TWIN FALLS BOY KILLED IN WAR

John Charles Girdner Killed in Battle in Europe

WAS MEMBER OF BRITISH FORCES ON THE CONTINENT.

Relatives Did Not Know That He Had Joined Army Until Word Came of His Death.

John Charles Girdner, serving in the British army at the front in Europe under the name of Charles Potter, has been killed, according to a telegram received here Saturday directed to Mrs. Girdner from the officer in charge of the record office at Ottawa, Ontario, Canada. The telegram which came by way of Vancouver gave few details, and read as follows: "Deeply regret to inform you that 464508, Private John Charles Potter, infantry, officially reported killed in action August 2." No explanation was made in regard to the regiment of which he was a member or the place in which he was killed. His parents are in San Diego, California, and his brother, David Girdner, who received the message, has communicated with them and has telegraphed for further particulars. The young man evidently enlisted in his mother's name—Potter.

Mr. Girdner was born in South Bend, Washington, twenty-three years ago. He later moved with his parents to Yakima, Washington, from which place he came with them to Twin Falls in 1905. He graduated from the Twin Falls high school in the class of 1914. While in school he was prominent in social and athletic circles and was a member of both the foot ball and base ball teams, making a fine record in both, especially in the latter. He always took an active interest in military affairs and was a member of Company D, I. N. G.

In April, 1916, Mr. Girdner left this city for California. He lived for a time in Los Angeles and later went to San Francisco. In September he wrote to his parents from the last named city telling them not to worry if they did not hear from him, as he would be all right. Since that time nothing had been heard of him until receipt of the telegram from the Canadian war office Saturday.

His parents became uneasy after they failed to receive word from him for some time and tried to get track of him but without avail. About six months ago they moved to San Diego, still endeavoring to locate their son. Besides his parents the dead boy left a brother, David Girdner, of this city; another brother, Gordon Girdner, who lives in Washington, and a sister, Mrs. George Walker, of Boise.

WILSON IS INDORSED BY CALIFORNIA MOOSE

SAN FRANCISCO—President Wilson was indorsed unanimously here Saturday at a conference of California Progressives, who also completed the organization of the Woodrow Wilson Progressive league and laid plans for participating in the campaign of the nation's executive for re-election. Francis J. Heney of Los Angeles, former Progressive candidate for United States senator, was elected president. A platform which lauded the president's work of the last four years was adopted by the league. The platform declared that the president's success in keeping America out of war brands him as one of the truly great men of the world.

Telegrams from President Wilson, Francis J. Heney, Secretary of the Interior, Franklin K. Lane, Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Joseph M. Price, chairman of the executive committee of the Woodrow Wilson Independent League, were read.

ISLANDERS ARE IN FAVOR OF THE SALE

COPENHAGEN—A cablegram from the Danish West Indies declares that a majority of the population of the islands have voted in favor of the sale. Recently closed whereby they become the property of the United States. The paper Folketing stated tonight. A vote ratifying the sale of the islands by Denmark to the United States for $25,000,000 was submitted to the people.

HOG FEEDING PAYS SAYS PROF. FJELSTED

University Extension Man Shows Big Profits Made Through Feeding Grain Liberally.

That hog feeding pays is demonstrated by the experiments of H. M. Burditt, in the opinion of Professor E. J. Fjeldsted, of the university extension department, who has been investigating the subject on the Twin Falls tract on both sides of the river.

Mr. Burditt put ninety three hogs, averaging 166 pounds weight, on feed on April 17, and kept them there for forty-four days. On June 1 he changed their feed and kept them for thirty-one days more before he sold them. During the first period, the hogs were fed on five acres of alfalfa and blue grass and had an additional ration of chopped feed composed of oatmeal, corn and one-half wheat. During the forty-four days that they were kept on this feed the hogs gained 45.18 pounds. During the period the grain feed was fed the hogs gained 15.5 pounds. During the last thirty-one days, the hogs were pastured on an acre and a half of alfalfa and the feed increased to 3.86 pounds for each 100 pounds of hog. This feed was one-third corn and two-thirds wheat. During this period the gain per hog was 64.72 pounds, or a daily gain of 2.09 pounds as against 1.02 pounds for the first period.

Commenting on the figures furnished and using current prices to show profit Professor Fjeldsted says: "It will be noted that the feeding work was divided into two periods. During the growing period, the hogs received as a grain allowance 1.55 percent of their live weight. During the fattening period, the hogs received 3.86 percent of their live weight as grain. I feel sure that the hogs would have gained more if they had been fed a grain ration of from two to three percent with pasture for the growing period, and as can be secured with just as much economy and within a much shorter time. At the end of the fattening period, the hogs were tops for western markets.

"The hogs used in this work were from six to eight months old at the beginning of the period. From the initial weights, it will be seen that they were a little under size, thus their returns were not as good as they otherwise would have been.

"The margin over the cost of grain ($4.22) and the selling price ($7.75) was $3.53 per hundred pounds of pork produced. Taking these figures, alfalfa pasture is worth $182.80 per acre for seventy-five days in pork production.

"Figuring the other way, the grain fed to these hogs made a return of $239 per 100 pounds of grain fed, also reducing the bulk to be marketed approximately two-thirds.

"It is for the producer to study this table thoroughly and answer the questions for himself if hog feeding on his particular farm will pay. It will be found that where balanced livestock farming is practiced, the problem of controlling the grasshoppers, clover aphids, and other insect pests will be well on the road to solution."

NOTED-ENTERTAINER IS BOOKED FOR KIMBERLY

Editor of the Missouri Mule and Famous Impersonator Coming—For Benefit of Ball Fund.

The people of Kimberly will be entertained on the evening of Wednesday, August 23, by Thomas Elmore Lucy, editor of the Missouri Mule, who comes to the Kimberly high school under the auspices of the Lee Lyceum league. The proceeds will go to the fund of the Kimberly base ball team. Mr. Lucy is highly recommended and the friends of the ball team who expect to give more than a gold pro quo for the price of admission anticipate that the affair will prove highly successful and satisfactory. The following from the San Saba, Texas, Star, is a sample of the favorable press notices that the entertainer has received:

"The first performance in the lyceum course was given by the artist, actor and impersonator, Thomas Elmore Lucy. It was dazzling in its versatility. Whether drawing a sketch, singing a song, reciting a classic, or impersonating the great or near great, Mr. Lucy showed himself a past master of his art. From Shakespeare to Bill Nye the actor passed apparently without effort and adapted himself with equal ease to the grave or gay. In some of Shakespeare's greatest roles, Mr. Lucy was charming, and his funny characterizations were irresistible."

Dr. Winship's Views

The Noted Educator Comments Miss Ethel Redfield.

The Journal of Education, published at Boston, in its issue dated July 27, a copy of which is just at hand, contains a very flattering reference to Miss Bernice McCoy, present state superintendent of public instruction, and Miss Ethel E. Redfield, candidate for the state office at the primary election to take place September 5. Miss McCoy will not be a candidate to succeed herself.

"Miss Bernice McCoy, state superintendent, positively declines to be a candidate for re-nomination. She came into the office two years ago with an unprecedented equipment in experience, having had Miss Grace M. Shepherd's deputy during her entire administration. She has served with State Commissioner E. A. Sleson with utmost loyalty, which has meant much in these formative years of the new educational system in the state. Her decision not to be a candidate under any circumstances was sincerely regretted, especially by Mr. Sleson and the members of the state board of education. Miss Ethel E. Redfield of Lewiston, superintendent of Nez Perce county, is a candidate for the nomination to succeed Miss McCoy. Miss Redfield is one of the very able county superintendents in one of the high speed counties of Idaho, professionally. She is a native daughter, one of the few native sons and daughters who have aspired to public office. She taught for twelve years in rural, grade and high school, and has for the past two terms been superintendent of the county that she now serves. She stands for the best phases of progressive education."

Official Report on Matters Pertaining to Municipal Water Works System. Statement by Mayor E. M. Sweeley by Authority of City Council

EDITOR'S NOTE: The report which follows was prepared by Mayor Sweeley last Tuesday and was published in the council's "official publication" last Thursday. It was "officially" transmitted to the public by the council's "official" wastebasket. It is very unusual for THE TIMES to be placed in all things, and THE TIMES would have carried the "official" report in last Thursday's issue had it been treated with the consideration that all newspapers demand of public officials—that "official" reports be placed in the hands of all newspapers for release upon the same date. This discourtage, coupled with the manner of authorizing the report, notwithstanding Mayor Sweeley's explanation, elsewhere in this issue, point to a deliberate attempt upon the part of the mayor and the council to prevent THE TIMES from gathering the information ahead of their "favored" paper—which efforts we construe as a tribute to the thoroughness of THE TIMES' system of gathering news. Under these circumstances we do not think the mayor and council worthy of the consideration we propose to give their report, which we publish even at this late date, in order not to violate our custom of permitting those whom THE TIMES takes occasion to criticize, to make any explanation they may care to offer, in the same columns.

To the Citizens of the City of Twin Falls:
Because of the reckless statements made by uninformed and misinformed persons concerning the city water supply, and the natural uneasiness thereof caused in the mind of the public for which there is no real foundation, believing that such statements, unless the true situation is disclosed, will work a further unwarranted injury to the city of Twin Falls, the city council at the regular meeting of Monday, August 7th, 1916, instructed the mayor to prepare and have published a statement of the facts, and, in accordance with such instructions, I submit the following statement:

Foreign Substances in the Water.
For a number of years there has been cause for complaint concerning the "taste" of the water supply, particularly during the summer months. When the city assumed the management of the water supply, every effort was made to discover the cause and to remedy it. The water supply came entirely through the reservoir, and it was impossible to drain the reservoir without cutting off the water from the city for an unknown period. Before any steps could be taken to cure the trouble, a means of keeping up the supply of water had to be provided, and on Monday the 20th day of June, 1916, six weeks after the city obtained control, and the probable trouble located, the council instructed the waterworks inspector to procure the necessary pipe to carry the supply around the reservoir, to install the same, drain the reservoir, clean it thoroughly and to make such provision as would prevent a recurrence of the reason for the complaint. The procuring of the pipe, digging the trench, laying the pipe, draining the reservoir and cleaning consumed time, but a heavy force of men was employed and every means taken to expedite the work.

Screen Found Damaged.
When the reservoir was drained it was found that the screen over the outtake was punctured and otherwise in a state of bad repair. This condition was remedied by installing a double screen system set in concrete, which will effectively prevent the entrance of foreign matter into our mains, and is soundly constructed for permanent service. Photographs showing the old screen and the hole through which fish gained entrance to the mains and the new structure, showing the double construction, were taken, and are submitted as a part of this report.

The Chlorination Plant.
We have no records of when, if ever, the reservoir was last cleaned, but its condition indicated a very pressing need for such treatment. The moss and silt were carefully gathered into piles and removed, and the reservoir placed in thoroughly satisfactory condition. Photographs of the reservoir, showing the floor after cleaning, were taken and are submitted as a part of this report. The reservoir is now in such condition, both as to cleanliness and safeguards against the entrance of foreign substances into the mains, as will make it free from bona fide objection.

of chlorine gas per million gallons of water sufficient to insure the destruction of any germs that may be therein, and some cities are continuously using twice the amount we use, and more, per million gallons of water without the slightest unfavorable results.

Chlorine Changes in Form.
The reason for this is that the action of chlorine gas upon the water is to form new chemical combinations with the salts in the water. It does not remain free in the water; if it did, it would be valueless. The process is not one of "poisoning" the germs; but of their destruction by the nascent oxygen released by the chemical reaction. The salt which the chlorine forms in the water is common salt, such as is used on your table every day, and others entirely harmless in their nature, and so small in amount as to defy discovery. The chlorine process is simply an insurance against the presence in our water of any disease germs; as such it is invaluable to the water user. The gas is fed to the mains through a highly specialized apparatus, which does not require the services of an "expert" and which is set to maximum daily demand and allowed to run there, would only result in a waste of chlorine, without rendering the water harmful in the least degree. Any statements concerning the "danger" of the chlorination process as used by the city are founded on ignorance, or willful and reckless disregard of the facts.

Flushing the System.
Frequent flushings have been given the system, without which the conditions might have been more objectionable than they were. With the hole in the outtake screen, the flushings, while drawing out the water from the mains, simply served to draw in more foreign substances, probably without changing the situation materially. Because of the heavy draft of water during the daytime, these flushings have had to be made at night, from midnight to 6 o'clock in the morning. The installation of the new screens makes flushing effective now, and the work will be continued until the system is thoroughly cleaned.

The cleaning and repairs were completed on Thursday, August 3, and the quality of the water has shown immediate and pronounced improvement. It has required four months to remedy a condition which has existed for years, and to accomplish a permanent cure. We regret that the necessity existed, but confidently believe that all except a selected few will understand the situation.

We would have preferred in this matter to let the results speak for themselves, but we do not feel justified in permitting the water users to be disturbed without cause, nor further gratifying injury done to our city. Respectfully submitted,
E. M. SWELEY, Mayor.

CROP ESTIMATES SHOW A GREAT IMPROVEMENT

Hay and Potato Crops Will Be Unusually Large—Prices Are Showing Upward Tendency.
The improvement in the estimates of the hay crop over the estimates of a month ago in the summary of the government crop report is striking, since, instead of being considerably smaller in this state than last year, as the first estimate indicated, it will evidently be much larger. The potato crop is now expected to be nearly a million bushels above the crop of 1915. Prices too are generally better. The summary of agriculture, is as follows: Winter Wheat—State: Preliminary estimate, 8,250,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 11,310,000 bushels. United States: Preliminary estimate 455,900,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 655,045,000 bushels.

Spring Wheat—State: August 1 forecast, 6,410,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 7,420,000 bushels. United States: August 1 forecast, 199,000,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 356,400,000 bushels.
Oats—State: August 1 forecast, 14,200,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 15,745,000 bushels. United States: August 1 forecast, 1,270,000,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 1,540,362,000 bushels.
Barley—State: August 1 forecast, 7,320,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 7,730,000 bushels. United States: August 1 forecast, 105,000,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 237,000,000 bushels.
Potatoes—State: August 1 forecast, 4,400,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 3,500,000 bushels. United States: August 1 forecast, 354,000,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 359,103,000 bushels.
Hay—State: August 1 forecast, 1,910,000 tons; production last year (final estimate), 1,825,000 tons. United States: August 1 forecast, 84,000,000 tons; production last year (final estimate), 85,225,000 tons.
Apples—State: August 1 condition 90 compared with the ten-year average of 94. United States: August 1 condition, 88.9 compared with the ten-year average of 81.6.
Apples—State: August 1 forecast, 223,000 barrels; production last year (final estimate), 573,000 barrels. United States: August 1 forecast, 21,400,000 barrels; production last year (final estimate), 76,870,000 barrels.
Potatoes—State: The first price given below is the average on August 1 this year, and the second the average on August 1 last year. State: Wheat 81 and 84 cents per bushel. Corn 51 and 50 cents per bushel. Oats 41 and 42 cents per bushel. Eggs 24 and 23 cents per dozen. United States: Wheat 1.07 and 1.05 cents per bushel. Corn 72.4 and 72.9 cents. Oats 40.1 and 45.4 cents. Potatoes 95.4 and 56.3 cents. Hay 10.70 and 11.02 cents per ton. Cotton 12.8 and 13 cents per pound. Eggs 20.7 and 17.0 cents per dozen.

LEGAL EDUCATION

COMPULSORY EDUCATION ACT.
From the School Laws of Idaho, Enacted by the Eleventh Session of the Idaho Legislature, 1911—Section 140, Article XVII, of This Act.
"In all school districts of this state, all parents, guardians and other persons having care of children shall instruct them, or cause them to be instructed, in reading, writing, spelling, English grammar, geography and arithmetic. In such districts, every parent, guardian, or other person having charge of any child between the ages of eight (8) and eighteen (18) years, shall send such child to a public, private or parochial school for the entire school year during which the public schools are in session in such district; provided, however, that this chapter shall not apply to children over fourteen (14) years of age, where such child shall have completed the eighth (8th) grade, or may be eligible to enter any high school in such district, or where its help is necessary for its own use or its parents' support, or where for good cause shown it would be for the best interest of such child to be relieved from the provisions of this chapter; provided, further, that if a reputable physician within the district shall certify in writing that the child's bodily or mental condition does not permit its attendance at school, such child shall be exempt during such period of disability from the requirements of this chapter. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of the school district, if there be such superintendent, and if not, then the county superintendent of schools, to hear and determine all applications of children desiring, for any of the causes mentioned here, to be exempted from the provisions of this chapter, and if upon such application such superintendent, hearing the same, shall be of the opinion that such child for any reason is entitled to be exempted as aforesaid, then such superintendent shall issue a written permit to such child, stating their reason for such exemption. An appeal may be taken from the decision of such superintendent, by filing the same upon such application to the probate court of the county in which such district is located, upon such child making such application and filing the same with the clerk or judge of said court, within ten days after its refusal by such superintendent, for which no fee to exceed the sum of one dollar ($1.00) shall be charged, and the decision of the probate court shall be final. An application for release from the provisions of this chapter shall not be renewed oftener than once in three months.

BERTHA NOBLE,
County Superintendent.

LETTING THE CAT OUT OF THE BAG.

Charging the Democrats by implication with responsibility for high prices and at the same time insisting that these prices are due to the war; and that a high protective tariff must be enacted to prevent a falling of prices after the war is over, is one of the many inconsistencies in the present campaign.

Of course, the real purpose of the high tariff crusade is to make the ultimate consumer pay war prices permanently and the advocates of prohibitive rates are now insisting that no previous tariff was as high as the future tariff should be. In its issue of August 4, the American Economist under the heading "Paper Never Properly Protected," argues for a higher duty on print paper than was ever levied by the United States, and concludes with the statement "that at no time in the history of this country has paper been protected by anything approaching an adequate rate of duty." Print paper is one of the many articles that has increased tremendously in price as a result of the war. As the paper makers seemed to be doing very well before the war, it is hard to see who has been enriched by the high war prices except the manufacturers, who were enabled to secure a tremendous take-off in consequence of the trouble abroad, and the shutting off of foreign competition. The newspapers certainly have not been benefited, nor have their employees. At present there is a widespread discussion going on in regard to the advisability of cutting down the size of newspapers on this account. This would mean that it would take fewer reporters and writers to furnish the copy and fewer linotype operators and printers to set it up. Moreover, it would mean a curtailment of the information and enjoyment of the ultimate consumer—the reader. The discontinuance of certain high grade magazines at popular news-stands on this account is a sample of conditions that trusts would perpetuate in order to get more profit on a smaller output.

Nor is the papermaking industry one which would be endangered by unfair competition from any temporary dumping of surplus stock accumulated by the foreign governments for the purpose of prosecuting the war, for no such stocks have been accumulated. It is therefore evident that the talk about a general enormous rise in tariff schedules for the purpose of offsetting dumping is a blind, and that the real purpose is to give certain favored industrial magnates, among others holders of print paper, a perpetual grant at the expense of the consumer. The irony of the situation ought to strike those newspapers that are joining in the chorus for a practically prohibitive tariff that is led by the American Economist and the interests, whose rapacity caused the insurgent movement in the Republican ranks and eventually led to the formation of the Progressive party.

LIGHT AND POWER
HOME REMODELEDComplete Change in Arrangement of Idaho Power BuildingALL COMPANY OFFICES WILL BE ON LOWER FLOOR IN FRONT.Upstairs and Rear To Be Made Over Into Modern Office Building with Latest Accommodations.

The complete remodeling of the headquarters of the Idaho Power company with a view of transforming it into a modern office building was begun Friday afternoon and is progressing rapidly. All the partitions in the front of the office are removed and the whole front will be thrown into one large room, divided only by an open counter. The office of the manager, which is now upstairs, will be immediately in the rear of the front office. The present side entrance and present stairway will be removed and a new entrance and stairway will be put in facing on Main street. The offices on the lower floor in front and the basement will alone be reserved for the Idaho Power company, while the upstairs and rear offices will be completely remodeled and made over into modern office buildings which will be for rent. These offices will be modern in every respect and will have both hot and cold water. All lights will have Brasclette fixtures. The whole building inside and out will be repainted and otherwise made over in the latest style.

The work of remodeling is in charge of H. L. Senger of Boise. The painting, plumbing and mill work will be let by contract.

No "Imagination" About This

"The reservoir is now in such condition, both as to cleanliness and safeguards against the entrance of foreign substances into the mains, as will make it free from BONA FIDE objection."—Excerpt from Mayor's "Official" statement.

"Those who still regard the Twin Falls water supply as a sort of constant menace to life and health will probably have to stretch their imagination to a rather liberal extent in order to justify their uneasiness."—From an editorial in last week's News (City Council's "Official" Publication.)

"Suffering Snake!" What do you mean by saying that all fish and other varmints have been eliminated from the city water?" exclaimed D. Patrick yesterday as he lifted a chunk of a recently defunct reptile from the water pipe under his house on Blue Lake boulevard after he and a plumber had worked for several hours digging out and cutting the pipe. "The pipe stopped operating suddenly Sunday morning. Yesterday Mr. Patrick engaged the services of a plumber and began investigating. After several hours vigorous digging the pipe was located. It became evident that the obstruction was under the house and when the pipe was cut there the remains of the dead snake was cut in two. It seemed to have been dead but a short time. Mr. Patrick brought the body of the reptile to the city and said he would present it to the water office, asserting that he did not desire to have any of the innuendoes asserting that he did not desire to have any of the innuendoes of the municipal manager on his premises.

CANAL COMPANY
LETS CONTRACT$25,000 Job Starts on Milner
Dam in Ten DaysS. E. BURNHAM OF BOISE, CHOSEN FROM THREE BIDDERS.Diversion Tunnel To Be Opened and About 1000 Cubic Yards of Concrete Laid.

Announcement was made Thursday by J. C. Porterfield, manager of the Twin Falls Canal company, that the directors of the company had let the contract for work to be done on the Milner dam to S. E. Burnham, a Boise contractor, who was the lowest of three bidders, at a price in the close neighborhood of $25,000. The call for bids was sent out a couple of weeks ago and the bids were opened at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, with the result that Burnham was awarded the contract.

The work on the dam consists of the opening of a diversion tunnel which will make it possible when desirable to drain the lake and during high water to let the excess water flow away through the tunnel instead of letting it flow over the dam. In connection with and in addition to the diversion tunnel, about 1000 cubic yards of concrete will be laid which will make the dam absolutely safe and increase the ability to handle the water more effectively. Sheet piling will be driven and considerable concrete work will be done on the main spillway.

The dam, according to Mr. Porterfield, rests on a rock island which in turn rests on a clay bed, and as the water has a tendency to undermine the concrete work, the additional concrete is to be laid to overcome this undercutting and assure increased stability.

Work will begin in about ten days and a crew of twenty men will be on the job. It is expected that the work will take about two months to finish.

ROBINSONS

The custom of price cutting is one not approved of by the better class of merchants. It is to be regretted that this custom prevails to some extent in Twin Falls, as there is but little benefit derived by any one, as special or cut prices are usually made during the dull times of late winter and late summer when but few sales are made.

As a matter of fact cut price sales are usually, a sort of competition between merchants on a few items, and are not made with any special thought of benefiting their customers.

A point in connection with this custom might be noted in a staple article in Men's wear having recently been offered in different stores here in Twin Falls at 95 cents, 89 cents and 85 cents. The price on these articles have been $1.25 in most of the stores. It is an article that could be sold at a good profit for less than $1.25. In fact if the price was kept uniform at $1.00 or $1.10, there would be a reasonable profit, and it is an article that is in demand the greater part of the time.

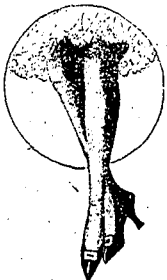

Now! How do you men folks feel about this way of selling goods? Had you rather be asked $1.25 ten months in the year, when you are most apt to need an article, and then have the same article offered at 85 cents at a time when you are not apt to need it, or buy in a store where the same grade or better, is sold the year round for $1.00?

There is a staple article of men's wear that has been sold in most of the stores here at 80 and 85 cents, that is now being offered at 49 cents in cut price competition. My price has been 50 cents right along and still is 50 cents.

I notice another article of men's wear being offered at $1.00, former price $1.25. My price on articles that compare favorably in every way has been 85 cents all the season and still is the same price.

The prices in this store are uniform and uniformly low, or in other words we sell goods at "Right Prices" all the time.

My customers seem pleased and satisfied and keep coming back and bringing in new customers and this business is growing. Our sales for last month showed a gain of more than 40 per cent over the same month last year, and this without any special or bargain sales.

All our Black Hosiery are good dye, made before the dye trouble began.

Below are some of the good things we have in the same quality and at the same prices that we have asked you good folks all along:

Men's full seamless work socks.....	5 cents a pair
Men's Black Socks, double heels, toes and soles.....	10 cents a pair
Men's Horse Hide Palm Leather Work Gloves.....	35 cents a pair
Men's Mule Skin Waterproof Gamut Glove.....	39 cents a pair
Men's Viscelized Sole Work Shoes.....	$2.50 a pair
Women's Swiss Rib Summer Vests.....	2 for 25 cents
Women's Black Hosiery, Double Heels and Toes.....	2 for 25 cents
Bleached Huck Towels, yard long.....	22 cents a pair or $1.25 a dozen
Bleached Turkish Towels, Soft Finish, yard long.....	35 cents a pair

Our Meats Are Right

VEAL AND HAM PIE
Get half a pound of veal from the shin and a large knuckle, and two thin slices of ham; put all on the fire after cutting the meat into strips and removing the fat and simmer in water enough to cover until it is very tender. Dissolve a large teaspoonful of gelatine. Have ready some rich thin pie crust also. Put the meat into a baking-dish in layers; pour the hot stock over the gelatine; season, strain, and pour all in. Put on the crust, making an opening for steam, and bake brown; set away till very cold and firm.

THE MUTUAL GIRL AND HER AUNTIE

AUNTIE: You know, I think it is about time we were throwing away this old hay-wire outfit, and getting a new one; if you will remember we have been using this now for eight years; this leather is certainly good.

LECHLE: Eight years; that is certainly a long time, Auntie; from whom did you buy it?

AUNTIE: I bought it from Bradley & Son on Shoshone Street, and Mr. Bradley said he could sell it for $25.00 for me. Guess we better do that. I heard Mrs. Babcock, from town, say the other day that she got Bradley & Son to measure up some awnings for her, and that it was the nicest job she had ever had done. It seems that all the work they do, is certainly alright.

A Poetical Description of Our Southern Border

"HELL ON THE RIO GRANDE"

MANY years ago a poetic sergeant belonging to the Sixth cavalry of the regular army, wrote a description of the Rio Grande, which was widely circulated among the soldiers. This sergeant, whose name has passed from the memory of even the old time citizens and army officers, was stationed at Fort Brown when he wrote "Hell on the Rio Grande," which was the title he gave the poetic and realistic description of the sun-baked frontier country. The poem follows:

The devil, we're told, in hell was chained,
And a thousand years he there remained.
He never complained, nor did he groan,
But determined to start a hell of his own,
Where he could torment the souls of men.
Without being chained in a prison,
So he asked the Lord if he had not hand Anything left when he made the land.
The Lord said, "Yes, I had plenty of land,
But I left it down on the Rio Grande.
The fact is, old boy, the stuff was so poor
I don't think you could use it in hell any more."
But the devil went down to look at the truck,
And said if it came as a gift he was stuck;
For after examining it, carefully and well
He concluded the place was too dry for hell.
So in order to get it off of his hands
The Lord promised the devil to watertize lands;
For he had some water, or rather some dregs,
A regular cask of water that smelled like had eggs.
Hence the devil was closed and the devil was given,
And the Lord went back to his home
in heaven,
And the devil then said, "I have all that is needed To make a good hell," and well he succeeded.
He began to put thorns on all of the trees,
And he mixed up the sand with millions of fleas;
And scattered tarantulas along all the roads;
Put thorns on the cactus and horns
on the tande,
He lengthened the horns of the Texas steers,
And he put an addition on the jack-rabbit's ears;
So he put a little devil in the broncho
steeds,
And he poisoned the feet of the centi-pede.
The rattlesnake-bite you, the scorpion stings,
The mosquito delights you with buzzing wings;
The sand burrs prevail and so do the ants,
And those who sit down need half soles on their puns.
The devil then said that throughout the land
He'd managed to keep up the devil's own brand;
And all would be wretched unless they bore
The marks of scratche 'd a little thorns by the score.
The heat in the summer is a hundred and ten,
Too hot for the devil and too hot for
men,
The wild bear roams through the black chaparral—
It's a hell of a place he has for a hell.
The red pepper grows on the banks of the brook;
The Mexicans use it in all that they cook,
Just dine with a greaser and then you will shout:
"I've hell on the inside as well as the out."

AMERICAN INVESTOR

OPPOSES INTERVENTION

Wealthy Californian Says Carranza Is Solving Problem—Ridicules Japanese Scare.

OAKLAND, Cal.—That intervention in Mexico would not be a good thing for that country or the United States, was the opinion expressed by Nelson Rhoades, who, with his associates, has perhaps larger interests in the southern republic than any other citizen of the United States, at an anti-militar-ist luncheon held here.

Mr. Rhoades and those associated with him own 6,000,000 acres of mining, cattle and farm lands in various parts of the republic. "I have spent much time in Mexico during the last three years," said Mr. Rhoades, "and am firmly convinced that intervention would be unwise. Notwithstanding the disturbed condition of the country the actual danger to United States citizens are subject has been much exaggerated in the press. Mexicans have many times been agreed to take a hostile attitude, but in general, if a United States citizen minds his own business he will be treated with respect."

"Our titles have never been questioned," he said. "We have never met with extortion to the extent of a dollar. Our taxes have never been increased and we have never been forced to pay them more than once.
The land records are as perfect as they were in 1910. In fact it is astonishing, in face of the internal trouble, how well foreigners have been protected in Mexico."

Regarding the Japanese scare, he said: "There is no Japanese question in Mexico. The Japanese army of 50-600 that was reported to be in Lower California had as a public debt of $225-000,000 on which she has failed to pay the interest for three years. Forty-five per cent of her revenues are mortgaged, either legally or illegally.
She needs money to redeem her paper
money, which is practically without value. If Mexico could raise $1,000-000,000 in the United States her financial system could be re-established,
and the bandit bands would doubtless get to work behind General Carranza."

"General Carranza," he concluded,
"is animated by the highest motives in his endeavors. He is backed by 150-000 of his people under his arms. Against him is Villa with 25,000 in the north and Zapata with 15,000 in the south.
If the Carranza government were properly financed it could restore order
for 80 per cent of the population, whose only prayer is for peace and an opportunity to till the soil."

"If we want to help Mexico," he said, "here lies our golden opportunity. Mexico's great problem is her finance. She has a public debt of $225-000,000 on which she has failed to pay
the interest for three years. Forty-five per cent of her revenues are
mortgaged, either legally or illegally.
She needs money to redeem her paper
money, which is practically without value. If Mexico could raise $1,000-000,000 in the United States her financial system could be re-established,
and the bandit bands would doubtless get to work behind General Carranza."

"General Carranza," he concluded,
"is animated by the highest motives in
his endeavors. He is backed by 150-000 of his people under his arms. Against him is Villa with 25,000 in the north
and Zapata with 15,000 in the south.
If the Carranza government were properly financed it could restore order
for 80 per cent of the population,
whose only prayer is for peace and an

PIG JUDGING AT THE COUNTY FAIR

Move To Interest Young Boys
In Study of Hogs

PRIZES OFFERED FOR THE BEST
JUDGING BY CLUB MEMBERS

Contest Held Under Management of E. J. Fjelsted, Field Animal Husbandman of University Extension.

A pig judging contest will be a feature of the forthcoming county fair, the object, as announced by the management, being the interesting of young boys in the raising of swine and in the study of the improvement of breeds of hogs. Numerous pig clubs have been organized in the county and the fair managers anticipate that much intelligent and educated discrimination will be shown in making the awards by the members. The work is under the management of Professor E. J. Fjelsted of the university extension course.

The following are the rules and regulations governing the contest:

1. Pig judging contest. Open to any team representing a single club of Twin Falls county, said team to consist of five members.

2. All contestants must report to the superintendent in charge not later than 9:00 a. m., Wednesday, September 20.

3. Entries—Each contestant shall receive a number at the beginning of the contest by which he shall be designated throughout the contest.

4. Classes to be judged—Each contestant shall be required to judge three rings of hogs, two of the rings to be fat barrows and one ring to be breeding gilts.

5. All contestants shall be allowed fifteen minutes to make placements and two minutes to give oral reasons before the judges.

6. Any contestant receiving or giving opinions to other contestants or any other persons in any of the classes of hogs may be expelled at the discretion of the superintendent.

Each contestant shall receive 50 points for a perfect placing and 50 points for perfect reasons.

Prizes—The team receiving the highest number of points shall receive a medal for each member.

The team receiving second highest points shall receive a medal for each member.

The team receiving the third highest points shall receive a dollar watch for each member.

The contestant making the highest individual score shall be rewarded the special premium, No. 38, page 76, of the regular premium list—Pure bred Poland China pig, given by Case & Schildman of Piler.

The following organizations have made the premiums for the judging work possible: Southern Idaho Fair, $15.00; Twin Falls Commercial club, $5.00; Hahl Commercial club, $3.00; Idaho Seed and Produce Co., Kimberly, $2.00.

Rules and Regulations.

1. Any member of an Idaho pig club may be a contestant for any of the premiums provided he has completed the following requirements: A complete record of the feeding period covering the feed fed; time of period; gains made; cost of gain; and story of the work.

2. Grading—
Daily gain in weight 20
Average cost per lb. gain 10
Score of best pig 30
Record and story 40
Total 100

3. Any club member showing his pigs as club pigs will also be permitted to show his animals for premiums advanced in the regular fair premium list covering the swine department under division D, page 38.

Premiums For Pig Exhibits.

For 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th premiums, one pure bred pig, value $25.00; 6th premium, one pair school shoes; 7th premium, one pair nickel plated plates, value $2.50; 8th premium, one small knife, value $1.25; 9th premium, one "Bill the Jeweler" value $1.50; 10th premium, one stock knife, value $1.25; 11th premium, one gold underwear, value $1.25; 12th premium, one stock knife, value $1.25; 13th premium, one pair cuff links, value $1.00. The following farmers and merchants have made this liberal prize list possible:

Anton Machacek, Hahl, two pure bred Hampshire pigs, $50.00; Brooks of Clear Lake ranch, Hahl, two pure bred Duroc Jersey pigs, $50.00; Case & Schildman, Piler, one pure bred Poland China, $25.00; Dr. J. We Have Backed Our Confidence in IDAHO SEEDS

For a number of years we have been large buyers of Idaho grown Clover Seeds but our purchases have all been made for us by agents on a commission basis. Having confidence in the future of Idaho Clover Seeds, and wishing to become permanently established with the growers, we have built a thoroughly modern warehouse and seed cleaning plant at Twin Falls, to take care of our rapidly increasing business in the Twin Falls district.

The equipment of the building with automatic devices and cleaning machinery of the most improved design and largest capacity, enables us to clean seed with the smallest percentage of waste.

We are buyers of Red, White, Alsike and Alfalfa Clover Seeds and Seed Screenings in any quantity, at the outside market price. It will pay you to get our bids before marketing your seed. Our Twin Falls branch warehouse and cleaning plant is in full operation, and the office is in charge of Mr. W. A. Lohr from the Milwaukee office. Get acquainted with him—it will be worth while.

THE MAYOR EXPLAINS SOME MATTERS

have been proper to have given a copy of the statement to THE TIMES in order to reach the same persons who might have been misled in your opinion by the editorial you mentioned.

"Well, I guess that the people pretty generally get all the papers."

"As a matter of fact, while some people read all of them, many do not, and do you not think that if any readers were misled by TIMES editorials it was TIMES readers, and that they were entitled to have your statement?"

"You publish again Tuesday, and the matter is not ended. I do not believe that any one paper reaches all the people. I issued the report as an official document and wanted it published in the 'official newspaper,' replied the mayor. 'Insofar as the water system is concerned its method of management or control of water, I am willing to grant permits for its proper investigation, and to give any information in regard to the system to any person or to any newspaper, because I believe the water system to be of prime importance to everyone.'

"Is there anything that you can make public at present with reference to a supply of pure water from a new source?"

"With reference to a supply of water from a new source I am not ready to make anything public until we have available all the data, so that the matter can be considered as a whole, and until some of the necessary preliminary matter has been closed. I repeat that I do not care what may be said about me personally or politically."

"One more question," continued the reporter, "having no reference to water. There was a special meeting of the city council Wednesday night, which had I known about it I would have attended. I asked for news of City Clerk Williams Wednesday afternoon and was assured by him that he had none."

"In this case the blame is altogether mine. I called the meeting of the sidewalk in front of Macaulay's Monday night after the council had adjourned and after Mr. Williams had gone. He did not know of the meeting until the evening that it was held, and did not receive the official call until he was in the council chamber. I intended to tell you, but was busy Tuesday, and as I have already said did not return Wednesday evening until late and entirely forgot to notify you. I regret this very much, and assure you that it was wholly unintentional and not at all personal. We entered into the light agreement which was discussed before the council several times pretty much as it was presented, with some changes in regard to lighting the alleys and the like."

stonist anyhow. He is pledged more strongly on the division question than I am, and is standing squarely for the Salmon settlers. The whole scheme for getting out petitions is worked up for the purpose of defeating Atherton's candidacy and is the work of a group of politicians whom he opposed on moral issues. This old machine has it in for him and will fight him. The existence of a so-called anti-division petition from which his name is eliminated leaves the impression that he is not against division and is unfair. They have selected him, because they believe him to be a man who can accomplish the purpose they have in view. Anything originating with this machine is looked on by suspicion by many people and a candidate backed by it cannot make a good race. Atherton rejects machine support and when a member of the old machine offered his support to him he declined it. A machine politician remarked that the entire Republican machine was behind Swim, which is one reason we are supporting Atherton.

"I want to say to you, and I hope that you will publish my statement, that the statement which appeared in the Filter Journal last week, signed 'County Republican Committee,' purporting to endorse certain candidates, was not issued by the Republican county central committee, which has held no meeting since the filing of nominations, and has taken no action on those who filed," said Hugh F. Smith, secretary of the Republican committee today, to a TIMES representative. "I do not know who signed the name of the committee to the statement, but such signature was not authorized."

ANTI-DIVISIONIST REPUBLICANS DIVIDE

recommendation who had, in the opinion of those partaking in this meeting, the best chance of winning in the primaries. They claim there is no personal fight on anybody and no personal reflection intended by the action they took. All the men who were endorsed consented to run only at the urgent appeals of a number of citizens. A. L. Swim was especially anxious to making the race for senator and was only induced to do so by the persistent solicitations of citizens who visited him and urged him to allow his name to go before the people. On account of his opposition to county division and his interest in the Salmon tract, his supporters thought he would make an ideal candidate. Petitions are being circulated by Mr. Swim's backers.

As there is no division among the anti-division forces in the Democratic party, interest is focussed on the fight in the Republican ranks which centers around the state senatorial nomination. An advocate of the nomination of S. P. Atherton, commenting on the situation, put the argument of the Atherton followers thus: S. P. Atherton is widely and favorably known throughout the county. He was the first man to come out against county division in the present campaign. He has made many friends everywhere. He is strong in the Buhl country and has a large following, which stood by him during the recent road fight, where he won a victory, and which will be with him in this. It is particularly good politics to get a man from the Buhl country who is popular and has a large following there. He is popular in the country districts throughout the county, and there is no danger of the city voting for a divisionist

FAITH!

Your Piano Must Be Bought on Faith

A cheap piano looks almost as attractive as the best piano made. Played skillfully—so as to show its best points—it SOUNDS almost as well. The vital features which make a Piano give long and satisfactory service are hidden in material and making—concealed from the gaze of any but the TRAINED Piano maker.

Could you distinguish between cotton-hammers and those of good Wool? Both give equally good tone when new. Cotton 'Crushes' and 'Packs' under the tap-tap of the hammer on the strings. Wool does not, but it costs too much to use in many cheap pianos.

Could you distinguish between good-stringing and poor; between a well built action and one that would give you trouble later?

Most People Cannot—and that is why it is SAFEST to buy a Piano ON FAITH. But this FAITH must be well directed.

THE LOGAN MUSIC CO.'S BUSINESS IS BUILT ON FAITH. It is built on the principles of making every transaction satisfactory to the purchaser; on the foundation of giving good value for every dollar spent here, on the rock of selling at fair prices. You can buy your piano here with the comforting thought that if ANYTHING is wrong with the transaction we will make it right.

We are FACTORY distributors for the following makes: JULIUS BAUER, LYON & HEALY, BUSH & GERTS and WASHBURN Pianos and Player Pianos.
