COAL FAMINE IMMINENT IN TWIN FALLS PEOPLE DO NOT WANT TO PAY AS MUCH AS USUALLY AT ONCE

No Fuel for Storage and Not Enough for Threshing—Threshers Urged to Install Straw Burners Immediately by Coal Dealer—Advice Given That People All Write to Utilities Commission and State War Council to Get D. & R. G. to Put Embargo on Through Freight.

"Unless the owners of threshing machines install straw burners at once the grain on the Twin Falls tract will not be threshed this fall through lack of fuel. If a cold snap should come now, conditions on the tract would be infinitely worse than at the worst period last winter—a year ago we had 6000 tons of coal in storage today, although we ordered 10,000 tons for storage, we haven't a ton on hand for that purpose.

The above quotations represent the opinion of some of the coal dealers of this city, and as the Times reporter was unable to see all of them, the names are not given. The opinion of these men is that the situation is serious or liable to become so. The man who said that the coal dealers had no coal in storage declared that coal was coming steadily right along then, whereas it comes in slowly now, although some received here on one day, but the others have to wait several days. He, hence he urged the necessity of the installation of straw burners. It is stated that two tons of straw will equal one ton of coal. It is also stated that it is necessary to burn up all the straw in order to thresh the wheat. It is also stated that the coal dealers are being required to place the embargo on through freight, the situation would be greatly relieved if very little time and small expense could be completely cured. He said that last year while they ordered 8000 tons of coal they got but 4000 tons because of the embargo, and as far as the storage was concerned, they got only one-sixth. Six thousand tons means that they are short nearly as much as they are, considering the size of their orders, the situation, as he pointed it, is black. He pointed out the necessity of everyone and every organization taking the matter up at once with the state public utilities commission and the state war council, and that somebody else do it. He insisted Wyoming could not supply the needs of the tract.

GOOD ROADS AND TOWN REPUTATION

Communities are certainly fussy in the way they do and don't do things. In these days of automobile travel, a great many places erect quite prominent "booster signs." Towns advertise themselves as being "The Paradise of America," "Prosperous Dingville," "Beautiful Jaytown," etc. Some of these signs are ridiculously absurd, while others are reasonable, and good advertising propositions.

But the feelings of many automobile parties on leaving a place are quite different from what the citizens evidently thought when they put up those prominent signs. The boards may say, "Welcome to Lovely, Pleasant," and "Goodbye, come again." But if the visiting motorists have been jolted from one end of the town to another by an incessant series of hollows in the road surface, so their very bones ache while the automobile creaks deamly, they will shake off the dust of the machine as they pass the local boundary. They resolve never to come there again until the town loosens up its lightward purse and spends some good money on a scientific road construction.

A community may have handsome houses and neatly kept lawns and a pretty shrubbery. But if its streets are full of depressions so that the machine has to proceed at a snail's pace, all the civic bonitas go for nothing and next time the travelers will avoid the town if they can.

The same thing is true over whole sections where road conditions are poor. The scenery may be attractive, and the hotels may be good, but if the roads are poor the people will turn all their outing trips in other directions. As motor parties spend money freely, that is a handicap to the business of the district, not to speak of the lost-minded and noticeable advertising that is spread about through the touring public.

A REAL MENACE

That the I. W. W. disorders throughout the north-west constitute a real menace under existing circumstances grows more and more apparent each day. Suspensions of actual German financial backing will not do; although as yet they have not done prominently, they are the following reports may at least be taken seriously, coming as they do from widely separated points of view. The first is from the "Herald," of Everett, Washington—a paper directly in the trouble zone; and the second is from the New York "Wall Street Journal"—published far from actual observation:

"While I. W. W. disorders are most marked in the West, the organization back of them is highly centralized with headquarters in Chicago, is directed by shrewd men, and is a national problem. I. W. W. strikes are not an end-in-themselves, but a means toward the organization's goal—the embarrassment and breaking-down of the present social system. Intercaste organization and the I. W. W. doctrine of sabotage to ruin its avowed end make the problem one that, if the country is not to be seriously crippled in the midst of war, must be dealt with by the federal government. Treason is treason."

"Why wait until grain or elevators be burned, when flooded and destroyed, factories dismantled, or even these utilities temporarily held up? The nation's safety and security must be met with preventive as well as punitive measures. When you hear the copperhead hissing in the grass why wait until it strikes before attempting on it? Death might be the price of delay. Copperheads, branded with the Iron Cross, are filing the wheat fields with dynamite, blowing up the copper mines and burning camps and threaten to invade other fields. Instead of waiting to see if their bite is poisonous, the federal government should stamp them at once. The price of delay must be paid on the fields of France."

SUMMER ADVERTISING

There are some business men who get the notion that they won't advertise much in summer because so many people are out of town. As a consequence, if business is dull in their stores that some one has to go around and wake up the clerks at staid periods. It is not the newspaper's fault

"As a matter of fact, the idea that there is no chance for business in summer is a myth. As you look at the streets there are always just as many people to be seen. Some are away, but also some are visiting here. They read the local papers, and are just as likely to be attracted by a bargain as the old residents."
The large department stores in the big cities are good guides as to the practical value of any kind of advertising. They keep their notices in the papers week after week right through the summer. They certainly wouldn't do it unless there is a lot of summer trade that can be had. What pays them will pay the merchants in a town like ours.

KILLING BIRDS

There is said to be this summer, among ignorant classes of people, a perfect orgy for bird killing. The high price of meat constitutes an added temptation. The fact that Mr. Robin and Mr. Bluebird have sweet songs does not deter them. They smack the pot pie in their hungry lips, also the dollars the game dealers will pay. Meanwhile we are trying in this country to raise an increased food supply to win this war. We have planted much more land than usual. The pests are increasing proportionately. They will be a bane for every mile of corn and hill-of-potatoes. But the birds, which are the protection of our ornamental plants, do not increase proportionately. In fact it seems likely that with this free killing they will decrease. But crops can't be raised under these conditions.

Protection of bird life is a part of the war game. Let police officers get after bird killers as one of our most insidious enemies. The place for the man who wants to do any shooting is in the trenches.

The women of the future will dress according to suitability to work. Formerly there was a certain shame when women admitted to the world that like men they were bigged; possessed of two legs. The German husband in a recent novel condemns his wife because she showed nearly the white of both her boots. It is easily remembered when women were long skirted bathing suits, in which swimming was impossible. This feeling is passing both in work and play, and the damning fact of legs is admitted without scruple.

A young man who can't get work today must be either incurably indolent or incredibly stupid. An examination of a leading metropolitan paper the other day showed about six columns of advertisements of "Help Wanted," and only a column of "Situations Wanted. Usually the proportion is reversed.

Experienced Truck Drivers in Demand

Transportation and Living Expenses Go With Positions to Drive For The Red Cross Association.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Twenty experienced motor truck drivers, twenty helpers and ten expert mechanics are needed at once by the American Red Cross for service in France, according to a cable request just received by the Red Cross War Council from Major Grayson M. P. Moberly, in charge of the Red Cross mission to France.

The mechanical squad will include master carpenters, body builders, machinists, painters and electricians—two each. The trucks for which the drivers are sought are of two-ton capacity and will be used in the rapid transfer of Red Cross supplies from seaports to their destinations, a service made necessary by the congested conditions of the railroads in France. Volunteers beyond military age have been asked for this service by the American Red Cross to work with compensation. The Red Cross officials are hopeful that employes of motor drivers and the other experts help required will contribute the services of the men, saying that salaries while in Red Cross service. The Red Cross will pay the transportation and living expenses of the men while absent. It is the intention when the men are recruited to give them intensive mechanical training, some drill and if possible some preliminary instruction in the French language.

REST ROOMS SUGGESTED AS AN EXCHANGE

THOSE WITH CANNING MATERIAL AND THOSE WHO WANT IT CAN MEET

No Charge for Service Will be Made

Question of Help Problem in Country and Federated Clubs Make Some Suggestions on This Line.

The Federation of Countrywomen's clubs yesterday gave to the public the following statement relative to the use of the rest room as a place of exchange between those having canning material and those desiring it, and therewith some suggestions regarding the question of help.
All through the spring and summer we have been hearing about production and conservation, with the result that farmers have planted liberally of vegetables and the fruits are yielding abundantly and many private kitchen gardens will have much food surplus in excess of the housewife's needs. Those who have no gardens in the city or country, or whose truck patches are not yielding enough for canning purposes are often at a loss to know where to obtain them. All this potential winter food stuff will go to waste unless the producer and consumer can come in touch with each other. The ladies of the Federated Country clubs desire to render a patriotic service at this time, through the medium of the rest room. The rest room is for the public and we keep a matron employed for your convenience.
If those people who are looking for canning material, and those also who have it to spare will each consummate with the matron, many housewives may be able to procure their winter can stuff at little cost to themselves, other than gathering and for the cost of the matron's time. In other instances the price may be adjusted to suit the individuals. Ladies who have any excess of vegetables or fruits which they are willing to sell or give away, are urged to leave their names and location, with full particulars of the rest room, so that when inquiries come in for any of these things from ladies who are less fortunate, the matron will be able to put them in touch with what they want. There will be no charge made for this service by the rest room. During the next four to six weeks many country housewives will be in agreement with work they will hardly be able to get through the season without help and yet help in the regular way is almost impossible to get. There must be many women and girls in town who are so situated that they could go out for two or three days at a time to help. For the women who work over a hard place in the road and thus do their bit for Uncle Sam, if these people will leave their names and addresses at the rest room or the Farm Bureau they will be doing a worthy bit in conservation by rendering aid in this call of the busy, busy farm woman.

A "Movie" Move By Uncle Sam

Moving Picture Theaters Everywhere to be Used by the Government for Public Information.

In common with all cities and towns of this class, Mayor Bracken has received from the "Department of Four-minute Men," at Washington, a request with the force of command that the proposed plan for presentation of topics of national importance to moving-picture-theater audiences be carried out in the Twin Falls. This plan has been authorized by the President through the committee on public information, of which Mr. George Creel is chairman—the other members being the secretaries of state, of war and of the navy, and is in brief, as follows:
That with the patriotic consent of the respective proprietors, a talk of just four minutes—no more, no less—be given in every moving-picture-theater some subject connected with the war for which publicity is especially desired by the government. Each subject will be selected by the government, through this "Department of Four-minute Men" and will be communicated to the local organization in each town or city with suggestions as to its development and application.
To this end Mayor Bracken was asked to secure an organization in Twin Falls, and to procure the cooperation of the movie proprietors. The latter was given readily and gladly; the local committee was constituted of Henry A. L. Swain, L. L. Breckenridge and E. F. Bracken—the first named being chairman.
Twelve men consented to each attempt a share in the four-minute talks which will bring one of them out one evening in every two weeks. This company of spellbinders—or rather, message carriers, is as follows: G. D. Thomas, C. L. Longley, C. H. Booth, E. M. Sweetley, J. H. Van Tassel, G. L. Kinney, C. A. North, Harry Hazel, C. A. Robinson, E. J. Finch, E. L. Ashton, and W. J. Wilson. For hearing these talks has not been fixed, but is expected with very little delay.

Censor Tightens Grip on News

WASHINGTON, July 31.—A new list of press regulations making material changes in the voluntary censorship rules under which American newspapers have been operating was promulgated yesterday by the committee on public information.
The new regulations contain the first general request that there be published no mention of the arrival of American troops at European ports, replacing in that respect an express authorization in the old rules for use of any cable dispatches passed by the European censors.
Other sections of the old regulations are made more severe by specifying stipulations in place of the more general language employed in force until now. Information which the government considers might reveal military movements or policies is described in detail.
In the statement, according to the new regulations, George Creel, chairman of the committee, said that "repeated and serious violations of voluntary censorship have attempted to be excused on the score of misreporting" and that "re-statement" is made with the idea that hereafter there shall be no room for doubt as to the committee's desires.

Freight Strike Is Settled in Chicago

CHICAGO, July 31.—The movement of freight into and through Chicago, which had been impeded since Saturday morning by the strike of switchmen affiliated with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, was resumed on a normal basis Monday with the settlement of the strike.
The men returned to work Monday morning after an all-night conference with the general managers of the 19 roads involved. James Murdoch, vice president of the strikers' brotherhood, and representatives of the "three unions" chief railroad employees' organizations, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen and the Order of Railway Conductors, were present.

The settlement lost to the switchmen the chief point for which they were contending—preferential treatment of union members in the employment of new switchmen.
Preferential treatment in the employment of yardmasters is to be settled by a joint board today.

HOW MAKE ARTIFICIAL MILK

Manufacturers in England Have Produced Substitute So Perfect That Cream Rises on It.

According to Popular Science Monthly, they are making in England an artificial milk which is so perfect that cream rises on it and cheese can be made from it.

About 400 grains of potassium phosphate is dissolved in 200 pints of water at 170 degrees Fahrenheit. Enough water is added to give 5-10 percent to the finished product.

The milk thus produced may be condensed and sold in cans, or dried and packed in tin cans or bottles. The addition of nut fats will give a certain percentage of cream.

Last Saturday, an Ex-Governor Gooding's 300-acre farm near Hanley, five choice horses suddenly began to display peculiarities in their actions, and after offering detailed explanations...

The tractor owner has a great lead on the team owner in such a work. If he finds it necessary to work long hours on the farm, he can break up from ten to fifteen acres a day, and not only save money, but get his crops in on time.

There are so many good, practical tractors now on the market, now that the farmer who buys from a manufacturer can hardly go wrong. He can be looking around and find the machine that will best serve his needs.

Dr. Grooms and Mr. Hymer returned to Twin Falls yesterday morning.

TRACTOR PROVIN ITSELF A FARM NECESSITY. The tractor is proving itself a great money saver for the farmer.

County Agent P. D. Brown, of DeKalb county, Indiana, sends a report of a tractor breaking a record by plowing and harrowing a four-acre field with a tractor pulling two four-inch bottom. There were eight acres in the piece, and it took only twenty-four hours to do it.

As the land was heavy ground, and a trifle wet, it would have taken a team of horses to pull a single plow, ten or twelve days on the eighteen acres. The tractor saved the farmer from plowing and harrowing a day in Indiana this year for a man with plow and team. This plowing expense is more than cut in half.

As a contrast to this eighteen-acre field where the tractor made a saving of half it is interesting to refer to a report which comes to us from California, in Tuolumne county, an 1,800-acre field has been put in by tractor. This is not only the largest field of heavy ground ever plowed by tractor. Five tractors were used, and all are said to be equipped with electric light dynamos, power lifts, etc. It is worth noting that the tractor is now being used in California, in Tuolumne county, an 1,800-acre field has been put in by tractor.
