Their Sails.

"I feel encouraged over the orchard situation on the Twin Falls tract," said T. George Bishop, of the Twin Falls Co-operative Orchard company Friday, as he left on his way to his home in Chicago after looking over his interests here. "I notice that some people are pulling up orchards or parts of orchards, mostly the inferior ones," continued Mr. Bishop, "but that does not discourage me at all. There have been very few planted in any part of the United States during the past five years and after a temporary slump in prices I believe that the orchards will pay. I am informed that the fruit growers organization proved a practical failure in the northwest, which must have been due to the selfishness of somebody. Organization is necessary and when the mistakes have been noted and corrected I anticipate that the sale of fruit through organized effort will prove successful."

"Speaking of cheap fruit, do you know that really good fruit was never cheap in Chicago. Ordinary fruit was very cheap at times, but the best quality of apples always commanded a good price. I am informed that the same is true to a great extent on the Twin Falls tract. Mr. Dalquist, who lives near Flier, told me that when fruit was very cheap, he went to Bush one day and saw boxes of apples in front of a grocery store marked at seventy-five cents. He asked the grocer if that was the best he could pay, and the merchant replied that if he had the same sort of apples that he sold the previous year, carefully picked and uniform throughout, they would command a dollar and a half a box. This is the idea. Only the best will command good prices. One good crop at good prices will pay for a farm and I believe that the future of fruit raising on the Twin Falls tract is bright."

"With reference to politics, things strike me as being about even in Illinois, with just a shade in favor of Wilson. The president stands much better there than he did a year ago and the current still runs in his direction. I know the Herald and Tribune people well and they are far from confident. The Herald is really Republican, though nominally independent. It used to be quite strongly against Wilson, but at present it is sometimes hard to tell from its utterances on which side it is to be found. The Tribune is Republican though it is less active than it was. The Herald publishes cut no figure in politics though they are bought by many of their news reports and feature articles. Hearst is regarded as utterly selfish and it has been noted that the men whom he supports are generally defeated. A few years ago he supported a split ticket and the men who received his support in almost every instance ran behind the rest of their tickets. His criticisms of the administration will not affect the vote one way or the other."

Bills—Took a Plunge in Pork and Indulged in High Finance.

Ab Tate is absent from Kimberly and George B. Tate, with whom he had some transactions in wine Thursday afternoon, desires to see him for an earnest tote a tote, regarding the value of a check for $15.75 which he gave as a quid pro quo for a hog and out taking the check to leave a deposit in the bank to cover it. The Noble store, M. Ferrenberg, and the Hotel Kimberly, as well as Sheriff Frank M. Kendall, are also interested in getting a line on Abner. The Noble store is holding the bag for a dollar, the hotel for two dollars and Mr. Ferrenberg for $2.75.

Abner came from Tennessee a couple of years ago. He claimed to be a distant relative of George B. Tate, and also posed as a dangerous character to prove which he put a hole through the wall of the pool hall with a .44. After this escapade he left the country and failed to show up until recently. On his return he found George B. Tate in possession of a fine shot and suddenly evinced a desire to get possession of the porker. George demurred for some time, during which the pig grew into a hog, but last Thursday afternoon closed the deal for $15.75. Ab took the pig and sent him to Charles Brown, who is in partnership with Wilson brothers in the hog business, for $15.40 cash. Then he decided to leave the country and to settle his bills before leaving, he gave checks at the time, so the trouble was not discovered until the next day. In the meantime George, cashed the check for $15.75 at the Wilson brothers store. When the condition of things was discovered Sheriff Kendall was notified, but as Ab had a good start, it was impossible to locate him.

SATISFY!

How America's largest cigarette manufacturer has accomplished "the Impossible" by producing a MILD cigarette that SATISFIES. It is the CHESTERFIELD Cigarette : : : : : : : :

ALMOST anybody can make a cup of coffee. But there are said to be not over a half-dozen restaurants in the United States where they know how to make it right.

Similarly, almost anyone can make a cigarette. Just roll up some tobacco in a piece of pure paper—and there you are.

There are, perhaps, over 800 brands of cigarettes sold in this country today. But not one of them does what Chesterfields do—for Chesterfields are MILD; and yet they SATISFY.

Some cigarettes may be mild, but they don't satisfy. Only one cigarette does BOTH—Chesterfield!

This truly unique cigarette has all of that refreshing taste—delicacy (or mildness) which any good cigarette must have. Yet, without sacrificing any of this delightful mildness, Chesterfields go one step further—they do more than merely "please your taste"—they let you know you've been smoking. They satisfy!

And yet they're mild!

A Step Forward in Cigarette-Making

WE are proud to be the firm that has brought about this important new development in cigarette enjoyment—for that is exactly what the Chesterfield blend* is.

This cigarette is an outgrowth of long, earnest effort on the part of this, the largest cigarette manufacturing concern in the United States.

The mild, yet satisfying Chesterfield blend is not the result of happy chance. It is one of the results of our many years of cigarette experience—of the heavy volume of our purchases of cigarette tobacco—of the prestige and advantage these enormous purchases give us in securing the choicest leaf from the tobacco fields of the world.

Chesterfields are an achievement.

A New Thing for a Cigarette to Do

CHESTERFIELDS do the one thing you have always wished a cigarette would do—they satisfy!

Smoke them and we believe you will find that ordinary cigarettes seem by comparison almost flat.

Give Chesterfields (20 for 10 cents) a trial. We believe you will be glad to learn what they can teach you about cigarette enjoyment.

* * *

You have been reading here some rather unusual, almost daring, statements about a cigarette. If Chesterfields were an untried cigarette—if we had not been observing their behavior in other cities—if we did not KNOW that they make good with smokers, we could not afford to make these statements to you over our signature.

But these statements, strong as they are, can mean little or nothing to you until you have actually smoked your first Chesterfield.

You will find that your own dealer has Chesterfields waiting for you.

THE CITY'S LIGHTING CONTRACT.

Whether the lighting system provided by the new contract with the Idaho Power company is satisfactory or not, is a matter for the people of Twin Falls to determine when they understand what lights will be used and where they are to be placed, or, better yet, when the new system has been installed and is under actual operation. It becomes apparent, of course, that the new system is incomparably superior to the old.

The old consisted of thirty-six arc lights, one 400-candle power lamp in the city park, fifty-six 60-candle power lamps scattered about the city and twenty-one cluster lights of something less than 200-candle power around the park, high school and court house.

The new system will include twenty-two 400-candle power incandescent lamps in the center of the city, on the principal streets, nineteen 250-candle power lamps located still further out, and one hundred and four 100-candle power lamps near the city limits, or between large lights, and the twenty-one cluster lights around the park and court house, in which, however, the candle power will be increased to 250 per cluster.

As to the cost, aside from the clusters, the new system provides for 145 lamps at a total cost of $4,175.50, as against eighty-seven lamps at a cost of $3,909, or fifty-eight more lamps at an increased cost of $267.50 a year. The 400-candle power lamps which take the place of the arc lights, cost $42.50 a year each, which is $20.50 less than the arcs. The 250-candle power lamps cost $35.50 each, while the one hundred and four 100-candle power lamps which take the place of the fifty 60-candle power lamps, cost $1.50 per annum per lamp less than the old ones.

At present the cluster lamps cost the city nothing for lighting, and under the terms of the new contract, they will cost nothing until February 1, 1917, the date of the expiration of the old contract, although the new contract in other respects goes into effect November 15, 1916. The cost of these lights after February 1, will be $640 a year.

The cost per lamp all down the line for the same candle power was reduced $1.50 a lamp, owing to the substitution of the new Idaho Power rate for the old Great Shoshone rate for such service by the public utilities commission. By reducing the candle power of the lamps from 600 to 400, and adding the saving from such reduction to the amount saved through the straight reduction per lamp on the entire system, they were enabled to secure eleven 100-candle power lamps more.

Without giving the actual, nominal candle power of the arc lights, which will be discarded with the inauguration of the new system, Manager R. B. King of the Idaho Power company states that the effective lighting power of one of the new 400-candle power lamps will approximately equal the lighting power of one of the arcs. However, he says that should the 400-candle power prove unsatisfactory in the center of the city, 600-candle power can be substituted. The light furnished by each of the lamps will be approximately the same as that furnished by the arc lamps, and the same will be true of the clusters.

Under the terms of the contract the city may at any time at its own expense install cluster lighting. The cost of a cluster light is six dollars a year less than the same candle power lamp where the company owns the apparatus. Should the city desire at any time within the first four years of its operation to install a cluster system, the company agrees to install the standards for actual cost, plus six per cent interest until paid. This was inserted in order to make it possible to install such system without a bond issue should it be deemed advisable to do so.

The installation of additional 100-candle power lamps at the extreme corners of the city at the new school building, the Beckel school building and in South Park, extends the system far beyond the limits of the present lighting system. In the future, it is deemed necessary to install 600-candle power lamps in place of some of the 400-candle power lights, the extra cost per lamp per year will be eight dollars.

Since the rates for municipal lighting are fixed by the public utilities commission, neither commendation nor blame can be attached to either the city or the company for the rates named. Since the schedule fixed by the public utilities commission for incandescent street lighting for the properties of the Idaho Power company furnished THE TIMES by the company does not include arc lamps or any incandescent street lamps under 100-candle power, it is not known at what rate the company would have been permitted to renew its contract without substituting new apparatus for that now in use. Certainly it is evident that the rates collected for the present lighting system would be high exorbitant, and material evidence for the future. Assuming that a contract would have been entered into for another term of years with the city in which the old lighting system should remain in use, the large expense involved in buying and installing new material could have been saved by the company. For some reason, however, the company has apparently determined to get rid of as far as possible of its old method of electrical distribution, for it has agreed to enter into new contracts under the present rate with Bull and several other cities, where the contracts still have several years to run. How much reduced cost of upkeep and expense under the modern methods, if anything, we cannot say, but the discarding of the old system is in itself commendable, whatever the reason for its abolishment.

Under the rulings of the public utilities commission the rates for a ten-year contract are materially lower than for a five-year contract. For instance, a 100-candle power lamp costs $29 for five years, $26 for seven and a half years and $24.50 for ten years. The same proportionate reduction for long time contracts applies to lights of all candle power.

NEW BOND ELECTION ASKED FOR RURAL HIGH

Four Districts Voting Favorably Will Proceed With the Plan For a High School

At a meeting last Saturday evening at which two members of each board of the districts voting for the rural high school were present, says the Pler Journal, the four districts which have an approximate valuation of $1,700,000, and build the central high school.

The next step will be to petition the county commissioners to appoint a board of five members who will have the matter in charge and who will call a bond election. This board will also purchase the building site. The bond election will probably be held at an early date.

DR. BAUGH BUILDING AT LAST ASSURED

The Story Modern Structure Will Be Constructed On the Corner of Shoshone and Main At Once

Samuel Hays of Boise, who was in the city last week, stated that the long-promised "modern building" for Dr. Baugh contemplated erecting on the corner of Shoshone and Main. He said that Dr. Baugh had been offered a loan through a company represented by Mr. Hays and would proceed at once to build the building, which would stand on the corner, and would be a tender of rent for the further use of the ground he occupies has been refused and that he has been promised a place in the new structure.

HOSPITAL APPEAL

OPENED MONDAY

Day Spent In Hearing Testimony About Conditions

NEED OF HOSPITAL OF SIZE PLANNED NOT QUESTION.

Matter of Keeping Paupers in Sewer Building and Maintaining Eighteen Baths Also Inquired Into.

Having listened to testimony with reference to the necessity for a county hospital all day Monday, on appeal taken from the action of the commissioners of the county, the court adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning to hear the rest of the evidence and the arguments of the attorneys. The lawyers seemed most interested in the question of fact as to whether a hospital of the size provided for in the contract entered into by the county with the W. E. Reed company was necessary now or would probably be necessary within a reasonable time, and the question of law as to whether the contract would legally enter into such contract without either having the money on hand to pay for it or without making a loan sufficient to cover the balance prior to making the contract.

With reference to the last point, there is now available, according to the testimony of the county commissioners, between $12,000 and $14,000 in the general fund which may be used in the ordinary course of events be applied to the construction of the hospital, and the commissioners testified that they intended to make a special levy at their meeting next Monday to complete the work. Judge Babcock said that he was not clear as to the materiality of the testimony as to what their intentions were, as they might change at any time, but he permitted them to testify in regard to how they expected to pay for the hospital. Judge Babcock ruled that testimony to the fact that certain sums of money would be available under ordinary conditions was relevant, and it was objected that an unexpected emergency might arise. He also held that any intention which might have been announced by members of the board to take in any patients, at the time the contract was let, was immaterial, if the ultimate purpose of the board was to build a hospital such as was required for the county's needs and if in fact such hospital were needed.

The commissioners testified that the state sanitary board had condemned the old Cottage Inn as a place for paupers, the indigent sick and aged and had ordered them to cease to use it for hospital purposes. They said that the hospital facilities were insufficient to receive the indigent sick and that they had no assurance at any time that they could get into any of the hospitals in the city or county. Some of those slightly sick had been in the old county hospital in the Cottage Inn, while those seriously sick were taken to the regular hospital. A number of poor were treated in the homes in shacks about the city. There was now no need of the county hospital, the old "dump" once owned by the city had been abandoned. They testified that while all the rooms in the hospital would not be used at once, perhaps for some time, the hospital was needed for the indigent poor within a few years should the city and county population increase at its present rate in the future. It developed that the number of indigent sick actually confined in the Cottage Inn at any one time was great. Dr. W. P. Pike, a former county physician, said that he had at one time numbered thirteen during his terms as county physician, while at the same time many on the outside. Mrs. Lena Fritz, who recently resigned as manager, said that during her incumbency the average number was five, but that she did not know how many were taken care of at the homes or at the other hospitals. Those seriously sick were taken care of in the regular hospital, while the others in the Cottage Inn were "suffering" from disabling accidents and not otherwise seriously ill. The members of the board testified that they had the largest number in the inn at any one time was from fifteen to twenty. They kept as many as possible in their homes, under present conditions. Were conditions changed they would move them to the hospital.

Dr. C. W. Morgan, county physician, Dr. C. R. Morgan, Dr. J. H. Coughlin, Dr. D. L. Alexander and Dr. J. H. Coughlin testified that a number of people in the city were in need of hospital care from trouble requiring an operation, many who were too poor to pay for hospital care, would not ask aid from the county, but would go to the hospital if owned by the county and accept service there. They said that they were common with other physicians had treated cases where they had only donated their services but had paid for the hospital charges and medicines, but for which no bills had been drawn or would be presented to the county. These people as well as those requiring operations and not asked for aid from the county, were frequently people who could not afford to pay for hospital care.

The attorney for Dr. Lloyd cross-examined those testifying for the county in regard to the availability of using the county hospital for the care of the relatively healthy paupers who are able to work. The plan is to house them in the same building as the sick. The testimony was in regard to the wisdom of doing this, the witnesses called for the county testifying that all of the county to give them, and that they could be kept from disturbing the sick by proper discipline. "There are liable to be epileptics and people with other diseases like that," said the paupers; would you recommend that they be kept in the same building?" he asked of Dr. Morgan. The witness hesitated, and finally said that he would, adding that it might not be his best recommendation. Dr. Pike answered the same question affirmatively. Dr. Coughlin said that as a matter of personal preference, he would rather have the paupers in better health kept in another building, but he did not think that it was much better to have them so kept. Asked if he would recommend that they be kept in the same building, he said that he was not making any recommendations.

Dr. Alexander was asked if the well paupers would not make a great deal of noise and disturb the sick people, to which he replied that sick patients undergoing a painful operation would likely make a great deal more noise than the well inmates.

The fact that eighteen rooms had been provided with baths caused many searching inquiries, the testimony of the witnesses called by the county being substantially to the effect that the providing of baths in the rooms was advisable if not necessary. The providing of two operating rooms was also gone over, the witnesses for the county generally testifying that it was not necessary to have such in a thoroughly equipped hospital.

Called to the stand, Dr. T. O. Boyd said that he was a small stockholder in the hospital association; that he was manager of the business of the corporation, which owned the Twin Falls hospital; that the association owned the building and grounds but did not conduct the hospital, which was run by others under the management of Miss M. Tracy; that he brought his patients to this hospital, but did not make rules for it and that while there were some general rules prescribed for physicians who might bring patients there, and some physicians barred out of performing operations, he did not make such rules. He said that this hospital could take care of fifty beds if crowded. The hospital maintained a free ward for those unable to pay for services and many were treated from time to time, but just how many he could not say. He regarded the proposed hospital as entirely too big for present needs or for probable needs in the immediate future. A hospital could be erected for $10,000 that would take care of the indigent sick. This would provide for 10 beds, in wards and other extra needed rooms. Should the city grow outside of its present limits, the hospital could be used for other purposes, or if built for that purpose could be increased in size. He thought it was economy even if the county were apt to outgrow it in a short time, which he thought improbable. The testimony showed that those kept in the Cottage Inn decreased rather than increased in number and he looked for no great increase in the number of people requiring operations that were not treated at home. If the hospital were built, he had had experience with keeping well paupers in the Twin Falls hospital. He had the contract with the county. He did not recall whether he had any well poor the first time. If he had they were unsatisfactory. On the second occasion he had planned to segregate them but this proved unsatisfactory and impractical and he believed that the hospital would be used for indigent and physicians in securing the best results.

On cross examination, he said that his $10,000 hospital did not compare keeping other those suffering from contagious diseases or the healthy poor under the same roof as the indigent sick and that other places would be required for their care.

Dr. C. R. Scott said that the plan to keep the healthy poor under the same roof as the indigent sick was not well advised.

FILER SUFFERS FROM BIG FIRE

Four Buildings Destroyed By Flames This Morning

CAUSE OF THE CONFLAGRATION HAS NOT BEEN DISCOVERED.

Heroic Efforts of Firemen Prevent Further Spread—Mrs. J. W. Tanner Prevents Bad Oil Explosion.

Fire from an unknown cause, which broke out in the store of E. N. Stoughton in the H. H. Schildman frame building on Main street in Filer at 3:30 o'clock this morning, burned the structure and its contents and three other adjoining buildings, and destroyed two plate glass windows across the street, causing a loss of $25,000, partly covered by insurance.

Guy Reinhold, who is a clerk in the Stoughton store, awoke to find it in flames. He says that he heard nothing of the explosion which several others say they heard just before the fire started, and he is suggested that the shock woke him and that he did not realize that there was an explosion. The flames were already beyond control when discovered. Mrs. J. W. Tanner, who lives nearby, says she heard the explosion and dressing hastily ran out and met Reinhold going to the fire.

The fire spread rapidly to the adjoining structure, also owned by Mr. Schildman. This was occupied by its owner as an office and also by the real estate office of Cass & Anderson. The occupants got most of their effects out. The double frame building belonging to I. Finney next caught fire and when it was realized that it was doomed and that the flames would spread still further unless checked, the fire company tore it out of the way and stopped the progress of the conflagration. One side of this building was occupied by Wilcox & Flemming's barber shop and the other by Dr. Dwight, the physician, and Dr. Burke, the dentist; James McCaffrey, the tailor; the Pastime pool hall, and the grocery conducted by C. and L. A. Small, were emptied of their contents by their owners, and considerable loss sustained by moving and breaking up of the goods saved at the burning buildings. C. A. Love refused to move anything out of his new brick block on the corner of Yak and Main streets, and fought off the spread of the flames from the roof successfully. The work of the fire company is praised by everybody.

A building containing a large quantity of oil in a tank was located at the rear of the Stoughton store, and near the home of the Filer Journal. The men were afraid to approach this lest the oil explode, but Mrs. Tanner got wet blankets and covered it, so that it was not damaged. Had this oil caught fire, the total damage would have been much greater as other adjoining buildings would inevitably have burned down.

The plate glass windows in the Tanner building across the street, occupied by the postoffice and Macaulay's store, were cracked by the heat, but the lucky use of wet blankets saved the plate glass in the other Tanner buildings from like fate.

The value of the Stoughton stock is estimated at $21,000, covered by $10,000 insurance. The two Schildman buildings were valued at $3500 and insured for $2000. The Finney buildings were worth $1000 or slightly less. It is not known whether these were insured or not as Mr. Finney lives in California and the shop carried a small amount of insurance.

Mr. Schildman stated today that he would replace the building on his lots by substantial brick structure. Mr. Stoughton recently purchased the business from Mr. Schildman. He was in Pocatello at the time that the fire broke out.

THE MUTUAL GIRL AND HER AUNTIE

LUCILLE: Auntie I am going to take a course at the Twin Falls Business College.

AUNTIE: What is the idea, Lucille?

LUCILLE: Well, I have always wanted to take a business course. There is no use for me to be dependent on you always. I believe a girl who is independent is worth more to the world than if she depends on her people always.

AUNTIE: You are not a burden on us by any means, but I admire your tendency to be self-supporting, anyway. There is no doubt about it, all young people would be more able to cope with the world intelligently and successfully if they would take a good business course. Business men now days must be fitted for business or be left far behind, and girls are far more able to take care of themselves and their property if they have any, if they are thoroughly prepared before hand. I absolutely approve of your taking a business course, even though you may never use it to earn a living.

MORAL: PREPAREDNESS IS THE WATCHWORD OF THE HOUR. NOT ONLY IN WAR BUT IN LIFE AS WELL. YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN BE PREPARED TO TAKE YOUR PLACE IN LIFE WITH CREDIT AND SUCCESS.

They spent the last two weeks, and report having had a good time.

Rev. and Mrs. M. Van Patten returned from the river Wednesday where they have been spending a month's vacation. They have been camping in the Banbury cabin near Boy canyon and report having had a pleasant trip.

Some of the local company were camping at the river during most of the month.

E. S. Swanner is having a new house built—H. H. Hulse—across the street from the J. W. Faris home and at the corner of the city park.

The new house will be a six-room bungalow style and is under construction as the one now occupied by the home where Mr. Van Patten lives. The old house will be moved to a lot further away from the river.

Some one who wears about a number eight shoe, left his foot prints in the new cement sidewalk that was recently laid in the front of the city smith shop. J. W. Giesentanner is putting the walks in, and he had placed obstructions across them at the alley. C. A. and would walk on it. The party who marred the walk climbed over six of these obstructions in order to go on the fresh walk.

T. J. Powell who received a broken leg in a runaway about ten weeks ago, was able to be out last Friday for the first time. He came to town in a R. H. Kunkin rig. The leg has not been taken out of the cast. However, the bone is beginning to heal and the doctor expects to be able to remove the cast some time this week.

Powell received the broken leg when the horse he was driving to a single rig became frightened and ran away. Mr. Powell's leg got out into the wheel, breaking it above the knee.

At the county division meeting held in the Buhl high school building Tuesday evening, lots for the purpose of discussing the pros and cons on the county division issue, the opposition candidates from the east end of the county failed to show up. The meeting was largely attended, and it was addressed by M. D. Woods, J. W. Faris and J. W. Taylor, besides the west end candidates. The legislation of both Mr. Barker and Mr. Nihart were present and each gave an interesting talk.

Olsen, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Olson, died at her home six miles northwest of Buhl last Monday at 1:00 p. m. after a sickness of twenty-five days with typhoid fever. She leaves a father and mother and two sisters and one brother to mourn her death.

There were 349 tons of roughed Hampshire sheep the first of the week, which they had purchased in Oakley. They drove the sheep to their place south of town Wednesday morning. With this additional bunch they have now a total of 1000 head, and comprise one of the best bands in this part of the state.

John Millin, who lives west of Buhl, has sold his sheep to the Farmers Union, sold eleven of his sheep to the Farmers Union last week, and they averaged 125 pounds each. The sheeps were sold for $4.00 a head, and the old when he sold them. Mr. Millin said that the ones he sold were among the smaller ones, as he is keeping the larger ones for the purpose of the litters for breeding purposes.

All of the clothing stores, dry goods stores, grocery stores, hardware stores, furniture and department stores in Buhl formed an agreement this week to close at 6:00 p. m. every night during the week, except Saturday night. They also agreed to observe the following six holidays, and to close the stores during the entire day of each: New Years, Decoration Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Gertie Ward, daughter of Mrs. E. S. Ward, who lives in the east part of the city, shot herself through the hand with a 45-caliber automatic revolver last week. She was playing with the gun, not knowing it was loaded, except that it was accidentally discharged. The bullet passed through the palm of her left hand, missing the bone near the little finger. Medical aid was given at once, and the wound is healing rapidly. She considers herself fortunate to have escaped with such slight injury.

It is likely that she would have had to have the finger amputated.

The Idaho Mercantile company, located at the corner of Main and Broadway, will begin business on September 15, if there is no delay in the arrival of the goods. All the carpenter work is completed, and the building is expected to be the interior finishing in connection with the installation of the fixtures. Fifteen thousand dollars worth of furniture and fixtures are to arrive the latter part of this week, and when they have been installed, the new concern will be one of the largest in the city.

Stores in this part of Idaho. It is said that none of the Twin Falls department stores will outlive it.

IMPORTANT PAVING ORDINANCE PASSED

Council Enacts Intentional Law For Eighth Avenue

WILL EXTEND FROM ADDISON TO BLUE LAKES BOULEVARD.

Sign Ordinances Ordered Changed—Water Commissioner Has Plan For Water Distribution.

Owing to the indisposition of Mayor Sweeley, the council adjourned last night before it had carried out its entire program, the only important act done being the passing of an ordinance for the paving of Eighth avenue east and Eighth avenue north from Addison avenue to Blue Lakes boulevard, and setting October 2 as the date for hearing protests. All the property owners on the streets named except five had signed the petition which calls for the raising of the grade, the enclosing of the big ditch in concrete walls with a reinforced concrete top and the paving and parking of the streets at a total estimated cost of $18,500.

The business of the meeting opened with a request from K. Packard that he be allowed to put his news stand on the parking next to the Hutto building on the corner of Shoshone street and Second avenue north during the construction of the proposed Dr. Baugh building, after which he would get room in the new structure, the council voted to allow him to place subject to the street committee's decision as to space and location.

Thomas Higgins and two others wanted to have sidewalks and part of Elizabeth avenue, a matter which was turned over to the city engineer and street committee.

R. B. King in behalf of the Idaho Power company, appeared before the council and said that Macauley brothers had purchased a sign fourteen feet long to put in front of their place of business. On the arrival of the sign it was discovered that it extended further than the ordinance permitted—eight feet—no sign should extend more than ten feet. The council said that one or two signs had been erected in violation of this ordinance under previous administration. It was thought that under the present rule of fifteen feet sidewalks on the principal streets no harm would come by allowing the sign to extend as far as the curbline provided that they complied with the ordinance in respect to the methods of hanging. It was voted to amend the ordinance to provide that signs properly hung might extend as far as the curbline, and the city attorney was ordered to draft the proper amendment for the ordinance. Hereafter the approval of the city electrician must accompany each sign application.

Mr. King also said that he had a chance to get plain steel poles for delivery eight months hence. He thought that if there were no probability of installing an ornamental light system for a number of years the city might be interested in this fact. It might use these instead of the usual method of hanging lights at the points where it was originally intended to install 600-candle power lights. This would increase the cost considerably and if the city intended to install an ornamental lighting system this would be inadvisable. The council said that the present administration would be out of office by the time the poles would come and while personally they thought that the system might prove superior to the present, and while they further thought it unlikely that the ornamental cluster system would be installed for some time, they would not make any bargain providing for the purchase of the poles. Mr. King intimated that he could reserve some poles in any event.

L. T. Warner was on hand with a speech about the condition of water pressure in the East Lawn addition, which he still has in his possession, inasmuch as the mayor indicated that nothing would be stirring in the water situation last night. Later on Water Commissioner Porter said that he had a plan worked out for the improvement of the water system by increasing its pressure. Mayor Sweeley said that this would be taken up at a special meeting. The plan provides for the running of a sixteen-inch main a block or two blocks on either side of Shoshone street from which water will be distributed. It is claimed that the district where it is now insufficient. Having passed the intentional ordinance on the Eighth avenue paving, the council passed a similar ordinance for sidewalks for several blocks on Tenth street east. A petition for a short sidewalk on Seventh avenue east led to a recommendation of the council that Street Commissioner Porter make a list of sidewalks that should be put in throughout town and recommend action on them, thus preventing the installation of sidewalks in patches.

At this point Mayor Sweeley announced that owing to severe headache he would ask the council to transact such business as was absolutely necessary and adjourn. The council did so, allowing bills and letting other matters go over until the next regular meeting.

ATHERTON WINS G.O.P. NOMINATION

Neck and Neck Race Between Him and Barker

DIVISIONISTS PLAN TO RUN FARIS AS INDEPENDENT.

Nihart Gets a Big Vote and Is Nominated—Castleford Turns Down Cause of Division.

The Republican state senatorial contest ended today in the nomination of S. P. Atherton by a narrow margin over J. H. Barker, the divisionist candidate, according to returns received. On the face of returns so far received by THE TIMES, Barker has a lead of six votes, but the precincts yet to be heard from are all against division and will give Atherton more votes than the division candidate, while the second choice votes will still further increase this advantage.

Buhl gave 616 votes to Barker and only 64 to his opponents. Some of the voters there announced tonight that they expected to run J. W. Faris as an independent candidate for the senate against Atherton and Alworth. Swim is third in the Republican race. The Nihart vote proved a surprise to everybody and his place on the Republican ticket is assured, largely as a result of the sprinkling of Twin Falls and east and voters, who gave him their suffrages. Castleford showed by his vote that also has small interest in the divisionist cause by giving a vote more to Swim than Barker received. Less than one-fourth of the total vote at that precinct went to the divisionist candidate.

Herriman for sheriff; Wilcox for assessor; Britton, Wolfe for superintendent; C. A. Emes for coronor, and O. P. Duval for probate judge, complete the ticket and E. B. Williams for commissioner appeared to be victorious in the contested places on the Republican ticket, while J. E. Davies for county attorney; Dr. D. F. Albee for commissioner, and Frank Kendall for sheriff seem assured of places on the Democratic ticket.

Mrs. D. D. Alvord last week entertained the Misses Agnes Hart, Marguerite Putnam and Elizabeth Dubois of Blackfoot, who is visiting Miss Hart. After a delicious four-course dinner the guests were entertained at a threeparty.

Horse Power

From This Powerful MAXWELL ENGINE

Almost 34 horse-power from this regular stock Maxwell engine!

34 actual, brake horse-power!

Proved by an accurate dynamometer test, made in the Maxwell laboratories August 10, 1916.

There has been a lot of talk about horse-power, and we just want to let Maxwell owners and prospective owners know that in respect to horse-power, as in most other respects, the Maxwell leads by a comfortable margin. Not that we attach such great importance to horse-power. We don't. We never have.

Horse-power—abundant—horse-power—is only one of many superior features of the Maxwell.

We are selling motor cars—complete motor cars—not engines or horse-power.

Horse-power is a matter that is secondary to motor efficiency and economy.

A giant has no advantage if he does not apply, or wrongly applies, his strength.

Maxwell cars have horse-power—all you want or need—probably more per pound of car weight than any other automobile in the world.

But we don't make any loud cry about it.

Because we have more than horse-power to sell you.

Because you are, and should be, interested in results, the net effectiveness of power.

We challenge competitive tests. We invite comparison.

Because we absolutely know that no car of its class or weight can surpass the Maxwell on speedways, on rough roads, through sand or mud, anywhere.

And because we know, and you will know, that, everything considered, the Maxwell is the World's Greatest Motor Car Value!
