RE-ORGANIZERS BUY WESTERN PACIFIC

Extension From Wells Here Believed To Be Assured

PURCHASERS UNDERSTOOD TO FAVOR ITS CONSTRUCTION.

Testimony of Chief Engineer Sashes Is That This Extension Is Needed By The Road.

The reorganization committee purchased the Western Pacific at the sale in San Francisco yesterday at the upset price of $18,000,000 fixed by the court, there being but one bid, and people of Twin Falls are jubilant in anticipation of the speedy construction of the line from Wells, Nev., it being understood generally that the committee is in favor of building of this kind of a number of other feeders. Immediately after the sale, Joseph E. Calne, one of the managers directing the new-to-be Twin Falls Commercial club. The sale to the reorganization committee has been regarded as a foregone conclusion ever since last Wednesday evening when Judge M. T. Doelling of the United States district court refused to set aside the order of sale on the request of the petition of the minority stockholders. During the testimony bearing on the case, particularly that of Richard Sashes, chief engineer of the California railroad, commission was to the effect that it would be necessary to construct feeders in order to make the road a profitable investment at any higher figure than the bid named by the court, and specifically named the proposed extension to Twin Falls as one of the required feeders.

Chief Engineer Sashes' testimony of the commission presented elaborate analyses of the property and testified that his figures were for the entire line, book cost $150,000,000; original cost, $87,000,000; reproduction cost, $35,000,000, and reproduction cost, less depreciation, $70,000,000. He said the Western Pacific is the best built road in the country, with a maximum grade of 1 per cent and maximum curvature of 10 degrees, with no snow to contend with.

What the road needed was feeders, he said, and suggested the following: From Niles to San Jose, Stockton to Fresno, to the Spanish Springs, to Vanamona to Boise, Wells to Twin Falls and several other points in this state.

President Levey said the road without feeders would earn over expenses, including taxes of $1,000,000 per year normally. Paul A. Shoenberger, stockholder of Boise, who has been testifying favorably with regard to the proposed financing, saying it was wholly reasonable to believe that the company would be able to build the bond and preferred stock. The old road has a bonded indebtedness of about $79,000 per mile; the new road, only $20,000. He gave many reasons why the old road had failed and said the new road would not thus be handicapped. He predicted a good future for it.

Evans testified that of the new issue of bonds, $7,000,000 had been taken by subscribers and $12,000,000 will be taken by underwriters, but that high interest charges only a part of the money will be called.

The commission promised a very early decision.

FIRE DEPARTMENT GETS LATE CALL LAST NIGHT

Fire of Unknown Origin Destroys House Which Was Damaged Last January.

The empty house at 444 Second avenue West, was completely destroyed last night by a fire of unknown origin. This was the second fire at this place since the first of the year, the place having been gutted by a fire on January 25. No one has been living in it since.

About a quarter to ten last night, A. V. Bout, residing at 438 Second Ave. South, noticed a light in the empty house next door and upon investigation found the interior completely enveloped in flames. Mr. Bout, a neighbor, was called to send in the alarm to the fire department, while Mr. Bout connected his alarm box for use if possible. The alarm reached the station at 10:00 sharp, and when the department arrived, the house was a roaring blaze which threatened to spread to Mr. Bout's home. Quick work on the part of the department, however, minimized the danger and within fifteen minutes after the call reached the station, the fire was out.

The house belonged to William H. Hunt of Butte, Utah, and was not insured. The loss is estimated at $250.

BOISE EXCURSION LEAVES SATURDAY

Twin Falls Tract Plans to Visit the Soldier Boys

RATE OF LESS THAN ONE PARE FOR THE ROUND TRIP.

Committee Suggests That Women Bring Well Filled Baskets or Send Them to Boys by Friends.

An excursion with a rate of eight dollars for the round trip, or less than half fare, will be put on from Twin Falls to Boise to afford the people of this city the last opportunity to see the brave boys who are going to the front before their departure to the scene of war, leaving this city at 11 o'clock Saturday night and leaving Boise for a return trip Sunday evening. The train will start from Buhl, from which point the rate will be $8.45, at 10 o'clock, and stops will be made at all stations on the Minidoka branch—W. R. Price and R. L. MacVicker are preparing to start out in the morning here to sell the required 100 tickets to the state capital. The suggestion is made that the women and girls going on the trip bring well filled baskets, for while all reports from the front indicate that the rations of the boys are substantial and satisfactory, it is felt that they will be more than ever appreciative of home cooking now and that the memory of this meal on the eve of departure will mean to them a special experience in the land of foibles, tortillas and tamales. The committee further suggests that those who are unable to bring in person to convey their love to their husbands, sweethearts and friends, make up baskets and send them to the others, in order that all who can do so may have an opportunity to participate in furnishing the spread.

A vast crowd is anticipated, as the boys are being missed here by every one and people, desiring to say good-bye, will, it is believed, not want to take advantage of the unusually low excursion rate, which will also give them a day's outing and will enable them to visit the capital of the state, while also visiting the military camp.

All those wishing to send baskets are requested by the committee to confer personally or by telephone with Attorney C. M. Booth, who has charge of the matter.

BOISE BARRACKS NOW BUSY PLACE

More Than 1000 Men In Idaho Regiment—All Well Treated, Well Fed and Satisfied.

Boise, Idaho, June 28, 1916. Boise barracks is now a busy place. Soldiers are being issued to the men and the men are being drilled quite for the first time.

There are now more than 1000 men in the regiment. Company D, now has 94. Twin Falls has furnished more than 100 men for a special duty. Twin Falls county twice as many as any other county. It is to be hoped that they will keep coming from all over the state until the full quota has been furnished.

The boys of Company D are all proud of the fact that they are members of Company D and are from Twin Falls. Thanks to our friends, the newspapers of Twin Falls, the company has been so well advertised that a great many soldiers from all over Idaho request that they be assigned to Co. D. Shoenberger has furnished 14 men. The men are all anxious to leave and as a result are leaving rapidly.

A few complaints are heard. The men are well fed and taken care of. They are well treated and are all satisfied. They are being drilled quite for the first time.

U. S. PRISONERS GIVEN UP WILL BE IN EL PASO TODAY

Mexican Government Complies With Demand of President Wilson That Prisoners Taken at Carrizal Be Released Immediately.

The telegram conveying this news was addressed to General George Bell, Jr., commander of the El Paso base. It was signed by General Trevino, commander of the Mexican military district of the northeast, whose headquarters are at Chihuahua City.

General Trevino, in keeping with his custom of maintaining close secrecy regarding all military developments, refused to say whether or not he had received the message. He said that all announcements must come from General Funston at San Antonio.

On receipt of word that General Funston had given out the contents of the message, he said that no escort would be sent to meet the prisoners in the morning, but that an officer would be delegated to take command of them and lead them to Fort Bliss.

Mexican officials tonight were happy over the turn in events. They declared that this would mean a lessening of the tension of the last few days. General Francisco Gonzalez, Juarez commander, and Andres Garcia, Mexican vice-consul at El Paso, both declared themselves optimistic of the future.

Rogerson Special. Leave Rogerson, 9:00 a.m. Return, 11:45 p.m.

Excursion rates on all regular trains.

Everything is in readiness for the greatest Independence day celebration ever seen in Twin Falls, enthusiastically announced the July Fourth committee this morning.

With special trains and excursion rates in effect all day long, with many original features, scheduled with thousands of people, the celebration is in connection with the plans to Twin Falls for the day, the city should witness an incomparable Fourth, and the enthusiasm evidenced by everyone in connection with the plans is guarantee enough for the most successful holiday.

Besides the regular trains there will be three special excursions from Buhl, Murtaugh and Rogerson, with return at a specially late hour to assure everyone's seeing the day's program from first to last.

The decoration committee with William Peck as head, promises a rally decorated city. Flags and bunting will be used as freely as the appropriation will permit and in the evening, the principal streets will be lit by strings of electric lights.

The Merchants' association decided to keep the stores open up until noon to give out-of-town visitors an opportunity to make necessary purchases. The merchants' association was in evidence all during the day to aid in the joyous and happy feeling which the committee is most desirous of maintaining. Special "ladies' rest-rooms" will be provided.

TWIN FALLS BOYS ANXIOUS FOR FRAY

Paul Tabor Says They Would Like to See Things Settled

MANY RECRUITS FROM ALL PARTS OF STATE WANT TO GET IN.

Mayor Sweeley Gets Supplies, Puts Women to Work and Talks Encouragingly About Recruiting.

"The boys of Company D are getting along splendidly, having the best officers and equipment in the Idaho regiment," said Paul Tabor, who, though one of the crack shots of the company, was rejected through lack of weight, and returned yesterday from Boise. The members are all anxious for something to happen, if there is to be war, they want it soon," continued Mr. Tabor, "but they are keeping up in the best of condition and are ready for whatever happens. The popularity of the company is such that recruits from all parts of the state want to get in. One of a certain date, 24 wanted to get in to Company D, and one into Company H. The band is getting into fine shape and now has 20 members. Of these eight are from Twin Falls. Jack Thorpe as leader, is working hard and it is wonderful to note how quickly he is getting them in line."

Word was received here this morning by Mayor E. M. Sweeley from Captain P. W. McRoberts, designating the kind of blanket required by the company, and as the material for these and for the bandages were on hand, the women and girls of Twin Falls have been busy all day with needles and sewing machines, getting them ready. They will be sent out tomorrow. Mayor Sweeley has been working night and day on recruiting Monday night he and Colonel C. L. Langley went to Kimberly where they addressed a large meeting. Mayor Sweeley also visited Murtaugh and Elmer on the same mission. "No says that there are about 25 men in Kimberly and vicinity and a number of other places named who are getting their affairs into shape so that if war should come they could go. No effort is being made to carry anyone in unthinkingly or to intimidate them by the facts and probable needs of the country are frankly stated and those who are preparing for going are with a full understanding of conditions, so that it is felt that when they go, as they will if needed, they will not have any regrets. The spirit of determination and patriotism shown is inspiring, according to Mayor Sweeley.

WILL SET UP AUTO SERVICE STATION ON SHOSHONE ST.

Mr. Johnson, of the Johnson Auto Sales Co., expects to move to his new location on Shoshone street about July 12, which will be known as the Johnson Sales and Service Station.

Mr. Johnson expects to carry a complete line of parts and accessories. A 1915 gallon capacity tank is being installed, and although the electrically operated pump is ready for use, Mr. Johnson expects to have it to receive the permission of the city council before setting it up.

REPUBLICANS DECLARE HUSTON UNFIT TO HOLD JOB.

The Republican state central committee at the Wednesday morning session in no uncertain terms condemned the action of State Auditor Fred L. Huston in the transactions surrounding the so-called Huston case.

Mr. Huston was charged with having received a bribe of $10,000 from a certain individual in exchange for the removal of a certain individual from a certain position.

The committee declared that the action of the auditor was a disgrace to the office and that he was unfit to hold the position.

The committee recommended that the auditor be removed from office and that a new auditor be appointed.

HARVEY STANLEY ESCAPES FROM JAIL

Rock Creek Man Saws Bars And Makes Getaway.

EVIDENTLY GOT OUT IN BROAD DAY LIGHT AND DISAPPEARED.

Evidence of Outside Help And of Plan For a General Jail Break Found by Officers.

Sawing the bars of his cell, Harvey Stanley, in jail awaiting trial for statutory crime, made his escape in broad daylight yesterday and has not since been located. Stanley was in the cell in the morning and his absence was discovered about 5 o'clock last evening when Deputy Sheriff W. G. Thompson went to give him his evening meal and lock him up in the inner cell for the night. It is assumed that he escaped from the room early in the day and entered the kitchen of the court house through the same window through which the other prisoners who escaped some months ago did and that he calmly walked down stairs and into the city. It is considered probable that the escape took place about noon. There were three other prisoners in the room: Mike Ryan, a federal prisoner; William Gardner, whose trial on a statutory charge is held this afternoon; and R. C. Greer, charged with burglary. None of the other prisoners would give any information about the escape. There is evidence is shown that there was a conspiracy for a general break and that assistance was given from the outside. A key was found in a place where it was hidden where the escape had been hidden during and after the operation of sawing the bars. What the exact plan was is unknown. Only one bar was sawed and the space opened was not large enough for anyone but Stanley to pass through. The window was the same through which the prisoners were pushed out as was formerly the case. Stanley was arrested recently at the time and Deputy Thompson was in the office a good part of the day, and felt safe as the prisoners were all locked up in the cell. No trace of the escaped man had been found up to the time of going to press. Stanley and Fay Cox of Murtaugh were arrested recently on a statutory charge. Cox is on bond but Stanley, who once served a term in the penitentiary for grand larceny, could not find bondsmen.

KICKING HORSE KILLS SHOSHONE-BASIN MAN

J. T. Wiseman Meets With Fatal Accident When Horse Bucks and Throws Him to Ground.

J. T. Wiseman, a stock-raiser, living 25 miles south on the Shoshone Basin road, was killed Monday morning when his horse bucked and threw him to the ground, and then trampled on him, crushing him in his skull. It was several hours before the body was found, which was lying face down on the road. A man was found in the hands of the dead man and it is presumed that before dying he had endeavored to attract the attention of friends by revolver shots.

Mr. Wiseman and his partner, Frank Smith, started about 10 o'clock this morning to go in different directions and it is thought that while riding Mr. Wiseman's horse became unmanageable and he was thrown, which last fact, it is believed, was the cause of his death.

The body was brought in to Twin Falls Monday night and shipped to Walla Walla, Mr. Wiseman's home, where it was buried. He was 40 years old, unmarried, and a brother in Buhl, J. D. Wiseman.

CHAUTAUQUA NETS BALANCE TO CITY

Reports Shows Profit of $192.24
From Admissions

CONTRACT IS DRAWN FOR RETURN OF SHOWS NEXT SUMMER

Superintendent Erickson is Greatly Pleased With the Hearty Reception Given Entertainers.

The results of the Chautauqua held last week show a substantial balance of $192.24 in favor of the Commercial club, which had the week's entertainment in charge. The total receipts from admission were $370.29, and $265.35 of this represented the advance sale of tickets, a showing made possible by a lively ticket-selling campaign conducted under the auspices of the Commercial club. Only $1800 was needed to assure the presence of the Chautauqua.

According to the contract drawn between the Chautauqua authorities and the Commercial club the club was to participate in 20 per cent of the receipts over and above $2500. This sum of $192.24, says E. L. MacVicar of the Commercial club, will be turned over to the Twin Falls Federation of Rural clubs to be used for ladies' rest-rooms.

The promoters, said Mr. MacVicar, are very well satisfied with the results of the Chautauqua this year and are pleased with the interest shown by the people of Twin Falls. That the Chautauqua entertainers are felt to be

GIPSON OPPOSED TO

HUGHES CANDIDACY

Progressive State Chairman Declares Republican Candidate Too Very Unacceptable.

CALDWELL.—That Chairman James H. Erickson had not changed his opinion on the subject of the interview he gave to the press before the Chicago convention in which he declared that Hughes was the candidate of the Republican party in this state, and that it was his hope to be able to come to Twin Falls some time for the purpose of settling here.

"Justice Hughes will need all the support he can get to beat the president, particularly if we are at war with Mexico. My own conception of the justice, formed from an examination of his record as governor of New York, is that he has very many of the qualities of a statesman."

"The justice was nominated simply because no one knew where he stood on any great question. The German-American Alliance strangely favored him because they had reason to think that he would be more friendly to Germany, and this alliance was a most potent factor in the Republican convention. The recent delegates from the Mississippi valley states were for him because he had said nothing which would lead them to believe that he would support extensive naval or military program. The Republican large and small rather favored his candidate because he had not offered no faction, race or creed by taking a decided stand anywhere."

"The justice is a most able politician. He conducted his pre-convention campaign so cleverly that he can go before the people occupying the position of one whom the nomination has sought—a most important advantage."

"The campaign, however, will be a difficult one unless he can show the American people that he will be forward and aggressive where President Wilson has been vacillating and weak.
The campaign will be fought out entirely upon the issue of the tariff, and if the voters decide they are much alike Wilson will have the better of it."

"The Progressive convention was a most wonderful affair. Probably the gathering in the history of America has been so full of dramatic incidents, wild enthusiasm and bitter contests.
The impression conveyed to one visiting the Republican convention was very different. The Republican delegates were cool, unemotional, calculating politicians. They were not with a single idea in view—party success. They understood that Justice Hughes was sufficiently neutral in tone, and that he had been selected by their leaders as the most likely to win. The idea of 'America First' had but little place in their deliberations.
The narrowness of the republican party was uppermost in the minds of the vast majority of the delegates, and the secondary feeling was a desire to forward the colored Roosevelt as political power. The demonstrations were plainly manufactured and bored even those taking part in them. There was no enthusiasm for Hughes, but it was clearly understood by all that it was either Hughes or T. R. The favorite sons were not at any time a separate force, for there was no misunderstanding of Colonel Roosevelt's position, which was far better understood by certain Republican leaders than by the Progressives generally."

WOOL PRICES ARE HIGHEST KNOWN

Immense Sales Made In Oregon
Market

HIGHEST PRICE PAID WAS TWEN-TY-FOUR CENTS.

Cattle Market Steady But Slow—Hogs Take Jump Upward—Sheep Somewhat Lower.

More than 120,000 pounds of prime Oregon wool was sold at Bend, Ore., Friday, at prices ranging between 21 and 31 cents per pound, says the Portland Live Stock Reporter Monday. The average price paid was about 24 cents per pound, which is the highest price that has ever been offered for local wool.

The wool of the Williams Land & Livestock company brought the highest price for any clip of any size, being 24 cents per pound. With the exception of one small clip, all the wool was purchased by Charles H.
Green, of the Bodway Woolen Mills of Bend.

About 80,000 pounds remain unsold, the owners refusing to sell at the prices quoted. More than 100,000 pounds remaining has been contracted at prices averaging about 21 cents per pound.

In almost every case, the sheepman received prices averaging higher than last year, and are well pleased with the results of the sale.

Two hundred thousand pounds of wool were sold at Pilot Rock at the first eastern Oregon sale of the season. Charles Green, of the Bodway Woolen Mills, of Bend, paid the highest price of the day for coarse wool, giving 20 1/2 cents for the 3000 pound clip of Lida McDonald.

Hogs sold at steady prices at the close of last week. A pretty fair run Friday, which found a good demand.
One load of choice hogs selling at $5.15. Bulk of sales were made at $3.80 to $4.15.

Hog receipts last week totaled 6093, against 4331 the same week last year.
Receipts for the year to date are 164, 620,000, against 10,000 last year. This shows an increase of about 30 per cent.

Today's run of porkers, the smallest Monday opening of the year, with only 2,200 received. There was a good demand and sales started off on a higher basis. Some were sold at $5.25, with bulk from $3.10 to $3.25. Late this afternoon one load of prime lights sold for $3.50.

A good run of cattle continued for the week-end market. Seven hundred coming forward. All offerings going at good, steady prices. Although the run of cattle is slow, the market at the previous one, 1850 head were received. Offerings were entirely of the common to fair grades.

With only a moderate run of mutton here Friday, buyers again put prices down another quarter. Over 8000 sheep received during week, with very light demand. Prices during the week was 75c on all classes.

With 1200 sheep on today's market, prices held up on most offerings. The market was very steady. The following were quotations for: Choice grass, $7.50 to $8.25; best California natives,

PORTLAND TO SEATTLE RECORD
BROKEN BY MAXWELL CAR
A new "unconquered" record for speed and endurance in an automobile was hung up during the past week when a stock Maxwell touring car was driven from Portland to Seattle and then back to Portland, in less than thirty-four hours. The "unconquered" feature entered into the event because no special effort was made for a hurry-up trip, and Jack Griffin, who handled the car, did not even know the Maxwell had added another performance to its long list of notable events until told of it by Portland correspondents.

The fastest time ever made by an automobile—in this instance a regular racing car—between the Oregon and Washington metropolises was apparently seven and a half hours. The Maxwell was sent over the ground in about an hour slower time. After dinner in Seattle the driver decided to make the ground and return to Portland. The return trip was just a few minutes slower, but the fact that the Maxwell had made the round trip in the course of a full day was considered a most notable feat in the annals of northwestern motoring.

LEAP NOT LATERAL MADE BY WILLIAMS

Kimberly Man Jumps Into Ditch During Runaway

CANDY FACTORY AND BAKERY FOR KIMBERLY.

Baseball Managers, After Discussing Defeat, Decide That They Need a Pitcher and Sign One.

Taking advantage of a shift of his wagon which was being pulled by the property, Marion Williams, butcher of the People's Meat & Livestock company, took a long leap to liberty during an exciting runaway about a mile east of Kimberly yesterday morning, with the result that he found himself seated in safety in deep mud with three feet of water flowing around and over him, while the team, after tearing the railing off a bridge over the coulee, piled up against a bank, grounding him and his wagon.

Williams and Thomas Tallmadge started out from Kimberly with the delivery wagon yesterday morning to bring a supply of meat from the slaughter house about two miles east of town, and were running along nicely when for some unknown reason the tongue dropped. Williams, who was driving, tried to apply the break, as they were going down hill, only to find that it would not work. Whenever the horses tried to stop the wagon bumped them. Finally they became uncontrollable and started at a mad pace up the road. As they were approaching the bridge, Tallmadge, either jumped out or was thrown out. It looked for a moment as if the rig would upset for the last time, with Williams underneath it, so just before the bridge was reached, when the wagon gave a lurch toward the water, Williams took advantage of it to make a flying spring into the ditch, which was about three feet deep and running over a bed of cory mud. He struck on his foot but instantly came down, and landed on his back, coming up wet, dirty, cold and unharmed. The horse next to the stream suddenly reared up, and when the driver, who was upsetting the rig, but the rails of the bridge were swept off. The horses ran about 40 rods farther crossing a coulee when they were stopped on the road against a bank and one fell down, with the other on top of him. Williams found them and the wagon unhurt.

H. T. West and family, accompanied by Harold Stowe, left yesterday for Seattle, Wash., to visit.

The Kimberly meat market has ordered a new meat altar.

Frank Wilson shipped a carload of hogs to Seattle, Wednesday.

A. C. Dalley will shortly open a candy kitchen and bakery in the store room now occupied by E. W. Tilley, the jeweler. Mr. Dalley came down from America's Fair recently and decided that Kimberly would be a good place to live and that the candy factory and bakery would afford a good living, so he moved his family there. Mr. Tilley will occupy a place in the bank building when it is completed.

The Grill cafe has decided to cut out meals and serve only short orders.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunsaker and J. T. Johnson of Utah, visited George H. Johnson last week.

Dr. C. T. Johnson, son of J. T. Johnson, is in Kimberly this week from Utah, the guest of his brothers, Frank, Howard and George H. Johnson.

W. A. Gill is suffering from a burned hand, caused by a gritty act where by he prevented an explosion that might have greatly damaged his sporting goods new shop and garage. While a bicycle was being fixed Monday, the hot metal set fire to a tube leading to the oxygen tank. There was no time for securing an extinguisher and Mr. Gill grabbed the burning tube and put the fire out with his hand, which was painfully burned.

Having been defeated by a score of four, to one in a close game at Jerome Sunday, the Kimberly baseball managers called a meeting for Monday to consider the situation and decided that the team needed strengthening. The upshot of the matter was that they signed R. L. Cook, of Anaconda, Mont., who is reputed to be some pitcher, having formerly pitched for Oakland, Calif.

The Stuedebaker headquarters has been moved to the shop recently vacated by W. A. Gill's blacksmith shop. This will give plenty of room. A large increase will be made in the stock. It is reported that L. J. Walker may open a newspaper office in the old stant shortly.

The boys returning Sunday from Jerome reported that one of the Jerome players, named Annett had been terribly injured while at bat by a ball that struck him squarely in the nose. H. W. Mund reports that seed was not injured by the late frosts and that clover and alfalfa will yield heavily.

Work began Monday on the fine residence of Thomas M. Atkins in this town. The small residence of A. L. Ullrich was also commenced.

W. A. Gill and family were visiting friends south of Filer Sunday.

Mrs. George O. Bremer and the kids left Sunday for Walla Walla, Wash., to spend the summer with Mr. Bremer's parents.

Williams & Roberts and Brown brothers are preparing to put up hay and feed for the summer at the Village Blacksmith shop.

Mrs. L. S. Swearingen, Mrs. Charles Swearingen, Mrs. Will Behnel and W. Swearingen are visiting in Wendell this week.

Mrs. Still Swearingen, who is in the hospital in Twin Falls, is getting better.

N. W. Swearingen, Jess Draper and H. E. Wood were at the Magic dance Sunday.

Postmaster A. McDonald says that the way of the mail dispenser is hard. He says that he keeps the postoffice open until 7 o'clock p. m. instead of 6 o'clock, and opening the window an hour after the noon mail is distributed on Sunday.

These are the only two who find many who want him to open up after hours. He says that he keeps the office lobby open until 7:30 p. m. for those who have boxes and tries to accommodate all.

MAROA SCHOOL STUDENTS HAVE SUCCESSFUL GARDENS

Awards Made This Week to 18 Young Workers On Four Acres Pitches.

Last spring the pupils of the Maroa school planted school gardens under the direction of the principal, Mr. C. S. Miller. Two pupils had charge of each garden and planted various kinds of vegetable and flower seeds.

These gardens have been cultivated and irrigated by the children and at present are looking fine, considering the cool weather that has kept things back. Maroa is fortunate in having school sites of four acres where school gardens and other agricultural experiments may be conducted on the school board have encouraged this work by offering prizes for the best gardens.

Mr. Hauser, agricultural teacher in the Twin Falls high school, and the county superintendent of schools, looked over the gardens Tuesday and decided which gardens were best. These pupils expect to care for their gardens during the summer and exhibit some of the best products at the county fair in the fall.

Prizes awarded to pupils of Maroa school board for garden club work:

Primary Section—1st prize, Ted Sierler and Luther Piers, $3.00; 2nd prize, Jane Sierler and Eva Moseley, $2.00; 3rd prize, Nora Moseley and Jane Sierler, $1.00.

Intermediate Section—1st prize, Chas. Ross and Gale Bevercombe, $3.00; 2nd prize, Ralph Brown and Chas. Buchanan, $2.00; 3rd prize, Chas. Diehl and John Hollahan, $1.00.

Grammar Section—1st prize, Lester Diehl and Willie Walter, $3.00; 2nd prize, Heaford Blackie and Leslie Williams, $2.00; 3rd prize, Wilma Parsh and Ruby Gambrel, $1.00.

Buhl News

(From the Buhl Herald)

Nine sheep were killed east of Buhl last Sunday night about 10:30, because the seven-passenger auto driven by C. L. Reynolds ran into a hand bled by a fence. The driver, who did not occur just east of the Buhl corner, and behind the raise where the culvert crosses the road. Mr. Reynolds said that he did not see the band of sheep because of the dust and because of the elevation in the highway, until he was upon them.

Mrs. Lisa L. Kerr of Los Angeles, Calif., purchased the military stock of E. L. Ward, who has been occupying an office room in the Herald building. The transfer was made last Friday, and Mrs. Kerr will continue the military business in the same location. She expects a new shipment of military goods in a short time. Mrs. Kerr was formerly engaged in the military business at Twin Falls before going to California.

Moving pictures of Company K marching from the armory to the depot Wednesday morning, were photographed by V. J. Ambie, licensee operator of the Herald shop. The films were developed and will be shown locally at a later date. The films appear to be clear cut, and show the company marching to the depot, and also includes the people who accompanied the boys to the train to see them off. A view was taken of the company as the train pulled out.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Otis Syter of Clear Lake, every member of Company K has a rose at the fare. The dance, which was to secure a mess fund for the company was well attended and every one reports a fine time. Company K wishes to express their appreciation to Thomas Clinton, who was so kind as to give the use of the open hall for the evening.

The Peoples Drug store will soon manufacture a great many of its toilet preparations here in Buhl. The company is a chemist member of the associated pharmacists, who will ship concentrates here from the main laboratories. There are 700 chemist members in the association, and they compound 66 varieties.

At the regular meeting of the Episcopal Guild which was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Faris, the following officers were re-elected for the coming year: Mrs. J. W. Faris, president; Mrs. F. C. Marquardt, vice president; Mrs. John Mason, secretary; Mrs. H. C. Coleman, treasurer.

J. M. Shank, formerly probate judge of Twin Falls county, was elected secretary of the Buhl Business Men's association to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. M. Bradley, who joined Company K in their call to Boise Wednesday morning. Mr. Shank will devote his entire time to the work of the association.

Work on the Macchack building adjoining the Herald office, is nearing completion, and is expected to be ready for occupancy by the first of July. James M. Gibbs, architect, and formerly proprietor of a cigar store at that place, has rented the building, and will conduct a similar business here.

BESSIE BARRISCALE

Featured in a Very Strong Story with Some Fine Situations

Marvellously Well Interpreted by

BESSIE BARRISCALE

A Thomas Ince Production in Five Parts, Entitled

"Not My Sister"

Scene after scene delights the eye because of real emphasis and contrast through effects of light and shade. Audiences feel a sense of pleasure in looking at such pictures without knowing exactly why, and there are even critics who do not know why. The picture composition in "NOT MY SISTER" is an improvement on any previous Ince product.

All this artistry is subtle in its effect. More direct is the fine acting of a well-selected cast and the superb interpretation of Bessie Barriscale. In making the spectator aware of the condition of her mind and heart during her varied interpretations, all with sweet dignity and fidelity to her work, Barriscale stands well up in comparison with any screen actress I have had the good fortune to see perform. She is a powerful factor in a combination of author, director and interpreters working in harmony of purpose, with good taste dominating even the most delicate situations. "NOT MY SISTER" is a fine example of the highest motion picture art.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Mrs. Sheridan, in a wrapper, noiselessly opened the door of her husband's room at daybreak the next morning, and peered within the darkness, chamber--at the "cold-house" they had shared a room, but the architect had chosen to separate them at the new one, and they had not known how to formulate an objection, although to both of them something seemed vaguely reprehensible in the new arrangement.

"No. You Can't Have Your Way."

Sheridan did not wake and she was withdrawing her hand from the aperture when he awoke.

"Oh, I'm awake! Come in, if you want to, and shut the door."

"She came and sat by the bed," she woke up thinking about it. She explained. "And the more I thought about it the surer I got I must be right, and I knew you'd be tormenting yourself if you were awake, so--well, you got plenty other troubles, but I'm just sure you ain't got to have the worry with Bibbs. It looks like."

"You bet I ain't!" he grunted.

"Look how blidable he was about going back to the works," she continued. "He's a right good-hearted boy, really, and sometimes I honestly have to say he seems right smart, too. Now and then he'll say something sounds right bright. 'Course, most always it doesn't, and a good deal of the time, when he says things, why, I have to feel glad--well, not glad--because they'd think he didn't have any gumption at all. Yet, look at the way he did when Jim--when Jim got hurt. He took right hold of things. And Doctor Gurney says he's got brains, and can't deny but what the doctor's right considerable of a mind. He acts sleepy, but that's only because he's got such a large practice--he's a pretty wide-awake kind of a man some ways. Well, what he says last night about Bibbs--that's what I got to thinkin' about. You heard him, papa; he says, 'Bibbs' is a bigger business man than what Jim and Roacoe was put together--he'll never wakes up, he'll never--' Wasn't that exactly what he says?"

"I suppose so," said Sheridan, without exhibiting any interest. "Gurney's crazier 'n Bibbs, but if he wasn't--if what he says was true--what of it?"

"Listen, papa. Your suppose Bibbs took it into his mind to get married. You know where he goes all the time--"

"Oh, Lord, yes!" Sheridan turned over in the bed, his face to the wall, leaving visible of himself only the thick fringe of his hair. "You better go back to sleep. He runs over there--every minute she'll tell him, I suppose. Go back to bed. There's nothin' in it."

"Why ain't there?" she urged. "I know better--there is, too. You say that Bibbs has got the idea in his head yet--he also he wouldn't be talkin' that fool-talk about no dollars a week, but it's good enough for him to live on. But he's comin', papa, and he'll jump for whatever you want to hand him out. He'll want five hundred dollars, this much, too; he'll want all this salary and stock he can get hold of, and he'll bustle to keep getting more. That girl's the kind that a young husband just goes crazy to give things to! She's pretty and fine-looking, and things look nice on her, and I guess she'd like to have 'em about as well as the next. And I guess she isn't gettin' many these days, either, and she'll be pretty handy for a change. Now her with her sleeves rolled up at the kitchen window the other day, and Jackson told me yesterday their cook left two weeks ago, and they haven't tried to hire another one. If says her and her mother been told the housework a good while, and now they're doin' the cookin', too. 'Course Bibbs wouldn't know that unless she's his girl, and I reckon she wouldn't; she's kind of a bookish sort, and Bibbs is too up in the clouds to notice anythink like that for himself. They've never asked him to a meal in the house, but he wouldn't notice that, either--he's kind of a fussy sort. Now was thinkin'--you know, I don't suppose that we've mentioned the girl's name at table since Jim went, but it seems to me maybe it--"

"Sheridan went on in this way, uttering a sound like a groan, he gave up--'You're barkin' on the wrong tree! Go on back to bed, mamma!'"

"Why am I barkin' on the wrong tree?" "Because you are. There's nothin' in it."

"I'll bet you," she said, rising--"I'll bet you be goes to church with her this morning. What you want to bet?"

"Go back to bed," he commanded. "I know what you're thinkin' about, 'now's nothin' in it, I tell you."

"She shook her head perplexedly. "Then--do you know something about it that you ain't told me?"

"Yes, I do," he grunted. "Now go on. Maybe I can get a little sleep. I ain't had any yet."

"Well--" She went to the door, her expression downcast. "I thought maybe--but--"

"Oh, papa, something else I wanted to tell you. I was talkin' to Roacoe over the phone last night when the telegram came, so I forgot to tell you, but--well, Silvy wants to come over this afternoon. They expect to get off by the end of the week, and I reckon she wants to feel she's done what she can to kind of make up. Anyway, that's what he said. But what I thought was, no use bein' tough with her, papa--I expect she's suffered a good deal--and I don't think we'd ought to be, on Roacoe's account. You'll--won't--be kind of polite to her, won't you, papa?"

"He mumbled something which was smothered under the coverlet he had pulled over his head."

"What?" she said, timidly. "I was just sayin' I hoped you'd treat Silvy all right when she comes, this afternoon--You will, won't you, papa?"

"He grew the color of a furnace."

"I presume so," he roared.

She departed guiltily.

But if he had accepted her proffered wager when she came to the door, with any verities that morning, Mrs. Sheridan would have lost. They meant to go to church. But it happened that they were attentively preoccupied in a conversation as they came to the church and they had gone on an incredible number of blocks beyond it before they discovered their error. However, feeling that they might be embarrassingly late if they returned, they decided that a walk would make them as good as on time. So they walked, and for the most part they were silent, but on their way home, after they had turned back to the door, they began to be talkative again.

"Mary," said Bibbs, after a time, "am I a sleep-walker?"

She laughed a little, then looked grave. "Does your father say you are?"

"Yes--when he's in a mood to flatter me. Other times, other names. He has quite a list."

"You must mind," she said, gently. "He's been getting some pretty severe shocks."

"What you're told me makes no sense at all, Bibbs. I've always been sure he's very big."

"Yes, big and blind. He's like a Hercules without eyes and without any consciousness except that of his strength and of his purpose to grow stronger. Stronger for what? For nothing."

"Are you sure, Bibbs? It can't be for nothing; it must be stronger for something, even though he doesn't know what it is. Perhaps what he and his kind are struggling for is something great they couldn't see it--so great none of us could see it."

"No, he's just like some blind, unconscious thing heaving underground--"

"I'll be broke through and leaps to the daylight," she finished for him, cheerily.

"Into the smoke," said Bibbs. "Look at the powder of coal-dust already drifting the decent snow, even though it's Sunday. That's from the little pigs; the big ones aren't so bad, on Sunday. That's a flock of soot on your cheek--Some pig sent it out into the air; he might as well have thrown it on you. It would have been braver, for then he'd have taken his chance of his whipping him, or if I could--"

"Is there soot on my cheek, Bibbs? Is there?"

"Is there? There are soot on your cheeks, Mary--a flock on each one. One landed since I mentioned the dust."

She laughed immediately, giving him the bird-sweet, and he succeeded in transferring most of the black from her face to the cambric. They were entirely matter-of-course about it.

An elderly couple, it chanced, had been walking behind Bibbs and Mary for the last block or so, and passed during the removal of the soot.

"There!" said the elderly wife. "You're always wrong when you begin guessin' about strangers. Those two young people aren't honeymooners at all--they're bein' married for years. A blind man could see that."

"I wish I knew who threw that soot on you," said Bibbs, looking up at the neighboring chimneys, as they went on. "They arrest children for throwing snowballs at the street cars, but--"

"But they don't arrest street cars for shakin' all the pictures in the houses crooked every time they go by. Nor for the uproar they make. I wonder what's the cost in nerves for the noise of the city each year. Yes, we pay the price for living in a growing town, whether we have money to pay for more."

"Who is it that says the way?" said Bibbs. "No!" she laughed.

"Nobody gets it. There isn't any pay; there's only money. And only some of the men down town get much of that. That's what my father wants me to get."

"Yes," she said, smiling to him, and nodding. "And you don't want it, and you don't need it."

"But you don't think I'm a sleep-walker, Mary?" He had told her of his

"I think I will."

"I've something I've hid a lot of these about, but none of them ever just fit. You used to treat first in the fall, but now it's so much colder, you don't--you never wear them at all any more. Why don't you?"

Her eyes fell for a moment, and she got rest. Then she looked up quickly. "Bibbs, if I told you that I promised not to ask any more questions?"

"Yes--Why did you stop wearing them?"

"Because I found I'd be warmer without them." She caught his hand quickly in her own for an instant, laughed into his eyes, and ran into the house.

Hollister Items

Times' Special Correspondence.

On Saturday, June 24, at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon, occurred the wedding of Mr. Fred P. Bates and Miss Ruth M. Hazard. The ceremony used by the church, of which both are communicants, was that of the Presbyterian, and the officiating minister was Rev. J. D. Keith, who had baptized the bride at her reception as a member of the Hollister church. The wedding was simple, quiet and beautiful. The relatives of the bride, besides her parents, her brother Neale, and sister, Miss Nina, were her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Jno. M. Dudley; their daughters, Mrs. Wiley Hilt and Miss Jeanie Dudley; Messrs. John and George Dudley. The relatives of the groom present were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Bates, of Wendell; their married daughters, Madeline Eaton, with their husbands, two single sisters of the groom, one sister being unavoidably absent, and three brothers of the groom. Others present were Mrs. J. D. Keith, wife of the officiating clergyman, Messrs. C. E. Nelson and Thomas O'Brien, these being fellow-employees with the groom of the Salmon River Land and Water Co. Mr. Thomas O'Brien was the groom's best man, while the bride's sister, Miss Nina Hazard, was her only attendant. The ring ceremony was used. The bride wore a cream tulle silk suit, coat effect, and carried white bridal roses. The groom wore a blue serge suit and conventional tie and collar. And then a rather unusual occurrence took place. While the bride's mother and sister stood by her, and Mrs. J. M. Dudley and daughters, were serving delicious cake and cream, the new wife changed quickly to her blue serge traveling costume, and being assisted by friends well coached for the time, the four slipped quietly out of a window, and the relatives and guests looked out, they saw them speeding a mile away in their auto to hasten to the railway, thus escaping goodbyes, rice and shoe missiles and other articles of good nature used on wedding occasions. They will visit Ogden, Salt Lake and Pocatello and on their return will reside at Berger, where their new home awaits them. Miss Hazard as she was here, is a rare character of beauty, womanliness, and poise of practical life; the daughter of Supt. Hazard and wife of the Hollister Elevator Co. The groom is a young man of most sterling qualities, whose parents are among the prosperous, cultured ranchers of Wendell. Under their happy marriage and promising auspices, we wish them the best of all to be found in life and home.

Rogerson Items

Times' Special Correspondence.

Mr. T. H. Thompson has returned from a trip to the middle states on business connected with the Rogerson Department store.

"Mother" Halsey, one of the pioneers of this western country, the mother of Messrs. J. T. and W. F. Halsey, Messdames Boyd and Duncan and Miss Vada Halsey, of Rogerson, Mr. C. H. Halsey of Three Creek, and Mrs. C. W. McMillan, of San Jacinto, Nevada, passed away at Ogden, Utah, on June 12, following a long and serious illness. At Ogden on June 14, the burial services were held. Besides those named above, Mrs. Halsey leaves a husband and a large number of grandchildren, who as one son expressed it to the writer, were "shocked by the realization that she is really gone forever, though we had known it was coming for a long while."

The mother of our friend and neighbor, Mr. J. P. McCallin, passed away on the 18th at her old home in Kansas, and his return here after this bereavement is expected about June 27th. The sympathy of all go out to these, our fellow soldiers of life, in one of the greatest trials of man, the death and burial of mother.

Rogerson relatives and friends learned on the 20th, of the marriage of W. F. Halsey and Mattie L. Garner at Twin Falls.

Mrs. Lewis Harrel and sons left on June 24 for a visit of several days at Twin Falls and Rock Creek.

"Daddy" Skillern, of Boise, who has purchased the holdings of the Owyhee Sheep company, was here on June 23-25, looking after the management of his business. This company recently shipped eighty tons of wool, and will make other shipments of wool and sheep at an early date.

Additions to buildings and the construction of new ones are going on here, and thus Rogerson continues to grow.

A 4th of July picnic and dinner is being planned for the people in and around town, with features social and athletic, thus giving recreation, amusement and an opportunity to be thoughtfully patriotic as we recall the founding facts of our great country.

On June 20 and 21, we had slight rains, hail and snow with freezes sufficient to injure small garden truck.

The Twin Falls-Inland highway through here has been finished beyond Cedar creek, 12 miles west, and the weather is favorable for a continuation of the work on an improvement greatly needed.

TALKS ON BANKING.

YOUR BUSINESS CHARACTER.

In all business operations involving credit, certain requisites are essential. If the risk is to prove satisfactory to the one who extends the credit. These requisites are best expressed in what has well been termed the "Three C's of Credit"—namely, Character, Capacity and Capital. This talk will cover the first.

In order to possess a business character, a man need not have wealth or be widely known as business honesty, for business honesty is not as big a thing as business integrity. Neither need a man say long prayers, and pass the plate, however admirable those traits may be. He must have more than a semblance of religion; he must carry his religion into the Ten Commandments, the Sermon on the Mount and the Golden Rule into his business life. He must do no tricky thing—he must be on the level. He must give the square deal. His word must be better than his bond. He must mark goods fairly, advertise honestly, rectify any error, correct an inadvertent, and never forget that his best advertisement is a satisfied customer, and satisfied customers are made only by business integrity.

The underlying reason why some men have become great merchants is to be found in the "spirit of the house." There are great stores in every large city whose greatness is due to the single fact that they have back of them business character. Their good will, worth millions, is a good will of integrity. It has taken years to build it up.

The buying public soon finds out the spirit of the house. You can catch a sucker but once. It doesn't pay to try the second time. You do well to inquire how the element of integrity enters into your business life, for if the banker does not believe in you, you can get no loans from him. You can lose this precious asset by a single lapse for business virtue, and once it is lost it is hard alighting to regain it.

A certain bank made a large sized loan to a builder for a specific operation, with the understanding that the funds were to be used to purchase material and pay labor for that work.

It soon developed that in spite of the fact that the contractor claimed to be progressing well with work, nothing had been done—he used the money elsewhere—it was a breach of trust. The banker had checked him up, as bankers generally do. He has lost his character and lost that bank, and his word no longer goes.

Another concern was buying automobiles with the bank's money, giving the bank a trust receipt whereby cars could not be delivered without obtaining a release from the bank and paying on the loan. The banker became suspicious that something was wrong and checked up the cars presumed to be in stock on the trust agreement, and found that four had been sold without accounting to the bank. Result: a nasty calling of the entire loan, loss of confidence, loss of a helpful business arrangement, friendship.

You cannot play fast and loose in business and win out. You cannot deceive your banker for long. He has a knack of finding things out. Gossip gets to him fast. He has a second sense that smells danger. He is a detective.

Therefore, build your business structure with character as the first of three supporting pillars. Be as active in the church as you like; be as good as you pretend to be—but remember always, that in business it is not what you seem to be but what you are that counts, and your true nature will soon become manifest to those who are in position to find things out and can help you if they trust you, but cannot if they don't.

A Circus Story.

A pretty good idea of the high esteem and reverence in which the negro element of the so-called John Robinson Ten Big Shows may be gained from an incident that occurred last fall in Columbia, S. C., and which was subsequently related by one of the leading daily newspapers of that city.

The John Robinson Circus had not yet paid Columbia its annual visit and a rival tented outfit had anticipated the Robinson date by arranging for a local exhibition. The flaring posters of the competitor were being put up so plentifully and conspicuously as to arouse the curiosity of a very old and gray-headed darkey who chanced to be loitering along while the energetic billposter was at work and who stopped to view the descriptive announcements.

The hustling "knight of the brush" had just stuck up the last sheet of a big date reading "Sept. 1" when the elderly cullied gent asked a passing obnoxious acquaintance to read to him the held, lettering on the papered sign.

"Circus, oh? Huh—well, read it to me, son; what's dat dey say about dis new show?"

The obliging interpreter then, proceeded to give the wording in the clearest manner that his limited knowledge of the English language would permit and finally concluded with the impressive line "greatest show on earth," and the date, of course.

"There; dat will do," commandingly interrupted the reverend "son of Ham," as he was observed to muse thoughtfully for a second or so.

"Sept one; yes and I knows who dat one is, too; dat's de ole John Robinson Circus what I've been gwine to see dese last fifty years or mo; can't fool dis old chicken now."

This is the same identical John Robinson Ten Big Shows that are billed to appear in Twin Falls on Tuesday, July 4.—Adm.

LONG HAS REAL MESSAGE.

It is a great fact, now-a-days, in announcing a lecturer, to say that he brings a "message." Doubtless the "message" proves to be merely a story-telling "stunt" in the line of entertainment; and, in case the fun furnished is bright, new and obvious, everybody is satisfied. But when the manager of last week's Chautauqua said that on Saturday Mr. Sylvester N. Long would have a "message" for those who heard him, for once he told the truth. Mr. Long brought the gospel of service—intelligent service such as anyone can get anywhere in this era of fierce competition, generous service on behalf of others, and service based on principle, undeterred by temptations and difficulties. It was a forceful, eloquent and effective presentation of "The Problem of the Hour," and can not fail to have left its hearers benefitted by at least generous promptings and good resolutions. To the mind of the writer it looms as the strongest and best lecture heard in a lifetime.

Furniture must be disposed of by Saturday P. M. at a good discount. See ad. in this paper for particulars. —Adv.

with lady attendants in charge, will be maintained in the court house and high school buildings. Mr. MacVicar, of the Commercial club, announces that in the morning fifteen big paper balloons will be sent into the air, and attached to these will be tickets which upon presentation at the commercial club during the day will be redeemed for $1 in cash. The big patriotism parade begins at the city park at 10:00 a. m. It is the desire of the committee that everyone participate in this parade, and it is desired that every automobile in the county be present, with some appropriate decoration if nothing more than a flag. The parade committee heartily extends an invitation to all of town people to enter their machines in this patriotic demonstration. There will be first and second prizes of $10 and $5 for the best and second best float representing commercial interests; for the best and second best float representing beauty; for the best and second best float representing business. Another prize of $5 will be offered for the most humorous representation, whether a float or not.

The following is the official day's program:

9:00 a. m.—Band concert, corner Shoshone and Main.
10:00 a. m.—Grand parade. Band, G. A. R., the "vocalists" representing the departed militia company, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, civic and fraternal organizations, decorated floats and automobiles.
11:00—12:00 p. m.—Circus parade, daylight fireworks in front of court house. Free ice cream for the kiddies dispensed by boy scouts and camp fire girls in the city park.
1:00—2:00 p. m.—Band concert in city park.
1:30—3:00 p. m.—Races and contests on street between court house and city park.
Events: Sack race, 1st prize $4, 2nd $2, 3rd $1; three-legged race, 1st $5, 2nd $3, 3rd $1; 100-yard dash, free for all, 1st $10, 2nd $5, 3rd $3; 100-yard dash, boys 15 and under, 1st $4, 2nd $2, 3rd $1; 50-yard dash for girls only, 1st $4, 2nd $2, 3rd $1; potato race, 1st $4, 2nd $2, 3rd $1; slow auto race on high gear, 1st $5, 2nd $3, 3rd $1; baseball throwing, 1st $4, 2nd $2, 3rd $1; greased pig, prize $5.00. Other races to be arranged on grounds.
3:30—Baseball game between Kimberly and Twin Falls at baseball park.
3:30—5:00—Band concert in city park.
5:00—8:00—Band concert in city park.
8:00—11:00—Grand carnival. Display of fireworks. Free dancing on pavement between court house and city park, music furnished by city band. Exhibition run by fire department. Wide open carnival, confetti, tin horns and general good time.

MANGY COYOTE HAS

FRIEND IN MOTORIST

No Jangler is the lowly coyote, scourge of the desert, enemy of the thrifty farmer, held in universal contempt as the most despicable animal on four legs. Instead he is looked on, at least by one man, as a friend in need and indeed, a wonderfully efficient auxiliary in the road department in various counties in the Pacific coast states. All this beautiful "boast" for the hitherto "mangy varmint" follows the visit to this section of Charles Gould, director of service for the Maxwell Motor company of Detroit, and John J. Patti, sales manager of the same company. Following a tour of the district with T. J. Toner, director of Maxwell affairs on the coast, Mr. Gould discovered redeeming traits in the coyote which have always escaped the fraudulent eyes of "us natives."

"The coyote is certainly the best little and cleverest of all creatures," said Mr. Gould on his return to Detroit the other day. "He takes care of all the dead animals along the trail, and is not half as bad as he is painted."

Mr. Gould's enthusiastic eulogy of the coyote will be noted with interest by farmers, stock raisers, who have in the past regarded that animal with anything but friendly feeling. Also, students of animal life everywhere will inquire into the snake eating proclivities of aforosaid coyote, as in the past, rapacious hordes have been exempt, even from the majestic buzzard.

TWIN FALLS TAKES GAME; LANDS IN SECOND PLACE

Game Is Featured By Good Fielding and Rupert Player Hits Home Run.

STANDING OF TEAMS.		Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Shoshone	4	1	3	.575
Twin Falls	5	3	2	.625
Rupert	4	4	0	.500
Jerome	2	6	2	.250
Kimberly	0	8	0	.000

By taking a closely played and exciting game from the Rupert club Sunday, the Twin Falls boys landed in second place in the percentage column. The score was Twin Falls, 4; Rupert, 3.

The game was featured by good fielding on both sides and thought Twin Falls was in the lead throughout the game, at no time did she have the game safely tucked away. Although Ansell, pitching for Rupert, struck out four batters, the Twin Falls batters landed for nine hits, while Hart, of Twin Falls, allowed only four. The home team made their score in the second, fifth and seventh innings. Frambach, for Rupert, provided a sensation when he landed on one of Hart's deliveries for a home-run.

The box score follows:

GLASSHOPPER PEST TO BE

KEPT UNDER CONTROL

County agent Birch is receiving daily reports of clover fields infested with glasshoppers. As yet he has found no fields where the damage is severe enough to warrant immediate treatment. If treatment is given too early, more hoppers will hatch later and may make a second treatment necessary.

The county agent would be glad to move with any farmers organizations in the county and explain the method of treatment to them evenings, or will arrange day field meetings in any locality where a spraying machine is available, and glasshoppers are numerous enough to warrant such measure. He is anxious to get in communication with owners of spraying machines who can put them out to use custom spraying. "To get best results," Mr. Birch says, "one should be sure that the machine is in good condition. While any farmer can keep the pest off his farm by spraying, he will have less difficulty if his neighbors join in and kill their hoppers."

GREATER VALUE GIVING

IT TAKES time and money to produce good fabrics—more time and money to fashion those fabrics into high-grade garments. Such garments are scarce nowadays and not to be obtained by anyone anywhere at one cent less than they are actually worth.

SCHLOSS BALTIMORE CLOTHES

"are always worth their price."

The whole policy of this "live store" is expressed in those three words—back of them is intelligent buying in large volume to a known demand. Careful management that conserves our resources and conscientious service that insists on giving to every patron a full degree of guaranteed satisfaction.

This "live store" is making a big mark in this town's merchandising history—the best clothes are here and the biggest values. No "trust-to-luck, hit-or-miss" method—nor do we take a chance on appearance only—on the surface, inside, outside, every-day-in-the-year we're "always reliable." In this battle for the best—there is "little time to rest"—so this "live store" goes along systematically—solving new problems each day and you are always sure of the best here, no matter what price you pay.

GUARD READY TO GO SOUTH SOON

Equipment Arrives Wednesday and Hauling Stock Is Expected by Saturday.

BOISE—With all physical examinations completed and equipment in camp for the men of the regiment, the Second Idaho will soon be prepared to move south toward the Mexican border, but the actual movement of the guardsmen awaits the pleasure of the U. S. L. railroad and the war department.

Equipment for the regiment arrived Wednesday morning from California by express. A few hours later Major Turkey of the medical corps announced the doctors had finished with the men and officers of the 12 companies making up the Idaho contingent. Lieutenant Garber, U. S. A., has said the mustering of the regiment into the federal service will start Thursday afternoon of Friday morning and will be completed before Saturday. The necessary for making out new enlistment papers for the officers and men has retarded the work to some extent, but all will have signed them this week.

When Lieutenant Garber musters the regiment into the United States army the governor's authority over it will automatically cease and the troops will move only on orders from the war department. Instructions to shift the regiment south have not yet arrived from Washington, but are expected hourly.

A message to Joel L. Priest, general agent in Idaho for the Short Line, received Wednesday, inquired the date on which rolling stock for the regiment would be gathered here by the railroad. He replied that it was promised for Saturday. Pullman and tourist cars are being gathered at different points and will be brought to Boise this week.

In many quarters it is now believed that orders to move the Idaho contingent Saturday or Sunday will reach Adjutant General P. H. Crowder. The regiment now has 1000 men in camp, the arrival of new recruits Wednesday, bringing the total contingent up to that strength. The failure of some to pass the physical examination. In all 121 men and officers have been examined; the doctors up to Wednesday noon. Of that number 136 were selected for one year or more, making a total of 976 passed; 207 were officers.
