Times' Special Correspondence.
F. W. Haylick was a business visitor to Twin Falls Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Haaf visited friends in Twin Falls a few days last week.

David Abrahamson has leased his farm and will move into Twin Falls as soon as he is able to secure a house, which means almost impossible in that growing and progressive city of Twin Falls, the metropolis of southern Idaho. One by one the settlers are leaving the Salmon, renting their places or letting their places until conditions on this tract are reversed.

Will Sumner was looking after business matters in Elmer one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Reed were over from the west end metropolis of the Twin Falls tract Friday, visiting friends and relatives and looking after his farming interests here. Mr. Reed has enlarged his farm area, having purchased Mr. Sumner's forty, which he once owned. He now owns one of the finest and best quarter sections of land in Twin Falls county.

Mr. Reed has confidence in a satisfactory outcome of our troubles with land and water company. So have we, but when?

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Curry visited with friends in the Magic City Sunday.

John Burton, who formerly resided on the Salmon river tract, has returned with his family to Twin Falls county after having had two years of farming experience in Utah.

We understand that L. O. Evans, the many other settlers on the farm, has decided to farm no longer here until our troubles have been adjusted in a satisfactory way by an ample supply of water, so that the tiller of the soil will reap a just reward for his labor instead of being a loser as is the case now. The Gates brothers have leased Mr. Reed's farm for the coming season, building up their own land. In order to keep above the surface, so to speak, it seems necessary to farm three or four hundred acres' land and more under the existing conditions on the Salmon tract.

Mr. Haylick took in the sights of the Salmon river metropolis, Hottelater, Monday.

T. A. Parrott and family have moved to the Haylick tract, where Mr. Parrott has decided to next season. Mr. Haylick will move back to Twin Falls.

There have been quite a number of sales in this vicinity recently recently as preparations are being made by no many settlers to immigrate elsewhere.

Our Sabbath school is making preparations to give a temperance program Sunday.

Mr. Tate and family from near Hottelater, were entertained at dinner at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Evans, Sunday.

Building closer used in new progress in this vicinity. Will give report of the returns in our next communication.

E. L. Mullin, the rock contractor and electrician man, was in Artesian City laying a foundation for a new residence for a prominent citizen of that place last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Stansburg attended church in Twin Falls Sunday.

According to the school census taken last fall, there are sixty-two children of school age in Berger school district. Scarcely there are still some people left in this part of the Salmon tract, notwithstanding the tide of settlers going elsewhere.

The Abrahamson brothers, contractors and builders, have in Artesian

City, where they have contracted for the construction of several residences there.

The Berger library society has revived after a year's slumber when it was organized with a new set of officers Friday evening. We have not learned who will be at the helm of the organization.

There will be services in the school house at 11 a. m. Sunday. Rev. Farnsch of Twin Falls, will officiate. Sabbath school at 10 a. m. You are cordially invited.

H. C. Erickson was a business visitor to the Salmon river last Tuesday. Geo. C. Latta, a prominent and progressive rancher of the Hottelater neighborhood, was looking over his farming interest on the Salmon Friday.

Raymond Jones has returned from a business trip to Nampa. Mr. Jones, who is farming and the owner of 160 acres north of the Salmon, has decided to abandon farming on this tract, contemplating to move to Nampa where he has recently purchased a farm. Can Twin Falls county afford to lose some of these substantial and progressive farmers who contemplate leaving? How about it, you business men of Twin Falls? Are you exporting any of them? Do the settlers on the Salmon in their struggles for an adjustment and straightening out of the kinks on this tract? The passing of residents of sympathy by a certain organization of Twin Falls does not relieve nor remedy the existing conditions on this tract.

From all appearances the political pot is surely at the boiling point. The several political parties have had their rallies in Hottelater with good crowds in attendance. How do you stand, dear voter, of the Salmon river tract, on the most important issue that is confronting you on this tract? Are you supporting the same candidates who are aspiring for the different state offices who constitute the land board, and candidates for the legislative halls as are the officials of the Salmon River Land & Water company. Think it over before you cast your vote.

According to a fast and progressive age in which we live, riding after a span of miles is not always the most progressive mode of traveling, consequently by rail the settlers invested in a buzz wagon and is now speeding over the roads as swiftly as any one. Some of us poor devils will have to continue traveling in the day of old.

lett of Nebraska, who in a speech in Missouri on October 20th, boldly declared:

"I had been president of the United States, three years ago, and this country would have gone to war with Mexico. I would have called to the colors every available fighting man in the United States and sent him to the front. I would have sent him there loaded to the muzzle and with marching orders."

This is what the Republicans have meant throughout their entire campaign. It is not what they have boldly admitted but it is what they with business intimates, all want the people with energetic logic must understand to be their purpose.

The people of Idaho as a part of the nation will cast their ballots to be added to the ballots of the citizens of sister states. It will be for the people of Idaho as well as for the other people of this country to show whether their preference is for war or whether it is for peace. If it is for war and aggression the voters will be cast for Hughes; if it is for peace and the honor of the nation, they will be cast for Wilson—New Freedom.

THIS IS TOO BAD
In the matter of the eight-hour day, the defenders of the railroad companies and candidate Hughes are having an exceedingly hard time of it in their campaign against President Wilson in the face of the fact that the said companies last year secured in net earnings the magnificent sum of

State News

—From Exchanges—

Vinegar Factory Is Busy—One of the busiest places in Moscow these days is the vinegar works on north Main street. Cider and vinegar are being produced there at the rate of 10,000 gallons a day. Apples are rolling in from all sides, paid for at the rate of $6.00 per ton. It has not been necessary up to this time to ship in apples by rail because of the heavy local crop and because the farmers are unusually prompt in delivering them.—Moscow Post.

Governor Receives Ovation—Never in the history of the Cour d'Alene has a candidate for a state office received an ovation such as was tendered Governor Alexander in Wallace Sunday night. Hundreds came from the Burke canyon, from Mullan, from Kellogg and other towns of the district to join with the people of Wallace in tending to the chief executive of the state the most enthusiastic reception Governor Alexander has had in the entire state of Idaho.—Wallace Press-Times.

Is Acquitted—W. E. Danby, resigned county auditor, indicted by the grand jury on a charge of misappropriating public money, was acquitted by a jury in Judge Fynn's court today after 15 minutes' deliberation following instructions from Judge Fynn for such a verdict. Danby was indicted by the grand jury September 29 on seventeen counts, one of which was quashed by demurrer. The indictment followed Danby's resignation as auditor at the request of the county commissioners on the grounds of incompetency and shortages in county funds. Danby in his answer admitted incompetency, but denied any shortages.—Spirit Lake Herald.

IOWA NEWSPAPER DEFENDS MEREDITH

Says Boise—Statesman Would Discredit Alexander

CAME TO IOWA TO GET FAKE "EXPOSURE" OF GOVERNOR.

Attitude Published Refuting Charges Made in Campaign About Death of E. E. Small.

DES MOINES, Ia.—The Register of this city attacks the men whom it claims have misrepresented E. T. Meredith, Democratic candidate for governor of Iowa, and Governor Alexander of Idaho, in regard to West End tract conditions. It says that the Boise Statesman came all the way to Iowa to get a so-called exposure of Governor Alexander when if there was anything to really expose in Idaho, it would not have been compelled to go to Iowa for it.

The Register also publishes a rebuttal from J. R. Small, Jr., and Charles E. Small, brothers of Elmer E. Small, who according to stories published in the campaign, died as a result of worry over West End tract troubles. The brothers deny that this is the case and say that those circulating the report knew it to be false.

Editorially the Register says in part:

The best evidence to The Register of the real situation in the Idaho land deal is the fact that the Boise Statesman comes to this office with a long story about the matter made up wholly from the story published here in Des Moines, and reprinted there for the purpose of discrediting Governor Alexander.

If at the Idaho end there was something to be disclosed the Boise newspaper would not have to come to Des Moines for the disclosure. We should have an Idaho version of what is actually involved.

Now who are to be the real victims of this concerted plot to discredit Governor Alexander in Idaho, and Mr. Meredith in Iowa? Is it really right to freeze out some 200 investors who have put their money in in good faith merely as a play in the political game of 1916?

The affidavit of the brothers for Iowa, Guthrie county: We, J. R. Small, Jr., and Charles E. Small, being duly sworn on our oath, depose and say, and each for himself, that he is a resident of Stuart, Iowa, and has been for over forty years, and a brother of Elmer E. Small, deceased, and that his attention has been called to a published statement of the Iowa Homestead of date Oct. 19, 1916, referring to certain transactions between the said Elmer E. Small, now deceased, and member of the Small family and E. T. Meredith, candidate for governor, and that same are so untrue and maliciously false that we desire to denounce the same in the most positive way possible.

That the statement that the said Elmer E. Small, or any or all of the Small family had invested in the West End Twin Falls tract or in the irrigation company composed thereof, the sum of $13,000 is absolutely false, the total amount invested by all of the members of the Small family in said project being only $5,000, and no criticism of any kind has been, nor now is directed toward Mr. Meredith by any member of the Small family or the transactions had with him in said West End Twin Falls tract matters.

We have always felt, as did our deceased brother, Elmer E. Small, that Mr. Meredith, acting with entire fairness in the matter, and did everything in his power to protect our interests, and we have absolute confidence in his integrity and fair dealing, and the assistant Charles E. Small in substance so told the representative of the Homestead when he was in Stuart a short time ago.

We further depose and say, that while the picture shown of our south side store is correct, the firm of J. R. Small & Sons, in which the said Elmer E. Small owned a one-half interest at the date of his death, operated two stores in the city of Stuart the other in a two-story brick building on the main street of Stuart, said firm now operating, still owning and carrying on both of said stores, and never in its history being in a more prosperous condition.

That the foreclosure proceedings referred to in said public statement was for a personal debt incurred by the aforesaid Elmer E. Small and another member of the family, as security for a brother-in-law, to secure whose mortgage was given to secure certain interests on certain real estate, said foreclosure proceedings being for the purpose of taking care of his estate and having absolutely nothing whatever to do, even in the remotest particular, with any transaction having any connection with the West End Twin Falls matters.

The suggestion in said public statement that any transactions our deceased brother, Elmer E. Small, had in said West End Twin Falls matters, or with E. T. Meredith, had anything to do with, or in any way hastened the death of the said Elmer E. Small, and little short of slandering the dead.

His death was directly due to apoplexy, and if he ever had any investments he had in the Twin Falls tract, we never knew or heard of it.

Whatever personal financial trouble he had, that was not due to his dealings with the West End Twin Falls Irrigation company, or E. T. Meredith.

Our brother was a stockholder in said company, and always believed that if they could get the water on said tract as they had been led to believe by the Idaho State Land board, and its engineer could be done, they had a good thing in their investment, and at all times worked with Mr.

LIUTENANT PORTER AGAINST INTERVENTION

Former Twin Falls Attorney Says Task Involved Would Be Of Great Magnitude.

That the men who were Democrats when they left home with the national guard generally favor Wilson and that the men who were Republicans when they left here are generally for Hughes is the opinion of Lieutenant J. W. Porter, of Shoshone, formerly a lawyer in this city, who is home on a leave of absence from Nogales.

Porter says that the people on the border want intervention, but are not willing to fight for it themselves. Only one man in Nogales has joined the troops. The men in the border towns are delighted with the situation because it brings plenty of money and business to them, and figure that in case of war they would get big profits. They are therefore against Wilson, but are showing no disposition to get into khaki and do any of the fighting. The people 4 hundred miles from the border, on the other hand, endorse the administration and oppose intervention. He declares that Arizona will be called by President Wilson and that the parts of California through which he passed also seemed strongly for the president.

He says that the task of conquering and policing Mexico is much greater than folks in Idaho who have never been there, and who know nothing about conditions, think. The country is barren and water holes are scarce, while practically all the fighting would necessarily be of a guerrilla character with irregular forces or bandits. He believes that every honorable element should be adopted to adjust the trouble without intervention.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Licensed to Marry—A marriage license was issued October 28 to Donald Mackay and Mary Benton, both of Ellettsville, Ind. The ceremony was made out to Joe Burgoyne of Ellettsville and Effie Jennings of Buhl.

Disturb the Peace—Wm. Fakes was brought before Judge Smith Thursday on a complaint filed by W. F. Porter, charged with disturbing the peace and using abusive and threatening language. He was fined $5.

Jury Is Ordered—An order has been filed in the auditor's office by Wm. A. Hancock, district judge, calling for the drawing of thirty jurors for the term of court beginning in October. The jury men to be in attendance November 12, at 10 o'clock.

Are Digging Basement—Work was begun Saturday on an excavation for a basement under the Twin Falls Bakery on Shoshone street west. An opening was dug under the foundation at the side of the building and two men with a team have been removing the dirt by means of a scraper.

City Builds Storage Barn—Work is in progress on a large new storage barn for the city at the corner of Second and Seventh streets south, which when completed will be used for housing the sprinkling wagons and water works supplies. The building will be 32 by 50 feet in dimensions.

Machine Used in Ditch—While driving home after the evening people's dance at Occillon hall Friday evening, a machine containing a party of young folks ran off a small bridge into a ditch when the driver mistook his distance, and though one of the young ladies was severely cut by glass from the broken windshield, no other serious injuries were sustained.

Butchers Defeat Barbers—An exciting and hotly contested game was staged Thursday evening at the bowling alleys when the Independent market butchers played the Rex shop barbers before a large crowd of interested friends. The butchers were victorious, due largely to the high scores registered by two of the team, J. C. McKinley having "high acre" of 425 and Carl Jungst being a close second with 200.

Banquet Served Football Boys—A banquet was served in the high school cafeteria last Friday after the football game, for the benefit of the Rupert boys. It was prepared and served by the domestic science girls under the supervision of Miss Hungate. Two boys of each team were seated at each table up as to allow them all to get acquainted if they had not already done so. The banquet proved so interesting and enjoyable that the Rupert boys missed the evening train home.

Sells Palace Cafe—Mrs. Arrol, who has had charge of both the Rogers and Palace cafes has sold the latter to C. E. Coffman, the present manager, who will conduct it with few changes. Though the Palace cafe in future will remain open until 10 o'clock each evening, Mrs. Arrol intends to devote her time entirely to the remodeling of the Rogers cafe, which will be completed by New Year's evening for which Mrs. Arrol is making extensive plans for a most interesting event.

Twin Falls Boys Well Received—Dick Cameron and George Meigs, who appeared at the Orpheum theatre last week-end in an acrobatic act, were enthusiastically received by their many friends in Twin Falls. The boys have been absent for three years and during that time have worked up an act which is decidedly interesting, and novel, and in which they have appeared on circuits all over the United States. The boys displayed the most pleasing stage presence and accomplished seemingly impossible stunts with every appearance of ease. While the boys received a flattering offer from one of the big vaudeville managers in the east, which was accepted.

EASY VICTORY WON FROM RUPERT HIGH

Twin Falls Takes Fifth Straight Victory 33 to 6

RUPERT MAKES LONG TOUCH-DOWN ON FAKE FORWARD PASS.

Holderman, Holler and McCracken Six-Point Game, of Season With Buhl Friday.

In the fifth game of the season, Twin Falls high school won a comparatively easy victory from Rupert high school by the score of 33-6.

As usual for this season, the weather and grounds were ideal, though the boys had not taken a good week's practice. Rupert on the other hand had not played a game for two weeks, and was in good condition for the contest.

The game was called shortly after three o'clock, Rupert taking the kickoff. Twin Falls returned the ball to the thirty yard line, and went through their opponent's team, until near the goal line, Rupert held them for down. Rupert punted safely and Twin again brought the pigskin to dangerous territory. Neuman carried the ball across the line for a touch-down and a moment later kicked goal. The quarter ended with the ball in neutral territory, score, 7-0.

At the beginning of the second quarter the substitutes who played the first quarter were replaced by the regulars. Rupert received the ball and by dint of much dodging succeeded in returning it to their forty yard line, where Twin held them for down. Holderman and Holler did fine work on line plunges, while McCracken as usual made big gains on runs. Fix caught two passes for good gains, and with the ball on the ten-yard line, McCracken carried it across on a wide end run. The goal kick was missed and a moment later the whistle sounded for the first half, the score standing, 13-0.

In the second half Twin Falls used fakes to good advantage and Rupert used the pass with partial success. At one time while Rupert had the ball, a fumble occurred in which a Twin Falls man recovered and carried it almost to the goal line before he was downed. Holler took the ball across for another touch-down on a line plunge. The goal kick was missed. Rupert received the ball again, but was held for down. Bailey and De Witt made a good showing in line plunges, and by means of this and a fake play, the ball again approached the goal. It crossed the line a moment later under McCracken's arm. Holderman kicked goal.

Beginning the last quarter with the score 26-0, the Rupert boys did some hard playing. On a faked forward pass they put a man in Twin Falls territory who fought his way through the back field for a touch-down, the second made on the local team this year. The goal kick was missed and with seven minutes to play, Twin Falls received the ball and returned it to the thirty yard line.

Quarterback Neuman used his head in calling what the opposing team least expected during the last few minutes. He carried the ball across the line at the termination of a successful series of fakes, and a moment later kicked goal.

The line-up was as follows: Twin Falls. Rupert. Holler F. B. Sullivan Patton (sub) F. B. Irving Holderman R. H. ...

Cracken L. H. Diney Neuman Q. B. Nelson Fix L. E. Spidel Bailey L. T. Bryant Day L. G. Lewis Scott L. C. Van Antwerp Thometz R. G. Graco Day and Strout ...

The next and last scheduled game is to be held with Buhl at Buhl, next Friday. This game will probably decide the championship of southeastern Idaho.

WILSON IS STILL FAR IN THE LEAD

Straw Votes Indicating Drift Toward President Wilson, Continues Up To Date.

Fewer straw votes are being announced locally than formerly and those that are still show a drift toward Wilson. A traveling man Saturday told a TIMES reporter that on a train running to Minidoka during the week he had taken a straw vote which showed twenty-seven for Wilson and nine for Hughes and that a poll of the crowd at the station at Minidoka showed seventeen for Wilson and seven for Hughes.

The Salt Lake Tribune Sunday declared that the Wilson stock was going upward on the curb in the Utah capital. It said:

Democratic stocks showed a decided "bullish" tendency on the local curb yesterday, especially in so far as the presidential election is concerned. At the close of the day's activities the various boards were freely plastered with Wilson "propositions," with Hughes money in evidence only when odds were offered and comparatively scarce under all circumstances.

The Democrats became almost reckless yesterday in an effort to tempt the Hughes followers. They offered amounts all the way from $10 to $4000 on Wilson, but there was nothing doing on even money propositions. Odds had to be held out to bring results and even then the wagers were of small denomination. Before the close of the day the Hughes followers plucked up some courage and posted a few offers of 10 to 11 on Hughes.

The New York Herald report of Sunday in thirty-six northern states, out of a total of 294,599 votes, showed a Hughes majority of 722. But the Herald, a Hughes supporter, declared that the California vote should not be taken in full to get fair results, but should be cut down to one-third to get the right proportion, which would leave a majority of 5193 for the president, a gain of more than 5400 majority for the week on this basis. The Herald declared the draft toward the president was yet on, but showed evidence of slackening. On the other hand Colonel George Harvey of the North American Review, predicts a Hughes landslide.

SOME CANDIDATES ON THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

FRANK M. KENDALL

Sheriff Kendall has many things to recommend him to the voters for re-election. He has been a faithful public servant, who has always been on the job and who worked hard to save money for the people. Successfully, too, as the figures show that he saved $3,600 during twenty months incumbency. The work of the office is always up to the minute and there is never a book entry left from one day to another. Mr. Kendall knows neither friend nor foe, Democrat, Republican, Socialist or Prohibitionist in the discharge of his duty. Mr. Kendall is devoted to the enforcement of law and believes that the duty of the sheriff consists in getting those whom he goes after and letting the courts determine the rest.

W. F. ALWORTH

W. F. Alworth, Democratic candidate for state senator, was born in Pennsylvania forty-nine years ago, and lived there until he was twenty-four years old. He moved from the Keystone state to Duluth, Minn., where he was superintendent of the Great Western Mining company for several years. In 1903 he went to North Baltimore, O., where he became interested in the oil business. In the same year he became financially interested in the Twin Falls tract and four years later came here to live. He owns and operates a farm of 400 acres in this county and is identified with the country where he expects to spend the rest of his life. He has always been a prohibitionist and has always opposed the division of the county.

O. M. CARLSON

Who seeks re-election for a third term to the position of county commissioner, is well qualified for the place, both by experience and education. He is a graduate of the government school of Landmarking, in his native land of Sweden, where he had training in drainage and road building which stood him in good stead in his work on the county board here. He came to America thirty years ago and to Twin Falls county nine years ago. His administration has been noted for the work of replacing the flimsy bridges of pioneer days with substantial structure of steel. He has been active in work on the highways for the benefit of the farmers and believes in constructive road improvement. His experience as city clerk of Cresco, Nebr., has proven of advantage to him in the duties of his present office.

HANSEN BRIDGE BONDS WILL BE CARRIED SAYS COMMITTEE

The closing days of the campaign for the Hansen bridge show that the people are for it, according to E. L. Ashton, secretary and treasurer of the Hansen Bridge association, who in charge of the campaign and who has been doing a great deal of advertising and canvassing. He has been active in showing the difference between the method of voting for the bridge and voting for prohibition. In the former case, it is necessary to cross out the word "No" in order to vote for the bridge. In the latter case, it is necessary to make a cross in the square to the right of the word "Yes".

The members of the association say that the voters are just beginning to appreciate the financial value of securing the bridge, which will undoubtedly bring great advantage to the people on both sides of the river from the construction of the bridge. He trict, voted bonds for thirty thousand dollars, their half of the cost of the bridge, sold their bonds and have the cash in bank, awaiting our action. It remains for us to redeem our promise, to provide our $30,000.00.

It is proposed to erect a suspension bridge for which plans have been prepared and have been approved by the engineers of the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron company. This is one of the largest bridge companies in the United States, such bridges as the Hansen bridge being in the ordinary routine of its business, and it guarantees the bridge for a period of 100 years, $50,000.00. The specifications for this bridge and for the steel bridges across our main canals provide for the same load capacity per foot and the bridges will carry any traffic that will have occasion to use them.

The county commissioners figured

Every movement to facilitate communication throughout the valley, to render all its parts accessible, is the business of every land owner in the greater Twin Falls country.

By this bridge traffic will avoid the grades at Shoshone falls and the sand which blocks the road for some miles above the falls. The bridge will be from rim to rim, the canyon dropping sheer from the level. There will be no sharp pull to limit the size of the cross country load.

There has been thorough investigation as to the type of bridge to be built. Specifications have been prepared and have been approved by the engineers of the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron company, one of the largest bridge companies in the United States. This company guarantees that the bridge can be built for $50.

on a bond issue for roads and bridges and determined to include this in the issue, but found that under the ruling of the supreme court, the dual independent highway district would be taxed for the bonds in the proceeds of which it could not share. While it is the belief that the west end will not object to voting the Hansen bridge bonds, in the honor of the county, it is pledged, it was thought but natural that the citizens within the district would naturally object to voting a large amount of bonds for general improvement in which they could not share. Hence, after deliberation it was determined to submit the Hansen bridge bonds alone. The following statement of the arguments for the committee:

The greatest single opportunity now presenting itself to Twin Falls is to seize the trade of the Milner segregation.

There are 30,000 acres with the same water right, the same soil, the same people and practically the same development as the south side. The average citizen of Twin Falls has no occasion to visit this country and has no conception of its possibilities for trade. Twin Falls is the only large town to which they have access and they ask our help to bridge the river. The bridge will simply clutch this tributary territory.

Every person voting in Twin Falls county at the general election, November 7, will receive a Hansen bridge bond ballot and will be entitled to vote it.

There will be two special ballots handed out each year. The statutory methods provided for marking the two ballots are entirely different. To avoid confusion, compare the sample ballots given below.

The Hansen bridge ballot will be printed on white paper, three inches square. It will have on it no reference to the purpose of the bonds.

CHARITY SOLICITORS VIOLATE THE CITY ORDINANCES

It looks sometimes to the business citizens of Twin Falls as if every agent soliciting money for any fund, whether for the relief of the states even, hits our city sooner or later. For years they have been coming, unrestricted in their movements. There is, and has been for years, a city ordinance that all outside solicitors must have a permit from the city before they can canvass for funds.

It is obvious that there are those who are paying no heed to this. An impudent fellow claiming to be sent out by the Salvation Army from Pocatello, has just spent some twelve days in the city, making a house to house canvass. When asked to show his credentials from his captain, and his city permit to solicit, his answer was that he did not have to show either, as he had solicited in this city before and expected to again, and he did not have to show any permit either.

A woman from a Zion society in Ventura, California, gathering money to help the Jews in Palestine in Palestine, was also making a house to house canvass last week. When refused contributions in at least two homes, she became very angry and said it was easy to tell who were Christians in this town and who were not.

Whether these solicitors have permits or not, it is certainly a matter of good citizenship to stop this malicious giving, or at least to demand their credentials. Within two years a man dressed in a Salvation Army uniform, gathered hundreds of dollars and boxes of bedding, and clothing in this city, and was found upon correspondence to have connection with Peoria, Illinois or Salt Lake armies. We have representatives of the Salvation Army from these three cities at least twice each year. For ten years Boise's representative has been here twice a year. Last fall a business man said to a solicitor for our city charity association: "I do not feel that I can make a donation to any charity today, as I gave the Boise Salvation Army woman fifteen dollars yesterday."

Last March the same man had not a dollar in his treasury, and five children applied for shoes, who were turned down. Of the same kind, who can predict? Statistics from wholesale houses in Chicago give the increase on staples in food 65% per cent over last winter. We paid $5.00 a bushel for wheat, we pay $9.00 now. Flour, potatoes, meats, sugar, etc., have doubled in price. We have six children and when rent, coal and food is paid for, there simply is not a dollar left for clothing.

"He who runs may read."

Just why Boise or Pocatello should ask us to assist in their charity work, when we do not ask their assistance, is not at all clear.

THE TWO CONCEPTIONS.

In his formal address to the American people, entitled "My Conception of the Presidency," issued Monday, Charles Evans Hughes correctly discriminates between the idea of that great office which he entertains and the view of it taken by the present incumbent, and on this line the Democrats can afford to join battle. He says:

"My conception of the presidency differs absolutely from that of Mr. Wilson. I look upon the president as the administrative head of the government. He looks upon the president as primarily the political leader and lawmaker of the nation."

This definition should forever dispose of theory that Hughes is the man who would "do things" while Wilson is not. The contrary is the truth, and that is why the Democratic party has put upon the statute books an unexampled number of great measures. It has had a leader. When the Republicans held power under Taft, that genial and able gentleman and distinguished judge followed the course which Hughes says he will imitate. The result was that legislation for the people got nowhere, and he was placed in the position of feebly defending the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and other equally atrocious measures. When Grover Cleveland won a sweeping victory in 1892 and a Democratic senate were elected with him, because he adhered to the theory which Hughes adopts, his administration was a failure. Only once did he attempt real leadership and that was in regard to silver legislation. Elected to reduce the tariff, he saw the Wilson bill mutilated until when it was passed in 1894, it was more highly protective than the avowedly protective tariff of 1883 and not much less protective than the McKinley law. By the way, it might be well to note that the panic of 1893 occurred fifteen months before this law was passed and about eight months before it was introduced. Unlike Taft, Cleveland did not pretend to love the measure and declared it a breach of faith, but let it become a law without his signature and left office a disappointed man.

Theodore Roosevelt adopted the same theory as president Wilson insofar as presidential responsibility for legislation is concerned, but few great laws were passed during his administration because he believed that the president should be a great driver rather than a great leader, and that is a much more difficult task. A driver always makes more noise than a leader but when he has a bulky team he seldom gets as far, and that is one reason why the legislative record of President Roosevelt's administration was relatively sterile as compared with Wilson's.

As governor of New York, Hughes followed the same theory that he now endorses and his record for legislation there was relatively small. The truth is that this country has become so big that unless the people can fix responsibility somewhere, popular pressure cannot be brought to bear sufficiently to get things done. The one outstanding office in America is the presidency. With the president as leader responsibility can be fixed definitely; otherwise it cannot.

Hughes is a candidate of the most widely divergent forces that ever congregated under one banner. The radicals on both sides of everything are for him; men voicing the sentiments of them all will be in congress. To imagine that without the strongest kind of personal leadership this chaotic mass can get together is unthinkable. To elect Hughes with his avowed theory of presidential lack of legislative responsibility and expect anything but confusion is absurd.

The issues are made up. It is either to elect a man as representing the extremists of every party and faction and think that they can get together under a president who sits calmly in the White House and awaits their harmonious action, or elect a party leader, who is willing to take the initiative and assume responsibility in carrying out the great legislative as well as great administrative policies of the nation.

On Hughes' own definition of his proposed official policy, THE TIMES has no doubt as to what the verdict will be.

MODERN METHODS OF VINDICATION.

John V. Stanley was nominated on the Democratic ticket for congressman at the primaries, and a short time thereafter was arrested on a charge of improper relations with a girl near his home. He denied the charge, claiming that it was part of a conspiracy, and that the girl was prompted by motives of revenge. He demanded immediate trial, asserting that such trial would clear him of the charge against him. When it was found that he could not be placed on trial before election, he very promptly and, we believe, properly forwarded his resignation as a candidate. The state committee had suggested previously that he do so. While it was too late to get his name off the ballot the state Democratic committee ceased to try to elect him.

In this county E. T. Newbery was charged by a financially reliable paper with conduct while in office on a previous occasion which involved a "grab." He and his friends talked of a suit for libel. He did not file it. He has not resigned. He is still on the ticket asking the suffrages of the voters.

J. H. Snook, of Boise, who is in the state penitentiary, unfortunately as warden and not as an inmate of a cell, was charged with improper conduct while in office by the Capital News, a financially reliable newspaper. Instead of demanding an investigation, he called it. When the paper said that this exoneration was due to fear of what would be revealed, he still neither demanded the investigation nor brought suit for libel. Instead he accompanied by Secretary of State Barker, apparently deliberately winked the editor. The warden knocked him down while the secretary stood by and urged him on. The secretary is a candidate for re-election. The state committee of the Republican party has neither demanded that the candidate for secretary of state get off the ticket, nor that the state officials help force the investigation of the warden.

From the two last instances it will be seen that the old fogey idea of vindication is played out. "Standpat," if you are charged with a specific wrongdoing and if the inquisitor gets too persistent, "knock off his block." The Democrats are away behind the times in this state. They should not try to get a candidate against whom charges have been made to withdraw from the ticket. He should not resign. If anyone bothers him about the thing he should take a shillalah and chastise him.

People with old-fashioned ideas may resent the change, but it is all the rage in certain political circles.

CAMPAIGN "BUNK."

THE TIMES desires to call special attention to a circular being distributed by George B. Schweiger as a fine specimen of the sort of campaign promises that if not made to be broken, are broken none the less. Mr. Schweiger asks why it should be necessary to go to Twin Falls to pay taxes. The answer is that it is not necessary and never has been and that the bulk of the taxes are paid by sending money in by money orders direct to the treasurer by mail and getting a return. He says: "If I am elected to this office, that of a tax collector, I will make every bank in Twin Falls pay my bank." Now, the only way that Mr. Schweiger could do this would be to appoint nine deputy tax collectors, one for each bank. If these men did not win, the process would be expensive, if they did not the banks would have valid reason to object to the extra work imposed upon them. The taxpayers would not be helped or inconvenienced a particle and the whole scheme is as absurd as the painless toothache or the taxless state.

THE HANSEN BRIDGE SHOULD CARRY.

The hopes of the committee in charge of the campaign for the Hansen bridge bonds, that these bonds will be carried by a big majority seems to be based on a careful canvass of the county. The people are generally in the state of mind in which Ed. S. Consoe of Castleford declared himself to be last week, when he said that improvements could not all come at once and that he would vote in favor of any really meritorious one, feeling that others would come in due time. This measure is meritorious. It will mean much for the people of Twin Falls county. It will mean much for the people of Hillsdale district. It will mean the redemption of pledges by the county. These facts when presented seemed to be convincing. It is to be hoped that the majority for the bonds will be overwhelming.

CHARLES J. CROSBY

Having followed the undertaking business fifteen years, seven years of which was spent in Twin Falls, Charles J. Crosby is too well known to need any introduction to the people. During his incumbency of the office of coroner he has performed the duties of the office unassisted and in the most economical way. He has always had personal charge of the work and did not depend on deputies to do it for him. He has been efficient and economical and on this record his friends expect to see him again occupy the position he has so satisfactorily managed.

DR. D. P. ALBEE

The honesty of the man who holds the position of county commissioner should be unquestioned as the voters which demand required of his wife. People may sometimes have differed with Dr. D. P. Albee in regard to some official acts, but his pecuniary honesty has never been questioned. On the other hand, the court records of Twin Falls county show that the people enjoined his opponent while county commissioner on a previous occasion to prevent the carrying out of certain plans for the expenditure of the people's money, and that when this transaction was denounced as a "grab" and "graft" by a financially reliable newspaper no steps were taken by Newbery to secure a verdict exonerating him at the hands of a jury. Both candidates have had experience and the people have had experience with both candidates. From the facts above mentioned, a choice ought to be easy.

LAWRENCE HANSEN

It would be an insult to the intelligence of the older settlers of Twin Falls county to try to tell them anything about their pioneer friend, Judge Lawrence Hansen, of Hansen. One of the first men to come to what is now Twin Falls county, he has ever been true to its interests and its people. He has had more experience with the growth of the county and its development than perhaps any other man within its borders and has been honored with office by his fellow citizens and neighbors for more than a generation. He is opposed to county division.

MISS BERTHA NOEL

For faithful, conscientious and efficient work, there is no better officer in Twin Falls county or in the state than Miss Bertha Noel, county superintendent of public instruction. She has labored faithfully and persistently to raise the standard of the rural schools, and has succeeded wonderfully well. THE TIMES believes that the patrons of the public schools will agree that it would be unwise to make a change when the school system is being steadily elevated and that they will echo the sentiment with their ballots.

HARVEY COGGINS

While he has been in office but eleven months, it would be hard to find a more popular officer than Harvey Coggins. He is well known as a pioneer of the tract, and as a thoroughly satisfactory deputy in the office of the county clerk. He had banking experience in another state and his ability in handling funds has enabled him to conduct the office which he holds with little expense to the county.

WOULD YOU DISCHARGE A FAITHFUL EMPLOYEE?

When necessary to keep an employee in your service, would you discharge a man that had always been faithful to your interests? Would you discharge a man who has always been true and not found wanting, because he may not be of the same political opinion as yourself?

At the coming election Frank M. Kendall is asking the people of Twin Falls county for re-election to the office of sheriff on the Democratic ticket. He has been tried during the past two years and has demonstrated that he is one of the most efficient officers the county has ever had.

The office of sheriff is a most important one to the taxpayers, and not only requires a person who has claim to being a peace officer, but also a man who has business ability, executive ability, and one who has the courage and backbone to serve the interests of the people as a whole. Such a man Mr. Kendall has proven himself to be and it has resulted in a saving of several thousands of dollars to the taxpayers, and at the same time has enacted rigid enforcement of our laws.

Mr. Kendall is considered, and has the reputation, as being one of the best and most progressive sheriffs in the state of Idaho, and the people of Twin Falls county should see to it that he is re-elected by a big majority.

JAMES A. RYBEE

In calling attention to the fact that County Surveyor Rybee is again running for re-election we point to the fact as an evidence of his competency that he has been returned twice previously, and that he was thereafter appointed city surveyor.

MARGUERITE CLARK IN "LITTLE LADY EILEEN"

Following her thrilling romance in "Silks and Satins," Little Marguerite Clark is starred by the Famous Players Film company in an entirely new environment as "Little Lady Eileen." The scenes of this quaint little play are laid on the Emerald Isle where Miss Clark has an opportunity to introduce on the screen a new character, that of a typical little Irish lassie who is an unperverted believer in fairies. Miss Clark has a notable cast in her support, including Maggie Hallowell Fisher, John L. Shino, Russell Bassett, Harry Lee, and Vernon Steele.

J. Seale Dwyer, who has directed Marguerite Clark in the majority of her successes for the Famous Players, is the director of this delightful play which is to be released on the Paramount program at the Idaho theatre this week.

"THE ROSARY" AT ISIS

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Bruce Wilson has amassed a fortune which he lavishes on his wife. Yet his household is a happy one but into it creeps a note of menace. No one hears it at first, says Father Ryan, priest, the father tutor of Bruce. Quietly he goes to work with his sharpened mental sense to find the person who is causing the adverse influence in the household. Almost on the verge of discovering the cause, calamity descends on Bruce Wilson. His fortune is swept away and in such a manner that he believes that his wife was the cause of his ruin. Husband and wife are separated, the home is destroyed, and yet the cause of all this disaster is unknown. But Father Kelly, with a faith that moves mountains, goes on quietly, accurately, confidently, with but one purpose in view, the happiness of those he loves. He solves the mystery and lets the white light of truth into the minds of those that have been darkened by evil. More than this, he finds the one who has caused all the misery and restores the home.

MABEL TALLAFERRO IN CHARMING SCREEN STORY

Mabel Tallafarro, the fascinating and talented little star, will be seen on the screen here at the Isis theatre on Friday and Saturday in "God's Half Acre," one of the prettiest and most charming stories ever presented in the silent drama. The story deals with a little girl named "Blossom," the servant in an aged folk's home known as "Rainbow's End." The kindly old inmates call her "The Angel of Rainbow's End," as she is forever administering to their wants and their comforts. A well-known novelist comes to the home to get material for a certain chapter in a book he is writing. But once he becomes acquainted with "Blossom" he soon finds himself writing her into his book, and she becomes the central character. The story is handled in a pleasing and unusual manner, and there are many surprises and tense situations.

SPECIAL ATTRACTION AT IDAHO.

The management of the Idaho theatre has made arrangements for feature pictures of special merit for every Wednesday and Thursday programs. Some of the most popular of all times will be shown here regularly on those days, which will include such plays as "The Old Homestead," "Madame Butterfly," "The Girl of the Golden West," "Zaza," "The Virginian," "Emeralds," "The County Chairman," "The Telephone," etc. It will be well worth your while to be on the watch for the announcement of these features.

Vote for the Hansen

Bridge Bonds $30,000

The North Side people wanted a bridge at Hansen, the SHORTEST SPAN ON THE RIVER FOR A RIM TO RIM BRIDGE.

Our County Commissioners passed a resolution promising to call for a bond election to raise Twin Falls County's share of the cost of the bridge, same to be done as soon as the North Side people made provision for their share. They immediately voted bonds, sold them and have their $30,000.00 in bank, expecting us to redeem our promise. They took us at our word. Shall we not pay fair?

There will be a three inch square ballot, worded exactly as follows—

If the voter desires to vote for the issue of bonds, he shall strike out the word "No."
If he desires to vote against the issue, he shall strike out the word "Yes."

To the "Old-Timers:"

This is the friendly way we designate those of you who have come to us regularly, year after year, for your Christmas portraits. Some of you have been coming every year for ten years and all of you know just how busy we are in the months of November and December.

Many of you said last year "We will come in earlier next year. Get these out for us this time and we will surely be in early for our next holiday pictures." And we did get your work finished, and on time—you all remember it, don't you?—but we would so greatly appreciate a longer time to put up on your portraits this year. We do not want to be hurried; we want plenty of time both for your sitting and for the finishing. That means—Come early.

We know you so well, you who are on our "old-timer" list, we have made so many negatives for most of you, that we feel we can emphasize the resolution you made for yourselves last year—Come early. It will be better both for you and for us.

BABCOCK GRANTS TWO DIVORCES.

In the district court Monday, Judge W. A. Babcock granted divorces to Jennie E. Glenn from T. G. Glenn, and to Abbie C. Leighton France from William France. Mrs. Glenn was granted an absolute divorce, the custody of their four children and was awarded certain properties, both real and personal. Mrs. France was given permission to assume her maiden name and was awarded property.

THE BOYS ON THE BORDER AND THE MEXICAN SITUATION

By JAMES D. WHELAN

Those who imagine that the boys who went to the front with the Second Idaho would by this time be holding substantially unanimous views on intervention, on the Wilson administration, on the desirability of remaining at the front and on all other important matters, will have to amend their opinions. Captain H. W. Wilson, a prominent Twin Falls physician, returns believing personally, that intervention must eventually come; Lieutenant J. W. Porter, a former prominent Twin Falls attorney, comes back with the hope that conditions may work out without intervention. Lieutenant Porter says that in his opinion relatively few of the boys have changed politics on the border, and that they are divided in opinion. Captain Wilson says that although the majority want to get back as soon as practicable and many are very anxious to return, a considerable number do not desire to come home at once and forty or fifty out of the regiment will join the regulars permanently. All of which goes to show that boys on the front are like boys at home, having different views of things, and being divided in opinion. On one point there seems to be no division; and that is that if by staying a while longer on the border, they can help bring about an adjustment without war, which will be permanent and under which American life and property will be secure, they will all gladly do so.

Another thing testified to by all, and it is one in which all must be gratified, is the splendid moral and physical condition of the home boys at Nogales. That they have profited by their experiences in a way that will help them through life cannot be questioned. This indicates the advisability of the suggestion made by President Wilson in his Pittsburgh speech last January, in which he pointed out the wisdom of a great system of industrial schools in which the youth can be taught the physical exercises that go with military drill and in which "it is perfectly feasible to instruct the youth of the land in the mechanism

IDAHO THEATRE

Geo. B. Schweigert
County Treasurer and Tax Collector.

EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY are the qualifications upon which I seek the office of Treasurer and Tax Collector of Twin Falls county on the Republican ticket.

The system of paying taxes now practiced in Twin Falls county should be changed so as to benefit the taxpayer.

Why should it be necessary for you as a taxpayer to make a trip to Twin Falls and go to the treasurer's office and pay your taxes to deputies employed by you with your money when the local bank in your town or community will do this work for you without additional expense to the taxpayer?

If I am elected to this office, that of Treasurer and Tax Collector, I will make every bank in Twin Falls county a tax paying bank, where you can go and pay your taxes, or have your bank or pay them for you in the regular way and greatly reduce the expense and work in the treasurer's office. If we would practice this system here now we would reduce the expense of the treasurer and tax collector's office about one-half. We can practice ECONOMY here as well as they do elsewhere.

I ask the earnest support of each and use of arms, in the sanitation of camps, and in the more rudimentary principles of and practices of modern warfare." Such course would indeed be beneficial were war abolished.

In suggesting in his interview Tuesday that the national administration might be derailing action because prepared to take it, I believe Captain Wilson struck a keynote. Perhaps for other reasons than he had in mind. Distinguished writers like Sherrill and Hodges, who consider it possible but not inevitable, hold the theory that intervention, if it must come, should be conducted in such way as will not unnecessarily antagonize the people of Latin-America from Yucatan to Cape Horn, who have been drawn to us by our co-operation with them in the A. B. C. negotiations and who are gradually losing the suspicion of our intention which they once had. Intervention, if necessary, should be possible to be made by the United States, accompanied by the six powers of South America that negotiated with Carranza. This would allay the suspicions of the Mexicans and would make friends instead of enemies of Latin-America in case of war with a strong European country. In case of Cuba we went into a country where the people were friendly to us and not suspicious of our intentions. This condition does not exist in Mexico. That the ignorant peons of the border are moved by a mistaken sense of desperation to try to provoke us to fight rather than by any mistaken idea of our progress should a war start, is indicated by their attitude at Nogales, where, only a year ago, 125 of them were killed in a battle in which only one American lost his life. South American assistance in intervention, should intervention come, will mean smaller loss of life and will mean the co-operation of many Mexicans rather than a guerrilla warfare by all of them against us. South America is not yet ready to co-operate, but the relations with this government by leading countries there during the last two years, indicate that when deemed absolutely necessary that country will co-operate in bringing peace by intervention and the use of discretion and common sense which will prevent premature action to indeed commendable.

ASSESSOR

This office affects you most of all,—if your property is over-assessed you will have to pay more than your proportion of the upkeep of Twin Falls county; your lawful taxes are high enough. I have a plan by which I can save the county some money, at least the price of the assessor's salary, as well as the price of many deputies. I shall do most of the assessing myself—as much at least as possible. My plan is,—notify the farmers or taxpayers, appoint meetings at the different school districts, meet the taxpayers in a body, talk it over with them, and get the whole district in one evening, and so on, one evening for each district throughout the county. This plan is being used at some parts of the country with great success and I maintain that this manner of assessing is the correct and economical one for Twin Falls county. This does away with some ten or twenty deputies. If you could see the real advantage and money saving in this system, you surely would all vote for me.

Below is one of many genuine letters of recommendation from bankers and business men of my former associates:

Bearford, S. Dak., Oct. 12th, 1916.

MR. W. H. KARIS,

Twin Falls, Idaho.

Dear Sir: With great pleasure I write you a few lines of credit. This is to certify that I have been personally acquainted with Mr. W. H. Karis as a merchant and business man in our city for over fifteen years. # Transports Differ From Merchant Ships Under International Law

(By JAMES D. WHELAN)

The sinking this week of two transports on which Americans constituted part of the crew has proven a veritable bonanza to a certain unscrupulous kind of newspapers in these closing days of the campaign, and there has already been no lack of misrepresentation in regard to the principles of international law involved in the sinking of such vessels.

The mischief done during the past two years by editors who misrepresented the principles of international law has been great. The facts are that transports under direct charter from a belligerent government or in its direct service, whether chartered or not, differs in character from private ships playing their regular trade and carrying munitions of war as part of their cargo and as an incident to their regular business, even though such merchant ships may be available as auxiliary cruisers; so long as they are not in use in the latter capacity at the time that they carry munitions as part of a regular mixed cargo. On this proposition American writers and diplomats are all agreed.

Failure on the part of editorial writers to observe this distinction at the time that the transport Armenian was sunk, almost drove this country to the verge of war with Germany, which it was agreed by all diplomats was wholly within her rights in sinking that particular ship in the manner in which it was sunk.

The disastrous consequences that might have followed this editorial distortion of facts in that case, as well as the law applicable to transports in set forth in the work entitled, "The Rights and Duties of Neutrals," written by the eminent lawyer, David Chauncey Brewer, adviser on international law for the Army and Navy Journal, and given to the press a short time after the sinking of that transport. He says:

"The path of a neutral is difficult enough in these days of stress without adding to its perplexities. At best, its duties are not easy to perform and its rights are hard to maintain. Notwithstanding this there are numerous journalists who insist upon attributing to the people of the United States with false as well as real issues."

"No better instance can be cited than that of the Armenian. Whatever the official report may later show, the story which first reached the news centers contained no element which made the freighter parallel the cases of the Lusitania. This in no way discouraged the press. Even papers that are carefully edited informed their readers that there was cause for apprehension in the fact that Germany was continuing the illegal use of the submarine as if no protest had been made. Yellow journals went further. To their mind the sinking of the Armenian took the place of a diplomatic note. It was (according to these papers) Germany's way of saying: 'We accept your implied challenge and join issue. Hereafter we shall continue to destroy merchant ships and non-combatants at our pleasure. If Americans happen to be involved, so much worse for them.'"

"People who are informed and who reason carefully from premises to conclusion were naturally not deceived. According to the published account the Armenian was: (1) Carrying freight rather than passengers; (2) Conveying munitions direct to the British or allied armies; (3) UNDER CHARTER TO THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT, OR IN ITS DIRECT SERVICE, WHETHER THE RELATION WAS THAT ARISING BY REQUISITION OR CONTRACT; (4) Probably offered by the British government; (5) The monster returns at hand failed to state whether the destroyed ship had attempted to escape or had offered no resistance, and without such data a spirit of fair play required a suspension of judgment."

"Thus the tale carried in itself elements which refuted the suggestion which the editors were pleased to make, and the latter would have been harmless if the ordinary reader were trained to logical thinking. Unfortunately the ordinary reader is neither difficult nor logical, however estimable he may be in character or disposition. Nor is this in itself a reproach. Such is the speed and tension of modern life that much has to be taken for granted by those who are inclined to be meditative. How can it be otherwise with people who are without such tendency?"

"It is a large part of the public therefore the suggestion that the killing of Americans on the Armenian was a bit of outrageous belligerent impudence outweighed the misfortune itself. It was fortunate that the incident happened at a time when the country was confident that the president and the department of state were zealous in guarding its interests in the very matter which was thus brought to attention. Otherwise results might have been serious as they are likely to be in the future, if more restraint and good sense is not shown by those who are purveyors of news."

"It is evident from the last paragraph that Mr. Brewer was anticipating the present campaign, when public confidence might be shaken by attacks on the administration. In view of the fact that even a grave senator has not hesitated to make absurd charges against the government and retort them with nothing by the affidavit of a nonentity to back them, it is evident that the outcome will be nothing, and that they will perhaps try to stampede the people by playing up misrepresentations of the latest submarine activities within the next few days. It is therefore well for the people to be on their guard and to keep in mind the principles set forth by so distinguished a legal authority as Brewer in order that they not be deceived."

Of course, it is impossible to say in advance of investigation that the submarine may not have violated the principles of international law, but the point is that it is unjust to assume that she did so until the matter has been thoroughly sifted, and in this as in every case, a verdict should be withheld until the evidence is all in.

MACHINERY ARRIVES FOR THE BUHL MILL

The machinery for the new flour mill which is being put up on the ground between the high school building and the railroad track has practically all arrived and it is being installed as rapidly as possible under the supervision of Mr. Southworth, manager of the new business, says the Buhl Herald. Mr. Southworth estimates that it will take several months yet to get all the machinery placed and have everything running smoothly. He estimates January first as the time when they will begin to do grinding.

The new flour mill building is three stories high, with a concrete half basement that has the receiving machinery. The exterior of the whole structure is covered with galvanized iron so as to make the building more nearly fire proof. The capacity of the mill is 100 barrels daily.

COUNTY DIVISION

IS A LIVE ISSUE today, occasioned by the fact that Fred Nihart, an avowed advocate of Division, is a candidate upon the Republican ticket for the State Legislature.

He is not on the ticket as a result of Republican preference, but owes his nomination to Democrats of Buhl who favor a division of Twin Falls County.

This is not a partisan movement. Loyal Republican residents of this County repudiate the candidacy of Nihart, who was forced upon the Republican electorate by Democratic votes.

Do not be deceived by those who would tell you that Nihart's candidacy is not a menace. If elected he will tell the members of the Legislature that he was elected on a Division platform and offer this as evidence of the fact that a majority of the people of this County favor Division ---this argument together with the jealousy of other Counties toward Twin Falls will enable him to Divide Twin Falls County.

Fred Nihart was not loyal to the interests of this County when he was a member of the Legislature four years ago. He would not be loyal now, but would trade off every measure presented in return for his Division Bill, just as he traded off the bill providing for a Twin Falls Agricultural School.

REMEMBER: He was not nominated by Republicans, is not representing the Republican party, and is not entitled to Republican support.

If you are in favor of County Division, vote for Fred Nihart--if not, say so at the polls by voting against him.

HAS CHANGED NAME AS WELL AS COAT FOR FALL CAMPAIGN.

Word of Cheer Offered That All
Men Are Not As Narrow Mind ed As Ananias.

(Times' Correspondent)
"Jack White, editor of the enterprising (?) papers 'The Idaho Call' and 'The Buhl Pioneer,' has changed his name as well as his coat for the fall campaign. He will be known hereafter as 'Ananias' White, direct descendant of the Cretans and bosom friend of the slanders of Munchausen. According to 'The Buhl Pioneer' and 'The Idaho Call,' every word that falls from the lips of the Republican is an insult to the thirty soul, while the most eloquent speeches of the Democrats are as worn-out and gull cheer up, fellow workers, all men are not as narrow minded as Ananias. It is only the echoes of the Hughes hammer in the leaser minds. The people of this age are not fools, to be turned by mud slinging. They are seeking the truth—not lies.

Kimberly News

(From the Kimberly Call)

The Democratic meeting held at Kimberly Wednesday evening was well attended. The speakers told their views in very able language. A few of the youths of Kimberly who were not so enthusiastic in the political world, left during the meeting, thus giving Ananias a chance to remark in his paper. The meeting was pronounced a success so far as we can learn.

Stull Swearingen sold out his business this week to Geo. O'Brien. Mr. Cox will run the concern for Mr. Bremer. The people of Kimberly are sorry to see Stull go, but since his wife's health demands it, we bid him God's speed.

The reception at Swearingen's and Wilson's new store Saturday was a grand success. Every one present was treated royally, the gentlemen received cigars, the children a bag of candy, and the ladies a kitchen reel. The characteristic cordiality was shown throughout the entire day.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sheehan and children left for Pocatello Thursday evening.

G. A. Jacobs seemed much pleased at the success of his sale Wednesday. They will leave for Illinois the first of the month.

Dr. W. M. Fisher is permanently located in the rooms above the drug store. The Kimberly bank is being moved into its beautiful new quarters this week.

Mrs. Horace Miller has charge of the Grand Union Cash grocery and will conduct the business for W. M. Stack this winter.

Dr. J. N. Davis was absent from Kimberly a few days last week on a hunting trip. Dr. Davis is such a busy man he has to leave once in a while to go on a hunting trip.

W. S. Martin, formerly of Kimberly, but recently returned from California where he spent two years, is building a fine new residence on Center street.

It is evident that Mr. Martin thinks Kimberly is alright.
The infant son of Mrs. Henry Giles has been on the sick list this week.
D. W. Davis, candidate for governor, was in Kimberly Thursday morning.
The band was out and quite a nice little crowd gathered on the street corner to listen to his views. Some of his own party thought that there was a little more knocking than was necessary.
E. W. Tilley made a business trip to Salt Lake Saturday. Mrs. Roy Kemp and Mrs. Neva McMaster were attending to the repairing in the jewelry line during his absence.
Chas. Orr returned from his trip to Occur d'Alone Friday.

SOCIETY NOTES

Items for this department may be mailed, phoned or left at The Times office. Phone 35.

One of the brilliant affairs to be remembered was the C. O. D. club dinner at Collin hall Friday evening. The hall was decorated with holly leaves and lights and a soft glow of yellow over the happy crowd of over a hundred young people. Punch and wafers were served throughout the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Stettler entertained a number of their friends Wednesday evening. The guests were entertained at three tables at cards. Mr. Rowberry making high score and receiving the prize of a pumpkin pie. A two-course luncheon was served at the close of an enjoyably spent evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rowberry, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stettler, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Reese Williams, Mrs. Humphrey and Mr. Cox.

Miss Lucille Kelly was hostess to several of her friends at dinner Thursday. The table being centered with a low bowl of autumn flowers. Jovens were laid for the Misses Doris, Ruby, Henrietta, Duane, Grubel, Gladys Channell and Lucille Kelly.

Miss Alice and Helen Taylor entertained several of their friends Saturday evening from 6:30 to 8:30. Different Halloween devices were used in the decorations. A variety of games were enjoyed after which delicious refreshments were served.

Little Peggy Wade was hostess to thirty-six of her friends Friday afternoon from four to six o'clock. The affair opened with a peanut hunt, followed by several other games suitable to the occasion. The house was a riotous affair with its yellow and black decorations. After an enjoyable time dainty refreshments were served to the happy crowd.

Mrs. Oakley of Burley, a house guest of Mrs. W. T. Wood, was the motif for the delightful theater party Saturday evening given by Mrs. Sterling and Mrs. L. S. Morse. After the evening a delicious two-course lunch was served at the Lavering home. Those present were the Misses H. H. Hamilton, Skeels, Wood, Eastley, Selmer, Burton, Dulles, Cio, Sweeley, Woods, Bedford, Booth, Ruzar, Spafford, Barker, Greenough, Sprague, Caven, Larned, Keel and Oakley.

The ladies of the Shamrock club were at a very enjoyable afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gish, October 19, eighteen members being present. After the business meeting was transacted a most interesting program was rendered. Dainty refreshment were served by the hostess. The meeting was adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. D. W. Hunter November 8, 1916.

The Monday Bridge club met with Mrs. Knirk at her home on Eighth avenue. After a delightful supper and afternoon delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. C. L. Hart and Mrs. F. J. Cowen were guests of the afternoon.

Mrs. Hungate, a visitor of Twin Falls for the past two weeks or more, was the motif for the enjoyable homecoming given Monday afternoon by Mrs. J. C. Cookley at her beautiful home on Tenth avenue. At the close of a very pleasantly spent afternoon a delightful tea was served to the twenty guests present.

Another very pleasant affair to honor Mrs. Hungate was the informal tea given by Miss Platt at the home of Mrs. C. D. Thomas on Eighth avenue last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Hungate left Wednesday evening for her home in Nebraska.

The October meeting of the Oak Corner club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Glenn Whitney, instead of with Mrs. Bruce Requa, as first planned, the Requa children being ill. A large number of the members were present. After the business meeting and social hour, the hostess served wafers and coffee on the trays recently purchased by the club. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ben Doner.

Mrs. Neumann entertained Thursday afternoon at her home on Sixth avenue, for her sister-in-law, Mrs. Anderson of St. Louis, Nebraska. The entertainment consisted of a Kensington, at which a delicious four-course luncheon was served, and the guests present were the Misses Odium, Richardson, Lind, Neudham, Strobeck, Kruger, Anderson, Nelson and Neuman and Miss Laura Younger.

Mrs. Raymond Jones, living on the Salmon tract, gave a delightful dinner party last week in honor of Mrs. Wiley. The four-course luncheon was served in the house artistically decorated in autumn leaves and flowers. The invited guests were the Misses Doris, Margaret, Morgan, Tyling, Johnson and the Misses Jones, Cochran, Knall and Cameron.

Mrs. F. W. Bronough will entertain the Karle-Mata-Theo club on the evening of Monday, October 30, from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock, at her residence, 620 Second avenue east.

Amazingly Comfortable

They like its power—it's the world's most powerful low priced car.
Everybody concedes its beauty.
It wins on economy.
But its roomy seats, deep upholstery and easy riding cantilever springs—

These things make it so amazingly comfortable that people can hardly believe their senses.
You wouldn't think that a small, light, economical, low priced car could be so comfortable.
But come in and let us prove it to you.

HANSEN BRIDGE GETS BOOST IN BUIL

Herald Publishes Article Showing
Need of Bridge at That Point.

The county commissioners of Twin Falls county have called a bond election to be held on the same day as the general election for the purpose of building the rim to rim bridge across the Snake river at Hansen, says the Buhl Herald. The total cost of the bridge is $60,000, half of it to be paid by Twin Falls county and half by Blaine county. Blaine county has already voted her bond issue, and is awaiting the action of Twin Falls county.

At a joint meeting of the commissioners from both counties about a year ago, a plan was adopted to vote a bond issue in each county of equal amount for the construction of a rim to rim bridge. The canyon is about 350 feet deep at the point where the bridge is planned and the width is only about 500 feet. The country to be most directly benefitted is what is known as the Eden locality.

J. H. Day, who was in Buhl last week in the interest of the new bridge, said that the country he represents, rightfully belongs to the Twin Falls tract. "We can say good morning to our neighbors on the south side of the canyon," said Mr. Day, "though we have to shake them militarily around to shake hands with them."

The tract on the north side of the proposed Hansen bridge, was settled in 1910, though it was opened three years earlier. The country is much the same as this, though it has been hampered with no outlet to market. The farmers ship their produce over the branch line of railroad connecting from Rupert to Bliss.

Arthur Quinn, a senior from a Nebraska high school, who entered school this fall, has returned to his home school.

Nellie Van Meter left recently for California, where she will probably attend school.

The fifth football game of the season is to be held here with Rupert next Friday afternoon. The boys have not lost a game this season and their goal line has been crossed but once.

This occurred during the game at Rupert three weeks ago. Regular games between the first and second teams are held each evening, thus insuring a maximum of actual practice.

But one member of the team has been barred on account of low grades and so the boys feel in both mental and physical shape to trim Rupert.

Good weather and perfect grounds are going a long way toward keeping the boys in good physical condition, and the fact that they have a pretty high standard to maintain causes them to get all they can out of each practice.

Students are selling tickets in the downtown district; those who wish to attend the game may secure their tickets of them to avoid congestion at the gate.

After the game a banquet will be given the Rupert football boys, in place of the regular supper. The local boys will also be present at the occasion.

The report cards for the period were distributed yesterday, all grades below 75 being failures. Very few athletes failed, which attests some significance to conditions of athletics in school.

BOYS AT FRONT

American to shoot across the line, or to over after a Mexican sniper. Asked if this regulation were not considered necessary in all civilized nations, in order to maintain military discipline, he replied that it seemed to be so considered there. Asked in regard to two specific instances in which men were alleged to have been murdered, he replied that he had not heard of the instances in question. Asked in regard to the manner in which Americans were regarded by Mexicans, in regard to being held in contempt, he said that he had not associated with them personally. There was a story told to the effect that at one camp, Mexicans went up to one side of a barbed wire fence where Americans were guarding on the other, and knowing the regulations of the American army, went in the faces of the guards. One morning two Mexicans were found dead on the American side of the line. It being supposed that they were killed on the Mexican side and dragged over. The offensive practice stopped at once. With reference to some of the guard who went to the front being mustered out in ninety days, he said that those were California troops who had been hurried to the border without being sworn in under the new regulations. He said that he knew nothing of the condition of Pershing's army which was a long way from Nogales. He believed that Pershing had about 10,000 men with him.

Forty or fifty boys wanted to join the regular army. Their training was such that should they do so, they would have a great advantage over raw civilians who might join. Lieutenant Jack Henderson was taking examination for a lieutenant in the regular army when Captain Wilson left and he believed that it would be successful. Those joining got a free trip home, a furlough, and an opportunity to transfer to any branch of the service they desired.

A woman asked if the boys were keeping us out of war. Captain Wilson smilingly replied that he felt that he had been in the line. He was shot. Asked if he considered Sherman's definition appropriate, he replied that he had never been to the other place, so he could not judge.

S. P. Atherton, who presided at the meeting had who, at the opening, had made a short and non-partisan talk to the effect that the spirit of patriotism manifested at the time that the boys were called away, still prevailed, now naked in regard to the necessity of keeping the boys at the front. Captain Wilson replied that he did not know. Atherton wanted to know if it would not be possible to call the regulars back and patrol the border and let the national guard come home, and if nothing was to be done in Mexico, why such action were not taken. Captain Wilson replied that he did not know.

Atherton said that the boys had been called to the border on account of the murder of men, women and children, and it was supposed that to avenge them. If there were no war on the border and nothing was doing there, there was no necessity for keeping them at the front, but he allowed that the president should send them home and call the troops back from Mexico if there were no war. If there were war and it was deemed necessary to avenge the wrongs done, the parents were willing to have the boys remain. A petition asking this had been signed at Boise and widely signed here. He thought this sentiment represented the wishes of the people.

Dr. J. P. Shepherd said that he was informed that Captain Wilson being an officer was therefore not free to talk. He considered certain questions unfair. He said that he was convinced that if it were deemed necessary, in addition to the regulars to keep the boys on the border a short time in the hope that one of the boys would come peace without war with Mexico, he felt sure that every boy would be glad to stay a short time longer and help bring about that result. In reply to a question in regard to this, Captain Wilson replied in the affirmative. Continuing Dr. Shepherd said that he had a letter from the board of foreign missions in which the hope was expressed that things could be adjusted without war, and he was sure that every boy and every mother, would be glad to have this result accomplished if possible. He did not like the word "avenge," except so far as it might refer to Villa and his band. The Mexicans were ignorant. They had a country at one time larger than ours. In their ignorance, they felt bitterly that they were being treated with contempt and were hurt to deal with. What might have to be done, he felt that it was improper to conduct a campaign of vengeance. Someone raised the question of the shipment of arms into Mexico, but before this was disposed of, the meeting adjourned to allow the mothers to shake hands with Dr. Wilson and look at his pictures. Dr. Wilson was evidently tired as a result of the strain which he had undergone. The hall was full and intense interest was manifested. Many questions were asked and answered in regard to details of camp life.

BRADY INTERESTS

lying the record of his expenditures in the primary campaign.

Davis admits his connection with the Brady interests in so many words: "I would rather be selected as a representative of the vast interests of Senator Brady in Idaho," says Mr. Davis in his speeches, "than to have made money by selling overalls and socks." This cheap bit of financial snobbery is repeated by merchants and by the average voter.

The chief value of the Brady interests in Idaho is represented through his holdings of electric power stock of the great electric power combine that controls all the hydro-electric holdings of southern Idaho.

Mr. Davis is one of the trustees of the Brady interests and therefore is directly connected with this great power combine. Through Brady and the Brady machine he is closely allied with various big interests, among them the sheep industry of the state, which is desirous of gaining control of the vast millions of acres of grazing land through southern Idaho which they hope to do through the plan of speedy sale of all the state lands under his "taxless state" scheme. He is also connected in the same way with the great syndicate interests of the state which hope by the same means to get control of the remaining timber holdings of the state.

This is the financial side of the question. The political side is equally as significant. There is not a Brady backer, consequently not a Davis backer in this campaign, who is not a political enemy of Senator Borah. Davis is given full benefit of the great political machine built up two and four years ago by Senator Brady, because through the election of Davis with the powerful state house machine which he could and would build up around him and which would be attached to the Brady personal machine. A political organization would be affected which would be powerful enough and which would be used to crush out the political prominent and out of political office in the state of Idaho, the Republican Idols, Senator William E. Borah. In Boise the political opponents of Borah no longer conceal their hope to accomplish his ultimate defeat and humiliation. The election of Brady as United States senator and the building up of his machine was the first step in this direction.

tion; the election of Davis and the building up of his state house machine will be the final act necessary to crush out the senior senator.

DR. C. A. EMES

Dr. C. A. Emes, Twin Falls, candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of corner, is a member of the undertaking firm of Grossman & Emes. He has been a resident of Twin Falls since 1908 and owns considerable property in the city and county. Dr. Emes' record shows unusual qualifications for this position. He graduated in medicine and for 15 years was actively engaged in the practice of medicine as a physician. He was a graduate of the Massachusetts College of Embalming, of Boston, in which institution he was for some time engaged as an instructor. He was also a licensed embalmer in the states of New York, Rhode Island and Idaho. During his active practice in medicine he was elected to the office of corner in Jasper Co., Missouri, which he held two terms. During four years of office he personally conducted 302 autopsies. —Advertisement—

To the Voters and Tax Payers
of Twin Falls County:

H. COGGINS

Democratic Candidate for County Treasurer.

Proper attention to official duties will not permit me to make a personal appeal for support to any great number; hence I take this means of reaching you.

It should not be expected or desired that a public official neglect his office in order to further his candidacy. I believe that the time is at hand when a candidate for a county office will be supported according to his fitness for and ability to handle the office he seeks, and not because of political or other affiliations. Having had the privilege of serving you as treasurer and tax collector for the past eleven months I am willing that you should make my efforts in this capacity the basis for your decision as to whether or some one else can and will serve you better as treasurer during the next two years. Appreciating the fact that taxes are high, I have endeavored to conduct my office at the minimum expense consistent with proper service, with the result that the outlay for clerical assistance has been cut nearly one-half.

I ask your support on my record and my promise that, if elected, I will continue to handle the office in a businesslike manner and extend to each and every one good service and due courtesy.

H. COGGINS

GEORGE W. WILCOX
Republican Candidate for County Assessor.

In presenting myself as a candidate for assessor, to the voters of Twin Falls county, I have but one indorsement—my record as chief deputy for the past four years. It was my personal request three years ago to Mr.

Beauchamp that I be allowed to do a portion of the assessing in the county. Since that time, I have assessed a large portion of the county, collected practically all the personal property and automobile tax, in the county which has added much to the work of the office. On top of all this, we have reduced expense considerably in this office, even though the work has been increasing each year. I feel that as deputy, I am entitled to some credit as to what might be of interest to the taxpayers of this county as I have always had their interest at heart. And as to the number of deputies employed at this time, it is neither ten or twenty as has been stated by Mr. H. Karis. Last year, only four were employed outside of myself—Bert Pollock on the Salmon tract, Oran Dolan on the east side, Tennessee Brown on the west end, W. A. Patrick Twin Falls, and C. H. Browne, clerical assistance in the office two months. I have no new system of assessing to present to the people at this time and will not have until I am satisfied I have one that will be an advantage over the present one. The school house system was tried in Latah county two years ago and was treated as a joke, not only by the people of that county but by the assessors of the state as a whole.

I earnestly solicit your support.

Very respectfully yours,

GEORGE W. WILCOX.

W. F. MIKESSELL

Farmer and Banker, Candidate for State Legislature.

W. F. Mikesell, one of the candidates on the Republican ticket for the state legislature, is a Salmon tract farmer, living five miles south of Twin Falls. Previous to his coming to the county, he was engaged in the banking business in the state of Kansas. Mr. Mikesell has taken an active part in the affairs of the Salmon project, and for several years has been one of the officers of the settlers' organization on this project. He was induced to run for the legislature by people interested in the Salmon tract, who believe that the next state legislature can be induced to take a hand in the adjustment of some of the troubles of the state's unfortunate projects. His vote on the Salmon project will be practically a solid one, regardless of politics.

L. G. Ware and W. J. Gooding were in the city from Halley Sunday and Monday.
