TEUTON GOLD REACHES FAR IN AMERICA

GREAT SYSTEM OF BOOK-KEEPING DEvised BY SERVANTS OF THE KAISER.

Careful Work to Separate Sheep and Goats

Legitimate Accounts and Corrupt Ones Mixed So That It Is Difficult to Segregate One From the Other.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The trail of German gold through the field of intrigue in diplomatic circles, spreading of subsidies and surreptitious loans in the labor world and the general mobilizing of public opinion along un-American lines was slowly being uncovered today.

The long arm of the department of justice was stretched to remote towns and cities, to villages and hamlets to demonstrate the extent of the un-American methods which have been used in the effort to araise public sentiment against the participation of the United States in the effort to crush German autocracy.

The methods that are being used are unique. Nothing is being taken for granted. Men whose names have appeared on check stubs in factories and headquarters of agitators, or others secured by representatives of the intelligence bureau of the state, war, navy and justice departments; and others taken from banks in which German agents maintained deposits are being interviewed as to the reasons for the money payments thus represented.

Many of these payments are in every way legitimate. But the department of justice has reasons to believe that some of the payments are made to the beneficiaries that the agents of the department today were working to uncover.

Annexations and Indemnities Still Demanded by Ruling Classes of the Empire—Slav Armies Advancing—Austrian Forces Drawn From Russian Front to Meet Italians—Another Air Raid—British Advance in Far East Worries Teutons.

BERNE, Oct. 2.—That the imperialistic militarist group in Germany is still firmly in control of the government was the interpretation placed here today upon the speeches of Dr. von Kuehlmann, the foreign secretary, and Dr. Michaelis, the German chancellor.

The utterances of these men before the main committee of the reichstag unveiled the war-like spirit of the governing class in Germany and was hailed as a triumph by the pan-Germans, who stand for annexations and indemnities. The speeches gave deep disappointment to the vatican, according to advices from Rome today.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 2.—The socialist members of congress have resigned as a result of the complicated nature of the international situation. The statement of President Irigoyen disavowing a recent interview on the subject of the situation has aroused a big controversy.

Germany-Buying up Mexico, Says Gerard

Former Ambassador to Land of Kaisers Gives Solemn Warning to Protect American Rights.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) PORTLAND, ORE., Oct. 1.—Germany has been buying up Mexico and unless the Germans are thoroughly reprimanded more dangerous ground will be run over, in that direction grave perils lie.

This solemn warning to America was given today by W. Gerard, former United States ambassador to Germany who spoke before 6000 persons in the municipal auditorium here today.

"Germany will be extremely strong," said Mr. Gerard, "and the only way she can be beaten is by an actual military effort in the field. While economic blockade may grow steadily worse the Prussians are far from starving and will remain so."

Printed Petitions Against La Follette

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Evidence of an organized movement, extending over a wide area, to cross the expiration of Robert M. La Follette from the United States senate was made apparent today as petitions condemning the "rookie" senator were continued to pour into congress. Some of the petitions were in printed form and were signed by large numbers of citizens. The petitions were forwarded by the governor, J. A. Brantigan, to leading the movement.

POSTOFFICE BIDS ARE OPENED IN WASHINGTON

A telegram received yesterday by Secretary J. E. Stubbs, of the Twin Falls Commercial club, from Congressmen Stubbins, advised that the bids for the Twin Falls Federal building had been opened and that the best bid was $75,474 put in by E. E. Cummings, of Salt Lake City, for the structure, with either limestone or sandstone trimmings. The lowest award of the bid was not announced, so it is assumed that the matter is under consideration of the department officials.

Councilman Swam Off With Quorum

Previous Appointment Took Away A. L. Swam—Some Business and Much Dissolving Done.

Because he was in the social swim, Arthur L. Swam left the city council last evening after his organization and betook himself away, the other municipal statement suspected, to the "Old Homestead" in Councilman Swam's bidding, citing a decision of a district court to the effect that such ordinances were unconstitutional. The matter was referred to City Attorney Davies.

The city attorney filed an opinion regarding the legality of voting money to the Associated Charities in which he, like his predecessor, held that it could not be done.

Onks & Company by Architect Nesbit, asked for leave to construct a platform at the proposed new warehouse on Second street and Fifth avenue south and it was granted.

E. M. Cook, asked leave to obtain a plot through a chute under the Plain Field store and it was granted, with the understanding that it would be done under the direction of the street commissioner.

The seventh chapter in the "Evils of Elizabeth of the Battle of the Boulevard" was released, this time by Messrs. Higgins and Brown, who took different views, a strange coincidence, since they live on opposite sides of Elizabeth boulevard.

This document has been before the city council for several days. The councilman, "the other councilman dodged it" would like to do so, but things were going to a condition where any solution should be found.

As the petition of the property holders did not conform to the previous request for a new street, the matter was no longer a quorum present, the matter went over.

The matter was referred to City Attorney Davies.

Large Deposits in New York Banks by Central Power Representative For Peace.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Evidence of the central power agent of the central powers had large deposits in New York banks is in the hands of the United States government. The Federal Reserve bank has been ordered to disclose the names of the banks to the American institutions. The government has no reason to believe, however, that American newspapers were utilized in Bola Pasha's worldwide peace propaganda.

M'GINTY STUNT FOR COAL PRICE SAYS GARFIELD

BLACK DIAMOND ADMINSTRATOR DECLARES THAT PRICES MUST DROP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Retail coal prices paid by Harry A. Garfield, coal administrator, meeting a score of state fuel administrators here today, gave this order: He warned that if the coal price was not dropped, he will attempt upon the part of the retail dealers to evade the order of October 1, reducing retail prices. Figures presented by Dr. Garfield to show that the margin of profit, now demanded by dealers, is exorbitant. "He pointed out that even with increased labor and production costs, the retail price can be materially lowered.

Dealers' Profits Too Big He Avers

Reports of the federal trade commission were presented showing that the margin of profit of the leading cities are too great. These figures, as well as estimates drawn by the fuel administrator were carefully discussed by the conference and prices in individual states were taken up.

Dr. Garfield explained his plan for an additional margin of profit of 30 per cent over the profits of 1916. He declared that state administrators who find that this plan will reduce coal prices in their states to an extent considerable and warned them that it was their duty to see that the reductions were made.

The situation in the northwest was discussed at length. Dr. Garfield declared that while the situation there at present seems critical for the coal situation in the northwest was discussed at length. # YPRES MOVEMENT ON GERMAN COMMUNICATIONS CONFIRMED

Secretary of War Baker Gives Out Statement Officially—American Regular Army and National Guard Proceedings as Planned—Success Allies on All Lines.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Complete and official confirmation that the new British advance in the Ypres salient now threatens definitely the German communications upon the Belgian coast came from Secretary of War Baker today.

In line with his plan of issuing a weekly official review of the general situation the secretary today made public his general analysis of the entire situation as affecting the various movements. It emphasizes the fact that the initiative seems to have passed, entirely from the Austro-German forces to the allies on all fronts. The outstanding feature of the recent engagements, the secretary asserts, is "the waning of the main power of the enemy."

The secretary also states that the national armies and national guard movements in this country are proceeding as planned. The text of his statement was as follows:

"The secretary of war authorized the following statement dealing with military activities in Europe for the week ending September 29—

"The Ypres salient continues the center of military interest along the western front.

"The battle of Menin road, which promised to be one of the great battles of the war, is following its normal course. Last week we recorded the gains of the British in this sector. In this week we noted the desperate attempts made by Germans to retake the lost positions.

"The Ostend-Lille railway which in a large measure feeds the German army in the west, is being dealt with in a large measure by the British. The latter the home port of the German high seas submarine flotilla, now comes within the range of the British guns.

"The superiority of the British over their enemies was conclusively proved during the engagements of the past week.

"The battle of Menin road, furthermore, shows that the fighting stamina of the Germans is deteriorating, and that the enemy did not display greater skill and dogged determination in its repeated counter attacks.

"During the recent operations in this sector, the British captured 4,848 prisoners, including 128 officers.

"Along the French front, particularly in the Alsace sector of Briey-Cerny-Hartbeles, artillery duels of intense violence are reported.

"During the attacks the constant increasing violence of the attacks reached a culmination on the 27th instant.

stant when seven powerful onslaughts by the picked storm battalions of the enemy endeavored vainly to regain the lost objectives. The village of Zonnebeke, the center of the contact, is now firmly held by the British.

"It is evident that the efforts of the enemy in this sector are not actuated entirely by the desire to regain the lost objectives. The most tactical value he must consider merely the normal tactical value of field engagements, in which counter attack invariably follows upon attack, but rather it is to be noted that the enemy realizes fully the immense strategic importance of the broad thrust along the Menin road.

"This new British advance in the Ypres salient was a most threatening move to the enemy's line of communications to the Belgian coast.

"The enemy attempted an attack upon the French outposts on the right bank of the Meuse. This attack was partially successful, and certain German units gained a foothold in the French sector where a violent combat took place which continued in the French reaching the lost positions.

"Along the whole French front German storm contingents harassed the French lines, but their attacks were everywhere repulsed.

"The operations of maximum importance were north of Verdun, where the enemy made use of gas in an effort to record some distinct success.

"The outstanding feature of the recent engagements is the waning of the main power of the enemy.

"If we compare the combat front of Verdun in 1916, held by 12 German divisions with the combat front along the Aisne in 1917, held by 14 divisions, both of practically the same length, it is found that during the same period of time from May to September, 1916 and 1917, respectively, the enemy engaged along the Verdun front 25 new divisions, and along the Aisne 35 divisions, this year.

"So great has the waning of enemy force become, the time proved necessary to complete the attack on the French lines, their methods of combat, that Germans are obliged to maintain in reserve as a minimum guarantee for the safety of their battle line in the west, at least forty divisions.

"The western front thus remains the principal battle front of the war, and is strongly held by the enemy and his defensive strength, while shaken, remains powerful.

"Granting their German allies the Austrians have made desperate efforts to regain the ground which the Italians have taken during their offensive of the past few weeks.

"The Italians have now completed the occupation of the entire Italian front and are consolidating their positions there.

"Along the other sectors of the Italian front in the Trentino and the north of the Alps the enemy has made minor assaults, which were easily repulsed.

"News from Russia continues slight. Further reinforcements of the enemy forces are reported in the Riga sector, and indications are that the Germans contemplate extending their gains across the Dvina river.

"The German offensive was halted after the capture of Ilika, apparently to resume the Rumanian campaign with a view to completing the conquest of Moldavia and if possible pushing on into Besarabia in order to seize the rich grain and supplies which are known to be stored there.

"No reports received indicate any unusual activity along the Rumanian front, where the situation remained unchanged during the week.

"From Macedonia we have no news.

Irigoyan to Call S. A. Conference

President of Argentine Would Have Southern Continent Act in Concert in War.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 1.—Argentine today faces a long delay before President Irigoyan takes any decisive action upon the congressional resolution for a treaty with Germany.

In addressing a deputacion that had presented him with a petition demanding an immediate rupture with Germany, President Irigoyan said he proposed calling a conference of the South American nations to act in concert.

The president's policy as revealed for the first time, is this:

"If Argentina enters the war she should not do so on account of the Luxemburg incident alone, but on the grounds of humanity and justice. No Argentina should not play any subsidiary role, but should put every ounce of her man-power and resources into the prosecution of the most vigorous military campaign possible."

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Twenty countries of South America will be in the line of the allies within a year, according to John Barrett, director of the Pan-American Union, who is in Chicago today.

"Brazil, Bolivia, Panama, Uruguay, Cuba and Costa Rica have essentially broken off diplomatic relations with Germany. Honduras, Nicaragua, Haiti and the Dominican republic have practically the same attitude. Argentina, which has a large governing population will carry with her Chile, Peru and Paraguay.

Of the remaining five countries, Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Salvador and Mexico all lean strongly toward the United States and the allies."

House Adopts the Conference Report

Leader Kitchin Explains at Length The Compromises Reached by The Conference.

(I. N. S. Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Without a dissenting vote the house this afternoon adopted the conference report on the $2,700,000,000 war revenue bill, after several hours of explanation of its various features.

Majority Leader Kitchin and others spoke at length on the compromise reached by the conference and stated that house conferees report was unanimous.

After the perfunctory reading of the statement in the conference report on the bill Majority Leader Kitchin opened discussion on the bill by an attack on the new program of the conferees for exposing the details of the deliberations of the conferees, supposed to be secret.

Leader Kitchin predicted that if the war lasted a year more our profits taxes would have to be increased even more. He explained at length the compromise reached by the conferees.

No business was transacted, as the court adjourned at once to enable Chief Justice White and his associates to pay the annual formal call upon the president.

Attorney General Gregory has let it be known that he would move the court on the first opportunity to advance the cases involving the constitutionality of the draft law, and it is believed the court will set them for a very early hearing.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—After a lull of nearly seven months on the Mesopotamian front the British are again in the offensive against the Turks. The fighting reported in today's dispatch from that zone was regarded as the beginning of the beginning of the British autumn and winter campaign.

Already the British have advanced more than sixty miles in a northwesterly direction from Bagdad, the Turks falling back and surrendering to great numbers.

On the whole Turkish army, together with its commander in chief, Ahmed Bey, were caught by the brilliant maneuvers of General Maund, the British commander in chief and compelled to surrender.

The German air raid made over London last night—the first within a week—was marked by terrific battles high in the clouds between British and German aviators.

It was unofficially reported early today that at least one and perhaps three of the German machines had been shot down.

Seven persons killed in the raid on Saturday night brought the total of fatalities from German air raids over British soil up to 845. Not counting the unsuccessful air efforts against England 32 disastrous attacks have been made since the war began.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—So heavy were the German losses on the west Flanders front from September 20 to September 27 that ten German divisions (150,000 men) had to be withdrawn for complete reorganization, according to advice from the correspondent of the Petit Journal today.

Some of the divisions were nearly wiped out by British attacks, while the losses of the other three were sustained in counter-attacks.

On September 23, about 15,000 German troops attacked, sixty per cent of the men were lost. It was declared by captured German officers.

the larger towns of the state. At the same time it is recognized that cases may arise in which the verdict of the School of Mines is desired and in such cases determinations will be made and charged for at the usual standard rates.

Responsible parties desiring to have tests made to determine the best method of treatment for their ore will be given every possible assistance. So far as its appropriations will permit, and the carrying on of the regular instructional work will allow, the School of Mines will assist in every way in the promotion of the mineral industry of the state.

Vocational School Fund Interests

Not Known Whether Such Fund Will Be Available Locally—Dr. Bryan Explains.

The people of Twin Falls were much interested Sunday in learning that congress has passed an amendment to the bill known as the Smith-Hughes act, under the terms of which Idaho will receive $16,000 for vocational education in the public schools. Owing to a legislative and a pending bill authorizing Idaho to meet the requirements making it possible to take advantage of the Smith-Hughes act failed to reach the senate after having passed the lower house.

As a result this state was unable to claim its share of the fund appropriated by the national government for vocational training. Dr. E. A. Bryan, state commissioner of education, made a trip to Washington for the purpose of explaining the situation and urging the passage of the amendment, which was thereupon introduced and passed without opposition.

In a statement given to the press Sunday Dr. Bryan, among other things said: "Vocational education was given a boost forward when congress last winter adopted the Smith-Hughes act. This act must be carefully distinguished from the now famous Smith-Lever act with which it has nothing to do in organization or operation. The fact that Senator McCullin of Georgia was the author in his bitterly shows his deep interest in the industrial development of the nation and his position of leadership in such legislation.

There are three distinct parts to the act. The first provides for co-operating with the state in paying the salaries of teachers, supervisors or directors of agricultural subjects. For this purpose $500,000 are appropriated for the current year, $750,000 for the next year, and so on for ten years, when and thereafter $3,000,000 a year are given for this co-operative work. For this division the state of Idaho would receive $6000 the present year.

The second division of the act provides the same amount, beginning with $500,000 and ending with $3,000,000 with an annual appropriation of $3,000,000 for co-operation with the states in paying the salaries of teachers of industrial, home economics and industrial subjects. Idaho's share in this will likewise be $6,000.

The third division of the act appropriates a sum beginning with $500,000 a year and increasing to $1,000,000 in four years and a like sum thereafter for the purpose of co-operating with the states in preparing teachers, supervisors and directors of agricultural subjects and teachers of industrial, home economics and industrial subjects. Idaho's share in this is likewise $5000.

It will likely be required that vocational teachers of agricultural and home economics shall have completed a four-year course of training, but teachers of trade and industrial subjects may not even have attended college at all, the emphasis being placed on arduous experience and ability.

In the state of Idaho there will in all probability be selected from six to ten high schools to receive at least one of the benefits of appropriation on meeting the requirements. They are to be a pattern for the ones to be selected later. It will be necessary for the school selected to have adequate equipment—say $500 in amount—and to pay one-half of the salary of the teacher. The salary of the supervisor will be a certain amount of supervision of agricultural instruction by a supervisor acting directly under the state board of education. The teacher of agriculture must be employed for 12 months in the year or at least must serve during the summer months to make the home work of students.

It is quite likely that the Technical Institute at Pocatello will be the first trade school selected, and it may likewise be the place for the training of teachers of the trades and industries. The training of vocational teachers of agriculture and home economics will presumably be centralized at the university, as that is the only place where four-year courses in the departments are now being given.

Already certain high schools of the state have made application to the commissioner of education to be designated as beneficiaries of the act. No decision has as yet been reached in any case but the selection must be made in the near future. Due consideration will be given to the general purpose of the act, may be the better fulfilled, but so local or political considerations will determine the selection. A federal vocational education board, consisting of three members of the cabinet and three appointive members and the United States commissioner of education, is charged with the administration of this important measure."

Giants Have Punch; White Sox Game

New Yorkers Froved Best Batters During The Year But Chicago Has The Percentage.

By Jack Volock. (I. N. S. Sport Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The team with the strongest punch generally wins. This doesn't apply to every case, but quite often enough to be a rule in the grand old game of baseball. When the Giants and White Sox enter the world's series they will be primed to go in there with every ounce of strength available. They will go in there to put "the strongest punch into every game, and it will be a battle of brain, brawn and mechanical ability.

In stating up the merits of the two world's series teams in the matter of punching power, or the ability to score runs, the baseball dopster doesn't find a whole lot in the way of figures that will give him fair comparisons, for the teams have fought their way to the top in different leagues and the dopster's process is reduced for the most part to guess work, pure and simple.

The figures are interesting nevertheless, and regardless of the fact that no one can say whether the White Sox on the bases is better than that of the Giants, or whether the hitting power of the New York club is stronger than that of the Sox figures are necessary.

The White Sox are the best batting club if one takes the season's figures for it and abides by them alone. But the White Sox have not remained the champion National League catchers, and the Giants have not matched their speed against the pecking power of American League hitting stops, so the point is open to argument.

The figures accompanying for the two divisions the Giants have out-hit the White Sox, yet the Sox have scored the most runs, and runs, after all, are what win ball games. It would seem that the Sox are the fastest club on the bases, and that they make their hits count for more, yet many a run is contributed by the wildness of opposing pitchers. If the pitchers in the American League are wilder than those in the National then the lead in runs held by the Sox over the Giants may be partly attributed to this fact. But are they?

And then there is the time-worn argument about "the speed and class" of the two leagues, an argument which has always been a bone of contention, but which is settled in part by world's series figures of the past few years, showing that American League teams have won the most world's championships.

There are chances that both the Sox and Giants will enter the big series with their full strength, for Weaver and Herzog are very liable to be put into the line up. If Weaver's batting strength is added to the Sox attack their chances will be better on the offensive than they would be with McMullin in the game.

And if Buck Herzog takes his old place in the Giant line up, when the big series starts the critics say that McGraw's team will present a stronger attack and a better defense as well. But with Weaver and Herzog out of the game the Giants may be hit the hardest, because McMullin is a player of longer experience than Smith, though the ex-Toronto catcher has never good baseball for McGraw during the last few years of the season.

Buy Winter Coal Now Says Calvin

President of the Oregon Short Line Says Country Is Thirteen With A Lack of Fuel.

President E. E. Calvin was in the city for a few minutes Saturday while making a flying trip over the mountains to the office of the state. He said that consumers should lay in their winter supply of coal immediately, as there will be the greatest difficulty experienced by mines and railroads in unloading the coal, and the greatest degree of co-operation is necessary between the coal and the railroads. The price will be lowered materially by the national fuel commission, is making lots of people refrain from purchasing now is likely to aggravate the situation and leave them entirely without fuel during the winter in the opinion of President Calvin.

The party remained here only a few minutes.

ARMY CANTONMENTS COST OVER $150,000,000

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The completion of the sixteen cantonments for the national army is one of the greatest construction jobs ever undertaken by any government, and within three months the government has expended approximately $150,000,000 upon this work, whereas the largest amount appropriated in any one year for the Panama Canal was $46,000,000.

Within sixty days 180 sawmills in all parts of the country shipped more than 500,000,000 feet of lumber to the cantonment sites. Altogether 95,000 kegs of nails were used; there were installed 140,000 doors and 82,000 sash, while nearly 30,000,000 square feet of wall board was used for inside sheathing.

When paved streets, telephones, fire protection, electric lights, water supply and sewage disposal are added to this undertaking, some idea may be had as to the wonderful piece of work done in record-breaking time in providing comfortable quarters for the national army.

A DEFENSE OF CONGRESS

So much has been said regarding the alleged derelictions of the present congress, that it is refreshing to find a discriminating critic that takes the trouble to show that, although it acted less expeditiously in one or two instances than was necessary, it really has made a great record for achievements. In its last issue, The Nation, a New York literary and editorial review has this to say editorially:

If the House realizes its ambition to clear its docket and adjourn by the end of the month, the administration is reported heartily to concur. It will leave behind it a record of achievement for which it will be difficult to find a parallel in any other session of our congressional history. To speak of it as an epoch-making session is commonplace. Just one of its acts, the passage of the anti-trust bill, would merit that. What the record shows, however, is a mass of legislation, springing out of that momentous first step, which for bulk and complexity of detail, for the great issues involved and the enormous figures dealt with, for its drastic innovations and its effects on the nation, stands without a rival. The historian of the war congress of 1917 will examine that record in a more dignified and more thoughtful spirit than he watched the grinding of the legislative machinery from day to day in the face of a tremendous emergency. From the daily sessions he will emerge as a spectator of his perspective, and much more qualified to test the expenditure of energy by results, this future chronicler of congress will be able to render a fairer verdict than one would have thought wholly a few weeks ago. We say a few weeks ago, because already the attention of public opinion is revolving its attitude towards what the most important ones were used to describe as a "misrepresentation."

A summary, not altogether complete, of the legislation enacted in the seven months that will have elapsed before the adjournment of the House bears directly on the charge that congress pattered and delayed while the nation's need cried for action. On April 10 the president's emergency bill was introduced to congress, and on April 11 the joint resolution had been passed by both houses. On April 6 the president's emergency bill was introduced in both houses; it became law on May 15. Nearly a month before that, on April 24, the first bond bill, embodying the plan for the first Liberty Loan, became law. On May 12 the president signed the army appropriation bill. On May 15 the bill for increasing the number of judges went to the president. By June 13 congress had passed the war budget bill. Two days later it passed the emergency bill which gave congress the power that has become law before adjournment—the embargo bill, the priority shipping bill, the legislation on the "eleven-billion-dollar" bond bill, the war revenue bill, and the soldiers' and sailors' insurance bill. It is true that in war time the calendar of legislative standards of normal times. In peace every one of these measures might have furnished sufficient fuel for an editorial. We have seen them in their much greater expedition in times of emergency. Nevertheless, there is a middle point between legislative delay and the cashing through of vital measures without examination and without debate, even in time of war.

It is not necessary to insist that the proceedings of the last six and a half months in congress have been characterized by the highest wisdom and the deepest conscientiousness. In order to refute the counter-impression of a sluggish and unpragmatic congress which had to be shamed or prodded towards its duty. The simple fact is that whatever the country has thought necessary for the prosecution of the war it has obtained from congress. Whatever Mr. Wilson asked for with the exception of the general election, with some delay perhaps, but without detriment to the country's mastering of the war. The angry spirit who not long ago was accusing congress of refusing to back up our men now training for the trenches in France may be asked to specify in what respect the country has disappointed. We have created an immense army, we have brought the navy to a strength in personnel exceeding that of Great Britain at the beginning of the war, we have given all the money demanded for men, ships, airplanes, and economic mobilization. It need be a favorite insult against the voluble congressmen that Germany was deriving aid and comfort from their activities. Germany's present position is a direct result of an war effort supplies a sufficient answer.

PEUL BONDS CARRY. COUNTY BONDS NEXT

Written last Friday, immediately after perusal of the statement from the Buhl Highway commissioners quoted therein, a TIMES editorial expressed the desire for an affirmative verdict at the pending bond election in that district. Such a one was registered last Saturday without organized opposition and by an overwhelming majority.

Believing as it does in the vital necessity, from every point of view, for public highways that are comfortably and economically serviceable at all times of the year, the TIMES thinks this is just as it should be. Under existing circumstances it should be warmly welcomed as making easier and more assured a favorable vote on the proposition for a county bond issue that is soon to be submitted to the voters of the entire county.

This is true for several reasons: In the first place, such testimony to the need for improved roadways and in favor of bonding to secure them can not be without effect. Then so far as the people in the territory outside the Buhl district are concerned, they will not only feel their own need emphasized and their local pride stimulated, but they can now afford to have another portion of the county offer such superior advantages to every tourist as would be investor.

As to those resident in the present Buhl highway district, their commissioners have so skillfully planned as to give them the advantage—and a fair advantage it is—in any event. If the county bond issue should not be authorized, they have their district issue to fall back upon. But it is in the instance of the county bonds that they will find their greatest advantage. In that case they can realize on the offer of the state to pay one-third of the cost of the state highway with its very considerable mileage in their district, can permit the large valuation of the county of the county to stand behind all the road work proposed by the county commissioners, and then step in and use their own fund to extend the state highway with its very considerable mileage in their district, can permit the large valuation of the county of the county to stand behind all the road work proposed by the county commissioners, and then step in and use their own fund to extend the state highway with its very considerable mileage in their district.

OUR PURPOSES.

The purposes of the United States in this war are known to the whole world, to every people to whom the truth has been permitted to come. We seek no material advantage of any kind. We believe that the intolerable wrongs done in this war by the tyrants and brutal power of the Imperial German Government ought to be repaid but not at the expense of sovereignty of any people—rather a vindication of the sovereignty both of those that are weak and those that are strong. Peace must be based upon justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind. From President Wilson's Reply to the Pope.

THE TEST FOR PEACE

The test, therefore, of every plan of peace is this: If it is based upon the faith of all the peoples involved or merely upon the word of the government, the existing government, on the one hand, and the group of "free peoples on the other" this is a test which goes to the root of the matter; and it is the test which must be applied—From President Wilson's Reply to the Pope.

"HASHIMURA TOGO" FULL OF LAUGHS--BILLIE BURKE COMING NEXT IN "THE MYSTERIOUS MISS TERRY"

A CHARMING PICTURE WITH COMEDY AND PATHOS

(First Night Review) "Hashimura Togo" is Wallace Irving's story of the Japanese schoolboy, of which millions of magazine and newspaper readers know so much. Probably Wallace Irving never heard of Hayakawa when he wrote these comical stories upon which "Hashimura Togo" is based, because the now famous Harakawa star was still in Japan at that time. However, there is probably no other actor in the world who could have done the same justice to this infinitely funny and thoroughly human story. The antics of the characters are seemingly funny, and the people themselves are quaint and original.

owing to the failure of the other act to arrive, Sylviano does some clever character dances which were "snatched" by the reviewer while Delphine adheres to claudic numbers. Their closing Spanish dance is pleasing and excellently contained.

EVERY PERSON IN THE WORLD LOVES MYSTERY--ALMOST EVERYONE LOVES BILLIE BURKE--BOTH AT THE IDAHO COMMENCING THURSDAY

Billie Burke, the star of "Peggy," and the star in "The Mysterious Miss Terry" her newest Paramount production in the "leading-lady" in the theatrical profession. She is the type of star that is loved by both men and women of all ages. Her is a wonderful appeal because of her inimitable magnetism. In "The Mysterious Miss Terry," Miss Burke has opportunities galore to display her abilities as a detective. The story is so full of mystery. Even the youngsters want to detect the elders can always adore the most mystical mysteries. In this production everyone will get their fill, and they will find it a delightful entertainment.

The theme involves three hard working and ambitious young men who all live in the same big city boarding house. To this house also comes a young and charming girl in the person of Miss Terry, an actress, but who is working as a clerk in a hardware store. She makes their ambitions come true and they are all in love with her, but, of course, only one wins out.

CUTS FROM THE SCREEN

The manly sentiment of man's love for love is cleverly expressed in Bill Hart announcement to the effect that his faithful partner "Trit" is to spend the rest of his days in clover, as a fitting reward for his faithful service to Bill during the past two years. Dorothy Dorn's story, her first Paramount picture under Thos. Ince's direction. Edward Dillon has joined Paramount and is directing a Famous Players feature starring Ann Pennington. Elsie Ferguson is the "find" of the year. She is certainly the most promising of the well-known stars of the stage who have been brought to the screen. Such is the verdict of a well-known reviewer who highly praises Miss Ferguson's new production for "Afternoon Barbary Sheep." The New York Tribune says of "Down to Earth": "It is more checkered of humorous situations than any of Fairbanks' previous pictures. The best thing 'he ever did.'" It's a coming!

CAMPAIGN FOR SECOND LIBERTY LOAN BEGINS

Treasury Department Deluged With Messages Yesterday as Soon as Move Started--Secretary McAdoo Explains the Situation and Predicts Success--Big Subscriptions Early Monday Morning.

It seems, therefore, perfectly apparent that the two proposed bond issues—that of the Independent district and that of the entire county—are in no sense antagonistic, but that they are, in fact, mutually helpful, each to the other. And it is almost as religious for a Twin Falls paper to allude to the subject of county division, the TIMES will, nevertheless, pause to remark that such subject has absolutely no place in or connection with and should have no effect upon, the present consideration of road improvement, by bonding or otherwise.

The drive started today at top notch speed, will continue until October 27, general full power. The loan is already subscribed already in spirit; treasury officials declare. There will be no let up however in the campaign which opened today with a flourish indicating how intense the war spirit is in the United States. Every step has been taken to organize the entire country into one great one bond selling and bond purchasing machine.

It is not easy but it can be done. Our resources are adequate; our will is perfect; our spirit is indomitable and our success is certain. We have only to call together—bankers, lawyers, doctors, manufacturers, farmers, wage earners, laborers, men and women alike, girl scouts and boy scouts and every other class of our people and urge them to do their share. It has already demonstrated that a united people can do when partisanship is subordinated to patriotism; when love of country booms supreme—I look forward therefore with confidence to the success of the recurring campaign we must make for the sale of Liberty Bonds.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—New revelations of alleged activities of the L. W. W. in alleged investigation by federal authorities here today with the employment of the October grand jury. The jury returned indictments last week against 166 L. W. W. leaders.

Indictments that will be presented to the new grand jury and from which it is expected further indictments may result, includes a vast number of tracts, pamphlets, books and other literature which are alleged to have been part of the propaganda. Prominent among this literature is a book called "Sabotage."

This book, government agents declare, made suggestions on how to cripple means of service, how to cripple machinery in big industrial plants and how to hamper the railroads. These activities, it is alleged, were a part of the L. W. W. campaign against the war.

Attorney Otto Christensen, one of the counsel for the L. W. W. leaders who are under indictment, said today that the L. W. W. never had any intention of carrying out any of the suggestions of the book.

"Right here papa, not being a parliamentarian, new stamped, and had to admit it to the boy. Others in the House of Representatives alike wondered by the boy, who unconcerned by him displayed a bit of delicious irony at the expense of the nation's lawmakers. No house session in the last month has seen more than one-third of the total membership present, and 'Committee of the Whole' is rather more of a joke than anything else."

In the last month the house of representatives was convened on at least three tremendously important pieces of legislation.
The five billion dollar urgent deficiencies appropriation;
The $176,000,000 war risk insurance bill;
The $11,538,000,000 bond and certificate measure.

At no time during discussion of the last named bill were there more than twenty-five members on the floor of the house. Rarely during the insurance discussion did more than fifty show themselves.

Washington, accustomed to anything in the way of congressional behavior, or misbehavior, has hardly raised an eyebrow at this queer—not to say naive, way of handling important national business. But casual visitors with nothing better to do than to visit the house have frequently remarked on the situation:

"A faithful handful of representatives have been fairly regular in attendance, but by far the great majority have not shown themselves at the capitol in weeks. (Illness in the family) and 'necessary business' must be responsible, an alleged, for absences, because it is an off-year for elections."

Of those who have stuck to their knitting probably none is as faithful as "Uncle Joe" Cannon, speaker of the representatives, and Speaker Champ Clark. "Uncle Joe," although 81 years old, sets a splendid example for younger Republican congressmen by attending nearly every session, taking active part in nearly every debate that arises and attending until adjournment, in the evening, in addition to this, his committee assignments are heavy as a general thing, and he draws frequent special assignments besides.

The speaker, also well along in years, is present regularly, getting out of his chair and relinquishing the gavel from time to time to take part in a debate.

Elgin Six Goes 12,000 Miles War Dep't Road Reporter

A stock Elgin Six car was selected by the federal government to make a tour over the national highways of the west as a war department road reporter to gather information. It is an official scout car running over the national highways from the Atlantic to the Pacific and return, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf and back, a total of 12,000 miles. Photographs of road conditions and details of the road—information of value to the war department—are being gathered, to keep the government informed as to how much dependence may be placed on the national highways as a means of transporting military supplies and men. The scout car in charge of Roy W. Marsh and Edward M. Lawrence arrived in Denver, September 23 on its return trip east.

CAMPAIGN FOR SECOND LIBERTY

Not "No other investment compares with it for safety, ready convertibility into cash, and unquestioned availability as collateral security for loans in any bank in the United States."

People by thousands ask the Treasury constantly how they can help the government—in this war.—Through the purchase of Liberty Bonds every one can help. No more patriotic duty can be performed by those who cannot actually fight upon the field of battle than to furnish the government with the necessary money to enable it to give our brave soldiers and sailors all that they require to make them strong for the fight and capable of winning a swift victory over our enemies.

"We fight, first of all, for America's vital rights, the rights of the unimpaired and unobstructed use of the high seas so that the surplus products of our farms, our mines and our factories may be carried into the hands of our friendly nation in the world. Our welfare and prosperity as a people depend upon our right of peaceful intercourse with all the nations of the earth. To abandon these rights by withdrawing our ships and commerce from the seas upon the order of a military junta in Europe would destroy prosperity and bring disaster and humiliation upon the American people."

"We fight to protect our citizens against assassination and murder upon the high seas while in the peaceful exercise of those rights demanded by international law and every instinct and dictate of humanity."

"We fight to preserve our democratic institutions and our sovereignty as a nation against the menace of a powerful and ruthless military autocracy headed by the German Kaiser, whose ambition is to dominate the world."

"We fight also for the noble ideal of universal democracy and liberty, the right of the smallest and weakest nations equally with the most powerful and to govern themselves according to the will of their own people."

"We fight for peace, for that just and lasting peace which agonized and tortured humanity craves and which the sword now the bayonet of a military despot has made impossible. Victorious right alone can restore to a distracted world."

"To secure these ends I appeal to every man and woman who resides upon the soil of free America and enjoys the blessings of her priceless institutions equally with the most patriotic by purchasing a Liberty Bond."

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Two $5,000,000 and $2,000,000 subscriptions to the second Liberty Loan fund were announced today. The total subscription of $1,000,000 on behalf of themselves and their clients. The municipality's total is $900,000.

CHARGED WITH FRAUD ON A BIG CEMENT DEAL (L. N. S. Leased Wire)
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 1.—Charged with conspiracy to defraud

the state, D. C. McClung, former chairman of the democratic state committee and former penitentiary warden, was indicted by the grand jury here today.

McClung was jointly indicted on two indictments with Lee Jordan, lumber manufacturer. It is alleged Jordan charged the state for cement which was not delivered and that McClung conspired with him to get the money. They gave $100,000 today for appearance in court in November.

RAFFLESHIP—REFLOATED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The navy department authorized the following announcement today:
"The battleship of the ATLANTIC fleet which went ashore last week on the Atlantic coast has been refloated."

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 2.—Sweden is to continue her policy of neutrality in the war. This declaration was made today by the leaders of the important political parties and it has the backing of King Gustave himself.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 2.—Consternation has been caused in Berlin by the fresh advance of the British along the Baghdad railway in Mesopotamia, according to dispatches from the German capital today. About 320 miles of actual railway line or ballasted right of way between Baqra on the Persian Gulf and a point 50 miles northwest of Baghdad are now in possession of General Maude's forces, and they are still moving forward, driving the Turks before them.

Thus, while the German-ino-rumors on the western front, the Kaiser sees his dream of an empire from the North sea to the Persian gulf crumbling beneath his eyes.

Ten persons were killed in a German air raid last night. It was officially announced by Viscount French, commander in chief of the home defenses.

This brings the total number of persons killed on British soil from German aircraft to 164.

In addition to the 10 killed, 38 others were wounded in the areas bombed by the great fleet of German aeroplanes Monday night.

Although there was savage fighting high in the clouds between British machines and the German planes all of the British air craft returned safely.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—France has opened a campaign of air operations against the Germans.

The three great German cities of Trier, Coblenz and Frankfurt, on Main, were bombed by French airplanes last night in retaliation for German attacks on open French cities.

The demand for air craft, especially the German bombers, has been suddenly opened a great air drive and office damage is being inflicted.

Frankfort is about 175 miles within the German borders so that the aviators attacking that city would have to make a round trip flight of about 350 miles.
