

WILSON DAY AT THE PARISH HALL

Clarence Van Deusen Will Speak Saturday Night

WILSON CLUB WILL OBSERVE THE OCCASION.

Public Invited to Hear Issues Discussed by a Speaker of Statewide Fame.

The meeting for Clarence Van Deusen, candidate for state auditor, has been set for Saturday night at the Parish hall, under the auspices of the Wilson club, the occasion being the celebration of Woodrow Wilson day. Mr. Van Deusen will speak at 8 o'clock in the afternoon and at 4 o'clock. He will be at Hollister next Tuesday afternoon. All have been invited by the Wilson and Marshall club to attend the Parish hall meeting.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB HAS INTERESTING MEETING

Guests of Club Are Enthusiastic Over Co-Operation Shown by Organizations of This Section.

Tuesday afternoon at the Twentieth Century club, in charge of Mrs. McCracken Packard. After a piano solo by Mrs. Gubert, that was heartily enjoyed, Mrs. Dwight sang in her usual pleasing manner. Mrs. M. J. Sweoley, the newly elected president of the club, was then asked to tell of her visit to the Utah state federation meeting in Salt Lake. Of particular interest to the people of the Twin Falls tract were the reports of Mrs. McMahon and Mrs. Spangler, who were guests at the convention here. They were enthusiastic over the co-operation or "team work" shown by the clubs of this section. They also said that this Idaho federation was working hard to advertise the Twin Falls tract than any other convention held here. Mrs. Sweoley then said that the year would be devoted to increasing the university loan fund. The clubs all over the state were to bring this fund to a point where it will compare favorably with the funds of the other states near us.

Several out-of-town guests were present, who were asked to say a few words. They were Mrs. F. B. Bole, Mrs. Curtis and Mrs. J. W. Faris of Buhl, Mrs. H. H. Schildman of Filer, and Mrs. Moore of Maroon.

An social cup of tea the club adjourned.

The afternoon of October 31 will be in charge of Mrs. Witford Olsen. There will be a novel and amusing features, and the program will be well worth hearing.

The musical department will meet on Thursday, October 31, at the home of Mrs. Gubert at 2:30 sharp. The meetings will be weekly, and the first work to be taken up is the visiting off the opera "The Naxos" by Edmond Audran.

The current events department will meet at the commercial club rooms on Wednesday, November 8, at 2:30. The study of Alaska will be begun at this meeting.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS MEETING A SUCCESS

Large Attendance From Surrounding Country and Fine Program Given.

Out of town guests from eleven camps of Royal Neighbors attended the meeting provided over here last week by Supreme Orator Myra B. Earlight, assisted by national and state officers. The first day's session closed with light refreshments. The afternoon session of the second day was taken up with instructions by the visiting off orders. At 8:30 a banquet was served at the Parish hall by the Episcopal ladies, at which 150 persons were laid.

Music was furnished by Maudie A. N. Sprague and D. E. Rogan and W. Wotrol.

At night a class of fifty was initiated. The visiting group united praise to the team for its fine work in conferring degrees.

ODD FELLOWS HOME FROM GRAND LODGE

The delegation of Odd Fellows and Hebeahs who attended the meetings of the grand lodges of the respective orders in Council of Idaho last week are back again. George B. Schweiger was elected deputy grand master, while S. H. Stanley and G. W. Daugherty occupied chairmanships on important committees.

CALL ENDORSES JUDGE L. HANSEN

Republican Paper Suggests That Politics Be Laid Aside and Election Made Unanimous.

In an editorial in which its allegiance to the Republican party is reiterated, the Idaho Call, published at Kimberly, suggests that partisanship be laid aside and that the people of Twin Falls county join unanimously in the election of Judge Lawrence Hansen, one of the Democratic legislative nominees. The life history of the pioneer is set forth at length and his place as a citizen is eulogized. His service on the board of trustees of the Albion State Normal school is praised and his long career as justice of the peace is mentioned with words of warm endorsement. The Call says:

"While the Idaho Call is supporting the Republican party in the present campaign it is a pleasure to say a word in behalf of the candidacy of Judge Lawrence Hansen, of Hansen. Mr. Hansen belongs to that line that is rapidly disappearing from Idaho—those hardy old pioneers who came here forty years ago when pioneering in the western states meant something different from the 'pioneering' of the settlers on the Twin Falls tract.

"Mr. Hansen's residence here dates from 1877, when he came to this state from Indianapolis, Indiana, to which state he had emigrated from Denmark in 1869. He located at Rock Creek and engaged in farming and stock raising, being actively engaged in that industry until a few years ago, when he felt that he had earned a rest. During the eight years he was in Indianapolis he followed a trade he had mastered in Denmark, that of carpenter and millwright. Two years after locating at Rock Creek he was elected to the position of justice of the peace, and has been re-elected to the position each successive term since that time, having the distinction, perhaps of holding the office of justice of the peace for a longer period than any other man in the state, and his record is surpassed by few in the county. Though making his home at Hansen at the present time, he still votes at Rock Creek and is still justice of the peace.

"In 1902 he was appointed a member of the board of trustees of the Albion State Normal school, and was reappointed successively until he had served ten years. He was reappointed for a sixth year by Governor Haines, but did not desire to serve longer. At the first board meeting after Judge Hansen was appointed he was elected president of the board, and he held that office during the next years he was on the board. It was while he was a member of the board that the Albion State Normal school was founded, and he has since that time been a period of usefulness which has grown and extended with each succeeding year.

"The town of Hansen was named for Judge Hansen and a few years ago he built a modest little home here, and was preparing to spend the remainder of his life here. He was within a half hour's drive of his Rock Creek home and property, the scene of his labor for nearly thirty years, and he was ready to give up his life to lose his life companion and a daughter when they were killed in an automobile accident near Twin Falls.

"The judge is an old vigorous man of his age, and he is fully able to discharge the duties of a legislator while the people of the county elect him.

"It isn't necessary to say anything about how Judge Hansen stands on the various issues. Ask any citizen what kind of a citizen Judge Hansen is and he will tell you that there isn't a squarer man in Idaho or any other state.

"In speaking of his candidacy he stated frankly that he did not desire to be a candidate, but that some of his friends wanted him to let his name go before the people. 'I am not going to make an extensive campaign,' he stated, 'but I am in the race for the people. I am not afraid but I can give a good account of myself.'

"What a record it would be if partisan politics could be laid aside and the pioneers of '04 and '06 could join the pioneers of the '70s and '80s in electing a man who has made Judge Hansen's election unanimous in recognition of a sterling citizen and his services to the state!"

CHARGED WITH BOOZE.

Leo Hansen, W. G. McCoy, W. G. Bricky and W. N. Rose were arrested Wednesday morning on charges of the charge having booze in their possession. Rose entered a plea of guilty and was bound over to the district court. Hansen pleaded guilty and his preliminary was set for today.

JAPS IN THE TOWNS.

Frank Sato and Sam Kawa of Buhl were arrested this week charged with improper relations with a white girl in the town of Buhl. The two were found guilty and sentenced to six months by Judge Odell. Kawa's trial is set for today.

"I AM FOR WILSON," SAYS R. S. LOVETT, HEAD OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY

NEW YORK—Robert S. Lovett, head of the Union Pacific railway system, in a statement comes out for President Wilson. "In his statement he says:

"Notwithstanding his action in the eight hour day controversy, I am for Wilson. That was a mistake and a serious one, but we all make mistakes. We must be judged by the average of achievements. My firm conviction is that Wilson has more great achievements to his credit than most presidents who have preceded him.

"Wilson settled the currency question, settled it effectively and wisely that his most reckless critics are silent upon the subject.

"His management of our relations to the European war situation is the greatest and most brilliant page in our diplomatic history."

"Scratch Nihart" Repeats J. A. Waters in Forcible Reply to Faris' Criticism

Republican Representative Charges Nihart With Improper Methods in Previous Work for Division of County.

Returning to the charge, Hon. Jas. A. Waters in a reply to Hon. J. W. Faris, made public today, again advises all Republicans who are opposed to county division to "scratch Nihart." Mr. Waters denies that he meant to intimate that Mr. Faris in any way acted in a dishonorable manner and says that his conduct in this respect was in striking contrast with that of Mr. Nihart when the latter was in the legislature. He charges Mr. Nihart with unfairness and says that he secured the defeat of the agricultural school bill, by dickering with the representatives and senators from North Idaho for votes for county division. Lastly, Mr. Waters demands to know by what right Mr. Faris, a Democrat, takes a Republican county central committee to endorse Fred Nihart.

The letter follows:

Hon. J. W. Faris, Buhl, Idaho.

I have no disposition to engage in a newspaper controversy with anyone, and as neither you or I are candidates for office, I have no personal reference to the extent of saying that I had good and honest motive for every legislative vote I cast, and for every action I took in time and place to defend my every action. I feel, nevertheless, that your open letter of recent date merits a reply.

You seem to think that I made a personal attack upon the integrity of your legislative record. That is a distortion of the facts. I think that your over-sensitive nature has caused you to read between the lines and to find victory for your personal worded not intended. No, Mr. Faris, I cast no insinuation against your legislative effort for county division two years ago, nor do I accuse you of "double crossing" anyone, for you had warned the voters before election day as to what would be your action. Your action in this respect but emphasizes in contrast the action of Fred Nihart when he was a member of the legislature four years ago. Then, he had been entrusted with the affairs of the entire county, and sent to Boise on the result of the vote from every community. But when the session was drawing to a close, he was not consulting his general constituency, and taking counsel only with a few politicians and lot owners in Buhl, plunged headlong into the effort to divide the county. He even in his last to obtain a county seat for his home town (incidentally securing for himself a fat personal position) so far forgot his obligation to those he was presumed to represent as to fight and secure the defeat of a bill which bore his name, and all because the passage of that bill, which provided for the location of an Agricultural school down here, would benefit those who opposed his division scheme. Naturally, the university interests of North Idaho opposed our demand for an agricultural school, and Mr. Nihart, making common cause with the enemies of the county, secured the university support for his plan. The result was that the senator from Latah county representing the university interests was so mindful of the defeat of Mr. Nihart's plan, that he was so loyal to the conditions of his bargain, that he voted for the county division bill in the senate. This is no reckless charge, but can be proven by C. E. Booth, the

CAPTAIN H. W. WILSON RETURNED TODAY

Popular Physician Looks Thin As Result of Wound, But Appears Otherwise Healthy.

"I am so much overcome by this reception that I am unable to say any more," said Captain H. W. Wilson with deep emotion today as a TIMES reporter on his return from the border, where he was wounded some weeks ago. The band accompanied by a vast concourse of citizens assembled at the Oregon Short Line depot to greet the popular physician on his return. Captain Wilson walked on crutches, but made his way unaided. He looked thinner than when he left, but his flesh had a healthy glow and he appeared several years younger. A wild shout with cries for Doctor Wilson arose when he appeared. In reply the "question" from Captain James Riley, U. S. A. he said: "Things are about the same down there as when you were on the border; there is not much difference."

TWIN FALLS WINS HER FOURTH GAME

Shoshone is Defeated 33 to 0 on Own Territory

VICTORY IS DUE TO CONSISTENT PLAYING OF LOCALS.

Neuman, McCracken, Holler and Holderman Make Touchdown—Twin Falls Passes Up With Success.

The Twin Falls high football team scored its fourth consecutive victory last Friday by defeating Shoshone high by the score of 33-0, on Shoshone territory. The local boys played a consistent game throughout, and were rewarded by an overwhelming victory.

Shoshone received the ball at the beginning of the first quarter and returned it to the thirty yard line. Twin held them for downs, and upon taking the ball returned it rapidly, in spite of the fact that Twin Falls was three to the half and back of the line from the line of scrimmage. Neuman carrying the ball across the line, after which he kicked goal.

For the remainder of the quarter Shoshone worked fairly hard, keeping the boys from scoring again.

During the second quarter Shoshone tried a few wicked works with such good success that Twin had to go down to the line of scrimmage. Neuman carried the ball across the line on a wide run. Neuman again kicked goal.

The half ended with the ball in Shoshone territory, in Twin Falls possession.

The regular team played the second half and almost doubled the score in the third quarter. Passes were used to a great extent, few of them being intercepted. McCracken repeated his performance of the second quarter and Holderman kicked goal. Holderman made a touchdown on his pass a few minutes later. The goal was missed.

During the third quarter Twin Falls men sustained minor injuries and the Shoshone line materially weakened by having their quarter knocked out. Shoshone tried their fake, twice, without gain, and Twin Falls took the ball again. On the second two yard line Holler broke the ball in the line for the fifth touchdown of the game. The goal was missed again.

The half ended with the ball in Shoshone territory, in Twin Falls possession. The next game will be held here with Rupert, Friday, the 28th. This will be the fifth game of the season, and a lively one is anticipated.

The last league game is to be played with Burley, a week from Friday. This will probably decide the championship of the league.

SHORT LINE PLANS TO BALLAST TRACK

Officials Assure James McMahon That They Will Recommend an Appropriation.

That the officials of the Oregon Short Line will recommend the ballasting of the road from here to Burley, Idaho, was stated in a statement that several of them made to James McMahon, secretary of the Commercial club at this city, Tuesday. Mr. McMahon stated that they stated that they would place the item in the next annual budget and try to have it adopted.

BOND ELECTION ON IN BUHL

Independent District Again Submits Proposition

CASTLEFORD MAN PREDICTS THAT IT WILL CARRY.

Says People of His Precinct Are Willing to Give Fair Hearing to Hansen Bridge Plan.

"We are pushing a bond election for good roads in the independent district, and when the votes are counted I feel certain that it will carry this time," said Ed S. Cause, of Castleford, to a TIMES reporter Tuesday afternoon. "The farmers are convinced that they need good highways," he continued, "and they are going to vote for them." The bonds sold a little short of the required two-thirds the last time, but since then many of those who voted against them have been thinking the matter over and have changed their minds. They discovered that the wear and tear on their harness and wagons pulling over chuck holes and rutted roads was not going to be paid on the required bonds, and they are right in the line for them. Of course, it would mean that they could haul bigger loads, but they are not going to do that. We think that a railroad out there would be a fine thing, but we have had so much talk on that, that resulted in no action. We are not going to pay much attention until somebody comes along with money to build it. At present we consider the good roads proposition of more practical importance than the railroad."

"Ed S. P. Atherton again leading the fight against the bonds," he was asked.

"I haven't heard it if he is, and he had better not, if he wants any votes in Castleford precinct," replied Mr. Cause.

"How about the Hansen bridge bonds, would they get a good vote out there?" pursued the reporter.

"I don't know," said Mr. Cause. "I had heard little or nothing about them. I believe that the people there are open to conviction and willing to give the matter a fair hearing and vote for it if I convinced that it ought to go through. Personally, I don't see how it could be so bad. I like to see bridges along the Snake river, wherever needed, and they can't all be built at once, so a beginning should be made somewhere. Here Hansen deserves a bridge it should have. I suggest that the people interested ought to lay the matter before the voters."

HANSEN-BRIDGE IS ATTRACTING ATTENTION

Voters Discussing Project on Streets and at Meetings Throughout the County.

The voters of Twin Falls county are becoming more and more interested in the Hansen bridge proposition, according to those who have attended the meetings or who have been in the country talking to the people. There is a general feeling that the addition of a large amount of trade to this county's business men will help the whole county, as well as help those on the north side. The Hansen Bridge association is still busy on the matter and doing everything possible to arouse interest. It is argued that the bond issue will be small and the interest charge of insignificant.

PROFESSOR E. J. FJELSTED GOES TO FOCATELO TO LIVE

Professor E. J. Fjested of the university extension leaves shortly for Focatel, Idaho, where he will be in charge of the seed, livestock and farm products show to be given there in January. Professor Fjested has been connected with the work here for some time and is regarded by farmers generally as an authority. The show of which Mr. Fjested will be in charge, will be January 3 and continue for a week.

WOULD DISCUSS DIVISION

National, state and county questions were discussed at Kimberly, Idaho, by the candidates at Kimberly, Idaho, who were well received by the large audience at the Chamber of Commerce. The show played splendidly. Barring the rain, the show made on him by the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. S. H. Sime said he was very glad to see the show. He said he would be glad to see the show. He said he would be glad to see the show.

How Do You Judge a Bank?

In your opinion a good bank must pass the highest test of security. Its facilities must equal, even exceed the demands of its patrons. It must exemplify the modern spirit of service, giving it in helping measure. And lastly, it must take a genuine friendly interest in things of concern to its customers.

When you know the Twin Falls Bank & Trust Company, you will know that it understands all ways, to meet these tests. We invite you to know us better.

TWIN FALLS BANK & TRUST COMPANY

FACTS ABOUT THE MEREDITH LETTER

(From Boise Capital News)

FOLLOWING an effort on the part of the Statesman to make it plain to the people that Governor Alexander was trying to play politics in the state of Iowa because of a letter written by him to E. T. Meredith of that state, a much stronger letter upon the same matter written by Governor John H. Haines was given out at the governor's office today.

The opportunity made by the morning paper to misrepresent Governor Alexander arises out of the deplorable failure of the West End Twin Falls project, one of the numerous projects handled entirely by Republican officials so far as the state of Idaho is concerned, a failure, too, it is claimed at the executive offices here, due more particularly to blunders of a Republican state engineer than to any one else. While the West End Twin Falls company has so far made a miserable failure of its project and has failed to live up to its contract there is nothing to show, so the claim is made, that there has ever been anything to occur to show any personal dishonesty on the part of Meredith, who is one of the stockholders of the company. On the contrary there is abundant evidence in the records of the state land board to show that Meredith has been a person at least as honest as any other person in an effort to prevent loss to settlers.

Governor Haines' Letter.

The letter written by Governor Haines, which was deliberately withheld by the Statesman in order to cast reflection upon Governor Alexander, is as follows:

Boise, Oct. 13, 1916.
Hon. E. T. Meredith,
Des Moines, Iowa:

My Dear Mr. Meredith: Responding to a request for information concerning our connection with the West End Twin Falls Irrigation company, it gives me pleasure to state that I was the Republican governor of the state of Idaho, I was, by virtue of that office, chairman of the land board having charge of the irrigation projects of this state.

During the many times matters came before the board affecting the company in which you were interested, I found that you always acted in the utmost good faith and that you personally did all that anyone could do to protect the interests of the company, and upon many occasions it was stated to the board that you would willingly sacrifice your own interests if the interests of others could be protected.

The failure of a number of years ago of a large Chicago bond-house precipitated most of the troubles which developed, and neither you nor anyone else is responsible for present conditions. However, I am very happy to state that conditions are now improving, and it is my judgment that ultimately every investor, as well as yourself, will be reimbursed.

During my administration your company submitted to members of the state land board, all of its records and securities concerning every expenditure, and after being checked by the Carey act commissioner, were found to be absolutely correct. It was also found that neither you nor any other member of the company had received one dollar, either directly or indirectly, but on the contrary, that you had personally advanced many thousands of dollars to the company to protect those who had made investments in its land.

Extending to you my kindest personal regards, I beg to remain
Most cordially yours,
JOHN H. HAINES.

From Governor Alexander.

For the purpose of comparison, the letter written by Governor Alexander is also given, as follows:

Boise, Ida., Sept. 27, 1916.
Hon. E. T. Meredith,
Des Moines, Iowa.

Dear Sir: I understand that the partisan press of your state is attacking your personal character in regard to your connection with the West End Twin Falls Irrigation company in the state of Idaho.

Since my connection with the state land board as chairman, your company has done what has been required of them, giving a new bond for the faithful performance of their contract in place of an old one which we believed to be obsolete and not valid in law. You have also spent money in rehabilitating the project so that the bona fide settlers can live upon the tract.

Previous to my membership on the board, the attorney general, who was member, informed me that you acted in good faith and put some of your own money in the project to help it along, and it, therefore, gives me pleasure to write these few lines to you in order that you may protect yourself and satisfy your constituents that there is nothing in your connection with this project that reflects in any way on your integrity, honesty and good intentions.

Yours very truly,

M. ALEXANDER,
Governor.

Cliff Case of Hammett.

"The King Hill project was also one of the worst irrigation failures in the state," said Governor Alexander's private secretary in speaking of the matter this morning, "but who is to blame? Who would cast aspersions upon the honesty of poor old Hammett whose loss of all his great wealth drove him insane? This is the position taken by Governor Alexander in the matter. It does not condone the failure of the project nor the failure of the company to live up to its contract; he simply refuses to permit an individual wrongfully slandered to suffer such slander when the truth should relieve him from blame. Many corporations fail and fail miserably without the fault of stockholders who may, as matter of fact, be as heavy sufferers as any in view of the withholding from the public of the Haines letter. It is easy to see where the condemnation should fall for the effort to make politics. It certainly does not fall upon the governor."

How They Distort The Facts.

If the political distastefulness of the state of Iowa have become so important within the state of Idaho, why should the morning paper lie about it by withholding the facts? Will not the truth fit in properly with the destinies of states and nations? Who doubts the truth of all that Governor Alexander says in his letter to E. T. Meredith? Nobody, not even the Statesman which stand convicted in itself of falsehood as will be shown. Not even Barker who has taken the unusual and questionable method of giving out to the press of the state of Iowa an impression of an official act which has never taken place and which it appears probable never will take place.

Barker has given out to the press of the state of Iowa a resolution which he says he will present to the state land board. Suppose he does present it. Does that signify it will meet with the approval of any one, even Barker himself? But even if presented, it contains nowhere a denial of the truthfulness of the statements in the letter of Governor Alexander, unless it be that Barker wants to deny that Attorney General Peterson made certain statements to the governor, and this he does not claim. Barker wants to hit at Alexander, but he in reality hits at Peterson.

The morning paper now frantically seeks to charge Governor Alexander with an attempt to make politics because he is not here to attend a meeting of the land board many days after the meeting referred to had been called.

Governor Alexander was here on the day the meeting was set.

Governor Alexander instructed the register of the land board to call a meeting of that board for that day.

The register of the board reported that the Republican members of the board had vanished and could not be found.

Does that look like the governor was trying to evade any issue or that it was he who was trying to play politics?

Let our statement be questioned, let us quote from the Statesman of October 15, as follows:

No Land Board Quorum.—A meeting of the state land board scheduled for Saturday had to be postponed because of lack of a quorum.

The governor spent Saturday in his office, leaving again today for the north end of the state. It was his first appearance at the state house in more than a week.

Secretary of State Barker is out of the city, as is State Auditor Hargrett.

General Peterson was called to Pocatello Friday night on business, leaving only Miss McCoy and the governor of the board in the state house. Peterson will return Monday, but by that time the governor will have left again.

The Statesman says October 15 was the date set to consider the matter at issue. The Statesman says the governor was here that day, but that the Republican members of the board were away except Miss McCoy. It could not be that day, for on that day the same day the governor left and the next day there was not even one member of the board in the city, but it persisted in doubling-by-falling-to-tell the truth.

Why was not Barker there to present the resolution that he had given out to the press of the state of Iowa?

Who plays politics, the governor who is on the job when business is set for hearing, or the secretary of state, who gives to the press of another state a bogus resolution which he does not have the courage to be present to lay before the board as he said he would?

Moreover, if Governor Alexander was trying to play politics for the benefit of a Democrat who happened to be running for governor in Iowa, what about Governor Haines, who wrote the same name a much stronger letter than did Governor Alexander?

Why does the Statesman deliberately withhold the Haines letter? Was it for the purpose of making politics, or what? We prefer to think it was for the purpose of deceiving, just as it always deceives when there is good opportunity.

The Haines letter will be found elsewhere in this issue and readers are invited to compare it with the Alexander letter and then say whether the charge is true that Alexander is trying to make politics for the state of Iowa, or that he is shirking a duty when he was present on the day set for hearing.

The Statesman says the Republican members do not wish to hold a meeting upon so important a matter in the absence of the governor.

Why this sudden consideration for the governor? When did the Republican members discover their determination to be so courteous to Governor Alexander? Perhaps it is enlargement of the heart on the part of Barker, who needs another opportunity to "explain" why he was not present to present his resolution which he gave to the press of the state of Iowa before he gave it to the board to which it was to be presented and of which he is a member, or even to the press of his own state of Idaho. It would be a safe bet that if the governor were now on his way to Boise to call a special meeting, Barker would vanish again just as he vanished on the day upon which the matter had been set for formal hearing.

COMMENT BY EXCHANGES

HOW DID YOU DO IT, MR. DAVIS?
 HOW did you conduct your primary campaign within the law relative to expenditures as your affidavit filed with the secretary of state declares that you did?
 Herman Taylor certifies that his expenditures for the same purpose were more than yours, yet everybody, who knows anything at all about politics and about the cost of campaigning, knows that Mr. Taylor came nowhere making the campaign that you made; that he came nowhere traveling the number of miles that you traveled; nowhere near sending out the number of letters you sent; nowhere near engaging the number of public halls to speak in that you engaged; nowhere near had the number of personal workers who are known usually to work politics of kind for money only, and had engaged nothing like the number of automobiles at the polls in every county in the state that you had.

 Captain Davis certifies that he spent nearly as much as you did and everybody knows that he did not engage double-page advertisements in newspapers of the state and have double-page circulars by the thousands printed therefrom and sent broadcast throughout the state, and it is equally well known that he traveled largely by automobile while you took the Pullman route everywhere, going over the same territory time and again.

 George Crum spent not much less than you did, and he was scarcely advertised in the newspapers of the state that did not bear from week to week or from day to day, your likeness in larger or smaller size. Crum didn't get entirely around the state twice during the whole primary campaign while you were from north to south the same route to the west and forth so many times that those people might almost have been justified in wondering if you had not taken up your residence here, either permanently or in anticipation of the position you hope to occupy.
 Now, how did you do it?

Captain Davis boldly said it couldn't be done. We remember the instance not many years ago of another banker making a strenuous campaign of the state who made affidavit that he had kept his expenditures within the legal requirements, yet after his bank failed because of his heavy campaign obligations, it was ascertained that he had spent nearly, if not quite, $100,000 instead of the $1250 allowed by law.

Maybe you didn't buy as many newspapers as that fellow did, but you did mail a lot of letters, not one to each address, but several of them to each person whose name you had. The postage would exhaust your allowance, to say nothing of the much greater cost of printing, purchasing of envelopes and addressing and mailing.
 How did you do it?
 Was not Captain Davis' warning justified?—Capital News.

MR. HUGHES ANSWERS

A FEW QUESTIONS
 Q. MR. HUGHES, how would you have handled the foreign situation if you had been president?
 A. I believe in a high protective tariff.

Q. How would a protective tariff help the United States during the European war?
 A. We should protect American interests in Mexico.

Q. How would you have handled the Mexican situation?
 A. I am for undiluted Americanism.

Q. What will you do if elected?
 A. The Republican party has a glorious history of achievement.—Spokane Press.

MUST MEAN MR. DUNN

OF AMSTERDAM
 THE editor of the local Republican newspaper is a resident of Twin Falls county. He has, in fact, no voice in our affairs here. Yet this is the editor who is discussing at length the matter of residence of various and sundry of our citizens. He assails Johnny Murphy, who came here with the harbingers of gold days, and he haggardizes about the editor of the Press-Times because he has not been here so long. And this same critical Republican editor is not a voter in Shoshone county, but a resident of Twin Falls county. If he votes this year, he will have to travel to Twin Falls county to deposit his ballot. When he becomes a voter in Shoshone county, he will be privileged to talk about our county affairs. COMPERS OFFICIALLY

ADVOCATES WILSON'S CAUSE
 SAMUEL COMPERS, president of the American Federation of Labor, was here today, according to his headquarters in New York, to make an official address to the American people, comparing the labor records of President Wilson and Charles E. Hughes. The president, he remarks, is the first chief executive to name a member of an organized labor union as one of his cabinet. He recognizes legislation and policy. Mr. Wilson administration, paying particular attention to its attitude toward the use of the injunction of labor disputes.
 Against Hughes the labor leader urges that he concurred in the decisions in the Danbury haters' case and in a decision concerning the Arizona case indicated his belief that the injunction can be used against labor.—Wells (Nev.) Herald.

NUMBER OF INDEPENDENT

VOTERS INCREASING
 IT is certain that some tall scratching is to be done by the voters at the coming election on November the 7th, as short conferences with voters prove. Very few straight tickets will be voted. A few years ago the straight ticket was the rule. Then the voters commenced to appreciate the wisdom of forgetting party when it came to county and state candidates. The direct vote for congressional candidates then took the partisanship from the legislative and state candidates and now, this year, the voters are not thinking so much about party, even with reference to the presidency, as they are about the man. And this is right. The increased number of scratched tickets each succeeding election simply shows the independence of the voters and the liberty of thought and action of the average citizen.—Mackay Miner.

ADVISES REPUBLICANS

TO SHUT EYES, HOLD NOSES, AND VOTE 'ER STRAIGHT'
 THE watchword of the Republican party this year in Gooding county is, "Vote 'er straight." This there is, of course, a very good reason, which is this: The Republican county candidates, with the exception of some of the very "weak sisters," and belong to the Gooding ring. This the Republicans themselves fully realize. They realize that if the voter checks or scratches names which appear in the Republican column and proceeds to compare candidates on the ticket with the Democratic candidates for the same offices, the great majority of the vote of the county, regardless of party, will vote for the candidates of the Democratic ticket.

THE HIPPODROME CIRCUIT.

PORTLAND OREGONIAN:

The headline attraction at the leading theatre features Ethel Clarke, a talented Harpist. She is a past-master on the harp. Clarence Grogan, the blind pianist, is a wonder. His work being startling and original.

PITTSBURGH DISPATCH:

Clarke & Grogan headline the bill. They are both finished artists in their line.

REPUBLICAN, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.:

A variety of musical novelties is given by Clarence and Grogan. Miss Clarke is a harpist of great talent. Mr. Grogan, who is totally blind, is a marvel, playing several of his own compositions. The act is a novel one and should be seen by all.

CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER:

A worthy act is that of Clarence and Grogan. Miss Clarke is an accomplished Harpist, who has traveled the world over and is known as one of the foremost players of that beautiful instrument. Clarence Grogan, a blind pianist, showing remarkable musical genius.

KANSAS CITY POST:

Rath Brothers were the feature of the GLOBE program and they certainly are clean cut youngsters, performing seemingly impossible feats. They took several bows closing an eight act bill.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE SAYS:

Rath Brothers start in where other athletes acts leave off and we feel safe in saying that the two western boys are two of the best athletes the vaudeville stage has known.

HIPPODROME, SAN FRANCISCO:

Rath Brothers offer the best acrobatic act that has played "Frisco." They perform seemingly impossible and never-well-known tricks is accomplished at first trying. Three big bows.

SEATTLE POST:

Rath Brothers have been held over by popular demand. Dick, the smaller of the two, has the ease of working that makes one think he has power enough to move any thing. George has a pleasing personality and handles Dick with the greatest ease. They are the feature of the bill at the Hippodrome.

EXHIBITS INVENTIONS

FOR IRRIGATION WORK

G. W. Rice Has Perfected Three Ideas Which He Thinks Will Simplify Irrigating Problems.

Saturday afternoon at the ditch north of the ball park, G. W. Rice had on exhibit three of his late inventions for irrigating. The inventor, he believes will greatly simplify the problems of the irrigator. Mr. Rice had installed the inventions as they would be used in "practical work" and was ready to explain the various points and advantages of his system over any of the others in use at present.
 The invention of greatest importance to the irrigator, said Mr. Rice, was the adjustable irrigator. This consisted of a galvanized iron pipe in three sections, which had adjustable openings at proper intervals for the irrigation of both beds and other purposes. The pipe was reversible for use on both sides of a ditch and the sections capable of fitting one inside the other to facilitate moving from one place to another. The intake was secured and the irrigation openings were placed so that corrugations could be made at intervals of 20 inches, one-half foot and three and one-half foot. This pipe measured about six feet in length and its total weight was not over sixty pounds.

 "I have studied on this invention for a year," said Mr. Rice, "and have at last found the method of irrigating the pipe. Its use will make the irrigator's work easier and better work may be accomplished by its use than the present method of boxes and checks. The invention of water in a ditch. This regulation and its use eliminates the change in flow due to a sudden rise or fall of water in the ditch. On only place two miles west of the city I have a least $150 worth of lumber in boxes and checks, which require constant attention, while with the use of this piping, this trouble and expense could be done away with."
 Another of Mr. Rice's inventions was a check, adjustable to suit the ditches from one foot to three and one-half feet wide. Mr. Rice said that it was easily adjustable, and portable and far more durable and substantial than any other check upon the market today. The third invention was a self adjusting and portable ditch box for those irrigators who were using the "hole in the bank" method of irrigating. Its value, said Mr. Rice, lay in its handiness and elimination of wash-outs.
 The inventions were made in Twin Falls in accordance with the inventor's plans and Mr. Rice expects to have the manufacture of these on such a basis that by next season irrigators will be supplied with these devices.
 TO THE VOTERS OF TWIN FALLS CO.: HAVING BEEN SELECTED BY the Democratic primaries as a candidate for representative, I solicit your vote November 7th. I promise if elected to perform the duties of the office faithfully.

Two Good Comedies

To Our Customers

(and others who are planning to be our customers)

Here are a few facts which directly concern you if you intend to order portraits in our studio between now and Christmas.

On the twentieth day of October, 1916, our portrait business passed the amount which we did during the whole year of 1915. In other words, the two most active months of the year are before us and our volume of portraiture now exceeds the total volume of last year.

Another Comparison

The month of August, 1916, shows the largest portrait business for a single month that we have ever had in Idaho with the exception of one December. This is a phenomenal experience, one that we did not expect or plan for.

It indicates beyond a doubt that more and more people are sending photographs as gifts; it proves, too, that the portraits we make are held in high esteem by an increasing number of people.

We want to make your holiday pictures—yours and yours—and yours; we want the business of every one who has confidence in our ability. But, in simple justice both to you and to us, we must have a reasonable amount of time in which to do your work.

So many neglect to arrange for sittings until December comes. That will be a very crowded time in our studio this year. Why not plan for your Christmas sittings now—right now! It is not a day too soon. "Quality first" is our aim, you know, and workmanship of quality can not be too hurriedly done. Come early—it's to your advantage.

FOR SALE—160 acres of land with a water certificate from the state for 100 inches of water; 90 acres have been cleared and in wheat. Fenced on three sides. $60 per acre. Inquire J. M. Burkett, room 13, First National Bank Bldg.

WANTED—Woman for housework. Elderly woman preferred. Add. "L," care Times.

FACTS?

A good way to determine the value of land, is to find out how much interest it will pay on the investment. Land that sells for $300.00 an acre, will have to produce five times as much as land that sells for $60.00 an acre.

LISTEN!

Can you afford to pay $300.00 an acre for land on the Twin Falls tract, when you may get 50 miles from here and buy land that will produce the same crops in the same quantity, for $60.00 an acre.

THINK IT OVER

Partially improved irrigated lands at $60.00 an acre. You pay $10.00 an acre down and get a deed, with full paid up water right, THEN, 17 years to pay the balance. FOR the first five years, all you pay is interest at 6 per cent, which gives you ample time to get yourself organized.

INVESTIGATE

SEE THIS: it will pay you if you are in the market for land. It can't be beat, and our terms are so liberal that you cannot afford to pass this up.

PROSPERITY NOT DUE TO DEMANDS OF WAR

Bulk Comes From Ordinary Business Channels, Declares
Charles M. Schwab.

$2,500,000,000 TRADE BALANCE

Department of Commerce Shows Vast Gain in Wealth Under Wilson—
Munitions Business Is but One
Per Cent. of Total.

In answer to the cry of Republican politicians, that the unprecedented prosperity that has come to America under the administration of President Wilson is due to the European war orders, comes a statement from Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel Company, himself a Republican, that refutes the charge.

"It is a mistake to imagine that the major portion of our business is war order business," says Mr. Schwab, in a signed article in the October number of Commerce. "Even a casual inspection of the great volume of exports will demonstrate that the bulk is drawn from the ordinary course of business. It is also found that, at present prices, domestic business is as profitable as foreign munition business."

No one can doubt the capability of Mr. Schwab to judge the business situation, nor can one gainsay the recent figures issued by the Department of Commerce. In this report, it is stated that, during the first eight months of the present fiscal year, the exports of the United States showed a trade balance in favor of this country of $1,730,000,000.

Trade Balance $2,500,000,000.

Predictions are made that the trade balance for the entire year will exceed the unprecedented figure of $2,500,000,000. The value of the exports for the eight months was $3,435,000,212, an increase of $1,205,882,100 over the same period last year.

Another financial authority, too, has spoken—Charles Hayden, of Boston. He estimates that American securities held abroad have been reduced from $6,000,000,000, before the war, to $1,000,000,000 at the present time. Coincidentally, "the United States has become a creditor of foreign nations, for the first time in history, to the extent of $1,000,000,000. Under Wilson, therefore, we have wiped out $5,000,000,000 of foreign indebtedness, and are a creditor to the amount of $500,000,000."

Mr. Hayden calls attention to the fact that his always was a debtor nation under Republican rule.

All Classes Prosperous.

And so, from all sections of the country, from all kinds and classes of business, from the merchant, the manufacturer, the farmer, the workman, come reports of unparalleled prosperity. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in an official report, declares that "the stocks are rising, that railroad earnings are abnormally high (indicating the great movement of commodities), and that the national prosperity will continue."

Not temporary prosperity, due to the war, is this, that is filling the coffers of the nation. It has a sound basis for permanency, made certain by the laws enacted under the Wilson Administration. The President himself, in his recent speech at Baltimore, emphasized the value to the country of the Tariff Commission, the Trade Commission, the Federal Reserve Board and the shipping bill. These enactments not only will stimulate the productiveness of the country, but will safeguard its output and provide a means of conveying it to all the ports of the world.

How Business Has Gained.

Here is just a glimpse at percentages, prepared by expert statisticians, that prove what the Wilson Administration has done for the people:

Increase in bank deposits, 68 per cent.; money in circulation, 22 per cent.; stock of gold in United States, 34.1 per cent.; foreign commerce, 52.7 per cent.; balance of trade in favor of United States, 287.0 per cent.; agricultural exports, 44.1 per cent.; manufactured exports, 155 per cent.; railway revenues, 37.6 per cent.; value of general crops and live stock, 12.4 per cent.; value of wheat crop, 67.2 per cent.; output of pig iron, 35 per cent.; production of steel, 35.6 per cent.; farm lands, 12.7 per cent.; men employed in manufacturing, 23.3 per cent.; wages paid in manufacturing, 4.5 per cent.; capital employed in manufacturing, 30.0 per cent.; value of manufactured products, 41.2 per cent.

So it may be seen that all lines of industry have profited under the great wave of prosperity that the Democratic administration has wrought.

AND THE MUNITIONS BUSINESS COMPRISES ONLY ONE PER CENT OF THE TOTAL OF MANUFACTURED PRODUCTS.

Is it the part of wisdom, therefore to gamble with prosperity such as this?

Will the American voter dare to throw away a sure thing, on the chance that his return may be the enormous cost of war's poverty and devastation?

WILSON THE ABLE GUIDE.

Shortsighted Not to Elect Him, Says Mrs. Joseph Fels.

"I have a deep conviction that the hope of Democracy lies with Woodrow Wilson. If we fail to reelect him, we have much to fear."

Thus speaks Mrs. Mary Fels, of Philadelphia, an independent in politics and one of the two American delegates to the Stockholm Peace Conference held in January, 1919. Since the death of her husband, Joseph Fels, she has continued his work in the Fels Commission, founded by him to promote the Single Tax Movement.

"I see no use," she says, "in picking out specific measures, either things done or things left undone. I see

After the Attack. Five o'clock. Sudden calm. We hesitate, surprised a little, like the hare after the passage of the hunter. We raise our heads and inspect the horizon. Yes, it is really over. We crawl out of our holes and walk around a little.

We climb down into the ravine at the bottom of which there runs a little stream, colored with blood. Never mind. We are thirsty. We drink of this water, and fill our canteens. We gather together our dead. Alas, there are many of them. The stretcher bearers carry away the wounded. We deepen our shelters, and link them together in a sort of line of trenches. We must be ready to defy any other attack.—Louis-Octave-Philippe, in The Atlantic.

STATESMAN GETS ON THIS EDITOR'S NERVES

(From the Hagerman Herald)

MARK BATES, the versatile editor of the Parma Herald, indicates in the following the opinion of the Statesman head gull pusher and his "criminal" lack of information concerning matters of historical as well as current events. The Herald says: "We believe that we express the sentiment of our careful readers when we say that if a prize were offered for contemptible expressions by and from a newspaper, the Boise Statesman would be accorded the honor (?) by universal consent. In Friday's issue the Statesman contained an editorial regarding Japan's contention that citizens of that country should be allowed to own real estate in this country, and says:

Cash Supply Store of Jarbidge, Nev.

W. H. HUDSON, Proprietor.
GENERAL MERCHANDISE
FEED STABLES.

Furnished Promptly.

striking instance of how the Wilson administration has repeatedly involved this country in diplomatic situations from which victory can not be gained and from which there is no possible retreat with honor. The dispute with Japan regarding the alien ownership of lands is not a product of the Wilson administration, and this the Statesman should know that every body knows. Neither was it the product of the Taft administration, nor the Roosevelt administration, nor the Lincoln administration, nor the Jackson administration. It has been the settled policy of the country since its birth. It has passed as settled policy through the administrations before Wilson and before the Republic came into being. But Wilson hasn't involved anybody. Our treaties with Japan stand as they were written by Republican majority in congress, and Wilson stands by the provisions of those treaties. He has added nothing to them, and has taken nothing away. The California case was a question of admitting Japanese to the public schools. It had nothing to do with the alien ownership of lands, and it didn't touch upon that subject. We don't like to accuse any newspaper of delib-

ately lying. It ought not to lie at any time. Maybe the Statesman doesn't; but it sometimes perverts the truth to an extent that a casual reader might misconstrue it. Let the Statesman publish the laws in regard to the alien ownership of lands in this country, and then let it tell the truth—that Woodrow Wilson is not now seeking, and never has sought to interfere with the decree of the law, as it was written (in this event) by a Republican administration.—Parma Herald.

Had it not been for the course pursued by President Wilson on the great cart-wheel question, the price of doughnuts in Kalamazoo would have been reduced to one-half.—Special to the Boise Statesman.

The heavy rain in Bucks county, Pennsylvania, just on the eve of a lunch picnic is a remarkable coincidence, and many see in this had omen some sinister connection between it and the price of wickerware in Oshkosh. Undoubtedly President Wilson is responsible for this very unfortunate state of affairs.—Special to the Statesman.

The market price of onions and tim-burger has been seriously menaced by President Wilson signing the bill to make Christmas a legal holiday in Arkansas. Another slap in the face of the Goddess of Liberty.—Special to the Boise Sewer Pipe.

As a result of the anticipated proclamation of President Wilson declaring a general Thanksgiving day early in November, there is a sinister purpose to do great and irrefragable injustice to the turkey tribe. Of course the protest of the turkeys have been ruthlessly disregarded, but what could be expected of a Democratic president who stands in the way of the rights of the friend of the fanbury hatters?—Special to the Boise Sewer Pipe.

Gov. Alexander's failure to issue a proclamation suppressing grasshoppers in Kansas in 1919 should cause the blush of shame to mantle the cheek of every gentleman in Idaho with a stonebrake on his heel.—Special to the Boise Sewer Pipe.

CATTLEMAN TO MEET AT POCATELLO

State Organization With 800 Members
Represents 125,000 Head of Cattle and Horses.

The Idaho Cattle and Horse Growers' association is to hold its first annual convention in Pocatello, on the 31st day of October, 1919, says the Mackay Miner.

The association is composed of Idaho men who make a business of growing and raising cattle and horses on the public domain and on the forests within the borders of the state. It is the outgrowth of an organization of several associations formed in Custer county and throughout central Idaho for the protection of the industry, and in less than six months has gained eight hundred active members, representing 125,000 head of cattle and horses, with an estimated valuation of ten million dollars worth of livestock, that all depend more or less for range on the forests and public domain, as much of the stock is grazed thereon one-half of the time, at least, and the remainder of the time is fed in the pastures of Idaho ranchmen.

The association has for its objects better breeding and marketing, the arrest and conviction of cattle and horse thieves and the protection of cattle and horses on the state. While it is the largest industry in the state of Idaho, affecting the wealth and welfare of more people in the Gem state than any other of her many and diverse industries, yet it has been the last to organize. The swine breeders, the wool growers, the dairymen, the bee men and the farmers, the beet men, the miner, the merchant and the manufacturer, and the potato growers, and all the industries are organized, and now the cattle and horse growers have a start upon one of the biggest organizations in Idaho, with almost unlimited possibilities for the future, on account of the force of numbers of Idaho citizens who would be eligible.

CATTLE SLIGHTLY

HIGHER THIS WEEK

Hogs Are Significantly Stronger—
Sheep Market Also Shows Some Strength.

The cattle market is holding steady to strong at last week's prices, although one lot of extra prime steers sold at $6.85, a dime higher than last week, says the Portland Live Stock Reporter Monday. Best cows and heifers are just easy at last week's quotations. There is a big run of feeder stuff in the yard with indications that they will be cleaned up at a very good figure.

Top hogs maintained a level of $9.25 all last week and the general feeling was that a good run of hogs this morning would break the market a shade. However, the market still remains strong at $9.25, with three extra choice loads selling at $9.25, everything in the hog division clean up early. The maintenance of the market at a level of $9.25 for practically ten days indicates a great deal of strength for this time of the year.

Everything going strong in the sheep section, top lambs being sold at $5.75. Receipts were light.

Steer quotations are: Prime light, $6.50@6.85; prime heavy, $6.40@6.75; good, $6.00@6.50; common to fair, $5.50@6.25.

Cow quotations are: Choice, $5.50@6.00; medium to good, $4.50@5.00; ordinary to fair, $3.50@4.00; canners, $3.00@4.00.

Heifer quotations are: Choice spayed, $5.25@5.35; good, $4.50@5.00; other varieties, $4.00@4.50.

Bull quotations are: Choice, $4.00@4.25; good, $3.50@4.00; medium, $2.75@3.00.

Stocker quotations are: Best selected, 550 to 1000 lbs., $3.50@3.75; best selected, 600 to 800 lbs., $3.25@3.50; choice stock heifers, $4.50@5.00; good to choice stock cows, $4.50@5.00.

Milker quotations are: Jersey heifers, $4.00 and up; good grade Durhams, $3.00 and up; good Jerseys, $5.00@7.00.

Hog quotations are: Prime, light, $9.25@9.35; prime strongweights, $8.00@8.50; good heavy mixed, $8.25; rough heavy packing, $6.00@8.25; pigs and skips, $3.00; stock hogs, $7.40.

Sheep quotations are: Choice lambs, $5.50@5.75; common lambs, $3.00@3.25; choice yearling wethers, $7.25@7.50; good, $7.00@7.25; best aged wethers, $6.25@6.50; choice, light ewes, $5.50; heavy ewes, $5.00@5.50.

IS A CANDIDATE ON THE REPUBLICAN TICKET FOR THE STATE LEGISLATURE

He was nominated by the aid of Buhl Democrats for the purpose of dividing Twin Falls County.

He has declared that his best efforts will be devoted to this end.

Twin Falls County is one of the most important, both politically and financially, in the state. Because she has grown so rapidly and is becoming so strong other sections of the state are jealous and would be glad to help divide her.

NEW FEATURES ADDED TO LATEST MAXWELL MODEL

Unaltered in all the essential details the Maxwell 25 automobile appeared in the local market during the past week with a number of new refinements which will undoubtedly prove a great stimulant to the sale and distribution of this machine in the west. Among these refinements are the passing gauge and the dash light which have been added to the dash board. The board now carries besides the two mentioned, a speedometer, electric starting and lighting plugs and an ammeter.

A new type of windshield is also featured. The upper half of the windshield overlaps the lower half, making it absolutely rain-tight. In addition to this the glass is fitted with shock absorbers, eliminating all vibration and possible chance of breakage.

The seats of the new Maxwell are considerably wider, longer and deeper, and the rear springs have been lengthened fully six inches, giving the car added flexibility and comfort in its riding qualities.

While these new features of the Maxwell car represent an added manufacturing cost of many thousands of dollars, the price of the car will remain the same as on the preceding model.

GOVERNOR ALEXANDER
WANTS BOYS BACK.

A Twin Falls citizen today received the following reply to a personal letter to Governor Alexander, asking him to do everything possible in his power compatible with safeguarding the interests of the United States, to secure the return of the Second Idaho from the border:

"Dear Sir: In the absence of Governor Alexander from the city, I desire to acknowledge receipt of your communication of Oct. 14th, and wish to assure you that the governor is willing to do everything that he can to secure an early return to this state of the Second Idaho regiment without injury to the national interests of our government.

"Very respectfully,
