BY FRANK GETTY (United Press Staff Correspondent) LONDON, May 17.—A tale of German intrigue reaching into the inner circles of the Vatican, involving the flight of Cardinal Gerlach from Italy, the cracking of a safe in the secret headquarters of the German Embassy at Vienna, the mysterious escape from prison of Italy's two most notorious criminals, was told for the first time today to the United Press.

(United Press) PETERSBURG, May 17.—Russia has evidently passed the crisis of her political sickness and has started on the road to convalescence. The differences which existed between the duma and the soldiers' and workers' council are melting away, the work of forming a cabinet which seems certain to satisfy all factions is continued.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON'S MEMORY

The British and French war commissioners, together with cabinet ministers and army and navy officers, visited the tomb of Washington at Mt. Vernon and paid tribute to the memory of the first president. The illustration shows the tomb decorated and surrounded by the crowd, and, at the left, Marshal Joffre within the gate saluting Washington's tomb.

You Can Make Excellent Cake with Fewer Eggs

Just use an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon-in-place-of-each-egg omitted.

This applies equally well to nearly all baked foods. Try the following recipe according to the new way.

CREAM LAYER CAKE

Old Way

- 1 cup sugar
1 cup milk
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
2 EGGS
1/2 cup shortening
1 teaspoon flavoring

New Way

- 1 cup sugar
1 cup milk
2 cups flour
2 1/2 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 EGGS
1/2 cup shortening
1 teaspoon flavoring

Makes 1 Large 2-Layer Cake

DIRECTIONS—Cream the sugar and shortening together, then mix in the eggs. After adding the flour and Royal Baking Powder mix three times. Add it all to the mixture. Gradually add the milk and beat with spoon until you have a smooth sour batter. Add the flavoring, pour into greased and leveled tin and bake in a moderate hot oven for twenty minutes. This cake is best baked in two layers. Fill the center with creaming and spread with white icing.

Now Mother says "You're right"

(Report No. 5) By Daughter who managed the fried chicken. Mother had always fried chicken in butter. I heard that Cottolene would fry chicken tender and sweet, and asked her to try it. After some coaxing (because Mother thinks her own cooking ways are best) she agreed to fry half-a-chicken in butter and half in Cottolene.

Chicken, to suit us, must be tender and nicely browned.

We cut the chicken in several pieces (noting on a slip of paper which parts were to be fried in Cottolene).

In the midst of it a girl neighbor came in to take mother to the movies. She was interested in watching our experiment.

The butter-fried and Cottolene-fried chicken were served on one plate. After tasting, Mother said the piece she got was as tender as butter. "Tender as if fried in butter," I corrected, "because that nice, tender piece was fried in Cottolene."

And Mother was thus shown that wholesome Cottolene fries chicken deliciously tender. Have you tried it?

HOUSE PETERS EXPERT ON INFEASIBLE PARALYSIS

House Peters, of the Piler-Paradise star, who will be seen co-starring with Myrtle Stedman at the Idaho theatre on Friday and Saturday, in the production of Lois Zolner's thrilling photodrama, "As Men Love," is now an authority of inflexible paralysis.

Mr. Peters had information concerning this dread disease, thrust upon him. It was necessary during the taking of the picture for him to test a child to see if he was stricken with paralysis.

In order to be able to present this in a manner which would not draw forth criticism from physicians, Mr. Peters induced a physician friend to take him to visit a paralysis case and there carefully watched the doctor's method of procedure.

The physician friend enthusiastically into the instruction of Mr. Peters and supplied the star with books on the subject which he compelled him to read, much to Mr. Peters' disgust.

His fond parents, never suspecting in those days that their hopeful son was destined to become one of the highest-salaried funmakers the world will ever know, had their minds set on his following a musical career. BURNING UP FOOD. Every few days one reads in some newspaper that a car of potatoes on some remote side-track has been burned, or that a grain warehouse has been destroyed by fire. All accidental, of course.

It will strike lots of people that car loads of potatoes are too valuable property to be left alone on remote sidings. There are people among the potato growers who are interested in having these potatoes destroyed.

Also a grain elevator in a part of our military preparation. There should be means used all these car-purses of foods under present conditions.

In some places officers are guarding public buildings. The destruction of which would not be the least military advantage to our enemies. Meanwhile the food stocks on which our national safety depends are left

CAPTAIN HOBSON THINKS WE SHOULD SEE TO IT THAT WE GET ALL LEGITIMATE EUROPEAN NEWS

AVERS WE ARE DECEIVED BY FALSE NEWS FROM ABROAD

News Issue Is to Prevent Germany From Mistrusting Peace and We Must Understand Just What We Are Called on to Do.

By Richmond P. Hobson, Naval Expert and Former Member of Congress.

International News Service, EVANSTON, Ill., May 12.—This war which we have entered for democracy against autocracy should be made the people's war in deed and in truth. No real good has come to any belligerent abroad—not even to Germany—from the censorship policy of suppressing unpleasant information to deceive the people. On the contrary,

2 Drops Do the Work, Painlessly.

It's the new way—the corn-removing, simple, sure way. "Gels-It" is sold everywhere in a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by R. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

untold harm has resulted, with danger of popular upheavals everywhere. Japan inaugurated the policy of complete censorship in war. The other nations have copied her policy blindly, without taking into account the fundamental differences in the people of the races involved. What might be advisable in a military monarchy might entail serious disadvantages in a democracy. Congress ought to enact strong and adequate supplementary measures to protect military and state secrets, but that should be all. Our government is not a thief or murderer to shun the light. It is simply the instrument of a great people seeking even at heavy cost and sacrifice to advance the cause of righteousness in the world. Should Discuss Events and Policies Freely. The press is the only agency by which the people can be informed and ought to be free to tell the news, and the people should freely discuss events and policies. Self-interest as well as patriotism insure co-operation with the government in all legitimate measures to protect military secrets. Has the government has occasion to complain this far? Has the press not consistently and gladly refrained from reporting the "movement" of troops, the movement of naval vessels, sailing of merchant vessels, the movement of the foreign commission? My advice would be to strengthen the spy act and give the government more power and authority to protect military and state secrets, but to allow entire freedom of discussion and of the press. Otherwise we shall suffer some of the serious injuries experienced abroad by the European governments in hastily copying the Oriental policy. We have just escaped one great danger. Our people, like the British, were being lulled into the feeling that all was going well with the allies, that Germany was on the verge of collapse, that American troops would never go abroad, that we were entering the war just in time to take part in the peace negotiations. Censorship Would Have Defeated Conception. If this had continued, the conscription bill would have been defeated. But, fortunately, there was no censorship bill, no gag law in force. The press could tell the truth. The commission from abroad frankly told our press that the allied armies were hard pressed from tremendous losses, that the U-boat campaign was seriously threatening control of the sea and the food supply of the United Kingdom, that Russia for military purposes was practically lost on account of internal anarchy and that grave responsibilities to have democracy now rested on America. It is going to war for the principle of people's rights, we must not stifle our suspending constitutional government. No alleged military necessity can justify such a reactionary and destructive course. Thomas Jefferson plainly stated his convictions. If he had to choose for the country a government without freedom of the press, or a government without freedom of the press without a government, he would, unhesitatingly choose the latter. EVEN IN 1863 FREEDOM OF PRESS Prevailed. Never yet was America suspended the freedom of the press, even in direct distress of war, not even in 1863, when the nation's life was hanging upon military operation. Let us be true to democracy at home as we draw the sword to fight for democracy abroad. The recent change of policy in British censorship only after America had declared war shows clearly that the controlling authorities of the allies distrusted the American people as they distrusted their own people. Evidently those authorities feared America might decline to enter the war if the people of America knew the truth as to the military situation. So for months before our declaration of war have been regaled with stories of the overthrow of the autocracy of Russia, meaning a strengthening of Russia's military power and an increase of the military allies, while the authorities know perfectly well that only demoralization had followed, with the probable elimination of Russia as a serious factor. They described the U-boat operation as falling when they knew it was gaining and already menaced England's control of the sea and endangered the cause of the allies. They portrayed the advances of the allied armies of unbroken victories, giving in detail the German losses and producing an impression upon the American people that the end of the war was near. Americans Deceived by Censored War News. Even after the arrival of the commissions a high authority gave out the statement that what the allies chiefly desired of America was money, supplies and shipping. When it was discovered by the slow enlightens and the threatened defeat of universal service by congress that the deception of the American people and produced a letter and endorsed the war plans, then and only then was the censorship raised and the American people were suddenly informed that we must not only bear the main financial burden but also in the end the brunt of the fighting. It will have to be confessed that the American people have been in the hands of the British censor from the beginning of the war about as much as the British people themselves. I don't doubt that at various times real facts were disclosed confidentially to our government, but in such a way that our government could not disclose them to the people. I don't doubt that recently the seriousness of the U-boat menace and of the critical situation of the allies generally was made known to the President and caused him to take immediate action in advance of any "new" overt act to hasten America's entry into the war. Whether the British authorities have decided definitely to change their censorship policy toward the British people or not, now that America has entered the war, we have a right to demand that they relinquish control over the news to America. We are not entering the war in order to dictate the peace ourselves, but we are entering the war so that Germany may not dictate the peace. We recognize in the war the mighty struggle between autocracy built upon militarism and democracy built upon industrialism. We are perfectly willing to allow the outcome between autocracy and democracy to be settled by organic forces in peaceful competition, based on under the simple principles of justice as embodied in our Monroe Doctrine and open door policy, namely, respect for the rights of the weak nations, and equal opportunities, and no favor for any nation in seeking the world's wealth and commerce. As we enter the war let Germany and the whole world understand that the war takes on a new phase; that we do not ask to take part in dictating peace terms to Germany and we resolve, by God's help, never to permit Germany to dictate peace terms to the world. Our government should insist on having American representatives among the consors, to govern news to America in accord with our institutions. It would be a service of fundamental importance to the cause of democracy in the great war were reforms in the whole censorship system of the allies. It is in the membership of the board at the front and in England and reform in its general policy to that news truth might be given to all, the whole truth, nothing but the truth. Let us have the losses on our own

"We expect to erect a garage which will be second to none in the intermediate country," said C. E. Lind, president of the Lind Automobile company yesterday, referring to the splendid new structure on Second avenue east, between Shoshone and Second streets east on which the North Pacific Construction company began work today. "We expect to put up a building of which the people of Twin Falls will be proud for years to come," he continued, "and one, which will serve the comfort and convenience of our patrons." "The new structure will be 118-1-2 by 125 feet in dimensions and will be of modern fire-proof, wire-glass, with white terra cotta front. An illuminated clock over each doorway will illuminate the heated motor to tell the time at night, and will be a symbol of one of the characteristics of the building—six light." "The glass walls of the structure and the alley on the side and in the rear insure plenty of light. As if this were not enough, the sawtooth roof such as is used for that purpose in factories, precludes all possibility of darkness during the day. Through a special hardening process, the floor is prepared for flushing so that sweeping will be eliminated and the raising of dust will be avoided. The building will be constructed so as to avoid the prevailing winds and thus preclude the possibility of the place being filled with dust during the occasional wind storms. The garage will be as nearly fire-proof as it is possible to make it. The glass is not only specially constructed with this object in view but the sashes are all steel and there is not a particle of wood exposed in the structure. There will be no oil or gasoline of any kind kept in the place. Lubricating oil will be buried in a tank outside and underneath the ground, so that it can be forced up with air pressure, insuring a steady supply winter and summer. So much for the details of light and safety. The building will have a capacity of 160 cars; in six rows, besides the cars on display in the show room. The show room will be thirty-five by forty feet in size and will have a mosaic tile floor and beam ceiling. There will be an accessory room twenty by forty feet in size and a shop fifty by sixty feet in dimensions. The shop will contain a continuous pit, which will take care of eight cars at one time. The cars are run out on iron beams over a drop floor room, devised specially by Fred Helfrecht, which enables the workman to clean the cars without stooping and without hoisting the car. This is the first device of the kind in use anywhere. Lockers for mechanics' clothes will be put in for the convenience of the workers. The latest accessories in the way of cleaning, repairing and supplying tires and all the needs of the cars will be on hand, and as usual, skilled workmen will be ready at all times when needed. Arrangements for washing two cars at a time are made. The hot-water-heating system will be installed, with radiators eight feet above the floor so that heat cannot come directly in touch with any part of the cars, thus avoiding rubber deterioration. The fires kept on hand will be in a cool dark basement. The office and a commodious and comfortable ladies' restroom constructed for convenience and easy accessibility are features which if it is felt will appeal to the traveling public. The building will be ready for use September 1.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Long Time to Sober—Mearns... of Buhl was sentenced to sixty days Wednesday by Probate Judge O. P. Duvall on the charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Charged With Misdemeanor—William E. Schaeffer who lives out on the desert, was arrested yesterday, charged with having drunk along a buried for more than twenty-four hours.

Motored to Boise—Lawrence L. Rogers and his mother motored to Boise last Sunday, to spend a few days with friends and to attend to business matters. They expect to return sometime this week.

County Buys Coal—The county commissioners yesterday purchased 100 tons of mine run coal each from Strobridge & Hump and from the Nibley Channel Fuel company. The price was $7.10 a ton delivered.

Not Yet in Position—W. F. Brewer of Hansen, who has been appointed and sworn in as a commissioner on the Boise-Alberca, has not yet taken his place, but has been around with the county commissioners on the several trips.

Old and Horse Fall—While starting on a horseback ride with friends yesterday morning, a girl who is employed in the Rogers cafe suffered a severe shaking up, when the animal on which she was mounted fell on the pavement at the corner of Main avenue and Fourth street. No bones were broken, however.

Operate Under New Plan—The plans for closer and more effective co-operation between the state live stock sanitary board and the United States bureau of animal industry, submitted by Dr. W. A. Sullivan at a conference in Boise last week, are already in operation and new notices of inspection and reports of disease have been issued. Educational work and organization will be systematically pursued.

Memorial Day—Plans have been made and are now being worked out for the proper observance in Twin Falls of Wednesday, May 30, as Memorial Day—a day with renewed and greater significance than ever at the present moment. For this reason it has been taken up by the Commercial club, which is giving to the local post of the G. A. R.—now feeble both in members and by virtue of the years, its active co-operation. General George H. Roberts, of Boise, will deliver the address, and the local civic societies will be invited to participate. Full programs will be published next week.

Buhl Man Wanted—Deputy Sheriff W. G. Thompson returned from a trip to Brigham, Utah, with Fred Hamilton of Buhl, who was arrested on a charge connected with the alleged purchasing of cattle from the Skillern ranch a couple of weeks ago.

Wants Stock Transferred—Helen Black Perrine has brought action to compel the Twin Falls Canal company to deliver sixty shares of stock purchased by her from the Crystal Springs Orchard company, which she alleges owned and sold to her. The stock is being withheld without reason.

Appoints New Deputy—Clarence L. Roberts has been appointed assistant County Auditor & Finch and will have charge of the work of the disbursement court in which he is particularly interested. He is also acting as having been court stenographer under County Attorney John T. Davies.

Memorial Sunday—The usual Sunday Memorial service, arranged for and by the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic and the auxiliary organization of the G. A. R., will be held at eleven o'clock on Sunday, May 27, in the Baptist church, sermon by the pastor, Rev. Orvis T. Anderson.

Many Bridges Shaky—This thaw early this week started the creeks and streams all over the county and many are overflowing. Several bridges in the west end of the county were out of danger. The bridge at the Hot Hole near the Nevada line was the subject of considerable attention as its safety was endangered.

Lincoln Was Ahead—The Lincoln school was ahead in the contribution of potatoes for associated charities. The management of associated charities feels very grateful for the generous response from public of seed potatoes. The Lincoln school collected four sacks and the others something over three each.

Demand For Men Grows—The demand for men again slightly exceeds the supply. A large number in this city, according to the report of City Clerk Minkley today, at the Twin Falls County Farm bureau, the report was received that there was more of a demand for single men and teams than there was supply, but that there was a surplus of men and wives seeking positions.

School Playground—The city school board, at its meeting last night, purchased and decided to purchase two acres of land adjoining the present small grounds of a Washington school. This will make a fine play ground, which was much needed for the little folks in that school, who are all sixth grade and under. They will no longer be obliged to play upon the much traveled streets that pass upon either side.

G. A. R. Ladies Meet—The Ladies of the G. A. R. will hold a tea at the home of Mrs. Paul Smith on Second avenue west, next Saturday afternoon.

Grand Matron Confers—The Grand Matron, Mrs. Stella H. Van Ripper, of the Grand Chapter of Idaho, O. E. S., will call on the Grand Chapter of Idaho, May 22, in Masonic Temple at 8 p. m.

New Military Store—E. F. Watson, who has for some years conducted a military store in Buhl, has decided to open up a large establishment here, and has leased the rooms downstairs in the Addison Smith block on the corner of Shoshone street and Third avenue south. The store will be open July 15.

Shoshone K. of P. Here—The Shoshone Knights of Pythias came here in a body in cars Tuesday night bringing with them the trophy cup won by the Twin Falls team, April 10. The delegation said that they expected to get the cup back next time, but the Twin Falls team announced that they would retain it permanently. A big banquet and a general good time was enjoyed.

New Assessors—In order to get the agricultural data demanded by the state law in time, County Assessor George W. Wilcox has appointed two extra deputies, A. J. Mills of Buhl, and John W. Pritch of Florio, to help collect the information. Claude Stewart, who has bought an interest in the Fidelity Abstract company, will remain with the county assessor's office until all the taxes are cleared.

Court Notes for Day—The case of Oliver Schoenover has been set for 10 o'clock May 22 and the case of Clara Dunn for the same day and hour. The suits against John Pondellier and William Garber are both set for May 22, 10 o'clock, and that of W. S. Sims for the following morning at the same hour. John Walker and George McCollum have a plea of guilty that they are charged with illegal possession and will be sentenced this afternoon. McCollum has another claim to distinction, being one of the few men now living north of the Mason and Dixon line who were shot by George Washington. This last case is being argued by the county assessor, George McCollum, at Rogerson some months ago and later being released.

Great Flag Raising Event—A "four decker heading" is fully deserved by the event here hastily chronicled—because for the reason that it only occurred about an hour before this paper went to press. Reference is had to the raising of a flag upon one of the fine fire proof buildings recently erected by the school board before the Washington, Lincoln and Bickel. And although a very nice ceremony was had at each place, it was not what was done or said there by others, but the part taken by the children—the latest shown and the lesson learned, that makes the event a great one. At each school the program was the same. The school by marching out and assembling about the flag pole in a body, the splendid high school band played the "Star Spangled Banner" and the "March of the Minutemen" favored school boys, slowly rose to the peak; the flag salute was given in unison; Superintendent Bickel read the announcements and introductions; a brief speech was made; and a flag for inside decoration was presented by some member of the school board to each school through two selected pupils. This latter was one of the major items. It required forty-one flags and the program committee that bore each flag to the school represented quickly unfolded them and carried them to the head as they returned to the school room. Mr. C. M. Booth made an exceedingly appropriate and effective address at the Washington school. Mr. F. Stophan did the same thing at the Bickel and Mr. C. L. Longley talked for a few minutes at the Lincoln.

SALMON-SETTLERS AWARDED

AND ONE WHICH IN MANY RESPECTS IS IDENTICAL WITH THE ONE FIRST DISCUSSED, but which covers the point just mentioned, is that a right was contemplated sufficient to enable the settler to receive water at a rate not exceeding that of a second foot per acre continuously during the season of actual irrigation needs, the amount of which the parties stipulated should be not less than two and three-fourths acre feet, and this view I am inclined to adopt. This view which Judge Detrick held to be in many respects and in the one which he adopted, in the view which the circuit court has just taken.

This decision rejects the theory which places all the blame on the company. The court says: "The construction company, the settlers and the parties who furnished the money for the building of the system, receiving therefor the liens, authorized both by congress and state are therefore, and are to be regarded with full knowledge of the laws and provisions of the contracts."

Likewise, the court exonerates the company from the charge of fraud. It says: "There is in the record no evidence even tending to show any fraud on the part of anyone connected with the undertaking and, in fact, as concerns the construction company, a compensation for the responsibility assumed by it and the efforts, good or bad, to carry out the success of the enterprise; so, too, in respect to those who furnished money with the understanding and in reliance on the money loaned depended on its success."

On the other hand, the contention in favor of the participation of the state, under the act of congress in the transaction, in any way permitted the issuance of patents by the state, and the contract of the satisfactory proof should be furnished that sufficient water was available for the irrigation of the lands according to law. Then, the reasonable application of the law, under the decision would seem to be that the company should be held liable for the failure to deliver a certain amount of water per acre up to the point where the lands should be sufficiently irrigated and no more. The court says: "The contract of the construction company cannot, in our opinion, be held to convey to the settlers a right to more water than can be beneficially applied to the land agreed to be conveyed to them."

"That we cannot at all agree to the contention of the part of the appellants that no specific amount of water was sold to the settlers; for turning to the contract it is seen that the construction company did, by paragraphs IV, VIII, and X of its contract with the state, in fact, expressly promise and agree that the water rights of the respective settlers should be one hundredth of a second foot per acre for each acre of land to be irrigated and by the contract made with the settlers it distinctly agreed that their respective water rights should be that specific amount, the certificate of stock in its holding and operating company—the Canal company—delivered to such settlers expressly declaring that it entitled the settlers to receive one hundredth of a cubic foot of water per acre per second of time for the irrigation of his land, and the water company, based upon the proportionate interest in the dam, canal, water rights, and all other rights and franchises of the Twin Falls Salmon Irrigation and Water company, based upon the number of shares finally sold in accordance with the said contract between the said company and the state of Idaho."

"We therefore regard it as clear that the water rights the respective settlers are entitled to under the terms of the contract. Mr. F. Stophan is one hundredth of a cubic foot of water per acre per second of time during the irrigating season, with an incidental proportionate interest in the dam, canal, water rights, and all other rights and franchises of the construction company, based upon the number of shares finally sold in accordance with the contract between that company and the state; such amount to be measured to the users, as it is expressly declared in Paragraph X of the contract between the state and the construction company (during the time the latter retained control of the canal company) 'at the main laterals of such irrigation system in such quantities and at such times as in the condition of the crops and the weather may determine but according to such rules and regulations, based upon a system of distribution of water to the irrigators in turn and by rotation, as will best protect and serve the interest of all in the canal system.'"

What the outcome of the case is to be, since the representatives of both sides here decline to make a statement, at this time, it may be surmised that the matter will be taken up in court again with a view of securing the enforcement of the rights of the parties as interpreted by the circuit court. While the order preventing the company from collecting for the water furnished, until the fourth day of next month, should be available, with the reversal of the decision on which it was based, it would seem clear that the company will be stopped from collecting until it conforms to the requirements of the decision of the higher court. It is considered likely here that the case will be reopened under the new instruction and that the court will determine the amount of water which the company can furnish on an ordinary year, for distribution among holders of contracts, at the rate of one hundredth second foot per acre. The court will also probably be required to determine the beneficial use of water on the project; that is, the amount required during an ordinary year for all crops to be raised, and to determine how many of the contracts with the settlers can be performed.

The decision may have a far-reaching effect on the situation, but the full extent of it cannot be determined at this time.

Mother Mine:

I have given an order to The Bisebe Studio to make an enlargement of little Emily's photograph—the one she calls her "bread and milk picture"—for the space right above your machine in the sewing-room. Emily truly did enjoy the funny bowl with its story-pictures upon it and isn't the way she lifts the spoon to her lips adorable? She likes this the best of any of her pictures, she often tells me; then again, though she is but four years old, she exercises her woman's privilege of changing her notion, and she will say just as firmly that she likes her "parasol picture" best.

Mrs. Bisebe gave her a bewitching little parasol to play with—and many were the stately walks and turns our Emily introduced—and the best of it all is that Mr. Bisebe snapped the shutter at the most engaging moment. Emily is so delighted with this print, she says she looks like "a grown-up lady."

Mrs. Bisebe showed me a lovely matt green pottery vase, tall with lines plain and beautiful which had been ordered especially for Commencement sittings. "Will it not be splendid for the girl's flowers," she asked; "it photographs very well too; the girls in their pretty white dresses are always good subjects for home-effect portraits. Already we have a number of Commencement appointments, some from out of town, and each year we like the Commencement work better; it has its own special charm with the promise and enthusiasm of youth plainly written on each face."

Just think, Mother, some day little Emily will be finishing High School. I need only to close my eyes and look ahead a bit to see her; if do hope flounces will be in style then—she would be a darling in embroidered flaxon. No doubt, though, that is planning too much in detail for this early date.

Good-bye for this time,
Your loving daughter, Ruth,

Revealing the Season's Greatest Economies in our May White Week, STARTS SATURDAY

WE HAVE ASSEMBLED FOR THIS WEEK OF WHITE THE GREATEST LINE OF WHITE THINGS-TO-WEAR AND WHITE THINGS TO MAKE UP WE HAVE EVER GOTTEN TOGETHER AND WE PREPARED FOR THIS MONTHS AGO WHEN WE PLACED ORDERS BEFORE THE SEVERAL RECENT ADVANCES THAT HAVE BEEN PLACED ON THESE LINES, INCLUDING LINGERIE, CORSETS, BRASSIERES, LACES, EMBROIDERIES, NECKWEAR, WAISTS, WASH GOODS, AND VARIOUS OTHER GOODS. THESE GOODS ARE NOW OFFERED TO OUR CUSTOMERS AT PRICES BASED ON THE OLD PRICES AND IN MANY CASES THEY ARE LOWER THAN WHOLESALE PRICES. WE ARE PROUD TO BE ABLE TO DO THIS—FEELING THAT THIS IS STORE SERVICE OF THE APPRECIABLE KIND.

Hundreds of Fresh, Crisp Undermuslins

In the newest design and of those beautiful, snowy white fabrics have been assembled for this WEEK OF WHITE. With cotton goods at their present high price your cost of materials in many cases would equal the price of the made-ups. They are very tastily trimmed and designs unusual.

GOWNS, ENVELOPES, COMBINATIONS, SKIRTS and all the wanted undergarments for summer.

HAND MADE PHILIPPINES UNDERWEAR.

These come principally in gown and chemise and are wonderful. You can buy gowns at $1.50 that are hand embroidered. You can hardly believe it and they would be cheap under old conditions.

White Goods for Summer—Here In Profusion

Never have we shown so complete an assortment from the finest, lightest white French Organdy to the heavy white skirting and suiting that is so good and every piece bought before the raises that have been heavy.

FOR 35c. This includes Flaxons in pretty self patterns and organdies and voiles in the 1917 effects.

FOR 50c and 75c and up we never saw prettier patterns nor better values.

TURKISH TOWELS

Have gone out of sight in price and that is one thing that makes—our—large stock such good values. You can have the colored effects too. Get your supply now.

THERE'S A CORSET FOR EVERY FIGURE

And its either a GOS-SARD or a BON-TON and its at BOOTH'S STORE. The first requisite is fit and comfort and then looks and wear and those are the kind we name and then the price is no more than ordinary corsets that are made to get your money only. The new spring models have the low bust and a long skirt to cover and hold the fleshy part of the hip. They give comfort and style to the figure.

ROYAL WORCES-TERS come at $1.25 to $2.50 and BON-TONS at $1.50 and GOS-SARDS at $2.50 up. Don't buy a corset at all till you try one of these new models in these better makes that cost no more.

A Season of Lace and Embroidery

There never has been a season that we have been able to give such excellent values in laces and of the pretty and substantial kind and this is going to be a lace and embroidery season and you will need yards and yards.

THOSE-6c LACES

Are simply wonderful coming in the dainty Armenian edges and French vals and the plait vals from the very narrow and including laces up to about one inch wide and they are fine not coarse and wash well. Many of them from the famous Zion factories.

AT 12 1-2c.

Laces are here that are about like you've been used to buying at 20c to 25c and include French vals and plait vals.

FILLET LACES AT 10c AND 20c. Just as pretty as they can be—10c ones from about one inch to two inches and 20c ones up to about four inches wide and inserts to match. They are very much the vogue and your supply should be secured now.

PICO EDGES AND FINE TORCHONS

For dresses and underwear are here at the most reasonable prices and some Maltese patterns at 7 1-2 yd run up to about 1 1-2 inch width.

EMBROIDERIES FROM SWITZERLAND

Another lot of those excellent 1 1-2 yard pieces of the finest embroideries at 75c per piece. They are of organdy, swiss and emburic and have that very substantial edge you are always looking for and set that has a shiny appearance.

BABY EMBROIDERY

The baby outfit is not complete without several garments of embroidery and here they are in separate edges or in matched sets. A surprise they are for the person that is expecting to have to pay high prices. Lay in a supply at the WEEK OF WHITE.

Waists

The world famous Worth—more $1 waists and the $2.00 Wellworth in dainty white materials pretty and practical and don't cost as much as others either.

Special crepe de chine at $1.00 and $5.00. Just those pretty styles and materials you've seen and wanted. Large assortments.

A SPRING NECKWEAR SALE

We tried hard to get the best values we have ever had for this week and how we succeeded we leave to you.

50c COLLARS. These come in georgette and crepe de chine and pretty French organdies with the large style and daintily trimmed with fillet laces. They are such collars as you would expect to find for 75c to $1.00.

NOBARS at 75c, $1.00 and $2.50 are the most wonderful we have ever seen. They come in very dainty patterns of colored embroidery and also of colored materials.

You will need two or three for the summer's wear.

It's Time For Embroidery Work

There will be lots of times this summer for you to be doing fancy work for next holiday time and you will want to be making up some underwear for yourself and things for the home and we are still able to offer and they contain the same old fine materials at old time prices. No raise in price on these at BOOTH'S.

PACKAGES WITH D. M. C. ENOUGH TO WORK

Underwear

This department has become an institution with ATHENA quality that fits and wears and makes the dress fit better and more comfortable and don't cost a cent more either. You can have Kayser too. Extra good suits at 50c and 75c. Some in flesh shade and the garments at 60c to $1.50 and $2.00 are of the very highest quality. They will all be higher and still higher next year. Two year's supply would be economy.

Beautiful White Shoes

The WEEK OF WHITE wouldn't be complete without white shoes and only such white shoes as are found here. Those exquisite high white kid shoes and the same thing in pumps and at prices that are about $1.00 under mail order advertised shoes like them. And here you can get them fit properly and no deception. That's part of our store service that makes satisfaction and then they wear better too.

CARDINAL SAID TO HAVE BEEN

more than three hundred arrests resulted throughout Italy. This, for ten days, was all the world knew concerning the workings of the German espionage system. No one connected an insignificant robbery in the Austrian capital with the Cardinal's disappearance and the wholesale arrests of German agents. Another event which caused little interest at the time of its occurrence, yet which had a direct bearing on the successful breaking up of the Torgon spy nest, was the reported escape early in January, of two of Italy's most notorious safe-crackers, who had been incarcerated for life in prison at Rome. What has never been disclosed until today is the fact that a warrant for their release was signed by the Prefect of all the Italian police, himself, and that each of the criminals was later given $10,000 by the Italian government. The service they rendered the government proved well worth the price. For more than two years the Italian secret service, extending its research over a far greater ground than one realizes even today, had succeeded in "trading" certain Dr. Gorman plots and intrigues in Italy to Vienna. The Austrian capital, again succeeded in narrowing the search down to a certain house, adjoining "but having no connection with" the German Embassy. Had they acted hastily, the spies might have burgled the house, robbed the safe, and even laid hands on a certain set of precious papers. The Italian government was keenly interested in. But that is as far as they would have gotten. For attached to the bundle of documents so highly desired by three governments was an intricate series of wires. At the most doubtful juncture the German had provided that if the safe were opened and the papers moved, a cloud of poison gas, deadly in effect, would develop the disturber and render the entire room in which the safe was located uninhabitable. At the same time a cleverly devised burglar alarm would call sufficient military police to the scene to deal with any number of intruders. When every detail of the hiding place of the papers had been learned, the secret service agents reported in detail to Rome. On a favorable dark night the "escape" of the famous safe-crackers from the prison outside of the Italian capital was arranged and effected. Promised their freedom, and ten minutes later, the plot was succeeded, the criminals had agreed to undertake the dangerous mission. How they were smuggled into Vienna no one will ever know, but when they did undertake the robbery of the safe, they were provided with gas-masks and every tool for safe-opening known to the police or criminal world. Cracking the safe and evading the certain death of the alarm signals was a comparatively simple matter for these Jimmy Valentine's of Italy, and the papers, which incriminated prominent personages throughout Italy were soon in the possession of the secret service. For obvious reasons they could not instantly communicate their knowledge to headquarters at Rome, and in the meantime, while announcing the robbery of a "large sum of money," the Austrians succeeded, by means of a secret wireless, in communicating with Cardinal Goriach, who departed unceremoniously from the papal court. With the evidence in hand, however, the Italian police were able to round up several hundred of the most dangerous German plotters, and to strike into the heart of a Teutonic element in the highest church circles of Rome.
