ORDINANCE STATUS CAUSED MANY TO SPECULATE TODAY

REPEAL PASSED AT REQUEST OF MAYOR WHO THEN FAILED TO SIGN PROMPTLY

BOND ELECTION ON KELSEY PLAN WILL NOT TAKE PLACE

Compell Called Off Election Under Suspension of Rules and the Mayor Signed Today—McMillan Gas Ordinance Is Repealed

When the city council adjourned last night the speculators were in a quandary to determine whether the election for city waterworks bonds, as a plan today had been repealed...

This condition led to intimation of all sorts of Machiavellian plans today; some of them, to the effect that the plan was to have the repeal of the ordinance had been repealed when it had not been and then run in a bunch of voters in favor of bonds on election day and carry them.

When the council met last night Mayor Sweeley asked that action be taken to repeal the franchise ordinance, No. 172, introduced in favor of James McMillan, on the ground that none of the terms had been complied with.

It was proposed that it should be recalled by the same council, so that no final action on the ordinance should be left on the books. He also suggested that the ordinance called for a bond election April 24 be repealed.

Herriott was instructed to draft ordinances providing for the repeal of the ordinance mentioned. The city attorney was instructed to draft ordinances which were passed by the council under suspension of rules.

Mayor Sweeley signed the ordinance repealing the McMillan franchise but did not then sign the ordinance recalling the bond election.

Councilman F. P. Bracken said "It is my opinion that the city of Twin Falls would always be in order, evidently meaning a motion to adjourn."

Councilman R. M. Williams called attention to the fact that the ordinance repealing the bond election ordinance had been signed by the mayor.

He stated that the ordinance repealing the bond election ordinance had been signed by the mayor and that he had received the ordinance.

STRIKE ON BUILDING WORK IN THIS CITY

Men Want Fifty Cents a Day More on Account H. C. L.—Contractors Say Material Easy to Get.

Giving as their reason the high cost of living the non-union laborers on the building under construction ground, Twin Falls yesterday demanded an increase of fifty cents a day and when this was refused, they struck. Common laborers now get $3 a day; wheelbarrow men $3.50 and mortar mixers $4. They all ask a straight raise. Some of the men say that they can make more on the job on farms, though compelled to work longer hours and that they will go to the country if their demands are not met.

CONGRESS UNITED BEHIND PRESIDENT SAYS A. T. SMITH

THIN FALLS CONGRESSMAN DECLAIMS FACTIONS ARE LINKED UP WITH ADMINISTRATION

VOLUNTEER SYSTEM WILL LIKELY BE GIVEN TRIAL

Little Danger of Russia Deserting the Allies—Idaho Patriotism Is Praised—Food Situation A Serious Proposition.

All of the members of congress are working today in co-operation with the national administration in the war and desire to co-operate with the allies in an effort to speedily bring the war to a successful termination, said Congressman Addison T. Smith.

Smith, a Times reporter last evening, said that the volunteers are here for the purpose of visiting their own, Hugh F. Smith, who last week underwent an untried rigorous operation, from which he is recovering. They will return shortly to Washington.

It is under the impression that congress will pass a law providing for the trying out of the volunteer system, say for a couple of months, said Congressman Smith, and then if it should prove that the volunteer system will depend entirely on the draft system. He believes that some provision will be made whereby volunteers can be used for the foreign expedition proposed by Colonel Roosevelt. These volunteers would all be men of military and naval experience and would be accepted in the regular army and navy.

He believes that the Russian revolution was a great thing for the allies and that the Russian people will be able to maintain a republican form of government. He is convinced that the efforts of Germany to induce them to desert the allies will fail and that there is less danger from that source than there was under the imperial regime.

SPORTS HURT AND ARMY HELPED BY WAR

Base Ball Pitchers For Grande Troopers and Trap Shooters For Riflemen in Field.

(United Press) War is going to take an awful wallop at athletic sports in the United States, but at the same time it is going to be the means of demonstrating the wonderful efficiency in sports that has been attained in this country.

The base ball player, the track athlete, the boxer, the trapshooter all undoubtedly will be seen in action, and they all have been given training, that will make them valuable. Baseball training, it has many times been pointed out, is admirable for training men in the use of grenades or bombs. There is not another nation in the world where base-ball is played as it is in this country. Consequently there isn't a country where the knack of accurate throwing is developed.

There is the trap shooter who turns in his fifty brood birds out of fifty shots, and plenty of them—that pull down nearly some out of 100. It is not at all mere speculation to figure that he could do as well in a trench with a machine gun to guide him with a rifle given to him.

Fine condition, health and no nerves belong to this class of men. They are splendid specimens of Americans, nearly every one of them. A few of them could be fit for war duty probably in half the time it would take to prepare as many ordinary men.

They'll be ready when it comes. Expression of willingness to serve has been heard from the ranks of every branch of sports. They will be ready to serve. They could be turned into an unprecognized stimulus for recruiting. Doubtless if an attempt is made, he could organize that fell before him. Such an idea as he would be an attraction for every young athlete in the country.

If Willard's offer could be followed by every big star in all branches of sport it would mean a great deal to the government's preparation to help crush the knifer. They probably will be coming in.

AMERICANS GET BRAZIL'S ENTIRE COFFEE CROP

(United Press) RIO DE JANEIRO, April 19.—The next Brazilian coffee crop is estimated at between 12 and 13 million bags of 132 pounds each. The extraordinary feature about this crop is that about two thirds of these bags will be bought, sold, shipped or otherwise handled for the first time by American business interests represented at Brasilia. War and American enterprise constitute the reasons. The British blacklist, the shortage of shipping for European ports and financial support and the departure of Germans to their own country to fight opened the door for Americans to take the coffee business from the Germans.

RULE OF FASHION

Christ's Followers Admonished to "Be Not Fashioned According to This World"—Rom. 12:2.

"Most people want to be in fashion; or, perhaps it is more correct to say that most people are afraid to be out of fashion. The tyranny of fashion is the greatest despotism which the world knows. It enforces its dictates without any code of laws or any police to see that it is obeyed. It issues new commands every little while, for the fashion of the world changes. Sometimes it appears as if to change a little for the better; often we are certain that the change is for the worse.

The world upon which St. Paul looked was also a world of fashion. He saw the people of the cities of Athens, and Corinth, and Rome. The luxury and fashion of Rome have never been surpassed, not even at the present time. Paul is writing to the Christians in Rome, and he is thinking of the fashions of that world of fashion and luxury, and he says: "Be not conformed or fashioned," according to this world. "What did he have reference to? Did he mean that Christians should wear the clothes which were then in fashion? Perhaps he meant that partly. No doubt St. Paul objected to some of the fashions in clothing then, as I am certain he would object to some now.

Deeper Than Mere Clothes. But "fashion" goes a great deal deeper than that. There are fashions in speech, in deportment, in living, in conduct, in morals, and in religion; and he says to the Christians, "Be not conformed to them." It is in these deeper things that the influence of all human conduct and life that Paul refers when he says, "Be not fashioned according to this world."

When St. Paul lifted up his voice against the fashion of this world and admonished Christians to be separate from it, he was thinking of the imposing paganism which surrounded the early church. That paganism with the love of pleasure, its glorification of power, its imperial paganism, its idolatry, was the fashion of the world. Its seductive cities, cast its glamour over the Christian converts and tempted them away from their allegiance. The world into which Christianity was born was an unclean and a heathen world.

A Different World But the Same War. But surely the world has changed, and everything which was written for Christians in the first century does not apply to the world of today. But the spirit of society is no longer arrayed in open hostility against the ethics of Jesus Christ. His followers are still persecuted, but they are persecuted according to the fashion of former days, and it is not necessary to preach the separation from the world which was almost compulsory then. But that does not mean that there is no right Christian world today, or that Christians have no need to watch and pray. It only means that the war has changed its form, that it has become subtler, that there is no longer the clash of sword and battle-axe, but the unseen danger of the bullet and the shell. And so it may be harder to withstand the fashion of this world now than ever before, because its evils are not so notorious nor conspicuous. But a man need not go to the extent of participating in the world's open sins and vices. He is fashioned according to this world when he is so taken up with his property, his pursuits, his schemes, his employment, that he gives no time nor thought nor interest to spiritual things.

Be Ye Transformed. The apostle exhorts us to be "transformed." The same Greek word is used in describing the metamorphosis of our Lord. A transformed life is a transformed life. The inward life, if it is healthy and true and strong, will certainly shape the outward conduct and character. Just as truly as the physical life molds the face, so the spiritual life molds the character. We are not left in any doubt. "Be ye transformed; by the renewing of your mind." It is the work of the Holy Spirit. The change must come from within, and it must be a complete influence. It is all very well to correct outward habits, but to be lasting, to have any real value, the change must be the result of an inward grace. The Pharisees were most correct in their outward habits, and how they differed them to whitewashed sepulchers whose outwardly are clean, but within are full of rottenness.

The real secret of the transformed life is the transformed life, having its source in the heart, and flowing into every vein and artery of our being, until we shall be fashioned like the Son of Man.

Church's Glorious Privilege. It is the church's privilege and opportunity, as well as responsibility, to lead men to that God whom the Son of Man came to reveal as the Father; to preach the gospel of spiritual and social redemption in all the wonderful channels; to seek to all who will to the true Christian brotherhood, and thereby hasten the answer to the appointed prayer, "Thy Kingdom come."

BRAZIL SEARCHING FOR GERMAN BASE

Circumstantial Report Causes Government to Investigate Washings to Investigate the Case.

(United Press) RIO DE JANEIRO, April 19.—After numerous rumors and unconfirmed reports regarding naval bases and in have been established by German raiders and submarines on the coast of Brazil, what appears to be a reliable story of such a base has just reached this city. The story is vouchered for by Colonel Jose Maria da Silva, proprietor of a large plantation on the Rio Negro, which is said to have been the headquarters of several German ships at various times since the beginning of the war.

The Uta de Macara, is separated from the northern coast of Brazil by the Carapapani channel. Three of the German warships anchored in this channel for several days during the first-year of the war, and have used the hiding place several times since, the last time being during February this year.

He declared that fresh meat was furnished the ships by several cattle raisers, that the ships took water and made repairs. Tropical jungle climbs precipitous slopes of land so that ships' masts of funnels are completely obscured when the ship lies close to shore.

Colonel Silva reported that officers from the first German ships to use the hiding-place embarked in gasoline launches and made careful soundings of the channel and the entire neighborhood of the island, and that they made detailed maps from their observations.

With the publishing of Colonel Silva's statements the Brazilian cruisers Tymbra were dispatched to the scene to verify the story and protect Brazilian neutrality.

Reports indicating that the raiders are still active in the South Atlantic continue to arrive, the latest being a telegram from Belém, a city near the mouth of the Amazon, saying that a naval battle had been fought within sight of that city. The report stated that it was believed that the engagement was fought between the French cruiser Greydon and the German raider.

JAPANESE ELECTION

TO BE HELD FRIDAY

One Million Japanese to Cast Ballots—Consent of International Importance—Strict Laws Govern.

(United Press)
TOKIO, April 15.—One million Japanese—the approximate number who can vote in this country of 50,000,000 people—will go to the polls Friday to endorse or repudiate their government, the Japanese Ministry of the Interior announced today. The election is the epoch of the dissolution of the imperial Diet last January when Premier Tanaka, seeking the forces of the Kenseikai or Constitutional party aligned against him in the house of representatives, sent members of that body back to their homes before they had had time to introduce a want-of-confidence resolution against him. But even assuming that the Constitutional forces emerge victorious in today's battle of ballots, it does not necessarily mean the fall of the government, for early in the campaign Count Terauchi declared that he would again dissolve the Diet by a rescript from the Emperor if the latter should withhold its support from him and his policies.

Japan's elections in the past have not always been free from corruption. At the time of the election in March, 1916, penalties were imposed on 10,000 persons, so in order to keep the vote so close as possible the government issued the "Ten Commandments" were issued for the guidance of voters and candidates in the campaign.

1.—No bribery, no bribery, no bribery themselves.

2.—No money or article or checks shall be received as gifts by the voters.

3.—Voters shall not attend entertainments or receptions given by the candidates.

4.—No rifle, spear, sword, stoke or other dangerous weapons shall be carried about with a view of affecting the result of the election.

5.—No voter or election campaigner shall vote or engage in the campaign on promise of receiving appointments.

6.—On the way to and from election booths, the voters shall not be accompanied by the candidates with carriages, receive transportation expenses, or accept payments for tips and hotel charges.

7.—Voters shall not yield to the temptation of considerations regarding water, electricity, land, rents, loans, etc.

8.—Voters shall not be threatened, tempted, or deceived nor shall they be molested on their way to and from the polls.

No false rumors shall be circulated about the candidates for the purpose of obstructing their election.

9.—No crowd shall gather to beat drums, ring bells or hoist flags for the sake of demonstrations.

10.—Early in the campaign one Constitutional candidate for the house of representatives was arrested for violation of the election law, it was charged that he had given a banquet to the voters in his prefecture. This bit of hospitality was regarded as a bribe by the authorities.

ROAD BUILDING

PAYING FOR GOOD HIGHWAYS

Little Texas City Finds Merchants of Neighboring Towns. Cost Trade on Account of Roads.

Two years ago Rockdale, Tex., voted a bond issue for the construction of good roads in that neighborhood. The people indorsed the bond issue, but the certain interest caught it in the courts and the roads were never built. Now the citizens are working to secure the issuance of a much larger bond issue for the same purpose.

Neighboring towns and precincts have surrounded Rockdale with good roads to such an extent that the merchants of that little city are finding their trade leaving them to travel the better roads. As commerce follows the flag so does country trade follow the better roads, and the merchants of Rockdale know it now.

Every community in Texas that has spent money for improved highways has made a good investment. The only trouble has been that Texas taxpayers for the building of roads have lost too much of the cost to be paid by boys and girls now growing up and far too little is being paid by the men and women who are getting the larger part of the value of these roads.

The United States good roads experts have found from their investigations that it is not unusual for an investment in better roads to return to the taxpayers from 50 to 100 per cent profit each year on the total cost of the roads. With a profit so great on their invested capital it would seem the part of wisdom, and only fair, for the bonds to be retired by a less period than in the usual 20 or 30 years.—Houston Post.

RAISE FUNDS FOR HIGHWAYS

Important Savings Effected by Issuance of Bonds on Deferred Retirement Plan.

People of a county intending to raise funds for highway improvement would do well to consider the advantages to them of the deferred serial plan over the ordinary sinking fund plan of retiring long-term bonds. Under the serial plan, a certain amount of bonds is retired each year and the bonds so retired cease to be an interest charge on the community. Under the sinking fund plan none of the bonds is retireable until the end of a definite period, and the entire amount of interest for the entire life of the bond. The county, therefore, pays interest on the money so borrowed and in addition the same each year as a sinking fund.

Uncle Sam is Determined to Have Better Rural Highways.

ing fund an amount sufficient to retire the bonds when they become due. The sinking fund is a better plan than the ordinary sinking fund. This interest ordinarily is only 8 per cent, whereas the county has to pay 5 or 6 per cent to its bondholders. The serial plan is a much cheaper method of retiring money for road improvement, even when the sinking fund carries interest as high as 4 per cent, and in the opinion of the road specialists of the department of agriculture, should be utilized whenever it is possible, to market serial bonds.

$129,000,000 IS REQUIRED

Estimate Placed by Governor Dume for Improvement of Leading Highways of Illinois.

Needed improvement of leading roads of Illinois will require an outlay of $129,000,000, according to Governor Dume. Since the "Ice" law became effective July 1, 1913, Governor Dume says, the general assembly has appropriated a total of $3,700,000. The counties' contribution makes a total of $4,300,000 available for the state-aid roads to June 30, 1917. The state highway commission, in estimating the cost of the construction of the state system at $129,000,000, averages this outlay over twenty years.

Road and Bridge Cost. During 1915 the total road and bridge expenditures in the United States amounted to about $222,000,000, of which probably not over $15,000,000 was expended for the maintenance of the state and county labor.

Keeping Goats. A small flock of goats on many farms would pay as well as other farm stock. Goats are healthy animals and free from disease, and are cheaply kept on what most of the other farm stock would refuse to eat.

USE ELECTRICITY

Admiral Griffin Introduced Revolutionary Method of Propelling War Vessels.

(United Press)
WASHINGTON, April 15.—The United States Navy was the pioneer of all the world in introducing the electric drive for battleships. Now electric propulsion is universal. A few years will see the last of the coal-burning steamships.

The change is considered the most revolutionary of all modern naval development.

The man who accomplished it is Admiral Robert C. Griffin, engineer in chief of the U. S. Navy.

He is an expert of experts in anything pertaining to marine construction and is one of the veterans of the bureau he now commands.

The mechanical equipment of the great chain of radio stations which now link the United States with the Orient has been largely under the direction of Admiral Griffin. Through the trans-Pacific loop the Secretary of the Navy at his desk in Washington can communicate instantly with his commander of the Asiatic fleet, wherever it may happen to be.

The navy expects much more of Admiral Griffin's mechanical genius.

WOMEN PREPARE TO DRIVE WAR CARS

Take course in Auto Driving After Which They Expect to Offer Services and Cars to U. S.

(United Press)
WASHINGTON, April 15.—Batling automobiles and just ordinary domestic treated motrices are dabbling around in pools of grease and oil, these days, under moil automobiles learning the great art of chauffeurage as they will be able to "do something" when the country sounds the call to arms. Just drop into any garage in most any town and you will find a motrice acquiring around in the one-foot air space between the engine of an automobile and the ground. The work is being done by the Red Cross here and, according to reports pouring in to headquarters, it has spread like a wild-sweet fire throughout the country. When the women have completed their course they will offer their services to the War Department and a car thrown in.

Dr. H. R. Grooms, of Jewell City, Kansas, has come to the Twin Falls Veterinary Hospital. He has a family to make his home and has purchased the Twin Falls Veterinary hospital, at 432 Second avenue east, which he will conduct in the future. The following article relative to Dr. H. R. C. in the class of 1907, and by hard work and industry has made an old-fashioned brand of plain honesty, succeeded in building up an extra good practice, not only in this locality, but all over the county as well. Royal Baking Powder makes it possible to produce appetizing and wholesome cakes, muffins, cornbread, etc., with fewer eggs than are usually required.

In many recipes the number of eggs may be reduced and excellent results obtained by adding an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, for each egg omitted. The following tested recipe is a practical illustration:

SPONGE CAKE
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
2 eggs
1 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cold water
1 teaspoon flavoring

The old method called for 6 eggs and no baking powder

NAVAL REVOLT IN PERU IS BEING INVESTIGATED

(United Press)
LIMA, Peru, April 13.—Charges that a number of important officers were implicated in a plot for a naval revolt are under investigation by the Peruvian government today. The conspiracy is said to have been hatched in retaliation for the arrest of certain naval commanders. The ministry of marine gained an inkling of the situation and promptly dismantled the guns on the warships besides disabling the vessels' engines by removing essential parts of each of them which were locked up in the arsenal under heavy guard.

The Apple Pie that "showed me"

(Report No. 3) By a Missourian

I was raised in St. Louis, Missouri—on apple pie and other things.

When I arranged to have K— make apple pie with Cottolene, I wanted pie with wholesome flaky crust. I got it. I'll explain here how.

After K— had dried her hands, I had to argue to get her to follow the directions, to use one-third less of Cottolene than she would of other shortening. But soon K— said, "Cottolene certainly choppens in easy." When the dough was mixed she put it in the ice-box for a while. That suited me because K— said it helped to make the crust flaky.

Then she rolled the dough. By this time the oven was hot. I waited half an hour, hoping for flaky-crisped apple pie.

I was not disappointed. That was as good an apple pie as I ever tasted. The crust certainly was flaky, and the flavor was delicious. I was shown.

If you want to be shown, too, why don't you make a pie with Cottolene?

This is the recipe K— used for her pie crust: One and one-half cups flour; Half-teaspoon baking powder; Half teaspoon salt; Ice water.

NEXT TUESDAY'S ELECTION

It is never wise, nor even safe, for any voter, who is really interested in the outcome of an election, to neglect going to the polls upon the assumption that there is no real contest and everything is sure to go his way.

The foregoing sentence expresses an earnest and sincere warning to voters to go to the polls on Tuesday, April 24, 1917.

That such will be the result with the polls like general elections, and it is for the purpose of urging that very thing that these lines are written.

The TIMES has not, in this connection, any other plots to uncover, nor designs to depict. It is true that at an adjourned meeting of the city council, held only last evening, an ordinance was passed, under suspension, repealing the bond election ordinance and thus withdrawing the whole subject from the electorate at this time.

Dear Mother-of-Mine: Your letter has just come telling me that you have received Baby Betty's photographs and that they reached you without even a broken corner. However, I expected this, for the BISBEE STUDIO gave me such heavy durable packing, all cut just to fit the size of the folders. Mrs. Bisbee showed me the stock-room when I was down to the studio the last time and I was amazed to see the great rows of corrugated packing sheets laid tier upon tier across long racks. But I was more amazed when I found that not an inch of this material is for sale; it is given away - given in the true sense of the word - to any one who purchases Bisbee pictures and who asks for the packing paper. At no other studio I ever patronized was the mailing of photographs made so easy and safe and exact for me, but I see clearly that this is only one of the many unusual points of the Bisbee service. The Bisbee service - I have found it means a good deal. There is a little slip of parchment, delicate and firm with its slender throat of white silk, fastened upon each finished package and upon it are engraved five words: "Made at The Bisbee Studio." The five words are sufficient. "Made at The Bisbee Studio." - The result of Bisbee service, the product of painstaking care, of thorough work, the product of skill, the product of thought. Do write as often as you can, Mother; your letters are next best to a visit with you. I'm enclosing my new recipe for chocolate icing; try it - it's fine. Lovingly, Ruth.

Work on E. H. Johnson Building - Work commenced this week on the extension, improvement and repairs on the Johnson building on Main street. It is understood that this structure will be occupied by Mrs. Barbara of Boise in its completion. For The Red Cross - At the high school auditorium, next Thursday evening, April 19, a cast of interested amateurs will present "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." We are assured that this program will be worth hearing. In addition to the drama, a number of food materials have been ordered for services for the occasion. The performance has been initiated by Mr. W. F. Elks Entertain W. Wallis - Most satisfactory and enjoyable in every way was the dinner party given at 8:30 o'clock on Tuesday evening, by C. J. Hahn, district deputy grand, exalted ruler, B. P. O. E. in honor of William Wallis of Idaho. Besides the guests of honor were H. E. Deles, present exalted ruler of the local Elks lodge, and the following past exalted rulers - R. H. Smith, J. L. Booth, H. J. Macauley and V. H. Ormsby. Places were also set for two other past exalted rulers who were unable to be present, namely, J. L. Booth, now in Vermont and A. N. Sprague, who was in Jarbridge. The Hahn home was beautifully decorated in the national colors. The dinner table was especially attractive in the lodge colors, purple and white. On a large purple and white centerpiece stood a candelabra with the white candles wrapped with purple ribbon. As the guests assembled at the table the national hymn was played and a musical program was given during the serving of the dinner. Mrs. J. E. Hartigan assisted Mrs. Hahn in serving the delicious five course dinner. Mr. Wallis, besides being past district deputy exalted ruler of the Elks lodge, is grand scribe of the Royal Arch Masons and was in Twin Falls on business for that lodge, representing T. M. Coping Stirling Again - That the job of a treasurer is no sinecure such as would appear to the victims of bookworms is the opinion expressed in a questionnaire by County Treasurer Harvey Coggins, who was recently in a pleasant attitude after collecting the regular taxes. Coggins was rudely awakened from the dreamland of the lotus-eaters through the activities of County Assessor George W. Wilcox, who just couldn't bear to see a delinquent official having a good time. In the coin for auto licenses and unlike the legendary politician, letting it go again. He insisted on Coggins going to noon yesterday over $17,500 in licenses, a contractor from more than 1000 auto owners, had been turned in. If the roads are passable to the north, more than 1200 licenses will have been paid by Saturday night and the rest next week. It is thought that the total collection will amount to $20,000. Swain's Writs - C. M. Lauerent is in the hands of the law on account of interference with justice arising within the bosom of the blacksmithing firm in which he is associated with James Wallis, near the city fire station. The trouble arose over the settlement of accounts incident to a proposed dissolution of partnership. How the thing started and progressed will doubtless be fully and minutely explained in the probate court tomorrow morning, but the outstanding score is that Writts was "worsted." The question of Writts' liability for "the hot end of the poker," which was won after his extraction from the fire it is said that Writts was struck by the fact that he is supposed to be "strike while the iron is hot." It is said that Writts is unconquered over an hour. However, he was sent to noon yesterday afternoon and swore to a complaint.

Important Live Stock Conference Secretary of States Board and Dr. Sullivan Discusses Plans For Fighting Cholera - None Here Now. William Winchell, secretary of the Idaho State Live Stock Sanitary board was in Twin Falls this week consulting with Dr. W. A. Sullivan, head of the Twin Falls department of the U. S. bureau of animal industry. Winchell's conference was in connection with the campaign for the elimination of hog cholera which was planned at the meeting of the board at Boise, Idaho, on July 1. The board will be made in infected districts along the line which proved so successful in eliminating the disease in the Twin Falls section of the farm bureau of southern Idaho. There will be free lectures and demonstrations in freecleaning the animals, and organizations concerned with the forms. The congressional appropriation for the work is about the same as last year and is believed that the plans for Twin Falls will be carried out successfully in this state and that it may be possible to extend activities into districts not seriously affected, and beyond points where it has heretofore been possible. Daniel Ruby of Caldwell is the new president of the state sanitary board and William Winchell, of Soda Springs, the secretary. Speaking of the local situation on the track, Dr. Sullivan said yesterday that notwithstanding the elimination of the disease, in order to be sure that it would not recur he urged all hog raisers to take care of sanitary conditions on their farms and in the event that any sickness should appear they should notify either the bureau of animal industry at the county office, or the head office of the farm bureau in order that the trouble might be diagnosed at once.

Sections made at a previous meeting, the placing of sidewalks in front of his property on Togo street and Third Avenue east. He claimed that certain legal formalities with reference to the particular sidewalk in question had not been observed. The matter was referred to City Engineer James A. Bybee. The question of creating a park at the Bleckel school house was taken up. The citizens declared that they were ready for action if the city would furnish water and put in a light. It was voted to furnish the light and four taps with free water. The citizens will look after the park. Nyers & Kinney asked $50 for typewriting work done to date on codification of city ordinances and got it. Plumbing Inspector Murray made several recommendations bearing on the details of putting in sewers, which were referred to the proper committee. Street Commissioner W. F. Porter was ordered to put in a flume in front of the Home Lumber company. The sprinkling ordinance and the ordinance creating a sidewalk district were passed. REPORTERS PRAISE AMERICAN CENSOR

Sign Letter Commending Fairness of Major McArthur Who Has Scanned The War News.

(United Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 19.—From this moment on the news censor has been "cussed" by the newspaper men. Cases when his work has been appreciated are so rare as to be well worth recording.
Twenty-five Washington newspaper men on the state, war and navy "run" recently wrote a letter to Secretary of War Baker in appreciation of the services of Major Douglas McArthur, the official war department censor. The letter, praising the "unfailing kindness, patience and wise counsel" of the major, bears the autograph of the twenty-nine men.
Secretary Baker, who has found Major McArthur invaluable as an adviser and aid, expressed a wish that the letter might be manifested and distributed broadcast as a proof that real service is appreciated, even though it may come from a news censor.

The 1917 Message to Ford Car Owners

GOODRICH 375 SIZE (31x3 1/4 INCHES) 375 BLACK SAFETY-TREAD TIRES

HERE is the BIG News of the YEAR for the owners of Ford Automobiles.

The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, having centered its 48 years' experience and knowledge directly on the problem of making the best tire for the Ford Automobile, has brought forth a tire that fulfills the special needs of the Ford Automobile, and doubles its virtues.

It is the tire for which Ford drivers have been waiting—a Ford car tire of HEROIC SIZE.

GOODRICH "Three-Seventy-Five"

This husky tire of Super-size and Super-strength lifts the Ford car to the sum-total of perfection.

Generous in rubber and fabric, it is a 31-inch by 3 1/4 inch tire, built with the regular five finger Black Safety Tread to fit 30-inch rims on a Ford car.

That extra inch on the circumference and full three-quarter inch in the cross-section are just what the Ford car tire needed.

Treat your car to longer life and yourself to more enjoyment of the car by asking your dealer for the Ford Car Tire of HEROIC SIZE, Goodrich's THREE-SEVENTY-FIVE.
