THE WAR LOAN AND THE PUBLIC

Banks, manufacturing corporations, and many of the large stores are taking hold of the Liberty Loan proposition in good shape. It becomes no easy to buy a bond that no one with the least American feeling has any excuse for declining to take one.

Two classes of people show some difference. There are many wealthy people who are now getting five per cent or more on their money and can not bring themselves to sacrifice the difference. They make a most inglorious showing. The government protects them and their property, it makes life worth living, provides armies and navies and police forces to guard their investments from foreign foes or home intruders, yet for a begrudging ten or fifteen dollars difference in interest, they would support the tide in return and help support the government in an hour of peril. Probably the same men go to the comfortable homes and berate the young men for lack of patriotism in their failure to enlist. Verily they are the worst of the stalkers, receiving all and willing to give nothing.

Another class consists of many working people who never before have bought bonds of any kind. The standard bonds of the stock market are not offered usually in small denominations. Also these people have not the means or facilities to investigate the character of market bonds, and rightly regard many of them as hazardous. Government bonds they never become interested in, because up to now they never yielded but 2 or 3 per cent.

But now they have a chance to buy a bond in small sums bearing as much interest as many savings bank deposits did a short time ago. The bond is safer than any savings bank can be. Here is the chance of a life time for working people to get their money absolutely beyond the danger of the thieves, defaulting cashiers, inefficient directors, and to secure a fair rate of interest.

C. C. BOOTH DIED AT HOME

IN THIS CITY LAST NIGHT

C. C. Booth died at his home at 409 Fifth avenue east, in this city in his seventy-ninth year, at 11:30 o'clock last night. Mr. Booth is survived by his wife and three children: Charles E. THE LATE CHARLES OTIS LONGLEY

In Memoriam

CHARLES OTIS LONGLEY, born at Tipton, Iowa, October 28, 1872; died at Twin Falls, Idaho, Friday, June 1, 1917, aged forty-four years, eight months and twenty-three days.

The subject of these lines was born as above indicated. The third child and second son of Charles L. and Helen E. Longley. Inheriting nothing save some degree of intellect, clean blood and indomitable will, he had the opportunities offered by the public schools of that day up to the middle of the high school course. At that time, and at fifteen years of age, through his own initiative, in the school was explained for the printing office, where he took the full course from cleaning rollers to proof-reading and several post-graduate years in addition. It was during the latter that he declared the intention "not to spend his life in a 'space-box,'" and entered the Iowa Law School, a department of Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa, absolutely financing himself during the two years course by continued labor in the print shop, either by day or by night.

Soon after graduation in 1899, he established himself in the practice of law at Pomeroy, a village in the western Iowa, chiefly known as the victim of a terrible cyclone a few years before. Nearly five years of arduous work here showed much experience, and some degree of success. The same should be said of the succeeding three years at Crookston, Minnesota. It was here he met his wife's greatest happiness and good fortune in the person of Miss May H. Gougan, with whom he was united in marriage November 24, 1907. A little over a year later, in January, 1909, seeking a permanent home, he came to Twin Falls and has since been identified with the rapidly expanding interests of that community as an active lawyer, a public-spirited citizen and warm-hearted neighbor and friend.

It might not be seemly—it is certainly not intended to here present any fulsome eulogy. What C. O. Longley was, he was known and loved of all men. To two things his life and all his energies were devoted: his home and his profession. He made his home a nest of love and happiness, a constantly widening arena of honest, earnest and more than ordinarily successful effort. In the former he leaves a most loving and heart-broken widow and two infant sons, aged nearly one year and four years, respectively. He also leaves a father, a devoted sister, Mrs. Emma L. Wor-

MAKES PLEA FOR THE DAIRY COW

Chairman White of the State Pure Food Commission denounces the Slaughter of Producing Cows.

In a plea for the dairy cow last week, Chairman White of the state pure food commission board, denounced those who slaughtered cows for beef instead of keeping them for their milk and butter products. He said in part:

In the impending food crisis, conservation of the dairy cow should be our first and foremost concern. No program of preparedness at this time is complete without a plan of conserving and increasing our stock of dairy cows.

The dairy cow is not only the slaughtered, nor dairy feeds diverted ran of this city, and an older brother, Mr. Alfred Longley, of Waterloo, Iowa, also a lawyer.

Tributes of love and respect in the shape of sympathy and condolences, flowers and offers of service, were as spontaneous as they were unkindled, and included funeral offices on the part of the local Commandery, Knights Templar, of which he was a member.

Taken it would seem, in the very midst of opportunity and usefulness, certainly before the full fruition of his powers or of his successes, it may be said that the world is somewhat better for his having lived therein. Filled with love for his own kind and for his kind and with the spirit of service, no wife could have a better husband, no child a better father, no parents a kinder, better son and no community a better citizen.

"His life was gentle and the elements So mixed in him that Nature might stand up And say to all the world, This was a man!"

Mr. C. O. Longley's funeral was had from his late residence at ten a. m. on Wednesday, 5th inst., and was very largely attended. The casket, placed in an alcove, was literally covered with an "as well as surrounded by the most beautiful flowers and floral designs. Rev. L. B. Frank read a scripture lesson and offered prayer. A quartette consisting of Mrs. T. J. Woods, Miss Katherine Pitman, Messrs. Clarence Beatty and Theo. Swartz, with Mr. William Coburn at the piano, sang "Now the Day is Over" and "I am Glad." The funeral services of the Knights Templar, fifty of whom in full regalia, were drawn up at the door, took charge of the further funeral services.

The "Silent City of the dead" could never be made less forbidding than by the hands of Nature and loving friends on this occasion. Wearing at a whole, the bright tints of spring, the immediate city to which the body was about to be consigned was earth no longer, but a beautiful array of flowers and verdure. Here were assembled the friends and neighbors. The Primate read the beautiful ritual of the Knights Templar, and a eulogy was returned to duty.

ed down in the prime of life that sturdy oak of our profession, Honorable Charles O. Longley, has departed. And whereas, we recognize and appreciate his simple life, his untiring energy, his natural and acquired ability, and his high character, which he had reached at the time he was so unexpectedly taken from us.

Not therefore, do we receive with equanimity the news that he has departed. We ask this Honorable Court to spread upon its records this evidence of our appreciation of his worth, and that the same be engraved and furnished to his bereaved family.

Respectfully submitted, ed to other uses simply because the price of beef is advancing.

"It seems to me, therefore, that in any program of preparedness in our country, the first and foremost consideration should be given to this remarkable natural food-making machine, the dairy cow.

"In energy-living power, one quart of milk is equal to 11 ounces of ground steak, or 3-4 of a pound of good round steak, or 8-2 eggs, or 10-7 ounces of beef, such the best quality."

"Our people should bear in mind, also, the significance of the heartening appeal made to the German Reichstag, by Field-Marshal von Hindenburg. He cries for FAT—FAT—FAT for his soldiers and for the weakest people."

"The fate of Germany may hang up on the question of fat. At no time in history has the value of fat assumed so obvious a meaning."

"A plentiful stock of dairy cows means not only the quickest, richest and most continuous transformation of food into human food, but also means a daily dependable supply of butter, the finest of all fats—and prevents the possibility of such deep distress as is experienced in the shortage of fat by unhappy Germany."

"A two-year-old steer, ready for market, contains only about 280 pounds of total fat, while a fair dairy cow produces in her 1000 pounds of milk 300 pounds of fat yearly for seven years, or a total of 2100 pounds of fat during her lifetime, as against the steer's 280 pounds of fat in his life."

"Unless our people adopt, as to the food value of milk, the view expressed by the United States department of agriculture, the tendency of our farmers will be to quit dairying and to send their cows to the butcher rather than perform the fustian services without profit and often at a loss, in consequence our stock of dairy cattle is lower today per thousand population than it has been for 40 years."

"It is therefore necessary to take governmental action to safeguard our food supplies, the first decree to be passed, in my judgment, should be a governmental prohibition of the slaughter of productive dairy cows; and our next concern should be an upward revision of the prices of milk based upon the cost of production and a fair profit to both producer and distributor."

"Assured a rich supply of milk, and plenty of butter, and the nation can laugh at starvation blockades."

"THE NEGLECTED WIFE" story brings to life, through the medium of the screen, the famous fiction characters created by Mabel Herbert Urner, in her celebrated novels, which for the past six years have been published in leading newspapers from coast to coast. Mrs. Urner numbers her readers by the millions and no stories of modern times have had such wide spread circulation.

"THE NEGLECTED WIFE" marks a departure. It has an appeal to every man, and every woman, because the story is true to life. It is a startling revelation of actual conditions as they exist today in one home out of every five in the country.

ance problems of America. Flowers is without question the ablest authority on this subject and developments in recent years make "Guarding the Golden Gate" one of the soundest and most timely public utterances of modern times.

Mr. Flowers' recent book, "The Japanese Conquest of American Opinion," elected him a member of the National Press Club, Washington, D. C. His sponsors for this honor were the leading authorities to date on our relations with the Orient.

Another honor of signal consequence has been accorded Mr. Flowers—in his election to the presidency of the National League of American, and organization of the leading platformists of this country.

For captivating artistic appeal, no finer attraction has ever been offered Chautauqua patrons than the two exquisite Japanese musical plays, "The Mirror" and "Along the Road to Tokyo."

Both plays are portrayals of the picturesque and poetic side of Japanese life. Both plays adhere strictly to Japanese art, taste, scenery, music, costume and lighting effects—all of which enhance the beauty and charm of the productions. The songs, folk lore, customs and traditions of the Nipponese are here seen and heard, as only such artists as the Orngawa can render them.

The two musical fantasies abound in quaint humor and pathos and the perfume of the cherry blossoms of old Japan is sensed throughout the beautiful stories and songs.

"The Mirror" will be given the fifth afternoon, and "Along the Road to Tokyo" the fifth evening of the Chautauqua.

To those who are not our customers
An Appreciation
Our thank-you note—Number 1
We are very proud of the fact that numbers of people who are not our customers, and who never have been our customers, come rather frequently to our studio and from many of these visits we have received great inspiration.
Scores of people who have never spent a dollar with us have been gracious enough to come in and cheer us with such statements as these: "Your studio is a credit to the town" "Your photographic work is the finest I have ever seen" "You are ahead of the times; Twin Falls is too small to justify a studio like yours."
And for these compliments, for each and every one—we are grateful—
straight from our hearts, we are grateful.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING
PROVED GREAT SUCCESS
Convention of the County Sunday School Association held interesting Program.

The annual convention of the County Sunday School association met in the high school auditorium Sunday, June 3. A large attendance was present at both afternoon and evening sessions. The afternoon session began at 2:30 o'clock with a chorus of small children on the platform, directed by Rev. Charles Butler. This was one of the most delightful features of the convention and was inspiring to all present. The program committee feels very much indebted to Mr. Butler for his untiring services in giving to the convention throughout, such beautiful music. After the chorus Miss Alamandinger, a recent arrival to our city, sang very impressively, "Thy Will Be Done". The devotions were led by Mr. C. E. Rowcliffe, the president; Rev. J. E. Stinson of Murtaugh took the chair and appointed committee. A very instructive address on elementary work was given by Mrs. B. J. Cole. An interesting address on Tom Sawyer work, emphasizing especially the Boy Scout movement of which he is especially interested, was given by Rev. Van Patton of Buhl. Mr. R. H. Young of Twin Falls then followed with a very helpful address on the special activities of the adult organized class. Mrs. L. M. Crosby, state secretary of Sunday school work, Boise, conducted a round table, taking up the work of the work of the different departments. This closed the afternoon sessions after which a cafeteria lunch was served in the Baptist church, enjoyed by all present.

NEW BANK AT BUHL WILL OPEN DOORS SOON

Location Not Yet Announced—Large Number of Automobiles in Town—Other Buhl News

A charter has been applied for to establish the Farmers National Bank of Buhl, which will be located here as soon as the preliminary steps have been taken, says the Buhl-Herald.

A. A. Milner, who represents the organization in Buhl, said that the bank examiner is expected to be here from San Francisco, during the next week to pass upon their charter. It is understood that Asher H. Wilson, of Twin Falls, is interested in the new bank, as are other Twin Falls citizens. Mr. Milner said that stock would be sold to farmers and others around Buhl as soon as the charter has been obtained. A location for the new bank has not been definitely determined. Mr. Milner said that it would have been on the corner lot adjoining the Studbaker building if the hotel deal had gone through, for a hotel on the Nibley-Channel corner. Several other places on Broadway in the first block from Main street crowding are being considered. However, Mr. Milner declined to disclose what they were. The capitalization of the new bank will be $25,000.

Last Saturday we counted the automobiles which were parked on each side of the streets running one block each way from the intersection of Main street and Broadway, and found that there were 129 autos in the four blocks. The count was taken at about ten o'clock last Saturday night, and had it been at an earlier time during the evening the number would have been much larger. The occupants of

Build a Barn to Fit Your Needs

The needs of one farm may not suit another. You have certain conditions to meet that are not found on any other place. The size and arrangement of your barn should be determined by your requirements.

Your aim is to build a barn that will comfortably house the livestock, hold the feed, machinery, etc., with economy. It is easy to put too much money into any building. The barn is no exception.

Our experience in selling materials for building barns and in helping farmers in many ways should be worth money to you. This is merely a part of our helpful, serviceable way of doing business. The autos were either doing their Saturday night trading, or were attending the picture shows. It is thought that few towns the size of Buhl can boast as many automobiles.

A telegram from H. E. Bacon, who was called to Rochester, Minn., because of the serious illness of Mrs. Bacon, who underwent an operation, states that Mrs. Bacon is doing nicely. The telegram states that the tumor had broken, causing complications, and he feels the recovery factor than could ordinarily be expected. Mrs. Bacon was discharged from the hospital, but it will be three weeks before she can be brought home. Mr. Bacon had just begun to work when called away, after being laid up for three months with a broken shoulder, broken ribs and a few other bruises.

Mrs. Annie Catronous and children moved to Buhl Saturday and will occupy several rooms in the Clinton building over the Golden Rule, awaiting the completion of the other store. Mrs. Catronous will then have charge of all the rooms, 32 in number. Each room will be supplied with hot and cold water and steam heat, and will be connected by a window with outside light. Miss Helen Catronous, who has been employed as bookkeeper in the Twin Falls National Bank, did not return to Buhl with the rest of the family, but will keep her position in the bank.

Buhl's new three-story modern hotel, to cost about $40,000, which has been under consideration for the past three weeks, failed to materialize because of the failure on the part of the Buhl people who were interested in it to secure the contemplated location. The Herald in receipt of a letter from the hotel men of Burley, who were considering the proposition, that they had given it up because of failure to secure the location desired.

(By J. W.)
Among the great features attended upon the present war situation and preparations in the United States, is the heartache of thousands of mothers throughout the country who are giving their sons to the service. One of the most prominent of such pathetic figures is Mme. Schumann-Hoink, the world famous contralto. Her eldest son is with the German navy and his wife and five children are in Germany. She can receive no word from them nor reach them with any message. Her other three sons, are in the service of the United States, ready to go when and where ordered, possibly to fight the mother's native country—and their brother.

Madame herself is a loyal American, although born in Austria. She has been in this country for nearly twenty years, having come here in 1898. The American people so loved her that they have not allowed her to return to her native country. She bitterly hates war in general and is quite broken-hearted over the continued struggle in Europe, and the further preparations for war in the United States.

Throughout the country sympathy has been extended to this noted and beloved woman. The love of the American people has gone out to her especially at this time and enveloped her in a blanket of sympathy and affection in an effort to comfort her and to assure her of the great place she holds in the hearts of the people of the United States, and to make her more appreciative of the public's sympathy than is Madame, and in her busy life she takes time to thank of those who comfort her, which has been done in a recent issue of the "Great dear 'Twin Falls' people" for me."

A letter received last week from Mrs. W. J. Wood of this city, who has gone to San Diego for an extended stay, enclosed an interesting clipping regarding which Mrs. Wood says: "It shows the esteem in which Madame is held by the residents of San Diego." The clippings, in part, is as follows:

"San Diego! United States! Forever!!! Forever!!!"
Standing with upraised hand and uttering the words in an impressive and even dramatic manner, Mme Schumann-Hoink, daughter of a loyal and enthusiastic American citizen, yesterday presided the climax for a meeting in which the various civic bodies of the city. Nearly 300 men and women were at the meeting.

The incident aroused hearty and prolonged applause from every person "in" the thronged dining room. Adjournment was about to be announced, after the singing of the national anthem, when a large bunch of American Beauty roses was presented to the famous contralto.

A resolution was offered by Stanley Hale, expressing the gratification of San Diego at having such loyal citizens as Madame Schumann-Hoink. The adoption of the resolution was followed by a toast to the enthusiastic resident of Grossmont. The resolution and toast brought tears to the eyes of Madame Schumann-Hoink.

The resolution adopted, expressing appreciation of Madame Schumann-Hoink was as follows:
"Whereas, it is our distinguished privilege to number among the populace of San Diego, the world-beloved artist and illustrious citizen of America, Madame Schumann-Hoink; and
"Whereas, Madame Schumann-Hoink by her priceless gift of voice has generously lavished the precious coin of music upon countless millions of the world, and particularly upon her fellow citizens of San Diego; and

Whereas, Madame Schumann-Hoink by her graces of art, abilities of intellect, nobility of spirit, and boundless generosity of heart has endeavored to lift to such an exalted position every person who resides in San Diego city and county;

"Therefore be it resolved, that the Advertising Club of San Diego, the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Association of San Diego, and the San Diego Progress Committee, hereby, on this occasion, express the pride which is felt by the citizens of the city and county of San Diego at having Madame Schumann-Hoink as a resident of the region, and they further express the heartfelt respect which is felt for the abundant quality of heart and mind which have evoked admiration and love in all the civilized world."

Those at the speakers' table included Madame Schumann-Hoink, Mrs. Jack Tohars, President Jack C. Thompson, Toastmaster W. S. Dorland; John D. Spreckles, A. M. La Motte, Mrs. Dorland, Mrs. La Motte, Melville Klausner, George W. Marston, U. S. Grant, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Harnall, Mrs. Klausner, E. O. Hodgo, Mrs. John Schom, Mrs. Walter Tullis, Berro Mrs. George McKonzie, Miss Hilbert, George S. Parker, Mrs. A. S. Bridges.
