

RESPECT TO COURT URGED BY BAR

Twin Falls Bar Association Passes Resolution

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE IS ALSO SELECTED.

Association Would Expedite Procedure in Justice and Probate Courts.

Respect for the court by members of the bar was endorsed by the Twin Falls County bar association at a meeting held in the court room yesterday morning, at which resolutions were also passed respecting practice in probate and justice courts, looking to the prevention of unnecessary delay and expense in civil cases, and at which a legislative committee consisting of Attorneys A. M. Hovey, E. M.

Wolfe, C. L. DeLong, E. A. Walters, members, and President C. M. Booth, ex-officio member, was appointed.

The resolutions with reference to respectful attitude in the court room were as follows:

Whereas, respect for constitutional authority is one of the prime duties of American citizenship; and, Whereas, respect for the courts is peculiarly one of the duties of the members of the bar, and other officers of the court; and, Whereas, a degree of formality becomes at times necessary as a medium of expressing respect for the courts;

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the Twin Falls County bar association that the following rule of conduct be observed by members of this association:

"That when the judge of the district court shall enter the court room for the purpose of taking his place upon the bench, either upon the convening of court in the morning of each day, or after the noon recess of each day, the members of the bar in attendance on said court, or present in the court room, shall arise to their feet until the court shall have taken his seat; and it is further resolved that during the sittings of court the members of the bar shall refrain from smoking, reading newspapers, using the table for foot-rests, or holding in their mouths unlighted cigars, pipes or cigarettes.

Passed and approved this 15th day of May, 1916, by the Twin Falls County bar association, Twin Falls, Idaho.

RABIES HAS FENY
EFFECT ON THIS HOGE

Bert Parikh of Burley, related an experience this week he had in acciding a pig with the rabies. He was in Drum Creek section at the ranch of J. M. Hovey, where the peculiar actions of a pig attracted the attention of those present. Mr. Parikh says the animal would imitate a bucking cayle, then spin around and around. When it would exhaust itself at this stunt, the pig would lie down for a few minutes and then repeat the other performance. It was presumed the pig was either bitten by a coyote that had been killed on the ranch which had rabies, or had eaten part of the carcass that was only recently removed after being killed. The pig was shot.

OAKLEY SETTLERS BRING ACTION

Apply for Writ of Mandate to Compel Co. to Supply Water

HAVE PAID MAINTENANCE, BUT REFUSE TO PAY ON CONTRACTS.

Issue Involves Applies to Other Projects. Company Withholding Water To Enforce Contract Payments.

An action effecting the operation of every Carey act project in the state was commenced Saturday in the supreme court when 23 settlers on the Twin Falls-Oakley project, who have paid their maintenance and operation charges for 1915, but who decline to make payments demanded on their principal and interest charges on water contracts, unless the company will guarantee to supply them with the amount of water their contracts call for, applied for a writ of mandate to compel the company to deliver them the water which they are entitled to.

Under a clause of its contract with the settlers the company refused to deliver water to those who, it alleged, were unable to pay the charges demanded this year. The settlers claimed they did not receive sufficient water in 1915 and had no assurance the company would be able to furnish enough for irrigation this year and they objected to making further interest payments without a guarantee from the company that its part of the contract would be fulfilled.

Such a condition has never arisen in Idaho and the outcome will be awaited with great interest by water users on Carey act projects. The case required nearly a week of preparation on the part of the Deputy Attorney General, D. A. Fanning and W. L. Dunn of Oakley, attorney for the Oakley water users, with the assistance and direction of Attorney General Peterson.

While the state is not a party to the action, the attorney general's department took part as a friend of the settlers. Mr. Fanning and Mr. Dunn worked day and night all week, digging the case out of the statutes, having no precedents to guide them. It was quite a task for them to frame the complaint, which is a lengthy document.

The title of the case is Home, Adams and 22 other settlers vs. the Twin Falls-Oakley Land & Water company, a corporation, the Oakley Canal company, a corporation, and J. H. Hovey, Attorney General, Edward and A. C.
Robinson, Messrs. Paulches, Edwards and Robinson are alleged to represent the landowners. The plaintiffs are settlers owning approximately 7000 acres of cultivated land for which water is urgently needed.

The amount of water on the project for which water will be required this year is estimated at 21,000 to 24,000 acres. Of this area the owners of between 2000 and 3000 acres have paid up and are receiving water. There are 6400 acres of paid up water rights and about 2000 acres on which no payment has been made this year.

The complaint alleges that the growing crops of the plaintiffs require immediate application of water, otherwise they will become a total loss. It is alleged that there is now in the company's reservoir or canals, under the control of the defendants, sufficient water which can be furnished the plaintiffs without impairing the rights of others.

While it is not so stated in the complaint, the water as claimed by the company is permitted to withhold water from them until its demand for payments is met, they will not be able to produce crops or earn enough to meet their payments; that the company, if its action is sustained, can forever deprive them of water if they do not make the payments demanded.
They also wish to be assured that the company will be able to deliver them the amount of water called for in their contracts, even during the next year, because of past experience.

The state now has under consideration a proposal to cut down the acreage of the project to which water is in-commensurate with the amount of water available.

The company insists that it is in position to furnish the amount of water contracted for and that those settlers who are able to pay should pay the charges demanded. It is willing to compromise with those who are not in position to pay, so its representatives declare. The settlers are asking how the company proposes to find out who are able to pay and who are not. They say the company is accumulating too much power. All they want, say the settlers, is a guarantee that their experience of last year, when they suffered for lack of water, will not be repeated.

The company, say the settlers, can take other means of collecting its payments. It holds a lien on the settler's lands for its water rights, so it is alleged, but that lien, on the water users assert, does not give the company power to deprive the settlers of water, thus depreciating its own security.

If the meaning of the water is exporting in the reservoir and the crops of the settlers are suffering for irrigation, hence the appeal to the supreme court for a writ of mandate to compel the company to deliver water. It is the most unique proceeding in the history of irrigation in Idaho.—Boise

"The Natural Shortening"

Make delicious pie crust after this recipe

Mix one scant teaspoon salt with one and one-half cups pastry flour. Chop in scant half cup chilled Cottolene. Mix in gradually three tablespoons cold water. Mix well, but do not knead with hands. If soft, lay paste in pan and place on ice till chilled.

Sprinkle flour on molding-board; flour-rolling-pin; roll out flat, then roll up into form of jelly roll; stand it on end; pat down and roll into circular shape. When rolled into proper size cover sides and bottom of pie dish. Fill in pie material. Roll top crust in same way, making several incisions to allow for filling and puffing in baking.

Cottolene makes pie-crust light, flaky, wholesome: it excels for all shortening and frying.

Its use is simple, and you can get it in pails of various sizes to suit your convenience. Ask your grocer for a supply today.

A BUSINESS MAN FOR PRESIDENT.

There is food for thought in the suggestions as well as in the omissions to be noted in the appeal of the New York Business Men's Presidential league, for a business man for president. At first thought one would suppose that the league was to forward the interests of Henry Ford, who is pre-eminently the most successful business man whose name has been mentioned in connection with the place, but it obviously is not so intended. The fact is that Ford's trip to Europe, which perhaps with the best of effects, showed the intentions of a business man, who is primarily and principally such, in dealing with international problems. "I will have the boys out of the trenches before Christmas," said the famous manufacturer. He did not specify which Christmas, of course, but obviously meant December 25, 1916. When Ford returned from Europe he said that he found that conditions there were different from what he imagined. This was natural, because Ford had devoted practically all his energies to rebuilding the auto business and had not been able to study conditions and viewpoints of peoples in other lands.

Another peculiar thing is that the statement says that since Abraham Lincoln died we have had no successful business man as president. The false implication is that Lincoln was a great business man instead of a great lawyer. The facts are that no man previous to Lincoln was ever president of the United States, that Alexander Hamilton, our greatest financier, was a failure in the management of his private business, that Jefferson, Jackson, Webster, Clay, Grant and McKinley "went broke" and that the only statesmen who were noted for their business ability belonged to the class who made politics a business—like Richard Croker for instance.

The key to this is that a man who devotes his time to public affairs seldom has leisure to spend on his private financial affairs, and the man who spends his time building up a great business has, except in rare instances, no time to study general conditions sufficiently to become a proficient statesman. That is why the investigations of Richard T. Ely, the noted economist, has led him to the conclusion that even in municipal affairs, who are less complicated than national affairs, the average politician is a more proficient administrator than the average business man, because the politician has to become a specialist in municipal matters.

That successful Wall Street operators frequently do not understand the principles underlying financial operations is indicated by the preface of an early edition of Pratt's "Work of Wall Street," in which the reason for the book is stated in effect to be to teach such principles to operators who do not understand them but protect "by rule of thumb."

Tom Johnson was a great business man in his early days and accumulated millions. He studied economics as a side issue and finally went into municipal politics. In this he was in a large measure successful, but in making the city business of Cleveland, Ohio, a success, he neglected his own and died a bankrupt.

What is needed is business management in details, and this we have never had. The complaints of the league in this respect are well founded. Millions are wasted annually and always have been. Business men should be employed to see that the government gets value received for what is expended. And if a business man is found who has the leisure and disposition to study national and international conditions from a broad viewpoint, so as to get an understanding of the principles involved, and such man should run for president, he would be entitled to extra consideration on account of his practical experience.

THE BETRAYAL OF IDAHO.

Editor, Twin Falls Times.

Your editorial entitled "A Crime," should be given the attention it deserves. While a newspaper paragrapher myself, it might be somewhat facetiously put that "CAREY ACT EXPLOITATION IN IDAHO A HISTORY OF CRIME" with sub headings made to include EVERY GROUP, EVERY MEMBER OF EVERY State Land Board and every administrative and executive officer of every Carey act company operating at least since the first Twin Falls tract.

Do not know their names. I have been told many times; I am one of the thousands who wanted to become citizens of Idaho and have been mistreated by Idaho's business and political thieves that we either could not stay or had sense enough to keep out or get out. Idaho has been the greatest loser and her greatest loss has been in the malodorous advertising that makes her name a stench wherever Salmon River enters the course of the OFFICIALS of Idaho as well as the EXPLOITERS who financed the NAME of Idaho to obtain money under false pretenses.

I feel quite free to place the stamp of TRUTH on those who have been Idaho's worst enemies, because I spent considerable time for several years improving Idaho and her people money in Idaho on the representations of Idaho officials. I fully proved that these officials were in league with the exploiters and the exploiters of possible good citizens of Idaho.

I sounded a warning in 1911 but it fell on deaf ears—even Twin Falls was too blind to see that it was small compensation for permanent estrangement of tens of thousands to be able to "milk" the few pioneers like myself for short time and then the exploiters composed Board of Trade in the Carey Act settlements; and who published newspapers? How much of the funds of the new banks and companies were diverted to banking, hotels, subsidizing space and giving "tips" to men of influence?

Not this editorial has the truth been stripped of the dressing so carefully put on by the enemies of Idaho within its borders, and holding its official position?

To return to 1911: What traitors stood silent when the Salmon company issued a notice of readiness to the state officers at a time that there was not a drop that would run out of the outlet tub and after they had previously said to believe that none would be issued that year.

Those traitors composed the Land Board at that time—I don't know their names nor political affiliations. They were traitors to their state and criminally negligent of the entrustment. That lying notice was to give prior to demands for settlements were then said to be due and to start the running of interest on deferred payments that the Federal court has since enjoined the collection. On many a honest resolution at that time would have clarified the situation wonderfully. Why was it not passed? Let me ask you once more WHY? Money was paid at that time that Judge Dietrich says had it not been paid cannot now be collected; why has the Land Board done nothing to assure its return? Is it because they would deplete their own funds?

Is the Salmon crime, while inexcusable, if it stood alone, would be condoned by many. The plea of honest mistake would be urged and accepted by those who had not been victimized. An HONEST administration would have used what water Idaho has and made friends of those drawn within in its borders and beyond the eyes of those who were not fortunate enough to have bought its fruitful land but the dishonesty of its irresponsible and corrupt officials, partners with foreign exploiters has not only failed to develop what resources Idaho has but has in addition to making innumerable enemies for the future bred a disrespect for government itself that is the natural and inevitable result of the degradation of government and its failure to live up to the pickpocket and swindler.

It is improbable that any member of a State Land Board in Idaho will ever wear the stripes that would designate to the world the real class to which he belongs; the foreigners who enriched the state to use its name and the countless millions of fruitless and enrich themselves by chicanery, misrepresentation and fraud are beyond the jurisdiction of the state courts. The exploiters of the state have made those of us who have lost but the NAME OF IDAHO can never be spoken as honorable UN SONE (it is hoped) lest to expose ALL who paid the alty of CRIME, and the worst of all crimes, not surpassed even by murder in the affects but one, in this case the crime is the betrayal of a state by its officials. The horde of private exploiters are mean and despicable enough that their partners without whom their wholesale thievery would never have gotten a fair start—their partners in public office who filed in the commencement of the various torments AND THEIR SUCCESSORS IN OFFICE who have "stood by" while all deserve, and have earned, and have and will continue to receive.

THE EXERCATION OF THIS ENTIREMENT OF THE SALMON AND THE LOST RIVER AND THE WEST END AND THE KING HILL AND GOOSE CREEK AND OTHER PROJECTS in Idaho and should receive and we are glad to note, are receiving the execution of Idaho FOR THEIR GREATEST CRIMES HAVE BEEN THE BETRAYAL OF IDAHO.

I said much of this in Idaho in 1911 and the project agents called me an "Anarchist," but since that time courts, state engineers, "statemen" and everyone else have admitted what they well knew at that time was the truth. My money is lost with thousands of others. But if a few plain words can make the commencement of an HONEST administration of Carey Act projects in Idaho EVEN NOW it will have been some consolation to have spoken.

Yours truly,
ONE OF MANY—WHO TRUSTED A STATE AND LOST

FLOWER THIEVES.

It comes very near to being exasperating to have some one come and steal your flowers after you have worked so hard to beautify your residence grounds—incidentally add to the attractiveness of the city. A friend of mine had a row of fine tulips along the curb in front of his lot. They were all in bloom and, being of various colors, added mostly to the beauty of the avenue as well as to the lot in front of which they stood. But alas, some unspunked hoodlums came along and stripped off all but three or four and now the place looks desolate.

It seems to be on the verge of an impossibility to keep any flowers in our park. As soon as one is in bloom someone, with supreme disregard for the rights and wishes of others and an over developed bump of selfishness, will strip it off. It has been very positively intimated that if parents were to make a vigorous application of the slipper or shingle cure it might have some effect, but of course that would be a return to the age of barbarism when children were actually punished for disregarding the rights and property of others.

It is true that it is a small thing to steal a flower, but flowers are just as much a man's property as his horse or his cow or anything else. Yes, it is a small thing but the world is made up of small things. "Tall oaks from little acorns grow," the boy who stole the flowers is starting on the road to something worse, and the girl who takes what does not belong to her, may, in after years, become a thief and a robber. It never pays to do what we know is not right.

The past recent hard freezes, along with the raging wind storm, has left a trace of the blues among the farmers of this section. The gardens and beet fields which escaped the wind were finished up by the wind. Ice several mornings was strong enough to bear up a man's weight and it is said that not one of the fruit and berry crop has all been killed. A large part of the fruit has been ruined and it is said there will not be enough beet seeds left for the second planting as there are a good many fields of wheat with four or five inches of snow on them.

Serves them right

There are a good many women who have found that high priced coffee can also be economical.

They have divided the cost of a pound by the number of cups it will make—this has proved its economy. Such coffee as Schilling's Best not only tastes better, but goes further. The price is not low, but a pound flavors more cups.

Part of the quality-economy of Schilling's Best is due to the vacuum-sealed tins in which you buy it. These tins permit us to protect all its fresh-roasted flavor. They have made fine coffee economical. Schilling's Best is sold only through grocers. It is always packed ground.

SUNSHINE HIGHWAY IS NEW PROPOSED ROAD

Planned to Run From Northport, Washington, Through Twin Falls to Nogales, Ariz.

The proposal to build a road known as the Sunshine Highway, is suggested for consideration by the Sunshine Highway association in connection with the National Highway association, as part of an extensive system of highways connecting every part of the nation. The Sunshine highway route runs from Northport, Washington, on the Canadian border, to Nogales, Arizona, on the boundary of Mexico, and traveling all states touching two capitals, Boise and Phoenix, running through 28 counties. A. L. Swin of this city has had considerable correspondence with the officials in regard to it, and has suggested several changes in the route, where he believes that it would make it more satisfactory to the traveling public. Mr. Swin has been corresponding with C. S. Heng of Elly, Nev., who is much interested in the subject. The plan of the National Highway association is to construct national highways built by the government through all the states, connecting the state capitals and largest cities, state highways built by the states connecting the different counties, and county highways constructed by those respective political divisions connecting the numerous communities within their borders. The association is not under any obligation to build roads and is interested only in an association, in arousing public interest in the subject of good roads. It may not be generally known, but it is a fact nevertheless, that Twin is on its way to become famous on account of the apportioned logs in getting out of the road in this state by the Twin Falls Auto club. These logs are being used, with due credit given, by the Elly and Phoenix and director of transcontinental highways of the National Highway association, who was here two years ago. Further information relative to the progress toward the construction of the Sunshine Highway is expected by Mr. Swin from time to time.

articles. Speaking of the matter yesterday, Mr. Tacy said:
"A complete equipment, including one of the best cameras on the market, has already been ordered, and within a week or two, a host of local actors will pose before the camera. The whole thing will be composed of local talent and there is every indication that a very competent group of actors can be secured. The first film will be shown at a local theatre in a short time, after which the films will be distributed to all parts of the country."

The local scenery is especially adapted to moving picture photography, providing background for every conceivable situation. The Twin and Shoshone falls offer a very pretty setting, besides offering the possibilities of some very dramatic pieces of photography. Rock creek and the Snake River canyon afford unlimited variety in scenery. Together with the large tracts of sage-brush and the great orchards of the vicinity, this tract can provide a suitable stage for any story. The local irrigating system with its great network of dunes and canals can offer numberless stories and plots for the movie photographer, thus making this locality an ideal spot for the enterprising filmmaker. Besides providing delightful and interesting pictures for the local towns, these photoplays will furnish educational advertising for the Twin Falls tract, for the company has arranged to distribute the films to every part of the country. All title and subtitles of the "Pleasure Producer" films will use views of Twin Falls as a background. Through the medium of these films people in all parts of the United States will be informed of conditions existing in southern Idaho and will thus see the great possibilities of irrigated farming in the west.

CHAUTAUQUA TO BE BETTER THAN EVER

J. C. Herberman Says It Will Have Great Program—Urges Use of Printer's Ink.

Declaring that the Twin Falls chautauqua of next year was the largest in a circuit including 210 cities, including Los Angeles and El Paso, and eight state capitals, J. C. Herberman, of the Elsie-White circuit, paid an eloquent tribute to the enterprise of this city yesterday at the noon luncheon of the Twin Falls Commercial club at the Parish hall. The luncheon was served by the Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal church and will be made a weekly affair.

Mr. Herberman came as the advance man of the chautauqua which will open here June 19 and continue for a week. He spoke at some length on the attractions and pointed out that in substituting Dr. Charles Zuehlke for Nels Darling, a distinct advance had been made. Dr. Zuehlke is a lecturer of international reputation, both on sociology and civic organization and has written books that are authoritative on the subject. Mr. Herberman spoke in words of unstinted praise of the parish hall, and urged that provisions be made for the healthy amusement of the boys and girls now growing up. All the arrangements and speakers for the coming year are superior to those on the program last year, where changes have been made.

He spoke of the public spirit manifested in the campaign for members in the Twin Falls Commercial club as analogous to the spirit shown in California where each community proceeds on the theory that it is the best on earth. He said that just before dinner he mentioned the New York Marine band as one of the coming attractions to a Twin Falls man and the latter said at once, "That band is nothing in comparison with the Twin Falls band." "That is the sort of spirit that makes a community," declared Mr. Herberman.

In conclusion he strongly urged the use of printer's ink in connection with the spirit of co-operation and mutual helpfulness as a means of upbuilding the community.

The 50-cent merchants' dinner provided a popular affair and the large crowd present voted with practical unanimity for its continuance.

Rogerson Items

Times' Special Correspondence.

The Rogerson school closed Friday afternoon, May 12, and the following program was given before an audience that filled the town hall:

Part I.—Orchestra; invocation; Rev. J. D. Keith; Topsy Turvy drill; dialogue, "Way Sancho Went Home"; May Polo drill; "The Rain, Day, Burlesque," Friday Afternoon Compositions; chorus.

Part II.—Orchestra. "The Superlative P." Joanne Malby; Class History, Edward West; monologue, Helen Cochran; "The Clover Meadow," Lola Smith; duet, Alma Hildebrand and Helen Cochran; class prophecy, Alma Hildebrand; presentations of diploma; orchestra.

Misses Elva and Fern Averell are back from a fortnight's visit with friends in Filor.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Gibbs have purchased and moved into the former Buchanan home.

S. T. Buchanan has retired from the government forestry service and will go into the hardware business here, with H. H. Clark, as it is said.

R. H. Goldworthy "happened to a party" here on Thursday. While riding in an auto with some friends going out to his home, some pigs ran out from under a small fence, cutting up the party. The party was crossing, and the machine, striking one of the pigs, was almost overturned and Mr. Goldworthy was thrown out, cutting his face, dislocating his right thumb and bruising his left hip. He was brought here and given treatment and is now growing better.

Dr. R. D. Jolderman and wife, with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Clark, made a riding trip to Twin Falls Saturday afternoon.

Sheriff Kendall and County Attorney Davies were here Sunday looking up evidence on some cases with which their respective offices are connected. They returned to Twin Falls the same day.

Following some previous quarrels and a personal fracas a few days ago, a shooting scrape occurred here Saturday, May 13, at half past eight in the evening, between Henry McCollum and George Washington, with the result that Mr. McCollum fell to the sidewalk and was seriously injured. It was found that Mr. McCollum was shot in the right leg between the hip and the knee, the ball entering at the outer side of the limb and ranging downward. He was conveyed to the McMillan hotel and in the absence of Dr. Jolderman, Dr. Alexander of Twin Falls was called, and after temporary treatment an ambulance conveyed the wounded man to a Twin Falls hospital for operation and treatment.

IT'S AN ESSAY!

It is a rough hewn love story that reaches every heart; a whirlwind wooing that lifts you off your feet with its intensity and rapid action. Deft in love, the man kidnaps the girl, chains her in his mountain lodge and wins her love by cave man methods.
