BRITAINS MOVE TO BREAK TEUTON DEATH GRIP ON BELGIAN SEA LINE

LARGE CROWDS OF PEOPLE ATTEND SECOND ANNUAL MEET OF SOUTHERN IDAHO FAIR

Great Exhibition of Agricultural and Horticultural Products, but Gooding County Captures Confectionary Hagerman "Community Cannery" Products a Feature-Races Well Contested.

The Second Annual Exhibition of the Southern Idaho Fair Association, struggled into form on Monday, worked up on Tuesday and by Wednesday was going at a 2-4-6 clip, or thereabouts. It is a fine exhibition in many respects and is being given a great attendance; but it is not all that a fair should be in this garden spot of the world.

One thing is certain, the Fair management spared no trouble, pains or expense to give their visitors a good show and the best of treatment in every respect; and has the right to feel that if there were any short-comings, they are the absolutely unavoidable kind.

It is not entirely credible, as it seems to the Twin Falls country, that the Twin Falls county should have allowed Gooding county to come across the Snake river and dominate the show of agricultural and horticultural products.

But that is just what happened, the exhibit from Gooding not only taking sweepstakes as the first class and second class premiums on different items thereof.

Another drawing card came also from Gooding county in the person of Mr. Ellsworth, the county agent, who gave to it a most intelligent and effective setting forth. Reference is made to the various exhibits, such as peaches, plums, apricots, tomatoes, beans, corn, etc., all from the "Community Cannery" located at Hagerman.

VAST OFFENSIVE MOVEMENT RESUMED ON FLANDERS FRONT

Shells Tear Up Trenches Before Assaults Are Made—German Submarine Base at Zebrugge Menaced by New Line of Attack—Fierce Artillery Duel on French Front—Other Battle Lines Are Quiet.

(International News Service Leased Wire)—LONDON, Sept. 20.—A new British offensive is in full swing at dawn today, Field Marshal Haig's army again took up its gigantic task of shattering the German grip on the Belgian coast.

Following a terrific bombardment the British attacked along the Roulers Road, east of Ypres, capturing important German positions over a wide front. The assaults continue amidst the blasted trenches and the shell-torn strips in Woodland.

The new British thrusts came upon the heels of a savage stroke against the German positions, by the French on the Verdun front, where infantry fighting raged all day yesterday.

Students of military strategy believe that the ultimate goal of the British war offices is to compel a general retirement of the Germans along the northern end of the West Flanders front. If this can be achieved the German submarine base at Zebrugge would be seriously menaced as well as the German hold on Antwerp.

Field Marshal Haig today renewed his great offensive on the West Flanders front smashing numerous German positions over a wide front. Following a bombardment of tremendous violence, the British assaulted the German positions east of Ypres, carrying all their objectives, the war offices announced at noon.

Along the battle line the British attacks are continuing with the utmost vigor, a number of German prisoners have been captured. The new thrust in Belgium was preceded by one of the most terrific cannonades ever known on the British front. For weeks the German lines have been pounded with drum fire. It is believed that the British stroke now under way will be the greatest yet undertaken and that Field Marshal Haig will endeavor to roll the Germans back all along the West Flanders front before bad weather can interfere with the operations.

PARIS, Sept. 20.—Artillery duels all along the French front from the Oise river to the Vosges mountains were reported by the war offices today. The big guns were particularly active on the Aisne river, in Champagne and on the Verdun front.

Quietude exists upon the Eastern, Italian, Rumanian, Macedonian and Turkish battle-fronts.

The Board meeting will be in the evening.

Germany Drops Its Designs on Odessa

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)—PETROGRAD, Sept. 20.—That Germany has abandoned all its designs upon Odessa was the opinion expressed by prominent military observers today. Aside from artillery dealing and local infantry operations there has been nothing in the big scale fighting on the Rumanian front for two weeks. If the Germans should thrust at Odessa the British will have to be made by way of Moldavia.

THE WEEK'S DOINGS

W. J. Swearingen, Rev. A. W. James have gone to Wood River once more yielding to their weakness for fishing. They informed their friends and folks that they would stay this time until they had fulfilled their desire and were ready to return. Knowing their love for the speckled beauties, some of us are wondering if we shall ever see them again. One member of the party, though, informed us on the way that he would see that they were safely home before Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson have returned from the trip to Portland and will settle permanently at Kimberly. Congratulations are being showered upon them by friends and acquaintances.

Mr. A. T. Estrekin of Ayrault, Nebraska, is visiting with his daughter, Mrs. John I. Deeds and other members of the family this week.

Mr. S. W. Wainman spoke to a large audience last Sunday night at the Christian church in Wood River. Wainman has been in Kimberly since last Saturday but will go to Jerome this week.

Abbe Bennett of Elgore, Oregon, representing the thousands of that situation was a visitor in the city this week.

Sam Merritt, Westly Arnold, W. L. Downing, and Dr. Duda of this city spent the week end in pursuit of ducks. They reported a good many.

Miss Blanche Flynn, principal of the high school received word that her father had been seriously injured in a motorcycle accident last week. Later word to the effect that the injury was not fatal, and that he would soon recover, persuaded her not to give up the school and return home.

The high school faculty is now completed. Miss Williams accepted the position tendered her last week and has resumed her responsibilities as a member of the faculty.

Westly M. Arnold made a trip to Jerome Monday morning.

Work on the high school grounds is being completed. The grounds have been leveled, and a large concrete sidewalk is being installed in front of the building. The grounds proved to be in very pretty when completed.

Secretary's new home is under construction. The foundation has been constructed and the superstructure is under way.

The financial committee of the Christian church held an important meeting last Tuesday night.

Several young people of Kimberly are planning to leave for college in the near future.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST

Last Sunday night we enjoyed the great pleasure of hearing H. S. Wainman, of the beautiful subject—republican position in the world before and after His Crucifixion and Resurrection. He also touched on the relationship which Jesus holds in the modern world as the epitome and perfect example of man; "Christ came to teach us how to live, and man now to die," he said, "and He taught us not alone in word, but in example."

There was a great audience of eager people present, which only emphasizes the fact that men and women are seeking more today after the truth concerning these matters than ever before in history. Indeed, all who came, were well repaid, for a judicial and earnest listener could not fail to see the truth revealed and to be drawn into a closer sympathy with Jesus.

Last Sunday morning, the pastor will preach a straight-forward sermon on "The Need of Devotion in the Success of the Church." It will be one of the shortest sermons yet given, which there will be a membership meeting to decide on some very important questions for the future work.

At the same time, all of our members will throw all possible restraints aside and attend this morning service in full uniform. You will be asked to remember the organization, and responsible for its business proceedings and success. Do not fail or miss an important service on Sunday morning at 11:00 a. m.

In the evening there will be a sermon on Prayer. This will conclude our series of sermons which began on the past several Sundays.

Education is the vital pulse of the school life. Our Bible school is being conducted by an experienced and devoted teacher and Bible school. Don't fail to bear his discouragement in the uniform next Sunday morning. Remember our class teachers are five professional teachers, which highly increases the efficiency of the school.

Attention is called to the fact that the Young People's class will meet at 10:30 a. m. sharp in their class room. Don't fail to be on time and get outline copies.

The young people's society will hold its services in the evening at 8:00 o'clock on Wednesday next.

Our practice every Friday night—Midweek Bible class at the parsonage on Wednesday night at 8:00 p. m. are and come.

Red Cross Rules Announced by U. S.

Take Taken in Regard To Advertising Goals or Entertainments For Organization Work.

The Red Cross emblem and entertainments given for the benefit of the Red Cross are not generally understood by the public.

The following bulletins were received recently by the Twin Falls chapter from Washington, and give the necessary information as to the provisions of the law are as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person, corporation, or association, other than the American National Red Cross and Navy sanitary and hospital authorities of the United States, for the purpose of trade or an advertisement, to induce the sale of any article whatsoever or for any business of charitable purpose, to use the emblem of the Red Cross, or to assign made or colored in imitation thereof, or of the words, 'Red Cross,' or any combination of these words, or the name of the Red Cross, or the use of any article having on them the emblem of the Greek Red Cross on a white ground, whether these articles be buttons, pencils, studs, fasteners, wearing apparel, or any other thing. The emblem of the Red Cross must not be counterfeited, and the policy to be followed with reference to profit sharing benefits.

"The law does not seem to accept of contemplating a division of profits between the promoters and the Red Cross. This rule applies to the management, by the management, of articles of any kind, as well as entertainments.

"Second: It is prohibited to permit, entertain or like fashion as a Red Cross entertainment or benefit unless it is for the purpose of management or control is entirely in the hands of the Red Cross chapter.

"Third: If, after due investigation, those offering conduct entertainments for the benefit of the Red Cross are found to be entirely reliable and acting in good faith, they may be permitted to make announcement in the press or otherwise of their intention to donate the proceeds of the entertainment to the Red Cross, but the entertainment should not be advertised as a Red Cross benefit or as a Red Cross entertainment, nor should any wording be used in the announcement that would lead the public to believe that it is being given under the auspices of the Red Cross or that the Red Cross is in any way connected with the entertainment.

"Fourth: In no instance should the use of the Red Cross emblem in any announcement or advertising an entertainment be authorized except in the case of such entertainment as are actually managed and controlled by the Red Cross chapter.

"It is important that each individual case upon the subject be decided with tact and diplomacy by the chapter head.

Murder and Forgery Suspected by Police

Widow of Wealth Dies Mysteriously and Will That Looks Spurious To Experts Turns Up.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Assistant District Attorney Doelling, while investigating the death of Mrs. Maude A. King, a wealthy New York, and Chicago widow who was slain on a lonely road near Concord, N. C., on August 29, in endeavoring today to determine whether the will of Mrs. King, which was drawn in New York, and the "second" will for her husband, James B. King, millionaire "urbaner" are genuine. The assistant district attorney, as well as representatives of the department of justice is convinced both instruments are clever forgeries.

The will of Mrs. King, drawn in New York and dated November 9, 1915, has been filed in Chicago. This instrument is signed by Mrs. Maude King, Mrs. King's sister who will receive the bulk of the James King fortune, and who is the only living person whose name is signed on the will.

Federal authorities also are interested in the finding of a paper in Meane's room containing notes and locations of many plantation plants throughout the country.

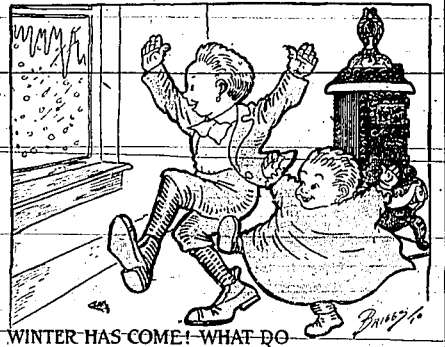

Other papers indicated that Alanna in 1915 had conference with one Von Hoffman, which would favorably to the allies. Among the papers found in Meane's apartment was one containing a list of names of representatives and senators and other men important in political life. The list was labeled "Meane's."

CRITICISE PROMOTION OF THE GERMAN CHANCELLOR

(International News Service) BERLIN, Sept. 19.—The recent promotion of Chancellor Michaelis from a captain of the reserve to the rank of a lieutenant-colonel is sharply criticized by a large part of this liberal press. The Socialistic organs protest this new evidence of ridiculous militarism and the progressive Meancher-Neunte Nachrichten says: "Was this promotion really necessary at a time when the coat-of-a soldier has too serious a meaning for a parade uniform? Does the Chancellor, the highest official of the empire, need any military rank and be able to fill his place with honor and distinction? If Dr. Michaelis proves himself the right man to lead Germany to a strong and secure future, nobody will ask whether he only reached the rank of a lance corporal or that of a staff officer in his military career."

GERMAN LEADERS ARE DENOUNCING SLAUGHTER

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) GENEVA, Sept. 19.—Germany is losing 1200 men daily in killed, according to a dispatch from Germany today quoting Dr. Mathias Erzberger, leader of the clerical party. Dr. Erzberger, who is leader of the majority peace bloc in the Reichstag, is using the heavy German losses as one of his most potent peace arguments.

LOCAL ORCHARD IN THE BEST IN THE COUNTY

Our Graduate of Boise state horticulture inspector, was in the Kimberly district last week, inspecting the fruit of the season. He was on a visit to the Idaho Co-operative Land and Orchard company orchard, of which he has been visiting for some time. He is returning to it, that it was "one of the best, if not the best orchard in the county for size and coloring of the apples." O. H. Zuck, presiding judgment on the crop this season, said that it would yield at least twenty car loads for the entire orchard. The program of seedling and cultivated under the supervision of Mr. Zuck.

THE RECEPTION FOR TEACHERS

The teachers of the Kimberly schools were entertained last Monday night by the Christian church in the parlors of the church. Over a hundred people interested in the work of the teachers in the city gathered to enjoy the evening. The program consisted of readings, music, and an address of welcome was prepared for the evening's entertainment. Some very unique and amusing games were played between members. Refreshments were served.

HALF HOLIDAY WEDNESDAY

Wednesday was a happy day of the week for many Kimberly folks, who had little opportunity to get out of their places of business during week days. All stores in Kimberly closed Friday afternoon to permit the Kimberly folks to spend the afternoon at the fair in Piler. Many car loads were seen making fast time in that direction.

The schools were also dismissed for the afternoon, upon the advice of the board. It is felt that since the fair is the most important feature of the county, it will give an opportunity to observe the productiveness of these farms, and the opportunities that await the ambitious, scientific young farmer of tomorrow.

HERNETS TWICE, BUT RETURN FROM HUNGER

(International News Service) NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 19.—Lancaster Parkhurst, private in the First Tennessee Infantry after twice deserting, faces court martial. He deserted several months ago, was captured and returned to his command. He was given a light sentence in the army house. Recently he deserted for the second time. He made his way into the hills with his rifle, gun and ammunition and defied his pursuers. When he got hungry he hung out his white flag.

Messenger Girls Can't Make Good on Bolts

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—With one or two exceptions girls who have been tried in the past few days to replace messenger boys in New York have failed to show much walking ability to stand the gales of messengers of the other sex and dislike of a uniform are the chief stumbling blocks which have flummied the ranks.

Because of a dearth of boys due to school starting and edits to "higher ups" in the Western Union and American District Telegraph companies advertised for girls. They wanted girls over sixteen for light work, working with men. Many girls who didn't know what they were getting into answered.

One office was able to persuade three to go to work and another got five. After the first day there was one girl left in each office. The strain of walking all day, the taunts of boys working with them, and their aversion to being put in uniform took the others.

The employers of the girl messengers are not discouraged, however, and believe by elimination they may finally get a good walking force.

THE PRESENT STATUS OF THE WORLD'S DEMOCRACY

The power of an ideal condition, either accompanied or yet in the future, over the unreal is vividly pictured in the ascendancy of democratic ideals over the old systems of absolutism. It is surprising to note the rapidity with which the masses of people in every country are turning to their own. As early as the seventeenth century, a progressive and democratic people, struggling against the advance of a new world, and among wild and savage peoples and conditions, began to grasp the idea that each man should be his own governor in so far as the liberty of others was not interfered with. This conception having been long entertained and nourished finally resulted in emancipation in the eighteenth century, when the motion of Richard Henry Lee made in Congress, June 7, 1776, that "these United Colonies are and of right ought to be, free and independent states." This motion was carried and the Colonies were so declared in less than a month afterward.

long, hard struggle in France, but more than ten years before the republic was finally established so as to stand firm for democratic principles of government. But it was a victory which has never relaxed or grown sullen. And today France stands out as one of the greatest defenders of democracy in the world. To take into account the South American revolutions and the many republics that have been springing up since the independence of the Colonies was suddenly established would require unlimited space. But even these weaker sister republics go to show that democratic government is absolutely correspondent with human nature here.

The world, it is like pouring water from a cup into a tub. It is always the same but the contents are changed. In all outward appearance yet a monarchy, England yet remains inwardly a thorough democracy. The eyes of the world are today fixed upon one of the most astounding movements in history. The ascendancy of Russian democracy. What an astonishment to the world, when the great, autocratic, monarchial Russia, the land of despotism, suddenly threw off the cloak of absolute rule, and revealed what must have been years ago the true sentiment of her people. How carefully the plans must have been laid; how strong must have been the feeling for her, and for liberty; and how suddenly, and absolutely, was the autocratic government shaken.

URGE USE OF "WILD FOOD"

Woman Food Experts Start Country-Wide Campaign to Teach British Housewives Economy.

Woman food experts have started a country-wide campaign to teach British housewives what food economy means and how to use the neglected resources in England's "wild food." The women have started a campaign after the fashion of a similar one in the United States. They are making speeches in theaters, public halls and from soapboxes on street corners. The possibilities of "wild food" are almost boundless. It is estimated that more than 250 kinds of food in the British Isles which nature produces unassisted. They include birds and their eggs, edible frogs, fishes, mollusks, sea shells, and insect products, such as honey of half a dozen species of wild bees—various crustaceans, more than thirty vegetables, salad plants and herbs, the same number of flowers and fruits, seven species of seaweeds and nearly fifty medicinal fungi.

Sparrow Introduced for Purpose.

The sparrow was introduced into the United States for a specific purpose. He was expected to destroy certain noxious insects, especially the larvae of moths, some of them native, others like the spruce sawfly, mistakenly imported. The native birds now nuisance in city parks and shaded city streets. Native birds, which now under protection are common city dwellers, would probably have come to an every service the sparrow did; but it does not require a very old resident of New York to remember the days when caterpillars rained down on the Sabbath dinery of gentile folk crossing the parks, and those caterpillars the sparrow undeniably did clean up, and New York was grateful. With other moths, however, the native birds like the gypsy and the brown tail, which were scourges of vegetation—the sparrow failed.

Figler's Dream Coming True.

The announcement that a contract has been signed by the P. & O. Steamship company for the transportation over the Key West ferry of a large amount of sugar and pineapples demonstrates that the dream of Henry W. Figler, who for many years has been the "Overseas railroad" and the ferry system between Havana and Key West, is coming true. It was Mr. Figler's dream that the railroad and ferry would be completed with some in mind. During the first years of the ferry the results have been just the reverse to what Mr. Figler had figured. But there is reason to believe now that the traffic is beginning to pick up, as the butter had planned—Havana Post.

U. S. Controls 75 Per Cent Food

Hundred Millions Saved To Consumers Through the Activity Of The Government.

(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Approximately seventy-five per cent of the food supply of America is now under the control of the United States. Generally it is the fact that the control has been made voluntarily. The United States food administration, by virtue of its power of licensing food industries, governs the prices in the staple food products of the world. The food administration has been in action but five weeks and part of that time it had no official capacity or power of action. In that five weeks it is estimated that close to $100,000,000 has been saved for the householders of the United States. The first big accomplishment of the food administration was the control of wheat prices. This came through voluntary agreement of elevator owners and millers. Elevator and miller plants are now subject to regulations. The price of wheat has been fixed and estimates today in the hands of food administration officials show that millions of dollars are being saved. Flour has dropped three dollars a barrel under those regula-

MME. PETROVA IN "THE LAW OF THE LAND"

CELEBRATED RUSSIAN ACTRESS IN GRIPPING DRAMA FIRST OF WEEK

"I am really living this picture," Mme. Petrova was heard to observe the other day during the filming of her latest Paramount picture, "The Law of the Land." "The Law of the Land" is coming to the Idaho theater on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The program will include a comedy, two acts of vaudeville, and a specially arranged program on the big orchestral pipe organ. Shown everywhere else at advanced prices, the usual prices of 10 and 20c for evening performances will prevail.

PREVENTS SIDE DRAFT

Illustration Shows How Evener Is Constructed.

Two Ordinary Doubletrees, Good, Tough Stick, Two Iron Pulleys for Strong Chain and Two Braces, Are Needed.

In response to numerous queries Wisconsin Agriculturist illustrates and describes a four-horse evener to prevent side draft as follows:

The dimensions of ordinary length, a good tough stick of which to make the long evener, two iron pulleys which will let a strong small link chain work through them, two bolts to go through the pulleys, and two strap-iron braces over the pulleys, will be needed.

The stick for the evener should be 6 feet 4 inches long, and the first pulley will be put on 7 inches from the right end of it, measuring to center of pulley. Measure 35 1/2 inches from the center of this pulley and bore hole for the pivot clevis. Now measure 30 1/2 inches from the right end of this evener and bore hole for the second pulley half so that the two pulleys are 24 inches apart.

It is best to bore two or three holes at the left end of the long evener. Put the first one 3 inches from the end and the others 2 and 4 inches farther in. This evener works one horse in the furrow and all three on the unharrowed land with no side draft, say those who have used it.

LIME REQUIRED BY ALFALFA

On Soils Which Are at All Acid It Is Absolutely Essential for Successful Stand.

Alfalfa is one of the great lime lovers. Reports made to the Iowa experiment station indicate that in an average of over a thousand fields, those which received no lime yielded 3.4 tons to the acre, while those that received lime before seeding yielded at the rate of four tons to the acre, and those which received lime after seeding at the rate of 4.5 tons to the acre. Lime, generally pays for itself, even on soils which are fairly rich in lime, and on soils which are at all acid it is absolutely essential to successful alfalfa growing, especially where the rate of one to two tons to the acre. The easy way to spread it is with a lime spreader. With the increasing use of lime, there should soon be a lime spreader in every community in the corn belt.

TELL ALFALFA FROM CLOVER

Formation of Leaf Enables One to Distinguish Plants While Young—Longer When Old.

(From the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The leaf of alfalfa is divided into three leaflets, the middle one of which has a short petiole differing from the aspect from red and alsike clovers, in which the center leaflet is attached directly at the base.

This difference in the two plants readily enables one to distinguish alfalfa from red clover when the plants are very young.

As the plants become older the leaflets of the alfalfa become more elongated than in the clovers.

METHODS OF DOCKING LAMBS

Burning With an Iron Is Favored by Kansas Experts—Wound Is Scared and Doesn't Bleed.

When docking lambs the four feet of the animal should be held together tightly against the body of the operator, points out A. M. Peterson, instructor in animal husbandry in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

There are two methods of docking. One is by cutting off with a sharp knife and the other is by burning with a docking iron. The latter is preferred, especially if the lamb has a large tail. The hot iron sears over the wound and prevents bleeding. If the lambs are old it is well to tie a string around the stump to prevent bleeding.

COMFORTS FOR WORK HORSES

Proves Small Pasture Which They Can Be Turned Into After Days Work—Does Them Good.

One of the best things you can do is to provide a small pasture for your work horses. It should be near the barn so the horses can be easily turned into it each night after they come from the field. A lot of green grass, a full and an hour or two out in the open will do them a world of good. On hot nights leave them out all night. The work the following day can be much more easily done if such comforts are provided.

BURSTING HEAD OF CABBAGE

Trouble Caused by Rapid Growth and May Be Prevented by Breaking Off Some of Roots.

Many persons growing their own vegetables have experienced considerable annoyance in having a large number of fine heads of cabbage to burst, before the vegetable can be used or marketed.

The bursting is caused by rapid growth, and usually occurs after a warm rain which has followed a dry spell. It is surprising how rapidly the heads will split and burst out from the center, which is damaging unless the cabbage is used at once.

To prevent cabbage from bursting, go to each head, and pull it just enough to break a large number of the small roots, but not enough to allow the head to fall or lean very much to one side. This will lessen the amount of moisture and food taken into the plant and the development of the head, and consequently the bursting will cease. In most cases the cabbage will remain perfect and unharmed, and can be sold or used before any damage results.

Heads of cabbage about to burst, or over these showing the first split, can be kept for several weeks, without damage by simply following the above instructions carefully.

PREVENT SCOURS IN CALVES

Cause of Great Loss to Dairymen Is Due Almost Entirely to Over-feeding or Dirty Pails.

The most fatal disease in calves is the scours. This simple trouble is the cause of our great loss among the calves during the first four or five months. It is owing almost invariably to one of two things: either overfeeding, or feeding from dirty pails. The first thing to do when this appears is to cut down the feed and cleanse the pails thoroughly.

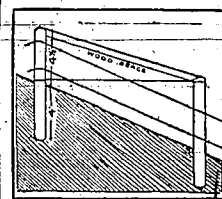

Scours are sometimes caused by feeding sour milk and their sweet milk. A good calf can be raised on sour milk if it is fed sour milk all of the time (after he is a month old) and the milk is in the same degree of sourness when fed, but no one can raise a good calf on sour milk one feed and sweet milk the next.

As no person can raise a bunch of good calves who feeds from dirty pails.

CORNER POST ON A HILLSIDE

Simple, Cheap and Satisfactory Method Is Described and Shown in Illustration Herewith.

To anchor a corner post on a hillside, set the corner post 4 feet deep. The second post should be not less than 2 feet deep and tall enough so the top will be level with the ground at the corner post, says a writer in The Farmer. A wooden brace rests on the top of the second post and against the corner post at or near the top. A wire brace fastens to lower end of wood brace and to corner post at the ground, and should be nearly level.

THIN OUT THE STRAWBERRY

Most Common Mistake to Allow Plants to Become Too Thick—Row Becomes Bold Mass.

Possibly the most common mistake made in the growing of strawberries is that of allowing the plants to become too thick.

Most varieties of strawberries when properly cared for produce so many runners that the row becomes a solid mass of plants.

When this is the condition the grower is producing plants at the expense of fruit.

SUPERIOR ALFALFA FOR HAY

Best Time to Cut Crop Is When Young Shoots at Bases of the Plants First Appear.

In general, alfalfa should be cut for hay when the young shoots at the bases of the plants first appear. If these new shoots become long enough to be cut off by the mower, the new crop may be badly damaged. The blossoms often appear simultaneously with the new shoots, but blossoming alone is not a safe guide to the time for cutting.

DETERMINE ABILITY OF COW

Milk Scale and Babcock Test, Assisted by Judgment of Eye, Are Most Practical Means.

The cow is very much like a race horse when it comes to judging her ability to perform. Both the face-convex form and the feet are judged by means of the eye assisted by the record of performance.

The milk scale and the Babcock test, assisted by judgment of the eye, are the best means of exercising judgment in building up a profitable herd.

CUBA NOT UNGRATEFUL FOR SPANISH WAR AID

NEW-YORK, Sept. 17.—Very little has been said about the extract of the world war, and yet its decision to follow the United States and join in the great struggle for democracy has added material and moral strength to the cause of the Allies.

In the first place, we must bear in mind the fact of the enormous importance of Cuba today in the greatest sugar producing country in the world, and its three million tons of this product is being shipped to the United States and other countries of the Entente. Cuba also is producing an enormous quantity of alcohol, a good part of which is used in the manufacture of liquid fire.

It is true that Cuba is not a military country and that from its population, less than three millions, no more than fifty or sixty thousand men could be pressed into active service, but the young republic by its action in following her great sister has set an example among the other Latin-American republics which has had a most favorable effect. It has shown to the great republic of the north, and to all the other Latin-American countries, although divided by languages, habits and culture, from the great republic of the north, the ineffable will to make the New World the real paradise of democracy, where all men, irrespective of creed or race, have an opportunity to develop their energies and enjoy without restriction the fruit of their labor.

When the Cuban congress unanimously elected President Menocal in his declaration of war against Kaiserism, two great principles were written in the history of the world: that gratitude still is latent among nations as well as among men, and that the spirit of unconquerable courage which animated the heroes of their lives so that this hemisphere would be made the cradle of democracy and the home of free men, is still strong in the heart of our present generation.

The step taken by the island republic was soon followed by others of the same race and language: Panama, Guatemala and Brazil immediately followed their sister. Other Latin-American countries that are not able to join against the common enemy nevertheless were prompt in announcing that they were heart and soul with the policy followed by the great statesman, Woodrow Wilson.

A word as to the material aid rendered by Cuba to her allies: millions of tons of wheat, corn, rice, and other products, with perhaps the best boys and ports in the world, surrounded by thousands of keys and small and large islands, would have undoubtedly constituted a most valuable base for German submarines, from where they could have easily attacked and destroyed the commerce between the United States, Europe and the South American Atlantic ports, but also all the traffic today passing through the Panama Canal in coming from the Pacific.

With the entrance of Cuba in the war, the danger has not only disappeared, but also the allies are deriving the great benefit of being able to use all the Cuban ports to replenish their ships with coal and other necessities.

A few days before Cuba declared war on Germany, four large German vessels interned in the island were seized and, after undergoing repairs, were presented to the United States, President Menocal refusing to accept payment therefor, a very worthy act in itself, but which brought a most encouraging and gracious message from President Wilson:

Installs $15,000 Musical Instrument

Idaho Theater Adds Orchestral Pipe Organ to Finely Equipped Theater—Is Many Instruments in One.

Carpenters and factory exports are busily engaged at the Idaho theater this week installing a mammoth fifteen thousand dollar orchestral pipe organ. The assembling of the big instrument has been under way for several days, under the direction of Mr. Jacobus, director of a musical school at San Francisco that specializes in the instruction of what is called "photoplaying."

Mr. Jacobus believes the installation will be completed in time to use the instrument for the first time in connection with the Marguerite Clark picture Thursday evening. The initial concert on the pipe organ will be given by Mr. Jacobus, and he will remain in the city long enough to instruct the band in its operation.

It is a marvel in up-to-date construction. Its music, used in conjunction with moving pictures, is not only appreciated by the picturegoer, but without the unpleasant mechanical tone so common with all automatic musical instruments. Every possible shade of expressive music though can be produced. The organ may change instantly from a light, snappy, up-to-date piece of comedies, to the heavy, dramatic music of operas, ballets or dramas. The entire instrument can be operated either by a double set of rolls or manually by an accomplished musician. It will produce the crashing melody of a twenty-piece brass band or the soft harmony of a symphony orchestra. It has 126 reeds, and 244 pipes. For orchestral effects it has the violin, cornet, flute and other instruments. In traps it has the xylophone, bass drum and other effects. It will also imitate the great number of musical instruments, and has all the effects of picture interpretation. These include piano shots, cymbal, tom, thunder, snare drum, door bell, telephone bell, bird whistle, rattles, fire guns, cathedral chimes, tambourine, castanets, horses hoofs, auto horn, sleigh bells, steamboat or locomotive whistle, wind sirens, locomotive and automobile exhaust.

It is said to be the finest musical instrument of its kind between Salt Lake and the coast.

False Rumor That U. S. Will Take Fruit

Story of Intent to Commandeer Foods Controlled by Housewives Denied—Will Control Storage Plants.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The wholly baseless rumor that the government has announced that it will take control of the food stores from farmers and other families is traveling so fast that officials today suspected a deliberate propaganda to shake food conservation. The department of agriculture took steps to put an official denial in the hands of every county agent and as many other representatives as can be reached.

The food administration is today preparing to take control of American food storage plants. A committee representing the American association of Refrigeration and the American War Home Month's association is in conference with food administration officials.

They will be asked voluntarily to submit their business to regulation and license.

Girl's Glee Club and Band and Orchestra Organized—Buyer's Service Are Missed.

School is now under way and most everyone is down to work. New teachers and freshmen are becoming accustomed to their new surroundings and the ways of the school.

A girls' glee club of about 35 members has been organized, and is progressing very rapidly under the direction of the new music director, Miss Simpson. Much difficulty arose in organizing a boys' glee club. Many boys wanted to take the chorus work but were unable to find time to do so during a regular class period. Miss Simpson is willing to make any personal sacrifice in order to have a boys' chorus and agreed to direct the boys during part of the noon hour and the afternoon advisory period, at which time about 15 of the songsters were glad to meet. The glee club work is effective to all students in addition to their regular courses. It is one of the best organizations of the high school, and all students who can so arrange are urged to take the chorus work. Miss Simpson expects to develop an excellent chorus and several public entertainments are to be given during the year.

A band and orchestra of about 20 members each, has been organized under the direction of Mr. Linder. Most of these students were in the band and orchestra last year, and under the direction of Mr. Wortenberg, and have had training which will help to make an excellent musical department for the high school.

On Tuesday evening the football suits were distributed among the old football men and the hopeful new material. Thirty suits have been given out and about 20 more boys have been out for practice every evening. The new coaches, Denman and Bardwick are proving themselves excellent football men, and with the assistance of last year's coach, Nafziger, a winning team is expected to be worked into shape for the opening game, the 27th of this month with Shoshone high school.

The following last year's first team men are back this year: Eric, Glasgow, Norman, Taylor, Bailey, Van Tassel and L. Strong. The undergraduates who played on the football team last year and who are now in the band and orchestra are: Capt. Scott, center, and Wilbur Holter, fullback, both members of the First Idaho Field hospital; and Walter DeWitt, guard, member of the United States navy. The loss of those boys is felt very keenly by the high school. Their places will probably be filled by some boys who were at the good playing of those who have joined the fighting ranks will never be forgotten by those who saw them play last year.

German Cruelty Amazes Turks

(International News Service) PASADENA, CAL., Sept. 18.—That even the Turks with their reputation for cruelty stand amazed at the meretricious German army officers, was the word brought here by Dr. Thomas Davison Conigo, Taurus, Asia Minor, who for forty years was a resident of the Ottoman Empire.

Forced to leave Taurus in 1915 with the civil population when the Turks issued the deportation order against the Armenians, Dr. Christie, twenty-four a veteran of the civil war, declared that while the Kaiser before the war had as much power in Turkey as he did in Berlin, the Turks were tired of their bargain with the German ruler and would welcome peace.

"You Christians call us cruel," he said, a Turkish officer told him, adding: "Perhaps we do, but we are far less cruel than the Germans teach their own officers and men to be in the first place. We are tired of the cruelty, ruthlessness and mercilessness being taught us as war measures by the Germans. They tell us that in times of war we must accept any such thing as mercy, regardless of circumstances or conditions, and that the greater the cruelty, brutality and ruthlessness we display the greater will victory perch upon our banners."

"I know whereof I speak," continued Dr. Christie. "The Armenian massacres were encouraged by the Germans, who not only approved of the steps taken by the Turks in this regard, but even went so far as to plan some of the atrocities."

After being ordered from Taurus, Dr. Christie went to Constantinople, and refused permission to return to the college, which is an American Christian institution, come to the United States.

American Seaman Arrested as Enemy

Charge Made That He Is German and Brother Is in Service of the Kaiser—Member of U. S. Bomber Crew.

MOBILE, Alabama.—William T. Belkett, member of the crew of the United States battleship, formerly an Austrian ship, was locked up in the county jail today as an alien enemy of the United States. The arrest was made by a deputy federal marshal, who said that they had been informed the man had papers in his possession which were against this government. Belkett admitted that he is a full-blooded German and had a brother fighting in the German army.

STRIKE BREAKS OUT IN ARGENTINE REPUBLIC

(U. N. S. Press Wire) BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 17.—Disorders have broken out in the Argentine railway strike. The strikers dynamited bridges and tore up the tracks in order to prevent the passage of troop trains. The strike is spreading and the leaders are threatening to tie up the whole country.

MARMON 34

The MARMON Buyers—Who and What They Are

As a man is known by the company he keeps, so an automobile becomes known by the character of those who buy it.

For wealth brings freedom of choice, and when experience with many cars narrows down men's preference to one, there is every reason to believe it must excel, regardless of price.

This is the position the Marmon occupies today, less than two years since this scientifically constructed car was announced.

Its owners include many prominent people.

In the realm of finance—men at the head of great banks and trust companies—men who sit in the councils of the government.

In the field of business—men who are making America great—steel kings, bankers, merchant princes, heads of railroads.

In the motor car industry—executives, engineers and manufacturers of car parts, of accessories—men who know materials and construction.

On the stage—favorite stars of the theatre, the opera, and the screen.

In positions of prominence—distinguished army commanders, journalists, public officials, men of professions—noted surgeons, writers, architects, aviators, sportsmen, society leaders.

No car—regardless of price—has a more brilliant roster of ownership. Call or write for fuller information.

Soldier Tells of Transport Troubles

Boy Who Left America Late For Europe Finds Much Space Conservation.

(International News Service)
 NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Trains of an American soldier on board a transport on route to France are detailed in a letter just received here from H. W. Ross, a Californian, and private in the Eighteenth Engineers, U. S. A. Private Ross explained that he is "somewhere in the Atlantic" at the time of writing, and nothing of a voyage which up to that time had consumed fifteen days on the water. An English vessel was used to transport the men to France, and Ross expresses admiration for her crew, most of the members of which have been through several submarine sinkings.

"Dear
 "I am writing this under difficulties on a ship presumed to be somewhere in the Atlantic, near the end of a voyage which now is on its fifteenth day. I am wearing a bulky life preserver, which works more for mental than physical cases, sitting in a bulk in a four-birth stateroom with a typewriter in my lap. The stateroom is a luxury permitted for letter writers by the military government. There is hardly room for my typewriter, one of the portable type, in the troop quarters, which are 1500 men deep. There are (deleted by censor) troops abroad, nearly all quartered off the first deck below the main deck in space which was communicated probably 1500 average passengers.

"In the days when the ship, a Britisher (name deleted by censor), and the censor lets it stand, carried immigrants, they never understood, the conservation of space. They have packed us in seven banks, sitting at first sight are more reminiscent of a coffin. They are two feet wide, six feet long and two tiers high. Mine is a lower. I can sit on the deck without bumping my head on the one above. The only thing to do is to crawl, in, double up, pull off your shoes, place them on the floor and let it go at that. The vessel has a list to port, which is the side it happens to inhabit. The first night out we shipped a few seas, and came down through the hatchways and lodged under my bunk. As I had placed all of my belongings on the floor, it was a comfortable night and everything else was two feet under water. Some things washed away, but I haven't recovered them yet. My hat, for example.

"We came across the United States from American Lake on three special trains somewhere in Minnesota. We landed at Wehaken one morning at daylight, were marched onto a ferry-boat, transported across a well known river to a large wharf, where they put aboard this craft and we never got off.

"We did not have long on board the ship before we were on the water. We sailed at 5 that evening and the only glimpse I got of the big town was from a wide port. I saw a dozen or so well known buildings, then a statue, then nothing more until we put in at a Canadian port for a few hours to join the convoy train of which this ship is a member.

"At night we ran totally dark. A cigarette lighted on the deck and the men at the other end is under arrest. It is a notable fact in my freedom because I throw away all my matches the first night out.

"Whenever there is a signal from the flagship, something happens. We either change our course or speed up or reduce. One we put entirely about and back-tracked for a while.

"Truly, it will be a notable fact if the whole train is landed safely.

"The men have been terrible. First, they are the English idea and are not so agreeable to Americans' stomachs. Fish for breakfast isn't popular, nor is tea. Then the food, which probably is good, begins to begin with. It all steam-cooked and from the popular viewpoint, ruined. The mess hall is on the after end, below deck. It seats about 700 and is set at three sittings. Mine is the third. The dining room, a couple of days ago, got so odoriferous that the American doctors ordered a restriction.

"But at that, one can't but admire the crew. The skipper has been running through the submarine zone since the war and never has been hit. Most of the crew have been torpedoed or mined on various vessels, some two or three times. There is a security of sea and boys are numerous in the crew. But England, one of the officers, was telling me, has an effective way of keeping her sailors salted. Three weeks is all a man is allowed ashore. If he hasn't another job by that time he is drafted for the army. He can be the only survivor of the most notable wreck of the year, but he has only twenty-one days to tell his friends about it.

"I probably will have more time to write later. Give my regards to everyone.
 Yours,
 "H. W. ROSS."

JAPANESE ORGANIZE NEW PACIFIC S. S. LINE

SAXON 'SIX'

A big touring car for five people

Buy Before the Boom Motor Car Prices Sure to Advance

Buy your Saxon "Six" now and you buy at the bottom of a market that's going up shortly.

Wait and you'll pay for it.

All motor cars must soon increase their prices to cover the extraordinary rise in cost of labor and materials. Many have already done so.

$835 is probably the lowest price at which Saxon "Six" will be sold for a long time.

Perhaps you are thinking of buying a car costing $200 or $300 more than Saxon "Six."

If you are, then by all means see Saxon "Six" first. And you'll save the $200 or $300.

For we can prove to you—or you can prove to yourself—that there is no car costing $200 or $300 more than Saxon "Six" that will match it in fine-car quality.

For instance. One of Saxon "Six" important features—Feddors radiator—is also found on 3 cars selling for more than $3,000. Saxon "Six" costs $835.

Again, another of the important features of Saxon "Six"—Timken axles—is also found on seven cars selling for more than $1,700.

One more. Still another important feature of Saxon "Six"—Spiral bevel gear—is also found on 12 cars selling for more than $1,350.

And there are 7 other of the big features of Saxon "Six" such as Timken bearings, Timken axles, Continental motor, Stromberg carburetor, Remy ignition, Feddors radiator, Spiral Bevel gear, found on 30 cars selling for more than $1,150.

Now consider the matter of upkeep cost. You will find the cost of running Saxon "Six" quite visibly less than the cost of running a car priced several hundred dollars higher.

Its six-cylinder motor has been so refined and developed, and vibration and friction have been so largely eliminated that you get full mileage from each atom of gas and oil.

It is important to consider that Saxon "Six" is a six-cylinder car.

For with four cylinders, any motor naturally has far more vibration and friction than a "Six."

And it is this vibration and friction ceaselessly tearing at the motor and parts that impairs flexibility, slows up acceleration, makes a difference of degrees in the quietness of its operation, increases repair-service costs, and finally takes nearly 50% from the standard efficiency of the motor.

These being facts—and facts generally known now—it is obviously not the best of business judgment to purchase any "four" priced between $200 and $1000 when Saxon "Six" can be purchased at $835, f. o. b. Detroit. It may not be that low for long, so buy now.

Saxon "Six" Sedan $1395; Saxon "Six" Chummy Roadster $935; Saxon Roadster, $325. Prices, f. o. b. Detroit.

LUNG DISEASES OF TOMATO

Blossom-End Rot Attacks Fruit Before It is Mature, Causing it to Drop to Ground.

Blossom-end rot of tomatoes is a disease caused by fungus. It attacks the blossom-end of the fruit while the fruit is green and causes it to rot and drop off before it is mature. As soon as the disease is observed, pull off all affected fruit and destroy it. After this, spray thoroughly with Bordeaux mixture. Bordeaux mixture is made with one pound of blue stone, one pound of quick lime and 12 gallons of water. Dissolve the blue stone by bringing it in a cloth bag over a light. Sift the lime separately, then mix the two thoroughly, and add the 12 gallons of water. Earthen pans or wood receptacles must be used to dissolve the blue stone in. It will corrode metal.

Fruit is ripened before the fruit before spraying. It is necessary to repeat the spray every week as long as there is any sign of the disease.
