Buhl News

(From Buhl Herald)

One of the largest sheep deals ever closed in this part of Idaho was made through C. B. Brannon, who lives north of town. He purchased 20,000 lambs from Clyde Bacon of Twin Falls, for summer delivery to Hatch & Snyder of Denver, Colorado. The lambs are to be delivered in June, July and August, respectively, aggregating a total transaction of $10,000. This price paid for the June delivery lambs was 10 1/2 cents. The other prices were not stated. The great heavy winn that visited Buhl Sunday morning blew down the building which is being erected by Dr. Monroe, on Locust street between Broadway and Ninth avenues. The structure was formerly being used as a barn, but recently Dr. Monroe intended to use it as a residence building, and it was raised to two full stories, when it was blown off its foundation, Sunday morning. The foundation was blown down also. S. Marshall, who lived on what is known as the John Laurio forty acre south of the town, the last of his hay a few days ago, and according to his statement he received good returns from all the crops he put out. Mr. Marshall cleared over $1000 on 40 acres, besides raising enough to feed his stock, until he will harvest another crop and also the larger part of the hay for the family. The two horses which were stolen from Buhl Monday evening, February 19, and belonging to R. W. Morrison and Rudolph Kuzon, were found in Wells, Nevada, Saturday, 5 days after the animals were taken. Both horses were taken from the hitching racks, between eight and nine o'clock, and ridden out of town. However, the horses were not tied near each other, though they were the only two which were paddled. The Buhl high school basketball team dropped the game to Burley on the Burley court last Friday evening by the score of eighteen to twenty-nine. The game was close and was closer than the score indicates. Buhl players displayed the better team work, and often carried the ball over the court with ease, though they could not hit the basket. The score at the end of the first half was nine to sixteen, in favor of Burley. The Denham of Blaine county, Oregon, are preparing a big reception for Wm. H. Hornbrook, in Albany, for March 5. The affair will be in the nature of a coronation of Wilson inaugural, as well as a tribute to Mr. Hornbrook in recognition of his work on the state central committee and as minister to Spain.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. E. Jacks visited their daughter in Twin Falls several days last week. Mrs. W. E. Berger spent the past week in Porterville, visiting her sister, whose husband is principal of one of the schools there. She returned home last Monday. Mrs. John Kilpatrick and her daughter are guests of friends in Weiser. H. S. Hall was taken to the hospital in Twin Falls last Wednesday. Sorry to say he doesn't seem any better at this writing. A. B. Henson, manager of Niagara Springs Orchard near Buhl, was in the city last Thursday. L. O. Evans and family of Berger are moving to the H. S. Hall place. We welcome these folks to our community. A. G. Wilson and family moved to Twin Falls last Friday. Mr. Wilson has bought that charming place near Weiser, and is going to take life easy for awhile. M. L. Dossert is home after a three month's visit out. Sorry Mrs. Dossert was not able to come home with him, but hope she will soon be able to come. Lewis Harrell is feeding three hundred and fifty head of cattle on J. T. Anderson's place. The scarcity of water here this last week has been a problem to these gentlemen. Mr. Harrell is from Rogerson. Mrs. Fred Atkinson spent last week with her daughter near Buhl. S. G. Bauda of Denver, formerly of Victor, Colorado, came last week to the D. P. Campbell place. We welcome these folks to our community, and hope they may always be glad for their move to Idaho. Claude Young left for Paul, Idaho, one day last week. Mrs. Snow and children returned last Saturday from an extended visit to Iowa and Texas. Mrs. Ivan Lincoln underwent an operation for appendicitis at a hospital in Twin Falls, about ten days ago. Her many friends will be glad to know she was able to leave the hospital and go to her mother's home, one day last week. Mr. Kavan's mother came from the old home in Iowa in response to a telegram telling of the death of Mrs. Kavan. She came here last Sunday. Our neighborhood was saddened and shocked last Tuesday when told that Mrs. Chuck Kavan was dying. Mrs. Kavan had been well for about a year, but no one realized that her condition was what it was and that she would so soon pass away. Her death is particularly sad, because she leaves two little children aged four and two years, and because she herself was so young. She died Wednesday morning at 10:30 a. m. Saturday afternoon. Her funeral was held in the Methodist church by her pastor, Mr. Hunt, attended by a large number of friends and neighbors. Our sympathy to Mr. Kavan and Mr. and Mrs. Fish.

High-Class Spring Toggery

For Ladies

Goodmorning, Mother:

I need your advice; the proofs of the children's pictures are before me as I write and how can I select one or two, or even three to be finished, when ten negatives were made and all exactly the same.

For instance, I must order from this one the picture of Ted and Emily telephoning to Grandma. THE BISBEE STUDIO has a regular telephone in the posing-room, disconnected, of course, and the children can phone to their heart's content.

Mrs. Bisbee suggested that Ted talk right into the telephone, and tell Grandma all about what he saw from the train window on our trip West. And he did—just leave it to Ted; he told you a wonderful story if only you could have heard it. And Emily dutifully holding the receiver in her funny, little back-handed way—well, it is useless to try to eliminate this picture; I simply must have it finished.

This is one great feature of THE BISBEE STUDIO, the portraits from Bisbee's are not just photographs that could easily have been made anywhere at any time; each negative tells a different story and each is distinctive; it impresses a particular memory, it records a particular time—each is of worth for each is a treasure of the heart.

Write soon, Mother, for I look forward to your letters. Your own Ruth.

Card of Thanks—We take this means of extending to our many friends and neighbors our most sincere thanks for their kind assistance and tokens of sympathy during the sickness and death of our wife and daughter, Chas. Kovan and Mr. and Mrs. A. Fish.

The Isis Theatre was full to overflowing Wednesday evening to hear the "big" lecture by Mr. Wagner. His subject was "Cancer and Labor" and his remarks were based on Isaiah, chapter 2, verse 2. "Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any and their treasure." The statistics added were of great interest and furnished present application for the text—the lesson offered being that the great end for each and every man is to prepare by getting right with God.

To Give Religious Address—There will be special conferences and addresses on the work of religious education Thursday and Friday evenings at the Baptist church in the Sunday school annex building, Rev. J. D. Springston, a specialist in the field of religious education, will be the speaker. THE WEATHER MODERATED AFTER "FAIR AND WARMER"

The Lavering Evening Last Friday and Saturday Evenings Was Thoroughly Enjoyable.

Whoever one of Selwyn's production is announced, everybody looks for something worth while; and in this case, as usual, everybody was present and was not disappointed. Of course, when take occasion to any "worth while" in this connection, it is not used in a strictly utilitarian sense; but it is worth while to be entertained—by laugh until your sides ache and know all the time what you are laughing at, until the characterization stands.

INDUSTRIAL IDEAL BETTER

business toward industrial democracy. "A man who was not overworked, who received good wages, who felt an interest in the concern for which he labored, was an efficient workman. The modern plan of production was proving successful in every way. Many great concerns were adopting it, and always with profit alike to the business and the workman.

A feature of this new industrial condition was manifested by the great concern that had a medical examination given their employees and, where operations were necessary had furnished them free. One of the managers in a corporation of this sort said that there was no such thing as a lazy man; only unhealthily men. When a man was in good health, his exuberance of spirit made him want to move and do something.

"Come on Over, See My Corn Fall Off!"

"I Put 2 Drops of 'Get-It' on Last Night—Now Watch—"

"See—all you have to do is to use your two fingers and lift the corn right off. That's the way 'Get-It' always works. You just put on about 2 drops. When the corn not only shrivels, but loosens from the foot, it falls off. When you rub the ointment on the foot, it's almost a pleasure to have corns and see how 'Get-It' gets them off in a hurry and without the least pain. I can't wear tight shoes, dance and walk as though I never had corns!" "Get-It" makes the use of irritating salves, burning liniments, lime, plaster and other harsh remedies, but unnecessary. It's the only corn cure that's safe for any sort of hard corn or callus. It's the only simple, easy, quick way, and it never fails. You'll never have to cut a corn again with knives or scalpers, and run chances of blood poisoning. Try 'Get-It' tonight. 'Get-It' is sold everywhere. 50c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. L. Wolford & Co., Chicago, Ill.

health, his exuberance of spirit made him want to move and do something. This manager had opened a factory in Georgia employing 7,000 Negroes and an equal number of "trackers" or "poor-Whites." When he began they missed much of their time, but later, when "cured" of the ailments with which a medical examination showed them to have been afflicted, they worked all the time.

By means of a system of promotions every man in the great Ford factories at Detroit, felt that he had an interest in doing the best possible for the concern and that his work was appreciated. Old men were worked in places where they made good both for themselves and the company and all had that character of hope that was necessary for securing the best results. Miss Tarbell spoke strongly in favor of an employers liability law, saying that the best business men today recognized the fact that they were liable and accepted the law, saying that many they did not provide sufficient safety.

Many other illustrations of a similar nature were given by the speaker on occasion from time to time by witty sallies.

Miss Tarbell took a deep interest in things around this city while here. She expressed surprise at the price charged for sugar at the point of production and suggested that Miss Tarbell reporter in an interview that if such large prices could be charged and such large profits secured by the sugar people, it seemed to her that they were in no great need of the highest protective duties, which they have secured.

"Indeed," she said, "if some of the statements made to me in Oxnard, Utah, with reference to the over-valuation are true, I would say that the government would be justified in either taking over the plants or letting foreign sugar in free of duty in order that the users might have the benefit of reasonable prices; personally, I think the former course would be the better way."

In the interview Miss Tarbell gave the impression that her solution of social troubles was the removal of special privileges and the extension of the principle of voluntary co-operation. At the banquet given Miss Tarbell at the Parish hall by the Business Women's Association before the speaker had taken her departure, Miss Tarbell made a witty talk which evoked much enthusiasm and laughter. Miss Jessie Warrington went to Minidoka to meet the speaker and accompanied her to this city from that point. Miss Tarbell left for Boise yesterday morning.

MUTT & JEFF'S WEDDING

AT LAMBERG SATURDAY True to his promise, Gus Hill offers a new vehicle each successful season for Bud Fisher's eccentric character conceptions. Mut & Jeff. One cannot imagine the arduous labor attached to the task of furnishing a new book for the ludicrous frolics of these two ill-mated couples, for the reason that the pace set by the original production is a hard one to follow. There must be a laugh to every line of Mut & Jeff's dialogue, scream to every situation, as the audience looks for it and it must be forthcoming.
