Now 100% Over-Strength
Every Part Now Twice as Strong as Need Be

John W. Bate, the great Efficiency Engineer, now announces for the first time double-strength in every Mitchell part

In the new Mitchells we are ready to announce the fulfillment of a three-year ambition.

Three years ago, after one year in Europe, John W. Bate returned to the Mitchell plant.

He said, "I have one more thing to accomplish. And I have learned it from the foremost European engineers.

"We build cars too fast in America. We try to build them too cheap. We give too little thought to endurance.

"I want to build you a lifetime car. I want to give every part in the Mitchell at least 100 per cent over-strength."

Now It Is Done

Mr. Bate came back. Since then he has given the Mitchell car 15 hours a day. Far into the night, week after week for three years, he has worked on this problem of strength.

He has worn out fifty cars in making tests to prove the strength requirements. When he found the strength any part required, he doubled it in the car.

He took part by part and brought each to this standard. Then he found a way to test each part to prove that it met the standard.

In last year's Mitchell we claimed 50 per cent over-strength. This work was not then completed. This year we can claim for every part twice the needed strength. And our daily tests prove this claim.

One Example---Springs

Let us cite one example—the Bate cantilever springs. You know how often springs break on the ordinary car.

These Bate springs have now been used for 18 months in Mitchells. Not one leaf in one of them ever has broken.

We have machines in our factory for testing them. These machines apply road action—hundreds of thousands of times. We have thus applied months of incessant vibration to one spring. And never one has broken.

Yet these long cantilever springs are the easiest-riding springs in the world. No Mitchell owner ever needs shock absorbers. Mitchell cars have no sump-bumpers or rebound straps. They are utterly unnecessary. That is simply one part—one well-known weakness. Hundreds of parts have been given equal strength. Now over 440 parts in the Mitchell are built of toughened steel, drop-forged or steel-stamped. The parts which get the major strains are all of Chrome-Vanadium. Many parts on which safety depends are almost double-size.

175,000-Mile Test

Two Bate-Built Mitchells have already run of 200,000 miles apiece. Seven of them have averaged over 175,000 miles each. That is over 70 years of rather active service. So this new Mitchell, in all probability, is a lifetime car. With proper care, you should never wear it out. Troubles and repairs are as nearly eliminated as can be.

The Lifetime Car

In times past, men bought a new car every year or two. Models were constantly changing. So a car's endurance seemed of less importance. That is why European cars so excelled American.

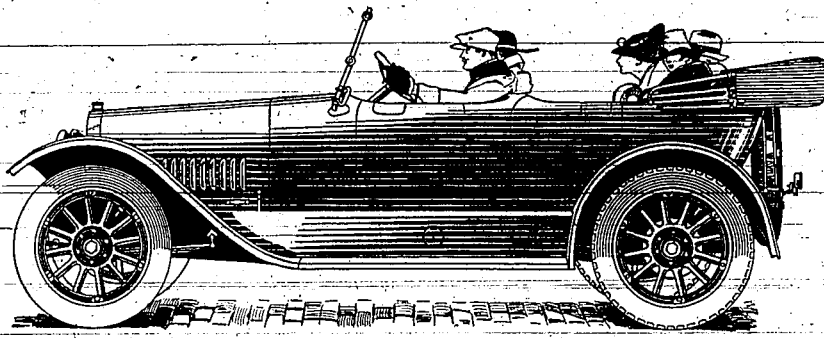

Now most buyers in the Mitchell class buy their cars to keep. And John W. Bate has rebuilt every Mitchell part to meet these new requirements.

That is the sovereign advantage we offer in Mitchell cars. It is not so visible as other extra-features. But we figure it means double life to your car, plus safety and economy. And we know it over-tops every other result of John W. Bate's efficiency.

Waterworks Report Filed By Consulting Engineer Louis C. Kelsey Yesterday

RECOMMENDS TAKING WATER FROM ROCK CREEK AND FROM THE HIGH-LINE CANAL COST OF SYSTEM WOULD BE ABOUT $600,000

Asserts That Rock Creek Water Is Best By Tests Made—System Would Include Filter—Big Enough for 30,000 Population.

The report of Louis C. Kelsey, special consulting engineer, filed yesterday with City Clerk R. M. Williams... The report is in four principal parts and reads in part:

1. Sources. 2. Supply and distribution system. 3. Estimated cost. The sources considered are a combination of the High Line Canal for summer use and Rock Creek for winter; Blue Lakes and Snake River at Milner. The quality of water from each of the sources is found to be excellent from a chemical standpoint, but none except Rock Creek would be safe to use without proper purification methods.

1. Sources. The sources considered are a combination of the High Line Canal for summer use and Rock Creek for winter; Blue Lakes and Snake River at Milner. The quality of water from each of the sources is found to be excellent from a chemical standpoint, but none except Rock Creek would be safe to use without proper purification methods.

Milner sources are gravity systems; Blue Lakes, a pumping proposition; Blue Lakes have greatly increased in flow during the past few years, the increase being attributed to seepage from irrigation, and the State Board of Health advises against this source unless proper purification methods be provided.

The water from the canals, Snake River water, is chemically almost as desirable as that from Blue Lakes, and is an excellent quality of water for city use. As in the case of Blue Lakes, this water will require purification treatment.

The water from Rock Creek is the best of all examined, and this offers the most desirable source of water flowing in the creek during the summer is far too small, however, to use this as an all year source, and rights to its use during the irrigation season have already attached for an amount much larger than the water to be had. This is not the case in the non-irrigation season.

40 acres with paid up water rights, "choice" rich land, good well water, good schools, 3 miles from Aberdeen. All in cultivation, 25 acres in alfalfa, well situated, price $200 per acre. Easy terms.

40 acres, 3 miles from Aberdeen, 20 acres in alfalfa, $85.00 per acre. One-fifth cash.

40 acres four miles from town, all in cultivation, $62.50 per acre, one-fifth cash, balance in alfalfa, $78.00 per acre, interest 7 per cent.

80 acres, 4 miles from town, all in cultivation, 20 acres in alfalfa, $62.50 per acre. One-fifth cash.

150 acres one mile from town, all in cultivation, $80.00 per acre, easy terms.

40 acres adjoining Aberdeen, 20 acres in alfalfa, $125.00 per acre, easy terms.

Estimated cost to convey the water from each source to the reservoir: 1. High Line, Rock Creek, $176,151.00; 2. Blue Lakes, $400,000.00; 3. Milner, $440,875.12.

The estimates for the Blue Lakes source is based on a maximum supply which would be 6,000,000 gallons per day. The other source upon a basis of 10,000,000 per gallons per day. The city is now using in the summer about 10,000,000 per day.

The water is to be conveyed to the city from the filtration plant by 20 inch mains, insuring against interruption of service, as the possibility of any trouble with both of them at the same time is very remote.

The amount of water admitted to the filtration plant, and to the city mains, is automatically controlled, so that as the amount used increases the valves open to admit a greater flow.

The mains in the business district and at intersections are metal; other places are wood stave. The system is designed to afford a working pressure of 60 pounds to the square inch when the minimum amount of water is being used.

The number of fire hydrants is increased to 188, giving a much more efficient fire protection.

Estimated cost of supply and distribution system: Reservoir $79,859.52; Filtration plant $71,241.25; Supply mains $1,511.64; Distribution $152,566.96; Wood and Iron $403,179.37; $79,859.52; $71,241.25; $1,511.64; $170,807.82; $421,420.03

4. Recommendations: (a) That the High Line Rock Creek water be selected for the reasons that it is the cheapest to build and the cheapest to maintain; that its depreciation is less than that of any other source; that it is a gravity system.

(b) That the point of taking from the canal be changed to the High Line to avoid the waste water from the irrigated district between Hanson and the present point; that the water from Rock Creek be used for the purpose of bringing it to the reservoir, and pipe does not deteriorate under constant use as it would if used only during a part of the year and allowed to empty the rest.

(c) That the present distribution system be abandoned as soon as a new one can be installed for the reason that it is entirely inadequate in size for even the present needs of the city in its bad state of repairs, and would be a match at the end, and expensive to maintain.

(d) That the new distribution system, the supply system, and the lines from the source to the reservoir be made large enough when laid to provide for all anticipated growth of the city for the next 20 years, the piping being less than that of laying smaller set now, and another smaller set would be permanent.

(e) That wooden stave mains of high grade be used except in the business district, because when properly maintained they are more durable and cost much less than metal.

Comparative cost of installation and upkeep: High Line-Rock Creek to reservoir, $176,151.00; to city, $421,420.03; total, $597,571.03; upkeep, $219,000.00. Blue Lakes to reservoir, $429,051.18; to city, $421,420.03; total, $850,471.21; upkeep, $57,082.50.

will be self supporting at the present rates. If the matter be proceeded with at once, the system can be built and in complete operation by July 1, 1918, Parts of it before that time.

IN A GENERAL WAY the 1917 Paterson 6-6 is designed and constructed along the same lines as the previous year's model, which was one of the most successful cars ever turned out by this company.

You will find, however, a number of improvements and refinements in the 1917 car. Particularly would we call your attention to the newly designed body with double door, the body is longer and wider, and gives a great abundance of room. This matter of space is a particularly important one in a touring car. You will look for a wide range of gear, pedal, clutch pedal, gear-lever, steering wheel and instrument board are so located that the car can be driven with perfect ease.

This idea of getting plenty of room is always highly appreciated by the owner once he has the car in operation. Since it is possible to get a six-cylinder car at the Paterson price, it is poor economy to invest in a car on which you get only a "half-pint" and get in return a product on which it has been absolutely necessary to skimp and whose riding accommodations are cramped and uncomfortable.

The Paterson car you will find to be very complete in every detail. Not only is it complete, but you will also find every mechanical feature to be of well known and recognized standard value, and we advise you when making comparisons to be unusually careful in checking up every item and detail of equipment.

Therefore, it will pay you well to make your decision with extreme care. Do not overlook a single item that is going to make for your convenience and enjoyment. Look carefully into such features as the motor—the ignition—the carburetion—the starting—and lighting—the axle construction—together of course, with general make-up, material, workmanship and finish.

Entered at the Twin Falls postoffice as second class matter, as a twice-a-week publication, October 10, 1910.

The "Father of his Country" was born at Bridge Creek, West Virginia, one hundred, and eighty-five years ago today.

The so-called bread riots in New York City have induced some people to talk about federal "food control" through a commission.

A Chicago attorney is suing Federal Judge Landis for slander because the judge told one of the attorney's clients "he had better get a lawyer."

Some flowers of refinement it appears grow even in the murderous atmosphere of the German submarine. The captain of a "U-boat" both hunt and captain otherwise unnamed, but with a suggestion that the latter may have been responsible for the Lusitania in horror—recently sank a Norwegian ship, but rescued the six year old daughter of his captain, made a mascot of her and carried her eight day voyage to Heligoland. How touching!

The agitation over the passage of an anti-alien land law by the Idaho legislature has been renewed by the re-introduction into the senate of a bill for such an act. Regardless of the merits of the proposed legislation, it would seem that any patriotic body of Americans would heed the president's request that the administration be not, at this time, thus embarrassed. As to the matter, there is at least room for discussion. It allows and more especially Japanese, at whom the law is known to be aimed, are not land owners because present land owners do desire, will they be welcome to the ranks of renters. And if the renters ask another law protecting them from Japanese competition, what about the laborers? Is there not danger of entering upon an endless chain of troublesome pass legislation?

THE GREAT QUESTION OF WATER
So far as the matured conclusions of the consulting engineer are concerned, the questions as to place, method and cost of new waterworks, and presumably, better water, for Twin Falls, are placed before the public in another column herewith.

As to the source of water, the engineer recommends taking the summer supply from the high line canal at a point in Section 25, T 11 S, R. 18 E. This is eight miles south and eight miles east of Twin Falls and only about a mile and a half from the point where winter water is to be taken from Rock Creek, in Section 1, T. 25, R. 18 E.

The water obtained at each of these points, after settling, is to be conveyed by gravity to the site of the present works, where modern and sanitary filtration and storage are to be provided.

The estimated cost of getting the water from Rock Creek and the high line to the new reservoir at the present site is $176,161.00, cost of bringing to the city and distribution there is $421,428. Total cost of proposed system (wood and iron), $597,589.00, with annual upkeep expense of $42,910.00.

The mayor argues that the people of Twin Falls give to this very important matter the most careful consideration; and that the city administration be given the benefit of all possible pertinent criticism and suggestion.

TARBELL LECTURE IS AROUSING INTEREST
People of Surrounding Towns Making Inquiries Regarding Famous Woman Who Speaks Here March 6.

Great interest is being manifested by the people in Twin Falls and vicinity and in surrounding towns in the coming of Ida M. Tarbell to the city, March 6 for a lecture under the auspices of the Business-Girls club. The following words of appreciation for the noted woman by a well known worker are taken as correctly describing her character and ability: "Ida M. Tarbell has frequently been called a martyr for common sense. In her publicity, both from the pen and the rostrum, has given the transparency of light to social and industrial problems not only of America but the world. Miss Tarbell has been aptly called the world's torch bearer of industrial reform. Miss Tarbell is not like so many brilliant investigators, a mere doctrinaire, seeking facts to substantiate a pet hobby. On the contrary, whether in reading her books or hearing her from the platform, one is forcibly struck not only with her mastery of all facts involved, but equally by the sterling truth and absolute fairness of her conclusions. Miss Tarbell is primarily a constructionist, rather than an iconoclast. As a positive force to improvement through reasonable measures adequate to meet the industrial problems which procreate war, Ida M. Tarbell is a most eloquent and most practical platformer.

"As a platformer Miss Tarbell is unique. There is the same electricity and trenchant power in her speech that characterizes her columns. Life of Napoleon; History of the Standard Oil Company; The Truth in Our Times; The Business of Being a Woman; and When Miss Tarbell speaks, the note of keenest interest is so instantaneously struck and then sustained that one realizes the speaker is the brilliantly talking journalist. In such eloquent passages as the following:

"We must organize men and women for labor as for war. Watch the perfection of the training and movement of the masses that at this moment are meeting in unspeakable infernal slaughter in Europe. See how the humblest is fitted to his task. With what ease great bodies wiggle, turn, advance, retreat, in the most orderly manner. See how they are knocked to pieces, they promptly and scientifically collect such as have escaped, and feed them to the dogs and fowls, amazing and heart-breaking human logic! under the safe sign of the cross, tenderly nurse them back to health. This is the business for war, should we do less for peace?"

"Ida M. Tarbell is not only a chief ornament of the Lyceum and Chautauque platform, but as a prime worker in the movement, has utilized its unlimited possibilities for unlimited and effective publicity. She was associate editor of the Standard Oil Magazine, 1883 until 1891. From 1894 to 1901 she was associate editor of McClure's Magazine, which she made an increased circulation of 150,000 copies in her tenure of the Standard Oil Magazine. Miss Tarbell is now associate editor of the American Magazine.

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE IS VERY CONSPICUOUS COG
Practically Impossible to Pass Bill Over Veto of the Chief Executive This Session.

(Editorial Correspondence)
-BOISE- The governor's office is daily becoming a more conspicuous cog in the legislative machine, by reason of the amount of legislative scribble that is being turned out each day by the house and senate.

As soon as the legislature gets through with any measure, it is sent to the executive office, and it is well known that the present incumbent has no reticence at all to exercise his approval of the legislator's efforts by means of an exercise of his veto power. Up to the present time the axe has not fallen upon any measure, but a few are being turned in the governor's office, and their friends feel that the additional attention they are receiving bespeaks no good.

The governor has signed two county division bills creating the counties of Camas and Butte out of Blaine. Both bills passed the two houses of the legislature, without opposition, the Blaine county delegation sponsoring the measures for the division of that county. Considerable opposition has developed to the division of Blaine county, and third house members have been persistently at work attempting to defeat the passage of the Blaine county bill in the house and senate. The bill went through the house easily enough and through a legislative session, but it was defeated in the senate by the action of that body. It will now be killed in the senate. Just Wednesday afternoon, but on motion to reconsider the bill was brought up through the opposition of the bill. The governor will veto the measure while his friends are confident that they will be successful in getting the town of Bonney county. Any measure the governor sees fit to veto will probably be vetoed. It is sufficient votes in the legislature to amend over the veto, if an amended bill for it is sent that a sufficient number of Democratic members of the legislature pledged to support the governor in the exercise of his power. CUT PRICES ON SHOES
Shoes that are good---in that they possess QUALITY as well as appearance, and are offered at genuine bargain prices at a time like the present (which has no parallel in history) when all lines of shoes are scarce---there must be some sound reason for presenting such an offer to the public. AND HERE IT IS---A big shoe concern in Salt Lake sold us for CASH, all broken lines caused by their inability to renew contracts with the manufacturers, and thus compelling them to discontinue many of their most popular numbers. The saving we made on the deal was from fifty to seventy-five per cent off present prices, and we offer them to you at the same saving. We would feel justified in making this announcement in type measuring about two feet high---because the values are so big that they warrant it, but we prefer to have you rely upon our long established policy of "the truth and nothing but the truth." In our big ECONOMY BASEMENT you will find these shoes waiting for you to snap them up.

It will require 44 votes in the house to pass a bill over the governor's veto, the united action of 22 of the 35 Democrats would prevent such action. Appropriations for legislative expenses, totalling $50,000 have been approved by the governor, and he has already signed the King Hill bill carrying an appropriation of $26,232. This latter appropriation is for the repair and maintenance of the King Hill project during the next biennium. The King Hill project is the property of the state, and is generally characterized as a "white elephant." The state was forced to purchase it as a re-employment sale two years ago, in order to protect the interests of the settlers on that project. It has since been negotiating with the federal government with the view of turning it over to the reclamation bureau for completion. The negotiations, while for several months rather, are now said to be working out quite satisfactorily, and it is understood that a federal appropriation will be available this year and the work will be prosecuted as rapidly as possible. In the meantime, by irrigation districts is being formed by the settlers for the purpose of bonding the district. These bonds are to be turned over to the government as security for the return of the sums it expends on the irrigation works. It is impossible for settlers who have remained there throughout the troublous years which the project has undergone to raise enough money to make the necessary repairs on the system year after year without state aid. The appropriation of $26,232 makes up this deficiency, and enables the settlers to "hang on" until the project can be sold squarely on its own feet. Other appropriation bills signed by the governor were the appropriation for the payment due the members of the state militia, and the supreme court appropriation totalling $31,420.

Another bill signed by the governor is that enabling the residents of the southeastern portion of Blaine county to vote upon the question of whether they wish it to remain a part of Blaine county or be annexed to Franklin county. The section in question is more accessible to the county seat of Franklin county and is in the same valley as Franklin county. There was little or no opposition to the bill.

NEW YORK, NEW GIBRALTAR

These two circles, each of 20 miles radius, with the enlarged Sandy Hook and New Rockaway point fortresses, show the combined area protected by the giant guns that will make a new Gibraltar of New York. It is believed these defenses will make the metropolis invulnerable from land as well as from the sea.

HAY MATTERS AND ROAD MATTERS CRITICIZED
Dear Mr. Editor:
What makes this "Splasher" case greatly aggravated is the fact that he is trying to claim the (dis) honor of being the perpetrator of an unbecomingly a deed as was ever pulled off in Twin Falls. The real victim was a lady, the wife of a building contractor here in town. She was crossing the bridge wheeling her baby in its carriage. An auto containing two men and two women came slowly onto the bridge, and seeing her helplessness, deliberately ran down and almost hurled her and the baby under the resultant shower of filth. Not satisfied with that, they all looked through the windows and laughed immoderately at her plight.
The lady immediately reported the incident at the nearest telephone, to one of the City Councilmen, and gave the number of the machine. She was assured the matter would be taken up immediately and the perpetrator punished, for the offense. This, however, did not satisfy her, as she had those of the baby. Not wishing to drag her into it, I wrote a verse for the Times, hoping thereby to draw some attention to that unspeakable deposit of filth the Rock Creek bridge on Shoshone street, and perhaps to the numerous violations of the speed ordinance by every kind of vehicle crossing it. And ever since that was published, this other malefactor, who has evidently committed a similar crime elsewhere in our town, has been trying to rush into print and announce to the community that he is a person of no principle whatever, and "sorry in such contemplative actions. This will be the first, last and only reply I shall make, and only now to correct a growing impression that I was the splasher. I have no time for splashes and feel deep shame that such things can happen in a civilized community like this. I am happy to be able to relate that about three days after the above incident, while standing at the end of the same bridge, I saw an auto start rapidly across and right in the middle of the bridge was a lady. She was fully aware of her predicament and threw up her hands in a hopeless little gesture. Immediately the auto snaked up and passed her at a snail's pace; the owner addressing some choice remarks to her as he went by. As he passed me though I did not know him, my hand went up, and off came my hat—a mutuo hito into a full man. And he, realising what prompted my action, nodded and smiled.

I wish to say in this connection that I have been advised the United States and Canada, but never have I met a more cheerful, sociable, humane lot of auto people, as a whole, as I have right here in Twin Falls county. I like to walk, and on numerous trips into the country, last fall, hardly an auto would pass me going my way, but what they would stop and invite me to ride in such a sincere manner that I could but feel I was welcomed. And many times I rode, for the sole purpose of becoming acquainted with real human people, and I am glad Mr. Editor, you published those verses in the Times for it gives me this chance to pay my heartfelt respect to the whitest lot of people I have ever met in any country.
Respectfully,

COMPLIMENTS TO THE "SPLASHER"

When we meet with a fellow
Dressed by conceit,
Who puts up a "front"
Like he owns the whole street—
So puffed with importance
His head wags in air,
We can't help but wonder
What he's doing it on.

Some fellows because they
Can ride in a "Ford"—
Feel as naughty and great
As a Duke or a Lord;
They put on more airs
Than an old Spanish Don.
And cause us to wonder
What they're doing it on.

Every once in a while
We notice some Jay,
Who tries to run down
All the folks in his way—
And though a few softies
Will fall for his "con"
The most of us wonder
What he's doing it on.

When a fellow goes "bugs"
For a little cheap fame,
And by scolding fish
Hopes to win a big name
As King of all Splashers—
He captures the "bun"
But still we wonder
What he's doing it on.

We can't see the reason
Or quite understand,
Why a civilized man
Would endeavor to brand
Himself as a fake
Or a poor sinner—
For it makes us all wonder
What he's doing it on.

Perhaps he has something
He wants to conceal;
He may be in debt
For his automobile.
So he cuts up these dikes
Observers to stun—
But it makes 'em all wonder
What he's doing it on.

But the idea is this—
If a man is a man,
Neither auto nor riches
Will cut up his "con"
And a fellow who's a man
Our esteem has sure won—
And we don't have to wonder
What he's doing it on.

K. C. JONES.

PARENT-TEACHERS TO DISCUSS DANCING

Interesting Program Promised For Friday—Prominent Persons to Urge Pro and Con of Subjects.

If the plans of Mrs. John E. White, president of the high school division of the Parent-Teachers' association, materialize, a very interesting program will be presented at the regular meeting of the association, at 7:45 o'clock Friday evening at the high school auditorium. Included in the program will be a formal and informal discussion by several prominent Twin Falls people regarding the proposition for obtaining the permission of the school board to set aside one hour for dancing every Friday afternoon in the high school.

This discussion comes as a result of the suggestion by several people to Mrs. White that the association endeavor to have one hour a week set aside as a social hour for the high school students. Feeling that no outside organization or the superintendent had jurisdiction over a matter of this kind, and that the proposition should be put to a vote of the students' parents, and following a motion to not attend at the first meeting, Mrs. White sent out postal cards asking for an affirmative or negative opinion concerning the matter. These replies have been received by Mrs. White, and will be opened during the evening's program.

On the affirmative side, Mrs. White has invited for the children, V. H. Ormsby, for the public and the Reverend Franck, for the church. These same subjects for the negative side of the argument will be taken respectively by Mrs. Hartman, Sheriff Kendall and the Reverend Shepherd. A general discussion will follow, and if the result of the postal cards vote is affirmative the matter will be presented to the school board for their earnest consideration, and it is thought that as a result of the vote the attitude of the board will be favorable. There will also be discussed the proposition whether or not it would be desirable for the different high school classes to wear distinguishing uniforms.

The program for the evening will consist of music by the high school orchestra; report on class uniforms by the class chairman; a short paper on "Home Study vs. School Study" by Mrs. T. H. Twin; announcement of result of postal card vote; formal discussion of dancing in high school; general discussion.

OFFICERS DID NOT GET A BUM STEER

Several Nice Questions of Law Vented the Capture of Rainless Outlaw From Idaho.

A long, low, lean, rickety-looking steer created consternation in offticers when they took due time to ponder in order that they not rush "where angels fear to tread," without "having their technicalities on straight." The first appearance of the pirate of the sage brush noted by Deputy State Inspector H. A. Graham at the stock yards, where he was making an inspection of a bunch of cattle. The animal manifestly did not ordinarily associate with the pampered, aristocratic kind that Graham was inspecting. The inspector waved his arm contemptuously and said: "Bum steer, interloper." The steer took umbrage at the attitude assumed by Graham and lowering his head, he replied "Bum" while in the boyish tongue means "bum" and sought the proximity of the inspector, evidently with hostile intent. Graham construed this as an unfriendly act and determined to sever all diplomatic relations at once. He had read in the Ladies Home Journal that Colonel Bryan had said that he took exercise by running. It occurred to Graham that he needed exercise so he estimated the "bum" steer with better success than attended Nebraska. The steer was scarcely worthy of mention as an "also run" Mr. Graham says that until that record breaking sprint he never realized the full significance of the meaning of the expression "his foot slipped." When he looked back from the heights of the fence, the steer was leaning after him in amazed admiration. His astropher then scaled the fence himself and rambled through town. Graham then reported to the city officers. He said that he would get the animal only he had no authority except in the country, and if the brute should resist arrest, he would have no legal right to take him. He had been reading Carranza's protest about following outlaws on the ground of others and knew what complications might ensue. Chief of Police W. J. Taylor looked up the decisions of the supreme court and decided that founderator W. C. Hulbert was the man to get the lawless steer. The chief said that he could not take him for carrying concealed weapons since they were in plain view. Hulbert was too busy with the matter of delivery to take the time right then; he appointed a delegate in the person of Earl Ross, who went forth at once. The animal was shy and kept away from Ross about a block, and now there was always about a block between them until the animal got outside of the city limits on the Kimberly road and started in the direction of the sugar factory. Finding his jurisdiction gone, Ross returned. Later several Sioux Solo cowboys came to town looking for the steer and presumably got him, as he has not been heard from since.

ed up this year besides 1600 acres held over. According to the statement of one of their own men. They could run the factory a short time with reduced profits if they did not yield, but would lose money the year-by-year running at full capacity.

Several discussed the matter and suggested the opinion seemed to be that the tests were made at the dump after the beets had dried somewhat instead of in the ground. The details of how the plan could work were not determined.

E. E. Heston then read a letter from the Southern California Beet Growers' association, in which it appeared that the beets there ran as high as eighteen per cent saccharine. Prices ranged from $4.60 to $5.50 a ton. The growers had been properly organized. On an investment of $25,000,000 they were getting less returns than the companies were getting on an investment of $10,000,000.

Mr. Heston declared that the Twin Falls growers should get at least eight dollars and said that their own association would shortly make strong demands for readjustment on the company there. It was stated on the floor that Ohio growers get eighty cents a hundred more than Idaho growers, just as a matter of fact. Selling sugar at a lower price than that here.

A motion to consider the proposition of a sliding scale, ranging from seven dollars, according to quality, was killed and the meeting having by a rising vote unanimously determined to stand on the eight dollar flat rate, it adjourned, subject to the call of the president.
