LEGITIMATE STRIKE IS VERY IMPORTANT

NO WALL ENCOUNTERED AND FREE GOLD FOUND IN EVERY PAN TESTED

TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS IN TWENTY THOUSAND FEET

Wounds in Deporable Condition—Now Freight Is Moving Into Jarbridge Relieving Bad Condition of Affairs in The Camp.

The most important developments of the winter in the Camp is the receipt cutting of the vein in the new tunnel of the Legitimate mine. The vein has been crossed for a distance of seven feet and no wall encountered as yet. Flanking in the way across shows some free gold in every pan. This is highly encouraging and tends to prove that the values in this mine extend to depths as has been proven in the case of several of the other mines of the district.

In the early days of the camp it was the usual cry "On the surface showing are fine but how about the depth, they may not go down." "If there was anything to prove that the values went to depth we would be glad to buy in money." And many like remarks. Now the results of the past year have conclusively shown to these doubting Thomases that the veins do go down and those who have trict from the start are about to realize upon their faith. With one mine showing twenty millions of dollars worth of good milling ore with twenty thousand feet of development but work and a half dozen mines with large ore bodies already opened on several levels.

Several important developments have been made on the Jarbridge mine, but they were already proven mines and these new developments only add to the amount of known ore in these mines. All of the mines have had a hard time this winter owing to the shortage of supplies. The roads have been very much worse this winter than heretofore, not only the Jarbridge but more particularly around House creek, Cedar creek and Devil creek. With the new road to Bull built before another winter it is confidently expected that much of this road trouble will be eliminated and that transportation into Jarbridge will be much more regular.

Our mail service has been much worse this winter than it was when we had it coming over the impassable summit to the south, although all the time some small freight teams and the passenger stages were coming through, right along. Several times when the mail has failed to arrive or any part of it, there have been teams come in and particularly the Market team with about two tons of beef on it, and always the stage team of Ernest Egan arrived with five, six or seven passengers and a lot of baggage and express. Mr. Egan has been our most regular arrival and it has become common saying "well if the mail does not come in Egan is sure anyway," and he has always come through.

This has been quite a severe winter but there has always been roads over which a driver with ambition could get through. Now the indications and the barometer seems to show that the worst is over and that the snow will soon be leaving so that the roads can be worked on and improved that freight may again begin to move toward the camp.

A volunteer fire department was organized the other night and a chemical engine is to be purchased for the protection of the many new buildings which have come up and which will be erected in the near future, or as soon as the lumber can be brought into camp.

Whitrop W. Flisk has just received the sad news that his son W. S. Flisk had died in the hospital in Toronto. Young Flisk was well known and liked in this camp and around Three creek and Bull. No particulars have been received at this time.

Do not come to Jarbridge looking for work until the roads are open so that supplies can be brought in. And do not come anyway at this time unless with some grub as everything is full and food of all kinds is very short.

Every Part a Quality Part In the Chalmers

Chalmers puts quality materials and quality workmanship into every piece of every Chalmers car. Therein lies the difference between the Chalmers and most other cars.

Here are three parts out of thousands in the chassis. They are hidden moving parts of the motor—the crankshaft, connecting rods and pistons. Chalmers makes them of extraordinary materials with extraordinary care and thoroughness.

One-Piece Crankshaft

The crankshaft is drop-forged from heat-treated carbon steel in a single piece. Balancing weights are integral with the shaft. The shaft is 2 1/4 inches in diameter. Sturdy, but not heavy. Rigid. Strong. It is balanced while rotating at a fast rate of speed, on a unique machine. This helps you to understand why the Chalmers motor is so smooth.

Connecting Rods—Strong, Light

Connecting rods are designed to secure rigidity and lightness. They are made of special carbon steel. Are unusually strong and dependable. Each rod weighs only 41 ounces. Yet they will withstand greater stress and strain than some connecting rods weighing almost twice as much.

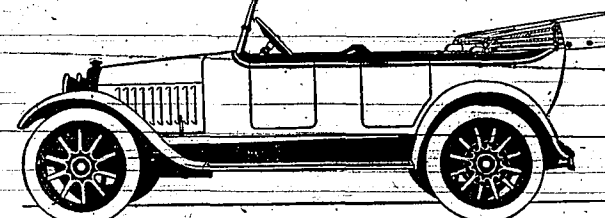

Light Weight Pistons

Chalmers pistons are of Lynite. A light and tough metal, about 1/4 the weight of cast iron. Chalmers pistons reduce the strain on the bearings. They insure the marvelous Chalmers smoothness. They make possible the remarkable Chalmers power.

All of the above means quality. The kind of quality you need in the car you buy, and the kind of quality you GET in the Chalmers.

SPAIN INDIGNANT OVER ESPIONAGE OF THE GERMANS

TEUTONS MAINTAIN COMPLETE SURVEILLANCE OVER SPANISH PORTS AND SHIPPING

OVER 60,000 SPIES AND AGENTS ON THE PENINSULA

German Agents Can Say in Advance to Spanish Owners, "Your Ship Will be Sunk at Such a Time," and Carry Out Threat to the Minute.

(United Press)

PARIS, March 27.—A vast army of German agents engaged in surveillance of Spanish ports and shipping is condemned by the Spanish press and demands made on the government to take steps to disband them.

The country in papers arriving here today.—Germany bomb-plots and intrigue in America are pointed to as examples of what the Spanish government is confronted with.

Since Spain's refusal to openly break with Germany as a protest against the submarine blockade, the Spanish press, except the Germanophile organs, is open in its criticism.

The objecting papers carry lengthy and detailed revelations of the methods of German agents working in conjunction with the submarines. El Liberal, the great newspaper of Madrid, leads in openly declaring that no ship now leaves a Spanish port before its description, cargo, searoute, speed, armament against submarines, make-up of its crew and its destination is known to the submarines lying in wait off the Spanish coast.

This information is transmitted to the submarines by signals or by wireless and it is so accurate that a German agent can say to a ship captain "Your vessel will be sunk at such and such a time." And these predictions are so rarely always correct by the U-Boat vessels, which pass the tests of the agents are spared, the paper says, and continues:

"While German organization is very vast and admirably disposed to take advantage of all the elements at its disposition. Of the 60,000 to 80,000 Germans in Spain, the most part are officers of the German army, marines, inventors, industrial workers, commercial agents and technicians of all sorts who have sought employment on all parts of the Spanish coast. In some instances they work for the lowest wages."

"While German army is directed by the consuls and heads of big German enterprises, commercial and industrial, organized before the war.

"They have created friendships all over—especially among the provincial authorities, the military chiefs, the commanders of marines, the officers of the civil guard, the battalions, the chiefs of police, services among which are the posts and telegraph and the civil police."

"This has given birth to a system of espionage, simple and methodically organized, which acquaints the Germans with most mathematical and precise information for their submarine campaign."

THE TWIN FALLS TIMES

Twice-A-Week
Published Tuesdays and Thursdays
By THE PUBLISHING COMPANY, I. A.

Entered as the Twin Falls postoffice as second class matter as a twice-a-week publication, October 18, 1910.

THAT INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE

As great as is the need of Twin Falls for a larger, better and more permanent water supply, and as generally as is such need known and acknowledged, it is patent to every thoughtful observer that no bonds will be voted for that purpose unless our people can be assured that the proposed plan is feasible and economical and has been devised and will be carried into effect by professional ability and experience, joined to tried and established personal integrity.

To say this is not to offer the slightest reflection upon the personal or professional character of Mr. Louis C. Kelsey, the engineer whose plans and estimates will, perhaps, be adopted in the bond issue is now voted; and who, in that case, holds a contract with the city to superintend the construction for five per centum of the total cost thereof.

The TIMES knows no reason why such reflection should be made. It detests baseless rumors of all kinds, and, therefore, ignores those now abroad in this community to that effect. But the fact that such rumors are abroad, and are undermining the public confidence absolutely necessary to a successful waterworks campaign, can not be ignored.

It was for this reason, without doubt, and in the interest of a needed public improvement, that the large gathering of representative Twin Falls business men, on last Thursday night appointed five of their number to make a full investigation, and impartial report, as to the questions thus raised—a proceeding, it may not be amiss to say, to which Mayor Sweeney had already given hearty assent. The personnel of this committee is certainly all that could have been desired. These gentlemen are charged with a duty which may not be altogether pleasant; but which, when faithfully performed, as it undoubtedly will be, is calculated to be of very great influence and importance to the present and future welfare of our splendid young city.

CALLED TO COLORS AGAIN

The calling out of the state militia, for the second time in the past ten months, will serve to bring home to those who have felt that we were only very indirectly interested in the European trouble, the fact that the United States has at last been drawn very close to the edge of the pool which has, in three short years, engulfed practically all of the powers of the world; and that the possibility of our immediate participation is hourly becoming more evident.

Germany has been shown every possible courtesy by our government; her numerous, murderous violations of not only the laws of the nation, but of all the principles of human decency, has been treated with a tolerance by our government that has often riled the more impatient minds of loyal and patriotic Americans.

Finally she has pursued with great deliberation, a policy that has been coolly calculated to make it impossible for the United States to preserve the slightest degree of self respect and not strike as a protest at the flagrant abuse of American rights.

The German government is undoubtedly relying upon the masses of Germans in this country to become a source of anxiety and grief to us in the event of hostilities or threatened hostilities between the two countries. It is hoped it will not prove to be a well founded conjecture, the president is apparently preparing for eventualities. From press reports it appears that the militia is to be used, for the present at least, to protect government property throughout the United States—to prevent the molestation of telegraph, telephone and power properties; to keep the established lines of traffic open; and in general to prevent depredations by unloyal Americans.

In the event of actual war or even more acute developments, the militia will probably be relieved of this police duty after the domestic situation is well in hand—and he transferred to more active duty on the respective coasts; the other patrol work being taken in hand by such forces as are organized in the means while.

It comes rather hard on some of the men who have already devoted several months to patriotic service with only a trifling remuneration, to be again called to make further sacrifices. Not that we think for a moment that any monetary consideration will offset the zeal with which the men will offer themselves—and serve in the time of need; nevertheless the fact remains that the vast majority of these men cannot personally afford and should not be required, to assume the brunt of this work, with all of its attendant risks, at so considerable a sacrifice. The burden should be shared more equitably, and a fairer distribution of it would be one of the first things we would like to see congress undertake. The militia has, during the past year, rendered faithful and unhesitating service; it is unfortunate they should again, so soon, be called upon to make further sacrifices—but they can be depended upon, as before, to respond; man for man, cheerfully, willingly and patriotically, for the further service the government asks of them.

All of which goes to prove the truth so amply demonstrated time and again in American history, that when it comes to the "show down" there is nothing the matter with an American's patriotism.

the minimum county levy at an amount equal to $15 per child of school age.

House Bill No. 304—This bill changes the minimum census from twenty-five to fifteen. The result will be a somewhat fairer distribution than the present law provides.

(a) Raising the maximum appropriation for teachers in consolidated and rural high schools from $200 to $300 a year.

Each of these provisions are really based on the new $15 minimum county levy.

House Bill No. 329—Makes the following modification in the bond law for common school districts:

(a) Sec. 76—Raising the limit from 4 to 6 and requiring that all bonds shall be issued on the amortization plan.

(b) Sec. 77—Checking extravagance by allowing protest when more than one-half of the property is owned by residents.

(c) Sec. 78—Requiring bonds to be offered first to the State Board of Land Commissioners.

(d) Sec. 80—Placing responsibility for payment of bonds on the county commissioners and treasurer.

House Bill No. 324—This bill empowers school districts to employ thirty or more teachers to establish a teachers' retirement fund. The principal conditions are that the teachers to be pensioned shall be not less than fifty-five years of age in case of women and not less than sixty years of age in case of men; shall have taught not less than thirty years; fifteen years of which, including the last ten, shall have been in said school district in case of men, and case of women shall have taught for thirty years, fifteen years of which, including the last ten, shall have been in said school district.

House Bill No. 375—This bill contains three provisions as follows: (a) Section 129 in the first provision refers to the special tax which may be levied for maintaining a gymnasium. At present this tax is limited only by the provision that the grand total district tax may not exceed twenty mills. This means that it would be legally impossible for some districts to levy ten mills for the support of a gymnasium. This bill limits the gymnasium tax absolutely to a maximum of one mill.

The amendment also cuts out certain complicated provisions which are of no real value and have already given rise to legal conflicts.

(b) Section 129 in the second provision allows independent districts to levy over the maximum of ten mills up to fifteen mills with the approval of the State Board of Education.

(c) Section 129 in the third provision was passed in 1913, but owing to conflict with other bills has been passed in by the courts of appeal. It attempted to change the number of teachers required to constitute an independent district class "A" from thirty-five to twenty.

The educational system has been running on this basis for three years and this amendment is included simply to validate the intention of the legislature in 1913 and the present conditions now existing.

Senate Bill No. 167 amends the present laws which contain a mass of ambiguous and conflicting provisions concerning the qualifications of voters at school elections. After the most thorough study of this question with the aid of county superintendents, schools, trustees, and legal advice, this Act is submitted, which clears up the whole matter and reduces it to absolute simplicity; the new provisions are as follows:

(1) All persons over the age of twenty-one who have resided in the district where they offer to vote at least thirty days immediately preceding the election and who are:

(a) freholders, including both husband and wife, when the freehold is community property; or

(b) parents having children under twenty-one years of age.

Senate Bill No. 110—This is probably the most far-reaching measure in the educational field. It has an exceedingly interesting history for this bill as passed is radically different from the original although aimed to solve the same problem.

In its first form the bill provides two contrasting courses of study, one for the rural population, seven months a year for the other for centers of population nine months a year for eight years. It also provides for all districts, both common and independent that the board should fix the length of terms, thus repealing the present minimum of nine months for large districts.

The new bill makes no change in the law as to school terms but calls for (1) a course of fundamentals for minimum term schools and (2) a permission to study the whole problem of the curriculum and work of schools.

MANY CHANGES IN IDAHO SCHOOL LAWS

Nine Members of Nyeing Character Passed by the Legislature at Its Recent Session.

House Bill No. 116—This bill changes the upper limit of the compulsory period from eighteen to sixteen years of age.

House Bill No. 118—This bill contains two small amendments perfecting the act passed in 1913 to guarantee free high school tuition to all children of high school grade in the state:

(1) Authorizes the County Superintendents to draw order for county warrants to transfer tuition to another county.

(2) Provides that for the purpose of the Article only such high school work will be credited as is approved by the State Board of Education or the County Superintendent.

House Bill No. 267—This Bill fixes

WILL REPRESENT TWIN FALLS IN STATE CONTEST

Gertrude Smith Chosen Because of Splendid Work Done in Declaratory Meet.

The home declaratory contest, held in the high school auditorium a few days ago, resulted in the selection of Gertrude Smith as the local high school representative for the state declaratory contest to be held at Caldwell in April. The contest was the best ever held in this school, both from the standpoint of program and attendance.

Joseph Harris, Clarence Dean and Rex Smith were the contestants in the declaratory division, Reed Harris taking first place. Our National Flag was the title of the contest. Lola Duffy, Kate Montgomery and Lunetta Smith rendered humorous selections of which, "The Day of Progress Penalties" given by Kate Montgomery was considered the best.

The winner of first place in the dramatic division was exceedingly hard to choose. Michael Thomas gave "The Bishop's Candlesticks" taken from Les Miserables. Patricia Wynn

WATERWORKS, 8-DOLLAR BEETS

A. L. Swim offered a motion to the effect that the business men of Twin Falls there present believe that a minimum price of eight dollars per ton for sugar beets is justified, and will pledge their aid and influence in securing it, which was unanimously adopted, without debate, while the doctor rubbed his hands together and said "Himala."

At the stage of the proceedings, Mr. John Harvey, of the "Newspaper," was asked to come forward and act as secretary, which he did.

Then came the question of "lin money," the offensiveness of which to the country people was emphasized by Judge Chamberlain; and which, after some discussion and explanation, was apparently absorbed by a declaration on the part of the manager, Mr. Hart, that the Idaho Department store, would, after April 1, join all the others in paying cash, upon a cash basis, for all produce purchased.

The question of alien and undesirable land ownership called forth considerable talk, but was finally dismissed with the passage of a resolution that public sentiment should oppose and control it, and calling upon the real-estate-dealers and the Farm Bureau to join forces to that end. Mr. D. M. Deaton took the floor to bring up the proposed bond issue for new waterworks as a matter vital to the people of Twin Falls. After calling attention to the confusion of proposed plans and projects, as well as to rumors unfavorable for the plan upon adoption of which the town is called, and especially derogatory to the engineer who devised it and who, should it be adopted, would direct its construction, the speaker said that he knew nothing concerning their truth or falsity; but he did know that no bond issue could be carried unless the fears and suspicions awakened by such rumors were dissipated and confidence established. He therefore moved the appointment of a committee of five representative business men to carefully investigate and fully report upon the feasibility and economy of the plan proposed, and, especially, upon the personal and professional character and standing of the engineer, Mr. Louis C. Kelsey. This motion was seconded and carried, and the committee, as elected by nomination, was constituted as follows: E. J. Ostrander, C. L. Hart, A. L. Swim, G. B. Channell, W.

H. Eldridge—a body of men whose report will certainly be accepted as conclusive. Attention was next turned to the Commercial club itself; and a strong request was made by Mr. E. J. Ostrander for its revitalization and support to be first evidenced by general attendance at annual election of officers, which will be held on Tuesday, April 3—polls open all day. In this connection Mr. B. E. Morse called attention to the present age of specializing, and urged that, as Mr. McMillan had declined to be a candidate for re-election, the club secure for its next secretary some man, specially trained and experienced in the duties of that position.

The most interesting and humorous talk, Mr. Hal G. Bice alluded to the nation-wide problems over the conflict between economic needs and sociological adjustments, as exemplified by the necessity for labor on the beet crop not desired in citizenship. He also urged revival of interest in the Commercial club, which he said should actively align itself with all interests in the community and get away from individualism which breeds selfishness. A word was spoken for the manager plan of municipal government, after which adjournment of a gathering generally conceded to have been helpful and hopeful—a passage of united and earnest effort for the common good.
