CITY WATER PURE AND HEALTHFUL

So Intimates "Personally Conducted" Delegation

"TIMES" REVERSED IN REMARKABLE RESOLUTIONS.

Accomplishments of Mayor and Council Lauded and Confidence Expressed in Their Ability.

RESOLUTION OF CONFIDENCE.
"After an inspection of the reservoir and plant of the city water works, we desire to express our approval of the system as a whole and to commend the work of the mayor and city council in behalf of a pure and healthful water supply for Twin Falls.

We take this means of expressing our confidence in the ability of mayor and council to successfully handle the water works situation.

James McMillan, E. A. Read, S. Simons, Sam Hart, W. S. Maloney, L. Hart, Carl L. Delong, R. C. Felling, R. C. Letch, Geo. Ayers, Harry S. Cowling, Gen. W. Hoover, John W. Epler, J. O. Wray, Howard Skeels.

At the solicitation of James McMillan, a group of local men went out yesterday morning to inspect the city waterworks system. After looking it over and listening to an explanation by A. C. Shoen, the man who operates the new chlorination plant, the party consented to the use of their names to a resolution drafted by Mr. McMillan and Editor Read of the News, commending the satisfactory condition of the reservoir and plant, and commending the mayor and council for their work in securing pure water for the city.

Every effort was made to induce a large delegation of Twin Falls men to participate in the "white wash," and the fact that but a small delegation consented to attend is pointed out by the News as an indication of lack of popular accord in the proposition.

Mr. Shoen in explaining the working of the chlorination plant, stated that the amount of chlorine used was regulated. At present about seven ounces per hour is used during the day. The amount going into the system was calculated on the basis of the temperature of the water outside. He stated that as the amount of chlorine used is regulated, the machinery could be readily regulated. About 3,000,000 gallons of water is now used in the day time and about 1,000,000 gallons at night, so that the machinery can be regulated morning and evening to meet the varying demand. He said that he was informed by the representatives of those drinking the water. It was twice as much as the machinery was capable of producing. Mr. Shoen stated that he had declined to explain the working of the system on the previous Friday. Both times Mr. Shoen laughed while explaining the amount of chlorine used could be more than doubled without injury to the machinery. Mr. Shoen was interrupted by one of the visitors who said that he could not have killed the fish in the reservoir. Mr. Shoen did not answer, but Mr. McMillan remarked in a tone of indignation, "That was all nonsense."

Water Superintendent W. F. Porter asked where the snake had been seen. "THE TIMES" representative asked when the spot was pointed out, asked if it had been killed. When informed that the serpent had not been mortally wounded, Mr. Shoen said he did not allow anyone to kill snakes in the water. They keep out the field mice, which would otherwise get into the

LAND BOARD NOT IN CONTEMPT OF COURT

Fact That a Case Is Pending Does Not Inhibit Action

GOV. ALEXANDER SAYS STATE IS MORE THAN NOMINAL PARTNER.

Did Not Demand Roll Call Until All Members Were Satisfied in Regard to Wisdom of Act.

Among the contentions which the representatives of the Salmon settlers were compelled to meet at the hearing Tuesday before the state land board, was the claim that any action taken to annul the contract would place the board in contempt of the federal court. Attorney C. O. Longley, representing the settlers, pointed out that this contention was not well founded, as the decree of the federal court was interlocutory and not final.

Gov. Alexander declared that the state was more than a nominal party in this suit, being the chief party to the contract and being the owner of the water filed upon and of the land intended to be reclaimed. He frequently expressed his willingness to let the state take the question but did not insist upon a roll call until all the members of the board had satisfied themselves upon the points involved.

BULLET FROM "EMPTY" GUN SHATTERS GIRL'S RIGHT ARM

Fatal Accident Results On Target Shooting Trip Near Salmon Dam Sunday.

While on a target shooting trip Sunday, a girl miles from home west of the Salmon dam, Gladys Pangburn, 18 years of age, accidentally shot herself through the upper right arm when the rifle which she was handling unexpectedly discharged, severely shattering the bone. The young lady was rushed to Twin Falls for medical attention and is now under the care of a local physician who believes that the arm, though in pretty bad shape, will be saved.

Birth three or four years ago, Miss Pangburn had gone target shooting and after practicing for some time, she noticed the rifle gun failed to discharge. She pulled the trigger eight or ten times and thought the chamber must be empty. She laid it down, and the group and her companion said it was empty. Miss Pangburn replied that it must be as she had tried it several times. She picked it up and the rifle fired again and then in some manner which the young lady is unable to account for, the gun discharged, the bullet passing through the right arm a few inches above the elbow. She dropped the gun crying that she had shot herself.

From where they were, Miss Pangburn walked over a mile before they came to her car, and then was driven four miles to her home whence she was rushed in a car to the Twin Falls hospital where she is now recovering.

FINED FOR ASSAULT

Patton having been taken before the court in Filer immediately after the fracas and fined.

DRY MEETING AT NEW LINES IN THE IDAHO THEATRE POLITICAL CAMPS

Friends of Prohibition Will Hold Rally Sunday Night

SUPERINTENDENT L. W. WELLS ARRIVES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Declaring that National Liquor Dealers' Association is Organizing Wet Counties To Defeat Law.

Declaring that the liquor forces are carrying on a systematic campaign in this state for the defeat of the constitutional amendment and for the repeal of the prohibitory law, L. W. Wells, of Boise, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, who arrived in the city yesterday, announced that a meeting in which all the churches will participate will be held in the Idaho theatre Sunday night. Mr. Wells will be the principal speaker at the meeting. Speaking of the matter Sunday, Mr. Wells said:

"It has become evident that, if Idaho is to retain her un-paralleled prohibition law, and elect the constitutional amendment, which will take prohibition out of politics for all time, the dry forces must get busy. The National Liquor Dealers association is spending great sums of money, sending out literature and employing men in order to put Idaho wet. The dry counties are told to be quiet that no issue exists, while the wet counties are being lined up for the fight. The fact that thousands of people in Idaho think the prohibition issue is settled and will be responsible for many people failing to vote on this issue in the dry counties. Men are being hired to bootleg and in precincts where the sentiment is wet those bootleggers will vote by the hundreds on election day."

"If you are in favor of prohibition and wish to close the liquor in this state this is our case Sunday night and line up."

WILSON STRONG IN THE MIDDLE WEST

Nebraska Man Says That People Favor Him Because He Kept Us Out of War and Worked For Their Interest.

That Democratic prospects in the states of the Mississippi valley are good is the opinion of L. C. Edwards, of Falls City, Nebraska, candidate for state senator from the first district of that state, who with his wife and daughter, are here looking over the country. Mr. Edwards says that there is a division on state affairs among Nebraska Democrats, the factions being led by W. Bryan and Senator Hitchcock, but they are all supporting the Wilson administration. He says the sentiment in all that part of the country is favorable to the Democratic nominee, as times are good and the people favor Wilson because he has kept the country out of war and worked for its economic upbuilding. They say that all things considered, they believe that his plan for getting the best thing out of the country is the best thing that could have been devised and that while they think he may have made some mistakes, they believe that he made fewer than his critics would have made had they been compelled to deal with that difficult situation.

Mr. Edwards is returning from a trip through Washington and St. Louis where he says that he finds Wilson sentiment strong. They will visit his wife's parents in Richy, Idaho, before returning to Nebraska.

FARMER ESCAPES DEATH BY NARROW MARGIN

Hay Stacker Caught In Electric Wires and Put System Out of Commission For Two Hours.

Mr. Smith, who lives two miles beyond the J. A. Waters farm and two miles from the city, narrowly escaped death by electrocution yesterday morning, when the hay stacker with which he had been working ran into the wires of the Idaho Power company, causing a short circuit which stopped the whole system. The wire on the stacker stopped just ten inches away from the main supply line of the Idaho Power company. The wires touched it is probable that the man and the teams would have been killed. As it was only the second time the stacker was not a noticeable amount of electricity carried. Mr. Smith was moving the stacker across the road from one field to another and the circuit was calculated to be high properly. The system was out of commission about two hours.

MAYOR SWEETLEY GOES TO NATIONAL SHOOT

Is President of State Association and Amateur Champion of the State of Idaho.

Mayor E. M. Sweetley, who is also president of the Idaho Sportsman's association and amateur champion of the state, left Tuesday night for St. Louis to attend the great American handicap shoot. Mayor Sweetley won the state championship here June 10. He tied with E. C. Grace at ninety-eight out of a possible hundred and won in the shoot-off. At that time he was elected president of the state association. On his arrival at St. Louis a purse of $50, granted to the winner of a state championship, contingent on his attendance at the national meeting, will be given.

CALIFORNIA FAMILY HERE TO MAKE HOME

Thomas Baldwin Buys Bethune Farm—Other Residents of the Golden State Expect to Come.

Thomas Baldwin of Pomona, Calif., has purchased the P. O. Bethune farm and expects to move south to the Shoshone street bridge, and his family is now on the way to take up residence here at once. Mr. Baldwin was accompanied by his nephew, M. Kirkpatrick, who also expects to stay and by John F. Evans, a well-known orange grower of Pomona, who comes to endeavor to secure a suitable farm for his sons. The party drove through Twin Falls last spring and were so much pleased with the country that they determined to come back, having found nothing elsewhere so pleasing. It is thought likely that a number of others from California will come.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE BEGINS IN TEN DAYS

New Features Will Be Added to This Year's Sessions

FIVE COUNTIES REPRESENTED; RAILROAD GIVEN RATES.

Hospitality of Twin Falls People Expected to Make This The Greatest Institute Yet Held.

The fourth annual joint teachers' institute to be held in Twin Falls, begins August 28, and will continue to September 1, and teachers of Cassia, Gooding, Lincoln, Minidoka and Twin Falls counties will be present. Those in charge of the sessions here are adding new features of value to the program and indications point to the most successful institute yet held in southern Idaho.

A communication was received from the railroad authorities yesterday to the effect that rates for teachers would be on the one and one-half basis. This is the same as offered last year and a larger number of teachers is expected to take advantage of the reduction.

A large number of well-known instructors from California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho have been obtained to address the institute on those topics of particular interest and value to public school teaching and the county superintendents and conductors are planning to make the institute as practical as possible by dwelling particularly on those problems of the teacher along the generally accepted modern lines of education. Special emphasis will be laid along the lines of physical, vocational, social, moral and cultural education.

John C. Werner, professor at the Albion state normal school is conductor of this year's institute. His ability and knowledge of this class of work will assure to a greater extent, the successful progress and termination of the sessions.

A feature of this year's work will be the instruction given in physical education. This is yearly becoming of increasing importance in public school work and its development along scientific lines demands particular attention. Professor Robert Krohn, director of physical education in the Portland schools, has been obtained. Mr. Krohn is recognized as one of the foremost instructors in physical education in the west and was obtained this summer by the University of Oregon summer school to take charge of the physical education department.

Some of the instructors who have been engaged for the sessions are: Dr. C. O. Rugh, professor of moral and religious education, University of California; Professor J. W. Hoppe, department of oral expression, state normal school, Kansas; and Dr. C. O. Rugh, professor of moral and religious education, University of California.

Professor J. W. Hoppe, department of oral expression, state normal school, Kansas, will be in charge of the sessions. Dr. C. O. Rugh, professor of moral and religious education, University of California, will be in charge of the sessions.

During past institutes held in Twin Falls the people have been very generous in their hospitality and the accommodation of the many visiting teachers and this coupled with the generous support given by the business men of the city has resulted in very successful institutes. Those in charge this year hope that they may rely upon the co-operation of the many friends of the institute to help in entertaining the visitors this year.

One and one-half rail rate will be in effect from August 26 to 28, inclusive, and will be in effect on all main line stations from Pocatello to Caldwell, including all branch lines. Those in charge of the sessions here are adding new features of value to the program and indications point to the most successful institute yet held in southern Idaho.

BERGER FARMER CATCHES HOPPERS

Fills Many Grain Sacks In a Few Hours

KANSAS HOPPER CATCHER USED TO GATHER INSECTS.

Suggestions On Use of Poison Made in Pamphlet Issued to the Co-operative Extension Department.

George Hamilton of Berger, gathered six grain sacks full of grasshoppers in four hours on his clover field this week and depleted the hopper population greatly. The device used was made at home by Mr. Hamilton, assisted by Walter Starr, and is known as the Kansas Hopper Catcher. It is used to work well and many Salinas tract farmers are planning to use this sort of machine, as a result of the experiment.

One use of compounds of sodium arsenate, which must not be confused with arsenic, is strongly advocated in a document sent out this week by the department of the state and national co-operative agricultural extension service, written by W. T. McCall, county agent of Canyon county, and entitled "How to Beat Grasshoppers." The following suggestions are copied from the pamphlet:

"Where clover or alfalfa seed crops are attacked by grasshoppers, one of the best methods of control is to spray the infested field with a sodium arsenate spray solution, made by mixing one to one and a quarter pounds of sodium arsenate, two quarts of cheap molasses and fifty gallons of water. This amount of solution should be sprayed evenly over one acre. For alfalfa, one pound of poison is sufficient for fifty gallons of water; but for clover with dense foliage, it is generally safe to use one and one-fourth pounds. Too much poison, too coarse a spray, or application of too much of the solution, will burn the foliage, so the grasshoppers will not eat the poison. A rain will wash off the poison and render it ineffective; therefore the spray should be applied during unsettled weather conditions.

The spray may be applied most conveniently by the use of an orchard sprayer outfit. This should be fitted with an extension at the rear, consisting of a half-inch pipe, twelve or fifteen feet long, which has been fitted with six nozzles. The nozzles at the ends should be pointed out at an angle of forty-five degrees, so that a wide area may be covered as the machine is driven forward. If the nozzles are rightly spaced, a path of from twenty to twenty-five feet will be covered with a fine mist. Any one who has seen a machine rigged up for spraying potatoes, or mustard, will catch the idea. With a little ingenuity one can arrange the necessary fixtures so that twenty acres a day may easily be sprayed.

The spray must be thrown in a fine mist. Only fine nozzles should be used.

The machine must cover quickly to avoid burning of foliage.

Not less than one hundred-fifty pounds of pressure should be used.

The extension should clear the wheels in the rear, and be high enough from the ground, about four feet, so a mist spray will be thrown.

Tank and piping should be thoroughly cleaned before using, and only clean water used.

Spraying may be done at any stage of plant growth, but if applied on foliage from six to ten inches high, and before the grasshoppers are three-fourths grown, the best results will be obtained. Mature grasshoppers eat but little, and will not eat enough of the poison to cause death. If rightly done, the grasshoppers will begin dying about the third day after spraying, and sixty per cent. of them should be dead within a week. The dead "hoppers" will be eaten rapidly by birds of still alive, and the poison thus does double duty. If no rain falls for two weeks after application of the spray, at least ninety per cent. of the grasshoppers will be killed.

Poison bran mash bait is very effective in grain fields, pastures, orchards, or in clover and alfalfa hay fields. For use in the latter, it should be applied immediately after the hay has been cut, before much new foliage has started. The following recipe is recommended: Twenty-five pounds coarse bran, six finely grated lemons or oranges (or 1 ounce lemon extract), one pound powdered white arsenic (of same amount paris green), two quarts cheap molasses or sugar factory syrup. The bran and poison should be thoroughly mixed with dry. Then the molasses and fruit juice, together with finely grated rinds, should be added to two gallons of water. This mixture should be sprinkled gradually over the hay, stirring constantly. Enough water should be added to make a crumbly mash. If the mixture is too wet it will not save well.

Do not leave piles of the mash where stock or chickens will eat it.

Keep chickens out of the fields where mash has been sown.

No danger arises, however, in feeding hay from clover or alfalfa fields which have been sprayed, as it would be difficult for one animal to eat enough hay from a field that has been properly sprayed to cause death.

But don't forget you are using poison.

WEAKNESS OF THE MILITIA SYSTEM IS BROUGHT OUT
WASHINGTON—United politicians thwart it, universal military training will arise from the border militia situation, in the opinion of army men today. Secretary of War Baker expressed himself as believing in "the universal obligation" for service, though he said he had not yet formed his opinion as to universal training.

DR. HENDERSON BACK FROM IDAHO FALLS

Organizes Thirty Anti-Cholera Associations—Will Make Headquarters There Shortly.

Dr. L. C. Henderson, of the bureau of animal industry, is back from a whirlwind campaign at Idaho Falls, where he organized thirty anti-hog cholera associations. Dr. Henderson was accompanied by Dr. N. K. Wait, deputy state inspector, who was assigned to the work with him. Two demonstrations were made on herds affected with the hog cholera. Dr. Henderson stated that he had understood that Dr. Henderson was assigned to that district, where the interest manifested indicated a determination to eliminate the disease as thoroughly as it was eliminated here. The work is carried on there along the same lines that marked its progress on the Teton. Dr. Henderson stated that it is no longer in the experimental stage and the serum, instead of being furnished free, is sold at cost to live raisers. The hogs are kept in pens and those who find sick hogs in their herds are urged to telephone to the headquarters as soon as the disease of the animals is discovered.

Miss Fern Ennes was hostess to a delightful slumber party in honor of her house guest, Miss Grace Bower of Rock Creek. After a hearty party the guests enjoyed a delicious four-course luncheon. The guests were the Mesars Grace Bower, Edna Beauchamp, Florence Hill, Cora Hartigan, Emily Wall, Corinne Taber and Fern Ennes.

At the country home on the Shoshone Falls road of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fleming, a pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Marjorie, was united in marriage to Thaddeus Patton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. W. Parker of the Methodist church, in the presence of only the relatives and a few intimate friends of the young people. They were unattended and the wedding march was played by Miss Emily Wall. Both the bride and bridegroom are well known and have a large circle of friends in the community. The former graduated

JEROME, IDAHO

To hold "its place in the sun," is the avowed purpose of a great nation's conflict. To hold "its place in the sun," is the object of every business in the great fight for industrial and commercial supremacy. To be able to hold "its place in the sun," is the supreme test of an asphalt roof. It is the sun, not rain or snow, that plays havoc with a roof. If it can resist the drying out process of the sun beating down upon it, day after day, the rain or snow will not affect it except to wash it clean and keep it sanitary.

Certain-teed Roofing

takes "its place in the sun" and holds it longer than other similar roofing, because it is made of the very best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with the correct blend of soft asphalt, and coated with a blend of harder asphalt. This outer coating keeps the inner saturation soft, and prevents the drying out process so destructive to the ordinary roof.

The blend of asphalt used by "The General" is the result of long experience. It produces a roofing more pliable than those which have less saturation, and which are, therefore, harder and drier. At each of the General's big mills, expert chemists are constantly employed to refine, test and blend the asphalt used; also to experiment for possible improvements. Their constant endeavor is to make the best roofing still better. The quality of CERTAIN-TEED is such that it is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply). Experience proves that it lasts longer. Behind this guarantee is the responsibility of the world's largest manufacturer of roofings and building papers.

THE TWIN FALLS TIMES

TWOICE-A-WEEK

TIMES PRINTING & PUBLISHING COMPANY, Ltd.

TWO DOLLARS PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

NOTICE: DISCONTINUANCE. Many subscribers prefer not to have their subscriptions interrupted in case they fail to remit before expiration. Notwithstanding this, it is not assumed that continuous service is desired; still, subscribers are expected to notify us with reasonable promptness to stop if the paper is no longer desired.

Entered at the Twin Falls postoffice as second class matter as a twice-a-week publication, October 18, 1910.

THAT THE PUBLIC MAY KNOW.

The confidence in the ability of the mayor and council to successfully handle the water works situation, expressed in the resolution drafted by Mr. James McMillan and Mr. R. A. Read, and tacitly approved by a dozen other men who spent an hour the other morning looking over the water works system, is not shared by THE TIMES. We will state our reasons.

We have no quarrel with the mayor and council about what has been done to clean up the reservoir, and to effectually prevent the entrance of foreign grime into the city mains. We have, in these same columns, commended those responsible for what has been accomplished. In the news columns of THE TIMES the improvement of the reservoir has occupied much of our most prominent space. The same with the efforts to flush out the system. We have stated that chlorination plants are in successful operation in other cities, and free from danger when properly handled. We attempted to secure what information we could as to whether the plant in this city was being competently handled, the question having been raised by the unexplained sudden demise of a half hundred mountain trout in the aquarium of a downtown restaurant. We were baffled in our efforts to secure this information direct from the man in charge of the chlorination plant, who acted on instructions from "higher ups." We did not, and do not now, accept this as conclusive that the people in charge of the running of a deadly poison with the city's water, are not entirely competent. We simply say that our experience is not particularly reassuring.

The mayor and a majority of the council were elected to office on practically one issue—the securing of a pure—not purified—source of water for the city of Twin Falls. They promised rapid action. Late in the winter they recommended to the taxpayers of this city the purchase of the old water works system at an obviously exorbitant figure, arguing that the time saved in not having to resort to litigation to force the purchase of the existing system at a reasonable figure, was worth the thousands-of-dollars difference in price. The argument convinced the people of Twin Falls just as it convinced THE TIMES.

But what has been done with the time so expensively purchased?

Will the mayor or the council explain?

Will any of the men who have expressed confidence in the mayor and council explain?

We will.

Practically nothing!

They have authorized the cleaning of the reservoir, the installation of screens, and attended to the other details enumerated in the mayor's official statement. They point to these as the remarkable accomplishments of the past five months.

We maintain that had the council placed a competent and experienced water works man in charge of the municipal water works system, the mayor and the council need never have been bothered by any of the details to which this group of five men—some of whom knew more about water works systems than does the writer or any of our readers—have given so much of their time and attention, according to the mayor's "official" statement.

The mayor and council could have and should have devoted their time to making use of the months which the taxpayers of the city paid for so willingly, but so dearly, in taking the preliminary steps towards the fulfillment of their election promises—the securing of a source of pure water for the city of Twin Falls.

A large part of what has been accomplished has been done under the stress of strenuous publicity.

The first preliminary move towards a new source of water was not taken until the TIMES had repeatedly insisted upon action.

Speaking of the first step, the first substance which entered the city mains, particularly during the cleaning of the reservoir and repair of the screens, we quote from our issue of August 3rd:

"THERE IS NO EXCUSE WHATSOEVER FOR SUCH A CONDITION! Only the admission of ignorance, gross negligence, carelessness or rank incompetence."

This is quite in contrast with the "Resolutions of Confidence." Will the mayor, the council, or any of the men who have expressed confidence in the mayor and council, endeavor to find a competent engineer in the county of Twin Falls, who will furnish the TIMES with a statement for publication, claiming that with but a comparatively small expenditure, a system of screens could not have been installed temporarily which would have prevented the situation with respect to foreign substances in the mains, which has exasperated Twin Falls citizens and at the same time been so nauseating?

It is to be hoped that with this statement, regardless of the efforts of certain interests to kick up a dust which will obscure the issues, the position of THE TIMES will be understood by all.

LIGHTS AND GAS.

On the evening of May 15th, Manager R. B. King of the Electric Investment company discussed with the council, outlining details which are generally the same as those included in the contract which was signed by the city last week.

Mayor Sweoley stated at the time, the evening of May 15th, in the open council meeting that a public hearing on the lighting subject would be arranged for a later date.

At two council meetings since that time the subject has come up for informal discussion.

But at a special meeting of the council last Wednesday evening the present council of the city of Twin Falls, whose terms of office expire next spring, bound the city in an electric contract for a period of ten years.

Taxpayers of this city had no information that this meeting was to be held. They did not know that the lighting contract was up for final action. The public had no chance to be heard.

In fact the official call of the meeting was not placed in the hands of the city clerk until the evening of the meeting.

Mr. Bobbie, one of the councilmen, declined to attend the session. THE TIMES, for its part, acknowledges frankly it knew nothing of the meeting until the benefits of the new contract were emphasized in the council's "favored" newspaper the next day.

So much for the council's procedure, and the mayor's promise. We shall not discuss it. We have stated the facts, and they speak for themselves.

THE TIMES has pointed out before that the city's lighting system is far behind the progress of the town. It has urged that it be speedily improved. The new contract no doubt provides for a much improved system of lighting; the management of the electric company states that the new contract will provide the city with one of the most modern lighting systems in this part of the country. No one within the limits of the city of Twin Falls receives this information with more genuine gratification than does THE TIMES. Such a result is the consummation of an earnest hope that we have heretofore expressed.

We are not prepared to say at this time that the contract signed with the electric company is not an advantageous one to the city. Neither are we prepared to say that it is. As a general thing we are not in favor of one city administration binding successive administrations in long time contracts. We realize, however, that under some circumstances, it may be desirable and possibly quite necessary to enter into contracts for a considerable period.

The new power and light corporation is one of the greatest electrical combinations of the world. It is a business concern that, no doubt, looks carefully after its own interests. This is no reflection on it; nor does this imply that the power company will not take a large degree of pride in giving the city.

At another meeting of the council a few evenings ago, James McMillan's gas franchise was extended until June 1, 1917, without providing for any assurances, other than Mr. McMillan's word, that a gas plant would be under construction by that time. Thus Mr. McMillan virtually secures a monopoly on the privilege of engaging in a public utility until June 1st next. There is probably not a man in the city of Twin Falls that would not rather see a franchise go to a local man like Mr. McMillan than to an outsider, but there are many people, who, like the TIMES, will feel that the council has not adequately protected the city's interests.

TRAIL TO BE BLAZED FROM MEXICO TO CANADA

Party of Three to Map and Photo Route For Use By Military Authorities.

An item of national defense of particular importance to the entire western portion of the United States, was inaugurated at daybreak Wednesday, August 16, when Wilbur Hall, magazine writer of Colliers Weekly, Lieutenant Albert Gill Waddell, representing federal interests and national map publications, and Jack Griffin, of the Maxwell touring bureau, left Tia Juana, Mexico, to blaze an all-coast trail to Vancouver, Canada. The party will endeavor to add to the practicability of the tour by utilizing an automobile that has already seen much and vigorous service; the Maxwell touring car, which some months ago established a world's record by traveling 22,022 miles without a stop of its motor.

The greater portion of the Pacific coast is open to invasion. With the exception of a short distance in California and portion of Oregon, there are no roads over which a repelling force could be carried to the scene of a possible hostile entry. The country is not yet a means of transporting troops and guns in sufficient quantities has answered one phase of the question of defense, but these troops and equipment cannot be carried to their destination if there are no all-year-round highways over which to send the gasoline driven automobiles.

The Maxwell party will endeavor to force a route which will be within a few miles of the Pacific at all times. Its itinerary includes a run up the Pacific coast from Tia Juana to Los Angeles.

Then the coast highway is again followed for its entire length to San Francisco bay. The route here leads slightly inland, and the broad Pacific is not in sight again until just before Eureka is reached.

From Eureka to Marshfield a coast road has already proved practicable. But from Oregon city to Astoria no continuous one-level highway has ever been blazed, and it will be the duty of the Maxwell trio to force its marching order on the unexplored and into the virgin forests in an endeavor to pave the way for a Pacific coast road that will lead from Mexico on the south to Canada on the north.

The return trip to Tia Juana from Vancouver will be over the familiar coast road, the interior route. The party will take the trip through Seattle, Portland, the Willamette valley and over the Skagitno mountains into the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys of California. The inland feature of the tour is to ascertain if connecting links at frequent intervals cannot be made, the proposed coast route. For strategic military reasons it is necessary that these be planned in order to make the coast defense idea feasible.

To more fully impress members of congress with the necessity for federal action in constructing the proposed road, motion pictures of the various points along the route will be taken. A careful log of road and topographical conditions will be kept, and at the same time the most striking sights will be submitted to the federal army and navy officials, good roads and automobile clubs, and to the people of the country generally through the medium of the national Maxwell touring bureau, maintained by the Maxwell Motor company to promote interest in comfortable automobile touring.

The idea of the trip is to impress the public generally with the fact that the present day standard of a car can be relied on to make the run, regardless of weather conditions, and could dependably transport troops and guns to the scene of action should our country be in danger of a foreign invasion.

Papers That Are Given Away

DO YOU KNOW?

That in these days of high prices for print paper a dead-head subscription list is very much of a liability for any newspaper to carry?

That if such a list does not carry a publisher under it is because his bona-fide subscribers are carrying the load?

That the publisher's philanthropy and yours is in all probability not adequately appreciated by the recipients?

That you can buy a better newspaper for the same money and the publisher can make more money by cutting out unnecessary exchanges, complimentary lists, free copies to advertisers, and the non-paying subscribers on the subscription list.

In the last six months this heavy overhead burden has been eliminated, in so far as THE TIMES is concerned. Our subscription list is being cut down to the actual paid-for or going-to-be-paid-for number of copies.

When you pay $2.00 for a year's subscription to THE TIMES you are not paying for a year's subscription to someone who does not pay. You are buying for yourself alone and those who read your copy of THE TIMES, the biggest $2.00 worth of news and service that we can give you.

The successful solution of them is a good portrait. We are willing to be judged by this standard.

When the officer interviewed her, she at first protested against letting go, but later left the city without it. She told the officer that she intended to get a divorce from her husband.

Boy Scouts to Meet—A call has been sent out for every Boy Scout in the city and every one who desires to be a scout to be present Friday evening at seven o'clock sharp on the Presbyterian church lawn. All the boys then be arranged into their troops, scout masters chosen, and plans for training the band, together with other important matters, considered. Those in charge of the boy scout organization urge the people of Twin Falls and surrounding country to help the boys in procuring their outfit of necessities by placing orders for them to gather next Saturday all old magazines. The boys have made considerable progress and are anxious to complete the load as soon as possible.

County's Next Assessor Will Be One of These Three Men

George W. Wilcox and John F. Hansen are Candidates for the Republican Nomination. W. H. Karris, Democrat, Has No Opposition at Primary Election. Primaries, Tuesday, Sept. 5

JOHN F. HANSEN

Farming, ranching, mining and surveying are only a few of the things that have occupied Mr. Hansen's time since the spring of '76, when he first came to Idaho. In 1892 he was elected probate judge of Tewa county, which at that time included what is now Twin Falls county; and two years later, county auditor. Later he entered the mercantile business at Rock Creek. Upon formation of Twin Falls county, Mr. Hansen was appointed to the board of county commissioners.

W. H. KARRIS

Democratic candidate for assessor, has had opportunity to familiarize himself with the county's real estate values by reason of several years' experience in real estate business in Twin Falls. As heavy taxpayer himself, owning ranch property near city and considerable property in Twin Falls, Mr. Karris is an expert accountant, which fact he urges as one of his strong qualifications for the assessor's office.

GEO. W. WILCOX

Six years a resident of the Twin Falls tract, during the last four of which Mr. Wilcox has assessed at different times practically all of the property in the county, as deputy assessor under J. W. Beauchamp. From an economical management of the assessor's office, and a "square deal" to everybody, Mr. Wilcox is a native of the state of Michigan farmer and merchant. He has had practical experience in Twin Falls county in all of the duties of assessor.

SOCIETY NOTES

Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock Mrs. J. R. Conway and her daughter, Miss Margaret, entertained at a matinee party which terminated in a tea at the Hotel Rogerson, where they announced the engagement of Miss Mildred Conway, their daughter, and sister, to John Seymour Green. The guests were seated at a beautifully appointed table, the color scheme being red and white. A huge white heart tied with a tulle bow crowned a lovely center piece of red and white roses in which stood a tiny white cupid with drawn bow, aimed at the bride-to-be. The girls found much enjoyment searching for their respective places, each being marked by a card-painter sign. The two of Miss Conway. "They red candles were burning at each place and red baskets filled with red and white candy hearts were laid as favors. The announcement cards were concealed under the plates of the first course and many exclamations of surprise followed their removal. The orchestra played Miss Mildred's favorite selections ending with the "Wedding march," which caused much merriment. The guests were Mesdames H. S. Green of Morrison, Ill.; Boot, Bolton, Hoag, Alexander, the Misses Osborn, and Mrs. W. Warner, Belding, Cox, Wilson, Putnam, Barger, Dwight, Costello, Wall, Thomas, Amos, Milner and Hart.

Mrs. Earnest White entertained at luncheon on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Charles Hart, and Mrs. Melvin, of Salt Lake. About thirteen guests were seated at the table, which was beautifully decorated, a color scheme of pink and white being used.

Miss Doris Cox entertained at a dinner party last Thursday evening, at her home on Addison avenue, in honor of Ralf Spangler of Salt Lake. A delicious four-course dinner was served followed by refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed throughout the evening. The guests were Misses Ruby Hartfield, Ruth Milner, Daphne Graybeal, and Gladys Channell, and Messrs. Oscar Allen, Hugh Barker, Robert Cruise, Reynolds Cox and Ralf Spangler.

The P. E. O. chapter of Twin Falls, entertained at the home of Miss Jane Maxwell, Tuesday evening, in honor of Miss Helen Pittman, a bride of the coming week. The evening was spent making towels for Miss Pittman, after which these were presented to her. Delight refreshments were served in the course of the evening, a beautiful luncheon set of maderia embroidery being given her later, the gift of the society.

On Wednesday morning at nine o'clock Miss Vesta Thomas and Miss Ford Wall entertained at a kitchen shower for Miss Mary Milner. The guests sewed and chatted during the morning and about eleven o'clock Miss Peggy Wall and Master Bill Thomas appeared on the porch with a load of hay for the guest of honor. Much merriment followed while Miss Milner decided where it should be put, and finally it was unloaded on the side porch and it was found to contain every possible kitchen utensil, of all kinds. After these were unloaded a wedding journey was taken to the Thomas home where dainty refreshments were served on the lawn in picnic style. Miss Milner took the wedding journey in a small wagon drawn by Miss Peggy and Master Bill. About thirty guests were entertained.

KIMBERLY, IDAHO

"Thou Art the Man"

A story of Anglo-Indian life of the present day, is by George Cameron, author of "A Million Bids," and is an original manuscript, written especially for motion picture production, founded on the Biblical story of "Uriah." The scenes are all laid in India, and depict the life of the resident Englishman, with glimpses of the fever-ridden districts where the white man finds it impossible to exist.

The story tells of a rich man who covets a poor clerk's beautiful wife. She is ordered to the hills during the hot summer, and her husband, that he may be able to send her away, accepts a position in the interior of India, that carries a handsome salary, offered by the rich man. As was planned, the clerk dies, but not before the man, repentant of what he has done, follows to the lonely hut and, unable to withstand himself what he forced others to endure, is buried by the side of his victim.

Sells-Floto Coming

While Jess Willard, "heavyweight champion of the world," and Frank Gotch, "wrestling champion of the world," put some big "punches" in the performance of the Sells-Floto circus, which comes to Twin Falls on August 30th, the real circus features round out an all-champion program, with this champion shows of the world, and the colossal zoo and menagerie, exhibiting five of all continents and climates, is well worth a visit. On circus day at 10:30 in the morning a splendid street pageant will wind its way over the usual parade route. There will be nine military concert bands, a steam tugboat, scores of open cars of gorgeous wild beauties, with their trainers, elephants, 250 horses, many of them prize winners; beautifully gowned men and women, to say nothing of the forty tumbling clowns.

Unique Document.
In the "American Magazine" Prof. Charles Downer Hazen tells some ludicrous incidents of the Franco-Prussian war, describing a document that is a modern curiosity:
"Collection was lacking, as were numbers," he says. "Many generals were sent to command troops with which they were utterly unacquainted."
"Not only soldiers, but sometimes generals went astray, unable to find their places." Have arrived at Bel-fort," telegraphed General Michel on July 21, "can't find my brigade; can't find the general of the division. What shall I do? Don't know where my regiment is now." This document is probably unique in military records. Another general hunted for his artillery staff; another for a cavalry corps which did not exist."

—From Exchanges—
Moscow Masons to Build—A committee acting for Paradise lodge, A. F. & M. secured a building permit from the city council last Monday evening to build a Masonic temple to cost $11,000 on a Main street lot in Dr. Taylor's addition near Sixth street fronting east.—Moscow Post.

Gives Up Its Dead—The body of Konrad Koenigler who fell in the Salmon river some three weeks ago was found Wednesday by a party of fishermen, consisting of Bill and Charley Eubanks and Lou Frost, about three-quarters of a mile below the falls hot springs. The body was on a sand bar and was in a terrible state of disintegration.—Pocatello Tribune.

Killed By Lightning—Ray Harkness, aged 22 years, was killed at Virgina Saturday afternoon. The young man left Virginia, this county, for his home two miles from town, and was caught in a terrific rain and electric storm. Ray left his bicycle near the road and went to a nearby telephone pole for shelter, only to be felled by lightning minutes later by two of his friends.—Pocatello Tribune.

Gooding College To Be Started. The building committee of Gooding College, through the secretary, Geo. W. Padgham, received bids on Monday of this week for the construction of the foundation for the first building of Gooding college. W. M. Clifton of Boise, was the lowest bidder and the contract will be signed with him as soon as he has filed his bond and has complied with a few other requirements which the college authorities put up.—Gooding Leader.

Raft River Country Booms.—The Raft river country is on the eve of a boom. In addition to good crops, which are such as to leave farmers well satisfied, the Short Line has given official notice that the railroad will be in operation in time to handle this year's crop of grain. Freighters are busy hauling lumber to various points along the grade, where they will be ready for loading with the coming of the first train.—Rupert Pioneer-Record.

Held For Holdups—Five men, all Mexicans, are held in the county jail awaiting an investigation today and according to the officers they believe several of the men are bad characters. They were picked up by the city police on Saturday and turned over to the county authorities this morning. The arrest was due to a young Mexican boy who stated that was held up by two of the men on Saturday afternoon in an east side rooming house.—Pocatello Tribune.

Sugar Factory For Paul-Rupert. The site for the new sugar factory in the Paul-Rupert district, was definitely decided upon Friday. The officials of the company looked the ground over thoroughly and located the factory on the west half of section 27, one and a half miles east of Paul. It is understood that work will commence and the foundations be laid this fall in order that construction may begin in the spring that all will be readiness for the 1917 crop.—Burley Advocate.

Ex-Senator Found Dead. Lying face down in a pool of the North Park near Anderson's sliding of the O-N. R. R., the body of Abner G. Kerns, of Wallace, former state senator and prominent in law and mining affairs, was found shortly before noon yesterday by Angus Sutherland, a pioneer citizen of Wallace, who was one of the number of parties which had been searching for the missing attorney since last Tuesday. The place where the body was found was six miles from the mouth of Beaver creek, and about eight miles south of the railroad. The depth of the water was about eight feet.—Wallace Press-Times.

Filer Items

(From The Filer Journal.)

A ten-pound baby boy was born on July 29th to Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Kammann of Pleasant View. They are at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Burke, who is a sister of Mr. Kammann. Jack Carroll received work over a week ago from Montana that C. M. Johnson was dead. He was told for particulars but has received no reply. Johnson was working in a mine, and the supposition is that he met death accidentally. A deal was closed Tuesday whereby Sall Sommer becomes the owner of the Will Hill 80 acres west of Filer. This is one of the best pieces of land in this section and we understand that the consideration was about $175 per acre or $14,000.

Chas. Slett, who has been working for Geo. Ehrhardt, had the misfortune to be kicked by a horse last Monday which resulted in a double fracture of the leg. He was taken to the Twin Falls hospital and is doing nicely at this writing. Half a dozen buildings are under construction on the Slett place. The Fair grounds site adjoining town. The race track is being sprinkled continually. Interest continues to develop on the proposed new project. The cattle community is preparing to accommodate the throngs that will be here September 29-31, inclusive. We understand that the comments have been made whereby George P. Allen will identify himself with the Filer Hardware Co., and that their business will be a more modern organization, being incorporated and run on a still larger scale. Threshing machines are now busy harvesting bumper crops of grain, and with the elevators contracting the wheat crop at around $1.85 per cwt. and the navy beans commanding a price around $1.00 per cwt. It looks as though this was surely the rancher's year.

The Filer band will give their first dance in the hall Saturday night, August 19th. Everybody should patronize this dance. The boys have practiced faithfully and need some money for music. A new instrument is all that is needed. Help along the good cause for Filer needs, the band more than at any time of her previous history.

BUHL MAN MAKES A STRANGE DISCOVERY

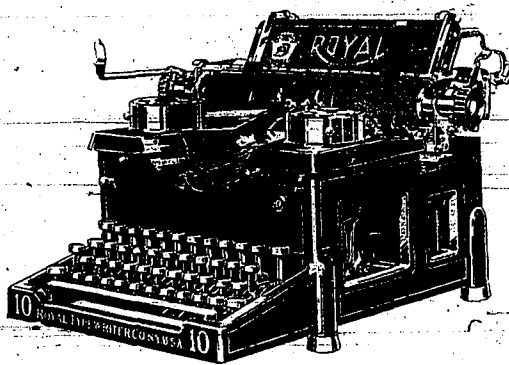

Studies Planets All Night and Finds Out What Keeps Them Apart—Explains Cause of Eclipses.

"I have just made the greatest discovery that ever was made," said S. Fairchild of Buhl, yesterday. "I have discovered what keeps the planets apart and I am laying for the professor to put the question to them and see that they think about it. You see it is this way, you put water in the palm of your hand and then sweat your hands together this way (indicating) and it flies in all directions. Now, there are thousands of planets scattered around and they are all kept apart by something. There is air between them and it gets heavier as they draw together. That is what keeps them apart. It acts as a cushion, and when they start toward one another it shows them back, just as a cushion would so that they cannot come together. You never heard of two of them running into each other, did you? Once in a while we have eclipses. That is caused by the pressure where the planets push against the air cushion which makes the air squirt out like the water does when your hands are clapped together. If you take a stick and slink it around among the planets they wouldn't bump. That may not seem reasonable to you when you first think of it, but the more you think it over, the more you will be convinced that it is right. I studied it carefully, and sat up a whole night looking at the planets and thinking it out and I am sure that I am the first man who got it worked out. If you say anything about this, in the paper mention my name in full as I want credit for the discovery." Mr. Fairchild has been running a gold extractor on the Snake river near Buhl for the past couple of years, in addition to working his farm. He makes good wages getting the gold out of the sand. He says that he has a plan worked out whereby he can earn $100 a day. Asked what this was he declined to answer, saying that it was not yet in operation and he did not want to give it away. Mr. Fairchild is an old resident of the west end. He is the father of sixteen children and took the prize at the Pioneer celebration this year for having the largest family and the most unique pioneer float in the parade.

Other Men Judge Your Letters Just as You Judge Theirs

Generally it is not your fault, nor that of your stenographer, if a letter goes out poorly typewritten, the lines uneven, letters faint or jammed clear through the paper—

But the man or firm getting that letter may have no other way of judging you and your business.

You judge others in just the same way.

You've seen letters written on the Royal, most likely.

The Royal is instantly adjusted to the individuality of the operator. A little thumbscrew does it—and the operator forgets there is a machine between fingertips and paper.

That's only one reason why the Royal is the choice of "big business."

The Royal not only writes everything, but it bills and charges, and it writes cards—writes anywhere and everywhere on a card—without a single extra attachment or the least change.

When you install a Royal you end the "trading-in" evil of the typewriter business. The Royal is built to live long, and it is built to give such unchangingly satisfactory service that you'll never want to trade it.

For the same reason it keeps the repair man away. Work goes on as it should. Your stenographer is pleased with that, and also pleased because the Royal is practically frictionless and dustless—it requires much less cleaning and oiling.

Get the facts. Know the Royal, whether you require one or a hundred typewriters, and whether you are considering a purchase now or not. A demonstration takes but a few moments. It places you under no obligation—we'll thank you for the opportunity. Telephone us now, or drop us a note.

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

IDAHO CAN GET $1,400,000 FROM U. S. FOR ROADS

Federal Aid Provided in Recent Bill Passed by Congress; State, However, Must Furnish Equal Amount.

(Boise Statesman)

WASHINGTON—After many years of constant effort on the part of the farmers of this country, aided more recently by the business men and owners of automobiles, congress finally has enacted the bill providing for federal aid in the construction of good roads. Every Idahoan will be interested in knowing definitely the direct benefits that our state will receive by reason of the adoption of this measure.

The new law provides an appropriation of $5,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1916; $10,000,000 for 1917; $15,000,000 for 1918; $20,000,000 for 1919, and $25,000,000 for 1920, which sums are to be expended by the secretary of agriculture, co-operating with the state highway departments, in the construction of rural roads over which the United States mails are or may be hereafter transported. In order to obtain the benefits of this act the state must by act of the legislature assent to its terms, but until the legislature meets the governor can assent. The state must also contribute at least an equal amount in money, material or labor toward the construction of any proposed road. The money appropriated by this act will be apportioned among the various states according to three factors: One-third in the ratio which the area of the state bears to the total area of all the states; one-third according to the mileage of rural delivery routes; and one-third according to the mileage of such routes in the United States.

Here Are Idaho Figures.

Idaho has of the total in the Union, 2.33 per cent of the area, 356 per cent of the population and 38 per cent of the postal route mileage. By consolidating these three factors and dividing by three we find that Idaho is entitled to 1.36 per cent of the total appropriations made under this act, which means that the following sums of money will be available for road construction in Idaho for the next five years as follows:

1916	$ 52,760
1917	125,600
1918	168,250
1919	251,000

1920 313,750

Total 941,300

In other words, $941,300 will be contributed from the federal treasury to assist in building highways in Idaho during the ensuing five years outside of forest reserves.

GROSSMAN AND EMES RECEIVE MODERN METEOR MOTOR HEARSE

According to experts who examined it there is nothing lacking in the way of modern devices or appearance in the 4300-pound, battle gray Meteor motor hearse which was received Friday by the Grossman & Emes undertaking firm in this city. The hearse, which has a steel body on a 132-inch frame, can be used as an ambulance by the simple removal of a door. It has a six-cylinder "L" type Continental motor with the latest Delco ignition system and is so built that its powerful engine makes little vibration. The interior is mahogany and contains the newest conveniences, among others, individual windows, which permits the placing of flowers in small quantities where they will appear most appropriate. The curtains harmonize with the color of the vehicle. All the tires are non-skidding and a new patent for the inflation of tires enables them to be filled as quickly, as in a garage.

MILNER YARD AT BUHL

SOLD TO HIBLEY-CHANNEL

Transaction One of the Largest That Ever Took Place in the Western City.

The deal was made whereby the Milner-Perrine Lumber Co. was sold to the Hibley-Channel Co. this week, says the Buhl Herald. The deal was one of the largest that has occurred in Buhl's business circles.

The entire holdings of the Milner-Perrine Co. was transferred to the new concern, including all real estate owned by them. All of the stock of the Milner-Perrine Co. was owned by E. A. Milner and his three daughters. The company is one of the pioneer firms of Buhl, coming to this city eleven years ago. From the inception of this concern it has enjoyed a big trade and the respect of all who have dealt with it.

Mr. Milner, who has been in charge from the start has been in the lumber business for 12 years, a great deal of this time being spent in Iowa. Mr. Milner decided to retire from active business; life and devote his time to looking after his farming and sheep interests. It was for this reason that he relinquished his lumber business. He will remain in the Buhl country. Mr. Stevens will be the new manager of the yards at this place.

EXPERT PRAISES HERDS ON TRACT

Long's Jersey Herd Among Best In The Country

TWO OF BEST HOLSTEIN HERDS ARE AT BUHL.

Professor Ellington Says That Prospects For Industry Here Are Marvellous.

"The Twin Falls tract now has two of the best Holstein herds in Idaho and the best Jersey herd in the state if not in the mountain country and within a few years will see a wonderful expansion of the dairy industry," said Professor E. V. Ellington of the dairy department of the University of Idaho, who visited this city yesterday.

"I have not been here for a year, but I notice a great improvement in dairy conditions during that time," continued Professor Ellington, "and I am glad to say that the improvement is more marked in quality than in quantity. The increase in the number of dairy cows on the tract is not great, but the quality is much better. The H. H. Styler Holstein herd at Buhl is among the best herds of that breed in the state and has in it perhaps the best bull of any Holstein herd in Idaho. The M. P. Day Holstein herd at Buhl is among the very best in the state. The C. E. Long herd of Jerseys at Buhl, is now ahead of anything else in Idaho in the Jersey line if it is not actually of all other herds in the mountain states."

"I regard the formation of the Buhl Pioneer Cowtesting association as the greatest step forward that has been taken on the tract for five years. The matter of enlarging the association and securing another tester or of forming a new organization is now up for discussion. I think that something will be done next month, at which time I will be here again, and I am inclined to believe that there is room for another organization. I expect to return and to take in the Twin Falls county fair at Piler."

"I do not look for any great increase in the number of dairy cows on the tract for a year or two, but after that I expect a wonderful expansion. It is bound to come. Just now the dairy industry is in its infancy here. Equipped with modern seed cleaning machinery and located at a point convenient for receiving and distribution, the company is prepared to handle its seed business on the tract."

COURTSEN SEED COMPANY FINISHES NEW WAREHOUSE

Modern, Equipped Building Is 65 by 100 feet and May Be Enlarged If Business Warrants.

The Courtsen Seed company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has completed its fine new office and warehouse on Shoshone street and Fifth avenue. Equipped with modern seed cleaning machinery and located at a point convenient for receiving and distribution, the company is prepared to handle its seed business on the tract.

The Courtsen Seed company has for number of years been a large buyer, through its agents, of Idaho red, clover and alfalfa seed, and as a large percentage of this business has been done on the Twin Falls tract, it has necessitated the construction of this branch warehouse. Having taken care of it, the local warehouse is 65 by 100 feet and provision has been made for its enlargement should seed conditions make the enlargement to the plant advisable. The elevator equipment makes it possible to store a large amount of seed. Mr. J. H. Kellory, vice president of the company, has been in the city for the past two weeks superintending the arrangement of the plant and the installation of the machinery. He reports himself very greatly pleased with the prospects on the tract and is certain that this branch will prove mutually profitable to both the seed growers on the tract and the company. W. A. Lohr of the home office in Milwaukee, is the local manager and Mr. Lohr, with his assistants, expects to make the local branch a live factor in the seed industry on the tract.

GUARD FARES WELL ON MEXICAN BORDER

Tale of Universal Illness and Bad Treatment False

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO SAID TO BE IMPROVING VERY MUCH

Captain Claude V. Blyes of Company
K in Private Letter Describes Things
As He Found Them

That the conditions on the border are getting better, that the national guard is being well treated and that stories of hardships and improper management are false is indicated by the following excerpts from a letter to a friend written by Captain Claude V. Blyes of Company K, published in the Buhl Herald.

Quiet, very quiet, with the accent on the adjective, is the dope on the border situation as far as Nogales is concerned. Just toward the wire some communications north of here had been cut, but even though it be true no significance could be attached to it—any one Mexican, or American, could so that trick for the pleasure of causing a diversion in anotherwise monotonous situation.

Senator Earl Wagon Bowman, who is down here for a syndicate of daily and weekly papers, made a trip down into Mexico last week as far as Hermosillo, about 200 miles, and I see by his published articles that he had a variety of experiences. However, he did not write, judging from his appearance when he was in my tent a day, while after he returned. He got his passport the day before he went in but forgot to get it registered. This carried him all the time he was under the protection of Carranza or Villa or whoever the defacto money is who is in control of that part of disrupted Mexico. And added to this his train traveled mostly by night and with light out, for fear of attack by the Vais.

Patriotism along the border is not properly represented in the halls of congress. These Americans down here don't want to fight Mexico. They don't want to fight. They are not a bit patriotic or as much as their representatives would have the world believe. But they do want Mexico cleaned up. They do want someone to fight. They do believe someone should be patriotic. But none of it for them. They have had an opportunity and took them longer to realize than I sold the other states and now they all want to go home.

They have been tried and found decidedly wanting. While it is true that local and personal pride enters largely into the make-up of human nature to the extent of one's belief that his town or his house or his individual belongings are just a trifle above par, this is not entirely true with respect to the deep and well-founded belief of every member of the Second Idaho Infantry, from colonel to the rawest recruit, that we have the best regiment of national guard in this district. And this is not only local for we hear it from regular army officers who inspect the camp and regiment, which inspections are rather numerous, too much so to suit most of us.

We have established a reputation on the jump to live up to it. And we are in the office here who see it that we do, but that very thing—Captain Hannumiller of the 12th U. S. Infantry, who is assigned to us as an inspector. He was with the Second Idaho as an inspector-inspector two years ago. He has been down here with his regiment since that time. When the Second Idaho arrived at Nogales he was assigned to one of our regiments, but when he heard we were coming he asked to be transferred to us and his wishes were granted. He started in before we arrived by getting a high, dry camp for us on a long gravelly ridge. His first night in this is blessed by every man in the regiment every time it rains, which is practically every day.

Capt. Hannumiller started a drilling immediately after we arrived and there has been no let-up nor any prospects of it. The whole regiment was started in as recruits, the officers included. Enlisted men have been getting four hours drill daily with an additional hour drill for non-commissioned officers and half hours school. Officers were given the same periods as non-commissioned officers with an addition of an hour's drill in the school of soldiers with arms, much to the disgust of several who, having eight or ten years in the guard, imagined they had little to learn. Another addition to the duties of the officers is a school in the evening which lasts from one to two hours. During intervals between drills the officers, especially Captains, have all sorts of minor jobs to contend with, such as company administrations, etc.

All this appears to be a little hard to us at this time but it is just what's needed as at the head of the class of several regiments.

I would like to be able to say that what is true of the Second Idaho is true of every company, but it is not stretching things a little too far. However, I will say that the company officers have no kick coming on the progress on such a making. There is no better team work in any of the companies. The non-commissioned officers are doing exceptionally good work, and they are really the makings of a good company.

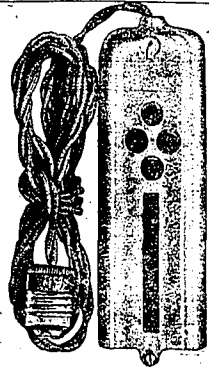

Outside of the prevailing diarrhea we have practically no sickness. One

NEW VARIETY SPUD

DEVELOPED HERE

D. Patrick Produces a Fine Baking
Potato—Will Give Samples For Seed to Those Interested.

D. Patrick has developed a new variety of spuds from seed in his garden on Blue Lakes boulevard. Three years ago he planted a potato ball and that fall secured a number of little tubers about the size of beans. Last year they were much larger. Three kinds were produced, of which two were watery and were discarded, while the other proved a splendid labor. Through a mistake most of the spuds produced last year were fed to hogs, but from those that escaped that fate, several bushels of fine, flesh-colored potatoes were produced. Mr. Patrick believes that these will prove more satisfactory than spuds developed in other states under different conditions. He brought a few to THE TIMES Saturday to show them. Mr. Patrick says that he will give a few to those calling for them for seed.

Mr. Patrick has had much experience in breeding up products, having developed a corn in Iowa that proved the best producer in the county in which he lived.

man was in the hospital two or three days with a slight fever, and we now have one there, but his trouble was not contracted in the line of duty. Stories that everyone is sick down here and hospital facilities are inadequate are absolutely false. Possibly 10 per cent of the men were affected with diarrhea but that is always to be expected in new conditions. A healthier body of men than the Second Idaho can not be found anywhere on earth—a very broad statement but absolutely true. I think K company has had fewer men on the sick register than any other company, and not positive though.

As for the moral conditions of the men in the company, I would not want us to appear to be casting reflections upon the good people of Buhl, but stating what is perfectly true when I say that the men, on the average, are better taken care of here than they are in Buhl. Of course there are exceptions, but I am speaking of the average. The men have plenty of good clean clothing and have access at all times to a commodious bath house. I might also add that the non-commissioned officers see that the men take their baths and that they are more successful in this than most parents. The food, while not so much of a variety as some were accustomed to, is clean and wholesome, and there is plenty of it. We will have screened in kitchen and mess tents in a few days, the work already having been started on them.

We don't hear much border news down here. Believe conditions are getting better over there. Seven stores opened up on the other side yesterday after being closed since General Calles has been over there for several days. He conferred with our General Plummer last Wednesday. Anything we happen to hear at any time, especially about the time they start taking the guard away from the border.

Well this is all. Tell the Buhl people not to worry about the men. They are building a large base hospital here, part of it is already completed and being used.

PLAYING THE "SECOND FIDDLE"

Positions in Life Very Much as it is in the Orchestras That Are Designed to Amuse.

When I was a lad, I used to hear the expression more frequently than I do now, that "certain man was 'playing second fiddle,' or that he 'would not play second fiddle for any man,' or something of that sort.

Playing second fiddle is a curious expression. Last night I attended a beautiful concert of our symphony orchestra. At the conductor's left hand, sits the first violinist. Grouped beside and behind him are the rest of the first violins. On the other side of the conductor sit the second violinists. There were just about as many of them, and they were called upon to play what seemed to be just as difficult music. There were times when the first violins were not playing at all, and the melody being carried by the second violins at other times, the seconds were playing in unison with the firsts; at still other times, they were carrying their own part, without which the first violins would not have sounded like much.

And is not that like life? People that we call second fiddlers are part of the orchestra that makes life's music. The more prominent people are helpless without them; there are times when they carry the real melody. Who the nurse of Carlyle was we do not know, but if there had not been a nurse there would have been no Carlyle. Washington's advisers seldom come to our minds, but he would have made dismal failures without them. Someone may be far more visible in your society than you are, but he cannot stay there unless you and others like you do your own quiet part. You can afford to play second fiddle, or anything else, to keep the music going.—Cloland D. McAffee.

Why He Liked the Camel.

Harris Dickson, on a hunting trip in Sunflower county, Mississippi, met an old dandy who had never seen a circus in his life. "Where the big show came in the following season to Dickson's town of Vicksburg he sent for the old man and treated him to the whole thing—arrival of the train, putting up the tent, grand free street parade, menagerie, main performance, concert, side show, peanuts, red tent, and all. The old dandy followed his white patron through with 'popping eyes,' but saying never a word. Late in the afternoon they got back to the Dickson home. "John," said Dickson, "you enjoyed it?" "Dose," said John fervently, "Ah shore did!" "What did you like the most?" "Mistah Dickson," answered John, "Ah shore liked it all." "Well, what impressed you most?" "Well, sah, boss," he said, "Ah reckon hit was dat dere animal you calls de camel!" "The camel, eh? Well, what was so remarkable about the camel?" "He sutinly is got sich a noble smell!"

Picture Hanging an Art.

The matter of picture hanging presents many problems to those who have not time to give to a careful study of arrangements, and our walls, instead of being restful and well balanced, are too often a bodge-podge of all sorts and conditions of art. In going over one's pictures eliminate all but the choicest and best beloved and try to group together the pictures whose subjects are somewhat related or which have a similarity in frames. Indeed, even when subjects are closely related, it is not possible always to hang pictures together, owing to a too great difference in the kind of frames. As a rule, your room looks better, especially small rooms, where only one color frame is used on all the pictures.

APPROPRIATION FOR POST ROAD ASKED

Twin Falls Commercial Club Wants One to Jarbidge

SUPPLIES GO TO GREAT MINING CAMP UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

Movement Also Started to Have Signal Wire Service Established on the Cripple Grade.

Jarbridge camp will not assist and that the Elko county commissioners, desiring to secure as much trade as possible for Elko, will do nothing. The fact is also mentioned that, notwithstanding the unsatisfactory condition of the roads, and the supplies, including everything eaten in camp, comes from Twin Falls, through Rocker, and most of it is sent by parcel post. The co-operation of the Jarbridge Commercial club is expected.

Relative to the signal on the Cripple grade, Mr. McMillan, has figures from a local firm, showing that a three way switch can be put in that a person going either up or down could turn in, illuminator at the other end, and could turn it off after passing the grade, showing the track clear. This would require two miles of wire, which would cost about $150 and batteries and signal devices cost $100, exclusive of the construction of the line after the material is secured.

MICHIGANITES HOLD BIG GET-TO-GETHER

Eighty-five Present Tuesday at Annual Picnic Held On the City Park Lawn

From one o'clock to half past seven Tuesday afternoon, eighty-five happy Michigan people held their annual picnic on the lawn of the city park and a very enjoyable time was passed by every one present. The get-together this year was bigger than ever and as those present had no objection to the officers of the past year, it was decided to hold them over for the coming year. The officers of the Twin Falls High school, on "Michigan's Resources," the picnic dinner was served at six o'clock and the favorite Michigan song on the Victrola kindly furnished by the Logan Music company, was "Down on the Farm."

An interesting feature of the picnic was the party given by little Dorothy Parks to about twenty of her friends in honor of her sixth birthday. A special table was prepared for the little ones and on it was placed a large birthday cake on which rested six candles.

HONEY DEW CURED BY STACKING HAY

Noted Agriculturist Gives Opinion to The Times

SAYS IT 'CRYSTALLIZES' IN GOING THROUGH THE SWEAT.

Clover Aphids and Apple Aphids Are Not the Same—Things Evil Is Much Overestimated.

"We are advised that where the red clover heads are freely infested with clover aphids and resulting honey dew, the seed crop should be stacked and left to dry through the sweat. Under such conditions the honey dew crystallizes, is blown out in threshing, and does not seriously affect the seed."

The above statement is part of a communication relative to the effect of green aphids contained in a letter received this week by THE TIMES from E. P. Stevens, the well known fruit and seed raiser of Nampa. Mr. Stevens further says:

"Two weeks ago we thought they were likely to do some harm. At this time we find they have almost entirely disappeared from or seemed to work in our 340 acres of clover in orchard. Two days ago when an examination of 24 heads of the red clover was made, in a patch we had this year, our foreman failed to find any clover aphids. We do not think that our crop will suffer appreciably from the clover aphids."

Relative to the alleged relationship between the clover aphids and the apple aphids, Mr. Stevens cites an opinion received by him from S. W. Foster, expert entomologist of the General Chemical company of San Francisco, to the effect that they are not the same. He quotes Mr. Foster as follows:

"The aphids on the clover is not the true apple aphid, and is known as the clover apple aphid, (aphis bakeri). The eggs of this species are usually deposited on fruit trees in the fall and when these hatch in the spring the aphids may feed for some time on the foliage of fruit trees, but usually go to clover or weeds by the time the first brood has reached maturity."

"The regular green apple aphid (aphis pomi) does not live on clover—at least such has never been reliably reported."

"Red clover in the orchards will have very little if anything to do with the prevalence of the regular green apple aphids on the trees."

"The dormant soluble oil will kill all of the eggs which are properly covered with the spray during the dormant season. Where weather conditions will permit, the best time to do the spraying would be in the late winter or early spring two or three weeks before the fruit buds begin swelling. For this purpose the dormant soluble oil should be used at the rate of twelve gallons for each 200 gallon tank of spray."

reservoir, down and sink to the bottom. We saw a few snakes while we were cleaning out the reservoir and told the men not to kill them for that reason."

At this point City Clerk R. M. Williams suggested that D. Patrick's find in his hydrant on "On Lakes boulevard was a fish, probably left in the system during the flushing and not a bona fide snake. He said that Mr. Patrick had shown it to him as a genuine reptile, but he had opened it up and showed the finder the bones of the fish. Mr. Porter was asked if Mr. Patrick had demanded the premium which he was to pay to anyone for any fish found after the flushing of the hydrants, to which the water commissioner replied in the negative. Mr. Porter mentioned the grass and weeds on the bank, saying that while green they kept much of the dust out of the reservoir, but added that they were getting dry now and shedding seed and that he would have them cut soon. He started with several visitors around the reservoir to show how the water was taken from the ditches, but the W. J. Connelly field through which the intake pipe runs was so badly overgrown that the party turned back. Mr. Porter was asked in regard to the screen in this pipe, and replied that it was coarse, containing a quarter inch mesh, and he said was the best that could be used at that point. Asked if a sink or trap could not have been placed at that outlet from the ditch during the time that the reservoir was being cleaned and finer screens placed in it, Mr. Porter said that this could have been done, were it not for the rule of the canal company forbidding the cutting of the ditch while full of water. He had suggested some arrangement, he said, but found that it could not be carried out. Very small fish might get through the quarter inch mesh, but no fish could get through the screens now in use at the outlet of the reservoir.

The visitors, after inspection, were called together by Mr. McMillan, R. A. Reed read resolutions, which he afterwards said were drafted at Mr. McMillan's suggestion and it was asked whether anyone objected to them. No body registered any protest, and it was suggested that those who approved allow their names to be read.

No visit was made to the clear well or filter, which are not now in use.

"The city has had a hard time with the waterworks," said City Clerk R. M. Williams after the examination had been completed, "as the old company let the system run down and endeavored only to make as much money as possible. When we started to clean it up, and put in needed new fixtures we found it almost impossible to get material owing to the present demand for supplies. When we did get part of what was needed, we found some things missing and had to telegraph all over the country. We spent more than fourteen dollars in telegrams one month and finally got the missing parts in Troy, New York, and had them shipped here by express. We now have as good and clean water as it is possible to get from the ditches without filtering."

The inspiration of the meeting seemed hard to discern. C. L. DeLong said before leaving town that they were going out to see what THE TIMES had seen. On being informed that the scope of THE TIMES investigation had been narrowed by reason of the refusal of Mr. Sheets to give information, Mr. DeLong said he thought the writers' pretensions and that the publicity would hurt the town. On being informed that nothing but the truth had been told he replied that while he did not believe in suppressing things and believed in publicity, yet he also believed that the criticism of the water system would hurt the town.

Referring to the resolutions H. J. Felling said that he did not intend by permitting his name to appear, to certify to the purity or satisfactory character of the present water supply, but that he did believe that all had been done that could be done with the present system, and that he understood that some investigating had been done on Rock Creek with a view of securing a purer supply. He admitted that the water had been bad and that there were a great many fish in it, but thought the publicity given was injurious to the city. He said he believed that some means could and should have been devised to prevent more fish from getting into the mains during the time that the reservoir was being repaired.

At the investigation in addition to those who who consented to allow their names to go on the paper were City Clerk R. M. Williams, Water Superintendent W. F. Porter; A. C. Sheets, manager of the chlorination plant; City Engineer James A. Bybee; City Treasurer H. E. Rounds; Councilmen R. A. Parrott, C. M. Smith and P. B. Bracker, and several employees of the system.
