GERMANY'S LATEST NOT IN ACCORD WITH A WORLD PEACE

Passports Being Refused to Emigrant Travelers—All Ears of the Announcement of President's Policy, Which is Being Prepared (United Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—President Wilson is about ready to forward his answer to the German note of yesterday announcing the resumption of submarine warfare under the instructions of the president. Secretary Lansing has prepared a communication, the nature of which is not known, and the greatest precaution is taken to prevent its being made public before its delivery. At the same time the department is busy with the passport situation in all preparing to refuse passports to all persons returning to Europe. This action has created the utmost tension. It is pointed out that the refusal may indicate that the government is planning drastic action of that it is about to modify its previous attitude with respect to travel on ships trading with the allies. Following an hour's conference with the president this afternoon, Secretary Lansing declared that he would probably see the representatives of the press late this afternoon. Some seem to think that an announcement will be made at that time, although it is not believed that the text of the note will be available by that time. The gravity of Secretary Lansing has led many to think that a break between this country and Germany is imminent. It is considered possible. Counselor Cook of the state department today asked the senators what the United States would do if the government is prevented from alien land legislation in this time. It is said that the government from New York and Chicago indicate a sudden break in the market, resulting from the alarmist news from Europe. A dispatch from Madrid announced today that Spain would continue her trade with the allies, adding that severe defense measures would be necessary.

INCOME TAX BLANKS ARE IN HANDS OF POSTMASTER

If Your Net Income is More Than $2000 You Must Fill Uncle Sam Out Before March 1.

Every citizen or alien who lives in the United States is required who received a net income of $2000 or over in 1916 to file a return of such income on blanks forwarded for that purpose to the several postmasters throughout the country on or before March 1. There is no provision in the law to the effect that those whose net income is in the red shall be exempt from the filing of such returns.

The instructions state that the returns must be rendered in person to the postmaster at the residence of the taxpayer, or in such case an agent may make the return. According to the law, every individual who is required to file a return of net income, interest, rental, etc., to another person in excess of $2000 is required to withhold one per cent from the entire amount paid unless an exemption certificate is filed, to which case the tax should be withheld only on the amount of the net income. The income tax law does not permit the deduction of inheritance taxes and taxes paid for the benefit of a stockholder candidate as allowable deduction as tax to the stockholder in a return. Such taxes are held to be equivalent to an extra dividend and must be included by the stockholder in his return. The depreciation allowed relates only to the wear and loss of value of property in business. The excess in value of stocks, merchandise and bonds does not constitute an allowable deduction for depreciation. Information can be obtained by writing the department or by writing to the department of internal revenue at Washington.

CONSTRUCTION OF MUNICIPAL SWIMMING POOL ASSURED

The universal commendation evoked by the proposal on the part of the Twentieth Century club to construct a municipal swimming pool on the lots opposite to the high school belonging to the club has led the members of the club to feel assured that the project will be carried to a speedy conclusion and arrangements are being made to start excavating as soon as the frost is out of the ground. The above cut shows the front wall of the building facing the school. The wall will be of stone, in the front will be thirty-two dressing-rooms and two shower baths. The rear and sides will be in but not covered and the pool will be uncovered although the question of covering the entire tank and making it for winter bathing is being considered. The swimming pool will be forty by seventy feet in dimensions. In the rear there will be a pool for children which will be two and a half feet deep. In front the pool will gradually decline to a depth of seven and a half feet.

At the hall in Colton hall, which was donated by the Elks lodge, the club netted $150. One hundred and twenty-six high school students were judged to furnish a considerable amount of assistance. One contractor, Ernest White, has offered concrete machinery and such time as he can spare and others offer of assistance. A committee is being organized to wait on the business men of the city in the neighborhood of $1500. It would take about $2000 more to cover it, but this will not be attempted at present, if at all.

LONG END OF SCORE FAVORS VISITING TEAM

Rupert Romp Aways Wins Friday's Basketball Game—Amexes Three Times as Many Points. The result of the basketball game between Twin Falls high school and Rupert high school last Friday evening, decidedly favored the Rupert team, the final score being 49-16. The success of the opposing team during the game was due to work and accuracy in basket shooting. The local team contributed to the score only by making an unusual number of fouls. A recent change in the Twin Falls lineup was largely responsible for the uneven score.

WOMAN'S TROUSERS IS DISTURBING JOHN BULL

Second Prosecution of the Kind Started in New York City—Many Friends Rally to Defense. NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Mrs. Margaret Sanger, New York's first and only birth control advocate, and her associate, Miss Fanny Woodell, were placed on trial in Special Session of the New York court today on the charge of a birth control clinic by Mrs. Sanger in Brooklyn.

GERMANS RESUME SUBMARINE WAR NEAR BRITAIN

Several Ships Sent to Bottom by Gigantic U-Boats this Morning. LONDON, Feb. 1.—German submarine started today along the line in the German note of yesterday by the sinking of the Dutch merchant ship Estilon, and three British fishing smacks. The officials here declare that the resumption of the submarine warfare is a serious matter. It is understood that the British Atlantic fleet is in a position to convey shipping. Early intimations of the new German policy were confirmed when travelers from Germany via Bergen, Norway, a few days ago reported that the German U-boats were active in the North Sea and that Germany has thirty U-boats ready to patrol the blockaded area.

BRITISH AVIATORS ALL VERY MODEST MEN

Refuse to Allow Their Names to Be Mentioned in Public When They Perform Deeds of Daring in Air. (United Press) With British Aviators in the Field, Jan. 30.—The world knows the English as a race of enormously reserved people. Just how reserved they really are, one must live out here to realize. The most thrilling engagement of the war does not loosen the Englishman's tongue any more than his afternoon tea, if as much. "I have been trying to get the story out about British heroes. It can be done. They say what they do belongs to the public—it happens to be in the unit—says the glory belongs to the next higher unit and so on until one is told that the honor belongs to the whole British army. The theory is that it is very unfair for an individual to be singled out as a hero. They say it is not treating the other fellow right for one to be singled out as a hero. It is a great deal of the door of a great deal of dangerous undertakings and aviators in the air. It is a great deal of the door of a great deal of dangerous undertakings and aviators in the air. HANSEN BRIDGE BILL CARRIES TWENTY THOUSAND

Money Appropriated Would Become Available at Once as Money From Twin Falls Bonds was Received. The bill introduced by Judge Veranda of Boise appropriating $20,000 for the construction of the Hansen bridge and endorsed by Representative Sims and Senator of Idaho, the Hillside district has been voted in Twin Falls county bonds. The only thing remaining to do is to secure the appropriation should the bill pass, would be to sell the Twin Falls county bonds.

The bill reads as follows: Be it enacted by the legislature of the State of Idaho: Section 1. That a wagon bridge section be constructed across the Snake River at a point about one and one-half miles north of the town of Hansen, Twin Falls County, which shall be of the suspension type. Section 2. The Board of County Commissioners of Twin Falls County and the Board of Commissioners of the Hillside Highway district of said county shall be and constitute a bridge commission for the purpose of carrying into effect the object of the act and shall have general supervision of said bridge and its approaches during the construction of the same. They shall prepare and cause to be prepared the plans and specifications for said bridge and shall have full power and authority to accept and receive bonds and underwriting, running in the name of the State of Idaho and in such sums as they shall deem necessary for the purpose of the act and all contracts awarded by them under the provisions of this Act, shall have power and authority to execute the same. It shall be necessary in providing for the construction of said bridge.

HOBOES MEET FRIDAY IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

Large Gathering of Migrant Workers Gather in Buffalo—Have Official Organ. (United Press) BUFFALO, Jan. 30.—"Front" and "back" of the "hobo" and "underground" and always in spite of the train cars, delegates to the annual convention of the International Welfare Association began arriving here yesterday for the opening session, scheduled for this afternoon, but still somewhat uncertain, due to the heavy snow arrival list. For the International Welfare Association is the title under which the hobo gather to discuss their troubles. The call for the convention was issued in the Hobo News, published by the "New York" of St. Louis.

JENKINS & COMPANY

"IF IT'S FROM JENKINS IT'S GOOD"

FARM LOANS WILL IMPROVE CONDITIONS

Believed That Measure Will Reduce Tenancy and Result in Conserving Soil Fertility.

(By Frank R. Wilson) WASHINGTON.—Since the farmers of the United States is the food producers for a good share of the world, the granting of cheaper credit to the farmer for the purpose of enlarging his opportunities and cheapening his cost of production is likely to have an important part in the solution of the great cost of living problem. The records of the United States census office show a constantly increasing trend toward the cities. Each year shows that there are more persons to be fed, whereas the acreage that has been producing food—and the number of hands to cultivate these acres have not increased in the same proportion.

It is patent therefore that to meet this increasing demand the more farms must be established to provide homes for more producers and the land now under cultivation must be farmed more carefully and with more and better equipment. Provision of cheap capital for land purchase and farm development will mean at least a partial realization of these ideals.

If the farm loan act will reduce the percentage of tenancy in the United States it will have accomplished a great deal toward putting American agriculture on a more substantial basis. More than half of the farms of the United States are now in the hands of tenants. The tenant is a transient farmer and the temporary nature of his operations prevents him from operating at maximum capacity. Short leases make it out of the question for him to be a long-term producer. The tenant is usually a grain farmer, and in many sections of the country a single cropper. He is engaged in raising the fertility of his landlord's soil to market.

The farm owner conserves the fertility of his soil by marketing his crop through his live stock and retaining the fertility to the land. A nation of land owners means a nation with an increasing capacity to produce food for its people. A reduction of farm tenancy and a substitution of a class of land owners means improved soil conditions in the country and a more permanent form of country life.

Since the farm loan act provides how the borrowed money shall be spent and limits its use to purposes that make farms more productive, it is bound to have an elevating influence on the industry of agriculture in the United States.

Every borrower under the Farm loan act makes it a part of his contract that he will use the money either to reduce existing indebtedness or in some way that will contribute to greater production on the same number of acres. Since the formation of these small groups of farms is the foundation upon which the farm loan system is built, it is apparent that this legislation will foster the spirit of co-operation among farmers. When farmers put their mortgages together for the first time, it is not money it is reasonable to presume that they will form the habit of co-operation in other problems of common interest.

The present farm loan indebtedness of the United States is probably approximately four billion dollars, and that average interest rate now charged is between 8 1/2 and 9 per cent. If the farm loan act would reduce the interest rate of the United States by 1 per cent, it would mean a financial saving to the farmer of between one hundred and fifty and two hundred million dollars per year—and this estimate of saving takes no account of the fact that high interest rates have reduced the volume of farm loan indebtedness far below what it will be when a lower rate is established. High interest rates and unfavorable terms of farm mortgages have been a serious factor in farm development. Curtailing farm production has taxed the consumer as well as the producer because the limited production of food gave an increased advantage to the food speculator. The farm loan act is, in a measure, revolutionary. It stands for equality of opportunity. It says that the aggressive farmer who goes out to new lands to enlarge the sphere of production is entitled to the same opportunities as the man who operates in a territory already developed. It puts the public interest above the interest of any individual. It takes individual profit out of the business of financing food production.

REPLIES TO STOCKHOLDERS

AT THE END OF THE DITCH
Hanson, Idaho, Jan. 28.

In the issue of the Times for January 19 is an open letter to the stockholders of the Twin Falls Canal company relative to cementing parts of the canals and minors of our irrigation system. In reading this letter I was struck by two serious defects in the argument of the "stockholder at the end of the ditch." First, he assumes that the question of cementing is one to be decided by debate, as is settled by the approval of the stockholders. I am not familiar with conditions along the high line and the low line canals, but I do know considerable about conditions along the main canal, having lived directly under the main ditch for about eight years. From my personal observation I can assure this stockholder that the matter of cementing or otherwise safeguarding the main canal is not an academic one to be settled by debate. While the stockholders are debating, Nature is working day and night to tear down and remove the banks of the canals when the frost is coming out and the area of land, whereas we have, as shown by the general report, sold shares of water for about 200,000 acres, leaving 40,000 shares unsold and held in treasury at $100. But while the stock has remained in the treasury the water it represents has not been kept out of the canal. We have always used our full appropriation of 3,000 cubic feet for every acre, and have utilized but 2,500 cubic feet, the additional 500 feet being used to make up a shortage caused by leaks, seepage, evaporation and the like. The question is not how to divide this 500 feet of water among the present landowners, assuming it could be saved by cementing or otherwise improving the canal system, but how long we will be permitted to retain this 500 feet of unappropriated water. How long we continue to use it for 200,000 acres of land on only 600,000 acres in view of the fact recently written to our board of directors by the Twin Falls Land & Water company, it may be a more pressing and important question than some of our stockholders realize.

Suppose that outside parties file up on this 500 cubic second feet of water, claiming that we have not complied with the law and are in default thereof, and that their filing, after the long and expensive litigation which would surely result, is finally allowed. This would mean that we have roughly 500,000 cubic feet of water, which we now have 500 cubic second feet through seepage and other forms of waste, and if our original filing were out of the 500 cubic second feet, it would mean that we would have but 2,000 feet actually available for irrigation by the time the water reached the low line of the tract. On the present basis of one cubic second foot for each sixty acre tract, for 160,000 acres, in that case we would have over one hundred thousands to cement all of our canal system so as to save the last possible drop of the 500 feet of water now wasted, and even then we might have to reduce our present allowance of five-eighths of an inch per acre, or perhaps substitute a siphon or rotation for our present continuous flow. On the other hand, let us suppose that we have available tracts of good land on which a part or all of this unappropriated water can be used. If we can save this water and apply it to the lands now unirrigated, the owners will not be hurt. Harbory, since it makes no difference whether the water is taken out of the canal by means of a siphon or by means of a pumping plant. On the contrary, they would be benefited, since all of the water now wasted is gone for good, while a considerable part of the water pumped onto high lands will drain back into the main canal and thus increase its flow. If it can be shown that the construction work can be done at a profit sufficient to pay the cost of cementing the worst parts of the main canal, or else a heavy assessment on our stock, that the installation of a pumping plant at the "drop" will do away with the dangerous condition now exists there, that it will give us electricity for heat, light and power, and much more than now, now present, and that it will add the price of high priced lands to our tax list, and greatly increase our population; then it seems to me we ought all of us to be in favor of the proposition. At an early date to the meeting on February 20 and help through the matter out.

J. M. BARNES.

ASSESSMENTS RAISED ON SOME PROPERTY

Sheep and Hogs Go Up—Concession Made for Lumber Owners in Method of Making Levy.

Taxes in general will be assessed on the same basis as property for the year, according to George W. Wilcox, who returned Friday from Boise where he attended the gathering of the men who levy taxes.

Sheep have been tentatively raised from $1 to $2, and hogs from $1 to $1.50. Hogs have also been raised somewhat. Although not specifically stated, it was understood that there would be a tendency shown to raise the assessment of merchandise. An arrangement with reference to auto taxes was agreed upon, whereby those coming into possession of an auto before January 1, and August 1 shall pay for a whole year, those buying a machine between August 1 and November 1 will pay only for a quarter. This was done to abolish the old system of charging taxes for a whole year to those purchasing in the tenth or eleventh month. It was recommended that a plan be placed on both ends of cars to facilitate recognition.

Governor Alexander suggested raising taxes in certain cities, assuring however, that in Twin Falls, he believed them high enough. The board of assessors will review the recommendations and determine whether to adopt them finally or not.

The assessors of the state met in the best room of the state house at the call of the governor for the purpose of getting a more uniform assessment with the state board of equalization. This is the first such conference in four years.

Governor Alexander addressed the conference on the subject of the meeting. He asked that conditions in various counties be looked into and that in towns where business is not flourishing the rate be reduced. Taxation on their market value for sheep, cattle, hogs and horses was urged.

Bankers, the governor said, should be assessed at the full per value of their stock, surplus and undivided profits. He declared that there was no occasion for raising the valuation of farm lands, but that they should be better classified.

There were 29 assessors present and absent. Those in attendance are: William J. Kincaid, Ada; William Woodland, Adams; R. O. Graham, Blainock; James Dunn, Bear Lake; C. West, Bonanza; Bonanza; E. F. Aibel, Brigham; John B. Sched, Blaine; James D. McCall, Boise; J. J. Crowley, Bonnaville; H. P. Russell, Canyon; O. Pickett, Cassia; A. E. Hinckley, Clearwater; Thomas Trotter, Elmore; Charles D. FOOTBALL TAUGHT HIM THE JUDICIAL POISE

Detroit Judge Says He Learned Principles of Law as Quarter Back in Michigan University.

(United Press)

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 30.—"The things I learned on the football field are the ones that fitted me for life. The first thing I learned in college for two reasons—to soak up knowledge and to learn football—was the greatest point in my preparatory life."

Charles H. Weston, former quarterback at Michigan university, and twice selected on the mythical all-American eleven, has the thing sized up in his own mind. He is practicing now in Detroit, and he isn't known as Willie any more. He's Police Justice William M. Weston and he puts it over.

One of the ambitions of Judge Weston's life was to rid himself of the name "Willie." In school and afterwards he did his best to shake it, but to no avail. Finally he got himself selected Judge and they had to quit calling him "Willie."

Weston declared that if every youth were given the chance he had to learn football—to get the spirit of fair competition in sports directed into his eyes—there would be little need for police courts.

"I know what it has taught me," he said, "I believe it would do as much for any other man. When I was poor, weak, spineless, unfortunate came before me for one crumb or another the way that he could get my service under 'Yost' or 'Kedon' Fitzpatrick's mismanagement of the eyes."

"Practical and positive things that have resulted from my gridiron training. I know that whenever we were beaten, we always were cheered by the thought that next year we would have another chance. I don't believe there's a man alive, who, if given the opportunity to put everything he is capable of into his eyes, wouldn't be in the thought of another chance. That's what the parole is for, and I'm a firm believer in it."

"Gridiron" in college may be the subject of a good many jokes, but it builds strength of character and brings to the fore the qualities which will stand the youth straighten when he gets out into the world. The traits football has put there will make a useful, honorable citizen of him."

THE UNITED STATES AND THE WORLD WAR.

H. G. Wells, an English author of note, made a recent contribution to the Saturday Evening Post entitled "People Think About the War." After summarizing the contradictory "forecasting" in various quarters, he pays special attention to the past and present attitude of the United States and the apparent trend of thought there, as well as the feeling in France and England with regard to the same. The latter, by no means complimentary, and not in all cases kindly, he rather discounts by the following pregnant reflections:

"And I will further confess that when Viscount Grey answered the intimations of President Wilson and ex-President Taft of an American initiative to found a World League for Peace, by asking whether America was prepared to back that idea with force, he spoke the doubts of all thoughtful modern men. No one will answer that they are vexed in the idiosyncrasies of the American population, can answer that question, or tell us how far the delusion of world-isolation, which has prevailed in America for several generations, has been dispelled. But if the answer to Lord Grey is 'Yes,' then I think history will emerge with a complete justification of the obstinate maintenance of neutrality by America.

"Every country is a mixture of many strands. There is a Base America; there is a Dull America; there is an Ideal and Heroic America. And I am convinced that, at present, Europe underrates and misjudges the possibilities of the latter."

FIVE THOUSAND DAYLIGHT SAVERS IN MEETING

Convention Fathers Today in Effort to Conserve Extra Hour of Daylight in Twenty-Four.

(United Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Five thousand delegates to the National Daylight Saving convention came here from all over the country today to see if they can get Father Time to stop for an hour and walk back slowly minutes the first of May. It will be explained to the old man that he can run and catch up in an hour again September 30. The idea, he will be informed, is to make use of the extra hour of daylight we have between "Wintertime" and "Summertime" by getting up an hour earlier, quit an hour earlier, and have an extra hour of daylight to have a good time in. It may be news to a lot of folks to know that in Cleveland and Dayton, Ohio, this daylight saving scheme has been in force for two years. Everybody knows it was used throughout Europe and in Canada last year with good results.

The Old Man With The Scythe will have plenty of evidence presented to convince him. Borough President Mark of this city will introduce each of the speakers, among whom will be Representative William P. Borland of Missouri, whose bill making daylight saving a national law, is now pending in Congress.

Then President Marks will introduce representatives of practically every state organization in the room and delegates from England, Scotland, Russia, Poland, Holland and of Canada. Robert Garland of Pittsburgh will speak for the Chamber of Commerce, ex-Governor John K. Tener for the health experts who want more daylight to fight the winter grip, and Brisbane and others also will speak. Columbia University's astronomer, Harold Jacoby, will speak scientifically of the sun's rays, and J. S. Whitcomb, a member of Parliament from London will argue with him. George Ade of the National Tennis association will speak at the added time for recreation afforded by the plan. S. P. Hale of the Standard Time Committee of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce will tell how they like the idea in Ohio. All the speakers will stress the point that this plan will save the country $100,000,000 in heating and other expenses during the summer months. This is expected to knock the old man off his seat.

MAYOR GILL OF SEATTLE INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Charged With Violation of United States Law Forbidding Importation of Liquor Into Dry State.

SEATTLE.—The long expected indictments against Mayor Hilman C. Gill, Chief of Police Charles L. Beckingham and Police Sheriff Robert J. Hedger, charging conspiracy to violate the interstate commerce and federal liquor laws, and acceptance of bribes were returned by the United States grand jury Saturday and warrants were placed in the hands of deputy marshals for the arrest of these defendants and ten others who were indicted.

As soon as they learned of the indictments against Mayor Hilman C. Gill, Beckingham and Hedger, they immediately went to the Federal building and gave $3500 bail each. Exhibitor Hodge is said to be arrested from a bond. The Billingsley's and Pielow and Frazier, transferees, are already under bond for earlier indictments and new securities were not required from them. Mayor Gill, who had looked to the indictment, issued a statement early in January, in which he defied his enemies and declared that he would not be intimidated by any charge made against him. Mayor Gill's attack on the office of United States District Attorney Guy Allen of Seattle, led to the appointment of United States District Attorney Clarence L. Remmon of Portland, an special prosecutor, after Attorney General Gregory had said that the cases did not require special prosecution.

Leaders of the prohibition movement here said Sunday that in all probability their organization would offer financial aid for the defence of Gill, who was indicted by the federal grand jury on the charge of conspiring to violate the interstate commerce law by bringing liquor into this state from California.

Laurence Colman, one of Gill's bondsmen, who is a member of the state prohibition committee, that was organized in the last campaign to urge enforcement of the dry law, said that no formal action had yet been taken by the committee looking in that direction supporting the mayor in his defense but that he regarded the mayor as having stood for the committee's principles and that in a few days the matter would be considered by the members. Gill announced that he and Chief of Police Beckingham would interpose no technical objections to the indictments and that they would demand speedy trials.

TWIN FALLS LOSES THIRD GAME TO BUHL

West-Enders Spring Surprise on Local Men and Run Away With Game—Score 33 to 27.

The strangeness of the Buhl floor, a great competing team and "evening" for Twin Falls, accounts for the loss of the third basketball game of the season to Buhl by the score of 27 to 33. The outcome of the game was a great surprise for the Twin Falls rooters who admit that Buhl was there with the goods. The first half was a slug away for Buhl. Ruggs, their star forward, made eight field goals within that time, while Hall made three and Boylston one. Of the Twin Falls quintet Boone made four field goals and Neuman made two. Hall threw one free throw and Neuman was credited with three. The score for the first half was 25-15.

In the second half Twin Falls showed improvement, but was unable to catch up with Buhl's lead. The score for the second half, was 12-12. Also in Buhl's favor, making the total score 38-27.

The lineup for Twin Falls is: Boone, forward; Neuman, forward; Glasco, center; McCracken, guard; DeWitt, guard; Strong, forward; Scott, guard. Buhl line-up: Hall, forward; Rugg, forward; Baymler, center; Mills, guard; Woodward, guard; Edwards, guard.

The next game is with Rupert on the home floor tomorrow night. The boys expect to find the Rupert team the hardest to down of any encountered this season. The budding team is to be with Buhl on the home floor.

BUHL TO HAVE A PUBLIC LIBRARY SOON

Movement Started to Form Organization to Select Books and Get Community Co-Operation.
A movement for a library in Buhl was started last week by several Buhl men decided to present a plan before the Parent-Teachers' association of Buhl this spring, says the Buhl Herald. The library trustees will ask the association's sanction of their plan before the start of the organization. The men interested in the movement will make a canvass of the town and ask 150 people to give a book a year for three or five years. This will start the library with 150 volumes. It will be loaned out at five cents a volume and, according to library statistics, each book will earn from twenty-five to thirty cents a year. This money will be spent for reference and other books. The second year the number of books in the library will be more than double. It will be the 150 books which will be added each year it is expected many library patrons will donate books and in two or three years Buhl will have a fairly large number of books for circulation. When the interest is fully developed and the plan is carried out approximately 1,000 books will be made for a Carnegie library.

The location for the library will be determined as soon as it is assured the plan will succeed. It has been suggested the books be placed in the Women's rest room on Main street. This location is central and easily accessible, and the cost of maintenance would be small. Volunteers would be called for to help index the books and get the system under way.

A feature of the proposed library will be a magazine and newspaper section. Books, Twin Falls and Buhl newspapers will be received regularly for use at the association's reading table. These will be solicited from town-people and publishers. It is probable the library plan will be brought before the Parent-Teachers' association at the association's next meeting. In the meantime, the library trustees are perfecting the plan and feeling out the sentiment toward it. The proposition is not feasible in Buhl, other plans will be asked for, and considered. The time is at hand for the library movement to be carried forward, according to the people most interested in it, and they say that enough interest is being shown to assure a library.
