit the game department and take the necessary precautions to prevent possible spread of the disease.

Chief Clerk Cliff was ordered to fumigate his clothes, be vaccinated and runs the chances of being quarantined. He actually is certified from his physician that he was immune from the disease, having been vaccinated and this may save the quarantine. Miss Ryan was vaccinated several months ago.

UP FOR LA FOLLETTE

Democrats Unanimous For Wilson,
While Republicans Are Agreed on Wisconsin Senator.

WASHINGTON—Robert M. La Follette, United States senator from Wisconsin, is expected to receive his first formal endorsement for the Republican presidential nomination in the North Dakota primaries next Tuesday. The Wisconsin senator has been waging an active campaign for the nomination in the light that Cummings, Fairbanks, Weeks and several of the other Republican aspirants have been doing, but he is cornered in a candidly, where there is a national fight among the Republicans of Mr. La Follette's home state, from which there arises a possibility that the senator may not receive the unqualified support of the Wisconsin delegates to the national convention. In this contingency, it has been stated by Mr. La Follette and his political managers that it would be a wise move in the direction of "preparation" to have instructed delegates from some other state in order to make certain that the name of the Wisconsin senator will be placed before the Chicago convention. The "selection" naturally fell upon North Dakota, where the La Follette strength was abundantly manifested in the political skirmishing that preceded the national conventions of four years ago.

As Senator La Follette is the only Republican candidate who has filed a petition in North Dakota, with the exception of Henry D. Estabrook of New York, it is regarded as a practical certainty that the state's delegates to the Chicago convention will be instructed for the Wisconsin senator. Some surprise has been expressed that Senator Cummings did not file a petition, since his lieutenants have been working diligently to "capture all of the neighboring states. The generally accepted explanation is that the Iowa senator has entered into some arrangement with Senator La Follette's friends by which the Iowa candidate has agreed to leave La Follette an unobstructed path in North Dakota. The Democratic delegates from North Dakota are instructed unanimously for Wilson's re-election.

PATCH WOULD BE
LITENANT GOVERNOR

General L. V. Patch of Payette, has announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor, subject to the action of the Republican party. A statement of his experience contains the following information relative to his life and activities:

General Patch was born at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, in 1874; moved to Omaha in 1890, and graduated from the Nebraska State University in 1898. He was city engineer of Omaha for three years succeeding his graduation and moved to Payette, Idaho, in 1902, where he has since resided. Gen. Patch is vice-president of the Idaho Canning company, one of the large business concerns of this part of the state. He is president of the Payette Electric Irrigation company, a director of the First National bank of Payette, secretary of the Payette Flour Milling company and of the Rex Spray company. He is also president of the Idaho State Poultry & Pet Stock association and a director of the Idaho State Irrigation association, and in addition operates several fruit ranches and a stock ranch.

As will be readily seen from the foregoing, Gen. Patch has been busy, but not too busy to devote some time to politics and other public affairs. He represented Canyon county in the 1904 session of the Idaho legislature. He has served as Colonel of the 2nd Infantry, Idaho National Guard, Adjutant General of the State of Idaho, has been a member of the city council of Payette and for seven years has served as secretary of the board of education in his home city.

ARMY BILL DEBATE
—BEGIN IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON—Under a time limiting general debate to ten hours, the house began consideration of the army bill—the most extensive proposal for increasing the military establishment ever held before it in recent times. It is possible, a final vote will be reached tomorrow night.

Forty speakers have asked for time, Republicans and Democrats being equally represented on the list. When the debate began no opponent of the general plan of preparedness had asked to be heard.

Chairman Hay of the military committee, and Representative Kahn, ranking Republican member, opposed the ten hours equally. So far as is known no committee member will favor reduction of the provisions for the regular army or the national guard, although several are known to favor a larger standing army.

FLOUR MILL BEING ERECTED AT RUPERT

RUPERT, Ida.—Rupert is to have an up-to-date flour mill, according to the Pioneer-Record. Nearly all of the flouring capacity of the state is to be installed. It will be owned and operated by Victor & Brown and located at their present warehouse at the river front. The present building will be remodeled to accommodate the necessary machinery and the whole plant will, of course, be operated by electricity.

The capacity of the new flour mill will be twenty-five barrels daily. It will be equipped to turn out a first-class product and the top prices will be paid for wheat. This will give a close market for the dry farm wheat from the farms north of the project and will prove a big thing for Rupert, Use Rupert flour in the future.

SUGGESTS CHANGES IN LAND-LOAN SYSTEM

State Treasurer John W. Eagleton Would Have Counties Loan Money at Low Rates to Small Owners.

The following excerpts are taken from a pamphlet entitled "A Plan to Use Our State Endowment Funds at Lower Interest," issued this week by State-Treasurer John W. Eagleton. The plan involves the loaning of money from state endowment funds through the several counties under the direction of the several boards of county commissioners, at a low rate, preferably in small amounts. Mr. Eagleton claims that this would raise the price of state lands and on the other hand would encourage development through lowering the interest rates.

Since the transfer of the mortgages and school bonds last April and May from the land department to the treasurer's office, a number of changes in the method of making loans, collection of interest and principal and the sale of state lands have come to my mind which I think will materially affect taxation, reduce interest rates, enhance the state's endowment funds and simplify the state's methods of doing business and reduce the cost thereof.

My reason for presenting the plan for consideration at this time is because it requires legislative action and such important changes should be discussed prior and can before the legislature meets, so that bills may be drafted that will meet the approval of the people.

Idaho has over two and one-half million dollars invested in farm mortgages bearing 6 and 7 per cent, and payable semi-annually; about the same amount invested in school bonds bearing 6 and 7 per cent interest, and also semi-annually, and about five million in land sale contracts bearing 6 per cent payable annually. In other words, the state is getting over $1,000,000 interest on over ten million dollars from the sale of its permanent endowment fund lands. We still have for sale approximately 1,000,000 acres of other endowment fund lands (about seven hundred thousand acres of which is covered with mercantile timber).

It is estimated that when all this land and timber is sold Idaho ought to have upwards of one hundred million dollars to invest in farm loans and school bonds. This vast sum of money, if secured and used for the people's benefit as an endowment fund, would control and lower the interest rates charged in the state. In any event, the present rates must be reduced from time to time to meet the needs of the state, but why not begin now and reduce commercial rates and get all other possible benefits as well?

The recent extension of time for the payment of state land purchases from 16 to 40 years, on the partial payment plan, has noticeably stimulated buying and materially increased the sale of state land. How much more money the state would get from the sale of its lands by a material reduction of interest and longer time for payment of the principal can only be estimated; but that it would be extremely profitable to the state by the increase in the value of its land, and the fact that other lands would rise in value is also self-evident. That every school district, taxpayer or borrower of money would be benefited is also just as self-evident. Every dollar of increase in the value of the state's lands adds just that much more to the amount of the endowment funds which will earn interest for all time, and as this interest is all used for the expenses of schools and the state institutions, it reduces taxes accordingly.

So far as the future sale of our land is concerned, it would well pay the state to sell on a five per cent basis, that is four per cent interest and one per cent amortization of the principal. This would certainly enhance the price of the land far beyond the difference in interest for a few years, besides the increased price would be in the permanent endowment funds and would be loan for all time.

The greatest handicap to the development of our state at this time is the high rate of interest on farm loans, merchants and manufacturers are compelled to pay to get money to make their improvements. If we could mobilize the one hundred million dollars into loans the next few years at a low rate of interest, on the one per cent amortization plan, Idaho would not need government aid to get cheap money.

The long time amortization plan of loans at a low rate of interest and with a small amortization of the principal is not a new thing. It has been tried out successfully in many places and always with great advantage to the people. It has the direct effect of offsetting taxes, stimulating improvement of lands in particular and the development of the state's resources in general, and increases very materially the desirability of the new land to be sold.

The Idaho state land board, in making loans, follows the method of having the party wishing a loan make application on a blank furnished by the state. The applicant is sent out from the office to look at the land and place a value. Because of its manifold duties the board, in approving a loan, must rely on the report of the man sent out from the office to view the land; no matter how good the man's judgment might be regarding lands, he cannot possibly give the time to each application sufficient to familiarize himself with all the details of identification of the land, its value, etc., except through inquiries of the friends and neighbors of the applicant, and this is not always the best information.

On the other hand, if the county commissioners were required by law to make the appraisement, they would know the land in most cases personally, besides having the benefit of the advice of the assessor. Another thing, the county commissioners are familiar with the value of the land, and in that way they would be more competent and familiar with values, loans, etc., than the county assessor, who is not familiar with the value of the land beyond the limited time at his command to examine each piece of land.

The county attorney could be authorized to pass on the abstracts and obtain immediate corrections, thus reducing the attorney general's office to his two many time consuming official duties.

The collection of principal and interest are now made by the state treasurer's office. This necessitates an endless amount of correspondence in checking up the payment of taxes, the mortgagee's duty each year, etc., which could in the main be done away with by having the county treasurer make the collections.

No county would for many years exceed 100 loans and this would be no great burden to any set of officials. However, to compensate the county, the state could well afford to turn over to the county the one per cent amortization fee now charged for the expense of making appraisement.

We can put all of our school bonds, sale contracts and mortgages on a six per cent semi-annual payment basis, five per cent to apply as interest and the balance to apply on the amortization of the principal, and the state would actually save money by so doing. If handled by the county assessor and the saving in the expense of handling would be given to the school district, the borrower of state money and the purchaser of state land. This would put all land sales, loans and school bonds on a 36-year basis. In other words, the purchaser or borrower would pay money by semi-annual payment at the rate of six per cent on the amount of the original loan, would have his entire debt of state money disposed of in 36 years. The actual time figures a fraction more than 36 years, but the extra amount to amortize that could be included in the last payment.

While, in my judgment, it would be very unwise to unnecessarily restrict the sale of state land, and that it always have the preference, regardless of the higher proportionate expense of making it, which in fact is too small to consider. That small loan will add more people should be a sufficient reason for the loan and for the cheerful assistance of every official in whatever station he may serve.

ALL PRICES STILL SOARING IN SKIES

Hog Market Sensational—In Idaho and Other Live Stock Prices Almost as Good.

The hog market has been on the "tear," says the Portland Live Stock Reporter. The past week has been one of advances. This week the advance is still as far as we know where it will end, although the eastern markets have in the past three or four days shown a weaker tendency. From the local Chicago market, a decline of 15c to 20c. About the same conditions prevail at South Omaha. However, on the coast nothing has occurred and there is nothing in sight to stop the upward tendency and prices have risen earlier this year than has been predicted, even by the most daring "hog predictor."

The advance in hogs has been little short of sensational. Demand has been very keen, both by shippers and packers, shippers for the most part taking up the lighter, unfinished classes. Last Monday's advance was 40c. Tuesday's market was steady. Wednesday showed a 10c rise and today steady.

Not only has a $9 price been ushered in but prices have made a "steep" stride towards a higher level. The market has taken but one direction and that is "skyward"—in fact—since the first of the year prices have shown an upward tendency and closing figures today are better than $3 over the lowest spot since last December. The present price of hogs is the highest since September, 1914. The high prices of the last few days has set the old heads wagging and wondering if the old "hog" prices will be eclipsed before the present high wave subsides. However, it is not pork prices alone that are soaring. Cattle prices are now the best they have been during the year with an exceeding strong and healthy under-tone. The present prices are better than last year comparatively.

The sheep prices have been very strong right along. The demand is very keen. Best lambs could be got enough to bring $9.50 easily with other sheep classes in proportion.

Live motion trade has also been doing a busy stunt. Shipping quotations earlier in the season has more than made good. The term "highest prices on record" has become so familiar that it is true. Everything has pointed to the high market and all offerings are getting clearance just as soon as unloaded.

Current quotations are: Choice grain and pulp-fed, $8.00@8.10; choice fed $7.00@7.75; good, $7.25@7.50; medium, $7.00@7.25; ordinary, $6.75@6.75.

General cow quotations are: Choice, $6.00@6.75; good $5.25@5.50; medium, $5.00@5.25; ordinary, $4.75@5.00; common, $4.00@4.75.

Butter quotations are: Choice cream, $4.00@4.25; good, $3.75@4.00; medium, $3.50@3.75; common, $3.25@3.50.

Stocker and feeder quotations are: Choice, $5.00@5.25; good, $4.50@4.75; medium, $4.25@4.50; ordinary, $4.00@4.25; common, $3.75@4.00.

Hog quotations are: Prime light, $9.10; good to prime mixed, $8.75@8.75; rough heavy mixed, $8.00@8.25; pigs and weaners, $4.00@4.25.

The wool market here is quieter but none the less firm. The total sales of the week amounted to 100 tons, an average volume of business probably between three and four million pounds having been moved, all told.

Shippers are continuing very readily, however, and there is no little congestion in the transportation of wools from the coast. Everything is moving so that dealers are not very unhappy over the quieter state of trade, which is helping them in getting shipments made. Every thing considered, there appears to be no quotable change in prices.

ready to strike and to get Roscoe away from the house, send him an anonymous telephone message that a patient of his is dangerously ill in a neighboring town. With all speed he makes his way to the place in an automobile only to find a vacant house at the address. He now suspects the wife's friend of having tricked him and on his return Roscoe exhibits his skill as a driver of fast cars.

During his absence, St. John, one of the crooks, has entered the house and taken refuge under Mabel's bed. Mabel and Will while away their time with memories of by-gone days and then go to their rooms. Mabel discovers the burglar, gives the alarm and Jefferson comes to her aid. Jefferson routs the burglar after an extremely amusing chase through the residence. When the excitement is over the inevitable happens and Mabel falls in a faint. She is carried to her room by Jefferson, who proceeds to revive her.

At this point the suspicious Roscoe enters the room. He quickly does away with Jefferson and then turns on Mabel, clutching her, and she sets out after her husband with a revolver, meets him in the hall and shoots him. He falls on the banister and after sliding down the rail falls in a heap at the foot of the stairs.

The story at this juncture takes a decided turn and the terrible tragedy is amusingly brought to a happy close.

REDUCTION SHOWN IN THE STATE TAXES

Tables Sent From Office of Governor Indicate That Any Increase Is Due to County Levies.

THE TIMES in receipt of a circular from the office of the governor in Boise, showing the total amount of state taxes levied in every county in the state and the amount of general county taxes of all sorts, the purpose being to show that where there has been an increase in taxes levied it has been due to the increase in the county levy and that there has been a decrease in the state levy. The total reduction for the year 1915 in state taxes levied by counties was, according to this table, $36,168.48, in which connection it is implied should be noted the fact that no interest was provided in the 1915 state levy for interest on state bonded indebtedness which was paid out of previous accumulations, while it was necessary to levy $36,000 for that purpose in 1915. The total levy for the state for Twin Falls county for 1914 was $44,906.49, while the total for 1915 was $29,497.94, a reduction of $15,408.55. The total tax levy for county purposes was $177,740.74 last year, and $169,841.12 in 1915, an increase of $7,899.62 so that the total increase for the year was $2,490.97. No statement is made of the percentage of tax levy, or the difference in valuation. As a matter of fact, the state taxes in this county were reduced by three-tenths of one mill in 1915 from 1914. County taxes outside the bridge fund, were the same in 1914, but bridge fund was increased by three-tenths of one mill, which made the total per cent of combined levy the same both years. However, there was a slight increase in that valuation in 1915 over 1914, so that the saving in state taxes in dollars and cents appeared slightly greater and the increased taxes levied for county, bridge and road purposes appeared considerably larger in dollars and cents than if the total taxable property valuation had remained the same during the two years.

The introductory statement to the table, addressed to the people of Idaho, reads as follows:

Governor Alexander has had prepared in his office statements showing the amount and character of taxation during the years 1914 and 1915. This has been done for the purpose and with the intention to supplement the work done by the Idaho tax commission for the year 1913, which was the year for which data was collected and published by that body, for the purpose as stated in that report, "To secure public discussion of this important matter, and to secure the interest and co-operation of the taxpayers themselves for the purpose of enabling us to strike at the very root of our difficulties. The report is not an argument, but a portrait of conditions."

The tax commission further adds: "In order to furnish a basis for a comprehensive study of the situation by the taxpayer himself, or the resident of the state when in directly or indirectly interested in the subject, we have endeavored to compile and submit the data which we have gathered in such form as in our opinion will best enable the citizens of Idaho to realize the exact situation."

In the work done in the office of Governor Alexander, exactly the same method was pursued relative to tax figures for 1914 and 1915 as was adopted by the tax commission for 1913, and in order to facilitate comparison during the two years that preceded that for which the tax commission compiled its figures, comparative tables are herewith supplied giving the amount of tax levied by each county of the state for each purpose as levied for each of the years 1912, 1913 and 1915.

The valuations upon which taxes were levied and the rate of taxation for each several purposes, was furnished by the county auditors of each county and every effort has been made to have them accurate and it is believed they are substantially correct.

BUHL NEWS

(From the Buhl Herald)

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Buhl Cemetery association this week, it was decided to take up the work of improving the local burial grounds by putting down wire fence around the whole plot of thirteen acres, and to put in a water tank at the upper side of the lot so that the cemetery may be secured to grass and watered. The five acres which have been plotted will be laid with water pipes, and seeded with clover and blue grass. The grass will be watered by hose attached to the pipes which will come to the surface at various places over the lawn. A gasoline engine will be used to pump the water from the cante below into the water tank which will be used for sprinkling the grass. A man will be employed to devote a part of the summer to seeding the cemetery and keeping it watered until it has become well seeded.

Tuesday was good roads day in Buhl townsite, and a dozen teams and three times as many extra men spent the day improving the streets and the roads leading to each corner of the townsite. The rock was picked up, and the streets were graded, and leveled. Two tractor engines, pulled the graders, and practically all of the streets have been graded now. The Buhl Auto company and A. E. Kline hitched an automobile on each of the big three section road drags, and they leveled the streets where the grader had pushed the dirt to the center of the street. The big steam roller run over the roughest places in the streets, and over the road which was fixed in leading east from the Durley corner. The streets are in pretty good shape now.

A membership campaign for the Buhl Business Men's association was launched at their last regular meeting Thursday evening, and the admission fee will be made at $10, instead of $15 for the next sixty days, and it is expected that this membership campaign will be increased from seventy-five to two hundred "live, active" members during the campaign. The Auto club is an auxiliary of the Buhl Business Men's association, and by being admitted into either, entitles a member to all of the privileges of the other.

As pretty a party as has ever been given, was the one at which the Messadams Hammel, Fritchler, Eastman and Thompson were hostesses on Saturday afternoon, which was given in honor of Miss Hazel Allred, whose marriage to Elton Elison will be solemnized in the near future. Good old St. Patrick was the main of the hour, and certainly no one could have mistaken the Hammel home for "sought else" but "Emerald Isle" itself.

About fifteen farmers and laymen met at the Commercial club rooms last Saturday afternoon to discuss plans for erecting another cheese factory in this part of the country, and while no definite conclusion was reached, it was the unanimous opinion that such a plan could be made to pay big dividends.

There will be an exhibition of pictures on the walls of the Buhl high school on March 31st to April 1st, inclusive, representing the best reproductions from the masterpieces of the art galleries of the world, and the object of bringing this collection to Buhl is to secure pictures for the walls of the public schools.

Nearly one hundred Oregonians gathered at the Buhl opera house last Saturday afternoon for the Buhl annual celebration since coming here. A permanent organization was perfected by selecting officers, consisting of a president, secretary and treasurer. The Oregon-Idaho club was formed with the following officers: M. D. L. Barstow, president, and Dials P. Oliver, secretary-treasurer.

Last Sunday evening the second Sunday Evening club service was held at the Rex. The attendance was good but not as good as the first night, but there was a marked increase of interest. At the first meeting there were over two hundred present.

Four carloads of migrant goods arrived from Nebraska this week, containing household goods, farming machinery and livestock, owned by parties who have purchased land in the Clover tract eight miles southeast of Buhl.

The plans for the Buhl Pioneer Day celebration are developing, and it promises to be the biggest event in Buhl of its nature since the Cornucopia celebration last September.

EXAMINATION FOR POSTMASTER AT MURTAUGH. The United States civil service commission announces that on Saturday, April 8, an examination will be held at Murtaugh, Idaho, as a result of which it is expected to make certification to the postmaster vacancy in the position of fourth class postmaster at Murtaugh, and our vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it should be decided of that interest in the service to fill the vacancy by reappointment.

The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements. Application forms and full information concerning the requirements of the examination can be secured from the postmaster at Murtaugh, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the commission at Washington at least seven days before the date of the examination, otherwise it may be impracticable to examine the applicants.

WATER MASTER'S REPORT ON MINIDOKA PROJECT

The net irrigable acreage for which rental applications were made on the South Side Pumping unit in 1915 was 40,232 acres, out of 47,020 acres in the project. Water was delivered to farm units containing 39,857 acres of which 38,133 acres were in cultivation. The average amount of water delivered was 2.74 acre-foot per acre in cultivation.

The total cost of operating and maintaining the pumping unit was $27,440. Credits of about $3,137 are due for the sale of water to the North Side-Twin Falls project and to the city of Burley, leaving a net cost of $24,303, or an average of $1.47 per acre under rental application and an average of $1.26 for each acre in the project as compared with an average of $1.36 per acre in 1913.

The bills for water on the entire irrigable area for 1915 are as follows: 40,232 acres at $1.25 = $50,290.00; 8,125 acres less excess at $20 = $1,625.00.

Total $51,915.00. As the net income was $29,395 this shows a deficit of approximately $22,520.—Burley-Bulletin.

COUNCIL PASSES
FOUR ORDINANCES

Mr. Clouchok and E. H. Robinson, who suggested only that the council should, with a view of securing better lighting for the middle of the park, A. P. Senior and Mark M. Murphree were before the council with a plan for mended plans, the former to change the size of his lot and the latter to cut up his orchard into lots. On the absence of City Engineer Dyer, this matter was tabled, as was also a proposition to change a ditch on the road in the streets addition.

The Wood letter declared that all the acts of the council and the city on the bond matter were valid. The plumbing ordinance was then taken up and certain changes were suggested by Mayor Swedley to Attorney E. V. Larson, who represented the plumbers. City Plumbing Inspector Chambers was also ordered to report pending regulation and not specifically set forth in the present or pending ordinance.

The electrical ordinance was then passed under suspension of the three readings.

A letter was received and read from Attorney C. M. Booth, relative to the subject of putting in a switching track to the grounds owned by Kennelly and others by the route from the west suggested as feasible at a recent meeting. The figures, which were accompanied by a plat, indicated that this would require practically a mile of track, besides a "V" of 100 feet, and would cost including right-of-way through private property, in the neighborhood of $7000, or about four times the cost of the proposed extension across Shoshone street. The letter alleged that this cost would be prohibitive. The letter was filed and the whole subject tabled on the order of the absence of Councilman Bohler.

The matter of an ordinance regulating automobiles on the streets was then taken up and an ordinance drafted by City Attorney Herliott and Mayor Swedley was presented, providing for the parking of machines in the middle of Main street at certain hours. The mayor explained that, owing to the danger of handling machines now, there was great concern on the part of people in general and of merchants and women in particular. He suggested the danger of the city from the possible impeding of the progress of the fire department by congested streets and declared that four times within a single half hour one day last week and three times within an hour on another day there was such congestion that the fire engine could not have gotten through. The council passed the ordinance, which, like other ordinances enacted, will be found in full elsewhere in this issue of THE TIMES. The employment agency ordinance was then introduced. Mayor Swedley explaining its purpose briefly and along the line of a recent interview with him, published in this paper. The ordinance was passed. The sprinkling ordinance was then passed, after which the council took a recess for a week.

Encouragement to Enter RaceHAS MATTER UNDER ADVISE-MENT AT PRESENT TIME.

Declares That He is Not a Factionalist and Made Fight in Boise for National Platform.

"All that I can say with reference to my becoming a candidate for the position of national committeeman is that I have had much encouragement from different parts of the state to enter the race; that I have told some of my friends that under certain circumstances I would become a candidate; that I have the matter under advisement and that I have not finally decided whether I shall enter the race or not," said Arthur M. Bowen, when interviewed Monday relative to the announcement in the Capital News of Sunday that he would be a candidate.

"Democracy here seem to want me to enter," continued Mr. Bowen, "and I am convinced that I could get the support of a considerable number of people, but I have not yet received any encouraging letters from other parts of the state, but I have not finally made up my mind to do so. The report in the Capital News was probably the result of letters sent out from here by my friends, which led that paper to conclude that I was in the race, which was a mistake. I shall probably know in the comparatively near future whether I shall enter or not."

Mr. Bowen has been prominently identified with democratic party affairs for a number of years. He served one term in the state senate from Blaine county and took a prominent part in the enactment of important legislation. During the recent meeting of the democratic state central committee he made a strenuous fight on behalf of the rank and file for a preferential primary and a party primary, but was unsuccessful owing to the manner in which the Pence-Nugent-Elder machine jammed their reactionary proxy program through. Apparently this action has aroused more revolt in the democratic party in this state than it has for some years. It is understood the reactionary program is to be carried out in detail in every county in the state by refusing to hold party primaries for the selection of delegates to the state convention.

"Arthur M. Bowen of Twin Falls, one of the most prominent attorneys in the state, is a candidate for national committeeman, subject to the will of the next democratic state convention to be held at Pocatello May 25. This was the authentic information received by leading democrats of Boise last night. The fight for the committee is therefore now being waged, for it is understood that Mr. Bowen will probably not have the field to himself. Robert H. Elder of Coeur d'Alene, present national committeeman, is a candidate to succeed himself and it is said several favorite sons will be brought out by counties over the state. Some of them propose to carry on the fight for Senator Jerome J. Day, in spite of the fact he announced his withdrawal.

TONIGHT AT THE ISIS "WORM-WOOD," BY MARIE CORRELL

"Wormwood," by Marie Correll. The late proxy war between Monday and Tuesday evenings, "Mother's Secret," was unfortunate enough to be included in a railway accident between Denver and Salt Lake, and was damaged to such an extent they could not be used. Manager Marcel of the Isis has consequently secured for this evening the production of Marie Correll's famous work, "Wormwood."

In a recent interview concerning "Wormwood" her greatest work visualized as a drama, she said: "I am glad that, as a distinguished American statesman recently wrote me, my book 'Wormwood' has resulted in the prohibition of the green poison, absolute, into America. This is a great thing to have accomplished, to have saved a noble nation from one of the most malignant curses of modern times, the most crying evil that exists in France. I have reason to love America for the sake of the many friends my writings have won for me; friends whose faces I have never seen, but who correspond frequently with me and whom I seem familiarly to know through the kindly written expression of their thoughts. With regard to the present story, which I trust may help to raise public attention to the potent evil which is gradually spreading over all the world, I believe most intelligent Americans who have visited Paris will read it with more or less anxious interest. It was, I think, a famous American senator who, quite recently wrote a long and exhaustive practical account of innumerable mischief wrought by the poison-crazed whose dire effects on one individual I have attempted to depict; and if two more leaders among the thinkers, physiologists and scientists would raise their voices to aid in denouncing this fatal brain-degradation and bringing it well before the consideration of those who are the heads of authority in France, it might be checked in its deadly progress and, with a little earnest and decisive work, be stamped out altogether, as a disease is stamped out by perfect sanitation. In this hope I have written "Wormwood"; in this spirit I trust, it may be received.

INTRINSIC VALUE
FOR THE MONEY

Prosperity Purchases of Pianos

The right of coinage was granted by the constitution to the United States government. The piano manufacturer is not the mint. That is to say, no manufacturer has the right to stamp a certain fixed value on a piano.

Some piano houses, by virtue of superior purchasing and distributing advantages, can actually furnish more intrinsic value for the money than others. This is particularly the case in this present instance. Try it this way—shop around all you want to, ask everywhere to see the very best, and new, latest design piano containing the most up-to-date and latest improvements, look at everything that may be had for $325 and even $550. Then come to the new store at 137 Shoshone north and look at this new Exposition Style—instead of $325 or $550, it is only $445, and terms of payment will be made $15 down and $10 a month under our new $15—Ad.
