FULL LEASED WIRE NEWS SERVICE NOW GIVEN PATRONS OF "TIMES"

ANOTHER RADICAL STEP FORWARD

It is with pleasure and satisfaction that the management of the Twin Falls Twice-A-Week and Sunday TIMES announces the installation in its office of a special leased wire for the receipt of full daily news service, which will be in use from and after tomorrow (Friday) morning at 8 o'clock.

As has been known and observed, the skeleton news service received during the past eight months has enabled the TIMES to lay before its readers all important items of state, national or world news from six to eighteen hours before they could be brought to them by any other paper.

For the present at least the TIMES will continue to publish three editions each week as heretofore, each edition covering two days' news service—that of the first day reaching our readers on even terms with outside dailies, and that of the second day many hours earlier.

Special attention is also invited to the fact that bulletins covering important news will be promptly posted at the TIMES office for convenient observation. Communities are builded into greatness by progressiveness on the part of their citizens, and especially of their business men.

IMMENSE WHEAT CROP

More Than Doubles Last Year's Crop

Uncle Sam Falls For Much Larger Average.

John W. Hardin, manager of the Kimberly-Elevator company, in conversation yesterday said that the wheat yield in the Kimberly vicinity would be just double the yield last year. "The yield per acre is averaging about the same and the acreage is about double what it was last year. There have been approximately eight thousand acres of wheat planted in the Kimberly territory this year, and estimating from the standpoint of forty bushels per acre, there would be a total yield of three hundred and twenty thousand bushels in this district. Possibly about fifteen thousand bushels will be kept for seed, leaving three hundred fifty thousand bushels for the market. This is the way Mr. Hardin looked at the wheat condition about Kimberly this year.

So far there has been no trouble in getting cars and train space in three loads of wheat are leaving the Kimberly elevator every day for Denver, where all grain is being shipped. If plenty of cars can be had Mr. Hardin thinks they can handle the crop as fast as it comes in. The Kimberly Elevator company is working directly under the Twin Falls Flour Mill and Elevator company for $250 and have Milling and Elevator company of Denver, Colorado. Four big milling companies operate under this head. The Hamilton, McLean, Hines and Company, The Crescent Mill and Elevator company, The Denver Mill and Elevator company, and the Colorado Mill and Elevator company.

That the farmers of the Kimberly territory are prospering from their wheat crop this year is evidenced in the fact that J. J. Dunn, district manager of Kimberly, just received a check for $9,646.50 for his crop. Bennett Bros. received a check from the Kimberly Elevator company for $4,500 and have twenty acres yet to thresh. They kept their seed out at home, over 500 bushels of oats for feed and seed, and yet have $2,000 worth of hay to sell. These immense profits were made from 150 acres of land, for which they are paying $2,400 a year rent.

Mr. Hardin estimates that they can store at least 50,000 bushels of sacked grain. If necessary outside of the elevator proper, and are at the present time handling all kinds of grain and grass seeds. Part of the grain they have recently installed a complete fire fighting equipment and have on duty every night to guard, who is a deputy sheriff. Several men are being employed this year to handle the grain. J. K. Bullin of Denver heads the Colorado Milling and Elevator company. L. B. Brantley of Twin Falls has charge of the Twin Falls tract, and John W. Hardin is general manager of the local elevator.

H. Denton, local manager of the Farmers Grain and Milling company, also states a great crop of wheat. This concern is handling over 2,000 bushels of wheat every day and have handled as high as 3,000 bushels in a single day. It will be interesting to note here that all over the state there is an increased acreage of wheat this year, and yet the same acreage is being harvested in some areas with greater acreage than last year's crop. The following extract from the Leader Herald notes from Canyon county, "Will probably be of interest to Kimberly wheat growers who are contemplating including in the wheat business next year, by planting fall wheat?

Idaho farmers are asked to plant 20,000 more acres of winter wheat this fall, an increase of 17 per cent. This request from the federal government was promised the support of wheat growers, bankers and extension workers of nine western states who met last week with officers of the U. S. D. at Spokane. Some states are asked to plant far more than Idaho. Oregon, for example, is being asked to increase her winter wheat acreage 50 per cent this year. This is to insure a larger supply for home and overseas consumption. This year's crop of wheat is probably more than 150 million bushels below expectations.

For Idaho, estimating that there are more than 6,000 farmers who ordinarily grow winter wheat, this call for patriotic service may easily be met. It would mean that the average grower of winter wheat increase his acre-

BOINGS OF THE TOWN BOARD

All has been well with the new sprinkler, just recently purchased by the town, except a means of filling it. They have been getting their water from the well located on the corner of the school park, but the pumping apparatus is rather inconvenient, and insufficient for handling so much water. Plans are under way at the present time to install a better pumping system.

Three or four parties, who have heretofore taken advantage of Kimberly's lack of speed laws, found out during the past week that if they cared anything for ten or twenty dollars, it was best to go easy in the town limits. The town officials are determined to put a stop to the fast driving and give no consideration to rank or position when the ordinance is broken.

At a meeting of the town board last Tuesday night, it was decided to put forth an effort to bring the coming days to put a stop to careless driving in the city limits. Complaints are coming before the town officials concerning careless driving and careless driving that is endangering pedestrians. Dealings with offenders will be stern, and the fines levied on parties in question will be to the limit.

Questions concerning grading the town for future sidewalks and building curbs were considered. It is hoped that grade levels will be decided upon in the next few days, so that residents putting in sidewalks will be in compliance with established levels thus avoiding uneven sidewalks in the future.

Guide signs and turn-to-the-right signs were considered for the principal corners in the town. These will be installed at an early date. Various other important business was attended to.

age less than ten acres. Surely that is not an unreasonable demand. Professor J. S. Jones, director of the experiment station, university of Idaho, points out that there are many good reasons why wheat growers of the state should fall into line with this program.

First, Idaho is already a heavy producer of winter wheat and his small increase that is asked will not, in any real sense, increase the systems of farming nor heavy expenses in the matter of securing suitable harvesting machinery.

Second, winter wheat ordinarily yields more than spring wheat. The average yield of winter wheat in Idaho is sometimes higher than in any other state, being 27 1/2 bushels per acre as against 16 bushels per acre for the entire country.

Third, winter wheat is usually sown at a time of year when other farm work is not particularly pressing.

Fourth, the partial replacement of spring wheat with winter wheat on irrigated projects would result in an appreciable saving of water and time in the practice of bare summer fallowing.

Fifth, winter wheat is the surest crop for the dry farmed areas.

Sixth, in north Idaho where the rain fall is 18 inches or more, there can be at least a partial bare summer fallowing.

Seventh, a price that now appears to be fairly remunerative is guaranteed for the 1918 crop.

Eighth, if the best of the nation for the greater production of bread stuffs, there is for the Idaho farmer an opportunity for a profitable, patriotic service of the highest order.

While it is believed that the farmers will heed this call in putting in the crop, at the same time the seed which should be planted with care and attention. More than ever we should use care in preparing a good seed bed. Use clean ground and especially clean seed. We must treat the seed for smut and get it in the ground in time. Haste makes waste. At no time was there ever greater need for practicing the best methods. We should conserve as well as increase.

shown in a local congregation over the subject of prayer as in now shown by the series of sermons which are being delivered on this tremendous subject.

In the evening beginning at 7:15 p. m. the young people's society of the Christian Endeavor will hold their regular prayer meeting service. There will be a report of the Pacemaker Convention by the delegate who was sent, and Mrs. V. G. Backman will reproduce some of the stories that were told concerning Africa by the famous missionary, Dr. Dye. The time is now at hand when all the young people who have been interested in the young people's meeting should give their support by giving their presence. Evening services begin at 8 p. m. sharp. A large choir and good music. Evening sermon by the pastor.

"Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, that they are white already unto the harvest." These were the words of the Master as he stood by Jacob's well, and looking upon the crowds who were coming to him to see his works and hear his message. Harvest time is here. Load after load of grain is being hauled daily to the great storehouse of the harvest. We are indeed blessed with plenty materially. God has indeed been good to us. But there are other fields also that are now white unto the harvest. Now in this great glorious harvest time we find men and women all about us who are receiving the blessing of life from above. But yet there are many who need to know Christ and his salvation through love and obedience to the higher commands of life. If ever in the course of weeks and seasons Christian people should gather in the house of God and offer up to him their thanks and dedicate themselves to him in greater service it is now, when he has so bountifully blessed them.

Come let us meet next Lord's Day for a deeper service of thanksgiving. The Sunday evening text will be found in the verse above quoted, "Lift up your eyes, and look upon the fields, that they are white already unto the harvest."

Earl, staying in company with a friend, he left for the east by way of Salt Lake, Denver and Omaha, where he will accept a situation in the mercantile line.

The Men's and Women's Bible class of the Methodist Sunday school, held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. G. Sampson. A splendid program was enjoyed, and refreshments were served. BIG FAMILY REUNION
 Sixty Relatives and Two Friends of the Family Gather From All Parts of Country for Good Time

The home of W. R. Eubanks at Hannon was the joyful meeting place of sixty members of one great family and two old friends of the family. Coming from all parts of the country, brothers, sisters, grandchildren and nieces met to spend last Sunday with one another, and all day long they continued their funmaking and recollection of old times not forgotten. Among those who gathered for the feast and funmaking were Mr. and Mrs. Grant King and their large family—consisting of Baby Ida, Mrs. Phyllis Loren and Mr.—and Mrs. Clyde King and children, Velma and Mitchell King, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Leonard and their children, Earl, George, Ernest, Floyd, Ray and John, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wilson, with their children, Katherine and Roy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. King and children, Almond, Ruth, Roy, Bernice, Clarice, Mrs. James Kindahl with Collie and George Kindahl.

The two friends of the family who were present were Leo Venneman and Ida Mae Cleiman. So many were the guests that it was found impossible to provide a table large enough to entertain all. Fortunately the sumptuous spread of fried chicken, gravy, salads, one dozen fruit cakes, pies, pickles, sandwiches and ice cream, was served cafeteria style. Mrs. Grant King, Mrs. Clyde King, Mrs. Bernice Packwood, Mrs. George Drummer, Mrs. Arthur W. Taylor served as the remainder of the crowd passed by the long table and picked out according to their own choice. They were the most desired. Then some went out on the lawn, others found chairs in the house, some went back and others, being in jolly count, made merry together until the close of the day.

The gathering occurred at the home of W. R. Eubanks and wife. They of course were present, together with their sons and daughters, as follows: George, Roy, Elora, Kent, Oren, Chester, Mrs. and Mrs. Bremer, and their children, Donald, Wilburn, Howard. There was also Horace Eubanks and wife and children, Lucille and Orville. Others who were there were Mrs. Arthur Town and children Ruth, Grace, Mabel, and Baby Town, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Banks and their sons, Earl, George, Ernest, Floyd, Ray and John, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wilson, with their children, Katherine and Roy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. King and children, Almond, Ruth, Roy, Bernice, Clarice, Mrs. James Kindahl with Collie and George Kindahl.

Second Liberty Loan Very Soon

Bond Issue Will Be Placed on the Market Not Later Than November 1—Advertising A Question.

WASHINGTON—Secretary McAdoo of the treasury has issued a statement that the campaign to sell the second issue of Liberty Loan Bonds will close on the first of November, 1917, and the active campaign will begin later than a month before that date. The secretary explains that details of the loan cannot be worked out until final action has been taken by congress upon the war bond bill pending but announces that as soon as the act has been passed the details will be given out. The secretary expresses a hope that all existing Liberty Loan committees will perfect their organizations and new organizations be effected in readiness for the next campaign.

As in the first campaign the committee will be under the supervision of the Federal Reserve bank, which will act as the fiscal agent of the government. The question of whether the United States government should engage in the policy of paying for advertisement in newspapers has been much agitated of late, especially in regard to the selling of Liberty Loan Bonds. This being a strictly money matter the question comes up more squarely in connection with the advertising of bond, food conservation or other governmental matters given publicity.

Secretary McAdoo said the treasury has just received a statement dealing with this matter. After referring to the great amount of advertising patriotically given to the Liberty Loan Bonds in the first campaign by newspapers and other advertising agencies, and by banks and other concerns and by individuals; the secretary contends the impression that the government asked for free advertising or paid for in the first Liberty Loan campaign was advertising in the newspaper. The great success of the loan he attributes in a very great degree to the voluntary and patriotic work and advertising space patriotically given free to the government.

While acknowledging the tremendous value of advertising the secretary points out that the relation of the government to the press and to the public generally is such that the question of paid advertising is by no means a problem very much more complex than it would be to a private enterprise. The government cannot use the thorough discrimination as to the mediums it should use, but would be obliged to be thoroughly democratic and impartial and the cost of such an undertaking would be very great and would exceed the appropriation available under the existing law.

The secretary, however, states that the matter is being very carefully considered, but a decision cannot be arrived at until a better knowledge is had as to the cost of the campaign and until the appropriation available for the purpose has been settled by congress.

Foes of Germany Divide the World Waters

America and Brazil on West Atlantic, Japan on Pacific and England, France and Italy in Europe Dominate.

By K. Kay Spencer
(Written especially for International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—On the seas of the world the fighting vessels of the allied nations maintain the most gigantic and effective blockade ever enforced since the time of Caesar's campaign that preceded Pompey's overthrow.

In this sea that has swallowed the hulks of the navies of Carthage, Greece and Rome the "camouflaged" ships of the mightiest engines ever constructed by man float in a constant state of skill and daring. The Anglo-French-Greece-Italian fleet maintains a strange blockade of every mile of Mediterranean coast line. Despite the alertness of the many allied fighting vessels the Central Empire finds here their most profitable hunting ground. The Kingdom of Italy suffers the loss of a serious coal shortage due to the severe losses of Italian shipping, and is dependent by neutral and British shipping, in these waters. Indeed, the sinkings are so numerous and vital that a serious British offensive has always been stalled by the undersea power of the German Empire. Out of one fleet of coal ships sailing from Genoa to Liverpool and returning twelve miles only five returned to their home port.

In the Eastern Atlantic and the English channel there is in effect the most extensive and impenetrable blockade of any. During the day, British and French scout ships nose their precursors way among the shoals in close proximity to the German coastal waters watching for signs of enemy forces. These waters are thickly strewn with mines, both mine mines extensively used in their programme of attack or defense. "Sporadic raids" by German light units are occasionally successful, but these are being met by a more and more effective and far-reaching British navy to combat the submarine menace. In spite of the contrary reports, the British are in an experimental stage and are of doubtful effectiveness, especially since a submarine force of the most powerful nets now in use by the Admiralty.

With the coming of night and darkness, the schedule is altered somewhat, and merchant fleets which have been forming in sheltered ports during the day are congregated around the channel in well defended routes. The convoy consists of no capital ships, but of destroyers and scout ships which run in the formation, in courses and at terrific speeds. With protecting units in front, behind and surrounding them, the fleet usually sails in a harbor or Dutch territorial waters in safety. Here the naval squadron stops short and the merchants go safely on into their ports of destination. The strategy of the returning convoy which has been formed elsewhere, and under the protection furnished to it, takes its way westward. Occasionally a submarine is torpedoed and mine victims are at intervals found.

Holland, through a neutral, has her place in the blockade of the world waters. Eliminating Dutch waters of floating mines and anchored mines which have been her anchorage for the Netherlands, she maintains an extensive force of trawlers. Her trawlers, which are used by the warring empires should she enforce the law in a manner the marine law of the three-mile limit.

In the western Atlantic the republics of the United States and Brazil patrol with light vessels practically the entire American continent. Canadian cruisers have their part in this work. Due to the naval policy of the United States every merchant vessel in United States registry forms a part of the American fleet. In the case of blockade and defense against the undersea boats are concerned. These vessels are armed by the United States navy and naval gunners sail on every ship.

The principal forces in the Pacific are Japanese cruisers and destroyers. They have taken over the former German islands of the Marshall and Mariana groups and the east and west Caroline archipelagos. The capture of England was effected through the Japanese naval strategy. They lost by a mine the cruiser Takachido before their force of available service was rendered to the British and Australian cruisers operating in this part of the world in the shape of coal and munitions. The capture of the German 6,000-ton mine of coal in foreign enemy has succeeded in forcing an entry upon the Pacific incident in 1881 and before that since the attempted Mongol invasion in 1881 and the Kuban Khan.

The most recent entrant in this struggle is the German. The king's yacht and several antiquated motor boats form their "navy," which blockades in its small way a portion of coast where no danger is ever likely to come, typhoons excepted.

British and Portuguese gunboats have the duty of maintaining the blockade of German East and Southwest Africa.

From Port Said to Alden the Red Sea is quiet under the control of British gunboats. In the Black Sea one upper hand is still a matter of content. Both tendencies seem to be intent on preserving their "fleets in being," to quote a not phrase of naval strategists. Only unimportant skirmishes have occurred, but in addition of the fugitive German units, the Brenau and the Goeben, have undoubtedly materially strengthened the Russian forces. The Germans seem to be more than able to defend their ports recently captured from the Roumanian and the Russians exhibit a distasteful tenacity about attacking in force. Mines in great quantities have been strewn in these waters.

In the Black Sea, the Russian fleet has thus far pursued a policy of stunning any action whatever. At least all attempts of German strategists to lure the Russians from the blanket of mine-fields have failed. True, they lost earlier in the war a number of small units and at least one capital ship through ill-considered actions, but since the first few months of the war they seem to have withdrawn and recorded the German tact control of the Black Sea. Some small units are reported, but the German Admiralty has failed to comment on them. They do not neglect, however, to plant mines in the Black Sea. Some small units make the Baltic a dangerous sea to navigate. Observers have reported sighting large German fleets sailing through ill-considered actions, but since the first few months of the war they seem to have withdrawn and recorded the German tact control of the Black Sea. The First Fixture I Bought For My Store

By C. S. King, of the King Mercantile Co., Joplin, Mo.

My theory is that it's better business to get all the profits on a $10,000 turnover than half the profits on a $20,000 one.

There increase in volume of sales is no guarantee of a ledger balance on the right side. You've got to get a just and fair profit on those sales.

A clerk sells a dollar's worth of groceries and makes an error of ten cents in adding up the slip. If it's an undercharge, your profit's gone. If it's an overcharge, your customer's confidence and perhaps her trade is gone. You lose either way.

I Cash In on Experience

Former experience taught me that getting all the profits depends largely upon the correct addition of small amounts.

So when I opened my new store I determined to put it on a basis of mechanical accuracy. That's why my Burroughs Figuring Machine was the first fixture that I put into the store.

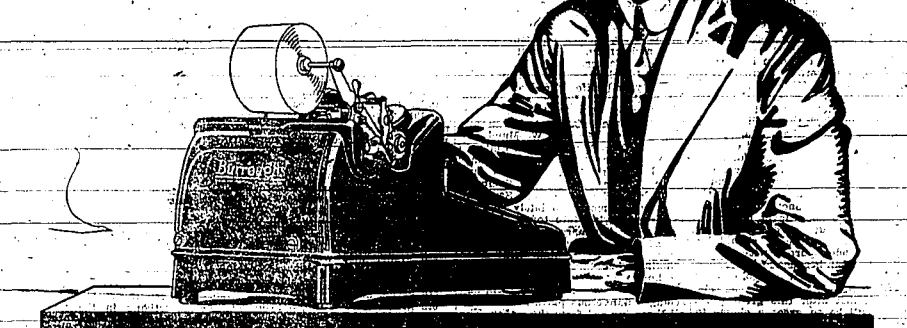

The first job I used it for was checking up the invoices on my new goods, and here alone, before I had opened the doors of my store, it caught errors enough to pay the first installment on the machine. If those errors had gone through they would have bitten a fair-sized chunk out of my profits.

And now it's on the job in the store every day assuring me that I get every cent of profit that is coming to me.

Cutting In on the Guess Work

There is no guess work in our figuring. Every sales slip is added up on the Burroughs. It is added quicker than the old way and we know it's right.

On Saturdays and Mondays—our busiest days—the cashier adds all the grocery orders on the Burroughs, relieving the clerks of that responsibility.

BATTERIES BEST BUILT FOR BOTH USE AND ABUSE

"A cheaply made or a poorly constructed battery can't long stand the abuse and neglect that the average battery has to endure," says Mr. Dow the local Willard man. "Take such a simple thing as the battery box, for instance. If this is poorly constructed it is no time at all before the jars and shocks of the average road's condition burst it apart at the joints." "In the Willard Storage battery this is guarded against by making the box of the very hardest wood obtainable and not only dove-tailing the joints but driving a hardwood dowel through to be sure that they don't spread." "Ordinary bolts and screws were used in the construction of the battery and would only be a short time before these would be corroded by the acid. For this not only the best materials obtainable must be used, but the screws themselves must be coated with acid-proof preparation before they can be used." "Many motorists like to their sorrow what a broken battery jar is. The jar particularly must be of good material and well made if they are going to stand up under the stress and strain of road service. The Willard Storage Battery company in order to give the Willard user the best possible protection against this form of "battery trouble," subjects all rubber for use to a tensile test of 3500 lbs. per square inch of section, and the finished jars to a 2,000 volt electricity test to search out small holes or weak spots."

KNIGHTS OF THE FIERY CROSS EXPOSED IN BIRTH OF A NATION

Ghostly with more sure footed than death fly—flesh and blood ghosts of the moonlight night in a war-ravaged southland—the avenging Ku Klux Klan swoops down upon the ravishing negro and grabs him up as a fish-hawk its prey, whirling him away God knows where, to a fate from which there is no escaping—this is one of the actual sights shown in Griffith's Birth of a Nation. In these scenes Thomas Dixon's "The Glensman" is revived with telling reality; practically all the romance and sentiment of the startling living panorama (always of course giving due credit to the history of the United States, to the civil and military exploits who laid out and planned the battles and were consulted as to the different scenes and episodes throughout) is D. W. Griffith's own creation. History has its skeletons in the closet, the same as families and individuals, and they are no worse off for being brought to light and shown up—even in glaring brightness—to the people who have a right to know.

DAME RUMOR IN WAR AND PEACE

The observations of a London alienist regarding war rumors circulated, apparently springing from nowhere are worthy of perusal, but they are not confined to matters of international or even national importance. Every major war has its own peculiar and frequently daily, comes in contact with local rumors that are told circumstantially and are, nevertheless, entirely without foundation. The alienist correctly says that such rumors never have their origin in a newspaper office, although newspaper men sometimes give them space after they are in circulation. More often the journalist runs them down and discovering their falsity, pays no further attention to them, unless they are about matters important enough to warrant a denial. Whenever a newspaper does, through failure to verify facts, publish a rumor as the truth it is denounced as disseminating false information as soon as the facts become known. Truth is that newspapermen are deceived fewer times than any other people on earth by canards. They handle an immense amount of matter furnished by a great many people, some of whom desire to deceive them and some of whom are what psychologists call "pathological liars," that is folks with over-developed imaginations, and without balance, but whose primary motive is not deception for any sinister purpose.

Considering the care required to sift rumors for the grain of truth they say they may contain, the wonder is that reporters are not more frequently deceived.

The alienist is right in saying that many false rumors start from the imperfect hearing of something said by a third party. A striking instance of this was the rumor circulated throughout the entire Twin Falls territory last year to the effect that a prominent Bull merchant had been drowned with his whole family at the Salmon dam.

A friend of the merchant drove into Bull in an auto on the day in question and the woman in the party called out to a friend on the sidewalk, "Mr. Blank and his whole family went over to the Salmon dam this morning." A bystander heard the statement but tried to catch the proposition "to," so that he understood the sentence to be, "Mr. Blank and his whole family went over the Salmon dam" this morning. The statement was excitedly repeated by the person who misunderstood it and who did not know the persons in the auto. Different Bull folks accepted the story and telephoned friends in Twin Falls and elsewhere, who in turn believed it and in a few hours the rumor was rife in every town on the Twin Falls tract. It cost the TIMES, and probably as well as the other papers on the tract, a neat sum for telephone tolls to disprove the report. Had the paper been as credulous as the people in other times the gentleman and family who were not drowned would have had a chance to read their own obituaries.

Of course the newspaper profession has its share of liars, "pathological" as well as "regular," and avowed "organ" are apt to be run by adepts in the work of "insinuating" falsehood without saying anything that will lay them liable. The pro-German press in this country at the present time is furnishing a splendid example of this sort of misrepresentation, the clip sheet of the liquor dealers association does some very "credible" work along the same line, and there are many others which fatten on the unwary and unsophisticated.

But for accuracy and thoroughness, the journalistic profession is, as a whole second to none.

That Stoughton, Mass., automobilist

demonstrator who ran into a tree and was killed did a very thorough job demonstrating the possibilities of an automobile.

Many of the people who object to paying double prices for munitions are the same ones who opposed preparedness for war years ago when it wouldn't have cost so much.

Some of our boy-friends indignantly deny that they welcome the new tomatoes because they are a valuable missile to throw at each other. They find them even more useful to decorate the school house door with.

It is not true that the embarkation of the American soldiers has been delayed owing to the inability to find a proper nickname for them.

It is quite a question for the motorist nowadays whether to get out on the crowded highways Sundays and get killed in a smashup, or go back on the rough back roads and get lost to death.

The German newspapers deny President Wilson's charges that the German people are ruled by their ministers, and besides they are opposed to democracy anyway.

WAR PROFITS AND REGULATION

Those who favor taking practically all the war profits, that is, all returns of industry above the per cent of profit made before the war, would demolish the system of war regulation now being extended over different industries for the period of the war. The theory of those favoring this plan is to let the industries charge the ultimate consumer as much as possible, buy as cheaply as possible from the original producer, get as much profit as possible and then have the government take most of it. If we are going to regulate things during war, then, when many industries temporarily take on the form of a monopoly by reason of the unnatural interruption of trade, the way to do is to adjust things fairly all around before exorbitant profit gets into the hands of monopoly.

For instance, the farmers of Twin Falls county, through the Twin Falls County Beetgrower's association last year began a battle which still continues, for a more equitable division of the profits resulting from the raising of sugar beets. There can be no question that readjustment should be had whereby a larger percentage of profit should go to the beet raisers. Anything which would give the sugar interests a chance to slip out of making such division would retard the prosperity of the community. The company is entitled to increased war prosperity along with other industries, but should divide and if it will not, since we are in the regulation business, should be made to divide. After that, if the profits, compared with the money invested, prove exorbitant, a surtax should be levied on the excess profits. But justice should first be secured for the producer of the raw material.

We believe that it will be a relatively short time until the nation gets around to all the industries to which regulation will be applied during the war. The theory is to first take those on which the consumers have to depend for things without which they cannot live. Hence, wheat and coal first received attention. It takes much investigation to arrive at a just conclusion after the determination to regulate a particular industry has been arrived at. But the government, carrying as it is, the burden of spending for a great war, is moving with surprising rapidity, considering the slowness which has characterized the American government under other administrations during previous wars, and especially considering the hindrance offered by a few pennant politicians in congress.

THE PRICE OF BREAD

Mr. Hoover does well to tell the people that the price of bread will depend very much on whether the public will take the necessary pains to avoid needless costs of distribution.

If people are going to send a hurry call to the grocery by telephone every time they want a loaf of bread for dinner, requiring the grocer to go out of his way to deliver it, then bread will come down from its present prices very little.

Apparently at the prices now fixed for flour, the price of bread will be reduced if such costs can be cut out. There is a chance here for stores to advertise that they will give the lowest rate to people who will come and carry the goods home and pay cash. Bread is not heavy, and there is no excuse for making grocers travel all over a town delivering it. People can pick it up on the way home as they do other errands. If people pay too much, it is simply that they have created a needless but costly delivery system that affects all commodities.

COHAN MOST IMITATED ACTOR

It imitation is flattery, then George M. Cohan would naturally be expected to encounter particular difficulty in obtaining a hat that would fit his head, for if any person connected with theatricals, has been imitated to any great extent than George M., that individual has never been written about. Quite contrary to the case often apparent, George Cohan is today as un-imitated and democratic as he was during the days he took his lessons on the violin back in Providence, R. I. His many friendships are sincere regarders of "stations in life" and "no one is as popular with the stage carpenter as he is with the greatest of theatrical and motion picture celebrities. That he will gain hosts of new friends as a result of his forthcoming motion picture debut is readily expected.

"Broadway Jones" is his initial picture to be shown at the Idaho Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

MRS. CHAS. O. BUTLER, 436 Fifth Ave., Est. will teach VOICE in the evenings to a limited number of pupils only.

Epidemic Among Automobiles—Another epidemic of malignant poliomyelitis broke out among users of auto vehicles in the city and a number of them have been taken to the office of Police Judge W. J. Smith where they have been treated successfully. None of the cases have proven fatal. The preliminary symptoms consist in uncontrollable desire to dash forward through space, although in cases of poliomyelitis this is sometimes complicated with an irritable disposition to do the air-splitting on the sidewalk. The next stage consists of the appearance of a spasm in blue, locking them to come in with it. Convulsions and down the spinal column, a bad attack of cold feet and a collapse as the spasm grips them. When the victims recover consciousness they find themselves in Dr. Smith's hospital, where they are cured by the old fashioned method of rest and massage from which place they go forth immune from future attacks, but generally with a feeling of depression. One of the first cases treated since the recent outbreak was that of Jack Smith, the son of the physician in charge, who underwent the operation with others. A number who have been exposed have not yet been brought in, but it is believed that they will all be on the operating table within a day or two. Those who have been cured so far since the present outbreak are Frank Burkhalter, Frank Burgess, Tom Smith, J. C. Beauchamp, Orville Blades, R. Oliver, Earl Wilkins, Jack Smith, W. S. Stearns, Fred Fenn, W. E. Anderson, H. C. Harris, F. F. Belleville, Vern Coussable, John Hay, F. E. Paget, I. G. Beaman, P. F. Sorenson, E. P. Nafziger, John Hughes and E. E. Anderson. Red Cross Work—Classes in Hygiene and Care of the Sick, under the instruction of Miss Ida Crockett, are being organized to begin October 1st. Those desiring to enroll, should have not already done so, should see Dr. Emma C. Crossland, McCormick block. The class in First Aid, which has been meeting weekly during the summer, was given the final examination last Thursday evening. Those present will be given a First Aid certificate by the American Red Cross.

Correction—One of the possibilities which was contemplated with resentment by the soldiers in the civil war was the likelihood that, after having been killed or wounded in battle, the newspapers would have their names spelled wrong in the lists of casualties and their friends would be unable to identify them. This is brought to mind through the fact that the name of Robert Earl Oakden who enlisted for the regular army and left Twin Falls July 2 for Camp Douglas, at Salt Lake, was the name incorrectly spelled in the TIMES, which makes the correction herewith with apologies.

Great Showing—There is now on exhibition in the office of the Hercules Nitrate company, 121 Main avenue east a quantity of specimens, including the remains of the well-known tank from the breast of the tubular being driven on its property for the purpose of investigation, that make a wonderful showing. The Matthews brothers, who discovered and located the mine, are now for the first time going deeply into the bluff from which the rich leadings that first arrested attention. These samples, which they have sent to headquarters for analysis, are being used to demonstrate the value of the deposit, both as to quality and quantity. A ship can be broken at random from the mountain side, that, when subjected with a match, will burn fiercely and continuously to almost entire consumption.

Leaves for California—W. N. Birch, formerly county agricultural agent for Twin Falls county, accompanied by his wife and two children, left for Berkeley, California, where he will be connected with the University of California extension work, with the title of county agricultural agent. While here, Mr. Birch made many friends among the people of the city and country, and made several discoveries of great value to agriculture, including a nest in the fields. To a TIMES representative yesterday, he said that he desired to express his appreciation of the cooperation of the newspaper in his work here and to extend the newspapers his thanks for the unselfish manner in which they helped county agent work by giving publicity to all activities for farm betterment. Mrs. Birch goes from here to Whittier, California, to visit relatives.

Grand Entertainment—The Twin Falls public will be offered an unusually pleasing entertainment on Friday evening, September 28, when the county popular to Moss Stand will offer one of their concerts at the Episcopal Parish Hall, under the auspices of this company. The entertainment consists of Henry and George Deans, who have part in 1872, Mrs. George De Moss, Elbert and Homer De Moss, the two little prodigies who comprise the four greatest vocalists of the Northwest, and Miss Mabel Borchard, reader and pianist. Their program consists of vocal duets, trios, quartets, and solos, including vocal solos, piano quartets, flute solos, violin solos, cello solos, hand bell playing, two cornets at once by one person, imitation of climbing on guitar and banjo, readings and monologs.

NAVY EXPANDS ITS ACTIVITIES RAPIDLY (International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—With a contingent in France, the business of raising a great number of 25,000 sailors under the selective draft, and the officers being turned out at the training camps, army activities have overshadowed to a large extent the navy's part in the war thus far. But the navy is not lagging far behind, if it can be called lagging at all. Here is the situation in the navy, gathered from official sources: One hundred and fifty new destroyers are to be provided, in addition to those now building. Every reserve ship in the navy has been fully manned, and a great many auxiliaries have been added. Since the day war was declared the whole coast of the United States has been under constant patrol by naval vessels and every port particularly well guarded. Navy enlistments have reached 115,000. Ten thousand national naval volunteers are in service, in addition to a reserve force of 35,000 men. Contracts have been placed for every destroyer that the yards of the

One of the first loads of red clover seed to be threshed in the Deep Creek country west of Buhl, was that of O. R. White. He had a four acre field which he threshed the first of this year, and the yield was ten bushels per acre.
This week's price of red clover seed has been about 21 cents per bushel. The yield of Mr. White's seed crop is $120 per acre. He also received a fair hay crop from the first cutting.

Plans are under way for another modern brick building to be erected on the lots adjoining the Ford Garage. It is expected that the building will be put up this fall, if the present plans materialize. The man who has the promotion of the deal did not give out any details as to who was going to finance the work, and what the building will be rented for, will be made known during the next few weeks.

About the quietest election ever held in this city occurred on Tuesday when the terms of two members of the school board expired and an election had been called. But two men had been nominated for the place, M. P. Dau and Russ W. Alfred. Both men have served for three years and have given such general satisfaction that their re-election will be approved by the majority of the patrons. The entire vote recorded went to those two men with the exception of one vote.

The election was held in the high school building.

BACK FROM THE FUNERAL OF HER MOTHER IN COLO.

Mrs. E. D. Kollong of this city is home from Delta, Colorado, where she attended the funeral of her mother, Mrs. H. M. Gray, who was known to many people, who met her when she and her husband and daughter, Mrs. Dora Wagoner, visited their daughter Mrs. Kollong in Twin Falls.

The following is taken from the Delta Independent:

Mrs. H. M. Gray passed to the Great Beyond on Tuesday, August 28, after an illness of about three weeks. Death was due to heart trouble and dropsy. Deceased was a kind and loving wife and mother and always had a smile and cheery word for friends and neighbors. Mrs. Gray was a woman of strong vitality which, mingled with a strong will, helped her to rally many times before the end. A brother, J. A. Jamison, of McCook, Nebraska, was at her bedside when the final summons came.

Miss Angeline P. Jamison was born in Calaway county, Missouri; June 19, 1846, being 77 years, 2 months and 12 days of age. She resided in Calaway county until grown and then moved to Bates county, Missouri, and was married to Henry M. Gray on May 15, 1851. They came to Colorado in 1874 and moved to Delta in 1884, where she resided until death claimed her.

To this union five children were born, three girls and two boys, the boys passed away at the ages of 19 years and 18 months, respectively. They met death at Buena Vista, Colo.

Four sisters and two brothers are left to mourn their loss. Four of the six reside in Colorado, a brother in Nebraska and a sister in Missouri. The immediate members of the family are H. M. Gray, Mrs. Dora Wagoner, Mrs. Mattie Hall, Mrs. Ed. Kollong, J. A. Jamison, Walter Hall, Rose Hall and Marie Brown.

Funeral services were held at the Christian church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Leslie Ober officiating. The choir rendered beautiful and appropriate selections. Members of the G. A. R. acted as pall bearers. Interment was at Delta cemetery.

Butler wrapper headquarters is at the TIMES office, where they will be printed at any time, in their turn, like any other job.

MARMON 34

You Can Trust Your Life To Marmon Brakes

Safety often depends on the efficiency of a motor car's brakes, and the ease with which the driver can apply them. At a critical moment no feature is more important.

Marmon engineers have developed a braking system with a greater margin of safety than is the rule in cars of any class, regardless of price.

Consider first the Marmon's emergency brake—always conveniently within reach of the driver's right hand. As you sit at the wheel, no movement of the body is required to apply it.

This hand-brake operates a set of two internal brakes on the rear wheels. The foot pedal operates a set of two external brakes. Their combined braking area is 160 square inches—10 square inches for every hundred pounds of weight—extraordinary brake capacity. Marmon's permit you to retard your car smoothly though quickly, or bring it to an abrupt halt.

Light cars do not require brakes so large as heavy cars. Yet not withstanding the Marmon's 1600 pounds of brake weight, the diameter of brake drums is half the diameter of the wheels with tires mounted. Let a demonstration prove to you that the Marmon with its extraordinary braking efficiency requires a minimum of effort in handling.

Boys Reserve in Idaho Is Formed

Governor Issues Proclamation—Some of the Membership Requirements Are Stated.

Proclamation. Whereas, the honorable secretary of labor has officially created the United States Boys Working Reserve and has requested the co-operation of the several governors in bringing into a successful issue the valuable service the Reserve can accomplish in addition to the dependable labor supply of the country, and Whereas, the national government has selected Harvey Alfred, state director of farm markets, to be the director of the reserve in Idaho, and has requested me to make a proclamation regarding the mobilizing of our boys between the ages of 16 and 21 for patriotic service in agricultural or other industry, for the protection of all forms of utility during this great crisis of the nation. Now, therefore, I, Moses Alexander, governor of the State of Idaho, do call upon all county superintendents, of schools, all teachers in our public schools, all county agents, all county farm bureaus, all farmers' organizations, all Y. M. C. A. organizations, all Boy Scout groups, all church clubs, all patriotic organizations, including the public safety committees, to lend instant and capable support to this vastly important enterprise to the end that Idaho may in a worthy way support and sustain the national government in its lofty service to humanity and democracy. Given under my hand and the great seal of the State of Idaho, this twenty-first day of August in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and eighteen.

M. ALEXANDER, Governor.

(SEAL) The following are the conditions of membership in the organization: Any boy who is 16 years of age at his latest birthday and who is less than 21 may enroll in the reserve, provided: 1. That he obtain the consent, in writing, of his parents or guardian, or, if employed, the consent of his employer for the term of the boy's intended vacation. 2. He must be free from communicable or other diseases, and possess no inherent weakness such as to unfit him for the rigors of farm labor or his intended occupation as attested by a physician or physical director. 3. He must subscribe to the oath of allegiance before his enrolling officer. Any person designated by the state director or recognized as an enrolling officer of boys organizations is deemed an enrolling officer. More enrollment fees not constitute membership in the reserve until the applicant is formally accepted by being licensed to wear the official badge furnished by the reserve. The official badge, on which is inscribed "Boy's Working Reserve, U. S. A." and bears the national seal, is awarded on the following conditions: That the boy has given services to the nation by actual work on the farm or in other employment, at least, three weeks or until he has proved his fitness for the particular occupation in which he has engaged as a patriotic service, it being intended that membership in the reserve is to be composed of only the capable and energetic. 2. That the boys sign a receipt when the badge is awarded to them by the enrolling officer. 3. That the applicant enrolled here will be given a certificate bearing the seal of the United States, stating that he has been enrolled as a member. 4. That the applicant has proved his fitness by actual work for the period indicated on the badge for the year 1917, provided he has worked loyally and faithfully, on written recommendation stated, he is given the official bronze of the local leader or officer, who is familiar with the work, he will receive a bronze bar to be attached to the lower part of the badge, on which is inscribed "Honorable Service, 1917." The wage rate paid to the boys by the employer must necessarily vary, since different kinds of work, different localities, and degree of experience command different rates of compensation. The local organization will, so far as possible, find places for boy workers in nearby communities. Where the applicant has no such organizations make arrangements with some local physician (there are many who are sufficiently patriotic to give their services to this cause) to examine all applicants for enrollment and certify to their fitness on the enrollment card.

OLGA PETROVA AT IDAHO WEDNESDAY ONLY. Mme. Olga Petrova, star in the Metro-Popular Plays and Players production, "The Waiting Soul," to be shown at the Idaho Wednesday only, added to her laurels in her present play, which is a picturized version of Marlon Short's story supervised by Aaron Hoffman and directed by Burton King. The star's ability at initiating unimals, birds and musical instruments, and her cleverness as a singer and dancer, gained her the position of headliner in vaudeville in London, Paris (where she played at the Palais Berger), and later in New York, where she inaugurated the New York Folies Bergeres. After starring in "Panthen" and "The Revolt" Maud Petrova gave her attention to motion pictures, in which her classic type of beauty is especially suited. Among her most important photographs, in which her beauty and dramatic power have been admirably mingled, are "The Secret of Eve," "Bridges Burned," "The Black Butterfly," "The Eternal Question," "The Scarlet Woman," and "My Madonna." The program includes two vaudeville numbers and a Universal comedy.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION. Notice is hereby given that on Saturday, the 22nd day of September, 1918, a special election will be held in the King Hill Irrigation District, in the state of Idaho, for the purpose of determining whether or not the said district shall enter into a contract with the United States in terms substantially as follows—to-wit: The United States agrees to expend for the benefit of the district, in the repair, extension and improvement of the irrigation works, directly or indirectly, or in the substitution of other works, including costs of surveys and estimates heretofore or hereafter to be made, including engineering, overhead expenses, right of way, real property, damages to property, if any, in the sum of One Million Dollars, or much thereof as the secretary of the interior shall find necessary, beginning with that part of said works which shall be found most urgent, continuing with that end in view until completed, and with the purpose of keeping an available supply of water for the irrigation of the lands appropiated or to be put under cultivation, until the amount herein provided for has been expended or so much thereof as shall have been appropriated or allotted by the congress of the United States for that purpose. The District agrees on its part to pay the United States the sum of One Million Dollars or so much thereof as may be expended in the performance of the work hereinabove specified, including the other charges mentioned in connection therewith; but should congress fail to make the appropriation after the expenditure of the Two Hundred Thousand Dollars already appropriated, the secretary of the interior is to terminate the contract by notice to the district, with a statement of the amount expended, including costs and expenditures aforesaid. And in such an event the amount to be paid by the district to the United States will be the actual amount expended. The amount found to be paid by the United States on the completion of the contract shall be payable in five equal annual installments, the first to become due on December 1, 1921, and one on December 1 of each year thereafter until the whole thereof has been paid, no interest to be paid on deferred payments unless not paid at maturity, and in the event of default interest and penalties will be charged.

The district further agrees that the obligations created by the contract shall be the first lien upon the funds, real estate, property and resources of the district, and that the district will not incur any obligations prior to those of the contract, nor obligation requiring payment prior to the completion of the payments to the United States without the express consent of the secretary of the interior, except for the cost and expense of the operation and maintenance of the irrigation works, the maintenance and repair of the property and resources of the district. To hasten the reclamation of all the irrigable lands of the district and assure an increase in the needed food supply of the nation, it is provided that all owners of land in the district who have 20 per centum of their holdings under crop in 1921, 40 per centum in 1922, and 60 per centum in 1923, shall have twenty years to pay the costs and expenditures of the government without interest, paying 2 per centum on each of the first four years; 4 per centum on each of the next two years, and 6 per centum on each of the following thirteen years. However, any tract having 20 per centum reclaimed in 1921, but not having 40 per centum reclaimed in 1922, shall be allotted the 2 per centum payment due in 1921, but the balance of the benefits appropriated to such tracts shall become due in the five equal annual payments. Any tract shown to be reclaimed to the required 40 per centum on June 15, 1922, and which shall not have 60 per centum reclaimed on June 15, 1923, shall be allowed the 2 per centum installments in 1921 and in 1922 and the balance in five equal annual payments. And any tract reclaimed to the extent of 60 per centum before the last of the five year installments falls due or any one of them, shall have ten years to pay the balance. The district further agrees to assess and apportion the cost of the works and other expenses hereinbefore mentioned ratably according to the benefits upon each tract or legal subdivision of irrigable land within the district, including the right to sever and water power to withhold delivery of water to delinquents; to collect and pay to the United States each and every one of said five annual payments, in advance the day the same falls due. The state of Idaho on its part agrees for the sum of One Dollar to execute and place in force the good and sufficient deed conveying to the United States all its right, title and interest in and to the King Hill Project, and the terms and conditions including all water rights under filings and appropriations of water and water contracts, to be delivered to the United States upon the operation of said projects shall be turned

COHAN FILM TO BREAK ALL RECORDS

MANAGER MAGEE PREDICTS THAT "BROADWAY JONES" WILL SHATTER ATTEND-ANCE RECORDS.

"Broadway Jones" starring George M. Cohan will surpass all records as a drawing attraction in the city of Twin Falls, showing probably to more people in the three afternoons and evenings it will be here, than did the Birth of the Nation on the occasion of its first visit. That is the prediction of Manager Magee of the Idaho theater, who is offering Idaho patrons the first of his new "Selective Star" bookings on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The Birth of the Nation was a record breaker as far as attendance goes. Douglas Fairbanks in his recent "Whit" and "Wooley" ranks second. "Broadway Jones" it is predicted, will establish new records.

Rumors Interest Noted Alienist

Famous Brain Specialist Calls Attention to Many Starles Springing From Nowhere.

(International News Service)

WHY IS A RUMOR? ASKS LONDON ALIENIST

Here are some of the rumors lately circulating in London—recently, puzzling statements and psychologists alike, all of them false:
American sailors wounded in a monster sea fight.
An American destroyer sunk off Boston.
A contingent of 200 wounded American "dough-boys" landed in England, the victims of a colossal Hun ruse.
American troops in action in the trenches.
Russian armies have crossed England on a pleasure trip to northern France.
Lord Ritchner is a mess cook in a German prison camp.
The war will end—any time.
The United States is about to plead for peace. (This was suggested in Germany, for example, during the winter.)
And so on—infantile—rumor, rumor, rumor!

What starts the silly war rumors? Dr. Charles A. Corcoran, the celebrated brain specialist, asks the question in a prominent London daily and then proceeds to evolve his own answer. He does it something like this:
"Shakespeare" has spoken of "rumor as necessarily false."
"Blown by surmises, jealousies, conjectures;
And of so easy and so plain a stop That the blunt monster with uncounted heads,
The still discordant multitude,
Can play upon it."
"Zazzar rumors" is a common term in India," says Dr. Corcoran, "and bazzar rumors are sometimes true. Indeed, there are fairly well authenticated instances of rumors or important events being communicated with incredible speed to very great distances, both in India and in the West. Rumors, though usually vague, have sometimes been true in material particulars."
"Thus it is said that the outbreak of the war in 1914 was heralded as a 'bazaar rumor' days before the news could have travelled by any means that is known in distant parts of India."
"Fidelity is not a cardinal feature of rumor."
"It never originates in a newspaper, even in a paragraph communicated with all reserves."
"Rumor is very generally believed."
"A wish is a hope, a forecast, a probability, a supposition on some subject of intense and universal interest, as expressed and, perhaps, imperfectly heard. The gist of the matter makes for its rapid dissemination in the preparatory phrase. It is repeated from mouth to mouth with increasing assurance and lessening diffidence."
"Interest is so intense that, whoever one who hears it is eager to repeat it and cannot wait to be sure that he has got the story right, and so the rumor spreads."
"Dr. Mercier adds that "Damo Rumor" should be a subject of psychological study.

Gravel Question for Canal Raised

Farm Bureau Claims That It Contains Fourteen Per Cent of Dirt—Board View Unknown—Meeting Saturday.

A meeting of the advisory committee of the farm bureau has been called for Friday afternoon in this city, at which the dispute with the county commissioners over the allowing of certain fills may be taken up and considered at the canal of the gravel-gravel which it is planned to use in the concreting of the canal. President White of the farm bureau showed a TIMES representative a box of loam which he stated was taken from the gravel on hand for fixing the canal. He also showed certain bottles containing material which he said had been analyzed by several experts, two of whom are local men, whose names he was not prepared to make public but pending a signed statement which he promises to the press, and which he said showed fourteen per cent plus of this foreign matter, when, he said, the contract called for use of ten per cent. It is understood that further analysis will be made before a final conclusion has been arrived at. He said that some $6000 worth of gravel was secured last fall for the contractors. The gravel is taken from a bank in Rock creek near the place where the work is being done. President White said that, as under the contract, the gravel was furnished by the company, and as it was imported to them where it came from, there was no evidence of graft in the transaction. If the gravel should prove unfit it would, in his opinion, indicate inefficiency.

TIMES representative called at the office of the Twin Falls Canal company to get the views of the board of directors and Manager Porterfield, regarding their side of the controversy, which had in gone to Milner, so it is impossible to state their views of the facts in this issue.

President White stated to a TIMES representative that Monday, the 11th, of the board of directors' Sunday afternoon had been largely attended. Asked what had been done, he said that the meeting had been held but that certain matters were pending which it would be well to keep secret, for the present, so he had nothing to give out, adding, smilingly: "Nothing present in this; I would be glad to give you anything that we would give to any Girl Too Young—Because the prospective bride had not completed eighteen summers, the county auditor's office yesterday refused to issue a marriage license to Floyd Richard Bolman and Miss Martha Jane Butler, both of Shoshone. The young folks were not aware of the legal impediment, which could only be overcome by the written permission of parents or guardian, so they had to go back to their Shoshone home to get the consent.

Equestrian Pre-Nuptial Trip—A wedding which had all the elements of a frontier romance took place this morning, when Malcolm Pollock Rogers, a rider on the Clark ranch of Three Creek, wed Miss Clara Rae Clark, the daughter of the ranch. Wednesday morning the couple donned riding uniforms. The groom threw a lariot over the head of an unridden broncho, saddled him and both mounted and rode seventy-five miles to the city. The animal proved fractious and the ride over the plains was a hard one. The couple arrived last evening and were married today in the city.
