Sniping and shooting from the cover of convenient brush, gullies and ravines in the Mexican hills is the kind of warfare which the United States soldiers will be compelled to face in Mexico. The picture shows a group of Villa guerrillas advancing under cover to rob and set the torch to defenseless towns.

HOG CHOLERA ALMOST EXTINCT IN COUNTY

Dr. W. A. Sullivan Issues Circular Letter Urging Observance of Rules to Keep It Out.

In a circular letter in which he strongly urges the co-operation of farmers to keep hog cholera from this district, from which it has been exterminated, Dr. W. A. Sullivan, head of the bureau of animal industry here, lays down a number of rules for observance and urges all who suspect the presence of the disease in their herd to report at once. Among other things, he says:

"The bureau of animal industry wishes to advise that at the present time there are no active cases of hog cholera within the county, and since January 1, 1916, only one infected herd has been treated. The location of this last infected herd was two miles south of Jerome, in Lincoln county, and the owner of the herd has thoroughly cleaned and disinfected his premises.

TANNER LESS HOSTILE TO COUNTY DIVISION

Reception at Buhl Puts Him in State of Mind to Consider Matter Under Certain Conditions.

Elmer E. Haug, secretary, and J. W. Tanner, president, of the Commercial club, went to Buhl last Saturday to attend a meeting of the officers of the various commercial clubs on the branch. The object of the meeting was to talk over the dates for the various fairs in the different towns, so as to do away as much as possible with conflicting dates. Flier was interested to the extent of claiming the last Saturday in September for her field day, and the entire week, possibly, if the Twin Falls county fair proposition goes through as scheduled. The two officials from here were unable to remain until this question was settled, but have every assurance that our desires will be granted.

BIRDMAN DROPS FIFTY FEET AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, N. M.—By wireless from field army.—An aeroplane, one of six to arrive today, was partially wrecked in a 50-foot fall. The pilot, Lieut. T. S. Bowen, was injured, but not fatally, sustained a broken nose and other slight injuries.

Lieut. Bowen was attempting to take the air under difficulties. The wind was high and showed a tendency to whirl. Several attempts of the aviator to fly had been frustrated previously by the wind conditions. Finally Bowen went up, but when 50 feet in the air his plane took a dip and plunged almost straight to the ground.

WASHINGTON.—The secretary of the Interior Tuesday sent to congress a strong report recommending the creation of the Sawtooth National park in Idaho and urging speedy action on the Borch bill. He said this park would form an important link in the chain of national parks readily accessible to tourists from the Yellowstone and is of such scenic beauty it should be made accessible to the public. He takes a directly opposite view from the secretary of agriculture.

WHERE BOSSY IS QUEEN.

(The Rupert Democrat.)

It was the privilege of the writer on Saturday last to inspect a number of the dairy farms in the Buhl section. Probably nowhere else in Idaho is dairying made a more exact science than in the case there. We visited barn after barn, ranch after ranch, where the long lines of cows were being milked and where there is not an animal in line that is not a registered and pedigreed animal or else a grade of such breeding as to warrant her being retained in the blue blood society.

At the famous Kuntze ranch, owned by the president of the State Dairy Association, the big barn contains over sixty splendid Holsteins and almost all the milk is converted into cheese in the factory on the farm. Most of the dairy stock around Buhl seems to be Holstein. Silos are everywhere and modern methods all the way down the line.

Another thing that strikes the visitor is the work that the government is doing along dairying and educational lines and, indeed, all farming lines. Two of the government experts were in Buhl and the whole Twin Falls tract is well covered by official advisors to the farmers.

That Idaho is the richest state in the Union in natural resources is pointed out in the annual report of Robert N. Bell, state mine inspector, just made public, which shows exhaustively in 134 pages of interesting matter the production of metals and minerals in the state during 1915. The zinc production for the year was enormous, aggregating $39,000,000. In the Coeur d'Alene district alone the increase was 100 per cent and there is promise of another doubling during the present year. A total lead production of 368,000,000 pounds and 7,000,000 pounds of copper is recorded. Gold and silver in the usual amounts were produced. The report tells of improvements in mines due to the introduction of modern machinery and methods and elaborates on the increased use of electrical power.

Captain Davis is certainly not a politician. He goes over the state telling the truth and puncturing the big stories of other candidates and would-be candidates. Doesn't he know that he ought to tell a bigger story than any of the others? If he wants to be governor he should not only make a taxless state but give every citizen a premium of $500. Nobody would inquire where he would get the money.

"Four New Buildings Are in Course of Construction in Nampa Today," announces the leading paper of the town in display letters on the front page. That's nothing. We sent a reporter out early this morning to count 'em here and he hasn't finished 'em. We go to press.

FOUND STOLEN HIDES IN BOY'S POSSESSION

Gordon Borg, Tracked From Hunt and Filer, Found Tying Up Stolen Property—Claims He Bought Them.

Caught Sunday afternoon with 12 hides stolen from the Idaho Butcher & Packing company and from the meat market at Filer, a young man named Gordon Borg, of indefinite age and no permanent place of residence, insisted, when arrested by Sheriff Kendall and Chief of Police Hum, that he had purchased the goods. He is in jail awaiting trial.

Manager Meyer of the Filer market missed five hides Sunday morning and saw a buggy track leading from the slaughter house to the road, headed for Twin Falls. The rig was tracked along the road into the city. The police and sheriff's office were notified at once and a search made. The young man was found at the Gailbar barn, tying up the hides, evidently preparatory to shipping them. Monday Sheriff Kendall went to Buhl, where he discovered that A. M. Stangle, proprietor of the packing company, was looking for hides. The young man had hired a team from the Buhl Livestock & Transfer company and had brought the hides to this city with him. He had been at the headquarters of the packing company in Buhl two days previously, ostensibly looking for work. It is said that he tells contradictory stories about his identity and age, though he generally asserts that he is 14 years old. The officers believe that he is several years older. His preliminary hearing will be held this afternoon or tomorrow. Some of the stolen hides weighed 80 pounds.

Dr. Oliver's Challenge Accepted

Sunday Morning, March 12, 1916

In order to support a position which in the light of our day many Bible students are beginning to see is a most reasonable and unscriptural one, Dr. Oliver refers to the Greek as his authority and challenges (Sunday morning, March 12, 1916) "any Greek student on earth to disprove his statement"—also "preacher."

We accept the challenge, not for argument's sake, but because if the truth is not clearly seen by all Christian people, immediately, their faith in God and His word, the Bible, is sure to be lost as a result of the "strong delusions" in the "evil day" which has already commenced (2 Thess. 2:11; Eph. 6:12). We shall endeavor to show that the theory held by Dr. Oliver and many others positively and absolutely nullifies the great ransom-sacrifice finished by our Lord at Calvary, and, therefore, as "anti-Christ" spirit or doctrine, it is because of wrong views of what the ransom-price really is, what man is ransomed from, and the full benefits derived therefrom, that many of the Lord's people have lost their faith and have drifted into "evangelism" and "higher criticism."

We quote the text, the translation of which in the common version (King James) Dr. Oliver maintains is not valid according to the Greek: "Whosoever knoweth the Spirit of God, Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, he of God: And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, he is not of God: And this is that spirit of anti-Christ, whosoever ye have heard of, that it should come" (1 John 4:3). "For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh." This is a deceiver and an anti-Christ.

Dr. Oliver's claim is: (1) That the Greek words in these texts rendered "is come" signify is coming. (2) That with this change the Apostle's words would signify that any teaching which denies that the second advent of our Lord will be in the flesh is an anti-Christ spirit.

We reply to this claim: (1) It is true that the word: erchomai, the root word from which is derived erchomai (John 4:3) and erchomai (2 John 7) signifies coming; arrival: but whether the coming referred to is a past or a future event must be determined by the construction of the sentence, just as we may use our English word "coming" referring to matters past and future. The word "coming" in the first coming of our Lord is general among Christians, but not so general is the faith in his second coming. The context proves beyond peradventure that an occurrence of the past is referred to, for the record is "many deceivers are come forth" or "went forth," and the two statements quite evidently refer to the same thing.

(2) This claim is put forth by some who have an object in claiming that the text refers to a future event; they claim that our Lord is not "changed" to the divine nature, that he is still flesh and that he will continue to be a man, a human, fleshly being, and bear the scars of his human sufferings to all eternity. They deny, or at least ignore, the many Scriptural predictions to the effect "Him hath God highly exalted;" "Now the Lord is that Spirit;" and "Though we have known Christ after the flesh (yet) henceforth know him no more" (Phil. 2:9; 2 Cor. 5:17; 6:16). Their wish to find some Scriptural statements to support their unreasonable and unscriptural position deceives them as respects these passages. Indeed, we may say that the vast majority of Christians people hold this erroneous view, among them nearly all who have ever had anything to do with translating the Scriptures.

But we will buttress our position by quoting the criticisms of these texts by Prof. J. R. Thibault, Ph. D., professor of languages in Wayneburg College (Cumberland Presbyterian). After quoting the text of 1 John 4:3 and 2 John 7, Prof. Thibault says: "(1) The foregoing quotations are from the original Diaglott of Wilson, purporting to be from the original Greek text of the New Testament. (The writer has a copy of this excellent work.) The word erchomai is the accusative singular, masculine, of the second perfect participle of the verb erchomai, having the same relation to this verb that any other perfect participle has to its verb. It stands with the verb homologei in indirect discourse, and represents a definite, past action according to the ordinary Greek syntax. (Godwin's Greek Grammar, 1588, 1288.)"

"The following translation of the first quotation is, therefore, essentially correct: 'Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh, he is of God.' (2) The word erchomai in the second quotation is the accusative, singular, masculine, of the present participle of the verb erchomai, and is subject to the same rules of syntax as the word above. It is related to the verb erchomai, as the subject, as well as the context, justifies its translation as of past time. (Ibid, 1289.)"

"The translation of the second quotation, therefore, is properly given as follows: 'For many deceivers went forth into the world—those who do not confess that Jesus Christ did come in the flesh.'"

"No Greek scholar, we believe, will ever be found to contradict this definition, even though he hold the second coming of our Lord in the flesh, and might thus have a preference for a construction favorable to his conceptions."

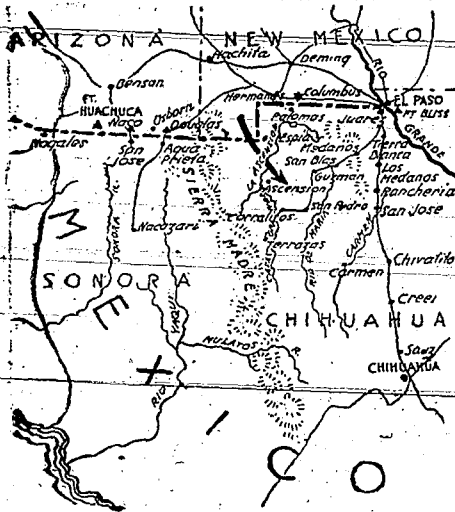

"Finally, we notice that as a confirmation that Christ came in the flesh at his first advent, is essential to a proper belief in the ransom, and a denial of that fact means a denial of the ransom (because otherwise he could not give a corresponding price for man), so all who believe that Christ is a man since his resurrection and that he will come a second time as a man, are thereby denying the ransom; for if our Lord is still a man, he either did not give his manhood as our ransom, or, giving it for three days, took it back again—look back the redemption price and thus vitiated the purchase. But on the contrary, the purchase was final; our Lord's humanity never was taken back. Him hath God highly exalted and given a name above all names, above angels, principalities and powers and every name that is named (the Father's alone excepted). He is no longer a man in any sense like us; we fitly should call him 'changed'—like him and 'see him as he is'—as (1 John 3:2). (See Scripture Studies, Vol. V, page 296.)"

TWIN FALLS A SUGAR CITY

(From the New West Magazine.)

It may or may not be a well-known fact that there is sugar in the meek and lowly Irish potato, but the people of Twin Falls, Idaho, in convention assembled, do not care a whoop. Those who know Twin Falls have long since learned to look to the potato as a good basis for any other place. That, together with the fact that it always makes good, is why Twin Falls is up and a-comin' all the time.
Five years ago there was instituted in Twin Falls a function known as the Potato Breakfast. It came about because at that time the Twin Falls country was just beginning to realize the possibilities in potatoes, and when Louis A. Snyder, one of the progressive farmers, reached out with his strong right hand and grabbed a check from D. R. Burdett, the general manager of the Oregon Short Line, giving as his reason therefor that he had grown 645 bushels of potatoes on one acre, the other farmers began to stop, look and listen.
General Burley, in a fit of absent-mindedness, had offered the sum hereafter mentioned for the largest and best crop of potatoes grown on one acre, and Farmer Snyder decided he needed the money to educate his children and pay for some of the other necessities of Twin Falls life. So he raised the potatoes and pulled down the check when the 7th annual commercial club, after sending some of the Twin Falls potatoes to the president of the United States and to every dignitary, along with several hundred yards of newspaper notices, instituted the Potato Breakfast. President Taft, while he was able to be present at the first breakfast, did the next best and ate his Twin Falls potatoes in the White House—and for breakfast, as directed.
Every year, since 1910, Twin Falls has eaten its Potato Breakfast in January. That this breakfast is partaken of at eight o'clock in the evening does not worry the Twin Fallers a bit. The first breakfast was put on in Twin Falls at this hour so it would coincide with the breakfast of the president and others scattered over the earth who also indulged in Twin Falls potatoes. This is the reason put forth by the originator, but it is probably not the right one.

CLARK NEWS.

(From the Kimberly Call)
A pouring rain Monday was heartily welcome by the farmers.
Mrs. S. K. Nobbitt was called to Omaha, Neb., last week owing to the dangerous illness of her sister, who lives there. Her sister was injured in an automobile accident three weeks ago, from which she never recovered, but steadily grew worse.
John Ault and wife of Twin Falls were guests at the Franklin Brown home Sunday to dinner. In the afternoon they toured up to Murtaugh and report the road to be in fine condition for cars.
Farmers are busy here with spring crops, the ground being worked into shape and ready for planting.
Dr. Brakine, veterinary of Twin Falls, was called into our neighborhood professionally last week.
The well which was being drilled at the sugar beet factory site has been abandoned and a new one started, which is now down to a depth of 30 feet. The drillers lost the drilling apparatus in the first well when at a depth of 77 feet with water up to within 20 feet of the surface.
Mrs. Percy Walshaw is visiting with her husband at Provo, Utah, where he holds position as head over in the Knight woolen mills at that place.
The spur is now reaching out to the factory, the site of the building has already been marked out and work begun on it. Thirty-five men are working there now, but from 200 to 300 are to be employed in a short time. Twenty-six carloads of cement and machinery arrived there last week over the new track.
R. Griffith was a Kimberly business man last week.
It is reported that Frank Johnson, former field man of the Amalgamated Sugar Co. for this section, has been transferred to the Butte country. Mr. Richey takes his place here.
Work has been opened up at the experimental farm, several experienced men under Mr. Sloane busy plowing and getting the grounds in shape for the different crops.
D. F. Clark and family were guests to dinner at the home of Richard Nesja Sunday.

MAXWELL CLUTCH SAID TO BE MECHANICALLY PERFECT
According to E. S. Johnson, manager of the local Maxwell agency, the most noticeable refinement of the mechanical construction of the 1916 Maxwell, and the one that has brought out the most favorable comment of users of the Maxwell, is the new clutch assembly. It is the only one clutch that has ever been designed to run in a bath of oil, eliminating all possibility of grabbing or jerking.
"The rotary action of the clutch in our 1916 Maxwell is the wonder of every purchaser who has ever driven an automobile," said E. S. Johnson. "In fact, it is the wonder of all mechanical men, for the construction is such as has long been sought as ideal and yet has not before been achieved by any other manufacturer." The Maxwell clutch spider is of cast aluminum and

But to get back to the first paragraph of this story. This year Twin Falls was confronted with another problem, the dollar sugar factory was offered to them on a silver platter, because the beet sugar companies saw that the Twin Falls country was a good place to grow beets as well as potatoes and other things for which that country is famous. The Twin Falls Commercial club paid the sugar factory the highest compliment in its power—it gave a Potato Breakfast with Sugar as King! The potato, being king of honor through the past years, graciously yielded his scepter to sugar, and accorded him a place on the throne.
Among the speakers at the Potato Breakfast was Secretary Fred O. Taylor, of the Amalgamated Sugar company, which company is building the factory at Twin Falls. Mr. Taylor gave some interesting history about the sugar industry, and then said that while Idaho last year consumed 200,000 bags of sugar, only 15,000 were home made sugar. For comparison he told them that Utah consumed last year 237,000 bags, of which 250,000 were of home-grown beet. In other words, Utah used 77 per cent beet and 23 per cent cane sugar, including 200,000 bags of raw sugar, which are not made by the sugar companies of the state. The figures for Idaho are exactly reversed. Mr. Taylor explained this condition by saying that the matter had been more frequently brought to the attention of the people of Utah than it had to the people of Idaho, and it was hoped by a process of education that the old idea of the inferiority of beet sugar to cane would be dispelled.
As Twin Falls is also the cradle of the Home Industry movement in Idaho, it is safe to say that, dating from the Potato Breakfast of 1915, its citizens will eat beet sugar, talk beet sugar, and grow beets to make more beet-sugar. And when Twin Falls starts something, all bets are off. Next year when Mr. Taylor's statistical sharkwheels his adding machine into the sunlight and begins to calculate, he will find that Idaho has switched its beet sugar consumption figures, and it will stack up alongside, or maybe ahead of Utah. To paraphrase James W. Riley, "Idaho, he'll git you, Utah, if you don't watch out."

COMPLETE PLANS FOR HOSPITAL

Architect and Chairman of Physicians Committee Busy.

WILL BE PRESENTED AT THE MEETING OF BOARD, APRIL 3.

Architect Gates Make Exhaustive Report on Condition in Pocatello, as Found on Investigation.

Complete plans for a new county hospital, embodying such features of the institution in Pocatello as are applicable to the needs of this county, will be presented to the county commissioners at their April meeting by Architect E. H. Gates, who, with the committee representing the physicians, will draw up the plan and the report. Dr. John F. Coughlin and Mr. Gates discussed the matter informally with the board last week. Mr. Gates already has gone over the situation quite thoroughly and has drafted the outlines of several tentative plans. He and Dr. Coughlin accompanied the county board on its trip to Pocatello last week and made extensive notes while there.

Relative to the Pocatello hospital, Mr. Gates has drawn the following notes:

"Pocatello has had in operation since 1907 a city and county hospital very similar in its organization and work to what is now proposed for Twin Falls county. It was for the purpose of investigating this institution that the commissioners made the trip to Pocatello last Wednesday."

"In matter of organization the Pocatello hospital has a governing board of five directors. This board is appointed three by the county and two by the city. They are at the present time composed of business men about town, who give their time, as much as may be required, without pay. They meet regularly once each month. These people constitute the active government of the institution and are to a great extent responsible for the past success of the hospital."

"The direct management of the building is vested in a matron, who has direct charge of all matters of business that pertain to the actual operation of the plant. She has under her four graduate nurses and these, together with the matron, constitute the force of the hospital. A cook and janitor are also employed, which completes the working force."

"The building now has a maximum capacity of 25 patients. It was built ten years ago at a cost of about $25,000. The rates charged are $25 per week for private rooms, $15 for the ward beds and the county pays for all county patients $12 per week. A general reduction of these rates is contemplated as soon as they get settled in their new building. "On account of the past success of the institution and the imminent demand for more room and more modern facilities, it is planned to erect this summer a large addition to this building. This will be modern in every way, and our commissioners were fortunate in having an opportunity for studying these new plans. The plans carry with them a complete remodeling of the old building, and the amount to be expended in this work is estimated at $30,000, or the building. The nurses' home is a small frame structure, built on an adjacent lot at a cost of $3000. "The commissioners were also fortunate in being able to attend a meeting of the board of directors and very free hand in the running of the institution and they have the county nation, which will aid materially in the organization of our own hospital. This condition, fortunately, had a correct solution of the problem has not prevailed as yet. "It was also gratifying to learn of the substantial success of the Pocatello institution. It is absolutely self-sustaining and made enough to profit during the year 1915 to build and pay for a nurses' home and also their meson here, feeling that they had profited by the trip."

OLIVER MEETINGS ARE ARRANGED FOR BURL

Dates for Bellingham, Wash., Are Postponed by Order of Grand Request of West End People.

Arrangements were completed this week whereby Dr. French E. Oliver and his party, who have been conducting tabernacle meetings at Twin Falls for the past few weeks, will open a series of similar meetings in Burl, commencing April 9, says the Burl Herald. The news will, no doubt, be welcomed by many people from the west end, as there are many who have taken an interest in the meetings at Twin Falls and who attended generously.

The securing of the evangelist comes as a surprise to most of the people of Burl, as the party had expected to go from Twin Falls directly to Bellingham, Wash. That engagement was postponed, and upon hearing of this the ministers of Twin Falls recommended that Burl engage the services of Dr. Oliver and company. This matter was taken up at once by the churches and immediate steps were taken to hold the tabernacle meetings.

Plans were formulated on such short notice that they must necessarily be imperfect. However, the committees have been organized to begin the preliminary work. Representatives from the three churches, Presbyterian, Methodist, and Baptist, and from the business men of the town who see in neither church have accorded their services on some of the committees. The three churches named have united for these services, and it is likely that the Christian church will lead its organized co-operation when it has had time to hold an official meeting.

The tabernacle will be erected on the vacant lot on Broadway, east of the old school building, and construction work will be begun next Tuesday, March 28. It will be 70 by 100 feet. Devotional services will be held Sunday evening, April 2.

Mr. Jordan will secure a chorus of 200 voices and practice will begin next week. All the singers in Burl and the surrounding community are invited to join the chorus.

"The object of these demonstrations is to give those interested an opportunity to see it administered. Young cattle six months to two years old which are to be sent to the range should be vaccinated, as the vaccination can be done at a cost which is the cheap insurance against blackleg, the only cost being that of vaccination and the instruments, if not already on hand. The vaccine is made by the United States government for free distribution to owners of growing cattle. Anyone in the county wishing a supply of this vaccine has only to call on the county auditor with the office of the county agriculturalist in Twin Falls."

The Play's Message OF PEACE

If this graphic presentation serves no other purpose, its message for universal peace marks it of great importance. Morally and educationally it establishes the futility of armed conflict. A member of the senate of the United States expressed the foregoing sentiment.

"Anyone contemplating war should see this picture," added the senator. "I sincerely believe it will do more to deter people from engaging in war than anything written or spoken on the subject in years."

Great care has been taken not to glorify battle. Even the music stops in its motif of glorification to sound the note of terror and desolation which is the real truth of war.

Armies seldom settle disputed questions of state. But, where they accomplish this much, in the wake of conflict arises never and more terrible questions. But for the hatred engendered in the Civil war, the suffering of the Reconstruction period would never have been known."

TRAGEDY OF WAR

MASTFULLY PRESENTED
In this never-to-be-forgotten spectacle, "The Birth of a Nation," which is scheduled for presentation at Twin Falls for three days, starting Monday, April 24, D. W. Griffith, the world's master producer, has painted the grim tragedy of war in the vivid colors of deers.

It is a thrilling and awe-inspiring revelation of war-war in all its cruelties; we behold not only the tragedy on the field of battle, where fall the dead and dying, but in the home where wait the aged parents and little brother and sister, daughter or son, for the message that too often comes telling that the dear one has died for the flag—the Stars and Stripes, or the banner of blue with the single star.

On goes the story. It pictures the departing of the boy from home—gay, light-hearted, happy. It shows him dying under the fire of the enemy in the miles of flame-streaked trenches, over which burning shells carry death to the little forces so gallantly defending the line of duty. He works, and over which shriek the deadly shrapnel. It is all there—the desperate defense, the determined assault, the fierce charge, the glorious retreat—the field covered with the dead, as men in gray and blue fall by scores and hundreds. Daylight fades, and with the fight goes on. The scene is illuminated by burning shells, the blaze from the mouths of the guns and the red glare from burning homes. The hush of the firing of the south flutters here, while there the red, white and blue of the nation's emblem shows through the smoke in the red line of battle flame.

These are but a few of the myriads of glimpses of our national travail in its new birth that are shown in this sublime, grand, impressive spectacle.

POPULAR MOVIE ACTORS

TO BE SEEN AT ISIS
Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, who are probably known to more motion picture lovers than any other stellar combination on the screen, will be seen in "Pennington's Choice," a Quality Pictures Corporation production just released on the Metro program, when it is presented here at the Isis theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

"Pennington's Choice" is a thrilling and dramatic tale, of the Canadian Northwest. Mr. Bushman's portrayal of a wealthy New Yorker, who is obliged suddenly to quit a life of leisure and prove his courage and manliness in the Canadian wilderness to win the girl of his heart, is one of the best performances he has ever given. Miss Bayne has an equal opportunity to display her fascinating dramatic talents in a role that carries her from the drawing room of the metropolis to the wild life of a cowboy, boyish girl in the woods. There are many intense situations, the fierceness of the northern wilderness and a novel love story is charmingly enacted. The cast appearing in support of Mr. Bushman and Miss Bayne is exceptionally strong, and includes Wellington Flier, Helen Hunter, Lester Cuno, Morris Tilton, H. O'Dell and William Faris.

MAHER SISTERS ORCHESTRA

NEXT LYCEUM CONCERT
The Maher sisters, orchestra, the sixth number on the local Lyceum course, will appear at the Lyceum theatre on Monday evening, March 27. This company of musicians is just closing its tenth year on lyceum and chautauque platforms. It is hard to find their parallel for versatility of musical instruments. Some of the features of their program are: cornet solos with orchestra accompaniment, flute solos with piano accompaniment, violin solos with piano accompaniment, whistling solos, violin and flute duets, humorous readings, orchestral numbers with piano, violin, flute and cornet. Ensemble vocal numbers rendered in conjunction with orchestra music.

"PARTAGAN" IN FILMS

IS A SCENIC DELIGHT
From a scenic point of view, "Partagan," the "Lace-Triangles" drama shown at the Orpheum Thursday and Friday, is a delight to the eyes. There are streets shown of a bygone Paris, the Paris of the Grand Monarchs. The quaint old "luna" with sharply pitched pitched roofs appear prominently. In contrast to the richness of the furnishings of the luna are set some interiors of the King's palace, the collages and walls are decorated with beautiful pastoral scenes, and the furniture is of the lightest pattern and carved in exquisite fashion.

IMPORANT PARENT-TEACHERS' MEETING

Last Gathering of Central Organization at High School Auditorium Friday Night.

The last meeting of the Central Parent-Teachers' association will be held at the high school auditorium Friday evening, March 31. It is particularly important that all parents of children be present, as Superintendent H. G. Blue will explain a change of policy in the public schools and will tell of the new school building. Miss Huggins will discuss playgrounds and make some suggestions along the line of their management. There will be a reading by Miss Gladys Dwight and music by the high school band.

F. Bleckell, representing the Portland City & Loan Co. The mortgage, which is one of the largest of the kind ever filed here, is taken as an indication that easy money from the west has at length reached Idaho and that it can be used for the development of its industries, where the security is good, as in this case.

Buy Early

The effect of the great war on men's clothing will be felt this spring—still more next fall.

We retailers have had to buy with greater care and discrimination than ever, to protect our customers against poor fabrics.

That's why we appreciate having a line of medium-priced clothes for men and young men that is absolutely dependable—Clothcraft.

Every piece of cloth that enters the factory is tested mechanically to determine its strength and chemically to prove its ingredients. This is but the first of a long series of safeguards that protect Clothcraft values.

But don't wait too long, there'll be greater demand than ever this spring for nationally known values like Clothcraft.

Buy early.
