as well as increased acreage, is the avowed purpose of the American farmer in his attempt to help supply the world's demand for staple food. This institution while naturally inclined to favor especially its farmer-depositors, invites all farmers in this community to call upon it for any useful service which it fairly can render to assist them in increasing the production of their farms. This year, as perhaps never before, every farmer needs a banker as his business agent and financial friend.

Grasshopper Fight Urged by Hockbaum

State Leader of County Agents Sounds Warning and Gives Some Advice to the Farmers.

Although the grasshopper pest and menia to meet it have frequently been explained in these columns, the following contribution to the literature of the pest is published for again call the attention of the people to the menace involved.

Grasshoppers are appearing in considerable numbers in many parts of the state and are seriously threatening the crops. These pests can be successfully controlled if the following measures are promptly put into practice by every farmer. Here again co-operation, with every farmer working to control the grasshoppers, will bring the best results. The recipe recommended has been thoroughly tried out by farmers the country over and is completely effective.

This is a very effective in grain fields pastures-orchards-or in clover and alfalfa hay fields. For use in two pounds, contain the following: 20 parts of kerosene, three parts of powdered limon or oranges, one pound granulated white arsenic or the same amount of paris green, two quarts of kerosene factory molasses or other cheap molasses.

The grain and poison should be very thoroughly mixed dry and then the molasses and fruit juice, together with finely graded rinds, must be added to two gallons of water. This mixture should be sprayed quickly and over a uniform surface. Additional water should be added to make a creamy emulsion. Care should be exercised that the mixture does not become soapy, or else it will not work well.

If this mixture is sown thickly in the fields about 4:00 or 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon the best results will be secured. Some farmers sow the poison bait in furrows. The amount given here is enough for from two to three acres. Two to four applications, three or four days apart, will destroy the majority of the grasshoppers.

Do not leave piles of mow where stock of chickens will eat it. Chickens must be kept away from mow where mow has been sown. All poison and bait must be kept where the children or livestock cannot get at it. Some people successfully use the ordinary meat chopper for grinding the limon and oranges. Care should be used to secure a thoroughly mixing as the poison bait must be so prepared and distributed that it will be moist and attractive to the grasshoppers. This mixture costs about 30c to 35c an acre.

Much can be done to control grasshoppers on our irregular farms by thorough cultivation of rows of ditchbanks, fence rows, alfalfa fields and waste places. The female grasshoppers lay their eggs during the summer in the soil. In the fall of the places mentioned. The following spring these eggs hatch and soon the young hoppers begin working havoc on the crops. Cultivation in the fall of the places mentioned disturbs and destroys the egg masses and throws the eggs to the surface where they are at the mercy of wind and sun, fungus diseases and birds. Incidentally some other insect pests, too, would be destroyed by treatment to the benefit of the farmer's crops. A spring-tooth harrow, or an alfalfa cultivator, rightly used in this way will greatly help to keep our crops from being so many years cause so much destruction. Fall cultivation is a practice which should be more widely adopted.

HOW OUR TROOPS LOOK TO BRITISH

English Newspaper Gives Impressions of Our Boys in Khaki.

ARE GIVEN WARM WELCOME

Our Men Are Described as Finely Built Lot of Young Fellows—Officially Greeted by Mayor and Mayores of Town.

New York—American troops arriving in a British town are described picturesquely by a copy of The Blackpool Times which has just reached here. England's impressions of her American allies are given for the first time.

The name of the body of troops is not stated, but various indications show clearly it is the Medical corps unit from Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

The article reads in part as follows: "Exactly at 1:50 the mayor and town clerk hurried to the town hall. After greeting the Americans at the station, the mayor promptly donned his official sash and escorted the troops, accompanied by the mayors, along with the town clerk and Sir John Russell, Bart, who is a private in the R. A. M. C., proceeded to the entrance to the town hall, followed by the members of the town council and the rest of the company."

Cheers Upon Cheers.

"Within a minute or so the loud cheering along Taltbot road denoted the troops were marching down, and quickly the band of the R. A. M. C. C. were seen to be in sight at the head of the troops, playing a lively march. Cheers upon cheers reverberated from the crowds lining the street and Taltbot square as the American troops marched smartly past."

"The American band was followed by two of the men carrying a large Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes side by side, this significant emblem of unity arousing great patriotic cheering. (The mayor, with the American band, the Star Spangled Banner, by the R. A. M. C. Depot band, stationed immediately in front of the town hall. The troops, who were a finely built lot of young men, appeared prominently lined up, and the mayor and mayors, accompanied by Sir John Russell, Bart, the town clerk and Mrs. Harbottle and Mrs. J. Parkinson, mother of the mayor, went to the edge of the foot-bridge, and the mayor entered into conversation with Captain Tootle, the officer commanding the United States contingent.

"The mayor proceeded to give a civic salute to the troops.

"Captains entertained upon the men to show what they felt in their hearts, the gladness that came over them on that occasion. He desired them to let the good people assembled there know that they were the United States to stand shoulder to shoulder in that great human cause. "Give them three hearty American cheers, and remember your colleagues," was the concluding appeal.

"The mayor responded with three vigorous cheers, which far exceeded all previous similar responses.

Look Pale but Fit.

"They are young men, from eighteen years upward, and possess all clean shaven. They have a pale appearance than our men, but this might be due to the voyage as well as the lack of training, and the Blackpool air and sun will soon impart a ruddier hue to their cheeks. The troops are about the average height, and are straight and clean limbed. In dress they somewhat resemble our colonial troops, especially in headgear, for their hats—American service hats—are of the same shape as ours, with the black crown. Their khaki is a shade darker in color than that of our men, and their overcoats are thick, uncommonly long, and worn loose fitting. They wear light trousers, combined with a sort of gaiters, the latter having leather inside and being knuck on the outside of the legs. The men are from Ohio, and are college men, a good proportion being medical students."

Bernhardt Finds Loss of Leg Has Advantage

New York—Upon returning from a motor trip to St. Louis, Bernhardt was enjoying a light repast when she started William J. Connor, her manager, by exclaiming the date is July 29.

"But, name," she protested, "have you forgotten the goat?"

"If it returns," she replied with a laugh, "it can hurt only one foot."

The famous actress refuses to let the loss of a limb affect her spirits.

STERN MEASURES REQUIRED We are informed that an article in this column some weeks ago entitled "Shoot Him on the Spot" was sharply criticized as an argument in favor of lynch law. Such a conclusion could only have been reached by some watery brain with a tendency toward paroxysm. The TIMES simply declared its belief that strict enforcement of law and repression of disorder in a "shoot him on the spot" spirit toward all resistants—was desperately and immediately necessary.

Since that time the necessity has increased rather than otherwise. When the head of an order like the I. W. W., with avowed purpose and past record subversive of all order and rights, threatens the President of the United States with dire results if certain demands are not met, we believe every patriotic American citizen will feel that the limit of endurance has been reached.

WAR PRICES REVIVE OLD MINING TOWN (International News Service) DENVER, Colo., August 2.—War prices for metals have resulted in a return of activity in the Clear Creek County mining district and unprecedented prosperity is being enjoyed in several settlements in that district. About fifty miles from Colorado's metropolis—Denver. Georgetown, Silver Plume and Argentine, three small towns in the southern end of Clear Creek county, are experiencing much difficulty in coping with the influx of miners and their families into these towns. Numerous weather-beaten and dilapidated structures are being repaired to meet the urgent demands of the fast growing population. It is estimated by the Georgetown Chamber of Commerce that the population has grown thirty per cent in the past twelve months, from 600 to 1400. Silver Plume's increase is about the same—from 500 to 1200.

A SERIOUS SITUATION That the coal situation on the Twin Falls tract is apt to be serious, not merely this winter, but before winter, cannot be questioned. The alarming state of affairs shown in the interviews in The Times of Tuesday must be remedied before winter unless severe suffering is to result. The people in this instance can do as suggested in an interview quoted; they can write to the state public utilities commission and to the state defense board, to push the matter of the embargo on through freight on the Denver & Rio Grande until Idaho gets coal. The state commission are willing to act as far as they can, but they have many things to distract their attention. What is needed in this case is concentration on this particular issue, in order that the very busy national railroad council and the interstate commerce commission be stirred to act promptly in this case. Following commercial organization resolutions, a few thousand individual letters might do a lot of good. It will not take long to write a card or a short letter.

There is another phase of the matter that should attract attention and that is the fact that President Mudge of the D. & R. G. who is expected to take charge of the coal situation, was an embargo preventing coal from leaving Utah, something that would be extremely disastrous to this part of the country. It would certainly give moral backing to the state utilities board and the state war council to have hundreds of letters and cards from people here showing their need and their interest. Why not try it, and not leave it for "George to do."

A cheerful note comes from Oregon where a conference of the committee and many officials decided to send L. W. W. disturbances with an iron hand in all parts of the state. The police and peace officers have been instructed to stop any interference on the part of I. W. W. agitators with legitimate workers and to arrest and treat such agitators as "enemies of the United States." And the rock piles are being made ready for their attention when arrested. The Russian Cosack Cavalry have been arresting the pacifist strikers-retractors from the Seventh army by gun fire—the graves of such victims being marked. "Here lies a traitor to his country."

WAR NOT EXPECTED TO DECREASE STUDENTS (International News Service) CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 2.—In spite of the fact that hundreds of students from Knox and other colleges of the state are wearing the United States Army uniform, it is not expected that their classrooms this fall. Knox College administrative officials do not expect a cut roster for the coming term as a result of the war. A drop in the average age of the students is expected. Almost the entire class of Knox has entered army service. But the incoming freshman class will be larger than ever, it is believed. The confidence in the present applications and on the experience of colleges in the Civil War. At that time many of the finest students in the nation were taken by younger brothers, who came and remained in school until they reached an age when they could be added to the army.

One feature that will attract many students to Illinois colleges is the plan to follow the recommendations of the education section of the Council of National Defense in installing military training for the training of students through the course of the war in military tactics and drills. The recommendations of the Council are: That each college induce its students to continue in college at least until the age of conscription and to spend this age until drawn for active service. The college should, as far as possible, make arrangements on their military science and tactics with credits as a part of the curriculum. That intercollegiate activities in athletics be continued so far as they do not interfere with preparations for national service. Knox and practically every other Illinois college is ready to follow the advice offered by the Council of Defense. Educators and leaders in the conduct of the war alike assert that it would be fatal to the nation to allow the educational standards of its youth during the war period to drop, leaving the men worn out and retarded in progress when peace comes.

MAKE A REAL JAM FOR "SAMMIES" IN FRANCE. (International News Service) INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 2.—American boys in the trenches are not going to get back bread and butter, but they will bring back stores of enjoying some of the delicacies of mother makes, under the fire of German guns. The idea was proposed to Washington office of the Red Cross by a lawyer, with a good appetitive, who conceived the idea of supplying the delicacies which are not included in the army fare. It is being tried out here; and if successful, similar kitchens will be instituted in every large city. A score of society women are daily making jams, jellies, marmalades and similar sweets in the kitchen under the direction of a Red Cross worker. The raw food is contributed, as is the kitchen, and the expense is met by subscription. Within a short time hundreds of thousands of these sweets will be ready for shipment to France.

The public wash and kaisomine department is at the rear left while the office occupies the opposite side. A wide staircase at the rear of the store leads to the second floor on which will be kept the larger hardware articles such as saws, axes, planes, washing machines, ladders, churns, etc. This floor is finished the same as the main floor and is well lighted by windows at each end and a light well in the center. Stock is conveyed to the second floor by means of an elevator at the rear.

GERMANY'S MOVEABLE RESERVES CUT DOWN (International News Service) PARIS, Aug. 2.—Germany has only 755,000 reserves for free disposition, according to General La Croix, noted military expert, who has been giving these figures, based on careful investigations of conditions—up to June 1. The total number of Germans called to arms since the beginning of the war is 13,000,000; from these must be deducted losses of 3,520,000; reformations of 2,200,000; wounded under treatment and those living about 1,110,000, a total of 6,940,000. The number of Germans actually under arms at the front, the interior, and guarding communication lines, he declares is 5,345,000 men. Adding the two totals, he finds a grand total of 12,775,000, which, subtracted from the number of service, leaves only 7,000 available to be shifted from front to front as the demand arises.

FOR INCREASED CORN YIELDS Gain of 6.31 Bushels Per Acre by Thinning Secured at Ohio Station on Tested Seed. Thinning corn has resulted in a gain, as a four-acre average at the Ohio experiment station, of 631 bushels per acre in the case of seed tested for germination before planting, and of 847 bushels in the case of untested seed. The average time required for thinning an acre of corn was 57 hours. In one case three kernels were planted per hill, and on the plot in comparison a generous quantity of seed was dropped and the plants were thinned to three per hill when 8 to 8 inches high. With tested seed an average yield of 6628 bushels per acre was obtained with corn planted three kernels per hill, and 6559 bushels per acre was harvested from thinned corn. With untested seed a yield of 6538 bushels per acre was secured from regular planting and 6385 bushels per acre where the corn was thinned. With corn at only 50 cents a bushel, one would make 63 cents an hour by thinning on this basis.

VACANT LAND ALONG FENCES Not Many Farmers Ever Think of Amount of Waste Strips on Either Side of Barriers. Few farmers stop to think how much land is taken up by the fences. The fence itself takes little room, but it is impossible to grow anything for several feet on both sides of the fence. The department of agriculture reports that the ordinary rail fence occupies a strip over 12 feet wide. About 3,000 feet of such a fence takes up an acre of land. Hedges take up a little more than the rail fence, the width varying according to the width of the hedge row.

ESTIMATED COST OF DUCKS Ranges From Eight to Twelve Cents Per Pound, Depending on Current Prices of Grain. It is estimated by poultrymen making a specialty of growing ducks, that the feed cost per pound of producing duck meat ranges from 8 cents to 12 cents, depending upon the current prices of grain and other feeds.

TOMATOES ON SINGLE STEM Set Plants Eighteen Inches Apart in Rows Three Feet Wide—Pinch Out All Shoots. Where tomatoes are to be trained to a single stem, the plants are set 18 inches apart in rows three feet wide. As soon as the young plant begins to grow after being transplanted it sends out branches or shoots from the axis of the leaves. When these shoots appear pinch them out, which will cause the main stalk to shoot up very rapidly. Put up a stake two feet tall and tie the plant to it. As the plant grows more suckers will form. Continue to pinch them out and train the plant to the stake. The fruit will be formed on lower clusters about six inches apart on the main stem. The method of training does not produce as many tomatoes per plant, but the fruit is much larger in size and of higher quality. This method allows a great many more plants per acre, therefore the yield per acre is greatly increased.

GIVE HENS PLENTY OF ROOM Crowding Decreases Egg Production and Increases Feed Bill—Have Nests Clean. If your house is built to accommodate 50 hens, keep that many, and try to keep them in the best possible shape for profit—you will get it. But if you try to crowd in 60 per cent more you will require more feed and will have fewer eggs. It is pure greed which often renders a flock unprofitable. Have nest boxes in inclosures placed for the shy pullets, and keep them clean. BREEDING FOR HEAVY LAYERS Two Hundred-Egg Hens is Possibility When Attention is Essential Points is Given.

The 200-egg hen is a possibility when selection and breeding are given the necessary attention. The few who took up this line of breeding, with such startling results, soon created a split of emulation among other fanciers. Now there are a great many flocks of pure-bred fowls that have been line-bred for egg production for years.

"THE INNER SHRINE" AT THE IDAHO

MARGARET ILLINGTON STARS IN LATEST PARAMOUNT FEATURE

Friday and Saturday Program Includes Usual Two-Vaudeville Actings

The vaudeville bill at the Idaho theater for the last of the week is headed by Katharine Shepard's classy songs and stories, and Fred Eldridge, who draws pictures with colored sand and talks about the war.

Margaret Illington, famous dramatic star, who will be remembered for her success on the speaking stage in "Within the Law" and "Remedy with the Son in 'The Inner Shrine'..."

Synopsis of Story: Diane Winthrop, wealthy American girl, is the ward of Derek Bruyn, who is deeply in love with Diane but believes that he is too old to ask her to marry...

Viscount D'Arcourt is visiting at a summer resort where Diane is spending the summer at the home of Derek and his sister. The Viscount proposes and is accepted just as Derek has nerved himself to propose to Diane.

The ceremony is performed and the Viscount and Diane go to live in Paris, where the Viscount proceeds to take up his former life of dissipation, and his wife, to get on with him, begins a flirtation with the Marquis de Bismarck.

The latter takes the flirtation seriously and when he finds out that Diane means nothing by it, he seriously compromises her. He and the Viscount have a duel, and the Viscount, at the end of his resources, instead of shooting at the Marquis, commits suicide.

The Marquis flees to South America and tells the Marquis of Bismarck, who after Diane's wedding has gone to explore the upper Amazon. Of course, everything ends happily enough.

TO IDENTIFY CALVES

Marking Is Particularly Important in Purebred Herds.

Holes and Notches in Ear Is System Practiced by Many Breeders—Punch Specially Designed for That Purpose.

It is important that each calf be marked in the same way as to avoid any identification. This is particularly necessary in purebred herds, and should be done in all herds of any considerable size, even if composed of grade animals.

A number of marking systems have been in general use, among which the following are some of the most common: leather strap around the neck, with brass tag attached; ear tags of various forms; notches and holes in the ears; and tattoo marks in the ears.

Notch Method of Marking.

difficult to make the cut of the right ear with a knife, and if too large the animal is greatly disgraced. This system, while causing a slight disfigurement of the animal, is very simple and if rightly done the notches are scarcely noticed. A serious disadvantage, however, is that mistakes in marking cannot be easily corrected.

To illustrate the use of this method the following examples are given: No. 7, two notches on lower edge and one notch on upper edge of left ear; No. 11, one notch on lower edge of right ear, one notch on upper edge of right ear, and two notches on lower edge of left ear.

DON'TS TO REMEMBER FOR LOYAL AMERICANS

New York.—Dr. Preston W. Sloan of the military department of Columbia University has drawn up a list of "Don'ts on the War." Some of them are:

"Don't say 'My country right or wrong.' We aren't wrong."

"Don't call national necessity and international justice by any name as vague as 'national honor.'"

"Don't say 'I'll stand for the British flag' or 'I'll stand for the French flag' or 'I'll stand for the American flag.'"

"Don't say that both sides think they are fighting a defensive war. A man may honestly think that two and six are eleven, but it doesn't make them so."

"Don't call universal training 'Prussian militarism.' It is no more Prussian than it is Swedish, French, British, Argentine, Japanese or Australian."

"Don't say that we owe aid to France on account of Lafayette. We don't help France in 1870 and we're right not to do so now. We only owe aid to any nation when it is fighting (as at present) in a righteous quarrel."

"Don't say that it doesn't make any difference to the workman what country governs him." On the contrary, it makes no difference to him than to anyone else, because the rich man can spend his time in travel or buy his way into the privileged class if he finds political conditions oppressive.

GERMANS FOND OF NETTLES

Ancient Food of Teutons Again Appears on the Tables in Germany.

Munch.—A food which was much used and liked by the ancient Teutons, but had been forgotten for many centuries, has again appeared on the German tables under the title necessity of the wartime—the nettle.

The nettle, which is now cultivated in enormous quantities and has largely replaced cotton for cloth, is a large plant with a coarse, fibrous stem and other dishes. As the plant contains much sugar and chlorophyll, it is a "considerable" food value, and it tastes better than spinach.

In Sweden, where many of the ancient Teutonic customs have survived, nettles have always been eaten, and lately they have been sold canned. In some parts of southern Germany "nettle dumplings" were formerly considered a delicacy of the spring season.

TRAFFIC COP HEADS CHOIR

One of Denver's Leading Churches Honors Policemen at Election of Officers.

Denver, Colo.—There are baseball evangelists like Billy Sunday, and train-rober evangelists like Al Jennings, but, at that, the last place most of us expect to find a traffic cop is in a church choir.

The choir of the Central Presbyterian church of Denver, one of the largest congregations in the city, has just held an election of officers. For president the choir chose William E. Wolf, traffic policeman. Wolf is one of the most active and popular members of the choir. Also he is one of the leaders of the Southern Young Men's Bible class of the Presbyterian church.

Austrian Plots in Balkans Amazing

Dark Cartridges Involving Attempted Murder Carried on by Millions of Central Powers.

(By Camillo Cianfrani, International News Service Staff Correspondent) ROME, Aug. 2.—A high official of the Serbian army who has just arrived here on sick leave, following a bad case of malaria fever, told the responsible of the International News Service that Austrian diplomatic intrigues and plottings in the Balkans, especially among the Serbians, and other allied contingents, are responsible for a series of sinister events about which the world has heard with astonishment—plots, conspiracies, assassinations, and so on.

Among the events chronicled by the officer, whose name I am not at liberty to disclose for obvious reasons, but whose high standing in the Serbian and King Peter's court are in themselves a guarantee of reliability and unquestionable veracity, is that of a plot against the life of the Crown Prince of Serbia, who owes his life to the fact that the man detected and killed him, missed the mark and shot his turn shot down by one of the Prince's aides.

"The plot against the Crown Prince," the officer said, "was hatched in Serbia last winter among a number of officers and soldiers affiliated with the Tzerna Ruka conspiracy for the advancement of the political fortune of its members, who include a large number of civilian and military employes, besides the element with Austrian leanings. The order to kill the Prince was sent to the Tzerna Ruka members at Salonika and one day several weeks ago three revolver shots were fired against Prince Alexander, while the latter, alighted from his motor car in one of the quiet streets of the city, but the shots went wide of their mark and the Prince escaped absolutely unhurt.

"Following this attempt over 100 officers and men were arrested by the English and French police, suspected of being implicated in the plot, and were immediately transferred to the fortress of Bizerta in French Tunis. From official information received at the Serbian Court at Corin, I have learned that up to date the Serbian court martial which trying the men has passed nearly twenty death sentences, which have immediately been executed. Among those who were supposed to be the chief instigators of the attempt.

"The investigation to which the attempted assassination led has disclosed that the Tzerna Ruka was and still is an organization liberally subsidized by the Austrian government. During the trial it has also been brought to light that the Tzerna Ruka exercised a powerful influence in shaping the foreign policy of Serbia, especially during the negotiations with Bulgaria in the latter part of 1914; that the organization acquired its ascendancy over several branches of the government in 1903, and that no more than one occasion its machinations were openly inspired by agents in the Austrian political police. During the latter part of 1914 the Tzerna Ruka was unusually active in opposing every territorial concession to Bulgaria—destined to insure the latter's neutrality in the conflict. "The attempt on the life of Prince Alexander was to be followed by one against King Nicholas of Montenegro, who seems to be a stumbling block in the way of Austria's program in the Balkans, that is, the organization of a purely Slav state, comprising, among others, Serbia and Montenegro, for the purpose of overthrowing the Dual Monarchy. The French Secret Service has discovered that the attempt on the life of King Nicholas had been scheduled to take place on Orthodox Easter Sunday in the Russian church at Paris, where the King had been invited. The aged monarch owed his life to the fact that on that day he was slightly indisposed and was forced to remain indoors.

But next the officer concluded, "numerous members of the Tzerna Ruka are in Switzerland conducting a Slav propaganda against Italy and Italy to the great march against the allies. These agents are all in the pay of Austria and one day will be Austria's tools in the Balkans for the realization of Austrian aspirations, which means the complete subjugation of Serbia and Montenegro.

The complete disruption of China by first, the effort to restore the monarchy, and now by the revolution in which two separate republics are being set up, has removed all unity in the republic among the allies. PRUSSIAN DREAM OF WORLD POWER DROVE US TO WAR

Diplomat Reveals Kaiser's Plan to Draw United States Into Struggle.

BIG LEVY IF VICTORIOUS

If Germany Lost She Counted on Eastern Europe Through Pacificists Here—Planned Formation of Great International Trust.

Washington.—In a statement just issued with the consent of the state department, Ulysses Grant-Smith, for the purpose of German propaganda, American embassy at Vienna, casts light upon the steps by which America was drawn into the war. He boldly accuses the Kaiser of forcing American participation with this dual purpose: "First, if Germany should triumph, she would be able to levy an enormous war tribute upon the United States; Second, if she should lose the mighty gains might hope through the United States to obtain an easier peace, counting upon the influence of millions of German-Americans and the American pacifists."

"Dream of a Commercial Trust, or even the ending of the war in a draw," Mr. Grant-Smith believes, will mean the formation by Prussia of a great international commercial trust, which would be the rest of the world would be all but powerless to battle. Austria-Hungary is to be added to the German empire, and through interlocking directors, Bulgaria and Turkey.

"The dream of the mighty commercial trust, along with the desire for the annexation of Holland and Belgium and for the control of the North sea coast as far south as Havre, supplied the rest of the Kaiser's plan for plunging the world into war. Mr. Grant-Smith believes, after pointing out that his statement expresses only his personal belief, that he does not speak for the state department, he says: "When the Kaiser and his associates the present war are thoroughly explained, it is my conviction that all residents of the United States, whatever their status, will recognize that which the rest of the world is recognizing in this conflict is in the interests of all."

arrives to make the next move, to force the United States of America to step into the place to play the role assigned her by Wilhelm & Co. of Berlin. "Ever careful to save appearances in Germany supposedly secret moves, they prepared to force the United States into the war by the Zimmerman bill for Mexican and Japanese co-operation against us."

"Since the beginning of 1915 you will find practically no references in the German or Austro-Hungarian press to the United States of an appreciative or complimentary character. In spite of the fact that American diplomatic and consular officials were everywhere and they were working most earnestly and generously to cure for German and Austro-Hungarian interests. The tens of thousands of civilian and military prisoners in France, Belgium, Russia and Serbia owe an untold debt of gratitude to America.

"Prepared People for War. "Gratuitous services all of it still in the front lines were published, and everything possible was done to prepare the people of Germany and Austria for the eventual state of war with the United States.

"I find that the Kaiser and our country have endeavored to create the impression that American officials in the entente countries were derelict in their duties. What, in reality, they did was to keep our countrymen from attempting to force our officials a whole-hearted espousal of the German cause, and hoped to realize their aims by operating through their parliament and their press.

"One hears various statements with regard to the causes which brought on this world conflict. To my mind, the present crisis in our history is an incident where the vital interests of the United States are brought into collision with those of the German empire, and it depends upon us whether or not the logical development of our country shall be arrested at this point, for that which we are to suffer will happen should the German army prevail.

"It seems to me that the history of Prussia is exactly parallel to that of many a corporation, particularly that which thrives in this country some years ago they had been regulated. They were above the law. They absorbed their competitors, by purchase whenever possible, but if not, they ruthlessly destroyed them and annexed their commercial territory.

FARM HANDS DEMAND IN IDAHO

LABORERS TAKING ADVANTAGE OF FARMERS' PRESSING NEEDS AND DEMANDS HIGHER WAGE.

State Director of Farm Markets Suggests That Wage Be Paid on Uniform Basis and That Idle Should Not Eat Fruit of Laborer.

Boise, Idaho.—Farm Markets Bulletin—No. 311—has been issued by Harvey Alfred, director of the Farm Markets department, from which the following information is made available in regard to all parts of the state. A considerable part of this need is being met by the earnest cooperation of the county agents with the Farm Markets department. In the majority of cases the county agents are supplying needed help in their respective counties by drawing on the surplus they may have or that to be found in adjoining counties.

"Because of the urgent need for farm help, some laborers have taken advantage of the situation and have demanded a wage out of all reason, and one the farmers can ill afford to pay. In many instances laborers have demanded $5 per day and have refused to work unless they are driven to the extremity of paying this price or letting his crops spoil, there was but one alternative, namely, pay the $5.

"In the other hand, some farmers have become exasperated over the prospect of losing their crops and have bid against their fellow agriculturists, offering almost any price to obtain help. In very unwise manner a hard-fought battle has been fought for providing farm help. Many idle men who would accept employment at a reasonable figure have heard and read of these extreme prices being offered and have refused to work unless they obtain the same wage. This is ruinous to the farmer, and the interests of our state at large.

"Our farmers are willing to pay a wage which is fair and just. The wage may be paid on a uniform basis, as a state director of Farm Markets, take the liberty to suggest that the uniform wage should be 80c per hour and board all farm help. In every case strenuous labor was required, except perhaps in that of good and experienced tractors, where it should probably be 35c per hour. This is sufficient in either case, and all that laborers want is to be paid a fair wage and the farmer warrant paying. Some would reply, "But the cost of living has so increased that I must have a higher wage in order to live." (concerning the laborer) the cost of living has advanced, and the farmer stands for that increase when he boards his help; and he now offers a wage of 100c increase over that paid a year ago, with the assurance that the farmer will not exceed those of last year. There are just as many men to be had at $3 as there are at $5. In either case we will be short-handed, and the farmer will be short-handed. The farmer will do it faithfully for $3, while the unwilling man who demands $5 would not do an honest day's work at any price.

"Three-In-One Spray combination to use on insects. Use the red spider, water add 3-4 to 1 pt. of Black Leaf, 2-1 1/2 lbs. of arsenate of lead powder, 1-1 1/2 lbs. of lime sulfur, tending 32 lbs. of cheap wheat flour to a thin batter with water and then cook in 2 gals. of water to a paste, the whole to be added to the above formula as a spreader instead of soap, which is harmful to limo-sulfur and lead arsenate. This is the above formula using Black Leaf 40 at the advertised rate of from 1 to 1500 or a 1000 and limo-sulfur at the advertised rate of from 1 to 1500. It developed at the conference that there was no quantity of high grade limo-sulfur in town but that the Division of Agriculture could come to the rescue with a new spray material called Lilly's Niagara Grand Soluble Sulfur which will mix with the water and be used in the same manner as limo-sulfur, but at the lead amount of the rate of 4-5 lbs. to the 100 gallon lot.

"In relation to getting the Soluble Sulfur which has not been exposed to much moisture, as it takes up water from the air and loses its efficiency, the manufacturer claims to come to the rescue with a new spray material called Lilly's Niagara Grand Soluble Sulfur which will mix with the water and be used in the same manner as limo-sulfur, but at the lead amount of the rate of 4-5 lbs. to the 100 gallon lot.

British Hat Prussian Plan. "Now, the plan is to be realized in the west. In short, to possess them, the mines in Belgium and in Northern France and to acquire them as far down as Havre. It was here that the British interfered with the Prussian plans. They seemed convinced for some unknown reason that the British should not enter the war for at least a month or more after its outbreak, and you can readily imagine what would have been the result had the British remained quiet and permitted the German fleet to sail to the northern coast of France taking Calais, Boulogne and Havre and landing troops which would have swept across Normandy to join the forces which had advanced through Belgium. It is this little check which has kept Berlin green at peace can never forgive the British.

"The Germans have accomplished a portion of their scheme in the seizure of the coast of Belgium as well as the Belgian and French mines, with out whose product Germany would have been seriously embarrassed during the war. Had the plan carried out as conceived, the next step would have been the absorption of Holland, peacefully, if possible, but absorption, in any case.

"The second part of the great plan is the formation of the largest commercial trust in the world, to be ever conceived by the mind of man, viz.: The addition of Austria-Hungary to the German empire, under Prussian leadership and through interlocking directorates (as a familiar phrase of Bulgaria, and Turkey) can be readily seen what an enormous power, in fact a power almost irresistible in international commerce, would thus be formed.
