Hollister News

(Times' Special Correspondence)
John Cliff of Twin Falls was in our village recently on business.

D. R. McBride has rented Mr. Gross' farm north of Hollister.

The strong wind that blew a few days ago blew down the big windows out of Fats' billiard parlor, which cost him $10 to replace.

A couple of cars of coal came to relief of Hollister people last week, which was sold out in four days.

A very pleasant time was had a few days ago when J. W. Christensen gave a party of honor of his wife's birthday. There were about 15 or 20 families present and the ladies brought pies and the evening was spent in dancing, then a lunch was served at midnight and dancing took up again and nearly all stayed till the east was turning red in the morning.

Our basket ball team felt rather sick after such a tanning they received in Twin Falls a few days ago after the game, the score being 7 to 78 in favor of Twin Falls, but our team claimed the floor was too slick and next time they play Twin Falls they will have to put some tar on their shoes or make a visit to the Blacksmith shop and get calked up.

J. W. Christensen and John Nelson are handling hay from West of Hollister to Jones' brothers' cattle east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull who left Hollister a couple of weeks ago, expect to make Oklahoma their destination.

Mr. Morehouse is serving as temporary postmaster since Mr. Hull sold his drug store and left town.

D. R. Williams and family came over to Hollister to enjoy themselves at Christensen's dance and during the warm winds the water raised so that they could not get home for three or four days.

Butler is contemplating going to Oregon as he is selling all his personal property in preparation.

Hansen News

(Times' Special Correspondence)
All available teams are being used to take the cement to Rock Creek, where it is to be used in cementing the high line canal to prevent seepage.

Tuesday twenty-five emigrant cars left for Canada. Among those going were E. Stange and family, George Bush and family, Mr. Allen and family, George Ridge and family. We are sorry to lose these people but wish them all success in their new homes.

W. F. Edwards and family have come to Nanipa to make their home.

Robert Tobby has purchased a farm southwest of Hansen, where he will make his home.

Mrs. J. O. Harris has been on the sick list for the past few weeks, but is now improving.

Arthur B. Hale was in from Milner a few days this week.

Mrs. Hummel, of Washington, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dunn. Before moving to Washington, Mrs. Hummel lived on the Dunn place. Her many old friends are glad to see her again.

Miss Marjorie Smith spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Evi Smith.

FILED VISITED BY ANOTHER BIG FIRE

Home of "Pure Food Grocery" Destroyed and Other Buildings Raised Beyond Repair.

File was the scene of another fire last Sunday morning, says the Elletts Journal. At 6:35 as people were coming up from the train fire was noticed in the rear end of the Pure Food Grocery and Earl Munyon gave the fire alarm. Fire Chief Fehrenbacher was taking a visitor to the train and immediately got into action. The company was soon emptied, but the firemen saved the structure from being a complete wreck. The old Munyon building on the west of the store was on a slight temporary to being moved, caught fire several times but was checked before it could gain headway, and so escaped any damage. Mr. Small had some insurance on the store but not enough to cover the loss. The pool hall and Studebaker building were so badly damaged that they were soon emptied. This fire cleans up all the wooden buildings on the north side of Main street.

Mr. Small has plans made and the contract let to build as soon as the weather will permit.

Many famous artists have made these "Tone Tests" read what the papers say—

"Impossible to distinguish between the singer's living voice and its re-creation by the instrument that bears the stamp of Edison's genius."

—Boston Herald, Nov. 19, 1915

"The ear could not tell when it was listening to the phonograph alone. Only the eye could discover the truth by noting when the singer's mouth was open or closed."

N. Y. Evening Mail, May 3, 1916.

"It was virtually impossible to distinguish between the real voice and the re-created voice of the singer."

Philadelphia Evening Telegram, April 28, 1916.

"Christine Miller herself and Christine on the Edison sang side by side. The two voices were so identical that when one or the other stopped it was impossible to detect it in the audience."

Cleveland Leader, Sept. 23-1915

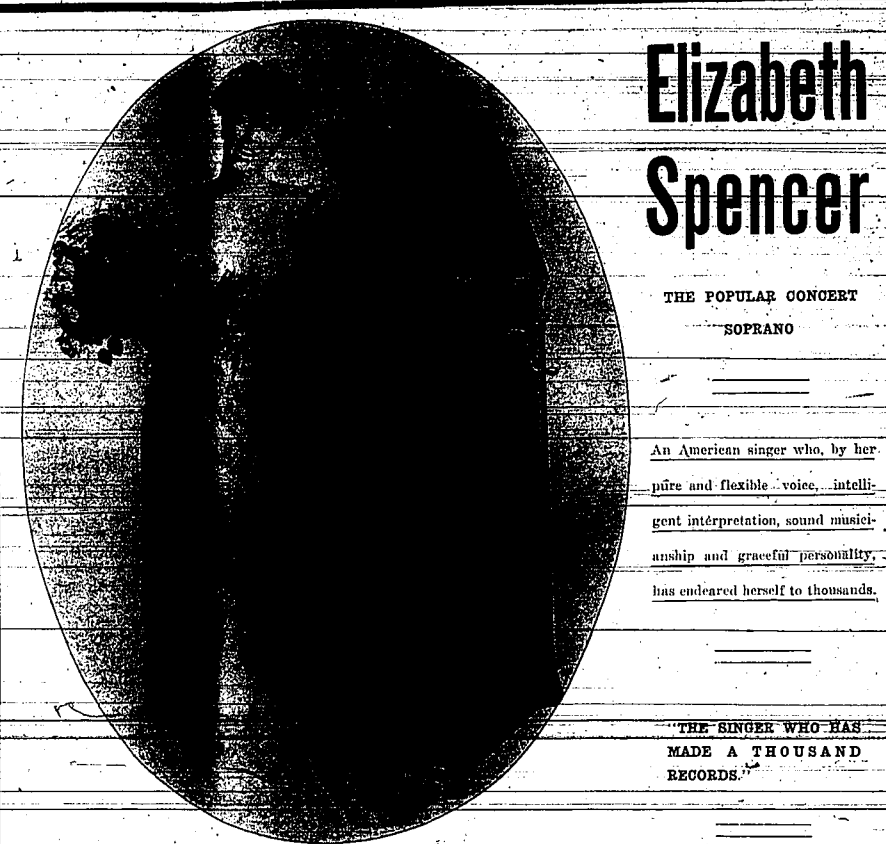

"Not possible to tell one from the other."

THE ISIS LECTURES
GROW-IN-INTEREST

"The Millennium, or One Thousand Years of Peace," Sunday Night's Subject—House Crowded.

"Satan and his host of evil angels will be detained upon the earth for the coming of Christ," said Evangelist T. G. Bunch speaking in the Isis Theatre Sunday night to a crowded house. His subject was "The Millennium, or One Thousand Years of Peace." He said in part:

"When Jesus returns to this earth in the clouds of heaven there will be a great earthquake, which will destroy every city in the world. Then for a thousand years the sun will not shine on the world, neither will there be vegetation, birds, or human inhabitant."

In support of this statement he read Jeremiah 4:23, "I beheld the earth, and lo, it was without form and void, and the heavens, and they had no light. I beheld the mountains and lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly. I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of heaven had fled."

Continuing he said, "The doctrine of a second chance for salvation is without foundation in the Bible. Revelations 20 tells of a millennium, of a thousand years, bounded by two resurrections, the one of the righteous at the beginning and the one of the wicked at its close. Between the two resurrections, during the 1000 years, the righteous are in heaven and the wicked are dead here upon earth. The bottomless pit mentioned in Revelations 20 is the earth in its chaotic condition, the place where Satan, cast out by the decree of God, and the chain of circumstances, abides for 1000 years. The righteous are all in heaven where with Jesus at their head they will judge. Before each and every one will be given complete justice."

"At the close of the millennium Christ and his people will visit to this earth as taught by Revelations 21. The heavenly Jerusalem with its mansions gates of pearl and golden streets will descend upon the earth where Jerusalem now stands. The

THE HOUR'S NEED AND DUTY

As the time approaches for the election of our municipal officers, more or less (for too little) attention is being directed toward possible candidates especially for the office of mayor and councilmen.

Under existing circumstances, however, one can but be surprised at the character of the "attention" manifested and the nature of the inquiries inspired thereby.

This is not only true in consideration of the matter of floating a bond issue of a half million dollars and controlling the expenditure of the proceeds; but also because of the present rapid growth of the city is continually bringing new conditions and presenting new questions, the more or less wise and progressive meeting and settlement of which will decide whether such growth shall continue, or shall cease.

And yet, under these exigent circumstances, when the name of a citizen is suggested as that of a possible candidate for mayor or councilman, the question one usually hears asked is not, "Will he make a good one," but, "Will he consent to run?"

It will require no argument to convince every thinking persons that this is all wrong. Peace both duties and sacrifices, as well as victories, has been renounced, than any. And not only should civic pride invite, but a sense of duty and obligation should compel every patriotic citizen affirmatively to respond to any authoritative call from the community in which he lives for his services in official capacity.

Twin Falls is doubtless suffering from this particular disease, but too often has experience elsewhere seen the choice of duty, and even school, officials degenerate into a mere fight between local banks over the handling and manipulation of the public funds, with practically no reference to the character of the service to be given other than this. Again, no argument necessary to demonstrate that herein lies danger to the interests of the general public.

Idaho Theatre THURSDAY ONLY

agreed that the present is a crisis in the affairs and fortunes of Twin Falls—the TIMES represents no person, party or faction. It has no wish nor purpose other than the general good of the community in which it is proud to have a humble part.

For the highest authority as to the far-eastern view of the matter, and without regard to how much or how little they may know about it, it may not be amiss to read the following from the New York Station.

"It was a threat that Dr. Iyengar uttered when he declared that there is danger to our friendly relations with Japan in the favorite Pacific Coast game of worrying alien landowners, which means, of course, Japanese landowners. It is a fact of which people of sense and justice have always been aware.

The Toledo Blade publishes a comparative table showing that hereditaments for a "botted dinner" which cost forty-nine cents in 1914 costs $1.30 at the present time. This is bad enough, but as the Blade's bottle dinner is made to consist of "two pounds of rump corned beef foregathered" with one whole cabbage, two quarts of potatoes and two quarts of onions, we submit that it would be dear at any price.

Referring to the recent senate filibuster, the New York Herald most pertinently says: "Every state that contributed to that sort of selfishness has reason to hang its head in shame, but even so that should there be room for pity for the state of Arizona and polliver, which contribute two to the bill."

WAS IT WORTH $80,000? The Statesman has raised the question as to whether the less-revised legislation at the hands of the Fourteenth session to the value of $80,000, that sum being its approximate cost, in dollars and cents, to the people of the state.

[Indicating all of the circumstances it is not unnatural for us to answer in the affirmative.

We believe that the laws protecting the farmers of this state from price discrimination will alone be found during the next biennium, worth the cost of the legislation.

It is predicted that the placing of the state educational institutions, for the first time in the history of the state, on a system closely resembling the budget plan, and which will in subsequent years form the basis of a cut-and-out budget system, will save for these institutions during the next two years, the sum of $50,000. The adoption of the plan is worth many times that amount to the state. The system has been put into effect in all departments of the state, as well as in its charitable and penal institutions.

A million dollar expenditure for good roads has been authorized. Will the people of the state place this on the debit or credit side of the legislative balance sheet?

A complete auditing of the records of the land department since the day the state was admitted into the Union, and the installation of a modern system of accounting for all state expenditures, has been provided for; and this, it is claimed will not only obviate the possibility of another $150,000 steal, but it will save thousands of dollars for the state by properly preserving its vast land holdings and other assets.

The taxpayers will no longer suffer from the considerable "leak" for the records and accounts of county officers are to be carefully audited and supervised by the state auditor, by virtue of other legislation enacted by this session.

If the state gets behind its Carey act projects and help to straighten out some of its southern Idaho wrecks, it is the intent of other legislation how much will it be worth to the people directly affected, and how much will it be worth to the state by reason of removing the shameful blot that has retarded immigration to Idaho? No attempt is made herein to review the legislation that has been enacted during the session; in fact, this is not the time, as many of the most important measures are to be taken up during the coming week. The above suggestions that the proposal has been altogether "rotten" session of the legislature. We dislike to use the word "rotten" but that is the customary appellation for legislative sessions in Idaho, good and bad alike.

The state would have had one of the best compensation acts in the Union, at the hands of the present democratic legislature, had not four democratic senators "boiled." The party can do no more than to apologize for this, just as the Republican party will apologize for Senator LaFollette's tactics in blocking the enactment of the federal law giving President Wilson special authority to protect American commerce.

The rate of interest of farm loans has been lowered by the largest banking institution in the state—the state itself; and the effect is already being felt in a general lowering of interest rates. How much will this save Idaho farmers?

TROY LAUNDRY INSTALLS MORE-MODERN-MACHINERY

Two Rotary Washers and an Extractor are Latest Additions to Equipment—Other Improvements Completed.

With the recent installation of two rotary washers of late design, and an improved extractor, Wm. M. Pearis, manager and owner of the Troy Laundry, feels that he now has one of the most up to date and modern laundries in the state. In addition to the new machinery a crew of workers have been busy redefining the interior to make it lighter, more sanitary, and more convenient in arrangement. The walls have been tinted white, the woodwork painted, and an extensive locker system is completed which will assure greater security and dispatch in the segregation of the finished clothes.

These additions and changes have been the result of Mr. Pearis' efforts to keep his establishment up to date and efficient in every respect, and according to the manager, the Troy Laundry does not lack for any machinery which will make for greater efficiency, combined with high-grade work. In the arrangement of the plant Mr. Pearis has always endeavored to minimize in every respect the lost motion entailed in the passage of the clothing from the receiving room through each department to the sorting table. Included in the plant's equipment is the largest "finest-work" in the state. The starched clothes ironers are all of improved design and the method used in heating the ironing machinery by steam assures an evenness in press not obtained by other methods.

In finishing starched collars, two machines have been added which have greatly minimized the wear to which collars are subjected. The first is the dampener which enables the ironer to fold the collars without breaking, and the second is the automatic collar blocker which assures the right shape to the collars while they are being finished.

Between 20 and 28 people are employed at all times by the Troy Laundry and Mr. Pearis states that he has always endeavored to maintain the right personnel in his employees and only reliable help is employed.

Knoll Children Dies—Harvey S. Hall, who lives near Knoll, six miles southwest of Twin Falls died Saturday at his home and was buried Saturday afternoon in the city. The child was a member of the Epworth League, being conducted by Dr. Shephard of the Presbyterian church. Mr. Hall was born near Fairfield, Iowa, January 18, 1849. On November 8, 1875, he married Elmer Wright. Three children were born to the couple, of whom Mrs. Clara Gandy died eight years ago. Mr. Hall was survived by his widow, two sons, F. Hall and E. R. Hall, and seven grand-children, Harvey and John Gundry, Edward, Alfred, Elsie, Viola, and Earl Hall. Interment took place in the Twin Falls cemetery.

To Hold Unique Test—Under the supervision of the Magic Pharmacy of this city, the local agents for the Edison photograph, there will be conducted the first and only test of the latest improvement of his instrument, in which Elizabeth Spencer, the popular concert soprano will sing side by side with the machine. The test of her voice. These tests are being made all over the country in accordance with Mr. Edison's personal requests and the originality of the experiment has met with great interest wherever tried. The Magic Pharmacy is offering complimentary tickets to the concert to the who apply in person or by writing. The program will be held Tuesday evening, March 20, at the Lavering theatre.

The Spring Opening, announced last week for Monday evening of this week, was not, for some reason, quite as successful as anticipated. In fact, the merchants of Twin Falls as seemed to have been anticipated. However, there were many interesting and displays to which a continuous crowd of ladies gave interested attention throughout the evening.

The local large and one of the centers of attraction. The susceptibility of decoration had been made the most of—opinion being divided as to whether the most attractive feature was the gold or the red and green way the most attractive. The display of modish millinery, of lingerie, of furniture or almost everything in female line were invited prizes.

No doubt was more crowded during the evening than Riley's Millinery store which the ladies decided to be showing the most ample and tasteful stock of its very successful career—this especially including what one visitor called the "dream parade" for spring wear.

Hart's was also crowded with visitors, who voted it second to none in beauty and attractiveness—both in point of decoration and of goods displayed. The window displays here were effective in gray and green; but perhaps the most attractive feature was the reception room to the rear, where the latest and most chic suits for ladies were shown on living models.

The new millinery store to be known as the Vogue also claimed many visitors and well repaid their time and attention. The same may be said of Miss Stafford's exceedingly carefully and well selected stock of ladies head gear.

The Idaho Department store and Jenkins and company, each had a notice posted that its opening was unenviably delayed, which is doubtless the case with the store that the ladies may look forward to another evening of optical delight.

When George Walsh fights, he fights! And there is opportunity a plenty for George to show his abilities as a warrior—in that gripping new Fox photoplay "The Island of Desire." As the hero of this stirring story he travels to the untamed regions of the South Seas. He does battle with an Australian adventurer, a Chinese villain, drunken beach-combers and, finally, a horde of cannibals. He fights with his fists, he fights with weapons, he fights with dynamite (this latter for the cannibals) and the fortunes of war vary until the very end of the story.

GIRL STUDENTS
(By Margaret Mason, written for the United Press)

Maya, Oh Maya, my Indian girl!
You put all the Paris belles quite in the shade!
Your colorful blankets so gaudy and rich,
They're taken for madras skirts and flings and slings,
And other new fashion now flicker and fade.
Before they're by garments by Indian made.

NEW YORK, March 12—And how

Flaubion has put the Indian sign on his 80000 store of like takings candy from a child to take our fashions from the Indians when about all the poor things have their backs to a planker and a string of beads.

But, these gorgeous hand blankets that the Maya Indians weave in Guatemala are much too beautiful to be wasted on the primitive fastnesses of Central America.

The possibilities of an ordinary blanket are exhausted after you have used it as covering for body, bed or horse. The possibilities of the Maya blankets, loosely woven of pure-wool threads in vivid and diverse stripes are almost limitless.

The Mayans know how to make 'em but the fashioning experts know how to use 'em, as evidenced by a recent showing of Maya models in a famous New York and Philadelphia department store.

These wraps of oyster white and blue shantung are lined throughout with the gorgeous Maya blankets. Beach and summer suits of white, gray and neutral silk have vivid Maya blanket touches on collar, cuffs, pockets and lapels. Sport skirts entirely evolved from Maya blankets, with their rainbow bars and color, make you long to wear them.

You can now buy ribbons at the ribbon counter and embroidery hangings at the trimming counter that will give you the same effect as the last word in modish Mayanism.

Silks by the yard in Maya designs and colorings are also being manufactured here, and stockings embroidered in Indian symbols are by no means at the foot of the Maya list of fashionable fads.

The ribbons and embroideries are made in Guatemala, where really beautiful and almost defy detection, when placed side by side with Indian originals.

But if you want a blanket touch, much as I hate to be a wet blanket, I am constrained to tell you that you will have to go to Guatemala for it. Or rather, the house that is making Maya specialties will have to import one for you. It strikes me it would be almost as simple to import a Maya blanket as to import a pair of New York usury her laurels as the fashion center of the world. Who would have dreamed that her mantle of fashionable greatness would have descended on Guatemala in Central America instead and in descending turn into an Indian blanket.

Mrs. Hill was hostess to the Sunshine club Friday afternoon. After the regular business meeting, refreshment were served. Next meeting to be with Mrs. Eugene Grandall, March 23.

Mrs. Polk was hostess to the Penelope club at her home on Friday afternoon. The time was pleasantly spent in sewing after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Dickinson was hostess to the Priscilla club and conversation. A two-course dinner was served at the close of the afternoon. The club will meet this week with Mrs. Farrar.

One of the interesting affairs of the past week was the party given by Mrs. Paul R. Taber on last Wednesday evening at her home on North avenue east. The guests were entertained at three tables at 6:00. High favor was awarded Miss Selma Perrine. At the close of the evening a singing supper was served.

BUHL LIBRARY PLAN BEING WORKED OUT

Book Gathering Day Noon—Active Efforts for Jarbidge—Road—Kunze Cheese Gets First.

The committee which was appointed by Superintendent Manning to work out plans for the establishing of a new library met at the home of Mr. H. L. Tucker on Tuesday afternoon, March 13, at Buhl. All members of the committee were present and the discussions were entered into relative to the place for the books to be kept, methods of acquiring books and subscriptions. It was decided that all city and country clubs and organizations be asked to co-operate in this movement. It was thought that the Civic club would be willing to make a house to house canvass of the town to secure the pledge of books and subscriptions. Then, later, there would be a book gathering day at which time the Boy Scouts might be secured to gather the books to some central location.

In a telephone conversation with W. H. Hudson, president of the Jarbidge O. S. L. Transportation company, and secretary of the Jarbidge Commercial club, A. J. Tucker was assured that Mr. Hudson would return with Mr. Tucker to Buhl some time next week in the interest of the proposed road from Buhl to Jarbidge. Mr. Hudson stated that E. A. Austin, manager of the Elkore mines, will come to Buhl next week over the same route. Mr. Tucker left Jarbidge this morning to take a load of provisions into the camp. He will return next week and expects the men to come with him.

A. G. Karcher, who lives west of Buhl four miles, is a strong advocate of the dairy cow for this tract. In a conversation he said that his five cows produced better than 325 pounds of butter each during the past year. He expects to increase his herd, and contemplates installing a milking machine when his herd is large enough. Mr. Karcher has a herd of 12 cows but says that milking under his home state.

Residents of the Fruitland subdivision met in the Commercial club rooms Sunday morning to settle a controversy with J. Moran Nesbit relative to their feed ditch which runs through his forty. Rat holes in the dyke had caused so much water to run over his alfalfa that four or five acres was ruined last year. It was decided to cement the ditch and to re-plow the ground for Mr. Nesbit, who was very reasonable in his demands.

There will be a basket ball game in Buhl high school between the fast teams from Heyburn and the Buhl five on Friday evening, March 16. Heyburn has a fast team and a good game is expected. Gustav Kunze received a letter from Portland, Oregon, where he entered the Buhl class in the Idaho fair, stating that his product won first prize. The three states competing were Oregon, Washington and Idaho. This is another of the many "first prizes" which have been taken by the Buhl product. Mr. Kunze has a string of medals showing that he has taken first prize in competitive exhibits from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans.

At a regular meeting of the Tuesday Civic club held in the Masonic hall on Tuesday afternoon, a motion was unanimously carried, endorsing the impartial action of the school board and Superintendent Manning in providing in the high school both supervised dancing and other amusements for those not wishing to join.

Chas. H. McQuown, manager of the Boise-Payette Lumber company closed a deal last Friday for the purchase of the vacant lot on Broadway between the Gibbs cigar store and the Clark harness shop, and has let the contractor for a fifty-foot brick building. The construction of the building is almost finished and building operations are to be commenced at once.

Charles Jonathan Kalina, manager of the Buhl Rex Amusement company, announced to the Herald reporter yesterday that he contemplates erecting a large hotel on the corner lots near the Buhl Auto company garage. The nature of the structure is not known, although questioned further Mr. Kalina said that it would be several stories high.

The first drill since its return from the border was held by company K last Tuesday evening in the old school building on lower Broadway which they have used up for temporary use as an armory.

SURVEY MADE FOR KIMBERLY BANK SITE

New Concern Will Open in a Month—Debate Held on Library—Many Social Events—Take Place Last Week.

Surveys were made last week for the new building to be occupied by the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Kimberly, which will open its doors for business in about a month. The building will be situated on the lot on which the O. G. Zack rent outfit of office has been located. Until the structure is completed the bank will conduct business in the old jewelry store next door to the Noble store. A debate was held in the L. D. S. church last Wednesday evening relative to whether Kimberly should have a library supported by a tax. The affirmative side was presented by Mrs. Edna Dolley and Miss Stella Wood, while Mrs. C. Leo and Miss Ella Mewert took the negative side. The affirmative side won. A program was given in the church Sunday.

A most enjoyable "ladies choice" club dance was held last week, followed by a two course supper.

Paul Harmon and Lloyd James attended the meeting of Company K of the national guard in Buhl last week.

The Dramatic club is preparing to give a play entitled "What Happened to Jones" in a short time, and the cast indicates that it will be an event of more than usual merit.

The Epworth league held its regular social at the Methodist church on Friday evening, and had a most pleasant and profitable session. Many members of the Hansen league were in attendance. The people of Kimberly are invited to attend a meeting of the organization there.

An Epworth dance was held in Kimberly Thursday night at which there was a large attendance. A box supper was held, at which the boxes were auctioned for a good sum.

The Utah Construction company is erecting a new store building. The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church gave a social for young people at the church Thursday evening. A dinner was served and the result was a good time for those who attended and a neat sum for the treasury of the church.

The high school alumni defeated the high school juniors in a basketball game last Thursday evening. George Eubanks is back from a trip to Seattle.

Alta and Ida King entertained a number of friends at their home Wednesday evening. Various games and amusements were indulged in. A delightful lunch was served.

Ogil Gray of Filer is here attending the Kimberly high school.

Dr. and Mrs. Davis are back from a vacation in Salt Lake City.

A feature of the entertainment following the basket ball game last week was a wrestling match between Frank Richards and Paul Harmon, which was won by Richards.

Mrs. W. E. L. Stowe is home from a visit to Salt Lake City.

George O. Bremer is sick with the measles, leaving his business in the hands of Messrs. Cox and Graham.

"DAUGHTER OF THE GODS" HAS APPEAL FOR ALL. There will be shown at the Idaho Theatre on March 19 and 20, the picture on which William Fox expended a million dollars in his determination to metamorphose the motion picture industry into that catholic term spoiled with a capital "A" and called "Art."

Annette Kollerman is the jeweled "hub" around which the iridescent spokes of six of the tremendous episodes of "A Daughter of the Gods" are arranged.

The play embraces every appeal to the tender and imaginative side of the human soul. Child lovers will see those fascinating babies, Katherine and Jane Leo; for those who are critics of feminine charm a school of mermaids takes first place; for those who worship the divine in nature and landscapes and water vistas of superlative beauty, and in and through all that animated marble events whom we call Annette Kollerman. Picture-sque battles of the fiercest order will satisfy those who want teeth conflicts waged on a stupendous scale. It is, altogether, an offering which could well be laid on the altar of art.

"Why don't they write a song about 'Daddy'?" asked McCormack

And now here is the famous tenor singing such a song for the Victor. "Tommy Lad" came into being just in time to be a sort of response to Mr. McCormack's thought, that in view of all the songs about mother, we might have at least one about "dad."

A fascinating fox trot from "The Century Girl" and a tuneful one-step

The melody fox trot from "The Century Girl" contains at least two of the best tunes Irving Berlin ever wrote. "The Broadway Chicken Walk" and "Alice in Wonderland." The one-step on the opposite side of the record is "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag and Smile, Smile, Smile."

for the relief of the children of Del. stium. The collection was taken and amounted to about $55.

"The Crucible" consisted of a dialogue between a district judge and Sigmund Cozzetti-Spanghetti applying for citizenship. The Italian said he had been to school seven months, cleaning the house "for da kids." He had lived five years in America and several years in Boise. He had voted for "Billie an Bryan and Tolde da Roosevelt but Wilson been bigger man now and if he say fight for like holla for hoorn and Gran' ole Flag." He got the required papers.

"The Rollicking Four" sang and were enclosed to the "March of the Flieg" was an historical representation of the nation and its wars. The Revolutionary struggle, the war of 1812, the conflict with Mexico, the civil strife, the battle with the Red man and the contest with Spain were each represented by a tableau of a soldier in the costume of the respective period. The argument of the program outlined above is free by accorded by all to the committee consisting of C. M. Booth, chairman; James Hamilton, Charles F. Macaulay, William H. Stanley, W. R. Friebe and Boyd Fuller, and to William Coburn, director of the musical program. While space will not permit the mentioning of the names of all who participated and it would be generally unfair to attempt to discriminate, it is only just to say that the audience spoke in terms of special appreciation of the work of Ned McCracken who participated in practically every stunt and always with credit, of Boyd Fuller as "Miller" and of Albert Bonick as "Spanag."

This was in a way the opening occasion for the new Rogerson-Cafe, and it stood the test finely. Both in its presentation and in its execution, it was able to have several fourth tables in appointments and decorations and in convenience both of dining and kitchen and in the service, it reflected great credit upon the proprietor, Mr. Rogerson, and the active manager, Mrs. Arrol. The following was the menu:

- Minkaka Nuts
- Rupert Oyster Cocktail
- Heyburn Consomme
- Burley Olives
- Rock Creek Colery
- Filet of Salmon Tract
- Butter Soups
- Rogerson Lamb Chop
- Peavey Peas in Cases
- Twin Falls Turkey, Cranberry Sauce

John
Yes, Martha!
Did you attend to those errands?
Oh, yes! I remembered this time.
What about the things Sue wanted?
That can be arranged for all right
What did they say?
They told me to bring Sue's letter down.
Can you get all of them in one place?
Oh, yes!
That's good. Well, here's the letter.
Where's the money order?
Here it is.
How about mailing them?
They will attend to that, and send Sue the change and write her, too.
What if they are not right?
They will change them and return them without charge.
That certainly is a splendid way of doing and when more people know they can buy shoes that way Mr. Robinson should get a lot of mail orders.
No wonder they sell so many shoes. Were there many in the store?
Not so very many, but most of them seemed to be buying shoes. There was a man, a woman and three children and Mr. Robinson sold each of them a pair of shoes, and it was amusing to see the children parading around the store in their new shoes. He has a shoe for boys which sells from $2.25 to $2.95 a pair, according to size, and it beats anything I have ever seen for the price.
Well, Johnny made a pair of shoes and I think I had better take him down and get a pair.

high school will be held in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The contest will consist of three divisions: the oratorical, the humorous and the dramatic. There are three speakers in each division. One speaker will be chosen at this time to represent the Twin Falls high school in the state declamatory contest to be held at Caldwell in April. The public is cordially invited. There is no charge.

FARM BUREAU IS ORGANIZED

mittes would keep tab on real estate firms that acted in this way and saw to it that their work became known, they would soon move elsewhere. All the speakers insisted that this was a White man's country and should remain such. Later on the matter was, by common consent, put up to the directors. The constitution was made so that all citizens of Twin Falls county were eligible to membership, but not until a year's discussion had taken place over whether membership should be confined to farmers. County Agent W. T. McCall of Canyon county was called on to express an opinion on this point and said that there was no danger of city people controlling the organization. He said that the experience of Canyon county was that the merchants and city men co-operated heartily. Provision was made for the recall of any director who worked against the financial interest of the organization and a further provision was incorporated to the effect that a majority of the directors should be actual farmers. After setting date for annual meeting for first Tuesday in December, in spite of the objections of a member that it might fall on Sunday, the constitution and by-laws were adopted.

County Agent McCall then made a stirring talk on the benefits of the farm bureau, urging caution in the matter of attempting many things at once, and predicting the ultimate success of the nation wide farm movement after which the meeting adjourned.

The following original hymn of the poet laureate was inscribed on the program, but the meeting failed to reach the degree of solemnity necessary for its proper rendition, so it was omitted.

"I WANT TO BE" "I want to be, I want to be, I want to be down home near Twin Falls"

"Where the hens are dog-gone glad to lay Scrambled eggs in the new home-day. You ought to see, You ought to see, You ought to see my home near Twin Falls!" "You can tell the world I am going home!" "T-W-I-don't know how to spell it But I'm goin', you bet I'm goin' To my home to that Twin Falls Valley Farm!"

POTATO BREAKFAST BEST

but presently the speaker awoke with a jerk and called the body to order, reminding them of the necessity to get up and curb the frivolous tendencies of the town. One statesman introducing a law to compel the painting of red cows to a mara sambre had dilated on the dangers of flashy dressing. After his oration the area was called for on the measure. The author of the bill voted for it and it was declared passed without calling for negative votes. Another measure which was objected to as unconstitutional, provided for the regulation of the size of biscuits and after the constitutional objection had been overruled this was also passed. Several other measures of a similar nature, were enacted in the same way, the author in every case insisting that the particular bill was necessary to curtail or destroy human pleasure. The most elaborate measure was introduced, according to its author, at the request of the Parent-Teachers' association and was aimed at dancing, which was declared to be the synthesis of all evil. The bill provided for the abolishment of all dances, and of all places where dances were held, had been held or could be held, and of all musical instruments there used. While in other cases only the author of a measure was voted for, in this instance all the legislators landed electoratory solar plexus blows on the unfortunate terpsichorean art and the vote was unanimous and enthusiastic. Finally for the law, after which the speaker declared that the great object of the meeting had been accomplished by forcing the voters of its members on the lowly outsiders and the session adjourned.

"A bit of Scotch" was a Highland fling by a half a dozen boys in kilts, which brought forth an enthusiastic encore. Rev. Charles Butler was again called out and sang one of his magnificent solos, winding up by calling on G. M. Booth, whom he declared had something to say to the audience. Mr. Booth after some light banter, assumed a more serious tone and he reminded the banqueters that while they were enjoying peace, plenty and prosperity, the people of a nation in the western part of the world, beyond the ocean were starving and babies were in need of bread. He said that he believed it would be proper to pass the plate around and let every person present contribute a quarter of the fund
