UNCLE SAM SAYS SERIAL PLAN BEST

Road Building Bonds Should Be Retired Steadily

SINKING FUND PLAN COSTS MORE TO TAXPAYERS.

United States Department of Agriculture in Weekly News Letter Explains System.

People of a county intending to raise funds for highway improvement would do well to consider the advantages of the deferred serial plan over the ordinary sinking fund plan of retiring long-term bonds, says the Weekly News Letter of the United States Department of Agriculture. Under the serial plan, a certain amount of bonds is retired each year and the bonds so retired cease to be an interest charge on the community. Under the sinking fund plan none of the bonds is refundable until the end of a definite period, and the entire community bears interest for the entire life of the bond. The county, therefore, pays interest on the money so borrowed and in addition sets aside each year as a sinking fund an amount sufficient to retire all the bonds when they become due. The sinking fund is depleted with interest and the entire interest. This interest ordinarily is only three per cent, whereas the county has to pay five or six per cent to its bondholders. The serial plan is a much cheaper method of raising money for road improvement, even when the sinking fund earns interest as high as four per cent, and in the opinion of the road specialists of the department, should be utilized whenever it is possible to market serial bonds.

In a study of the road bond issues of several counties, J. E. Pennybaker and M. O. Eldridge, of the division of road economies, office of public roads and rural engineering, found that the serial plan, if it had been adopted by several counties, would have saved the taxpayers in one county $154,253, in another county $9,792, and in a third county $66,387 over the other plan with a sinking fund bearing interest at three per cent. With a sinking fund earning four per cent, the savings would have run as high as $72,285 in one of these counties. These conclusions appear in the recently published department bulletin 393, "Economic surveys of county highway improvement."

The following concrete examples are taken from this bulletin: "In Dallas county, Ala., the bonds amounted to $250,000, payable in thirty years at four per cent. Assuming the sinking fund to bear three per cent interest, as set forth in the chapter on Dallas county, the total financial burden to the county for interest and the liquidation of the bonds during the thirty-year period will be $745,702.80. An equal amount of bonds at the same rate of interest, if issued under the deferred serial bond method, with the first bonds payable six years from the date of issuance and an equal amount payable each year thereafter for twenty-four years, would cost the county at the end of the thirty years, $665,000, or a difference, as compared with the sinking fund method, of $80,702.80. If four per cent could be realized on the sinking fund instead of three per cent, the saving for the deferred serial plan over the sinking fund plan would be $47,716."

"Laurel county, Miss., issued $500,000 of five and five and a half per cent bonds, with the first serial bond method, with the first bonds payable eleven years from the date of issue and the last payment twenty-five years. If the county had issued the bonds on the 5-5-5 year basis, the cost would have been $908,875, as compared with the cost on the basis of $972,232, or a difference of $63,357."

Even in the case of a small issue the advantage of the serial plan is illustrated in Blawie county, Va. This county issued $105,000 of five and six per cent bonds, payable in thirty years, but the bonds are callable after twenty years. Assuming that they will be retired at the end of twenty-five years on the sinking fund plan, with

Theda Bara in Tale of Poor Girl Who Rises by Deceit

Famous Actress Plays Mary Doone, Child of Slums, Who Attains Temporary Wealth and Social Position by Means of Fraud

Theda Bara, supreme artist of the screen, once more appears before the public in WILLIS EX's new production, "Her Double Life." The "her" in the title of the picture refers to the role Miss Bara plays, that of Mary Doone.

Here are some of the little bits of acting that Miss Bara had to do, in the filming of this photoplay.

She began the picture by scrubbing floors in a London tenement. Then she had a fight with a drunken man of the slums, and flies from him. Later she enlists as a war nurse, and tends the wounded in a field hospital. She has to stay in the hospital while it is being bombarded from the outside. She takes the place of another girl; and has to live the life of the other, until the final disclosure. Then she breaks down in confession.

PARCEL POST FOR FARM MARKETING

Many Problems Presented in Getting Consumer and Producer Together Through Postal Service.

Although the marketing of farm produce by parcel post is relatively new in the United States, it is, in fact, only a special case of direct dealing between producer and consumer, which was the very earliest type of marketing, says the Weekly News Letter of the United States Department of Agriculture. Only the transportation medium is new parcel post trading. This itself is to a certain extent paralleled by express, which has been available and has been utilized by some farmers for many years. Even with the older forms of direct dealing, in which sales are made from house to house or through farmers' markets, parcel-post marketing has points in common in that the actual producer of the goods is known to the consumer of them, and the satisfaction or dissatisfaction of the latter has a direct and potent effect on the success of the former's business.

In spite of these general similarities, however, many new problems in the marketing of farm produce were created when the mail system was made available for transportation of relatively bulky commodities, all post offices and rural routes thereby being made shipping agencies. This was in striking contrast to the facilities furnished by older transportation systems, which the farmer could use only by making a trip to a railroad or express office. Many of the new problems have been attacked by the office of markets and rural organization of the department, which has made in its work hundreds of experimental shipments of various commodities over varying distances under different seasonal and other conditions and has studied methods of grading and packing and of transacting business. Much practical information has been gathered in this way and has been made available both to the producer and the consumer.

COAL SHORTAGE MAKES WILLIAMS REMINISCENT

City Clerk Tells of How There Were Many Early Warnings and Some Much Earlier.

"This talk about a possible coal shortage here, if we should have a cold spell," said City Clerk R. M. Williams Friday, "reminds me of the coal famine that we had here about four years ago, the first year that I came to the tract. 'I found out that coal was short, just as my coal was about out and I also learned that a car of coal was coming in on a certain night. I went to all drymen and asked them to haul me some, but they all turned me down, because they said that there were so many orders in ahead of me that I could not get any and there was no use talking about it. I had to have coal, and so I decided that when the car came in I would be on hand early, before anyone got there and get some before the rush.'"

"The coal came in at night and I gathered up four or five sacks and the next morning was up just before four o'clock, so that I would get there by that hour. It was a clear, crisp winter morning, with the thermometer registering twenty degrees below, but as I had my long overcoat and coat wagons on the roads all around town rumbling along and when I got near the depot I found that wagons were already lined up for two blocks. 'I found that the arrangement was that the drymen for the coal companies were leading up and then dividing among their customers, a little to each. I was not in it, but I got my coal. I stood by the scales and when it became necessary for a driver to kick off the load I picked it up and in this way filled my sacks before the coal was all gone. Many came with wagons and went away empty. When the last wagon that got coal had secured what was left for it, I weighed mine and asked the driver to take it home for me, which he did. That gave me enough to tide over until a supply came to town.'"

NEWS DENOUNCES TECHNICAL CONTEST

Favors Congratulations to Democratic Executives

SAYS WILSON IS PRESIDENT AND ALEXANDER IS GOVERNOR

People Are Entitled to Their Choice and Should Have It—Should Contest Only for Fraud.

Urging the people to forget election differences, acknowledge the victory of President Wilson and Governor Alexander, the leading Republican paper of southern Idaho, in its issue of Thursday last, editorially opposes contests on technical grounds. It says: "From present indications it would appear that the Idaho election is a badly mixed up affair. Whether or not subsequent investigations, if any are made, will show actual fraud, cannot be definitely determined at this time, but there can be no question but what a good many ballots were counted in a good many different ways. A recount might change the results as to the governorship, but so far as can be seen there is an even better chance that it would not. Moreover, from the standpoint of the defeated candidate, the chance is not worth the effort. In the light of all facts, The News favors the out and out concession, on the part of their opponents, of the election of both President Wilson and Governor Alexander without further delay. If election frauds are shown to have occurred, immediate action should be taken looking to the prosecution of the guilty, and if a readjustment of the count brought about by such action should show the election of Mr. Davis, well and good, but for any other result is concerned it would be well to regard it as over. With the election safely passed and the results determined beyond the peradventure of a doubt, a number of interesting points present themselves. To begin with, it is apparent that the voters of Democratic Idaho have recoiled throughout the contest for the most part. For the first time in the history of the country, a presidential candidate carrying the state of New York has gone down to defeat. California may be regarded as the pivotal state of the Republican campaign. Not that the electoral college votes of California alone would necessarily have changed the result, but had the Hughes campaign been successful in California enough additional states would probably have been influenced thereby to swing the result to Hughes. The fact that Hughes was able to line up in California with the element opposite to that headed by Governor Johnson becomes, therefore, the biggest single factor in his defeat for the presidency. Today there is but one proper attitude on the part of the public at large, namely, to wipe the slate clean as to the four years that have gone and give to President Wilson and the new congress, the right to make good

If they can, unhampered by previous prejudice, unhampered by facts that are now history. This by way of an application of the principles of fair play. A majority of the people of the United States have endorsed President Wilson and the Democratic party. The fact that The News is a Republican newspaper, always has been and in all human probability always will be, has nothing to do with the point. The broader principles of government scarcely enter into the situation, there is need of emphasis. A majority of the new state officials will be Democrats. A Democratic governor will occupy the executive chair and a substantial working majority of both upper and lower house of the state legislature will be Democratic. All are entitled to their choice and all should have it, without regard to past performance. In the statement of Idaho where the good wishes go out to the county officials-elect, irrespective of party affiliation. All are worthy citizens, actuated by honest motives and honest intent, and all are entitled to a square deal.

As far as this newspaper is concerned, they will get it.

ENGLAND DEFENDS BLACKLISTING PLAN

Refuses to Yield to Contentions of United States—Says Blacklist Just and Necessary.

WASHINGTON—The British reply to the latest American note protesting against the trade blacklist, made public tonight by the state department, denies that the British foreign secretary, under international law have been ruthlessly canceled, defines the blacklist plainly concerning only the first twenty countries and the United States and contends that it is designed to shorten the war. The note fails to meet the American demand that the names of American firms be stricken from the blacklist, but attempts to convince the state department that the British position is just and founded on law. It leaves open the door for further negotiation, which is expected to follow. The note was subscribed by Viscount Grey, the British foreign secretary, and was addressed to and transmitted by Walter Hines Phipps, the American ambassador at London. A part which attracted much official notice dealt with the subject of peace, based on the theory that one American contention had been that there exists no military necessity for the blacklist, that it is unnecessary for the allies to prohibit neutral commerce, and that nothing which happens in distant neutral countries can influence the result of the great conflict. "If that really were the position," says the note, "it is possible that the measures taken by his majesty's government might be described as uncalled for, but it is not. We may well wish that it were so. Even though the military situation of the allies has greatly improved, there is still a long and bitter struggle in front of them, and one which in justice to the principles of military necessity they are fighting against upon the duty of employing every opportunity and every measure which they can legitimately use to overcome their opponents."

(From The Filer Journal.)

The box supper at the Maroon school house last Friday night was well attended. Over $100 was taken in, which will go for an Edison Victrola for the school. A good program was given by Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Fuller of Twin Falls, assisted by the pupils and also little families Blankens.

The Maroon Women's club held its regular meeting at the school house Thursday afternoon. The Mesdames Glasgow, Hawkins, Diehl and Sierra were hostesses. About twenty-five members were present. Those visitors for the day were the district president, Mrs. Glouche, president of the Twentieth Century club, Mrs. Emma, also Mesdames Morse, Hill, Guthrie and Cookley; of Twin Falls, Mesdames Glasgow, Hawkins, Diehl and Sierra were hostesses. About twenty-five members were present. Those visitors for the day were the district president, Mrs. Glouche, president of the Twentieth Century club, Mrs. Emma, also Mesdames Morse, Hill, Guthrie and Cookley; of Twin Falls, Mesdames Glasgow, Hawkins, Diehl and Sierra were hostesses.

On last Friday afternoon a number of the friends and neighbors of Mrs. A. S. Ripley gathered at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hughes, for an informal surprise party for her. Mrs. Ripley leaves this week for an extended visit with relatives in California. A number were detained on account of illness but the following ladies were present to wish her a happy journey and safe return: Mesdames McCleary, Shain, Patton, Timm, Egan, Young, E. S. Ripley, Schildman and M. G. Ripley, of Twin Falls.

Mrs. P. E. McAllister and Miss Clara and Miss Sikes of Twin Falls, wore Maroon victrola Sunday.

Saturday night Marshal Allen and deputies arrested three young men who gave their names as Pordy, Martin and Breckon, for stealing a $60 saddle from Dr. Hack. They were taken to Twin Falls and arraigned before Judge Oetzel, who held a preliminary hearing and committed them to jail. They were bound over to the district court.

Mr. Noh, who purchased the Mattoon 20 acres is making extended improvements there. He has just completed an addition to his house and the Filer Hardware company is now installing a complete water system and bath room outfit in the house. He is repainting the improvements and making the place one of the prettiest in this section.

The high school will give a program in assembly hall on Wednesday afternoon before Thanksgiving. Visitors are cordially invited to attend. The grade school will also give a program at the Methodist church the same afternoon.

The Poplar Hill Woman's club met with Mrs. Rettig last Thursday afternoon with a goodly number present, and all enjoyed the afternoon and dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Unipenour.

BOTH PARTIES CLAIM THE LOWER HOUSE

Democrats and Republicans Assert That They Will Control the Next House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON—Cham Clark, speaker of the house, reached Washington today and conferred with Democratic leaders regarding the congressional election, which, according to the latest unofficial returns, leaves control of the next house in doubt. The speaker first conferred with Representative Doremus of Michigan, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, who predicted, despite unofficial returns indicating the election of five more Republicans than Democrats, that the final canvass would give the Democrats control, and the speaker would be re-elected.

On the other hand, Representative Woods of Iowa, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, was insisting that complete returns would show Republican gains instead of losses, and that Republicans would dictate the organization of the house.

Representative Doremus claimed early in the day at the White House that 212 Democrats and only 211 Republicans surely had been elected, and that there were nine doubtful districts. He reiterated this later to Speaker Clark, Senator Stone of Missouri, and other Democratic leaders numbering districts which he believed would show Democratic victories on the official count. During the day, however, there were no changes in the unofficial results, now indicating the election of 217 Republicans, 212 Democrats, two Progressives, one Progressive-protectionist, one Independent, one Socialist and one Prohibitionist.

Representative Doremus, in his statement of doubtful districts at the informal conference of party leaders, claimed that official returns would reverse the result and show the election of W. G. Mather, Democrat, over W. F. Martin, Progressive-protectionist, in Louisiana; Zebulon Weaver, Democrat, over James J. Britt, Republican, in North Carolina; Thomas J. Scully,

ROBINSON'S

The Going Is Still Good

Our sales so far this month exceed those of the entire month of November last year, "so you see" that our sales for the "balance" of the month will be all clear gain. You good folks who have helped to bring this about will understand how pleased we who are here in the store feel over these results. So "keep a coming while the coming is good."

There are more reasons than one why this business is growing. One is, that the goods we have to offer you are selected with special care as to their quality and usefulness and the prices at which we offer them are "Right"; in many instances lower than the same quality and make can be bought elsewhere; and in most instances lower than the mail order houses are making. Please remember that we invite comparison with any reputable dealer and particularly with the mail order houses.

SOME FACTS WORTH MENTIONING

That children's black knit pants or tights are in good demand and hard to get, that I have a good stock of these useful little articles and that my price is lower than even the wholesale houses who have them asks for them.

SWEATERS

Our sales in sweater coats for men, women and children have been most remarkable—much larger than I had expected and while my stock on these has been materially reduced during the past two or three weeks it is fortunate that we have sold all through the line, still leaving the assortment good, but a couple of weeks more of such business as we have had will probably close out many of the numbers. So come while the "coming is good."

GLOVES AND MITTENS

We sell "such a lot" of Gloves and Mittens it seems hardly worth while to tell you about them in the newspapers, but by way of reminding you we have:

- Men's work gloves as low as 35 cents a pair.
- Men's gauntlet gloves at 39 cents a pair.
- Men's Driving gloves at 89 cents a pair.
- Men's wool gloves at 35 cents a pair.
- Automobile one-finger gloves.
- Women's leather gauntlet driving gloves.
- Women's wool gloves and mittens.
- Misses' wool gloves and mittens.
- Children's wool gloves and mittens.

I carry Kaysen silk gloves in winter weight, cost less than kid and are more satisfactory.

HOSIERY

This store is noted for its hosiery.

I believe that it is no "idle boast" or exaggeration to say that no one store in this part of the country carries so many good numbers of hose in such desirable kinds, in only good black, at such attractive prices as this store.

The women's hose that we carry, that are made with reinforced garter tops, double heels, sole and toes in soft finish hile are really wonderful values at 25 cents a pair.

It is admitted by those who have seen them as well as those who have bought them, that no where do they find ladies silk hose that compare with those we sell for the price. Made with deep garter top, double soles, extra well made and durable in both black and white at one dollar a pair.

Extensions Planned—The Oregon, Logan & Idaho railroad is reported to be working on plans for the extension of the lines of the company from Preston, Idaho, through Gentile valley, a distance of 20 miles.

Engineers will be sent in the spring to make surveys for the proposed extension. "Highways of water" are being planned between Preston and Blackfoot, but officers and agents of the company refuse to say that the extension is being made for the Oregon, Logan & Idaho—Pocatello Tribune.

Marston Will Incorporate

The town of Hazelton in the west end of the county, is incorporating a number of permanent improvements and growing rapidly. Two blocks of cement sidewalk are now in use and a new three-room corner business block has just been enclosed and is being completed as rapidly as the material arrives will permit. The citizens are preparing to incorporate their prosperous little city into a village, and on Monday of this week had 136 signers to the petition, it requiring only 200 to complete the full list. As soon as the incorporation is completed and the organization perfected, effort will be made to secure a water works system for the city, and a large amount of concrete sidewalks will be added.—Rupert Record.

No Car Shortage at Nampa

The present car shortage, the most serious affecting the railroads of the country for ten years, is causing no great inconvenience to Nampa, according to local railroad officials. Incoming freight is arriving with little or no more delay than usual, and outgoing shipments, which consist of grain, coal, chiefly of hay and grain and the usual run of logs, are also being handled without any difficulty, it is said. As far as has been learned, local dealers are in no danger of experiencing a coal famine, such as Boise papers say is seriously threatened at the capital city on account of a shortage of cars at the mines.—Nampa Leader-Herald.

Cold Does Damage at Burley

The cold snap struck the section just weeks ago, many unwarmed and resulted in considerable damage to perishable farm products. The heaviest loss was in the case of apples, which, the latter proves a loss. Some few farmers had not dug their potatoes, and as a result of the cold will lose them. Others have not dug their apples, and are in protecting the harvested crop against the early frost, and some damage resulted. The most serious situation presents itself regarding the sugar beet crop, fully twenty-five per cent of which is still in the ground. While the frost does not injure the beets, should the ground keep frozen the crop will be lost, as it will be impossible to dig the beets until spring and the sugar factory will be closed and under repair at that time.—Burley Bulletin.

Burley Balda Brick Plant—The Hayburn Brick and Tile Co., began work this week clearing ground for a big brick plant just east of the Burley fair grounds. This company has been successfully operating the brick plant at Hayburn for a number of years, and has recently supplied the brick for the Twin Falls flour mill, the Fruit Growers' warehouse, and the sugar factory west of city, the clearing ground at Rupert, the sugar factory, the National hotel, the new flour mill and numerous other buildings built in Burley. A rapidly growing business has forced the company to expand, and in order to be able to manufacture a red brick of superior quality, a plant is being established here, as the Hayburn is best only for the white brick, which will continue to be turned out at that plant. The Hayburn plant will be ready for operation early in spring, and will furnish employment for twenty-five to thirty men continually.—Burley Bulletin.

THAT BOND ELECTION SATURDAY.

It has not been our intention to take any part in the little domestic argument that comes up for final settlement next Saturday; or rather, such was not our intention until very recently. It looks to us like a nice discussion to keep out of. But the tactics of certain people who are working industriously for the bonds have been adapted to a course that obliges us to sit up and take notice, whether we would or not.

The council has allowed itself to become unduly anxious about this matter. It is unfortunate that argument could not have been met with argument, instead of insinuation and worse. For instance, one man who opposes the council's bond plan is charged with majority aspirations and the desire to do nothing more than further these aspirations by gratifying the desire for the present administration. This is obviously foolish on the face of it. The present administration has fallen flat on the very proposition that put it into office; the people of the city feel it keenly and resent it; any further charges against the administration are entirely superfluous. But aside from that, such a counter charge sheds no light whatever on the real merits of the questions to be voted upon; and light is just exactly what the people of Twin Falls have been waiting for. The council prefers to keep them in the dark evidently.

Who of our readers has seen a statement by any member of the city administration as to the necessity or advantages of a $40,000.00 city hall?

The council's favored paper, to be sure, has said that such a building would be an attraction to the city, provide room for the various city departments, and work for the unemployed during the winter. Perhaps this statement of the case is regarded as sufficient.

Just as individual opposition to the bonds has sought to be silenced by counter attack, apparently an effort is made to keep THE TIMES out of the discussion by the insinuation that this publication's attitude on the question would be controlled by a man, opposed to the bonds, who is one of the stockholders of this corporation. Another example of meeting argument with counter-charge. Another instance of substituting darkness for light!

The situation, as it appears to us, we will sum up very briefly. We are in favor of extending the paving in this city as extensively as practical, at as early a date as practical. Shoshone avenue from one limit of the city to another, ought to be paved; the same with Main street. In addition to these there are other streets in this city upon which, we believe, pavement is justified.

But it is not practical at the present time, due to a condition for which the council can blame no one but itself.

Every water main in the city will have to be replaced within the next three years with iron mains, for the present ones are of wood, already rotten and become more so every day. Prospecting through the pavement on the downtown streets for leaks in the present wooden mains is an every day occurrence. No pavement could be laid anywhere in Twin Falls until a new water works system is agreed upon and constructed.

Mayor Sweezy promised, when running for office, that this would either be actually accomplished or under "driving construction" within eighteen months from the time he went into office; indeed, said he would resign if this promise was not kept. Readers will recall that we published a photograph of the mayor's promise and resignation only a few weeks ago.

When new paving is placed in Twin Falls it should be put down to stay, and this means that a permanent water works system should go down first.

Once this is done THE TIMES will be found supporting every practical paving proposition.

The question of whether there should be parking in the center of the proposed Shoshone avenue paving, is incidental to the principal question, and not we believe of great importance in itself. The streets belong to the people of the entire city, and not to the people along any particular street, the sentiment of the majority of the city's population should determine such details.

Our "pure water" council has not given us the promised opportunity to vote a bond issue for a water works system that will be a credit to this progressive city, but is evidently arguing to the next best thing. It has presented to the voters an opportunity to vote $40,000.00 for city hall and city offices for our motional water works department. It might be argued, and with some truth, that humor, that with the present council in office another three years, the remnants of our $90,000.00 water works system will have rotted away and without any new system, we will have no use for any water works department at all.

We heard some one say, in support of the city hall proposition that the city would be saved a considerable sum in the way of rent. We have figured out that it would take just about such a saving to maintain the janitor's staff in the new building.

But, with us, nothing is too good for Twin Falls.

Under ordinary circumstances we would be very reluctant to oppose any civic improvement even were the necessity most remote. THE TIMES will always be willing to bear its portion of the increased taxation.

We believe, however, that the water works system comes logically before anything else, and it begins to look as though every other proposition will have to be turned down in order to impress the city administration that the people mean business.

WILSON'S GREAT VICTORY.

Although Woodrow Wilson will still be a minority president, because he received less than a clear majority of the total vote cast for the office which he holds, including the ballots voted for the minor parties, he is no longer such as compared with the vote of the great parties. It is perhaps not generally known that the combined Republican and Progressive vote in 1912 if cast for one candidate would have given him a greater popular plurality over Wilson than Taft had over Bryan four years before. Taft's plurality in 1908 was in round numbers 1,250,000, while the combined Roosevelt and Taft vote in 1912 was 1,350,000, greater than the vote cast for the Democratic nominee. Of course, the opposition was so hopelessly divided in 1912 that even if the conventions had patched up a truce and agreed on a candidate he could not have polled the full vote of the Progressive and Republican parties.

The popular vote this year gave a plurality of more than 400,000 for Wilson and shows that he has made good in the opinions of the majority of the people, for had not the minor parties been willing to see him president again as against his opponent they would have voted for Hughes. The Republican national committee has completed unofficial figures from all states showing the increase and decrease in the party votes, and these indicate more strikingly than anything else the tremendous growth of President Wilson in popular favor. They show that, compared with the vote for Wilson, Taft and Roosevelt in 1912, there was an increase for Wilson and Hughes this year of 2,830,000 over the total Democratic, Republican and Progressive vote four years ago. Of this President Wilson is shown to have received 2,266,000 and Mr. Hughes 564,000.

In nearly every big state it is shown that Mr. Wilson made a great gain over his vote of four years ago, while in several of the states the total of Mr. Hughes falls below the combined vote of Roosevelt and of Taft in 1912.

In Colorado Wilson gained 44,000 and Hughes lost 34,000 in Idaho Wilson gained 34,000 and Hughes lost 4,000; in Iowa Wilson went ahead 39,000 and Hughes fell off 2,000; in Maine Wilson's gain was 13,000 and Hughes lost 5,000; in Massachusetts Wilson gained 73,000 and Hughes fell 33,000—below the Taft-Roosevelt total; in Pennsylvania Wilson went ahead with 115,000 and Hughes fell 25,000—behind; in Ohio Wilson gained 155,000 and Hughes lost 10,000; in Minnesota Wilson gained 70,000 and Hughes lost 13,000.

States in which both Wilson and Hughes gained in the total vote (the Hughes vote being compared with the combined Roosevelt-Taft vote in 1912) with the gain of each candidate at the recent election show the following results:

New York, Wilson gain, 101,000, Hughes gain 18,000; New Jersey, Wilson gain 31,000, Hughes gain 30,000; Arizona, Wilson gain 10,000, Hughes gain 10,000; California, Wilson gain 188,000, Hughes gain 166,000; Connecticut, Wilson gain 25,000, Hughes gain 4,000; Illinois, Wilson gain, 465,000, Hughes gain 404,000; Indiana, Wilson gain 51,000, Hughes gain 26,044; Kansas, Wilson gain 171,000, Hughes gain 82,000. It will be seen from the above that while Hughes gained in several states, as compared with the combined vote of Roosevelt and Taft, he lost in others, while Wilson gained everywhere over his vote of 1912. In no case did Hughes gain more than Wilson and in only one state, Arizona, was his actual gain as great as that of the president.

The total vote this year, according to the unofficial returns, was 16,724,114.

THE YOUNG IDEA SBOOTS

The tendency of the high school mind is Democratic and if the late election had been left to the students in the Twin Falls high school George Wiley would have been the only Republican in office in the county, and he would have won by a nose. At the election held November 6, Wilson got 243 votes, to 177 for Hughes and seventeen for Benson. The Republican congressional ticket went through with flying colors. Alexander won by a safe majority as did most of the state ticket. Lulu Shwalter Carlisle won from Ethel L. Redfield by one vote and T. A. Walters lost to M. J. Sweezy by the same. R. N. Bell, Republican candidate for inspector of mines defeated Thomas D. Fry by twenty-five plurality. On the legislative ticket, S. P. Atherton won by a good sized majority while all three Democratic candidates for the lower house won by a large margin. The county commissioners and all the rest of the county officers except assessor were "filled" with Democrats by good majorities.

A peculiar feature of the election was the fact that the Prohibition ticket got no votes, and another was the fact that, contrary to the custom, the Socialists "scratched" more than members of other parties. Benson got seventeen votes while the congressional candidates on that ticket got seven each. The Socialist candidate for attorney general and lieutenant governor got fourteen votes each, and the candidate for state auditor sixteen, while the other state candidates got either six or seven. W. H. Easterly got eight votes for state senator, while the votes for the candidates for the lower house and for the county candidates varied from five to seven.

The result showed that the younger generation is growing up without party strings and with the idea of independent voting firmly fixed in their minds and that neither an old nor a new party can bind those who believe in its principles to vote the straight ticket against their best judgment.

MORE POWER TO BUHL

Everyone who desires to see southern Idaho grow will rejoice over the fact that the proposition to vote bonds for road improvements has been again submitted to the people of the Buhl Independent Highway district and that there seems little doubt that they will carry by the required, two-thirds majority. At the previous election the bonds lacked only a few votes of the necessary percentage. At that time THE TIMES expressed regret at the failure of the voters of the Buhl district to unite in favor of the bonds. Had they done so, improvements of importance could have already been made.

But the delay will not be fatal. The bonds can be voted now and sold before spring so that at worst only a few months will have been lost. The Buhl people propose to improve the famous Lilly Grade, which has proven an obstacle to traffic between the west end city and Jarbridge. This is as it should be. With this grade improved, a part of One-half County annexed and the road from Hogerson also put in good condition, the speedy development of the great gold camp at Jarbridge will be assured and the people of Twin Falls, Rogerson, Buhl, and all Twin Falls county will be the beneficiaries.

The farmers of Buhl announce that they will meet Saturday at the rooms of the commercial club in that city and form the first rural credit association in southern Idaho, if not in the state. All this shows a spirit which will not hesitate to take the initiative necessary to secure good roads.

REENTER THE FOREIGN WAR.

Elections come and elections go but the European war we have always with us. The New York World's special correspondent in Germany says that the people there, while realizing that any dream of absolute conquest must now prove futile, have more confidence in the ability of the army to keep invaders out of the Fichtelberg and to hold Belgium and the French territory captured for an indefinite period. He points out the slow pace with which attrition must work on the other hand, the allies seem equally determined to destroy Germany making peace. Yet, sooner or later, there must come a breaking on one side or the other. War could go on for a century between England and France in the latter part of the middle ages, and the Spaniards could fight the Moors for 700 years, but that sort of thing cannot happen with the awful means of destruction now in the hands of humanity. Determined as the people on both sides seem to be, perhaps the day of peace is nearer than it seems. Probably all the statesmen of Europe have in common a feeling that it would be well, to "quit while the quitting is good" if they only knew of some means whereby they could safely let go.

APOSTLE F. M. LYMAN.

DIES AT SALT LAKE.

Original Founder of Sugar Industry and Leader in Business as Well as Religion.

SALT LAKE CITY.—Francis Marion Lyman, president of the quorum of Twelve apostles of the Latter-day Saints church, who has been a prominent and active figure in the religious, political and industrial history of Utah since he arrived here Sunday at his home in this city.

Death came after an illness of but two days. He contracted a cold which developed into an inflammation of the lungs, and, at once, and though every thing possible was done in a medical way for the patient, even his powerful and rugged physique was unable to withstand the ravages of the malady and death gave him relief from his suffering.

The death of Apostle Lyman, who was next in line for succession to the presidency of the Mormon church, marks the passing of one of the most able and capable leaders of the church and state. Coming to Utah with an ox team company when a boy of six, he at once became active

In church and state affairs and forged his way to the front in every line of undertaking.

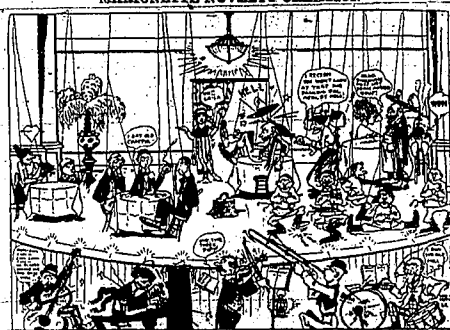

He was a man who did things, and when but still a boy he had accomplished much more than many men accomplish in a lifetime. While he gave his time, his energy and great ability to the work of his church in every line, he found time to attend to business and to make a success in most of his undertakings. He was a pioneer in all undertakings and was of the original founders of the sugar industry in Utah, as well as a builder of flour mills, an agriculturist, and a leader in state and church and a leader in politics and power and accomplishments.

His record from a standpoint of activity and accomplishment is remarkable. Born as a frontiersman, he was a pioneer farmer and a bull-whacker at the age of eight; heardsman and cowboy at eleven, learning a trade at thirteen, plowing the tradeless deserts as a leader and captain at the age of sixteen; exploring the wilds of the country at eighteen, a seventy and a missionary at the age of twenty; with farming, attending school, preaching over improvement association, building the log cabin of the pioneer, an incident of his life, between. He was married three times and there were born to him and his wives twenty-one children.

C. F. LIEBHART AGAIN HAS

IMMENSE CLOVER YIELD.

C. F. Liebhart, through the seed from his famous thirteen and one-half acres of white clover, which made him a gross profit of $293.76 per acre on last year's crop, while clover seed and the same field made 165 bushels, or little less than twenty bushels to this acre this year, says the Buhl Herald. Last year it made nine and one-fourth bushels to the acre but this season the volunteer alfalfa has come up in it, which has so seeded, cutting down the clover yield.

However, the field will clean about four bushels of white clover seed and 7.5 bushels of alfalfa seed to the acre. Mr. Liebhart expects to receive an average of $53.00 per acre for the crop. The field was in alfalfa, before it was plowed up and sown to white clover. This will return Mr. Liebhart $350.75. The ground was in orchard, and just coming into bearing, though Mr. Liebhart had the trees pulled out. He said that the clover crop pays better than fruit trees.

LOU TELEGRAM FIRST ACTOR

TO PLAY IN MOVING PICTURES

"I simply stepped out at the studios the movie picture industry has made within the last few years," remarked Lou-Telegram, the distinguished romantic actor who will be seen in the Idaho Theatre, Friday and Saturday in the Jesse L. Lasky production "The Victory of Conscience."

After a heavy rain, a uniform, which he wears in this Paramount picture, "The Victory of Conscience," he has the distinction of being the first actor to ever appear in motion pictures. As I look back at it now, it seems ages ago, when in reality it is only a few years.

One day in the quiet little town of Twin Falls, a man with a cinematograph camera appeared on the scene to take some pictures of the village streets. "The town," remarked Lou-Telegram, "was a very different from former scenes, and I suggested to him that the next day he photograph a simple story, which I had in mind, as the cinematograph would only hold two hundred feet of film, the story had to be told at that length, so the next day with a couple of young people, we went out into a garden and acted out and photographed the little story. I have the print of it now, in Paris, but I never show it. It is so crude and strange to what is shown now-a-days, and having had no camera experience everything looks horribly awkward."

MANY ATTRACTIONS

AT LAYERING THEATRE.

Manager Layring has booked ahead many of the season's biggest attractions and the next month will see a schedule which is heavier than usual at this time of the year. Forrest Taylor, December 1 and 2; Alexander, "The Man Who Knows," with fifteen in the company, December 4 to 9, inclusive; "Everywoman," the biggest show this season, December 12; "It Pays to Advertise," December 14; "The Old Maid," with Old Fellow's emblem, monogram "A. C." in gold. Liberal reward. Return to the Elmer Moore House, 137 Shoshone, So.

FAMOUS PLAY WILL SHOW AT

LAYERING THEATRE DEC. 12.

"Everywoman," Henry W. Savara's greatest popular success, comes to the Layering theatre December 12. Mr. Savara, who has a habit of doing big things in a big way, is bringing his own troupe of twenty-five actors, who are now making a seventh triumphal tour from coast to coast.

The production is described as magnificent. Two hundred of women's costumes and electrical effects are transported from city to city to add in illuminating the popular play and to show that one hundred people are employed in the representation. A special orchestra is carried by the organization to interpret the score, and the cast includes thirty-seven speaking characters. In reality "Everywoman" is most difficult to place under the ordinary classification of the theatre, is a combination of grand opera, musical comedy and drama, drollly intermingled. It admits of astonishing electrical effects and scenic splendors. There are thousands of square yards of scenery and armies of supernumeraries.

Music a Life Necessity

Food, Raiment, Shelter, and last, but not least, Music, are the four necessities of life. "Music is part of every human being's life." "What cheers the child in its cradle but mother's cradle song?" Nothing inspires man or woman like music.

It is not only a necessity, but a benefactor of mankind, because it makes life worth living. Just imagine life without music—it wouldn't be life—it would be a dull, dreary existence.

From cradle to grave music is more a part of the average man's and woman's life than he or she imagines.

THE MUTUAL GIRL AND HER AUNTIE

AUNTIE: I have noticed the ad. for some time of the ECONOMY CASH GROCERY, and have been tempted to go in there, but never did get around to it. Do you know what kind of a place they have.

LUCILLE: Why, I met Mr. C. M. McElwain a little while back and he seems to be a very sensible business man. He has been here for six or seven years now and says there is no place like "Twin Falls," and says anyone who kicks, we ought to put him out bag and baggage. That is the kind of a spirit to have, and all other things being equal, we ought to patronize him.

AUNTIE: Well, if that is the case, I will go in, and buy there and see how I like it, anyway; and if I don't I will not come again.

LUCILLE: What he told me, Auntie, was that all he wanted anyone to do was to give him a fair trial, and if he could not satisfy him, he would rather have them go where they could be satisfied; that is certainly the right spirit.

MORAL: GIVE THE CASH ECONOMY GROCERY A TRIAL; THAT IS FAIR.

SAYS ANTI-CATHOLICS BEAT HIM

I desire space for the purpose of informing the people of Twin Falls county of the existence of a secret political organization. It is not unknown to a few that there is an organization known as anti-Catholic. Few know its real character. If you should start out to look it up, to find out who are its officers, you might find the task difficult. The claim is made that they control 250 votes. It is a sort of a Black and White organization. The inner circle who control the action of this body. Any one of this inner circle is supposed to deny all connection with it. It is supposed to have many candidates on our county ticket, whether they know it or not, have been given a stab in the back. They don't treat their victim in the open but in the dark.

One does not have to be a Catholic to be subject to attack. The writer is not a Catholic or never was. He was elected for defeat because he would not declare his hostility to every one of that faith. At a secret meeting of their meetings are secret. The writer declared that the following named candidates in addition to the writer should be elected. He is a Catholic. He is a young lady of the Catholic faith as a deputy. Judge Davies, because his son-in-law was supposed to have been a superintendant, because she employs a young lady of the Catholic faith as a deputy. Judge Davies, because his son-in-law was supposed to have been a superintendant, because she employs a young lady of the Catholic faith as a deputy.

The public might be interested in knowing who comprise this "inner circle." The principal actors connected with this movement are county officials. The dupes of these conspirators and night riders are weak minded, unbalanced men and women, fed on dope known as Monax.

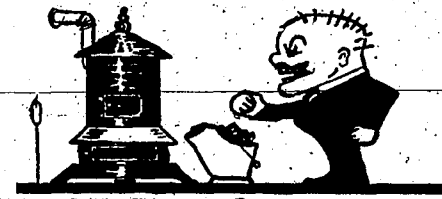

Why don't they come out in the open and fight their battles? They are now in office for two years more and it is my intention, if any one of them presents himself for the votes of the people two years hence to make known what he stands for by giving more particulars respecting the workings of the gang. JAMES FITZGERALD.

How often do you say—"What is the matter with my stove? It won't burn and there's no heat!"
Did you ever stop to think that it might be the coal that is the trouble, and not the stove? If you haven't, start right in now, and look into the coal question.
