EXEMPTIONS TO BE OPPOSED BY GOVERNMENT

PROSECUTOR FRANK L. STEPHAN TO CONTEST IN BEHALF OF STATE

Will Bring Cases Before District Board

Rigid Inquiry to be Conducted in Order That No One Escapes Who is Liable Under the Law

That the way of the would-be exempted on frivolous grounds is to be hard and the slugging uneven, is indicated by the appointment of Prosecuting Attorney Frank L. Stephan by Governor Crowder and Governor Alexander to represent the state in appeal of special exemption cases. In the event that the local board shall grant an exemption, an appeal will be taken in behalf of the state by the district board. If the exemption is granted by the local board on the ground that the person has others dependent upon him for support, the prosecuting attorney will appear before the district board. If on other grounds, the attorney will examine him, taking down his testimony and the testimony of the witness in writing with the testimony to the district board.

In the event that any person claiming exemption has his claim refused, he has ten days in which to appeal to the district board and the government attorney will in this case appear to contest the refusal of the lower board. In extraordinary cases a further extension of a few days may be secured.

In the event of the government is not to permit the granting of any appeal not based on a sound reason.

Food Bill Provisions Now in Force

Because of the importance of the pure food bill, "The Times" has been endeavoring to make public an account of its provisions that has heretofore appeared, and in compliance with this demand herewith publishes the following rather extended synopsis.

The act of control bill establishes a national food administration, which will control food, eggs, fruit, natural gas, fertilizer and its ingredients, tools, oils and equipment required in the production of all such products, to be known as "necessaries."

In establishing a national control, the act authorizes the president to enter into any voluntary arrangements, create or use any agency or agencies, to accept services of any person, to employ any person, to cooperate with any agency or person, to utilize any department or agency of government, and to co-ordinate those activities.

In pursuance of such authorization, President Wilson plans to appoint Hoover chief executive administrator. Control of other necessities must be accomplished through other agencies. The home provision, for an industrial administration, was passed only after the president had prevailed upon the senate and house committees to eliminate a senate amendment which would have given the president a board of food of three subjects to control.

The bill passed on August 15, 1917, to assure adequate supply and equitable distribution of the named necessities, including the control of prices, to be levied, locally and generally, scarcity, monopoly, hoarding, injurious practices, and other practices which tend to restrict supply, distribution and movement.

Other provisions of the bill fix a minimum price for certain commodities next year at not less than $2 per standard bushel; provide for coal and coke price fixing, commanding and regulating the production, transportation and mines producing necessities; for government purchase, sale and regulation of various necessities, and for the control of agencies producing and handling them.

The bill appropriates for a fund of $150,000,000, to be used in its administration, and $100,000,000 for the purchase and sale of coal, fertilizer, and other necessities.

The prohibition provision, a comprehensive one, prohibits the manufacture and importation of distilled liquors for beverages during the war, and the manufacture of malt, fermented and various liquors or to limit their alcoholic content and authorize and extend the power of the government to commandeer distilled beverages for food or stock when necessary for national health and safety, or for other public defense purposes, or to conserve foodstuffs.

Congressional leaders understand that the alcohol prohibition will be a matter of distilled spirits or curtail their consumption unless military exigencies require. The so-called Smoot amendment, which would prohibit the sale of distilled beverages in bond at not less than 10 per cent profit, was eliminated.

In lieu of those provisions authorizing the food administration to fix minimum prices for all necessities, the new provision that the food administration may fix minimum prices for wheat alone. Until May 1, 1919, the bill provides that the basic price shall not be less than $2 per bushel, based on the average of the northern at all primary markets.

Sweeping powers to control coal prices are also provided. The bill authorizes the president through the federal trade commission or other agency, to fix coal and coke prices, at the mine and at the consumer, and to regulate, to regulate methods of sale, shipment and distribution among dealers and consumers, and the regulation of the coal mines or other coal-mining facilities.

A system of federal licensing of all agencies related to the production, transportation and distribution of designated necessities also is provided, and rigid provisions against hoarding, speculation and monopolization are included. The bill also authorizes farmers are exempted from the hoarding provisions.

The bill also authorizes the president to issue orders for military or public defense needs, all necessities named, and to guarantee reasonable prices to producers of commodities such as wheat, flour, meat, beans and potatoes. The bill also authorizes the president to regulate and operate all distilleries, at just compensation, for military or public defense uses.

The bill also authorizes the president to regulate the production of grain and other foodstuffs, to prevent injurious speculation or undue enhancement of price, is another power conferred upon the food administration through the president.

Another clause, inserted by the senate after much criticism, of alleged to be by members of the advisory commission of their own products to the government, prohibits federal agencies from accepting or including contracts with the government in which they are interested.

LIVE LETTER FROM CHARLES YOUNGER FROM FRENCH FRONT

A letter received last week by Miss Laura Younger from her brother, Charles Younger, who is in the front, describes the celebration of the French national holiday, the anniversary of the storming of the Bastille, which fell July 14, 1789.

Eats do not seem to be plentiful in France at present, or at least, there is a shortage of many things, such as wheat, which as a whole, is cheering and tells a story less gloomy than other reports which have been in press time from the front, follows:

Dear Sister:

Today has been very quiet and about the only sort of blow I had for breakfast was during dinner when German aviators dropped two bombs near here. Outside of that, there has been nothing to report. There has been a heavy fog for several hours I have not had a single trip.

Tonday was the big French national holiday and those of us who were not on duty took the camp photograph to a nearby hospital where we gave a party. There was a lot of entertainment. From the front we went to a large sized town and had a most excellent time. The French government has a most liberal policy. For breakfast we had chocolate, one egg per person, bread and confecture and a good deal of coffee for breakfast. We pay extra for a haphazard ration of an American breakfast. For dinner we had a most liberal meal, cold potatoes and beans, salad and plenty of champagne. What with our champagne party in the last night, and city and again for support, it was quite an eventful party. Our mail at post here at the front are much better than they were in the past. I'm all ways delighted to be on duty.

(International News Service) ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 15.—When you call up Silver Lake cantonment by telephone, and the operator at the long exchange there answers, "neighbor, please," it is a bona-fide voice, don't get excited. The operator at the cantonment exchange will be answered by members of the cantonment. It is to be distinctly understood too, that no young lady calling for a number to be "allowed" to "chat" with the operator. When complete, the exchange will be as large as one of the Atlanta branch exchanges.

(International News Service) BOISE, IDAHO, Aug. 15.—Governor Alexander today stated that the I. W. W. had renewed threats of a general strike in the northwest unless the demands of strikers be refused. A general strike should not be heeded. Names Certified From Selective Draft List

The county election board last night certified a list of names for the selective army, after going over the list of names for exemption, and accepting those who drafted. George Molnar, Robert E. Garland, William Henry, Lucie, Eugene, Milton and James H. Hays were placed on the exemptions. LeRoy E. Donahue, Wesley Hanson Slinger, Earl Lester Baum, and Richard Kilger, but their exemptions were denied. William Perry Blumhard and Constantine Boun were recalled for examination and accepted, after having been at first rejected for military service. Joseph J. Jones, Gonzales and Herbert B. Thomas forfeited the right to claim exemptions by failing to appear. Two more were certified than the list required, so that possibly should be returned for further examination two may be let out as supernumeraries. For one reason or another, exemptions were not allowed in the cases of William Hays, Thomas, Earl Lester Baum, Mark Kimm, William Lester Hendricks, Frank Kimm, but not Daniel Encels, Boyd Smiley, Will Warren Kell, Clyde Ray Olmstead.

L. L. Breckenridge Elected President

The Directors of the Twin Falls Commercial Club Unanimously Selected L. L. Breckenridge as Executive Head.

At a meeting of the directors held yesterday afternoon, the Twin Falls Commercial club did not overlook the honor of tendering to Mr. L. L. Breckenridge a unanimous election to the presidency of the club. It is claiming any credit for having nominated Mr. B. to this position some weeks ago for the reason that his special duties were not so obvious to escape attention from all concerned. Indeed, the only question was as to whether a man so deeply involved in large business would accept the honor of tendering to him. But it is thought that no thing can do this, Breckenridge has accepted the position.

As to the Commercial club itself, the Times believe that it has entered upon a new era of existence—in the past—at least in some of the past, the club has been so inactive that it has been claimed for it. And even that, an impression crept abroad that the club was a sort of club organization, devoted to the interests of this city, and discriminating somewhat among them. We do not believe that the club is so inactive, but we are sure that it will be a better one, and we believe that it will be a better one, and we believe that it will be a better one.

Bell System Takes Over Valley Line

Hansen Exchange Purchased For $4900—Difficult to Get New Telephone Anywhere.

The Valley Telephone company this week sold its exchange, connecting lines, easements, right of way and all rights, except the right to be a carrier of messages, to the Mountain States Company & Telegraph company for the sum of $4200, being fully paid, instead of the purchasing corporation to purchase the exchange for $4900. The sale was made Tuesday afternoon. The Valley company had about half as many telephones as were on the Kinney Exchange of the Mountain States company, according to Manager C. F. Green of the last named company in this city.

Manager Green said today when asked in regard to telephone extensions that there would be no more extensions made on this occasion, but other essentials that go into telephone construction are needed for the making of a change in the law is drafted as to make extension difficult. "If you wanted a telephone and we did not have the material on hand, we would be glad to get it for you, though you were willing to pay all the cost of the material," said Manager Green. "and for this reason we have had a contract which we have been unable to fulfill. It is difficult to get telephones put in aid because of the change in the law. I believe that it will be impossible."

INITIATIVE IS WHAT COUNTS

Without It, Any Man Will Accomplish Little, Says Former Newsboy, Now Rail Head.

Matthew C. Brush was once a Chicago newsboy. Today he is the president of the Boston Elevated railroad. Alfred Grunberg in American Magazine writes:

"The qualities that stand out the strongest in his own amazing career are the qualities which Matt Brush demands emphatically in his men."

"What can an employee do to attract your attention the most quickly and surely?" I asked him.

"Show initiative," he replied instantly. "Without initiative any man will have a rocky, uphill road, with poor pickings all along. One of the greatest of all handicaps is the fact that it is easier to let other men think for you than to think for yourself."

"One of our crane operators was going home around six o'clock in the evening when a five-ton girder dropped on the track from a big six horse truck. The girder blocked the track completely and tied up traffic."

"Now this man was out of duty. He couldn't have been censured if he had said to himself, 'This is none of my business. I've done my duty and I'm through. Let the night force attend to it.'"

"Instead, he called up to the roadmaster of the surface line, told him what had happened, and asked permission to get a crane from the yards and clean up the obstruction. In an hour this man had cleared the track, whereas, if he had gone on home it would have taken three or four hours to do it."

YELLOW BANANAS NOT RIPE

Reach That Stage When Peel Turns Golden Hue and Begins to Speckle on Brown Shades.

Bananas have a higher caloric value than any other major fruit.

Such is the first conclusion come to by Drs. Victor C. Myers and Anton R. Rose, after a careful analysis of bananas and of their effects upon young men fed with them.

The studies were made at the Laboratory of Pathological Chemistry, New York Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital, and the report is published in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

But the bananas must be ripe, and bananas as generally sold are not nearly ripe. A yellow banana is not ripe.

"When the yellow of the peel turns a golden hue and begins to speckle on the brown shades, it may safely be considered fully ripe," says the report, "and the spread of the brown discoloration does not condemn the fruit as over-ripe as long as the pulp inside shows no signs of fermentative decomposition."

ANDOVER STUDENTS SHARPshooters.

Two years ago Andover academy in Massachusetts was the business end of one of its buildings, and these ranges have since been in constant use during the free hours of the school.

Even before war was declared some 400 boys were taking part in military training in the required gunnery work, and the members of the athletic teams participated in this, though allowed at that time also to continue with their special athletic training.

At the present time military training is foremost. It is interesting to note two things in this connection. One is that very few of the boys at Andover—notably the younger ones—are prevented from taking part in the military drill which now has full sway, on account of their objection to gunnery work.

The other is that Andover, in so far as rifle shooting alone is concerned, anticipated the general war preparatory movement in schools and colleges by considerable time.

"Why does not Lord Davenport, the food controller, utilize the services of the American ambassador as a food demonstrator?" asks Sir Edward Russell, editor of the Liverpool Daily Post, in one of his weekly letters in his paper.

Continuing Sir Edward says: "Mr. Page may not be a fluent speaker on his feet as Americans go, but just get him talking at dinner about how to cook vegetables. He does not pretend to conceal his disgust with the way in which English cooks mishandle vegetables. But he is not a critic only, for he has his practical remedies. He will pour out a bewildered hortense and amazed hearers a succession of receipts for cooking vegetables. His great principle is to eliminate the water that accumulates in the dishes in which vegetables stand; whilst on the subject of the pumpkin he waxed lyrical."

Spread Salt on Streets.

Common coarse salt, when properly applied to dirt roads, quite successfully allays dusting the dry months of summer, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. The scheme has been tried in many places where it obviates the need of street sprinkling.

The salt is scattered over the road surface with the aid of a lime spreader. The natural affinity of calcium chloride, which is present in salt, for moisture keeps the thoroughfare fairly free from dust even during very dry periods. The material is applied at intervals of about six weeks at a comparatively low cost. To obtain good results, however, it is necessary that the salt should have an opportunity to become thoroughly mixed with the dirt before encountering a heavy rain.

IS HE A SOLDIER THOUGH IN A BATHING SUIT?

(International News Service) BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Aug. 16.—Is a soldier in a bathing suit a soldier in uniform, is the question of the Federal law against the sale of intoxicants to soldiers in uniforms?

This question has been put up to the Department of Justice again today. The question arose out of charges that soldiers have been donning bathing suits, getting them wet, and then going across to saloons to quench their thirst.

Saloons keepers claim they are unable to distinguish between soldiers and civilians when they discover suits.

FOUR "DEAD" MEN NAUGHT BUT STATUTES

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Allen workmen tearing down the building at Madison avenue and Forty-fifth street erected in 1889 for the now extinct Manhattan Athletic club, ran to the street in panic when they discovered what they thought were four dead men.

The supposed corpses quickly proved to be beautiful solid mahogany statues of four of the club's famous athletes. When the club was forced out of existence in the 1903 panic, the statues in the confusion must have been thrown into the basement and forgotten.

The men of prowess whom they represent are still alive. They are: Dr. Reginald H. Sayre, swordsman, practicing medicine in this city to-day; Fred Westing, runner, now in the shoe business in Boston; F. L. Lambrecht, who is prominent in the Consolidated Gas Company and C. A. Quackernorn, hammer thrower, who among other present day activities edits the Seventh Regiment Athletic Association Gazette.

They were all great champions in their time.

ARRESTS SELF WITH HIS OWN HANDCUFFS

(International News Service) INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 16.—Abe Brown is a most accommodating man—he handcuffed himself and made his arrest a simple matter.

Brown had the police not to unlock them until she had put a charge of larceny against him.

"Show us how they work," said Mrs. Fleming.

"Simple, just like this," said Brown, and he accidentally locked them.

"We'll call the police to unlock them for you," said Mrs. Fleming.

"Fine, thanks," answered Brown, joyfully.

And when the police came, Mrs. Fleming told the police not to unlock them until she had put a charge of larceny against him.

FOUR CONVICTS THEN, BUT NO CHANCE NOW

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—A letter, dated in 1909, from Marine Marine corps recruiting officer to the then commandant of that corps, setting forth some of the recruiting methods of that time, was made public at Marine Corps Headquarters today.

Comparison of present day recruiting activities with those of the eighteenth century is interesting.

Lieutenant Hall's letter reads: "I propose this week to open rendezvous in different parts of the country and make frolic to draw the people together, which I think will have a good effect. There are some in jail whom I could get out by paying the sum of $12—Do you think I would be safe in advancing it?"

Present day recruiting officers require declarations from accepted men that they have never been convicted of any crime.

HAN NINE GRANDBOYS IN THE BRITISH ARMY

(International News Service) DENVER, Colo., Aug. 16.—The Victoria Cross might be the reward of Mrs. S. Harris, aged seventy, who her contributions to the Allied cause brought to the attention of King George. Mrs. Harris has nine grand-children, and an only son is about to enlist in the United States army.

All nine grandsons are brothers, children of Mrs. Harris' only son, who is now dead. The boys were living in Saskatchewan, in western Canada, when the Dominion Government offered for volunteers, some of them enlisted in the famous Princess Pat Regiment and, despite the heavy casualties in that crack organization they are all alive. Two others entered the British navy. The boys are Thomas, George, William, James, F. B., Justus, Larry, W. B., and Dennis. Pollock, and they are from nineteen to thirty-three years.

Mrs. Harris' husband was a Confederate soldier.

PRO-GERMAN SOCIALISTS

In an editorial published some time ago, the Times called attention to the fact that the "conscientious objector" who before the war broke out belonged to a religious sect which taught that it was sinful to participate in any war, or to forcibly resist aggression of any kind, and who willingly accepted punishment defined by law for non-compliance, were more excusable in falling to enter the army, than Socialists who deliberately organized for traitorous purposes.

The name thought to be developed by Congressman Hayden of Arizona, in a speech in the house of representatives, in 1915, in which he mentioned that resistance to lawful authority was in line with the stand of Anarchists and Syndicalists, said:

The Socialist, upon the contrary, has no such philosophy to guide him. To one who believes in the collective ownership and management, through the state, of all the means of production and distribution it follows that the lawful commands of those who manage the affairs of the government must be obeyed, and there is no scheme of things would not long endure. Obedience to the authority of the state must, therefore, be a socialistic virtue, and the Socialist who now sets up his personal judgment against the will of the majority can not claim consistency as one of the reasons for his resistance.

The Socialists of the United States have sharply divided upon the question of approving or disapproving the act of Congress which declares the existence of a state of war with Germany. Many of them are able to see that when militarism makes an attack upon democracy the immediate duty of men of every shade of political belief is to rally to the cause of liberty and freedom. Jaures did this for France at the last of his life. He called to agitation, if not rebellion, against his government, and the leading name of every political party walked in his funeral procession. He held the blood-red flag of revolutionary socialism as a tribute to an honest man who clearly saw his duty and did not let his past prevent him from doing it. (Applause.) The French Socialists, as a unit, follow the example of Jaures and I only wish that I could speak as well of their American comrades. Unfortunately, not a few of our Socialists still seek to distract attention to their pre-war theories at a time when the fate of democracy depends upon their unity.

It is easy to show the inconsistency of the Socialist who opposes war. To those who understand the form of organization of the controlling element this attitude is not so surprising. As frequently shown by "The Times," the element that controls the destinies of the Socialist party, consists of those who join the "party" to "earn" their lodge, and who pay regular dues. This element contains but a relatively small part of those who for one reason or another vote the Socialist ticket. The organization which it controls must not be confounded with the Socialist Labor party, which is the original Socialist political organization in America, and which still exists. The "close corporation" organization of the Socialist party is dominated by a German element having headquarters at Milwaukee. Owing to their tendency to organization, the German element permeates all parts of the organization and takes a more active part than any other, naturally influencing those of weaker intellect, and those whose morbid, disordered minds, make them accept the stupendous misrepresentations of the class of lying organs of the traffic now suppressed for preaching treason. Those misled by the way probably invited suppression of the party, and that they might play the martyr act and get money from those whom they had deceived.

The mental characteristics of the German Socialists are sufficiently shown in a quotation from "Germany of Today," which appeared in a Times editorial of July 28. The same unfortunate mental characteristics are shown in the class of American Socialists who voted for treason, indicating the German origin of their theories. For the British Socialists as a whole more can be said. Robert Hunter, the great socialist, who was a "Socialist at Work," published in 1912, (page 122) contrasting this sort of mentality with that of the English, said "Simply because the movement in Great Britain refuses to accept phrases which it does not fully understand is not a good reason for thinking that it is not equally advanced with the movement elsewhere."

The Socialists who voted for the reasonable anti-war resolutions are the German agitator that through the more disreputable and untruthful organs of their party have "accepted phrases that they do not fully understand."
That the few thousand Socialists who voted for the anti-war resolutions should presume to claim to voice the sentiment of "labor" is absurd. Only a part of the day-paying membership voted either way. The really intelligent and intellectual members like the late presidential candidate, Alton G. Benson, Charles E. Russell, John Spargo, Upton Sinclair and a host of others stood by the country. The men who vote the Socialist ticket, without entering the organization (and they cast most of their votes) were not consulted. And all the Socialist voters of the country in both political parties, constitute only a relatively small part of the total labor forces of America. The American Federation of Labor comes nearer than any other body to representing labor, and it has repeatedly declared its loyalty to the country and to democracy.

INCONSISTENT PETITION

—Hear Senator Stone. Some of the recent discussions in the Senate prompt us to ask you, as a member of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, to introduce a concurrent resolution in the Senate which would enable Congress to "state-tis" conception of the proper basis for peace negotiations. We are submitting a purely tentative draft of such a resolution. Our reasons for urging immediate action are these:

It can hardly be denied that the German peace resolution, carried in the Reichstag on July 19 by a vote of 214 to 116, is an attempt on the part of the German people to express their willingness to enter into peace negotiations on the basis of "no annexations and no indemnities." The exact language of the resolution leaves room for doubt:

"The relating labors for peace and a mutual understanding and lasting reconciliation among the nations. Forced acquisitions of territory and political, economic, and financial violations are incompatible with such a peace."

The relating, though not, in the democratic sense, a truly representative body, is, nevertheless, the only political body through which the German people can speak to the rest of the world. Through it they have spoken by an overwhelming majority and in unmistakable terms, declining the conquest and indemnities, planning "no territorial interests," and leaving their desire to join in an international organization for a lasting world peace. To ignore this resolution is to prove all our protestations of friendship for the German people false.

"If we genuinely desire to strengthen on the hand of the German people against autocracy, this is our opportunity; we must receive the relating resolution with official respect and ignore the speech of the chancellor who is responsible only to the Kaiser."

We urge action by congressional resolution in this matter, because we believe it is high time for the parliament of the world to take a hand in the business of making peace. Continuity extra time to approve war policies and vote war appropriations, the people's representatives, with the exception of Russia and now Germany, have not declared their terms of peace. The above petition signed by eleven prominent pacifists and addressed to Senator W. J. Stone, as chairman of the committee on foreign relations of the United States senate, is found on the first page of the congressional record of August 2, and shows nothing as completely as anything could show the weakness of the position of those who contend that we should begin now to try to negotiate peace with Germany, without any indication that the real power of that country would grant an honorable peace.

The petitioners urge that "we must receive the resolution of the Reichstag with OFFICIAL respect and ignore the speech of the chancellor who is responsible only to the Kaiser."

How can we receive a resolution with official respect which has no official standing?

The petitioners admit that the relating, though not a democratic body, speaks in a sense the articulated voice of the German people. This quite agrees with the statement of President Wilson that it is not the German people who are making war on us.

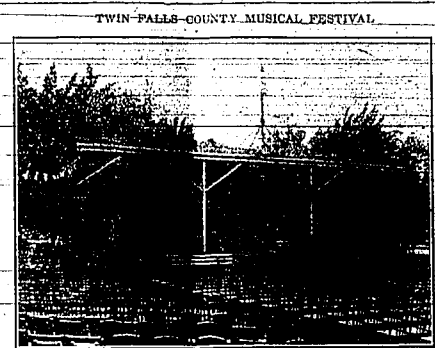

The petitioners further admit that the chancellor is responsible to the emperor alone.

These pacifist scholars also know that the chancellor represents not only the emperor, but also the government and that we can only negotiate with a government. So far as negotiations are concerned, the relating has as much power to negotiate as a street mass meeting. Therefor, the resolutions are impossible of fulfillment and wholly absurd. President Wilson was right when he said that we must "make the world safe for democracy." When Kaiser Wilhelm makes his chancellor and thereby his government, responsible to the Reichstag, representing the German people, or when he and the chancellor who is his multiplexer, agree to allow the relating power to negotiate with other countries, then resolutions like that filed with Senator Stone may be worthy of consideration. If we were to try to negotiate now, we would have to do so with the chancellor, who is responsible to the emperor alone.

And to try to get other nations to do the same, would be simply to show weakness and strengthen the hands of the emperor and chancellor. For they would construe it as a weakening of fibre on the part of the nations opposed to the central powers. The request of the petitioners is directly contrary to the only conclusion which can be logically drawn from the facts which they set forth.

"THE SAWDEST RING" STARS BESSIE LOVE

Bessie Love will make her appearances at the Orpheum theatre soon in "The Sawdest Ring," a new Triangle play by L. V. Jefferson. This is a delightful story of circus life, showing how a little girl, the daughter of the proprietor of a three ring outfit and of a mother long separated from her husband through a misunderstanding, brings about their reconciliation.

Bessie Love appears as Janet Magie, who, because of her mother's extreme poverty is enabled by the other children. She finds solace in the company of her own playmate, a boy about her own age, who is a victim of the same village caste annihilations. The two children finally take to the open road, determined to start a circus of their own. Arriving in a distant town, they are offered a job with a real circus that is playing there. Here Miss Love has the opportunity to display her ability as a barabrock rider.

"LITTLE SOLDIER GIRL" ANN PENNINGTON AT ISIS

Ann Pennington, the celebrated Ziegfeld Follies star, is also appearing in Paramount pictures, was born in Camden, N. J., but before many years her ability as a dancer took her to Philadelphia where she was in great demand for amateur theatricals and other affairs.

So popular did Miss Pennington become that she soon received an offer to tour with the famous "Red Widow" company and later with one or two others, after which she joined the Ziegfeld Follies as one of its chief attractions where she has remained for the last three years.

It was while dancing in the Follies that Miss Pennington attracted the attention of the Famous Players and was offered a long-term contract. The success which she scored in "Sally Snowflake" and "The Babes in Prison" proved conclusively that they had made no mistake in selecting Miss Pennington as a star. In her latest picture, "The Little Soldier Boy," Miss Pennington has scored still another triumph in the winsome character of little Justina Howland. You can see Ann Pennington in the Famous Players-Paramount picture, "The Little Boy Scout," at the Isis theatre on Saturday only.

FOOD SAVING TALKS QUEEN TURN IN TEXAS

(International News Service) DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 15.—In the fight to conserve food supplies a Dallas restaurant-hunt posted signs that molasses and hot cakes must come out "oven."

The sign says that any molasses left on a customer's plate after the consumption of an order of "wheats" will bring an extra charge on his check.

This restaurant has also adopted the use of eye pencils in change, several items on the menu being priced in odd cents, an unusual thing in the southwest.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Phone No. 53
O. A. Sabin, of Chicago, is here visiting his cousin, E. A. Landon. He expects to settle here.
Ladies G. A. R. Meet—The ladies of the G. A. R. will meet in social session at the home of Mrs. R. C. Cole, 150 Walnut street on next Saturday afternoon.

Goes To Seattle—Sheriff Frank McDonald left yesterday for Seattle to bring back C. W. Smith who was arrested there on the charge of stealing a Ford car from a farmer near Berger.

Delayed West Shoshone—The west end wool car which was to have left Buhl Tuesday was held up awaiting the arrival from Salt Lake City of an employe of the road to give a needed certificate. It arrived yesterday.

E. B. Elmore of Buhl was in Twin Falls this morning in connection with the sale of his farm near Buhl. Mr. Elmore has other farming interests in Montana and after disposing of his property here will leave for that state.

That Sprinkling Improves the country—The drought is not so bad as one who drove from Twin Falls to Kimberly before the water and process was applied and will make the trip again note the improvement is simply remarkable.

Chlorine Plant Fixed—The chlorine plant at the reservoir, which has been out of kilter for several days was put back into full working order yesterday morning. One big tank which had been removed, so that another one fail to function at any time should not be put on without delay.

Threshing has just fairly commenced on the tract, and the yield, while not record-breaking, can certainly be called fairly good. The threshing outfit, doing its third job for the season on the farm of Mr. Kempton, near Kimberly, reported between forty-five and fifty bushels for the entire acreage.

Sale August 22—J. S. Flory, who lives a mile south and a mile or so quarter east of the Shoshone street bridge will hold an auction sale immediately after a noon lunch on Wednesday, August 22, which Col. H. B. Loe will describe the qualities of a lot of horses, cattle, hogs, feeds, implements, machinery and household goods.

Two Infants Die—Elsie Irene Savage, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Damon Savage, died in this city Tuesday night, aged only a few days. She was buried Wednesday afternoon from the Crosby chapel. The funeral of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wick, who died Tuesday, aged two days, was held Wednesday. The funeral services were conducted at the grave by Rev. E. Harman, of the Christian church.

Police Get More—Having rounded up eleven Monday night, the city officers are determined to get busy again when the shades of evening fall Tuesday. So they took up Roy Cluett and Howard Elsburn as well as several other persons. They ran in J. Z. George and Mrs. Phyllis Hok, charged with a statutory offense. Of the men arrested Monday, the Shoshone crowd entered a plea of not guilty and were bound over for a preliminary hearing. The bunch pulled for vagrancy were fined $10 and costs.

More Examined Yesterday—George William Lee, of Buhl, was examined Tuesday evening and passed the physical examination under the selective draft. He filed no exemption claim. Word was received from Dwight L. Morris, called for the first examination. His notice had caught him in Omaha, where he will be examined on the filing of proper affidavit and receiving a permit thereon. James Cox, of Nevada, Clarence C. Dungan, of Mt. Lake City and Leighton Sexton, of Seattle, were examined yesterday afternoon.

The Kimberly Fire Department is strictly business, as anyone can testify who witnessed the run made by it yesterday afternoon. The fire bell had not been struck over six times before the first section flew out of the house dragging a second section. The fire was raged up the street, followed about thirty seconds later by a second squad and another similar extinguisher. The fire proved to be a large frame-burn or machine shed, about two blocks north. Some children had evidently kindled a fire on the inside, and ignited the machine on the outside. The fire discovered it had run up to the sixteen foot eaves and on up the roof to the ridge pole, and had run down the ridge in several places. The fire company did its work quickly and well, and in ten minutes there was nothing to show except smoke, and the burned strip.

Drill Again Thought—Although the attendance Tuesday night was not as good as the officers of the Home Guard hoped, they are not discouraging and say that they believe that the people generally will eventually realize the importance of seeing the matter drilled. They say that a number of boys are coming out regularly and that these are getting really beneficial training from the exercises. The efficiency of the corps, according to the officers, will depend on the training of the men who belong. They think that the more drill they get, the better they will be. It is being called into service, it ought to occur to all the members that they ought to be as efficient as possible. The Home Guard is a body of men who are not little, and even should those whose names are attached come out, without training, their service would be crippled. They assert that they still have hopes that those in whose interest the guard was organized will all realize the importance of attending.

Going to Chicago—Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ritter and their son, Elmer, of New York City, spent a few days with Mrs. Ritter's brother, H. C. Schaefer and family on their way to Vancouver, B. C. Richard H. is on his way to Fokien, China, where he will go into the work of the Y. M. C. A. On their return home Mr. and Mrs. Ritter expect to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer and family. Mr. Schaefer has not seen his sister in thirteen years.

Taken by Tautons—A Guibert of this city has just received a letter from the wife of his foster-brother, who were living in the department of Alsace, France, covers a few months ago from the Germans. Her husband who is fifty-four years old was carried away to some unknown place in Germany with half of the population of the town where they were living. It was only owing to her sickness in bed that she was not deported. The town is partly blown up and destroyed by fire.

Going To France—Lieutenant Homer Youngs, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Youngs of this city, has been called from Presidio to join his regiment, the Sixteenth Infantry, which is now in France, and will sail from an American port to Europe at once, according to a telegram received by his mother this morning. Lieutenant Youngs was a professor in the University of Idaho, when the war broke out. He had an unusually good military training, and was promoted specially to first lieutenant in the training school. Immediately thereafter he was tendered a position as second lieutenant in the regular army in the field and accepted the post of glory and danger.

REPORTS FOR HER IF SHE CAN BE FOUND

(International News Service)
TOLLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 16—Any one knowing the whereabouts of Mrs. J. D. King, a hatmaker, will confer a favor on the proprietor of a hat establishment here and pave the way to Mrs. King's recovery, a fortune, if they will convey the information to Mrs. Annie May Lignoskey, general delivery, Toledo, Ohio, housekeeper for the hat manufacturer, who is eighty years of age.

Thirteen years ago Mrs. King, then a widow, tall, thin, with large brown eyes, brown hair and a sweet and expression, was employed in the hat factory here. She left Toledo, going to Atlanta, where her employer lost all trace of her. He is now a feeble health and, it is said, desirous to leave his entire fortune to Mrs. King.

PROBABLY THE MEN ARE MORE CLEVER

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 16—According to the divorce records of Ohio women is "more unfaithful than men." During the past year Ohio courts granted 315 husbands divorces because of the immoral conduct of their wives while only 262 wives received divorces on the same grounds.

MARKET REPORTS CORRECTLY TO TIME OF GOING TO PRESS

The wheat market reports received by the farm bureau at 1 o'clock this afternoon showed a decline for September with no cash quotations; December corn was 11.13; May corn $1.10 to $1.11. Barley cash price was $1.20. One September was 55 1/2 to 56. All these are per bushel. Toledo prices on clovers were $11.65 for alfalfa and $12 on red. No white clover quotations have been received but the local market today is reported as high as fifty-two cents a pound. The quality of the red and alfalfa clovers is so superior on the Twin Falls tract that the price usually runs about up with the average Toledo price, commanding a premium there.

COMPLETE LIST OF TWIN FALLS COUNTY

BEST OF VEGETABLES

Corn, Tomatoes and Eggplant Are Favored for Table.

Successive Plantings of Sweet Corn May Be Made—Tomato and Eggplant Are Started and Handled in About Same Way.

Three of the most popular vegetables for the family-table are sweet corn, tomatoes and eggplant.

Sweet corn, to be at its best, should be eaten within four days after it is picked. For its sugar content disappears very rapidly after it is removed from the garden.

Another favorite vegetable is the tomato, which now forms one of the most important of our garden crops.

Eggplant is Popular.

plants are especially desirable and they may be brought into the blooming period by the time it is warm enough to plant them with safety in the garden.

Eggplant is started and handled in the same way as the tomato. It is, perhaps, less well-known, but is rapidly becoming a popular vegetable.

REDUCTION IN LIVING COSTS

Garden is Quickest and Best Means of Lessening Expenses and Relieves Food Shortage.

The garden is the quickest and best means of reducing the cost of living. Present food prices can best be relieved by growing a new supply of food.

By planting a garden the consumer can relieve the food shortage directly in a few weeks. He can substitute his own garden vegetables for canned products and for many of the high-priced staples.

BIG MISTAKE WITH HARNESS

Poor Practice to Hang It Over or Near Manure—Ammonia Destroys Life of Leather.

A mistake that is often made is that of hanging harness over or near manure. The ammonia rising from the manure sooner or later destroys the life of the leather.

IMMENSE DEMAND FOR FOOD

World's Needs and Possible Profits Should Stimulate Farmers to Their Best Efforts.

There appears to be a world-wide demand for foodstuffs. Prices for all staple crops are high and promise to continue above the average level for a year or more.
